What's the war news? When will it end? These questions are repeated daily by millions of people throughout the world.

The Kaiserite have been and are not anxious for peace. They are now terms pretending to have under the belief that their armies are invincible and will win in the end.

It is believed that Germany is nearing the end of her rope, and she is yet capable of doing immense damage and the destruction of thousands upon thousands of lives.

Can America ally itself and her armaments to help the world, to help the world, to help the world, to help the world, to help the world.

As has been often said in this column Rockcastle usually first in the field in movement of enterprise and for betterment, is never a laggard.

The Dr. Brown's Council of League is a little different in some respects, requiring the endorsement of an investigating committee, as to fitness, no one can become a member.

It will be recalled that it was a Mt. Vernon man and his citizens, who put a great truth high way on the map.

History records the pleasing fact that wherever a native of Rockcastle is found, no matter on what part of the globe it may be, a noise is heard there of their own and their friends.

KENTUCKY has for half a century been a leading journal for writers on the booz question and a rich field for paragraphers with their little flings at the subject.

It is said the bible school is the largest organization in the world. All general stores close here Monday at noon by order of the Federal Fuel Administrator.

(Special to the Herald.) Manchester, Ky., Jan. 23.—U. S. M. Robinson, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the 11th Congressional district, spoke here to the largest and most enthusiastic audience ever before assembled in the Manchester court house.

George Yedon is now in France, and if he makes the kind of a soldier he is a man he will merit the honor that his many friends back home will bestow on him upon his return.

Roads have been most improperly located and badly drained for such a long period of time that it is now difficult to teach the people that proper location and proper drainage are permanent improvements and of prime importance if the road is to be economically maintained.

The men's bible class of Mt. Vernon Christian Church has received a large photograph of their ward, little Miss Stella Irene Scanlan, aged 11, of the Christian Church Orphans Home, Louisville, Ky. The picture was brought to Sunday School last Sunday and viewed by eager and pious guardian eyes. The picture indicates that she is a bright intelligent and fine looking girl. The class will have her visit a number of Mt. Vernon homes next summer as their guest.

Walter Rice, who was brutally shot at Paris Tuesday, by O. H. Johnson, an L. & N. brakeman, died last night at 9 o'clock. The burial will take place at Stanford either tomorrow or Sunday. Only meager reports have been received as to the killing, but as best we have been able to get the facts, Johnson who was crazed by drink and mad because he had been called to army service, walked into a restaurant where he found Rice, made some reference to the fact that Uncle Sam gets me "before Uncle Sam gets me I will give you." The first shot struck Rice in the breast passing through the lung. The second shot took effect in the back. The deceased, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rice, of Livingston, has many friends in Rockcastle who deeply deplore his untimely death and to the bereaved family extend their sympathy. The deceased was a Mason and member of the B. of L. E.

STOCK PENS—A number of enthusiastic farmers and business men were present at the meeting Monday to consider plans for the establishing of stock pens in Mt. Vernon. Rev. M. G. Fish was made chairman and C. D. Sutton secretary of the meeting. As the stock pen meeting was not called to convene until after the adjournment of the War Council, time prevented consideration of many phases of the situation. About the only definite action taken was the appointment of a committee to look out a suitable location and report at 1 o'clock today. The committee is composed of Gus Staverson, David Hinesinger, W. A. McKenzie, Claud Griffin and Edgar Mullins. Every one seems especially interested and there is no doubt but that a complete organization will be perfected at today's meeting.

WAR COUNCIL. On Monday last the most important and largest attended meeting convened in Mt. Vernon court house that has taken place since the outbreak of hostilities. The people, in answer to invitation of the County Board of National Defense came from all sections of the county and listened with want attention to the splendid speeches delivered by the Food and Fuel Administrators, lawyers and others, who clearly explained conditions and the manner in which the Government aid advises and directs our citizens to proceed in these momentous times and grave conditions. The manner of observing hostilities, meatless and wheatless days and the vital reasons therefor were fully explained and the audience was fully convinced of the duties owed by every citizen to observe the regulations as set down by our Government. Explanatory literature was distributed and the meeting was by far the most impressive that has been held in our county for many a day.

Among the resolutions passed was one requesting the Fiscal Court to make an appropriation to aid the local boards in defraying necessary expenses of the work in the way of postage, printed matter and stenographic work. Inasmuch as these men are putting in their time, it is but justice that they be reimbursed at least for above mentioned expenses incurred.

A fuller report of the meeting, owing to our crowded space, could not be printed this week. However, as stated the result of the Council's convention will show up as being of a big drive in bringing before our people the conditions existing and the remedy which lies within their hands to aid in the great work now confronting the American people and the balance of the world.

AN AUTO FOR COL. MAREY.

From along the route of Boone Way from Kenton, Ohio and Louisville Kentucky to Boone Park and Lexington, North Carolina, from time to time have come suggestions that the originator of this highway be presented an automobile. Friends, to a movement, with this idea in view, have named a Committee of four Mt. Vernon citizens to carry out the suggestion. A banker, a merchant, an attorney and an insurance man compose this committee, which has devised a businesslike system for the campaign. About February 4th literature will be mailed out to friends and good folks people all along the line, setting forth reasons why this old-troad man's stunts of from 1000 to 4000 miles per year in his work as inspector on State aid roads should be reduced to a small fraction of the foot mileage he has been making in the past.

I took 3 or 4 bottles at that time, and was able to do my work. I take it in the spring when run-down. I had no appetite, and I cannot eating. It is the best tonic I ever saw." Try Cardui.

The British "soldiers" went into a restaurant at Saloniki and asked for Turkey with Greece. The waiter said: "I'm sorry gentlemen, but I can't Starbina," whereupon the Tommies cried: "Fetch the Bosphorus!"

"Well, gentlemen, I don't want to Russia, but you cannot Mamania."

And so the poor Tommies had to go away Hungry.—Scottish-American.

Early History Recalled

soul, but dignified, response to writing, in which they elaborately and gratefully reported their decision. On the 28th day of February the resolutions were offered in the House in which the Legislature sought to "authorize the judges one of their duties to be to see that the law be observed in a spirit of moderation and justice, and that the same be enforced with discretion and forbearance." The resolution passed the House by a vote of 103 to 59. The Senate, following the defeat of the resolutions in the House, immediately introduced a similar resolution, and on December 9 passed an act repealing all laws established by the Court of Appeals and directed to create a new Court of Appeals. When the measure reached the House it has been considered three days in its discussion.

The discussion was spirited and exciting, and was participated in by such men as the great lawyer and the merchant, Albert Wickell, who championed the cause of the old Court, and who forewarned the defeat of the resolutions in the House; and the late Chief Justice, James H. Wilson, who in his closing speech, and in his final moments of life, exhorted the Legislature to maintain the dignity and honor of the State by the support of the new Court of Appeals. The passage of the bill was followed by a recess of the House for three days in its discussion. The bill was then taken up on January 16, 1917, when the Senate, after the most stirring battle in the annals of the Legislature of this State, adopted the new Court of Appeals. This occurred in the Senate by a vote of 21 to 14. The bill was then passed to the House, and on January 17, 1917, the House, after a long and heated discussion, passed the bill by a vote of 85 to 50. The bill was then signed by the Governor and became a law. The new Court of Appeals was organized on January 21, 1917. The new Court consists of five judges, who are elected for a term of five years. The new Court has since that time been performing its duties in a most dignified and efficient manner. The new Court has since that time been performing its duties in a most dignified and efficient manner. The new Court has since that time been performing its duties in a most dignified and efficient manner.

Appeal to the People.

As soon as the Legislature passed this bill, it created a new Court of Appeals, which is now in session. The new Court of Appeals has since that time been performing its duties in a most dignified and efficient manner. The new Court has since that time been performing its duties in a most dignified and efficient manner. The new Court has since that time been performing its duties in a most dignified and efficient manner.

It is imperative that all waste and unnecessary consumption of all sorts of foodstuffs should be rigidly eliminated. The maintenance of the health and welfare of our people is vitally necessary at this time, and there should be no dangerous restriction by law to the supply, but the elimination of every sort of waste and the substitution of other commodities of equal value are more abundant supplies for those who are in need, and will do to way to improve the strength of our people.

Urges Co-operation.
I, therefore, in the national interest, take the liberty of calling upon every loyal American to take fully to heart the suggestions which are being circulated by the food administration and of realizing that they are themselves a part of the great body of our women, who have labored so loyally in co-operation with the food administration will strengthen their efforts and will take it as a part of their duty in this period of national service to see that the above suggestions are observed throughout the land.

SUMMARY OF RULES.
Happily the result of the election showed an overwhelming victory for the Old Court party, but while the Old Court had a majority in the House, the Senate was equally divided, due to the fact that only one-third of the Senators were elected last year. The Lieutenant Governor had the casting vote, and unfortunately belonged to the New Court, or Miller party, and while the election showed plainly that the people of the State were in favor of the Old Court, the result of the election showed that the people of the State were in favor of the Old Court.

EARLY HISTORY OF KENTUCKY RECALLED

Interesting Paper Read At the Meeting of the Circuit Judges.

BY JUDGE B. J. BETHURM

The following interesting paper by Judge B. J. Bethurm, of Somerset, dealing with a time in Kentucky's history when the State was in turmoil over an act of the Legislature extending the time for stay of collection by replen from one to two years...

The article was as follows: The subject of this address perhaps may not impress the judges as being wholly appropriate for discussion on an occasion of this sort. At first I doubted it, but after maturer consideration, all doubt was removed from my mind, and now I consider the stirring incidents connected with the "Old and New Court Controversy," which happened nearly 100 years ago, to be the most interesting as well as the most thrilling of any past events connected with the history of the Commonwealth...

In order that the cause of this most unfortunate judicial tangle may be fully understood, it will be necessary, before entering into the discussion proper, to review briefly the financial and political history of Kentucky prior to and at the time the controversy arose.

Section of the first Article of the Constitution of the United States which declares: "That no State shall pass any law impairing the obligation of contracts..."

The relief party promptly appealed the case to the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Kentucky. The case was then composed of three judges, all of whom were appointed by the Governor...
