PAYNE

PITCHES SOX TO VICTORY OVER COLONELS

Score Six to Three in Chilly Game at Louisville

Louisville, Ky., April 9.—Geo. Washington Payne and his White Sox mates defeated the Louisville Colonels this afternoon, 6 to 3. The Colonels had whalloped the Philadelphia Nationals the day before and were a cocky bunch when they took the field. Their attitude soon changed, however, and they were thoroughly lamed at the finish.

It is a good thing for Payne that he won his game. Mrs. Payne came in from the home in Mount Vernon, Ky., to see her hubby perform. She had never seen him in a baseball uniform, but allows that from now on she is a base-ball fan.

The Colonels didn't score on Payne until the sixth inning. The Sox had then scored up 6 to 0 when the home sixth rolled around. Payne eased up a bit and before he and his mates could get the Colonels out three runs were across the plate. Until this inning Payne had allowed only two hits. He gave a pass and a walk through three hits in the sixth.

Messrs. Wright and Graham did the heaving for the Colonels. Wright, with Eulis Koob came to the Colonels from the St. Louis Browns. Wright toiled five innings. He was touched for seven hits and all runs were scored at his expense.—Chicago

HOW DIPHTHERIA IS CONTRACTED.

One often hears the expression "My child caught a severe cold which developed into diphtheria" when the truth was that the cold had simply left the little one particularly susceptible to the wandering diphtheria germ. If your child has a cold when diphtheria is prevalent you should take him out of school and keep him off the street until fully recovered, as there is a hundred times more danger of his taking diphtheria when he has a cold. When Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given it quickly cures the cold and lessens the danger of diphtheria or any other germ disease being contracted.

ATHLETIC SUCCESS.

The box supper, put on by the Athletic Association at the Court House on Thursday night was quite a success. The Association raised $100.00 from the sale of boxes and pies.

The highest priced box was sold by A. P. Lechman, of Lexington, for $7.50. The Mt. Vernon Band furnished the music and John Hart pulled off some interesting stunts with the small boys.

BEGIN CAMPAIGN FOR LEGION FUND

Citizens Throughout State are Canvassing for Veterans' Organization

When the going seemed Monday morning, March 29th, the sixty-day campaign in the interest of Kentucky American Legion Fund, a large number of our Kentuckians were in the field offering that opportunity for a display of post-war patriotism that had been brought about through the activities of the Citizens Campaign Committee, headed by A. T. Hort, of Louisville.

Mr. Hort and his co-workers, volunteering their assistance to the Legion because of their conviction that the Legion work was essential, have developed a state-wide organization for the Legion Fund. The campaign they planned will continue through Saturday, April 3.

The reason for the drive are:

To raise a fund for the American Legion of Kentucky to cover its needs during the period of organization.

To support the Legion in its fight against radical organizations by giving financial assistance to continue its investigations of such activities.

To enable the Legion to broaden the work of its bureau for rehabilitation and re-employment of former soldiers, and to promote its drive for Americanization of all foreign-born people in the state.

Realizing this situation, some committees in the state and factories in Louisville have already "gone over the top" in the drive by sending in their subscriptions prior to the days of the committee. Leaders of the Citizens Campaign Committee take this to mean a landslide toward the Legion.

In Louisville about 500 men and women have been enlisted in the drive, the plan being to canvass both the the opening of the statewide drive. Mr. Hort, State Chairman, said:

"There ought not to be any Kentuckian who is out of sympathy with the aims and purposes of the American Legion. All thinking men realize that it is the bulwark in this nation against the advance of radicalism and the spread of atheism, and that it is the best way to assist them in such work, and I hope that every person who makes some contribution, however small, for the advancement of the Legion."

The Year of 1920

Will be full of history making news. Presidents will be nominated. The high cost of living will be attacked. The prohibition question will be thrashed and other questions of equal interest will be settled.

No home will be complete without the daily newspaper which will keep you informed on these subjects and abreast with the times.

A daily newspaper can cover these questions more thoroughly, bringing to your door the first complete news of every thing that happens day by day.

RETIRING SECRETARY A "SHIRT-SLEEVE" BOY

FRANKLIN K. LANE TO "FOLLOW ON"

Accepts Invitation to Become National Chairman of Salvation Army's Annual Appeal for Funds.

WASHINGTON'S BEST BELOVED RESTARTING LIFE AT 55.

Former Cabinet Officer Before Entering the Oil Business as an Executive for the Doherty Interests Will Check Millitant Organization.

Franklin K. Lane, referred to far and wide as "Washington's best loved man," is undertaking two notable innovations at an age when most men retire. He is starting a militant organization, and the other is stepping down from a high place to resume his place among the shirt-sleeve boys and give them a hand if he can.

Two history making statements from a man of Mr. Lane's attainments and station in life. And the remarkable part of it all is that he puts the statements together—the thing about helping the government the extent and value of which would be impossible to estimate. Still fewer men are called to such responsible places as Franklin K. Lane will now occupy. He will enter the oil business as an executive for the Doherty interests and will be established in New York city for that purpose by April 1. But the real prospect of making a living wage after several years spent in struggling along on the outside of a cabinet officer has not blinded Mr. Lane to another opportunity—that of striking a few powerful blows in behalf of the "man who lies down, but never out."

Franklin K. Lane has accepted an invitation from Commander Orangelee Wood to become the national chairman for the Salvation Army's annual appeal for funds in 1921. He is already on this job, although Wall Street does not give him as an oil well executive for another month.

"It is a genuine privilege to find opportunity for encouraging a work so direct and practical and so valuable to the masses of the people as the work of the Salvation Army," said Mr. Lane in his letter to Washington the other day. "When Commander Miss Booth asked me to take the responsibilities of this office, I thought that after all there would be no more important thing than this. So I accepted—along with the other boys—and I am trusting to the generosity of my new employer to induce my action in the matter."

"I believe every right thinking man and woman in America owes the Salvation Army some of his or her time every year. And I am going to pay my share. I am going to get my shoulder squarely behind the movement for human that can win the hearts and the confidence of the common people like this Salvation Army has won them in recent years. I am going to put off my coat and do some real work that will show where I stand when it comes to weighing the humble, honest, definitions and highly practical methods of this amazing band of workers. I heard the call. The problems of the poor are there, to be solved, and they can use my most earnest efforts. I have answered the call.

"I won't do much talking in the coming drive. I will do real work, and when I do talk I don't want to talk to make but act as workers. There will be no speech making by me to those who might be curious to hear a former cabinet officer in action, but who are not interested in the work of the Salvation Army. I shall talk to workers and only to workers. The only thing they in such matters is some. We are down to brass tacks.

"I can't see any objection to my entering to assist in the gathering and appreciation of the helpful work the Salvation Army is doing in its rescue homes, maternity hospitals, free clinics, industrial homes, fresh air farms and recreation centers. My testimony is not needed here. There are 2,000,000 of our kind in this country, and other countries. I am sure that if I did know of it, so far as I can learn these men came out of that big mass of one-sided and that was that the Salvation Army understood the average man, knew how to deal with him and simply "collected" the goods on the 100 per cent basis.

"There is no division of opinion on that one subject. There could have been no greater test for the Salvation Army than the test it received in the war. So after all I am merely adding my voice to the mighty chorus I have referred to when I say that the Salvation Army has long been doing its best to make an appeal to the rest of us for its maintenance, and I am sure it will not make that appeal in vain.

"The Salvation Army one year ago abandoned its old custom of begging in the streets the year round. Its workers could devote all of their time and attention to the poor. Personally I know of no greater help than that which he can get from the rising tide of human unrest than to strengthen the hands of the band of self-sacrificing Christian workers who have the confidence of all men and women, regardless of race, creed, color or position in life. I think it is important for the interests of our advancing civilization that such a practical and wholesome work be stimulated and maintained to the utmost.
