SYNOPSIS OF KENTUCKY TAX LAW.

CHANGES AND BENEFITS.

The principal changes in the Tax Laws may be summed up as follows:

The State tax rate on Bank Deposits and Live Stock has been reduced from 55 cents to 40 cents on each $100.

Bonds, Stock, Mortgages, Notes, Accounts and Cash, not deposited in Banks, are exempt from local—that is County, District, City and Town—taxation.

Agricultural Implements, Manufacturing Machinery, Raw Materials and Products in course of Manufacture are Exempt from Local taxation. Farm Products grown within the year are exempt from all taxation.

The State Tax Commission has been created to properly enforce the tax laws and supersede the taxing privileges of all other State Boards and Commissions.

INTANGIBLE PERSONAL PROPERTY.

Bonds of all kinds (except U. S. Government, State of Kentucky, Counties, Districts, Cities and Towns in Kentucky, issued for Public purposes—which are exempt from all taxation in Kentucky) are taxable for State purposes only at 40 cents on each $100 of assessed value.

Stocks of all Corporations, whether organized in the State of Kentucky or elsewhere, which pay taxes in Kentucky on less than twenty-five per cent. of their taxable property, are subject to State taxation only at 40 cents on each $100 of assessed value. The stocks of corporations paying taxes on more than twenty-five per cent. of their entire taxable assets in Kentucky are exempt from taxation in Kentucky.

Mortgages of all kinds are taxable at the rate of 40 cents on each $100 of assessed value for State purposes only and are exempt from local taxation.

Notes of all kinds are taxable at the rate of 40 cents on each $100 assessed value and are exempt from local taxation.

Accounts are taxable on the same basis as notes.

Money in hand or in possession of or on deposit with others than Bank or Trust Companies is subject to State taxation only at 40 cents on each $100 assessed value and exempt from local taxation.

Money on Deposit in Banks and Trust Companies is subject to taxes at the rate of 40 cents on each $100 for State purposes only and exempt from local taxation.

Other credits are taxable for State purposes only at the rate of 40 cents on each $100 and exempt from local taxation.

TANGIBLE PERSONAL PROPERTY.

Farm Implements and machinery owned and in use by persons engaged in farming are taxable for State purposes only at rate of 40 cents on each $100 of assessed value and are exempt from local taxation.

Machinery of persons, firms or corporations engaged in manufacturing and—

Raw Material on hand for the purpose of manufacture and—

Products in course of Manufacture are taxable for State purposes only at the rate of 40 cents on each $100 of assessed value and exempt from local taxation.

Live Stock is subject to State tax of 10 cents on each $100 as assessed value and also to local taxation as at present.

Tangible Personal Property of all kinds not enumerated above is taxable for State purposes at 40 cents on each $100 of assessed value and also for local, County, District and City or Town purposes at the rates fixed in such localities. There is no change in the law relating to this class of property except in the reduction of the State tax rate from 55 to 40 cents on each $100 of assessed value.

Real Estate, comprising land and improvements, and City and Town Lots and improvements, is taxable for State purposes at 10 cents on each $100 of assessed value instead of 55 cents as at present, and for local, County, District, City or Town purposes at the local rates fixed by the localities. No change in law except in reduction in the State tax rate.

Banks and Trust Companies. The shares of capital stock are taxable and paid by the Banks for the shareholders, the valuation under the new law to be assessed by local assessors in each County, District, City or Town subject to supervision of the State Tax Commission, and in the valuation of shares of stock made for the taxes paid on real estate. The only noticeable change is in the method of assessment, which was heretofore in the hands of the State Board of Valuation and Assessment.

Corporations are subject to same taxation as individuals on the same classes of property owned and will be entitled to the same local exemptions and lower rates. Public Service Corporations subject to Franchise Taxes will be assessed by the State Tax Commission instead of the various Boards and Commissions heretofore exercising this privilege. Some changes have been made in the law for fixing values of franchises. The annual license tax on all corporations at 30 cents on each $1,000 of authorized capital has been raised to 50 cents.

Distilled Spirits. In addition to other taxes on property of Distillers there has been added a license tax of 2 cents on every proof gallon of distilled spirits liable to taxation by the Federal Government.

Fermented Liquors. An Excise Tax of 5 cents per barrel is levied on fermented liquors such as Beer, Ale and Porter.

Oil Production. The product of oil wells is taxable for State purposes at the rate of one per cent of the market value and counties may levy a similar tax not exceeding one-half of one per cent.

Other Provisions. The creation of a State Tax Commission, composed of the State Auditor, Ex. Officer and two others named by different political parties appointed by the Governor subject to confirmation by the State Senate, which is empowered to attend to all matters relating to State Revenue and Taxation. The Commission is to remain in permanent session at Frankfort and has legislative powers and supervision over County Assessors and Boards of Supervisors. It is authorized to prepare schedules of taxable property and command evidence in its capacity of a Board of Equalization and procure the proper assessment of all kinds of property.

Penalties. The new laws provide various penalties for violations and omissions and in the latter case may require an accounting for ten years previous. The failure to list any Note or Bond for taxation is a bar to any legal action for collection while the tax is paid.

Immunity. The new laws also provide for immunity from past omissions on all property accurately listed as of September 1, 1917, and the estoppel of legal proceedings affecting same, except in cases where suits are pending.

Farmers will be benefited by the new laws, as the taxes on farming land and improvements, now fairly assessed, will be reduced 37 1/2 per cent. for State purposes. Live Stock will be taxed by the State at 10 cents instead of 55 cents. Agricultural implements will be exempt from local taxes and products grown within the year are exempt from all taxation. Bank Deposits will be taxed at only 10 cents on each $100 and Mortgages, Notes and Cash, not deposited in Banks, will be exempt from local taxation.

Merchants will be benefited by the new law by the reduction in the State tax rate on Real Estate, Merchandise, Vehicles, Furniture, Fixtures, 55 to 40 cents for State purposes and Accounts, Notes and Mortgages are to be taxed by State only at the rate of 40 cents on each $100 of assessed value. Taxation of Bank Deposits will be taxed at only 10 cents on each $100 and Cash, not deposited in Banks, at same rate by the State.

Merchants will be benefited by the new laws by the reduction in State tax rate from 55 to 40 cents on Land and Buildings, and on Notes, Mortgages and Accounts, Machinery, Raw Material and Products in course of manufacture will be taxed for State purposes only at 40 cents and exempt from County and City or Town Taxes. Bank Deposits are taxed at 10 cents on each $100 by the State only and Live Stock at the same State rate.

While the U. S. Census reports the taxable wealth in Kentucky to be over two and a quarter billion dollars, there is at present on the assessor's books only $500,000,000, or less than 10 per cent.

The reduction in the State Tax rate from 55 to 40 cents on $540,000,000 and from 55 to 40 cents on $160,000,000 will result in a shrinkage of $1,530,000 in the State Revenue.

This deficit must not only be made up, but additional revenue to meet current expenses, now about $70,000,000 per annum in excess of the Revenue, will have to be provided for.

The new laws, by classifying and exempting certain property from local taxation and reducing the tax rate on all, is expected by their equality and fairness to induce a large increase in the listing of property heretofore escaping entirely or contributing only a small part of the revenue.

The idea is not to put more taxes on property, but to disclose more property to tax and the lower rates and local exemptions are calculated to produce the desired result.

The Supreme Court of the United States in a decision rendered June 11, 1917, states:

"The great mass of property in the State of Kentucky so far as assessed by the County Boards of Supervisors and the State Board of Equalization, was intentionally, systematically and tortiously assessed far below its actual value and at certainly not exceeding sixty per cent. of its fair cash value."

It is this condition that must be corrected and the failure to comply with the former intolerant laws because of their confiscatory character is no longer a tangible excuse for ignoring the moral as well as legal obligation of all property owners to the State.

It is property, not people, that is taxed and under the new laws each class of property is subject to uniform taxation, no matter who owns it. The law does not prohibit a divorcee from investing his money, but the law is justified in taxing every kind of investment equally as regards every class. The law does not dictate where people shall live, but if some prefer to live in the country and some in towns the law has a right to tax them for the purpose of the communities in which they select to reside.

The new laws are uniform and fair to all and while the Tax Commission has ample power to enforce them, their success will largely depend on the co-operation of taxpayers. The premium for accuracy is inviting and the penalty for violation severe, but aside from these inducements the honor of the State is at stake and a ready and voluntary compliance will produce surprising and satisfactory results.

Present taxpayers will save $1,530,000 in State taxes by reduction in the tax rate from 55 to 40 cents.

Residents of Counties will save approximately $50,000 and Cities and Towns $1,800,000 by Exemption of property from local taxes.

The total reduction in taxes as paid by present taxpayers amount to over $23,000,000, and herein lies the inducement to return more property for listing. It is justified by the saving in tax rates and exemptions and the subtraction of property not now contributing its fair share and in many cases nothing at all will naturally follow.

The increase in Assessments of taxable property for State purposes, if followed by the assessments in Counties and Towns will not only provide for the losses in their local revenue by reason of lower rates and exemptions, but will enable them to reduce their local tax rates proportionately.

With the systematic and equitable equalization of Real Estate values, the addition of the great mass of omitted property and the raising of assessments on notoriously undervalued Personal Property the revenues will be ample for all purposes and the taxes will fall light on all property.

It is time for serious consideration on the part of all taxpayers who, under the old and unequal laws, an equitable and equal tax assessment themselves if they are doing their duty in compliance with same and whether they are justified in prolonging the reign of evasion because others have been doing it.

The first day of September of the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and seventeen was epochal in the history of the State, as it will mark a turning point in public morality and private integrity in the listing of property for taxation. No such opportunity has ever been afforded to square accounts and set relations in all other States, in the success or failure of the New System of Revenue and Taxation will be determined by the actions of the taxpayers at that time and whether their response will be from fear or favor or from an earnest sense of their just obligation. It is believed that the results will be satisfactory to all concerned.

THE NEW KENTUCKY TAX LAWS

There will be many changes in the Kentucky Tax Laws, which go into effect September 1st, and as taxpayers should be deeply interested. Farmers will be benefited by the lower State tax rate on Lands and Improvements from 55 to 40 cents on each $100 valuation and on Live Stock from 55 to 10 cents for State purposes. Bank Deposits, Mortgages and Accounts will be exempt from local taxation, as will also Agricultural Implements; and Products grown within the year are exempt from all taxation. Money deposited in Bank will be taxed at only 10 cents on the $100, instead of 55 as heretofore. This will result in a large saving to taxpayers, who have been listing their property at a fair valuation. Merchants will have only State taxes to pay on their Notes and Accounts at the rate of 40 cents on each $100 and 10 cents on Bank Deposits. Other property, such as Real Estate, Merchandise, etc., is subject to State tax rate of only 40 instead of 55 cents. Manufacturers are exempt from local taxes on their Machinery, Raw Material and Products, Notes and Accounts, and will be taxed for State purposes on such property at 40 cents on the $100 and 10 cents on the $100. The State tax is only 40 cents on each $100 and the local taxes as fixed in the localities where their business is conducted. Stocks, Mortgages, Notes and Accounts are taxable for State purposes only at 40 cents on the $100 and exempt from local taxation. The State tax on Real Estate, Personal Goods, Merchandise, Vehicles and other property owned by individuals has been reduced from 55 to 40 cents. A reduction of 37 1/2 per cent. Additional revenue to justify the reduction and increase the State revenue is to come from Bonds, Stocks, Notes and Accounts, Mineral and Timber Rights and Royalties and by equalization of notoriously undervalued assessments, and as each class of property, not matter by whom owned, will be assessed and taxed uniformly, the advantage to taxpayers generally and the State at large will be very great.

The State needs more revenue to meet the present deficit and the idea is to get more property to tax rather than to impose more taxes on property now paying more than its share, and under the new and more equitable laws this can be accomplished.

The State Tax Commission is going about the work in the right way to subject every kind of property to its fair share of taxation and correct the evils heretofore existing whereby many property owners paid more than their just due and others escaped entirely. The Commission is endowed with power to enforce the laws and bring delinquents to a square account their responsibility and obligation to the State, and every Taxpayer, Assessor and Supervisor should aid in securing for the State the successful operation of the new laws, which are fair and just to all.

Where accurate returns are made as of September 1st, the owners will be immune from past omissions and delinquents may be proceeded against for ten years back, so there is every inducement to comply with such just and equitable laws and as the principles involved are worked out there will be further reductions in the tax rates, and in time the entire exemption of land for State purposes, as in other States where the same laws are in practice.

The right kind of clothes at the prices are almost enough to sell themselves. But there's another factor -- the personal element.

Lots of people come here to buy because they're sure of going away with a smile. And a customer's smile is worth as much to us as our profit on the goods he buys. The satisfied person comes back.

The size of a purchase is only an item. We figure that a ten-cent sale and a pleased customer are more valuable in the long run than a ten dollar sale and a "never come back."

Make us prove our willingness to serve. Our stocks are especially attractive right now.

Notes By "J. M."

Rains have put a different look upon things since my last writing the home paper.

U. C. Davis stops over a few minutes here, some days since, while on his way to Louisville, in his Henry buzz wagon. Charley and his family have many friends in Clark's capital. The glad hand is eagerly extended to them whenever they visit old Winchester.

Rockcastle didn't make the war showing of Laclede county where 122 recruits were examined, 132 passed and the 132 claimed no exemptions. Breathitt and Lee counties, it is said, were the two counties in the nation in which no draft was required, they having furnished their quota of men by volunteers heretofore. Clark county barely escaped a third call.

A party of auto tourists from Danville and Winchester arrived in Wyoming last week, making the trip of 2,000 miles on 114 gallons of juice, averaging almost 18 miles to the gallon; only one puncture on the trip.

Wasiota, the station near Pineville was named for an Indian tribe that used to pass thru over that route on hunting excursions into Kentucky. The original spelling of the name was "Ouisioto." Another Indian name is used for a railroad station in Clark county -- Wyandotte.

Capt Sam Boone, the old veteran soldier, appreciating the recent gift made him of a century old dueling pistol, by the Boone Way man, proposes re-erecting the favor by furnishing the latter personage with an old cavalry saddle, a rope bridle and a left footed army spur to be used on the "stick horse" that will likely be presented the highway man by his admirers from a certain mountain county who fell down on their promise of a tin Lizzie to promoter of a highway thru the Cumberlands. The Captain proposes to erect a reviewing stand at the court house and view the procession of "the lone (stick) horse-man parading Main street of Winchester.

The old soldier suggests that the "fery named (Boone) steed" be named for that mountain county town that didn't make good on its tin Lizzie promise.

Two eggs and cup of coffee 25 cents is the latest restaurant bump that the writer has received. If this thing continues this road man will likely have to walk home or ride that "stick horse." Possibly this particular bush man wishes us to put to further test our fibroid soled shoes which, in their varied journeyings have gone more than 5,000 miles between Massachusetts and the Mexican border. Fifteen hundred miles of this travel was made in walks over Clark county roads in 1917. The shoes were purchased last summer at Fish's store where later they will appear on exhibit in their front show window.

The writer enjoyed Friday evening last, the hospitality of the family of our esteemed friend, George M. Kiser, editor of the Winchester Daily Democrat. Mrs. Kiser was Miss Annie Warren of Stanford, Miss May Warren, a sister, is an attractive and popular visitor of the family in their elegant apartment home on North Main street.

Hemp harvesters, blue grass stripping machines, tobacco planting machines, tobacco manure spreaders, self binders, corn harvesters, hay stacking machines, hay balers and tedders are some of the numerous things the writer had never seen in operation until his sojourn in Clark county. Neither had he seen any tobacco cutting during the past half century. Loose leaf tobacco market was another thing he had not seen before.

How quickly time passes and age creeps upon one before he is aware of it. It seems but a short time since I came to Mt. Vernon to take the railroad agency, when I was a boy of 21, just 40 years ago on this day of the present. Aunt's Babes of that day have grandchildren of their own. Nearly all of the older people have past over the river. The county and town have virtually been repopulated. The population of Mt. Vernon was 250 and the county had 250 people, today it shows 2,500 and 15,000 respectively. The town had a large barn-like dilapidated old building, sitting on the hill, called a school house; some ninety or a hundred feet of brick and stone sidewalk and probably as much plank walk the remaining plain dirt. The telephone was not in general use anywhere in the world. Electric light was yet to be invented, as were electric traction lines, wireless telegraphy, airplanes the moving pictures, the submarine boat and many other things in common use today.

The writer has just been presented a copy of the latest, best and most accurate wall map of Kentucky, by the National Map Company, Indianapolis. We furnished much of the road data to the publishers, last year. Besides being plain and distinct, the map shows all available and traction lines, giving distances between every station. All cities, towns, villages, cross roads and post offices are given a place. All the main highways are shown by heavy red lines, the inter-county road roads and many of the lesser traveled ones appear therefore. The National and transcontinental highways, such as The Dixie, Jefferson Davis, Boone Way and the Midland Trail are given the best representation.

That which makes the writer the proudest is the fact that our Mt. Vernon originated road, the Boone Way, covers a large space and is given the most prominence of any highway in the map. The lettering along the lines showing up in almost box car size.

We would be glad for every roads man, and especially those interested in our highway thru the Cumberlands, would secure a copy of this most authentic, complete and reliable map. In our next letter we will advise about prices and places where the map may be gotten.

One is sometimes led to almost believe that letter writing will soon be numbered among the lost arts. Some of our friends write at times many of them, never, or not even replying to letters written to them. We believe the following words were attributed to Robinson Crusoe while sojourning on an uninhabited island of the seas.

"Oh ye winds from across the sea, What a friendly word to me."

Rob was lonesome others become so at times when long absent from familiar scenes and faces.

When the heart with grief is heavy
And the eyes are dim with tears,
When the world looks cold and dreary
And your hopes gives place to fears,
As we travel on life's journey
O'er many a weary mile,
How it brightens up the landscape
If we meet a friendly smile.

To the Livingston pencil pusher: Sharpen up that "light" and "put 'em up again." Don't get shovet. One of the good parts of Signal is missing when you fail to come to the list. Play ball.

Capt. Sam M. Boone, a veteran of the war of the 90's has this to say in the Winchester Daily Democrat:

"I am the proud owner of a school car, and I would be less than human were I to neglect through your live paper, to express my high appreciation.

Col. Jim Maret, the originator and prime mover in what is called "The Boone Way" some days ago presented to me an English dueling pistol, a derringer, which was used 95 years ago to win, in 1827, in a duel fought at San Antonio, Texas, in "The Lone Star state." The weapon remained loaded 1570 until March 1877 when Col. Maret removed the powder and ball, the percussion cap having been taken off many years ago.

The present owner expects some day to load her, and then use her into the Serries and Phloreses." When I found the weapon belonged to Col. Maret, I went directly to his office, and after exchanging the salutations of the day, I said: Colonel you have a piece of personal property which I want; if you cannot give it to me, please fix a price thereon, and if within reach of my depleted bank roll, I'll fork over."

Lispen now to the response of the noble old gentleman: "I cannot sell it to you, but as you are a blood relative of the great frontiersman, Indian fighter, Daniel Boone, I gladly give it to you." This expression placed me in a condition too full for utterance, but it goes to show his heart is always in the right place. This grand old man of French extraction is now and has been for years engaged in building a monument that will cutear his stainless name to all true Kentuckians. Ten thousand thanks for the generous gift, and may all the coming years spend to you be filled to overflow with everything calculated to bring about that happiness and peace which passeth human understanding."

Fred Sowder sold his Ford to W. J. Majors, at Bandy, for $250.00, and left for Cincinnati last Sunday morning, taking Walter Smith with him, returning Monday with a new Saxon Junior. This is a fine little car and Fred seems well pleased with the change. J. W. Tate sold a horse and bit to E. L. Harris this week for $350. This is the property formerly occupied by the late O. W. Turpin. Arch Roberts, of Monon, Ind., was here last week the guest of C. H. Frith and others.

Orrin Wilton has accepted a position as assistant agent with the L. & N. R. R. Co. at this place, and seems much at home. Boston Kider was recently promoted from the position of assistant agent to operator, and is now on the Main Line near Bowling-green. Misses Ethel Geisal, of Crab Orchard, and Clyde Roberts of Monon, Ind., were guests of Miss Elvora Frith last week. School began Monday with J. L. Hann, and this is the first time she ever saw her Kentucky relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Shatts have a number of relatives and friends here. Mr. Shatts owns a farm of 57 acres lying within a mile of the city of Danville, and bordering on two of the great highways through that state. Mr. Shatts is farming in the Hooper state and is making good. Jerry Singleton sold a three month old colt to John Fugate for $50. Mrs. Wm. Hilton Motored over from Stanford Tuesday afternoon and spent the night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cass. Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Porfir left on Wednesday's early train for Beckhannon, W. Va., where Mr. Porfir enters college. It will be necessary for them to remain there four years in order for Mr. Porfir to complete the college course. These good people have been with us most two years and during this stay have made a host of friends. Mr. Porfir is an able minister of the Methodist church, and we regret to lose him and his estimable wife.

MUMFUR COMPLAINT.

During the hot weather of the summer months some number of almost every family is likely to be troubled with an unnatural looseness of the bowels, and it is of the greatest importance that this be treated promptly, which can only be done when the medicine is kept at hand. Mrs. F. F. Scott, Scottsville, N. Y., writes, "I first used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy as much as five years ago. At that time I had a severe attack of summer complaint and was suffering intensely pain. One dose relieved me. Other members of my family have since used it with like results."

EDITOR TELLS THE TRUTH

A West Texas editor got tired of being called a liar because of an occasional typographical error or a slight disarrangement of type in publishing a common place news item.

"A lot of people in this town fall out with the editor and brand him as a liar when the ordinary human mistakes of life show up in the newspaper. You have a little charity and fellow feeling for every man in town but the editor. You claim that you want the facts and da— in I don't give em to you. Read the next issue of this sheet and you will see some facts with the bark off I'll admit that I have been a liar on a few occasions ever since I have been editing this sheet, but never printed a lie in these columns except to save somebody's feelings from being hurt. I'm not afraid of any of you and I'll be glad to blame it if you print the plain truth from now on, or until you get out of the habit of calling me a liar every time I make a little unavoidable typographical error. Watch my smoke."

Here are some paragraphs culled from these neat issues: John Bonnia, the laziest man in town, made a trip to Belleville yesterday.

John Coyle our grocerman who voted with the Republican ticket, and who consumes more than ordinary whiskey than any other member of the Baptist church in this county, is doing a poor business. His store is dirty and dusty. It is a wonder he has any business at all.

Rev. Stye preached last Sunday night at the Christian church. His sermon was punk and uninteresting, except some stuff he quoted from Job. Inevitably he was he talked to give Bob any credit. He also recited a few passages from one of William Elbert Munnay's sermons and had the gall to palm it off as his own.

Dave Chartier died at his home two miles north of this place, last Thursday night. Dock Hool who was an old friend of the family a tended him a few minutes before he died. He gave it out that Dave died of heart failure. That is a lie. Dave died from drinking too much of a poor grade of mail order liquor. This paper prints the truth.

Tom Spadlin married Miss Cordie Meador last trades day at the county seat. It isn't generally known, but the marriage was brought about mainly by a Remington shotgun, manipulated by the bride's father. Tom concludin' that marriage is the healthiest thing he could do until other arrangements could be made.

Roger Lloyd, cashier of state bank at Willow Grove, died Wednesday evening and was buried Friday by the Odd Fellows in Pleasant Mount Cemetery. He has been taking this paper seven years, and so far hasn't paid us a cent; we think that he is being a banker, would pay some money. We will sell the account for two bits' worth of fresh greens.

Married: Miss Susie Struggles and Horace Guinn, last Saturday, at the Methodist parsonage, Bow. James C. Williams officiating. The bride is a very ordinary town girl, who flirts with all the traveling men she meets and never helped her mother three weeks ago all put together in her whole life. She is anything but a beauty, resembling a gravel pit in this town. She makes a good wife. The groom is a Unal-born leader and bum. He never did a lick of work until he stepped down from his office from home last fall. He went to the county seat, and just before starting to death, accepted a job as chambermaid in a livery stable. As soon as he was found out where he was he went and got him and brought him home. He now resides at the home of his wife's father and says he has no definite plans for the future. Susie will have a hard row to hoe. —L. A. Pithfork.

The above article is copied and printed for a purpose and we sincerely hope it will hit where it is needed. When the head paper fails to tell the whole truth don't you think it should be appreciated, and when it mis takes occurs don't you think it is good taste to give the poor editor, the benefit of the doubt?

THE LATEST WAR NEWS

President Wilson has written Secretary Baker, expressing his belief that the drafting of married men who are heads of families should be carefully examined to avoid, if possible, and expressing the view that single men should be taken where it is possible.

The Italian troops on the Isonzo front are marching to complete victory according to a report from Rome. The Italians are apparently making one of the greatest efforts of the war and have taken Austrian positions hitherto regarded as im pregnable. Their first feat was the crossing of the Isonzo, and their latest the taking of Mount Santo, more than 2,000 feet high, which dominates all the defense on the road to Trieste. New gains have been made by the French on the Verdun front, running out the victory began on Monday. Paris reports that in advance has been made beyond Hill 204, and three fortified works near Bethincourt have been captured.

At the direct suggestion of President Wilson, Provost Marshall General Crowder telegraphed to all Governors a supplemental explanation of regulations governing the status of married men under the selective service law. President Wilson states in his opinion that the decision direct ing local boards "to establish the list of dependents in addition to the fact of marriage ought not to be abrogated." This leaves the status of those as they are and the supplementary statement is designed merely to make the application of the rules uniform among all boards. Under the new orders, due to rail construction, 50 per cent. of the white men, preferably those with military experience from such local area, will be started on to the camps September 5, instead of 30 per cent.

Another smashing blow by the French on the right bank of the Meuse in the Verdun sector netted a gain of about two-thirds of a mile on a front of two miles and a half, giving the French possession of the Esses and Beaumont wood and bringing them to the outskirts of the village of Beaumont.

President Wilson tightened the Government's control of exports last night by issuing an order forbidding the shipment of any goods to European neutral countries except under license, and by extending the lists for which license is required in shipment; to the Allies and neutrals other than European countries to include cotton, all meats, sugar and most of America's other export commodities. Gold or bullion now is licensed for export.
