John (Monk) Taylor, colored, one of the oldest residents of Mt. His mind has left him and today was adjudged insane.

A new time card became effective April 1st. No. 23 day train from Louisville is due at 12:32 p. m. No. 21 night train 12:43 p. m. No. 24 day train going into Louisville, due at 4:57 and No. 24 the morning train due at 3:35.

Possibly the largest crowd that has been unloaded in Mt. Vernon this year was when 104 passengers alighted from train 22 last Sunday. There is a common saying that you can see the entire population of this town standing on Sunday and that is about right.

The boys are coming home fast now. Some of the new arrivals from overseas and camps in the U. S. are Jeff Brown, Herbert Isaacs, Arthur Brown, B. Smith and John Smith. Richard Wainm writes from Camp Taylor that he expects to be home within a few days.

As the result of a give away of the generator of the Mt. Vernon Power Co., Mt. Vernon has been in luck since last Monday. The machine is in Louisville being repaired and the management of the Power Co., expects to get some back and have the light on not later than next Wednesday night.

We deeply sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bowman who lost their five year old son, Fred, of pneumonia, following a cold. Mr. Bowman and his entire family have all been down and were very sick. His mother, who went to wait on the family, is now down, and her condition was reported very serious yesterday.

W. M. Mullins and Jeff Johnson had their car accident at Westwood last Friday for the killing of Luther Mans. After the Commonwealth had finished his testimony, the defendants waived the right of further examination. They were granted bail in the sum of $3000.00 each which each one gave. Circuit Court in Laurel comes in May.

"The prosperity of a town is not guaranteed by the wealth of its inhabitants, but by the uniformity with which they pull together when any important undertaking is to be accomplished. A man with a thousand dollars at his command and a love for town in his heart, can do more for the building up of a community than the millionaire who looks up his capital and snaps his fingers at home progress."

Do you know that an editor or a reporter for a newspaper can in his rounds stop and ask a hundred persons "What is the news?" And ninety out of the hundred will reply, "Nothing special." And yet fifty out of that number know something that if not found in the newspaper will astonish them greatly and disappoint them more, and perhaps make them madder than hornets. Don't be afraid to let the newspaper man know it.

The contest between the Mt. Vernon and Broadhead Baptist Sunday Schools closed last Sunday day. For the month Broadhead led by 21 in attendance and Mt. Vernon went far ahead from the stand point of collections, therefore neither school can claim a victory over the other, and the big dinner which Mt. Vernon was expecting to get off of Broadhead or visa versa, will be lost. Supt. T. T. Meadows congratulates Supt. A. E. Albright, of Broadhead, who originated the idea of having the contest. It was a very friendly contest and ended with the same splendid, good spirits with which it was begun. Supt. Meadows adds in his report that starting April his school will keep a record but not solicit, to see how many who begu'd during the contest will now be coming. His progress that Broadhead does likewise. We congratulate both Sunday Schools for the splendid showings made.

COUNCIL OF NATIONAL DEFENSE

On last Monday Judge Cam Mullins, Judge L. W. Bushman, and Dr. M. Pennington went to Frankfort to be in conference with representatives from the Fiscal Courts of Laurel, Knox, Whitley and Bell Counties, and Rodman Wiley, Commissioner of Roads, for the State of Kentucky. They procured the promise of thirty convicts to work on the roads in this county. With this labor, work will be done on the grade and metaling will be done. Congressman J. M. Robison was informed at the conference and some available money that could be furnished as Federal Aid to put up against County and State Aid money in completing roads through this and the other counties represented. With this Federal Aid, it is expected that the Dixie Highway can be completed through our county this year.

The Road Commission is anxious to help us in every way possible, and Congressman Robison is very enthusiastic about roads and has been appointed on the Road Commission in Congress, making it possible for him to do a great deal for the Eleventh District in the way of helping build through roads. The prospects were never better for completing the road now started in this county, and starting some additional work on inter-county seat roads.

Road work can only be done in counties that cooperate with the State and Federal Government, but under the present law, it is possible for our county to have road work done if we put up one seventh of the amount of money required, either by taxation, or scrippions or donations from the citizens of the county or anyone else, providing said scrippions and donations come through the sheriff.

The question of improving roads is of vital interest to all the people of every county, either directly or indirectly. We are all affected by poor means of travel. The man who would object to good roads and hard work, who would be considered mentally unbalanced. But there are extremists and the man who thinks the man living on Line Creek should be as much interested in the Dixie Highway as the man on Seaford Cane Hill doesn't figure on the point, self, which is the first law of nature, but we do contend that every man in Rockcastle County will receive benefits from one through road equivalent to his outlay in tax, while the man living in a few miles of any of the inter-county seat roads that are graded, which is hard surfaced, receives many times the value of tax paid to build and maintain such roads. To be perfectly fair to all parties it would be right for the citizens of Mt. Vernon to subscribe the county's part of the fund, to metal roads a certain distance out on each road reaching the town and known as an inter-county seat road. The citizens of Broadhead and Livingston should do likewise; then call on the people being benefited most by these roads to raise funds to carry on road work this way until we have four roads reaching from Mt. Vernon to the County line in the direction of each adjoining county. This plan would insure good roads; it would protect the expense incurred the way it should be; it would show a spirit of doing the fair thing to all and with State and Federal Aid, this scheme would rapidly build up roads of which every contributor would be proud, and take the county as a whole it would be the best investment that could possibly be made. A taxation plan is rendered possible only after it is proven that it is an investment and not a donation. Roads will eventually be built by co-operation plan or direct taxation, and counties in this state not taking advantage of present road boom may build their roads without aid.

BOOTLEGGING COMMITTEE

During last week there were two cases tried, the parties being charged with having whiskey in possession for purpose of sale. One, that of Joe Fletcher was tried by a jury. Fletcher failed to take stand. He was convicted, being given ten days in jail and fined sixty dollars. He filed an appeal bond taking it to the Circuit Court. His trial was in the County Court. He was not represented by any attorney. Frank Mullins tried on the same charge by a jury composed of Millard Dean, Sherman McKinney, Jim Bradley, J. V. Bullock, Martin Cromer and Henry Kirby and acquitted. He testified that he had twenty-four gallons in his possession, this being one case of whiskey, and that it was for his personal use. This whiskey was confiscated by the sheriff and some party or parties broke into the sheriff's office and stole same gaining entrance over trapdoor, and breaking loose a screen wire covering over trapdoor. Mullins was represented by Attorney C. C. Williams.

The reunion at Leavel Green mentioned by our Livingston correspondent last week, will be anxiously awaited by many who received their training and spent their early life at or near that place. The plan is to have the gathering some time in June. Many a young man and young lady got their ideals of a bigger and better life at old Leavel Green under the tutorage of Mr. J. N. Brown.

The Fiscal Court met this week and fixed the levy for 1919 as follows: State 40 cents; General Fund 25 cents; Bond fund 20 cents; Roads 25 cents; Bridges 20 cents and schools 17 1/2, making the total tax $1.29 on the $100.

Life Was a Misery
Mrs. F. M. Jones, of Palmer, Okla., writes: "From the time I entered into womanhood... I looked with dread down each month to the next. I suffered with my back and bearing-down pain, until life to me was a misery. I would think I could not endure the pain any longer, and I gradually got worse. Nothing seemed to help me until, one day, I decided to TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic. 'I took four bottles,' Mrs. Jones goes on to say, 'and was well and greatly relieved, but can truthfully say that I have not a pain... I had never seen two years since I took Cardui, and I am still in good health... I would advise any woman or girl to use Cardui who is a sufferer from any female trouble.' If you suffer pain caused from womanly trouble, or if you feel the need of a real strengthening tonic to build up your own-down system, into the habit of Mrs. Jones, try Cardui. It helped her. We believe it will help you. All Druggists

Thomas Evans Dead

Broadhead, Ky.
Editor Mt. Vernon Signal:—I would like for you to permit me to say a few words through the columns of your paper, pertaining to the death of one Thomas Evans, formerly of Broadhead, Ky. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Evans, who a few years ago moved away from Broadhead, to Chicago, Ill., later moved from Chicago to Grand Rapids, Wisconsin. Some two or three of his boys still live in Chicago. John E. Evans, the oldest son lives in Detroit, Mich. They have a married sister, Mrs. Porter, who lives at Avoca Indiana. Thomas, at the time of his death was located at St. Bernice, Indiana. He married Miss Sallie Lawes, a daughter of Joseph Lawes, who some years ago lived in Broadhead, but now lives in Louisville, Ky.

He had one little boy six years old, and Thomas thought he was the only child. I am referring to the location of the members of this family to show the scattered condition of the family at the time of the death of Thomas. He took the flu, followed by acute pneumonia and he died before any member of the family could reach him. His wife was the only one of his people that was with him at the time of his death. She brought him back to Louisville for burial. Con, his brother, reached Louisville a few hours after he was buried. He has left a wife, a bright little six year old son, a father, mother, five brothers and two sisters to mourn his sudden taking away. Thomas Evans was a special friend to the writer, and his death will be keenly felt by all his relatives and many friends. He had not passed on life's highway the stone that marks the highest point in life. But being weary for the moment he lay down by the wayside and closing his burden and affliction for a pillow, he fell into that dreamless sleep that kissed down his eyes and his life forever. While yet in love with life and raptured with the world he passed to silent and pathetic dust. Yet after all, (we cannot tell) it may be the best, for just in the happiest, and sunniest hour of all the swage of life, while eager winds are kissing every sail, to dash it against the unseen rock and in an instant bear the billows roar above a sunken ship. For whether in mid sea or among the breakers of the farther shore a wreck at least must mark the end of each and all. Every life, no matter if its every act is rich with love and every moment jeweled with a joy, will at its close become a tragedy as sad, deep and dark as can be woven of the warp and woof of mystery and death. The record of a generous life runs like a vine around the memory of the dead. Every sweet and unselfish act is now a perfumed flower. A man dies, a heart breaks, a leaf falls in the away forest, a babe is born and the great sweeps on. No one can tell which is better. Life with its gleams and shadows, its thrills and pangs, its tears, its wreaths and thorns, its crowns, its glories, and its regrets, or death, with its peace and, its cool and placid brow that hath within no memory, or fear, grief or pain, who can tell which is the best? We know it is hard to give up our loved ones, but inspiration says, (and we must believe it) "All things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to his purpose." So may the relatives and friends of deceased Thomas Evans, who may perchance read these lines look at this tragedy from this scriptural standpoint is my prayer.

Respectfully,
A. J. PIKE

WHAT YOUR EYES SEE YOU CAN BELIEVE

To the men on the farm who need clothes this spring

THERE'S one thing you want to be sure of when you buy clothes—you want to know that they're good.

That isn't so easy if you depend on the looks of the clothes; they're all made to look nice—if they weren't nobody would buy them.

No, "looks" alone don't make good clothes—though style is an important of it.

The big thing is the part you can't see—the tailoring inside; the interlinings; the all-wool fabrics. Those things give you the wear; the service.

At this store you can be sure you're getting the best of all of them; we sell Hart Schaffner & Mark and Clothcraft clothes, which are as good inside as they look outside.

All wool fabrics for long service; careful tailoring; good style; a guarantee of absolute satisfaction of your money back

FIFTH OR VICTORY LOAN

Look Yourself in the Eye and Answer the Questions Whether you Did All you Could in the War or All You Might Have Been Called Upon To Do.

Have you got the idea that you've done all you can afford to do for your Uncle Sam and the boys who did your fighting at the front?

Have you told yourself that you have bought all the Liberty Bonds you can carry?

That you have taken every single possible War Saving Stamp that you can take care of?

And that you have given every possible red cent to the war aid societies, including the Red Cross?

So you are satisfied are you, now that the war is over, that you have done your part and that you will let the rest of the country take care of the balance of the war?

Do you stand up and stick your thumbs in the arm-hole of your vest and talk whinnily about the way you are being asked to subscribe?

And looking yourself in the eye can you call yourself a red-blooded 100 per cent American, a loyal dyed-in-the-wool sort of an American?

Do you feel that you are just as much responsible for the victory as the chap who went across and lost an arm, a leg, or an eye? Just as much as the lad who lost his hearing, or his life, for all the future there was for him?

A search party following a National Guard Division through the woods west of the Meuse came upon a German machine gun pit that had been hit by an American shell. There were five dead Huns in it. A few yards away lay a lone American, who had been closing in on them. The top of his head was gone but he lay facing the gun pit with his arms full of hand grenades. Now, have you done everything possible? Have you done your part as well as that lonely American who was boring straight in when the Huns got him?

WHAT OF YOU FELLOWS?

Have you done as much as the other who stayed at home and who believed in the war, who did what he could, who went into debt and is now saving and skimping and sacrificing to finish his bond payments? You know whether you are a quitter or not. You know whether you have done all that you could. You know whether you are in the mood to lay down at the finish, to quit like a mongrel strain racer that feels the spur.

As a matter of plain facts there are millions of Americans who never did do all in their power in the way of buying Liberty Bonds. They had the "quitting" strain in them right along. They weren't "skimpers". They did a lot. But they never put that last ounce of pull into the collar.

The man who is able to buy bonds is putting himself in the "quitter" class when he fails to come through on the Fifth Loan. We went into this thing with our Uncle Samuel. We swore that we would see it through.

It is a mighty poor time to go around "getting up a poor mouth" and insisting that you can't buy bonds. It is a part of Americanism, of liberty and of duty to buy them and keep on buying as they may be offered. Yes, it is not only a duty, but it is a privilege.

Fight it out with yourself. Consider what you have done against what you might have been called upon to do. Think abroad until our obligations were fully and fairly met. To do this there must be support, full, hearty, and complete support, financial and otherwise. Furthermore, we have certain obligations here at home. We are the obligations that we have to every man who comes back in the Fifth issue, the Victory bonds on his sleeves. Yes—and to every man who performed his services on this side of the water of what your time at your home and at your business has meant to you in the last two years and what its loss might have meant to you had you gone "with the colors" instead of forming the home line of defense.

BRODHEAD

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rogers and Mrs. J. S. Duke were here from Crab Orchard Friday shopping—Dr. W. E. Gravelly and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, were in Louisville last week buying goods. A revival will begin at the Baptist church next Monday evening. Rev. J. S. Duke of Somerset will do the preaching and assist the pastor, Rev. Chiles, in the meeting. Everybody is cordially invited to attend these services.—Mrs. Walter Robbins and children, were here from Mt. Vernon over Sunday—Eld. J. W. Masters, preached a 6-e sermon at the Christian church Sunday morning, and the Rev. R. C. Evans at the Baptist church Sunday evening and a better missionary sermon was never heard here. At the close of the service a call was made in the interest of Armenians and about seventy-five dollars was raised.—Mrs. John Robins is in Pineville this week—Eld. L. N. Bowling held regular services at Goshen Sunday morning and evening.—Mrs. Roy L. Sower, of Corbin, is with relatives here this week. Among those attending the Sunday School Convention at Pine Hill Sunday were Rev. A. J. Pike, A. E. Albright and children, Chas. Hendrickson and Robert Cass.—A small child of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bowman is seriously ill with pneumonia and but little hope of recovery.

Mr. Bowman's mother is also very low with pneumonia.—Rev. R. C. Evans is assistant postmaster here now. Postmaster Owens is devoting much of his time at present to social functions and really hasn't time to attend to the duties of postmaster without interfering with other duties too much, and the services of Mr. Evans will relieve the situation greatly.

There is no sense and no use in fooling ourselves, about it. We know that much as we did under the pressure of war that we had by no means reached the limit. We know, too, that the after-drip of the war has not hit us nor hurt us, that the country is sound financially and growing sounder as the war proceeds. It is a mighty poor time to go around "getting up a poor mouth" and insisting that you can't buy bonds. It is a part of Americanism, of liberty and of duty to buy them and keep on buying as they may be offered. Yes, it is not only a duty, but it is a privilege.

Tax On Autos For Hire
The Act approved February 24th, 1919 imposes a special tax on persons carrying on the business of operating or renting passenger automobiles for hire.

This tax applies to every automobile owner or operator who accepts pay or who has at any time since January 1st, 1919 accepted pay for carrying passengers, or who does or has since January 1st, hired or rented a passenger automobile to any person.

The annual rate is $100.00 for each car having a seating capacity of more than two and not more than seven. The law became effective January 1st, 1919 and those who did business in that month must pay $100.00 for each car according to seating capacity. Those who began business in February must pay $100.00 for each car in March $100.00 in April $100.00 in May $100.00 in June $100.00 in July $100.00 in August $100.00 in September $100.00 in October $100.00 in November $100.00 in December. The tax must be paid for each year to the following June 1st.

Interested parties should apply to Collector John W. Hughes at Danville, Ky. for application blanks so that they may escape the penalty for delinquency which will accrue when his force begins a canvass of the district, which will be within the next few days.

The new law also imposes a tax of five per cent on the amount received for candy manufactured and sold in this district, on and after February 25. The tax on sales made on February 25th, to 28th, inclusive must be reported and paid within the month of March. The tax on sales made in subsequent months must be reported and paid in the month following that in which the sales were made.

See Who Comes
All members in good standing in the Reformers Club—and that means those of you who are neglecting your own business in an attempt to reform the other fellow's business—will meet at the Court House square tonight at promptly 7:30 o'clock.

Of course, you understand there is no ball in town large enough to accommodate all of the members of our organizations, hence our meetings have had to be held in the open.

At the meeting tonight we will discuss the question, "How to Do Less and Get More." The meeting will be addressed by men who have given thought to the question of how to get more out of life than you get into it. This is a subject which affects interest everyone who feels that the world owes him a living. Let there be a large turnout.

KENTUCKY PRESS ASSOCIATION

ANNOUNCEMENTS
We are authorized to announce
HON. E. BULLOCK
as a candidate for Representative from the Seventeenth Legislative district, composed of Rockcastle and Laurel counties, subject to the action of the Republican party at its primary election on August 2, 1919.

For twenty years the present editor of this paper has owned, controlled and directed its course. During all that time we have been on the ground and observed closely what was going on, or ought to be going on in Rockcastle County. We have grieved many a time during that long period at the indifference of our people, at their failure to do the things which would not only help them but would greatly benefit their families and their neighbors. It is a poor citizen indeed that does not strive to elevate and enrich his own offspring. It is a poor father that does not bend every energy to throw the best influence around his child and to give him a splendid education.

But our people seem to be absolutely indifferent to the progress of our school. Apparently they do not care whether school keeps or not. If their child gets an education, well and good. If not, let it go. The parents seem to think nothing of providing better surroundings; they care nothing about the entertainments of the child. They are totally unmindful of the things which nature demands of the child.

Rockcastle, by reason of this horrible condition, has been made to suffer. Many of her progressive citizens have become disgusted and left the county. We had a confession only a few weeks ago from Peter Snutts. We can name a host of others who left for the same reason.

This paper has always advocated better highways. It has declared at all times that for the county to improve as it should, we must have better roads. The people whom good roads would benefit the most seem to be absolutely asleep. They do not seem to care whether we have better roads or not. In fact they seem content to live in the same old hollow, in the same old shack, with the same old surroundings, wear the same old clothes, travel in the same old wagon or astride the same old horse, seeing nothing, hearing nothing and having nothing.

A few men in this county are heart and soul for good roads, but the great majority seem woefully indifferent and especially if it will cost them anything to get them. They need dynamite or some other powerful explosive to wake them up and make them work on the highways and in addition to dig down in their "pockets" to help pay for the constructions of pikes. We must have pikes and pikes we will have. But when, oh Lord, when? Every State throughout the union is thoroughly aroused over the question of better roads and the various counties through the States are spending money to put their roads in better condition. What is Rockcastle doing? She is one hundred and ten years old and yet we have nothing but ruts, mud holes and rugged rocks to travel over. Shame on such conduct that keeps us in ignorance and poverty.

Our boys get disgusted with such backwardness. Our girls do not have the right chance and our citizens generally are seriously handicapped in obtaining the better things of life. It is a certainty that every farmer in the county cannot be compelled by some kind of process to go and live for a year in a county where they have splendid pikes. How many of them would come back to Rockcastle? It is passing strange that a man does not understand now that good highways make for a better citizenship, higher education, more comfort and pleasure, greater commercial activity and greater progress in all lines of industry.

With such wonderful benefits, why is it that our people do not wake up and absolutely demand the building of better highways in this county? Who is it that they do not respond promptly and vigorously to any demand which will provide better roads? Our people should be thankful that we can build roads by bond issues; that we can have the roads in advance of paying for them and while we are paying for them we can have them and enjoy them. We are not so particular as to whether you hold them by taxation, by convict labor or by bond issue, but we say build them. Until pikes are built throughout the county, the county official should require the county overseer to work the roads at least twelve days this Spring and again twelve days in the Fall in order to get them in better condition for the winter travel. By this means it may be possible that the citizens will be brought to a realization that we mean to have better roads and at the same time be taught the benefits of them.

The National Highway Association has adopted as a part of their eastern course a great highway through Rockcastle, but we are reliably informed that the Association is getting restless and that they are seriously thinking of taking it out of Rockcastle by reason of the indifference of our people and the failure to do our part in the construction of the highway through this county. What a calamity it would be to lose this great roadway, but there is a possibility of that being done. Certainly it will be done if our people do not wake up and perform their duty as they should. This county is dealing with high-class business men in the construction of this great highway and they will not permit us to sleep, always. We have slept too long now.

We give you this information as a pointer and we ask those in authority as well as the citizens at large to take notice.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY

The great benefit derived from the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been gratefully acknowledged by many. Mrs. Benjamin F. Blakemey, Decatur, Ill., writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is by far the best medicine for colds and coughs we have ever used in our family. I gave it to my children when small for a group and have taken it myself."

¶ We're away over the $200,000 mark! We've received checks for stock from States as distant as New York and Texas! ¶ Investors are judging the value of the stock of the Louisville Mansfield Lead and Zinc Company by the record of the Kentucky Mansfield Lead and Zinc Syndicate. That company, already in operation, paid a monthly dividend of 2% in January and 3% in February. The officers and directors of both companies are chiefly the same gentlemen and the newer company has been organized to do just what the other is doing but on a larger scale. ¶ Its holdings are greater, consisting of four tracts of 40 acres each in the Mansfield District, right where the Mother Lode of the great Ozark Lead and Zinc fields comes nearest the surface. We've proven our holdings by drilling. We're already sinking the first shaft for our first mill!

TREAT THEM AS ENEMIES.

Out of this seriousness that has arisen in Hungary one good effect may arise. The President and the British Premier will probably reach the conclusion, and abide by it, that the Bolsheviks must be treated as enemies of the Entente instead of as savage children to be restrained by sociology. It was Mr. Lord George, faced by labor unrest in England and much public laudation of the Leninists on the part of British labor leaders, who evoked the Prinkipo meeting, and to this plan he won Mr. Wilson. The Prinkipo Conference, designed to civilize the Bolsheviks by conference and oratory, was never held, for the excellent reason that the Reds would not come and the Paris Conference returned to making peace terms again.

Meanwhile the Germans, about to taste the bitterest cup that a conqueror has put to the lips of the vanquished, turned once more to the reliable Moscow Murder Club that had been so useful at Brest-Litovsk. The result was the disorder in Germany, happily held in check by the presence of Allied and American troops in the Rhineland, and the introduction of American food into the Teutonic stomachs, and now the same that is roaring in Hungary. In both moves—in all the moves they have made—the Lenin Murder Trust has shown its implacable enmity to the successful belligerents of the great war, a logical enmity based on the fact that the victorious nations are bent to exterminate Bolshevism.

It is assuredly a neat plan to create a Cherokee strip of orderly Slavs and Magyars from the Baltic to the Adriatic, and, with the more or less dependable Japanese and the thoroughly dependable Chinese on the east, and Poland, Czechland and Jugo-Slavia on the west, to strangle Bolshevism by geography. But the German plot born out of the fear of a just peace, has been very readily entered into by the Reds, and what would be more fitting for the operation than the starving, defeated millions in Hungary? This is the product people in Europe, and empty stomachs and hard peace terms have served as fuel and steel to kindle a spirit of revolt against the Entente. What was lacking in fuel for the flames the Moscow Murder Club and the Berlin Foxes' Association have supplied. All of it demonstrates that the Bolsheviks, like their comrades, the Germans, must henceforth be regarded as enemies, to be put down by the sword, not as infernals, to be redeemed by sociology.

Mr. L. A. Chastean,

Dear Dad:

I will try to write you a few lines. I'm O. K. and feel better than I have for some time. I am gaining weight. Hope you are O. K. Guess that you are having some bad weather now. We haven't had any bad weather to speak of yet. I guess that the papers are full of news as to what the army of occupation is doing on the Rhine. I see from the papers that some of the divisions are already in the States. But can't see anything about the third army going back any ways soon. Don't think we will get home before spring any way and maybe not until summer. But don't worry I am having a good time. You were asking me about the Kentucky boys. There were six of us in Co. C. Four of them were killed on Oct. 9th and the other two were gassed. It sure looks hard to see your friends get to pieces by shrapnel. I guess that like many others, you wonder how any one feels when they go over the top. I felt pretty shaky until I saw our Major wounded, and then some of my chums fell beside me and then I began to feel as if I shrapnel and bullets would have no effect on me. We started over on Oct. 9th about 7:30 in the morning. We had advanced about 1/2 kilometer when

ABANDONED WESTERN OIL FIELDS FOR RICHER PROMISE IN ZINC ORE

Organization of the Louisville Mansfield Zinc & Lead Syndicate Reveals Business Romance

Dr. T. T. Beeler, Dentist, Then Oil Magnate, Said Interest in 157 Wells for Sugar Prospects.

Louisville, Ky.—How a business romance blossoming in the bowels of Mother Earth led the way to a stream of affluence that is fast materializing is brought out in the organization history of the Louisville Lead & Zinc Syndicate Company, a corporation the stock of which is rapidly becoming the property of the public. That it is not a romance of the oil fields will be a matter of surprise to those who look largely to the oil well as the fountain of business romance.

Formation of the Louisville Mansfield Lead & Zinc Syndicate followed upon organization of the Kentucky Mansfield Lead & Zinc Syndicate, a corporation already in operation and dividend-paying, back to the romance goes back seven years to the oil fields of the west and to a dentist's chair in a small Oklahoma town.

These geological reports bear out to a large extent a theory which later became current as to the origin of the rich mineral products around Mansfield. According to this theory, Mansfield is the site of a pre-historic volcano. The pure ore is found close to this center where the adulterated deposits are found as the distance becomes greater.

Once he had secured rights to the land, Dr. Beeler's plan became known and soon the district was a hive of fortune-hunters. But all of the surrounding land in the vicinity had been leased by Dr. Beeler and his associates and they were ready to launch their project.

Their scheme of operation ran with thirty for the organization of local companies in each of the forty-five states. Each of these corporations will be granted concessions around the supposed location of the veins which he believed contained the oil which will be enhanced in value with the growing activity surrounding it.

The Kentucky Mansfield Lead & Zinc Syndicate was incorporated June 13, 1918. Its capital stock of $100,000 was actually sold on November 11, 1918. It bought its first mill, which soon went into operation on the ground, and in February it paid a dividend for January. It was paid stockholders, following which was paid a 3% dividend for February.

The Kentucky syndicate is made up almost entirely of Kentucky men. Dr. T. T. Beeler, of the city of Louisville, is president and Nat. C. Curston is secretary. W. S. Newbold is treasurer. Edward J. McDermott, of Louisville, is the corporation's attorney. Dr. Beeler is one of the directors, as also Dr. Charles A. Funk.

The officers of the LOUISVILLE MANSFIELD LEAD & ZINC SYNDICATE, which was formed February 21, 1918, are the same as those of the Kentucky syndicate, except that Dr. Beeler is vice president and J. C. Mahon, well known Louisville business man, is secretary. The syndicate's capital stock of $500,000 already has been sold. Offers of the company are at 400 Starks Bldg., Louisville.

The stock is being put out at $100 (par value) per share.

The company's property is in the heart of the Ozark Mountains, Wright County, Mo. This forty-acre tract is located between the town of Mansfield, Kentucky, and the town of Mansfield, Missouri, and is known as the "Pioneer Mill" and of the "Rock Hill." This tract is considered one of the best in the world. It is one of the other forty-acre tracts are well located and partly leased.

The LOUISVILLE MANSFIELD LEAD & ZINC SYNDICATE starts its work by drilling, the business enterprise is now in the way of carrying forward along its way to the pocket-books and bank accounts of shrewd investors in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and Missouri.

It has been the opinion of the syndicate that the oil fields in the west are being abandoned for richer promise in zinc ore.

It was by chance that the real opportunity was found. One day, when Dr. Beeler's company was fruitless looking with people in the field to which prospectors were already swarming, an old man called him aside.

"If you want to see an unworked locality, I want to show you something," said the old man.

As the result of the investigation and seeing what he followed, Dr. Beeler and selected a partner, severed his connections with the oil fields, and had employed an agent, went to the west to investigate opportunities in the Joplin district.

But why? They knew that by taking the ore from slight quantities at given points over a given area, that the findings of an expert assayer would give them the extent of wealth which the establishment of mills would produce. Unlike the mere geologist, who would give the potentialities of a site field could be scientifically established. Their reports were received from A. Arnold, Charles McKelvey, a London mineralogist and engineer, and showed that they had proved the expectations of the prospectors.

These geological reports bear out to a large extent a theory which later became current as to the origin of the rich mineral products around Mansfield. According to this theory, Mansfield is the site of a pre-historic volcano. The pure ore is found close to this center where the adulterated deposits are found as the distance becomes greater.

FIFTH LOAN 'STUNTS'

WILL FEATURE TANKS, TRAINS AND AVIATORS

TROPHY EXHIBITS WHICH WERE SO POPULAR IN FOURTH DRIVE COMING AGAIN.

DON'T slow a way your rallies and bazaars and music-makers. The Victory Loan is going to bring with it just as many occasions for a big time as any in the foregoing drive.

The trophy trains—bigger, better equipped and scheduled for longer trips in each town—are to tour the district again. One of them will stop in your town or near enough to it so that you can get in it.

At intervals will perform over a great many of the cities and among the places that take part are a number of German Fokkers.

And best of all there will be a fleet of tanks. These tanks, regulation whippers, will be routed over the district and so that practically all of the territory will be covered. The War Department is furnishing the tanks and tank crews and there are no stunts which these mighty crawlers cannot perform under the guidance of the fearless drivers who will take them out.

Music? Yes, indeed. There will be two or three bands on tour in the district. Arrangements have been made for service bands from the army and the navy.

Civilians to Get Medals for Work in Victory Loan

If one of these is awarded to you will you consider it a honor?

Every volunteer Liberty Loan worker who participates in the campaign for the sale of the Victory Loan, which is to begin April 21, will be given a medal.

Several medals from one of the German tanks is being captured by the Yanks in the Chateau Thierry drive.

The medal will be about the size of a half dollar. The front side of it, depicted in the accompanying cut will bear the inscription "Victory Liberty Loan" and a reproduction of the Treasury Department building at Washington.

On the reverse side will be engraved the government's acknowledgment of the service performed and a space will be left so that the recipient may have his or her name engraved.

The medal will be the first of its kind ever distributed by the government to civilians. The plan was decided upon after an almost unanimous demand had been received from workers over the country for some permanent souvenir of their patriotic cooperation.

Several German cannons, brought over with retreating tanks, have been melted, rolled and are being stamped out to adorn the labels of the civilian army.

Let's!

Now guns are rusting,
No more the legions smash,
The weed springs in the dugout,
The battle fire is ash,
So hats off to the doughboy,
And hats off to the job,
The Victory Loan is coming,
Let's finish up the job!

Trade Commission Charges Bond Scalper to His Lair

The Federal Trade Commission has taken further steps toward protecting holders of Liberty Bonds from fraudulent stock promotion schemes. Searching questionnaires have been sent to many firms whose literature has been turned over to the commission for examination.

The questionnaires contain 22 questions, including: the amount of investment, stock and sums actually invested and the corporation's organization, record and the corporation's organization, plan, properties and financial condition. The information is called for at once, attention being directed to the penalties attached for failure to do so.
