S. E. Pennington, of London, was here between trains, Monday. John McPhillip, of near Lovelock, was here on train Tuesday. A. C. Wilson, of near London, was here on train Tuesday. Mrs. McPhillip is on her way to Louisville. This is the first time that the writer has seen him since he left the level crossing. J. W. McDall, traveling salesman of London, Ky., was here between trains. Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. McDall are on their way to Lexington. They are spending a few days in Louisville. The brick layers that are building the new hospital here will be on their way to Lexington in the afternoon. S. E. Pennington, of London, was here Saturday finishing up a job for J. P. Drummond. Mrs. C. G. Griffin, of near London, was on train Monday. Mrs. Jones, of near London, will follow her regular appointment at the high school on Tuesday and Sunday. Thomas Bonds, who recently moved here from East Benning, who has been kept sick for some time, is a student of the dry and disease the realists. He leaves a wife and one child and a host of friends to mourn his death. He was laid to rest Monday in the family burying ground on Conboy Branch, near Junior Middleburg, of which he was a member. W. M. Brady is spending a few days in Lebanon Junction and Louisville. Geo. McConkie, who has been very sick for some time, seems to grow weaker. Mrs. Maggie Martin has returned from a day's visit with relatives at East Benning. Last Monday a stranger came to town who looked like a German. He was all over town and at last the citizens became suspicious and he was arrested and searched but nothing was found on him. He let them claim that he was a good police. When a stranger comes to town they should give an account of themselves, and there are some instances of great deal of embarrassment. But the time has come when you have to keep a sharp lookout and sleep with one eye open, for you might take the bottomless pit of torment with a fine tooth comb and you would not find a meager thing than a German. B. Donnelly, the Irish operator, was in Stanford, Saturday. R. B. Gold, round house teamster, was in Corbin, Saturday. J. M. Moore did the mistake to lose a fine cow this week. Mrs. John Graves, who has been visiting at Mrs. Fox's for some time, returned home. W. A. Warren was in Louisville, Saturday, to see his brother, Robert, who is stationed at Camp Taylor. Mrs. L. E. Cox and children, are at Lily this week with relatives. A little child of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hoff has been quite sick for a few days. Fishermen are doing a fine old business now, and many of the big tribes that are losing their lives. H. Davis has located a vein of coal on his land just across Roundstone Creek, being Livingston. The coal is thirty inches thick. Last Tuesday several autos were passing over the crossing in the north part of town at the Iron Bridge, and one nearly thought he would cross at the same time that train 37 came to the crossing, but there was a collision. The men jumped and escaped injury but the machine collided with the train which rendered the machine unfit for service.

RED CROSS NOTES.
The representatives of the American Red Cross over there must have money to bind up the wounds of our soldiers, nurse them back to health, so they can come back to home and mother. They say they can furnish the hospitals, doctors, nurses and dresses, if we will raise for them one hundred million dollars. Of this amount Rockcastle county's quota is twenty-five hundred dollars, about twelve dollars and fifty cents for each soldier from this county now in the army. The best possible services rendered on of ... from home would be worth that amount. Your boy may need help if he don't some mother's love will. We must raise ten thousand and five ten foot dollars preliminary to the Great Road ... drive which will come May 20th to 27th.

The Rockcastle County Chapter of American National Red Cross will put on a sale at public auction of the stock of the Rockcastle National Bank on Monday, May 4th. They will offer live stock, farm implements, household goods, books, etc. Terms of this sale will be cash, and every copious will go to the benefit of the Red Cross.

CAUSE OF HEADACHE
By knowing the cause, a disease may often be avoided. This is particularly true of headache. The most common cause of headache is a disordered stomach or constipation, which may be corrected by taking a few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets. Try it. Many others have obtained permanent relief by taking these Tablets. They are easy to take after all and gentle in effect.

Life Was a Misery
Mrs. F. M. Jones, of Palmer, Okla., writes: "I am the time suffered into womanhood. I looked with dread from one month to the next. I suffered with my back and bearing-down pain, until life to me was a misery. I would die. I could not endure the pain any longer, and I gradually got worse. ... I decided to TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic. 'I took four bottles,' Mrs. Jones goes on to say, 'and with not a single relief, but can truthfully say that I have not a pain. ...' She is now here two years since I took Cardui, and I am still in good health. ... I would advise any woman afflicted to the Cardui who is a sufferer from any female trouble. ... If you suffer from any female trouble, or if you feel the need of a good strengthening tonic to build up your run-down system, take the advice of Mrs. Jones. Try Cardui. It helped her. We believe it will help you. All Druggists

A Business Should be as Big as Its Job

If bigness is of benefit to the public it should be commended.

The size of a business depends upon the needs which that business is called upon to serve. A business should be as big as its job. You do not drive taxis with a pile-driver or piles with a tack-hammer.

Swift & Company's growth has been the natural and inevitable result of national and international needs.
Large-scale production and distribution are necessary to convert the live stock of the West into meat and by-products, and to distribute them over long distances to the consuming centers of the East and abroad.

Only an organization like that of Swift & Company, with its many packing plants, hundreds of distributing houses, and thousands of refrigerated cars, would be able to handle the varying seasonal supplies of live stock and meet the present war emergency by supplying without interruption:

First—The U. S. soldiers and the Allies in Europe by shipping as much as 800 carloads of meat products in a single week!
Second—The contents in the United States.

Third—The retailers upon whom the American public depends for its daily supply of meat.

But many people ask—Do producers and consumers pay too much for the complex service rendered?
Everyone, we believe, concedes the efficiency of the Swift & Company organization—in performing a big job in a big way at a minimum of expense.

Swift & Company's total profit in 1917 was less than 4 cents on each dollar of cost of meat and by-products. Elimination of this profit would have had practically no effect on live stock and meat prices.

Do you believe that this service can be rendered for less by any other conceivable method of organization or operation?

These questions and others are answered fully and frankly in the Swift & Company 1918 Year Book sent free on request.

MOTHERS OF SOLDIERS

It remained for a soldier to remind us that we are not just mothers, now, we are mothers of soldiers --- "and it doth not yet appear what we shall be."

Somehow, we found the courage to send our sons away with smiles and blessings from lips that we strove to keep from quivering. Have we now that deeper courage to face the picture of where they are today, or may be next week, next month, or next year, if we do not help to the last cent, to the last atom of our mother-love?

It is not a pretty picture for a mother to face, God knows, but we are mothers of soldiers and we must face it. Way back in the baby days when a fall brought that first streaming gash on his curly head, we had to shut our tears and face it then in order to cleanse and heal the hurt. Today, his need is so much greater, his hurts are so much deeper.

Now that he is away from us, we catch ourselves drifting back to these baby days. We thrill again at the touch of groping velvet fingers, exploring our eyes and our lips and tugging our hair. The pressure of dimpled feet, sturdy even in their rebellious moods, stirs our pride in our man-child, and we yearn over the sight of the little yielding body grown heavy with sleep in our arms. We live over again the years of his little-boy-time so sheltered and wrapped in our love. Almost we lull ourselves into peace with our dreams, but we are mothers of soldiers and this is no time for such luxuries as dreams.

Caked with mud and covered with filth, splashed with the blood of his comrades, deafened by bursting shells, blinded by smoke, choked with gas fumes, aching with weariness, yet stumbling on—do we know how soon this may be a picture of the boy who is ours?

All their sacrifice and their suffering and their courage will be useless unless we can keep sending them ships and more ships loaded with arms, ammunition, food, clothing, hospital supplies, and all the paraphernalia of war.

Just as in those old days we used to plan and save and deny ourselves every pleasure to keep him supplied with knickers and blouses and toys and school books and endless pairs of little shoes and stockings—so now it is for these other, these gruesome needs that our mother-love must find a way.

It cost so little to build a ship, to make an aeroplane, to buy a gun, but we are mothers of soldiers, and if it is these they need, these they shall have. We will find a way as only mothers can.

Is it so much to ask of us, just that we go on being mothers to help our boys? A few more sacrifices, a little more self-effacement, a little more courage to go without, a little more mother-love. That is all.

This Third Liberty Loan is a call to mothers of soldiers to give as we used to give when they were our little lads—to give without counting the cost.

Every dollar invested in Liberty Bonds brings its sure return in protection for our boys, and in hurrying the day when they shall come back to us from the lurid hell of those front line trenches. Mothers of soldiers, this is our war—our boys are fighting it. It will be our VICTORY, when they have silenced the enemy for all time.

The money we invest in Liberty Bonds we are only loaning to keep our boys alive—to bring them home.

ROCKCASTLE OVER THE TOP

Third Liberty Loan

Not only did Rockcastle go over the top, but each of the three towns of the county; to which allotments were made have each gone over by a margin of 100 per cent. The bank for Rockcastle was $36,200, divided as follows: The Bank of Mt. Vernon and the Peoples Bank had a combined quota of $23,750; Citizens Bank Broadhead, quota $9,200, and First State Bank, Livingston, quota $3,250. The sales from the four banks reported to the town yesterday give a total of $47,500. This amount will be increased to nearly $50,000 by tomorrow night when the Third Liberty Loan drive comes to a close. The two Mt. Vernon banks report $37,500; Citizens Bank Broadhead and the First State Bank $4,750, from 36 subscribers. For our excellent banks, is just all praise for their excellent work. The good people of Wildie should be remembered as playing an important part in this successful drive. In fact there are those from every section who did good work.

The meeting at the Court house Monday when over $12,000 of this amount was raised was one of the most enthusiastic meetings ever held in that building for any purpose, and when the Hon. W. C. G. Hobbs, who came here from Lexington to address the people on the subject of the Third Liberty Loan had finished his address he called for subscriptions and the Anti-Kaiserism which pervaded the crowd brought subscriptions thick and fast, although many of them were of the $10 denomination. Judge Hobbs is a most pleasing and interesting speaker and his vocabulary embraces every word, with just the proper shade of meaning to describe that barbarous, inhuman German race, led by a mad man, whom they worship almost more than the Christ, against whom the world is struggling today for freedom.

The list of liberty loan purchasers will appear in our next issue. If you do not have a bond get one before the bank closes tomorrow. If you don't you will be ashamed of it when it is all too late.

The Senior Play of the High School will be given at the High School Building promptly at 8:15 P. M. on Tuesday May 7.

Mt. Vernon, May 3rd and 4th.

The following boys left Wednesday for Fort Thomas. This is a special call, as we understand not a part of a second quota. Our first quota has been filled. The list is as follows:

Mr. T. R. Moss, representing the Food Administration will be in Mt. Vernon next Tuesday May 7th, and will address the citizens in the Court house at 2 o'clock p. m. on that day on the importance of food conservation. Hear him, he will have a message of vital importance to every American citizen.

Money is more plentiful than it ever was during this generation. The high prices makes these times about normal times, as to cash and price. If we use as much food and clothing and waste as much as in normal times, we can't help but lose. This war is not an economic all save at least one fourth of our earnings. Then all can buy bonds and donate to the Red Cross.

J. A. Carter, of Berea, now connected with the H. C. Whitmer Company, proprietary medical manufacturers of Rockcastle, Ind., was in town last Tuesday looking after the interest of his company, to be the state agent, and is securing a local agent to represent Rockcastle.

ABOUT RHEUMATISM.
Rheumatism causes more pain and suffering than any other disease, for the reason that it is the most common of all ills, and it is certainly gratifying to sufferers to know that there is a remedy that will afford relief, and make rest and sleep possible. It is called Chamberlain's Liment.

It's Hard to Tell Which IS The Best

YOU can seldom determine the real value of a shoe by its appearance. Merchants, themselves, are often deceived and cannot be certain as to what the shoe is actually worth unless it is cut up to see how it is made.

Nothing equals LEATHER for making good shoes. Many substitutes for leather are often used—where they cannot be seen—because they are cheaper than leather. But you may be assured of honest leather, correct styles, and all-round satisfaction by purchasing

The Friedman-Shelby All-Leather Shoe is the "All-Leather" shoe you will find shoes at every price, for every purpose. The various brands included are "Atlantic" shoes for men, "Pacific" shoes for women, "Red Goose" shoes for children, and "Honey" heavy work shoes. ALL LEATHER—ALL THE TIME.

On the Soldier's Special

By DR. M. PENNINGTON

The grind of braces the escaping steam in clouds and the train stopt still, the conductor came down a sid, you will have to come up this way, and twenty of our young men, practically fit and mentally qualified for the army service made their way through a throng of relatives and friends, who had been buying Liberty Bonds and declaring their intention of standing back of our army with might and main. In two minutes the special was underway, Mt. Vernon left behind. On looking through the train we saw a fine bunch of men from the Cumberlands and Black Mountains. No one could be seen of the type described by the novelist as the feudist or clansman of the mountains. None showed signs of fear or reluctance. None were boasting of their intentions, they were just plain but determined men from the mountain section of Kentucky that ever has responded to our country's call. The men of pure Anglo-Saxon blood, who have made history in all wars in which our country has engaged. There was the bookkeeper, the clerk, the horny handed farmer and coal miner all mingling as brothers. There was the well dressed young man, hair cut and clean shaven accepting a seat beside the poorly clad boy with faded cotton shirt and long unkempt hair. There was good fellow-ship of all. The line that made society the class here had been erased. All on this train were of one class. Americans, who were answering the call of their country, and there are only two classes in this nation today, Pro-Germans and Pro-German. There is no middle ground. If we are not helping in some way to win this war we are helping the enemy by drawing our support from this country and not giving in return what is our reasonable share of assistance. These men were cheerfully going to a cantonment where restrictions will be put on their acts and mode of living to prepare for a fight for their lives and the freedom of the world. The train stopped for water at Brodhead and for many of the amateur soldiers this stop is pleasantly rewarded. The ladies

WHEN you choose clothes it's worth something to have plenty to choose from, all good. We've got them; real quality clothes; unequal values at $15, $20 and $25.

—your confidence.

IN these days of wool shortage and uncertain quality you should choose your clothes dealer with as much care as you would select your lawyer. Pick out one worthy of your confidence.

We'd rather "miss" a sale than misrepresent any article. The loss of a sale means little to us; the loss of your confidence much.

We like to emphasize for the benefit of particular men that "we've got the goods;" clothes and furnishings as fine as ever, in as great a variety as ever.

Come in and look us over.

If you can't afford to buy both clothing and Bonds, buy Liberty Bonds.

of that good town handed a bunch of beautiful flowers to each one who could get to them, and the boys handled these tokens with very tenderness, and the light that came in the lonesome boys' faces was fine. Some of them, on the return from France, they would stop off at Brodhead. They complimented the young ladies very highly and one said these were more pretty girls there than he had ever seen together. It caused the writer to reflect for a minute and decide that it was likely a true statement. Brodhead ladies are very fair and the thoughtfulness of the girls made them doubly dear, to the soldiers for any act of kindness is very much appreciated by a new soldier and when the boys are on the foreign battle field and see the work of the American Red Cross, if they know how ardently Brodhead women are working they would think even more tenderly of them.

One young man was asked his occupation, wanting to learn of what he had done at home. He replied: "I am a soldier now. I was a miner." While he wore no uniform, no rank or color, he had that look in his eye, and the bearing which convinced me that he was in truth "A Soldier."

The boys from Rockcastle conducted themselves one on this trip and I am sure their career as soldiers, let them remain as private or gain promotion, will be such that the people here will be proud of them.

DO YOU ENJOY LIFE?
A man in good physical condition is almost certain to enjoy life, while the bilious and dyspeptic man, dependent, do not enjoy their meals and feel miserable a good share of the time. This ill feeling is nearly always unnecessary. A few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets to tone up the stomach, improve the digestion and regulate the bowels is all that is needed. Try it.
