plant, opens house at Paris, and a fine paying accident insurance agency. His monthly income is $50.

One of the bands on a Clark county pipe was fired on account of being too slow to keep out of the way of road roller.

The Rockcastle mountains are placid as compared to the towering skyscraping hills down Virginia way.

The great "Cincinnati" railroad from Charleston, S. C. into the Eastern Kentucky coalfields crosses the Norfolk & Western at St. Paul, 22 miles east of Norton.

E. J. Lemonds, travel dispatcher, is engaged in traveling over Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan, hunting up L & N cars and hurrying them back home.

Mr. Lemonds is filling, for the present, at least, the position of chief Inspector of Transportation, an office lately created by his company.

Lorenzo Geder Fallin, one of Rockcastle's splendid men's has for a few months acceptably filled Mr. Lemonds position as dispatcher of Knoxville branch trains.

You can always bank on mountain boys.

That portion of the road living between Cumberland Gap and Glasgow by the two highways, was known as Dixie Boone Highway.

H. C. Chappel, of the Middleboro Three States, will shortly call a meeting of the small publishers of Kentucky, Tennessee, to meet in the Magic City for the purpose of organizing a newspaper print manufacturing company and establishing a plant near Middleboro that will manufacture news print only to be sold to publishers holding a stock in the company at the cost of production.

The pine forest of Pine Mountain and other pine forests of Kentucky and Virginia are ample enough to supply a mill of fifty on capacity for several years and will supply all the small publishers in the three states. It seems that a few years since Mr. Chappel launched a little paper called Thousandsticks, at Hyden.

This printing was so horribly bad that Thousandsticks gained a wide reputation and was extensively quoted. The editor was getting off some good stuff, however, even if speaking was badly crossed and spelled Chappel kept everlastingly at it and his paper eyes doctor'd and knees straightened.

He made good in the newspaper world, and indications are that he will make good in his efforts to establish a newspaper manufacturing.

Norton has a number of wholesale houses and other mercantile establishments and a fine three story hotel which is fairly first rate but not to that standard maintained by the Rockcastle, in Mt. Vernon; in fact there are many fine places equal to the entertainment given at the latter place.

Wise county, in which Norton is located, has invested over a million dollars in good roads within past three years and is still building.

Cleveland, Russell county, Va. is the place I am visiting, is a station on the Norfolk & Western railroad, 35 miles East of Norton and a few miles from Tom's creek, where there are very extensive coal operations and a big coke plant.

The capacity of the plant is 125 cars per day. Cleveland has probably 7,000 population, and is located on Clinch river, in a valley, with some lofty hills a short distance back. It is a big stock shipping point. Several first class business houses, a bank, a Missionary Baptist church located at the top of one of the hills, and a Methodist church. A fine brick College building. Its inhabitants maintain the reputation for which Virginia's are noted this country over for their hospitality, and assisted friendliness, especially to the stranger within their gates. It is about 45 miles from this place to Fort Baskin, the point to which Daniel Boone and his immigrants retreated when attacked by Indians near Cumberland Gap, in 1773 on the occasion of his first attempt to take settlers into Kentucky. It will be remembered that James Boone, Daniel's youngest son was slain in this attack.

Watch inspector Franklin Simpson, of your Livingston, reporter broke his second hand set of teeth which he purchased of the Dago peddler on the installment plan while cracking walnuts on a wagger, and adds, that is one of the reasons for the reporter's precipitate flight when he saw what he supposed to be a dog approaching him down the platform. It is claimed that Sidney is truthful, on occasions.

Carry me back to Old Virginia, is decidedly an appropriate song as one will certainly conclude upon meeting these big hearted makers of tall bills, in the "Land of the Sky" on the "Trail of the Lonesome Pine" and the native habitat of the "Little Shep Herd of Kingdom Come" a Virginia Rose, and whose soul was haunted over by "Long Knife" our own noted, celebrated and venerated, Daniel Boone.

Cold Sores and Fever Blisters are only outward manifestations of the inflammation of the mucous surface that lines the lungs, the stomach and all the digestive tract, but they give you evidence of how sore a membrane may become as a result of inflammation, which is stagnation of the blood, rightfully called acute catarrh.

If you suffer from such conditions don't let them become chronic, don't run the risk of systemic catarrh.

Clear it Up With PERUNA

When your system is cleared of all its poisons, the membranes soothed and healed, the cold gone and your digestion restored, you will enjoy life, feel equal to all its tasks, and be at peace with your world. Let Peruna do for you what it did for this sufferer:

Mrs. L. A. Patterson, 238 Utah Avenue, Memphis, Tenn., says: "I have been a friend of Peruna for many years. I have used it and on for catarrhal conditions and found it a very excellent remedy. I have a family of six children. These are hard with me, but I can scarcely afford to do without Peruna, especially during the season of the year when fevers and colds are so prevalent. We use of concentrated Peruna to our neighbors, for its benefits it has been in use for many years."

You needn't suffer longer with such a remedy at hand.

Peruna can be obtained in tablet form. You can carry it with you and take it systematically and regularly for a remedy of no need for a prescriptive. Get a box today.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Gardul, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Gardul, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Gardul, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill."

I wish every suffering woman would give a trial. I still use Gardul when I feel a little bad, and it always does me good."

Headache, backache, side ache, nervousness, tired, worn-out feelings, etc., are sure signs of womanly trouble. Signs that you need Gardul, the woman's tonic. You cannot make a mistake in trying Gardul for your trouble. It has been helping weak, ailing women for more than fifty years.

Mr. Logan McKinney, age 84 years and the father of our townsman, K. J. McKinney died yesterday of pneumonia. The burial will take place today.

It is not any prophesy but a cold blooded fact to be seen in any one with a lick of sense, that the next Governor of Kentucky will be a State Widler.

Henry Catron of the Cedar Creek section of Lincoln county bought the King place of 18 acres on Booneway, near Cedar Creek bridge, with nice improvements for $3000.

Prosecutor Filippa and County Atty. Gentry are certainly going after the bootleggers in great shape. There have been more convictions for bootlegging in this county in the last twelve months than in any two years before.

Clerk W. H. Fish of the local Camp of the Woodmen of America rec'd yesterday a Black and white to Mrs. Rachel J. Rash for $100 in payment of the policy carried with the Woodmen by her husband Perry M. Rash who died Dec. 20th, 1916.

Did you ever stop to figure how many people you come in contact with each year, who can tell you how to run your own business better than you are doing it yourself. It is always the business man who knows nothing about what he is attempting to say, and always at arm's length in his own line. The moral is: Become more proficient in your own affairs and let the other fellows business alone.

There will be a meeting of the farmers, and others interested at Union school house, Saturday Jan 2, at 1:30 p. m. to hear explained The Federal Farm Loan System. Mr. A. B. Sams and others will be present and explain. The system of the Federal Loan Banks is very much the same as that proposed by the Kentucky Rural Credit Association, which was explained to many of the farmers of the county, but in other respects is quite different. Uncle Sam is behind the Federal Loan Bank and a bunch of thieves had charge of the Kentucky Rural Credit Association.

It was a very notable fact that on last Saturday and Saturday night, there was not a drunk man to be seen in the town. Whether Malina had the intoxicating effect or not, there is certainly some cause for not having the usual drunks on hand, which we have not failed to have on Saturday for a good many months. By ordinance of the town board the Main Justice all went out January 1st. Since Uncle Sam has been around and required all Malt dealers to take out license, there are very few in the business in the county now, and if the law is enforced, there will be none in a short time.

THE PRICE IS NEVER A MEASURE OF VALUE

When buying clothes keep your eye on the fellows that make price their chief claim on your attention.

Don't say, "I'll buy the cheapest I can find." Instead, fix the amount you can afford to spend, then say, I'll go where I can get the very best at that price."

Come in and let us show you that you can always save by trading at THE CASH STORE

Outfitters To Father and the Boys.

Price never made anything cheap. It's the quality that counts.

At 8:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist church, the marriage of Miss Charlotte Summers Black of this city, and Dr. Charles Y. Brown, of Terce Haute, was solemnized. Rev. U. M. McGuire, of Hicknell, officiated using the simple but beautiful rite ceremony.

The bride, dressed in a lovely creation of white crepe, meador and georgette crepe, entered the church, accompanied by her sister, Miss Martha Black, of Bedford, who acted as bridesmaid, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Lucie Owens of Indianapolis. The groom and his best man, Ward N. Black of Gretna, Ill., met bride and her attendant at the altar, which was banked with ferns and other potted plants, where in a few well chosen words by the minister, the young couple were united in marriage.

Prior to the wedding ceremony, a program of bridal favors was played by Miss Owens and Miss Zoe Beasley in her very charming manner, sang, "Because" and "My Only Gift."

The bride carried a beautiful bouquet of white bride's roses and her only ornament was a diamond lavalier, a gift from the groom. Her bridesmaid wore a beautiful gown of pink charmuse, with trimmings of cream lace. She carried a bouquet of pink bridesmaid roses.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Black, Sr., in West Beech street, where more than one hundred guests were entertained, the hours being from 4:30 until six o'clock. The reception rooms were decorated with smilax and potted plants and refreshments of pink and white brick ice cream and cake were served. At the reception several instrumental and vocal selections were rendered. Mrs. L. A. Strawn sang two pretty songs, A. G. McGuire, sang, "A Perfect Day," and Mrs. J. R. Black of Bedford, sang, "At Daws." The Indiana Daily Times.

The Blacks were former citizens of the Scaffold Case section of this county.

The suit of Mrs. Maggie Mullins, Admrx, against the L. & N. R. Co., asking for $20,000 damages is before the court. Mrs. Mullins' husband, who was signal maintainer of the K. D. branch, was killed by No. 35 the Cincinnati fast train, about a year ago.

Key and Mrs. Young entertained at dinner on Friday evening, when their guests were, Mrs. Cleo Brown, Miss Virginia Bradley, Miss Stewart.

Mrs. Rose Williams was the charming hostess on Wednesday afternoon. Her guests were, Mesdames Reiske, Cleo Brown, B. J. Bethuram, L. W. Bethuram. W. J. Sparks, Misses Sparks.

Miss Fan Sparks gave an At Home Saturday afternoon, her guests were the following: Mesdames Reiske, Cossie Sutton, Will McBe, B. J. Bethuram, R. H. Miller, Sadye Richards Jett and Kisse Williams.

A most pleasant and interesting meeting of the Missionary Circle was held at Mrs. Young's residence Wednesday afternoon with full attendance of members from which the following were selected as officers for the coming year:

Pres. Miss Amy Proctor. Vice Pres Miss Bonnie Nicely. Sec. Miss Dessie Nicely.

Treas. Miss Onie Silvers. The other which delightful refreshments were served, the meeting adjourned to meet with Miss Martha Sparks on Jan. 24th.

The production and consumption of coal in the United States during the past year exceeded all records. There was an increase of 15 per cent in the production of bituminous coal but the production of Pennsylvania anthracite was 0.600 tons less than in 1915. In all lines of business the consumption of coal showed a marked increase. The railroads used in 1916 17,500,000 tons more coal than in 1915. General manufacturing industries consumed 21,000,000 tons more than they did in 1915. The coal mines used 508,000 tons for steam and in 1916 they showed an increase of 7,000,000 tons.

In the local option election in Pulaski county Saturday the days was held by the overwhelming majority of 2,500 votes. If a vote is taken on State wide prohibition at this time it will carry by an overwhelming majority. The Times and Courier Journal are trying to force an election, thinking the proposition will not carry at this time but will carry later. It matters not the time whether soon or late, whenever the vote on State wide is taken, then Kentucky goes in the dry column. The Courier Journal and the Times had just as well get in the band wagon for there is where they will have to be before many years, or stay out if where they will have to be and where they will have to be and the latter they do not want.

W. J. Sparks has resigned as trustee of the graded school and E. B. Cox was appointed in his place to fill out the unexpired term. On account of Mr. Sparks' business, it's necessary that he travel on a pass and under the Act-pass law he can not hold the office of school trustee and accept free transportation. James Meadows, section foreman was a member of the town board of trustees and for the same reason he had to resign, Louis Cooper, being named in his place. Who ever herd of any thing as ridiculous and we do not believe any thing has or ever will be done the equal of it. But there is just about as much good sense in this as there is in a big majority of the laws that have been passed for several sessions past.

David Manley was not altogether proud of his day's work. As he sat up and bound on the rough brick floor beneath the Golden's door...

But David Manley did not altogether give up. As he lay there, more in body, but even more battered in mind...

The thought of Margery directed Manley's mind back to the earlier events of that strange day. He recalled his long talk with that quiet-eyed girl in the quiet-toned shadows of the Golden library...

But the waitress of the Golden house had proved to be nothing more than a hull which precedes the sudden storm. For five minutes after he had left the smiling girl, the Golden butler, with terror in his eyes...

He had elaborately tested them twice before he found any reason for hope in this direction. A chill of excitement ran through his tired body...

He had elaborately tested them twice before he found any reason for hope in this direction. A chill of excitement ran through his tired body...

In vain ran back. Why can't Legar get back to his room? He has been in his own mind work...

Manley could hear their shuffling feet as they recrossed the rough floor. He felt the door open and the rusty lock as they once more turned the key in the door...

When one strand of it had parted, and he had uncoiled the rest of it from his ankles, his head was swimming and his legs were unable to support him...

How long he lay there he could not tell. But he was aroused by the sound of thick robes from the outer chamber, punctuated by the shrill cries of an angry and scolding woman...

He waited, scarcely breathing, as the door was flung open and a pale, thin woman, with the entrance of the first intruder that Manley could not lift his head from the floor...

But Manley did not altogether give up. As he lay there, more in body, but even more battered in mind...

He had elaborately tested them twice before he found any reason for hope in this direction. A chill of excitement ran through his tired body...

at the door when a heard a voice. As though he thought it was a human voice, crying shrilly through the glass...

The Figures of Fate. Margery Golden, alone in her father's library stared apprehensively about that massively furnished room...

As she sat there, deep in thought, she was depressed by the sudden suspicion that some one of the many servants in the house was a traitor to his master...

She crossed to the rosewood desk to carry out this plan, and her finger glided over the keys of the bell button when a sudden soft movement at her shoulder caused her to start...

Her movement was arrested by the ring of the telephone bell close beside her. "Answer that phone!" he suddenly called...

"The next moment a great loud seemed to lift suddenly from her shoulder. The next moment a great loud seemed to lift suddenly from her shoulder...

"Who spoke then?" cried Legar, his face clouded by a move which apparently was an unexpected one from his standpoint...

"You know the voice, I see. And I think you know the man. So listen to what I have to say. I've got your friend Manley, and he'll stay where I've got him...

"In an exact one-half hour I want you to walk past the Golden's door, about half of that pretty face of his burned to a crisp, you'll do what I tell you to do...

Legar and Manley were both looking for his precious treasure! Now it's my chance, and I want that paper. But even so the party-dressed Wilson ran gapping in through the library door...

BEST PAYING RATTONS

Interesting Experiment Conducted by Ohio Station.

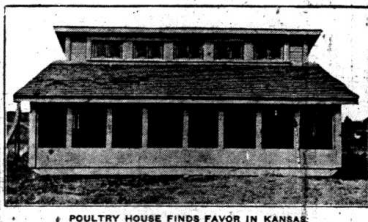

Pullets Producing Largest Number of Eggs Were Furnished Most Expensive Feed-Careful Accountants Are Impressed.

The number of eggs laid during the feeding of a ration is not always an index to the value of the ration. The best-paying ration should be the one that produces the most profit on the number of eggs laid. An experiment conducted by the Ohio station illustrates this point.

In the experiment, three lots of 25 pullets each of Single Comb White Leghorns, were used. These pullets were housed in half of a roost house, 10 by 12 feet in size, this space being allotted to each group. The hens were also confined to the houses from April 1 to June 7, in order to permit the grass in the lots to get some growth. When the snow was on the ground, the hens were confined to the houses. At other times, each lot had access to a yard.

Lot 1 received a ration of shelled corn, ground corn, eight parts, and meat scraps, five parts. Lot 2 received a ration of shelled corn, ground corn, seven parts; bran, three parts, and meat scraps, five parts. Lot 3 had shelled corn, one part, and wheat; four parts with one part of oats, and a mash composed of ground corn, three parts; bran, four parts; alfalfa, four parts, oil meal, one part, and meat scraps, two parts. Each lot had access to dirt, oyster-shell and charcoal. Lot 1 produced 185.9 eggs, Lot 2, 200.8, and Lot 3, 216.6 eggs per hen. A cost of $3.73, $3.84 and $3.00 per hen, respectively, from Lot 1 was $2.00; from Lot 2, $2.15, and from Lot 3, $2.00 for each hen in the respective groups. The ration for Lot 3 not only cost more but was more trouble to prepare. It looked at the number of eggs only, it might seem that 2016 eggs were far better than 1853 or 1904, but the profit is what we are after—the most money with the least trouble. The farmer needs especially to look to his profits this year. High priced grain. Careful accountants are the best of determining the cost of the feed, and the best-paying ration.

IDEAL CHICKEN HOUSE FOR FARM FLOCK

POULTRY HOUSE FINDS FAVOR IN KANSAS

Since such a floor is sanitary, vermin proof, and easily cleaned. The manner of lighting and venting in a poultry house is always important, in the opinion of Mr. Harris. Too much glass in a poultry house raises the temperature in the day and permits rapid radiation at night. The resulting wide variation of day and night temperatures is always injurious to the health of the fowls. Probably the best means of providing adequate light and ventilation is to have two windows in the south side of the building with a cloth curtain between. During stormy days, while the curtains are closed, the windows will provide sufficient light and the curtains will allow sufficient ventilation without resulting drafts.

DEVELOP OOCYTES FOR EGGS

No Hen Lives Long Enough to Produce More Than Small Percentage of Undeveloped Eggs.
Automatically every normal hen would appear to be fitted to become a good layer. Certain it is that she lives long enough, or remains in condition long enough, to develop all, or more than a small percentage of the undeveloped eggs in her ovary. In counts made at Maine experiment station from 914 to 3600 oocytes (undeveloped eggs) were found in the ovaries of some 15 hens examined, and only three oocytes in the undeveloped eggs were counted. Three hens showed better than 1,800 oocytes each five showed better than 1,500 undeveloped eggs each, five better than 2,000 each; and one yielded a count of 3,400 undeveloped eggs.

PROPER CARE OF COCKERELS

Young Fowls Will Need Plenty of Right Kind of Food and Shelter for Best Development.
Those who have good cockerels needed for breeding birds in their own flocks will see it that they are properly cared for. The young cockerels will need plenty of the right kind of feed and the proper shelter and protection so they will develop into good birds.
The mistake is sometimes made of not keeping the cockerels for the number of hens needed on the farm. As a result of this, farm flocks sometimes produce too small a percentage of fertile eggs. This means considerable loss for the infertile egg unused. Protection is almost if not a complete loss.
It is not easy to tell the kind of birds young cockerels will make, at least while they are quite young, it is necessary generally to keep the birds till their type, plumage and general individuality can be ascertained. The best is to keep them good and so one should afford to keep poor cockerels. Should not only of your flock, but then dispose of all and get good cockerels to breed up your flock. This will be economical in the end.

MILK IN FEEDING CHICKENS

Will Greatly Increase Egg Production—Carbohydrates Do Not Offset Necessity of Protein.
The use of milk in feeding chickens will greatly increase egg production. The hen never lays the egg until all the ingredients necessary for the complete development of a chick are present in the egg.

FEEDING CORN TO CHICKENS

Wasteful Practice Where Fowls Are Confined and Not Given Charcoal and Lime.
Feeding corn to hens of an particular breed should be in small quarters will not get enough eggs up. But pure corn, stock feed, or a mixture of the two, which the business man gives a chance, will make good use of good feed.

DUST BATHS ARE NECESSARY

Laying Hens Are Enabled to Rid Themselves of Vermin and Remove Dirt and Sores.
Laying hens must have their dust bath if they are to lay the maximum number of eggs in a year. It is a necessary luxury for them.
If by use they are enabled to rid themselves of vermin and to remove all sores and dirt from their skin, they will produce more eggs.

Autos in Steel Cages.

Los Angeles is trying to make joy rides and auto thefts impossible by supplying steel cages for cars on the streets instead of the chalked-off spaces normally provided for parking in the downtown section. The movement is experimental and the cost may be prohibitive, but the cages now in use are meant for a small town, which it is believed will cover the expense. Auto owners approve of the new scheme, pointing out the rental as an effective auto insurance rate, and so far there is a long waiting list of applicants for every steel cage available.

A Great Discovery

(BY J. H. WATSON, M. D.)
Scabies, hives, rashes, foot, are due to a dropical condition, often caused by diseased kidneys. Naturally, when the kidneys are diseased, the blood is filled with poisonous waste matter, which settles in the feet, ankles and wrists; or under the eyes, or on the face.
As a remedy for those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation caused by uric acid, scalding uric acid, backache and frequent urination, as well as uric acid in the urine, it has been found that the blood has caused rheumatism, hives, uric acid, gout, it is simply wonderful how quickly it acts, being the safest and most rapid depurative.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

A. G. Crider wishes to set aside the different rumors that have circulated concerning his auto wreck on Dec 3rd, near Richmond Ky, in which he and wife were very badly injured. There were 3 cars along. Sam Mahary and family, Ed Smith and family and A. G. Crider and wife. All drove to Richmond and after dinner, started home. Three miles out of Richmond, a very steep grade is found, after turning down the grade with his car traveling 6 or 8 miles an hour a sudden curve is found and turning the curve, Mr. Crider found his car close to the edge of a cliff. He is 10 years old, when a attention was on Mr. Smith's car just in front. Mr. Crider imagined he Claxon, which seemed to excite very much the little fellows. The children went one to one side of the road and one to the other side of the road. Then both tried to get on top of the car reaching the top of the road. Mr. Crider turning his car so suddenly first to the right then to the left got his car rocking almost ready to turn over. So that only 2 wheels were on the road at a time. This caused the steering wheel not to turn as it should. The car reaching the top of the road to the left side, over half way across ran against the railing and stopped for a second or two. The railing being so high that the front wheel dropped down so that the car could not be turned away from the edge of the bridge. So the car turned complete turning the lighting on the top of the Rock Bottom with both Mr. and Mrs. Crider beneath. Had this bridge railing been strong as it should have been, there would not have been any injuries. The story in a nut shell is "I saved the children and lost myself." — H. C. We have a fine little town down here, but just such cases as this give any town a black eye. — Miss Cora Griffin has returned to Big Stone Gap, after a few days visit with relatives here. — Mrs. Martha Wells, and grandson, Floyd, have returned to Cincinnati after a few days visit with relatives here. — Judge G. M. Ballard of Mt. Vernon, was in our town, Sunday. — W. H. Krueger, of Mt. Vernon, was here Tuesday on business. — Theo. Graves has moved so much in the past few weeks, that when the wagon is driven up to the house the chickens lay down and cross their legs to be tied. — Our old friend, James Moret, passed thru here a few nights ago, on No. 21, en route to Virginia to visit his sister, and when he returned he is going to visit relatives in Texas. — S. C. Franklin informs us that he took the same load of junk that he carried home from Winchester and more, for he had added a couple of hundred pounds to his already large load. We want some of our friends to let Vernon get freight rates against our friend's returns and have him ship his goods and chattels and relieve him of this terrible load. The rail road company, does not say how much a man, shall carry on the train, but we believe there should be a limit and exceed that limit Mr. C. M. has certainly. — Dr. R. G. Webb and Miss Lueda C. Barbour were married in Louisville, January 10th, by Dr. Agnilla Webb, Presbyterian minister of Louisville. Dr. Webb and wife are both Presbyterians. Mrs. Webb is the daughter of Mrs. Annie Barbour, of Boston, Nelson county, Ky., and is a most charming woman. Dr. R. G. Webb was reared and educated in Clay county, graduated in medicine in Louisville in 1906, came to Livingston, September 1, 1906, and has been successful in the practice of medicine ever since. He is a mason and a Junior and all ways stands and works for every improvement. They will spend a few days in Louisville and Cincinnati in the early summer, they will go to Portland, Oregon, as their honeymoon trip, to see a brother of Dr. Webb's, who is a prosperous real estate man of Oregon. Their future home will be in Livingston and when they return a genuine old fashioned charivari awaits them on their arrival here. May their path be full of pleasure and happiness. — W. G. Noddy is terribly bothered concerning his age. He asked some a few days ago about it and said if he only knew what the stars fall, he could quantify it as he was so old at that time. Now, Mr. Ed, please give us the desired information. — J. A. Oliver, the Winchester drummer, was in town Tuesday. — The little girl of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Oliver, who has been sick so long, is slowly improving. — We had the pleasure of meeting our old friend, W. M. Hicks, a few days ago, and Mart says he will enter the ministerial field again. He informed us that in a few days he would visit the Copper Creek vicinity, near Shrodshead, and look over to see if he could get a place. He had visited every other creek and corner as well as other counties. For the past three years we have done our best to try to locate our friend Hicks, a life partner. Mart has lots of this world's goods and is a splendid fellow. He says it looks like everybody is getting married and that he is going to make a superman effort this time. If he fails he intends to leave the matrimonial field forever.

Boone Way Man On The Wing

A six hours lay over at Norton, Va., today, Monday starts out reveal once again.

C. D. Fugate, of Gibson, Va., was a pleasant fellow passenger, as he is in Pennington. Mr. Fugate built Boone Way from Cumberland Gap to Boone's Patch, a distance of 51 miles. He is now engaged with his convict force pushing the highway on toward Shelbyside, closing in a gap.

Road building here, under state aid, is worked about as follows: The State furnishes the convict force, guards and their sustenance; the county furnishes the superintendant, teams and machinery. Virginia is "pushing good roads."

J. C. Duff, at Duffield built nearly two miles of Boone Way, over a mountain, at his own expense.

A recent bulletin, published by the police department of New York city, has this to say about a Mt. Vernon boy: "Commendable merit. William O. Jones, No. 4285, 2nd Inspection District, particularly meritorious conduct in the intelligent performance of police duty in obtaining evidence against and convicting many wealthy and powerful hotel and disorderly apartment house owners." In a number of cases Will proved it on which, proving himself as a captain at the head and others as a retired officer of the Navy. He could play either the possible the better to best advantage, having spent some years in the navy, visiting a large portion of the world. Will is now up in G with New York's police department.

In a recent letter to your truly, he says: "Jamie Thompson is making it alright. He is attending the night sessions of the New York City College. I am sure he will make his mark in a few years. We will both be home for the fair."

Rockcastle boys always get there.

The recent sale of the Paris Fair grounds recalls the fact that the first Kentucky fair was held at Paris about the year 1836 and there has been an exhibition held there nearly almost without stopping ever since this date.

Letters from Joe Hackley, a Lincoln county boy, bearing the London, England post mark show each have been opened and resealed with stickers bearing the words: "Opened by Censor No. 478, or some other number, which indicates there are some censors on the job." Joe has been with the Western Electric Co., the largest electric concern in the world, for last fifteen years, in the engineering department three of which were spent in Antwerp, Belgium, from which place he left for London upon the approach of the German heavy artillery. Two of those years have been spent with several ship pers, upon the improvement of the automatic telephone and switchboard which requires no bells, girls at central. Success, success has with crowned their laurels. On two occasions he has been called across the pond to Chicago and New York to look up and straighten matters in the hardware. Joe is a nephew of the writer.

Mistake for a dago pedler, by that good old reporter Will Owens, at Livingston, on Christmas day while returning from Winchester, because of Will puts it. "He came down the platform lugging two suit cases, a grip, a ten foot Boone Way Map, three bundles, a typewriter, a raincoat, etc., etc." In simply the limit. A Jew pedler wouldn't have been so bad, but a dago, uh. Some one was mean enough to tell it that Will had bought on the installment mostly payment plan, a second hand set of false teeth, thirty days before from a dago while on his monthly trip. Having mislaid his specs Will, it is said made the very natural mistake and hid behind a rain barrel near express office, not being ready to liquidate. It is difficult to believe.

That clever trader Boggs Smith, of the Eliott section advises that he has housed his benzine wagon for the winter and now walks in driving live stock. He says a "captain" machine or one of the English "bikes" is in handy about the place.
