POSTPONED.—The inspection tour over the East Dixie High way from Cincinnati to Chattanooga, consisting of officials and friends of the road with fifty machines, set to take place this month, has been postponed until next year. The inspection was reached after a spouting party of machines were sent over the route from Chattanooga to Cincinnati last week, which reported the condition of the high way had not reached a sufficient degree of completion to justify the trip. It will be made probably in the early spring.

Teddy Did Not Stop

The crowd, estimated at 500 or more, including voters of both political parties, women and children, who had endured the soaking rain for more than an hour, eagerly waiting to get a glimpse of "Teddy," were rewarded only to see the train which carried him to Louisville, rush by, at the rate of about forty miles an hour. It was a disappointed crowd and they had a right to be. Mr. Roosevelt was not to blame, but somebody was and even though this special was late, and there was an announcement in Louisville to be glad to see the people at the bridge along the way where announcements for stops had been made, they were entitled to more consideration. It is true Teddy is only a man, yet those who have never seen or heard this noted American politician, are entitled to be glad to see him. What a look he has. People came from Paducah, Lincoln, Jackson and Laurel counties, some traveling as far as fifteen miles to get a glimpse of the Ex-President, and the failure to see him was a sore disappointment to them.

CALLED AWAY.

On Sunday morning, October 15th, 1916, the spirit of Mollie Myers Newcomb Maret made its flight "over the river" to "rest under the shade of the trees," "on that beautiful shore". One of God's noblest women was called home. Her life was spent in rendering loving service to her family, which she ever kept in mind under all conditions and circumstances. Her health was not good for many many years, but she fought valiantly and never shirked a duty. On May 17th, 1916, she was stricken by nervous prostration, from which she was confined to her bed until relief came when the death angel arrived on that Sunday morning and carried her tired spirit to realms beyond the skies.

James Maret and Mollie Newcomb, eldest daughter of M. P. Maret, were married on October 10th, 1880, in the Christian church, Mt. Vernon, and have spent their lives in the old home town.

Beside the husband, one son, Lloyd, and daughter, John James Maret, are left to fight life's battles without the love and wise counsel of a devoted wife, mother and grandmother.

Like the bereft husband, his brothers and sisters, seven in number, each have lost their life partners by death, with the exception of Mrs. J. F. Hackley, of Lincoln.

All the brothers and sisters are living, the scattered from Virginia, and Texas to Alaska.

Religious services were held at the residence, conducted by the Rev. H. T. Young, in which he depicted the beautiful and unselfish life of her who had been called away.

Elmwood Cemetery now contains a number of graves, which will, ere long, be joined by one who, but for the words of the Book and for the good man who spoke on that dark day, could see little reason for continuing to live. The burial will take place tomorrow at the Bransman burying ground at Wildie.

Rube Abney, a son of Taylor Abney, shot and killed Tom Linville, son of W. M. Linville near Saffold Camp church house last Saturday. The trouble was the result of an old grudge which has existed for six years.

Abney surrendered and has been under guard awaiting examining trial which will be held to day.

We understand there were several witnesses, yet none of them have made any statement so far as we have been able to learn. The families are closely connected by marriage and are prominent people of the East side.

ORDER TO CALL ELECTION ON STOCK LAW.

Whereas, a petition was on the 4th day of September, 1916, filed with the County Court Clerk of the county, signed by more than twenty legal voters of voting Precinct No. 8 (Saffold Camp) in Rockcastle county, asking the submission of the question, whether cattle of any species thereof shall be permitted to run at large in said voting precinct, it is now ordered by the court that a poll be opened in said voting precinct at the time and place election laws held in said precinct on the 7th day of November, 1916, for the purpose of ascertaining the will of the voters of said voting precinct upon said question.

S. P. HOWARD, County Clerk, Rockcastle County Court.

Intervention.—What is it? "What you may call it," is a trite way of saying "Call it what you please," it makes no difference, as to what it is.

Mr. Wilson's policy toward Mexico is not well pleasing to militarists and "jingo's," who have thus far been unable to force the government into war with Mexico. Nothing so far has been done by our government that may actually be classed as "intervention" yet it seems that those who say it is have favored actual war, and now blame the administration for at least three acts of "intervention."

Because the government has ordered a large force to occupy a long line of military operations on Mexican soil, without bringing on a war. Mr. Wilson's opponents are twining him with being effeminate and vacillating. "Effeminacy" is not the word used but "Ladylie" as a Louisville morning paper puts it, because forsooth. The Ladies Home Journal has been the medium thru which Wilson's acts in this regard have been presented to the readers of that journal.

There is nothing specially had or impolite in speaking of the president as being "Ladylie" and when we come to think of it is really for any thing favorable to him appearing in said Journal. There are many states where women vote, and so many million that want to, and expect to vote in the near future, that it may be said to be a very wise thing for a campaign manager to say pleasant things about Mr. Wilson thru his columns.

Of course no man or grown up boy likes to be called "Sissy" or "Ladylie," yet it is not so bad after all to have some of the gentler qualities that ladies possess, even some may make fun of us.

Intervention may come in more than one way, without being an act of war. Crossing the Mexican border with an armed force as has been done, in pursuit of marauders and bandits and penetrating to the very center of the Mexican republic, if you please was not in this instance been an act of war. "A show of force," it was necessary to lead "gringo" haters to keep in the back ground while American and Mexican troops cooperated in pursuit of the anti-Caristas headed by the arch bandit Villa.

The movement has evidently brought about a less strained relation between the two governments and has shown to some not very friendly Mexicans that Uncle Sam does not want to subjugate Mexico, nor injury or oppress our border neighbors. Show of diplomatic "red tape," Pershing pushing into Mexico, was a legal well defined executed movement to reach a peaceable, usable lesson, and in the mean time protect American life and property on the frontier.

The special charge of intervention is based on a statement said to have been made by the president viz. "To use the power of U. S. to determine the character and methods of Mexico political institutions," and the charge goes on—"that the president has not interfered once but twice. Intervention may be of a friend to sort peering to make peace between individuals in strille or nations at war. Intervention is proper and right in blood shed and the horrors of war may thereby be prevented. If all the neutral nations now at peace with all nations would combine and cease to furnish the means of prolonging the war per se soon be made. But it seems that the militarists and those opposed to the president's policy indicate even now, that the policy that should have been pursued was to declare war on Germany and her allies. "Let us have peace," and "every force stands for Peace on Earth good will to men."

OUR BOONEWAY MAN — Winchester

[Delayed from last week.] Victor Beck, who was at one time a drug clerk in Mt. Vernon, was a visitor in Winchester, last week. He is a post office inspector in charge of six districts in his family is located at Frankfort.

Winchester attendants of the circus at Richmond last week say they met quite a number of old grey headed fellows at the show who were eating peanuts and popcorn along with the boys. There are quite a number of them in Mt. Vernon, was one of them was no doubt too busy watching the elephants and sea lions perform.

Major G. M. Adams, (little Mat) several times Democratic Congressman from Barrenville, is a resident of Winchester. There are quite a number of mountain men in Winchester and many others who own fine big farms out in the country.

The big three story brick business building, 100 by 140 feet, being built by the wholesale firm of Mahan Grocery Co., on north main street, is progressing nicely. It is to be completed by December first, by the contractors under a forfeit of $100 per day. This grocery firm are connected with the large business houses of the Jellico Grocery Co. and most, if not all the members are mountain folks from Whitley county, with a reputation of solid and unshaking pluck.

The contract for marling Boone Way, the Jackson Highway and the Midland Trail thru Franklin county was let at Frankfort last Thursday. All these highways use the same route from Lexington to Louisville, and the marling will be placed in the workings will be placed will have somewhat the appearance of barber poles with its various colored belts on printed bands in addition to the lettering.

The routing of the Kenton, Ohio divisions of Boone Way through Booneboro north is progressing. The class of roads, in Clark county, under reconstruction is water bound macadam. Their manner of construction usually consists of the spreading three courses, or layers, of limestone. The first, or rough course being of crushed stone, size from one to two inches, rolled in portable crusher, placed in quarries along the line of road. The second course is from two to two and half inch in size. The third course is of screening and stone up to a quarter and half inch.

Each course is watered separately, by a sprinkler from a tank mounted on wheels, and rolled by a ten ton steam roller, every course is given a separate and thorough rolling until it is perfectly smooth and when finished the road bed is as smooth as the traditional "floor," but not so level, for the reason the road is made with a "crown," higher in the middle than at the sides, so as to carry off the rains like a roof. The pitch being in oval form, and is usually five or more inches higher in center of road than at sides, where it is rolled down to feather edge.

The usual speed made is about one mile per month by each foot of gang. Two gangs are engaged on state aid work. Each gang consists of about 25 men, ten teams etc. The county has other gangs at work on its various roads. The amount of crushed stone used per mile, for a fourteen foot spread, runs from 1,000 to 1400 cubic yards depending on the condition of the old road bed under reconstruction. The cost of this reconstruction varies on account of the varied conditions of road bed, and runs from $1,600 to $2,250 per mile.

The county has one "force" on state aid work and a "contract" force on another state aid road.

The county has been doing its portion of the construction at a lower rate than the contract force, but there are a number of advocates who prefer contract work in preference to force account. All crushed stone, used, is weighed on wagons and 18,000 pounds is considered a cubic yard. It is claimed by experienced stone workers that limestone of the various classes, varies in weight and runs from 2,300 to 2,800 pounds per cubic yard.

The county pays its force weekly and contractors get their pay monthly, and the state aid comes usually when road is completed or 1/4 forthcoming for that portion of the road which is completed in the fall when work is discontinued on account of freezing weather, as the material (stone) will not "bond" (stick together) under cold or freezing weather, and construction is discontinued until the opening of spring.

Ten miles of state aid work have been completed, in Clark county, this year, leaving four miles to be completed between this and closing down time. A State Road Inspector is assigned to each county where state aid work is being done. He has supervision of construction, keeping account of all work done, listing all material used or purchased; pay rolls of forces etc. making daily reports of same to Division engineer, who usually is in charge of from three to five or more counties, following up the daily reports with itemized statements etc. semi-monthly.

The system used in double checking reports prevents error and next to impossible to put any thing "over" on commissioners office by any one without being discovered. The road laws yet need some amendments and changes to improve the application thereof, much of which is expected to be booked and presented for the consideration of the next legislature.

Weeding Out a Practice of Modern Shops

What Type of Man is Usually Picked for the "Lay Off's"?

When business is poor, the market crowded or the season dull, in no matter what the "weeding out process" is common, and the gray army of employed never forget how soon the "axe" will fall.

Have you ever stopped to consider what type of man or woman is first for the "lay off"? It is the strong, robust fellow, full with plenty of energy and vigor in his make up or is it the nervous, rundown individual, who considers work a drudgery and continually complains of feeling sick and tired. Of course, you will agree that it is the latter class that succumbs to the "weeding out process."

The employer realizes that the physical fit man or woman is the most efficient worker. As efficiency is the watchword of modern industry, there is no place in the present day business world for the nervous, rundown man or woman.

All depends on the condition of the nervous system as the nerves govern absolutely every process that goes on within our bodies. Nearly all functional weakness and disorders can be traced to weak nerves and depleted vitality.

Every great man of history—every successful man of the day is possessed of more than an average amount of energy. Some have been especially endowed with this wonderful quality, as were Lincoln, Napoleon, Morgan, Rockefeller and others; and some developed it, as did Gladstone and Roosevelt.

Were it possible to chronicle all the failures, not due to lack of brains, but to lack of physical vitality, there would be a list so long as to startle the world.

Tanlac, the new reconstructive tonic, stimulates the nerves. It does even more—it builds up the tissues, invigorates the system, vitalizes the blood assimilates the food, creates appetite, drives away headaches, sleepiness, nausea, sour stomach, dizziness and indigestion. Tanlac has proven invaluable for ailments that originate from stomach, acid, and liver disorders and certain affections of the mucous membranes.

Tanlac, the ideal reconstructive tonic, is being especially introduced in Mt. Vernon at R. H. Miller, also at Central Drug Co., Livingston, and John Robins' Drug Store, Brodhead, W. At present stores, Berry, Lee Bros., Crab Orchard, S. E. Welch Berea; J. Reynolds and Son, Be Lick, where the Tanlac man explains its merits.

WHAT REPUBLICAN SAYS

"I am not a Democrat, I shall vote for Wilson. No other president since Lincoln has been confronted with such international problems. Any other cause than 'he has pursued might have caused us into war. He has been patient and persistent in the pursuit of peace. We must judge him by that supreme achievement, and credit can not be taken from him by his opponents who so easily criticize after the event."

We are not crossing a stream, but a torrent, and I see only danger in swamping horses now. Because Wilson, thru four years of anguish, is more acquainted than Hughes with all cross-currents of our foreign relations, he should be re-elected. It is no time to experiment with even an honest amateur in foreign affairs. The problems which will confront the world after the war will be monumental, and to Wilson should be given the opportunity of trying to bring some order out of the chaos. I am convinced he is so genuinely a lover of peace that he will follow up rigorously the classes which he had inserted in the naval appropriation bill, giving him power to work toward international disarmament thru a world tribunal.

Much as I respect Hughes as a man, he goes before the country without an issue. He is merely a critic. He has shown no constructive alternatives, and above all he carries no conviction in his speeches that had he been president, taking other methods than Wilson, he would have kept the country out of war. Nor can he detract one iota from the record of progressive legislation enacted under the present administration. I cannot support a supposition. I shall vote for a man who has had the responsibilities and who has stood the gaff.

INVENTOR IS FOR WILSON. New York, October 15.—E. Gybon Acheson, inventor, who in his own word, probably ranked second to Thomas A. Edison, today announced his departure from the ranks of Republicanism to join the forces of President Wilson. Dr. Acheson is a member of the Republican ticket since the origin of the party.

HOW CATARRH IS CONTRACTED Mothers are sometimes so thoughtless as to neglect the colds which their children contract. The inflammation of the mucous membrane of a child's nose, throat, or chest, a cold, or a chronic catarrh of the sinuses that is seldom cured and that may prove a life-long burden, has its beginning in a simple cold. In such cases, the child's condition is often improved by the use of the little, but powerful, medicine, Dr. King's New Life's Pills, which are sold by all druggists.
