Quality is the strong attraction at Fish's.

The biggest problem is the mfg who has no problem.

When you think of clothes, think of Fish's $10, $15 and $20 Specials.

A married man seldom gets the last word because of his inability to remain awake.

Geo. Olcott who is here from Harton county buying mules for the Banner, Fort Knox Co. bought a pair from Milton Powell for $350.00.

The residence of James Wickley with all its contents were destroyed by fire last Friday afternoon. No insurance. The fire started from a defective flue in the kitchen.

Rev. M. G. Fish will preach at the Christian Church here next Sunday, 11 A. M. Mr. Fish has probably done more than any other man to build up Churches of Rockcastle County. Come out and hear him.

CARD OF THANKS: I desire to express to the good people of Mt. Vernon and vicinity my appreciation for their kindness in assisting me to take care of those dependent upon me after the loss of my home and all there was in it. Jas Rickels.

Atty and Mrs. J. W. Brown received a letter last week from son, Conn, announcing his marriage to Miss Florence McComber of Aransas Pass. Atty and Mrs. Brown knew Miss. McComber who is one of the fine Southern girls. The groom is one of Rockcastle's noblest sons and in Leno-Star state has been financially and otherwise of which he may be justly proud.

RAMSAY—S. B. Ramsay, aged 49, died Sunday night, at 10:30, after an illness lasting only one week, of a complication of troubles. For more than a year he has suffered severe attacks of indigestion. With his last illness not only indigestion, but vertigo and some kidney trouble had their appearances. The deceased leaves a wife and four children. The burial took place at the family burying ground on Cove branch, Monday.

Langdon Memorial School opened Wednesday with the largest number enrolled, since the school was converted into a girls' industrial school. Miss Stewart, who was acting principal last year, is principal this year. The success of last year, bespeaks what may be expected this year, with a splendid corps of assistants selected to Miss Stewart's own liking. The Langdon Memorial, among educators and those particularly interested in school work, is the very best of its kind in the state. Mt. Vernon and Rockcastle County should certainly appreciate to the fullest extent such a school as we have in Langdon Memorial.

It is a familiar fact that a person lost in the woods wanders around in circles to the right. The reason is found in the demonstrated fact that the human race is right-handed and left-legged. That is the left leg is stronger than the right one; and the constant tendency because of the greater activity of the left leg and the longer stride taken with it, so bear down on the right. Left-handedness is a continuous persistent match between the right leg and the left one, and the left is continually getting ahead.

It's just the way in money matters. Our existence is a constant battle between spending and saving, and our "spend-leg" seems the stouter and is generally in the lead. To overcome this the wise ones are handicapping their "spending member" with a Savings Account, and are steering a straight course out of the forest of debt into the civilization of peace and plenty.

Cheap Transportation Has Built National Prosperity

This is a big American freight engine. It is an achievement of AMERICAN INVENTIVE GENIUS. It is built to Haul Long Trains loaded with the products of American industry from the mineral, farm mills and factories to the markets of the country, and to the seaboard for shipment across the seas.

In all the wonderful history of American industrial progress NO PIECE OF MACHINERY HAS PERFORMED SUCH SERVICE AS THE BIG FREIGHT LOCOMOTIVE. Freight is carried on our railroads at the LOWEST RATES IN THE WORLD, while we pay our railroad workers the HIGHEST WAGES IN THE WORLD. ONLY FREIGHT IN THE EAST IS CARRIED THREE MILES FOR THE COST OF A TWO-CENT POSTAGE STAMP.

Cheap transportation is one of the biggest builders of our prosperity. The freight engine with its enormous tractive power, the big steel freight car with its great carrying capacity, and the heavy rails and rock-ballasted roadbed to support the weight of the great engines and heavy trains—these are the achievements of American industrial genius which have given us low freight rates and broad markets, and have enabled us to put our products in the markets of the world in competition with foreign manufacturers.

But now come well-meaning but short-sighted leaders of American railroad workers who say to the railroad managers: "SHORTEN YOUR FREIGHT TRAINS so that the engines and trainmen can haul the tonnage faster over the roads, and so make as many miles pay in eight hours as they now do in ten hours."

To the American Public that pays every dollar of the railroad bill (and 44 cents of every dollar paid for transportation is for wages) to the markets."

"All that the railroads have to do to meet our demands for higher wages is to shorten their trains, move the freight more rapidly and escape the penalty of overtime wages."

What would be the result of taking these leaders of the 350,000 train employes at their word—shorten freight trains so that they can be run at higher speed? Increasing the number of trains to handle the same tonnage would call for more engines, do the same work, larger yards, larger terminals, more supervision, and it is plain that there would be more congestion of traffic and greater hazards in train operation. Hundreds of millions a year would have to be spent by the railroads to increase their facilities and to operate the bigger plants.

IT WOULD BE AKIN TO USING HAND SHOVELS INSTEAD OF FIVE-TON STEAM DREDGES TO DIG A PANAMA CANAL. American railroads have spent enormous amounts in reducing the grades, cutting down mountains and filling up valleys; in increasing the hauling power of locomotives and the carrying capacity of cars; in putting down rock ballast and heavy rails—all for one purpose, to lower the cost of operation.

It is the public that has reaped the benefit—in better and cheaper railroad service. If the railroads moved their tonnage in shorter trains at higher speeds, the public would have to shoulder a great burden in the increased cost of transportation. Would the public get value received for its money? Of the tonnage on the roads east of Chicago 80 per cent consists of iron, coal, ore, stone and other mine products. To the public it is of no consequence whether this freight is a few hours longer on the road, so long as there is a continuous and regular stream of it coming to the markets.

LONG HOURS A BARRITY. Only One in Five Years Does Average Railroad Exceed Legal Limit. That long hours in train service have been reduced to a minimum is shown by a report issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission. Only one employe in five on the average last year was compelled to remain on duty more than 48 hours during any one day in the whole year. Stated in another way, the chance of an employe's train remaining on duty beyond the prescribed limit was reduced to once in five years.

The total number of cases of excess service from all causes reported to the commission was only 61,247 during the year ending June 30, 1915, as compared with 87,420 in 1914 and 270,827 in 1913, and with rare exceptions these represented cases recognized as due to unavoidable causes. Statistics on this subject are collected so under the national hours-of-service law. Every time a train is so delayed by a mishap or accident that the crew is on duty longer than sixteen hours the railroad company is obliged to file a report on the occurrence to the commission, giving the names of the individual employes concerned and a full statement of the cause for the excess service.

For several years the railroads and the Interstate Commerce Commission have been co-operating in efforts to prevent the keeping of employes on duty beyond the 16-hour period. The number of employes on duty for more than 80 per cent in such cases which has been brought about in three years is a convincing indication that the long hours of continuous service has practically disappeared except in rare cases of unavoidable delay.

DEMOCRACY'S BANNER DAY

Campaign Opening at Winchester Most Auspicious Event

Many Thousand People Listen To Oratory And Enjoy Burgoon And Barbodeau Meats

The formal opening of the Democratic campaign at Winchester, Saturday, was as delightful as the occasion was auspicious. The sun never shone more brightly on the "Old Kentucky Home," the atmosphere was warmer, more delicious and invigorating a warmer welcome was never extended than by the Democracy of the splendid county of Clark and every thing seemed to go together to make the event one of the never to be forgotten by the many thousands of enthusiastic men and women who attended. Every detail for the comfort and enjoyment of their guests had been carefully planned and carried out by the general chairman Judge John E. Garner, Judge John M. Stevenson, Senator Abe Rennie, Steve Vaught, and the able and well-informed assistants, while the people of town and county vied with each other in doing everything in their power to add to the delights of the day. The city had been decorated in gay attire and flags and bunting cascaded everywhere.

The fair grounds were selected for the place of speaking, and a sheltered in front of the mammoth amphitheater for the speakers and hundreds of men, ladies and children. Judge Garner made a stirring and witty address of welcome, followed by Chairman J. Campbell, Cantrell, of the State campaign committee, who in his remarks in terms of the people for their splendid efforts to make the opening memorable, said a few words of cheer to the people who crowded the amphitheater and filled every conceivable space in all the adjacent surroundings and that Congressman Hardy, of Texas, as the first speaker, who eloquently told of the accomplishments of the admiral (tripling) and urged the retention in office of the president and the re-election of the president and the re-election of the president and the re-election of the president.

Following his address, which was listened to with rapid attention, the orator spoke of the day, Vice Francis Thomas H. Marshall, of Indiana, who was received with tumultuous applause and his most captivated address, full of hope and confidence. Mr. Marshall is a born orator and possessing the ability to lead a crowd well, he soon caught his audience which listened to his effort with whoops and applause. There are few more popular speakers than Woodrow Wilson's running mate, "the tall to his life," as he called himself, and his eloquent recital of constructive work accomplished during the three and a half years that he has been in power, made a lasting impression on the multitude, which found in every word with approval seemed willing to agree with him that God had raised up Woodrow Wilson for his great work.

The best way to give good advice is to set it good, example. When others are in trouble, give them a good example by taking over their coil, and by taking the same course. DO NOT NEGLECT YOUR COLD.

Neglected colds get worse, instead of better. A stuffed head, a night cough must be relieved at once. Dr. King's New Life Pills is Nature's remedy. Holy water, glycerine, heat, irritates the membrane, inflames the lungs, the throat, and the chest. It is the only remedy that cures colds, coughs, and croup.

WHY?

The Signal is not a partisan paper. It is born of the people...

By reason of a long continued control, the Republican party had a fixed illusion that they were like the king...

The bankers and special privileged men would flood the country with money to influence the voters...

The great bulk of customs duties levied to meet the financial needs of the nation...

It involves the question of Capital and Labor—of capital arrayed against labor...

This being so, and human nature what it is, it follows that the representatives of both capital and labor have taken every advantage...

We believe a great step forward has been made in this direction. Corporations have been compelled by legislation and public sentiment to yield to labor some of the rights that formerly were not recognized.

Who Will Be Our Next President?

"Let us have Peace." HUGHES or Wilson—speaking more courteously—Chief Justice Hughes or Woodrow Wilson, our present chief magistrate...

The people of the United States who do their own thinking, and don't shape their political judgment by campaign literature...

The conservative, intelligent public have placed an estimate on Justice Hughes' moral and political worth and he stands high as an American citizen...

President Wilson also has made a record of which no American need be ashamed. He has been confronted by the most difficult world-wide problems the nation has ever seen.

Yet President Li-coo met a far more serious and momentous crisis in our domestic relations and who by his prudence and statesmanship saved the nation, and built the great republic upon a new basis.

Democrats and republicans alike, as a united people, place Abraham Lincoln on a pedestal of fame to which no president that has preceded him is entitled. His memory is cherished by our country as a hero, a statesman and a patriot.

The great bulk of customs duties levied to meet the financial needs of the nation, has been a question of supreme importance in the life of our republic.

plays that the regular division of time, universally agreed upon, viz: Labor, one third, recreation and private affairs one third, and rest one third, leaving to the employee no doubt he should use his recreation period.

He may choose to put it in as an additional asset, in the employment of the corporation he serves. Leaving these mooted questions, of Tariff Reform, and the Labor problem to the intelligence of the American people, we return to the personal consideration of our candidates for the presidency.

We have already said that the public has placed a high estimate on the loyal qualifications of Justice Hughes, and so far as he has been tried, has proven himself to be a worthy public servant.

The high number of votes will not only admit the truth of it but will accord to our chief magistrate the same honors, with the additional fact of his three and one-half years service as chief magistrate.

We desire to emphasize this phase of President Wilson's record in the distribution to that he has managed, so far, to keep the peace as between ourselves, and the other governments under the strain relations that have existed.

Shops Demand New Efficiency of Employees

No Room for Nervous, Worn Out Men and Women.

Efficiency is the watchword of modern industries. Practically all of the larger enterprises are demanding that applicants pass a physical examination before they are admitted to employment.

The is the age of speed; we haven't time to take care of ourselves. These run-down men and women are not exactly sick, but just tired out, languid and overworked.

Chemists and scientists have gone to endless pains to discover something that would combat this serious condition. It was left to Joseph Von Pirnbaum, the noted chemist and giver of health vials, to solve this perplexing problem, and he did it.

Since its introduction, a trifle over a year ago, men and women from the highest to the lowest walks of life, by the thousands everywhere, are testifying to the relief Tonic has brought them.

Tonic, the tonic, appetizer and invigorant, that builds new tissue, vivifies the blood, and sets on foot the circulation of the blood.

Tonic is being introduced in Mt. Vernon at R. H. Miller, also at Central Drug Store, Livingston, and John Robins' Drug Store, Broadhead.

Always think before you buy, but don't think too long. FORGET YOUR ACHES. Stiff knees, aching limbs, lame back makes life a burden.

STOP THE FIRST COLD. A cold does not get well of itself. The process of wearing out a cold wears you out, and your cold becomes serious if neglected.
