LABOR'S APPEAL.

The letter signed by Samuel Compers, James O'Connell, and Frank Morrison, and addressed to the laboring men of America, is one of the most significant documents of the campaign.

It is not an appeal solely nor chiefly in behalf of labor; it is an appeal to all men to act in the coming election as to promote the interest of all men; to act as to establish peace permanently in America and to make possible those activities on which rest employment for labor and reasonable returns on capital.

It praises the President, "who without war has secured all the protection and benefits that would have accrued from a successful war."

That is the response that the intelligence of America makes to the inflated patriotism and turbulent fanaticism of Hughes and Roosevelt.

In another paragraph the officers of the Federation of Labor portray the Mexican situation saying:

"The interests that have been seeking to plunge our country into war not only with European countries, but also with Mexico, are the interests that are represented by the most selfish and most conscienceless element of Wall Street."

In this contest the interests of labor and the interests of a representative democracy are one throughout. Organized Capitalism is today a menace to the Republic. It has sought in vain to intimidate Congress, then the President; now it is seeking to intimidate the public, and is massing its mercenaries behind Hughes. Let all friends of free government rejoice above all things that in America we have the secret ballot, the great protection of the man who is told his place depends on the way he votes.

The views expressed by this labor circular are broader, more comprehensive and more patriotic than any utterance from the Hughes camp. These gentlemen utter this warning:

"There is no doubt that the interest of Wall street and their satellites all over the country are active and will continue their activities to retain the special privileges and power that they have secretly and corruptly stolen from the people."

"While property must be protected and respected, man—men, women and children, human beings—must have the first consideration."

Let every man take it to heart and devote the next two weeks to protection of the Republic—Evening Post.

Judge R. G. Williams Speaks at Wildie.

He made a strong argument yesterday, in behalf of Woodrow Wilson, to a much interested crowd of Rockcastle voters.

HEAD OF THAT ALL-WINTER COUGH

At the first sign of sore throat, tight chest or stuffed up head take a dose of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tree-Honey. The healing power, soothing honey and glycerine quickly relieve the roughness, loosen the phlegm and break up your cold. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tree-Honey has all the best elements of the healing aroma from a pine forest, it is pleasant to take and antiseptic. The formula on the bottle tell why it relieves coughs and colds. At Your Drug Store.

For more than three years he has been at the head of this great nation. In that period of time he has faced one serious crisis after another. He has handled every problem wisely and courageously, with a fixed purpose to serve the people as a whole. Peace we have and peace we will continue to have with Wilson as our President. The country was never more prosperous and we have the strength that comes with honor and integrity of purpose. Woodrow Wilson won victories by diplomacy that are far more important to mankind than any victory that could have been won by war.

My fellow countrymen, I beg of you to stop and think seriously of what war means. Think of the graves it would dig, of the widows it would leave, of the little children it would orphan, of the maimed and crippled returning penniless, of the tears and sorrow it would bring, of the property it would destroy, of the homes it would desolate, of the billions of dollars it would cost. Why have we escaped such a horrible condition? Only because Woodrow Wilson was President. He has striven day and night to keep us in peace and to go to war with honor. He has been successful. The American people have tried him and at no time has he been found wanting. Isn't that the kind of man you want for President? Is he not justly entitled to your vote by reason of his wise and peace giving administration? Think, neighbors, think.

Living in Covington, I am just across the river from the great state of Ohio. I am familiar with its trend of thought in the Presidential race. I bring you a message that is true as holy writ. The men in the factories, those in the shops, the farmers and laborers in that great Republican state are for Woodrow Wilson. The farmers of Indiana and the miners of West Virginia, irrespective of politics, proclaim him the real friend of the laboring people.

The West is on fire for him because of the many laws he has enacted especially beneficial to the farmers throughout the country. But what of Rockcastle, that is so near and dear to my heart! With our farmers getting a dollar and fifty cents a bushel for wheat, ten cents a pound for wheat and prices in proportion for every other farm product, we can truly boast of prosperity. With plenty at hand, peace to be maintained, but with grave international questions confronting us, we should be patriotic enough to give Mr. Wilson the credit due him. Let us show our appreciation of his splendid work in protecting our lives and property by going to the polls on the 7th day of November and voting for his reelection. We know exactly what to expect from him. It is not wise nor fair to change to an inexperienced and untried man in such critical times, just to satisfy the office seekers and campaign hewers. Which shall it be, the tried or the untried? Mr. Voter it is for you to say, and God Help you to decide wisely."

Judge Williams also spoke to a large audience at Brothead last night.

Do you read the label to know whether your baking powder is made from cream of tartar or, on the other hand, from alum or phosphate?

Other baking powders contain alum or phosphate, both of mineral origin, and used as substitutes for cream of tartar because of their cheapness.
