The "Green Seal'd" Home

Cottage, Bungalow, and great mansion—all alike need Hanna's Green Seal Paint organically. A home may be over so costily, and of pleasing architecture, but it must be kept cleanly painted at all times to really be considered attractive.

Using Hanna's Green Seal Paint is not so much an expense as an investment. It pays back a good deal more than it costs—in protecting property, in beautifying it, and in its satisfactory service.

Writes Interesting Letter

Camp Taylor, Ky. April 16, 1918.

Dear parents and all: I received your letter yesterday. Was sure glad to hear from you. I took an examination on Friday Work table, but don't know how I came out yet. I had some time Saturday and Sunday. I went with the band of the 1st group to Bloomfield, Ky., 50 miles from here. The people paid our expenses on the train down there and fed us like kings; introduced us to lots of beautiful girls. We staid there from 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Then they put us, 35 men, in autos and brought us to Louisville, bought our supper for the night. Then they brought us to camp. Such fine people you never saw. Every body said our homes are open to you anything you want is yours. If it isn't here, we will get it for you. What do you think of that, eh? We went down there advertising U. S. Liberty Bonds. While we were there, there was an old gentleman poorly dressed came up with a little Jersey cow worth about $35.00. He drove her up into the circle of the band, we were playing on Main street, and the band leader stopped the music and ask him to get out but he raised up in his stirrups, and said: "Gentlemen and ladies; I have four sons on the Somme front in France to get fighting the blood thirsty Huns, and I wish I was able to go and help them fight but I can't. I am too old and broke down. But I can kill a German man by helping our boys. So I am going to sell this cow to the highest bidder and the money received for her will go to the Red Cross funds. How much am I offered for the cow? First bid $100; Second, $200; Third, $250; Fourth, $300; Fifth $350 for this cow I am offered $700, and there's one man here that can write a check for $700.00, and it would not hurt them as much as it hurts me to give this scrub cow. Another man bid on the cow $1000 in gold drawn from the bank just ten minutes before. The old gentleman turned to a Red Cross nurse and handed her the money. Then after it was over we had a big parade thru town. There were lots of speeches made. One by a Lieut. of the Canadian forces who went to France in April 1917. I will give you some parts of it. "Fratricidal citizens, you are here, having a good time, yes contented, not afraid of anything happening to you, eating white bread, cakes, pies, and every thing else the Americans can possibly cook, and our boys in France living in mud to their knees, was starved on bread soaked in water, and the mud was so thick and such things as they can get their hands on, and that very little. Facing one of the most blood thirsty enemies the world has ever known. In deadly gas most of the time and yet we think that the war will soon be over. What makes you think it will and soon? Friends, I will tell you the war will never end until every man and woman in the U. S. and Canada quit wasting food, by filling your stomachs on cakes, pies and other things so costly. Save the money and you will kill the Huns, waste it and they will kill our boys. Give Uncle Sam the use of your money at 44 per cent and stop the war or send your boys to the battle field for the next 20 years without any interest. Take your choice. Then he drew a telegram from his pocket and read: Ottawa, Canada, April 7, 1918 Dear Charles:— Your only brother was killed on the front, the 5th, (signed) Your broken hearted mother. Then he said: I am the last of five and young est 22 years old. We landed in Paris the 17 of April 1917. All well and we were together until one day, I saw my oldest brother, tall. I went to him, all of no avail. His head was torn off by a bursting shell and I rushed in to the gas from it and fell. Five days later I recovered from my long sleep, to find myself in a German hospital with my right arm taken off, my leg of the elbow and wrist and I had not received any wounds on the field. They did it to put one more man out of their way. So I stood until the sub holed, taking in everything I saw. So one day I found a tank containing enough gas to kill every body in 50 miles. I watched my chances, hid out my plans, then waited for darkness. When it came I walked into the tank, found some sentries and I found a rifle of a fourth one, who went into the hospital. I raised his rifle with my left hand placed it to my shoulder and fired. I killed one man and the gas from the tank got the others, for the bullet went through the tank about four feet from the ground, made my way out as far away as I could then lay on my face, cut my coat tail and shirt tail and tied them around my head making a crude mask and lay there until I could see one sentry after another fall to his knees and lay down. I wound my way for three days through wood, marsh and every thing and at last came to a Belgian peasant who carried me to my own lines, more dead than alive. They treated my lungs and I fed me and sent me home and I am telling the people what it was to be in Hell for three years with four other brothers and me be the only one to return. Don't stand back and say to hell with the Huns, but build the fire hot with your dollars and your boys will send every one of them there." There were other speeches that were good but this talk made more impression on the public than all the rest put together. This officer does not have any thing for his time, our Government is paying his expenses to help push the Bonds. Well, I guess this is enough for this time, write soon

DO YOU SLEEP WELL?
To be at his best a man's nerves have sound, refreshing sleep. When nervous and restless at night he is in no condition for work or business during the day. Wakefulness is often caused by indigestion and constipation, and is quickly relieved by Chamberlain's Tablets. Try a dose of these tablets and see how much better you feel with a clear head and good digestion.

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

You can rely on Cardui. Surely it will do for you what it has done for so many thousands of other women. It should help. I was taken sick, seemed to be... writes Mrs. W. M. Venable, of Madison Heights, Va. I got down so weak, could hardly walk... just staggered around. I read of Cardui, and after taking one bottle, or before I had quite all, I felt much better. I took 3 or 4 bottles at that time, and was able to do my work. I take it in the spring when run-down. I had no appetite, and my commended eating. It is the best I ever saw." Try Cardui.

HOW ABOUT YOUR LIBERTY BONDS?

Are you helping to defeat the Kaiser? Mrs. W. T. Amy and son, Gilford, have returned from Cincinnati, after a few days visit. Mr. and Mrs. George Gains, who have been living in Winchester, will move to our town in a few days. They have rented a house at 215 W. 1st St. Mrs. J. L. Hughes, of Corbin, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Parry. Dr. Stubbins has moved his family to Winchester and will take the Winchester section as foreman. George Hellard will take the section that Stedham leaves and Victor Owens will take the section that Hellard leaves. Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Carico and children of Louisville, have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McGuire for the past few days. Mrs. D. B. Rambo was in Louisville latter part of the week shopping. W. H. Cottingham has sent in his resignation as post master. He has a position with the L. & N. and decided that both positions were worth for one man. It looks now that J. F. Dees will be appointed in his stead. Dr. Walker Owens, of Mt. Vernon, was here between trains Monday. Mrs. Robert Griffin was in London latter part of last week visiting relatives. Mrs. J. H. Walton, is in Paris, Ky., visiting her daughter, Mrs. I. A. Mann. Will some reader of the Signal please explain what kind of a winter we are having now, as it is too soon for either dogwood or blackberry winter. We will acknowledge that it is one on us. —Farming and gardening in this locality is progressing slowly on account of the cold weather and no rain. —W. H. Mullins, of Paris, is with home folks this week. Mrs. J. H. Walton, of Paris, returned home after a few days visit with relatives at East Bernstadt. —S. C. Franklin was here between trains Saturday, en route to Lexington to visit his mother. —Squire J. L. Arnold, who has been quite sick, is slowly improving. —C. E. Rife will move his family to South Louisville in a few days, as he has a position with the L. & N. at that place. —Mrs. W. M. Brady has returned from Hazard, Ky., after a few days visit with her parents. —Kaiser Bill said that he would eat his Christmas dinner in Paris, France. It will surprise us the way that business is picking up with the Allies, if he is able to eat it in Berlin, Germany, and besides if some of those Americans can get a good shot at him, we don't think he will have any control over his appetite. —Miss Hallie Asher, of

Notice to County Teachers

April 19, 1918. My dear Superintendent: We are sending you check for two thirds of your sixth or February installment. We have been waiting for some weeks thinking each day there would be sufficient revenue to pay the entire installment. However, we find that it may be the middle of May before there is revenue to pay this full installment. We hope to pay the remainder of this installment and possibly a part of the seventh installment by the middle of May, however, this depends upon whether the corporations protest the payment of their franchise tax. Thanks to the splendid services rendered by Senator Antle and others of the Upper House and Representatives McLaughlin, Hardin, Bell, Bowman and others of the Lower House, we will after this year be able to pay the teachers at the end of each month beginning in September. Hoping to see you at the K. E. A., I remain, Very truly yours, V. O. Gilbert, State Superintendent.

As suggested some weeks ago by editorial in the Signal, the tardiness of Congress in passing a more drastic espionage law, and the continued threat of an license permitted spy, and alien enemies would cause the American people to lose patience and take matters in their own hands with dire consequences to follow. Already has more than one hanging taken place while quite a number of the Kaiser's overzealous sympathizers are walking around today wearing suits of good tar and feathers, which many members of the bands who furnish the outfits believe is a waste of good and valuable material and advocate more drastic measures. If the practice of lynching and the kluxism once gets fairly started in our country it will be almost an impossibility to head it off. We despise the Kaiserites with untold hatred but must remember there are many thousand men of German birth who are patriotic to their adopted country who are giving their money, support and soldiers to fight in our ranks, but should, this klux propaganda gain an upper hand and it would do so if once fairly started—many true and patriotic men and their families who bear German names would suffer injuries at the hands of blind and unreasonable mobs under the head of vigilance committees or other names, while meaning well for the interest of our country make grave errors under such license.

To us it appears that instead of sending spies and traitors to the penitentiary or to be interned, numbers of them should be stood up and shot. This would deter their practice and hold within due bonds the wrath of the American people of great patience and long suffering at the hands of these vermin.

MANY of American's most prominent business men held important meetings in Hotel Gibson, Cincinnati, last week. Among the thousand delegates were representatives from all the leading cities of every state, were capitalists and bankers, builders of ships, forgers of steel and iron, makers of chemicals and cloth and automobiles, miners of coal, agricultural leaders, pioneers and leaders in every kind of industry known in America. "War is our business first, a merchant marine and world trade following it when peace comes," was the aim of this gathering which will no doubt have a far reaching effect in the commerce of the world. One of the speakers put the proposition in this light, "To win the war there is only one possible method and tersely put, that method may be described in two words. Two ugly words—kill German Huns."

FRIEND Walton of the Interior Journal is lamenting over the wearing qualities of present war boined expressions, such as "over there" camouflage, "over the top" and suggests a let up on their use or the adoption of new ones.

Every period seems to have had its catch words and phrases. "Tippecanoe and Tyler too" was used in a presidential campaign in the dim past. "Jim Fish was a man with his heart in his hand." "Jose the cause of all." "Have you seen Tom Gully?" "Down went McGilly?" Are you a Buffalo? are a few samples of the popular sayings to be heard many times daily at various periods in times gone by, and then put in the scrap pile of oblivion to be replaced by others more suitable to the times and occasion.

WAYSIDE NOTES
 By FINE ROOSE WAYSIDE MAN.
 The photographs of the mutilated Belgian children, mentioned by Will Owens, our Central Livingston reviewer, in last week's issue of the Signal, was sent to the writer, by Judge Richard G. Williams, of Covington. It was turned over to watch inspector S. C. Franklin of Mt. Vernon, with a request that he show it to such a large number of people as possible, especially to those who yet retain any spark of like warmness in their system relative to the war or are unaware of the many horrors perpetrated by the brutal Huns of Germany and their cohorts, against men, women, children and babies.

Their heads are especially atrocious and unbelieveable—but this photograph tells a more forcible tale than can be depicted by speech or pen, giving concrete and unmistakable evidence of the ferocious and damnable practices of this depraved and worse than the most savage of cat throats and murderers, and trained for these bloody exploits by worse than mad Kaiser, who claims partnership with God with the Supreme being as junior partner.

After looking at this photograph, one feels that Henry Waterson put it in his job, he says, "Do hell with the Hohen zollerns and Hapsburgs."

Will Owens wife ask him how to tell an old chicken from a young one. He said by the teeth. "Well, but chickens have no teeth," she replied. "No, but I have," will remark. Some of the Mt. Vernon boys recognize "chickens" by their faces.

Laborer's wages on Clark county roads in 1916 was $1.50 per day in 1918, $2.50.

The first suit growing out of the Pastime Theatre disaster, at this place, was filed last week, for personal injuries received. The plaintiff asks $25,000 damages. On night of March 20, during a high wind a brick wall, left standing from a recent fire, fell in on the spectators at a picture show being held in the above mentioned theatre. Eleven deaths occurred in the building and one took place later. Many others received injuries.

Oil to the right, oil to left, oil at every turn, in fact that is the main topic of discussion one hears over here in the good city of Winchester. Hundreds in the city are financially interested. Many have made and adding to their fortunes. It is told of one young fellow who had never followed any particular line of work and had hardly the "energies" to work his face regularly, got into the game. Three losses struck the combination to the tune of $12,000; invested further, struck it some more, and last week was offered $125,000 for his holdings, which he refused.

If you have any "slacker" tendencies about your system take a look at the photographs of the Belgian children, frightfully mutilated by the Kaiser's forces, mangled soldiers. S. C. Franklin will show you the picture, (if you are a male of 21 or over).

Raymond Myers is putting in his time after school hours, and Saturdays, in his fathers dental rooms, studying the intricacies of the profession. He is making good progress and is already able to do repair work in good shape.

LET WERE A FARMER
 If I were a farmer I would keep at hand a few reliable medicines for minor ailments that are not so serious as to require the attention of a physician, such as Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhea Remedy for bowel complaints.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds and croup.

Chamberlain's Liniment for sprains, bruises and rheumatic pains.

Chamberlain's Tablets for stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation.

By having these articles at hand it would often save the trouble of a trip to town in the busiest season or in the night, and would enable me to treat slight ailments as soon as they appear, and thereby avoid the more serious diseases that so often follow.

COUNCIL OF NATIONAL DEFENSE
 The possibility of a potato shortage this year. People had large crops in 1916 and no export was left over, supplies in many parts of the country and market was dull. If we fail to produce at least a even equal as last year, it will be a disaster. There will be a shortage and with an export of more wheat this year, than we have had previous years, the demand for potatoes will be greater than ever before. So let us plant a sufficient amount to supply our people and then some to spare. The display in Fish's corner window explains the situation.

Met four Mexicans at depot here of their way to Wasita, James, in Bell county. One of them was a native of San Antonio. The others from old Mexico. Finding my "Spanish" somewhat rusty after a rest of more than forty years, we resorted to English with a little better result.

Stomach Trouble
 I cannot Praise Your Wonderful Medicine Peruna Enough

 Mrs. Sophie Daur, 221 First Ave. North, Fairbault, Minnesota, writes: "I cannot praise your wonderful medicine, Peruna, enough. It has done much for me during the past ten years and I keep it in the house continually. I was in such a condition that I could get nothing but bread and milk, and even that was too heavy for me at times. Now, I can eat anything. I will recommend Peruna to all my friends."

Those who object to liquid medicine can procure Peruna Tablets.

 Your Dollars in Your Country's Service

U. S. Bonds, War Savings Stamps, and U. S. Thrift Stamps must be purchased by the people from money saved from their incomes—every dollar spent for an unnecessary thing is a force for evil. When that dollar buys labor and materials for equipping our army and navy it has a double force—first it comes to aid the enemy and second it is fighting for us in the behalf of mankind. Be sure that your pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters and dollars are enlisted in the cause of your country. An idle dollar is a SLACKER dollar, but a dollar wasted in war time is a TRAITOR dollar.

LOCAL

The blasphemies of the Kaiser are endless in number. He is now using posters depicting Christ leading the mad-man's brutish barbarians to battle. Underneath the picture appears this admission given by the Savior when here on earth: "Be hold I am with you always."

Dan Glover, a boy looking to be about 15 years old but claiming to be 12, rode into town on a bicycle which he offered for less than half price. This aroused the suspicion of sheriff Langford who took the young man in charge when he confessed that he had stolen the wheel in Lexington. He is in jail awaiting the grand jury.

BROADHEAD

Bro. H. W. Fisher, of Salisbury, will preach at the Christian church Sunday morning and evening. Mr. Elliott is a fine speaker and every body is invited to hear him. Miss Tempest Ward, one of the grade teachers here, and Mr. Fred Sowerdy, traveling salesman for Kellogg & Co., were married at the residence of the Rev. A. J. Pike, the officiating minister, just after midnight Saturday and left on the early train for the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ward, at Lebanon, and will spend several days there and in Louisville before returning home. Mr. Sowerdy is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sowerdy, of this place, and is a prominent business man. Miss Ward has taught here two or more terms and is a fine teacher. She made the race for Superintendent of schools in this county a few years ago and has been very active in school work for a number of years. Their many friends here wish them much happiness. W. J. A new time card becomes effective Sunday and we get it from a pretty reliable source, that No. 22, the Louisville train due at 5:21 will run nearly an hour later schedule. The time is ripe to make money for another train, but the people between Stanford and Livingston must show some interest. Petitions from Crab Orchard, Broadhead, Mt. Vernon and Livingston would be very much in order and if you are interested, show your interest by getting busy.

The late Legislature passed an act creating the Kentucky Council of Defense upon which it confers great powers and tremendous responsibility. This has to be the power to investigate all rumors, treasonable acts or remarks indicating pro-Germanism, and to call upon the authorities of any community to cooperate with them in the arrest of any who is subject to arrest. Men of high character will be appointed in every precinct to assist in this work.

Willie Wallen, who is working on a farm near Sutherland, Iowa, writes that he has sold a pair of these recently. The proceeds of this sale was given to the Red Cross. The farmers took some farm products to be sold to the highest bidder. One bantam hen sold for $50.00, her egg sold for $60 and a flock of wild geese being sold for $800. The sale amounted to $15,000. They also had a box supper for the same purpose. It amounted to $500. The sale of the boxes ranged from $5.00 to $50.00. It would not take many sales like these to raise enough money to whip the Kaiser.

JUDGE B. J. BETHURUM ANNOUNCES FOR U.S. SENATOR

Judge B. J. Bethurum, of Somerset, for years a conspicuous figure in the Republican party in Kentucky, will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator in the August primary. Assurance that he will make the race was given by Judge Bethurum himself yesterday, when he was in Louisville for a few hours in conference with friends and associates here. While formal announcement of his candidacy may not be made for some time, it is known that Judge Bethurum has definitely decided to enter the primary and will be a strong factor in the contest for the Republican nomination. Carrying unusual strength through the Ellettsville, his home district, which is the Kentucky stronghold of Republicanism, Judge Bethurum will call to his banner a big following all over the state in the party fight for the nomination. Since he entered the practice of law when 21 years of age, Judge Bethurum has been prominent in legal circles of the state, and for two terms has been circuit judge in the district composed of Clinton, Wayne, Rockcastle and Pulaski counties. Both at the bar and on the bench his record has been an enviable one. Judge Bethurum is known as a reliable, less for of legal liquor traffic from the district in which he presides. The only other avowed candidate for the Republican nomination is Dr. Ben L. Bruner, of Louisville. Judge McKenzie Moss, of Bowling Green, who was recently prominently mentioned in connection with the race, is understood to have informed his friends that he can not consider making the fight. Others who have been discussed as probable candidates are Judge Charles Kerr, of Lexington, and Judge E. O. O'Neal, of Frankfort, Louisville Herald.
