MR. AND MRS. MATHIAS GENTRY, PINEY GROVE CEMETERY.

The citizens of this splendid town of Brodhead realizing that a more suitable and attractive home for their loved ones who will from time to time pass into the great beyond, recently organized themselves and set about to find a desirable place for a cemetery. The land is secured and a more desirable spot could not have been sought. It consists of 12 acres, and just outside the corporate limits of the town of Brodhead on the pike toward Crab Orchard, on a high dry spot overlooking the Boone way and in splendid view of the L. & N. tracks for more than half a mile. Piney Grove Cemetery is an incorporation, a natural company from which the officers receive any salary and all profits that may accrue from the sale of lots, will be turned into the treasury and held there for such expense as may come in taking care of and beautifying the grounds. The officers are A. E. Albright, President and O. B. Caudle, Secretary-Treasurer. The incorporators, Granville Owens, R. H. Hamm, A. M. Hlat, W. T. Brook, Rev. L. N. Bowling, Rev. A. J. Pike, J. W. Moore, W. P. Hayes, C. H. Frith and A. J. Haggard. These names do not mean that these are the only men behind the move, for the entire citizenship of the town and community are backing it. There are 12 acres in the boundary, but for the present only three acres are being improved. The grounds have been systematically laid off, the walk and drive ways leading to every section and quarter of the grounds, which will soon be macadamized. A large number of lots have already been sold, and several have been taken there for their last resting place. C. A. Whelan was the first to be buried in the new grounds. Mrs. A. E. Albright and Mr. John Riddle and others whose names we do not have, have been moved from the old burying grounds at the Baptist and Christian churches. The lots sell for $25 a lot, which are $22.50. Piney Grove Cemetery is beautifully located and when put in the condition that those in charge intend that it shall be, will be one of the most attractive homes for the dead in all Eastern Kentucky.

Lost - A pair of leather saddle riders belonging to Mr. Vernon. Contained can of paint and bottle of medicine. Rider return and receive reward.

Merced County Health Officer - A rigid fire in Merced County health authorities yesterday closed the schools and theaters and announced that all business houses must be closed unless there is an immediate abatement of the epidemic.

LOUISVILLE-LIVINGSTON TRAIN

A gentleman who is in a position to know whereof he speaks told the writer Sunday that he had an excellent authority that if Stanford people would go at it right they could secure a train from Louisville to Livingston, Ky.

Those who remember the business Stanford got from the so-called mountains where the Northbound train passed at about noon and the Southbound in hour late, will see that a great help such a train would be to this city. These too, it would prove a wonderful convenience to the people living at Maywood, Crab Orchard and all points South, who get no day trains to this city or any place North as the trains now run. The morning Louisville passenger passes at a little after 4 o'clock and the afternoon passenger in the Falls City at 5:55, and it is always late, hence those persons living South of Rowland on the Knoxville division of the L. & N. must use the night train or none at all. To give the public a Louisville-Livingston train would not entail a great expense to the railroad company, as a train from Rowland to Richmond, leaving the former place after the arrival of No. 27, could do the work just as well as the Louisville-Richmond train does it now. Let us all make an effort to get the train and get what's best in it - Interior Journal.

The Local Board of Health in this county has notified their work and under order from the department, closed schools Wednesday night.
