JUNIOR RED CROSS WORKING AT HOME

Production of Sound American Citizenship the First Aim, Says Dr. Farrand.

On the badge of every member of the Junior Red Cross are the words "I Serve." That tells the story of the school children's branch of the American Red Cross and its efforts to bring happiness to children throughout the world.
Realizing that the time never was so propitious as right now for teaching the highest ideals of citizenship, the entire present program of the Junior Red Cross has been framed under the very inclusive phrase, "Training for Citizenship Through Service" for others. Since the Junior Red Cross is the agency through which the American Red Cross reaches the schoolboys and the schoolgirls, all its activities are designed to come within the regular school program, and without creating a new course of increasing the number of studies to lend its aid in visiting the work of the school.
"The thing that is needed," says Dr. Livingston Farrand, Chairman of the American Red Cross Central Committee, "is not a perpetuation of the Junior Red Cross, but the training and breeding of sound American citizenship inspired by the true, fundamental ideals of sound democracy. One of the great conceptions in making the Red Cross a contributor to better citizenship in American democracy is the realization that after all the sole hope of our nation is with the children of the country."
The plan of organization of the Junior Red Cross makes the school—public, private and parochial—the center, not the individual public. Mutual service, helpful community work such as cleanup campaigns, care of the sick, promotion of health regulations, participation in civic and patriotic movements and the like are the activities designed to translate into life and action the regular school program and parts of the machinery of the Junior Red Cross plan at the disposal of the school authorities.
Oral study courses giving practical methods of civic training, suggested by pamphlets and helpful suggestions, are supplied to the local schools by the Junior Red Cross. An elaborate plan for promoting the development of correspondence between children in different sections of the United States and with children in foreign lands is being devised and will take a prominent place in the establishment of the Junior Red Cross.
In promoting the general cause of child welfare, Red Cross courses in home and care of the sick, first aid, and citizenship may be established in all Junior Red Cross Auxiliary centers.
The ideals and the objective of the Junior Red Cross are embodied in the motto which the pupil takes when she signs the membership roll and pins it on her coat, the Junior's badge. The pledge which binds together service and citizenship reads:
"I will strive to be helpful and obedient to this, our country, by any worthy act."
"We will reverence and obey our country's laws and do our best to inspire a like reverence and obedience in those about us."
"We will endeavor to fit this, our country, as good citizens, to transmit America ever better and more beautiful than she was transmitted to us."
At the foundation of this school program of the Junior Red Cross is a great love for America's children.

CONSTIPATION.
Most laxatives and cathartics afford only temporary relief and should be used only for that purpose. When you want permanent relief take Chamberlain's Tablets and be careful to observe the directions with each package. These tablets not only move the bowels, but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion.

SMALL Y. W. C. A. IS COMMUNITY CENTER

Recreation for Girls is Important Feature of Work.
Fifty-two young women in the United States are known as Y. W. C. A. "new secretaries." All of which means that the fifty-two are organizing recreation work for girls and for the community at large to towns of less than 10,000 inhabitants.
The Y. W. C. A. may be in one room or more. It may be a whole building; but at any rate there is a recreation room and if possible a kitchen, reading and writing rooms. If the Y. W. C. A. has a building of its own it becomes a community center, where all women's organizations may meet.

Boys and girls who learn early to take proper care of their teeth, throats, eyes, ears and stomachs, have longer and more healthy manhood and womanhood. ## Colds & Headache

"For years we have used Black-Draught in our family, and I have never found any medicine that could take the place of it," writes Mr. H. A. Stacy, of Bradyville, Tenn. Stacy, who is a Rutherford County farmer, recommends Black-Draught as a medicine that should be kept in every household for use in the prompt treatment of many little ills to prevent them from developing into serious troubles.

THE DORFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

"It touches the liver and frees the work," Mr. Stacy declared. "It is one of the best medicines I ever saw for a cold and headache, and I don't know what we would do in our family if it wasn't for Black-Draught. It has saved us many dollars." "I don't see how any family can hardly go without it. I know it is a reliable and splendid medicine to keep in the house. I recommend Black-Draught highly and am never without it."

MAKING WAR ON DISEASE MENACE

American Red Cross Announces Budget of $48,200,000 For Current Year.

NEW DISASTER RELIEF PLAN

Continuance of Heavy Work Abroad Deemed Necessary to Protect United States—$21,000,000—Less Than Last Year.

A program of relief and service to ward which appropriations of $48,200,000 have been made has been announced for the American Red Cross for the fiscal year, July 1, 1919, to July 31, 1921, according to official announcement by national headquarters of the organization at Washington, D. C. The figures for 1919-21 are $21,000,000 below those of 1918-19, in which $29,300,000 was spent.

Disaster among the most of the budget for the present year is the appropriation of $10,000,000 for relief in the United States, which includes $1,000,000 in purchase of supplies on hand and not distributed.

Must Protect United States

It will enable the American Red Cross to continue the maintenance of food to aid stricken people to establish life, to fight the disease epidemics which threaten many communities and to offset largely the remaining traces of the light left by the World War. It is regarded as such an essential condition on a large scale that will have a direct bearing on the future conditions in America.

Central Europe, the chief sufferer

from the world's today is food and other want of famine, pestilence and war. "Deaths decreased much during the summer months, where last winter it had its greatest stronghold, but the officials who investigated the situation at the request of the League of Nations, report that there is still an unqualified opinion that this coming winter will see a recurrence on an unprecedented scale. The Red Cross needs to take constant provision measures abroad to keep this and other deadly maladies from the United States."

Millions Fed Work at Home

When the disease had sweeping Central Europe last winter the American Red Cross with the aid of the government and other national undertook the fight against it. Hospitals were established, food and medicine distributed and the unemployed populations, who by reason of their unemployment were unable to obtain food and medicine, were distributed to the unemployed populations, who by reason of their unemployment were unable to obtain food and medicine.

Reduced Overseas Expense

The Red Cross has achieved the first thing of a financially aided by the government. With this in mind, it was determined by the Executive Committee to reduce the budget of the year. It has a fund reserve fund from which to draw in these instances.
The Red Cross has been able to reduce its expenses for the year, and it has been able to provide for the improvement of health and prevention of disease throughout the world. Since during the current twelve months, the Red Cross's committee of the Executive Committee has been able to provide for the improvement of health and prevention of disease throughout the world. ## MOTHER

Twice she, my friend, who gave you birth, And brought you to this glorious day, Upon her heart before the hearth She cooed and cuddled you. She wrapped you in your long white down, She shed and kissed your fuzzy crown, And never deigned to lay you down Till drink had fuddled you.

In nighttime, kneeling by her chair, Her hand upon your silken hair, You yearned to kiss that first sweet prayer.

To childhood known: 'And now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep—Why should you hold that soul so dear?

You toddled off to school one day; 'Till he had a test' she tried to say, Until the tears got in the way.

For ten times three She watched your coming at the door. Imagine how her heart gets sore When you are gone forevermore To schools of yore.

You left your home in early years, In with your clothes she packed her fears; You'd think to see her sprinkling tears.

Was ironing day. For every kiss she gave you ten! How many, many times since then, She's waded and wished you back again.

Back at your play. If you would watch your steps to-day, As she did in your childish play, You'd never go in paths astray.

Could you but feel the joy that came To her, when first you lisped her name.

You'd never cover it with shame By one misdeed.

Had her breast been one half as cold As yours to her, now she is old, Your tale of life were easy told.

You are not worth, 'en at your best, One-half your cost of sad unrest; Yet in the temple of her breast You are enshrined.

No love like hers when all is said; She'd sell her shoes to buy you bread, And choke her hunger while you fed.

Would any other? Forgive you ninety times and nine, And for your sake your life resign; If there's one thing on earth divine, 'Tis your good mother.

Though much the human breast may bear; Some mothers get more than their share Of broken heart and whitened hair.

Can you deny it? The greatest right that you can owe Is to that mother—you may go And pay it with a kiss or so.

Suppose you try it.

W. FRANK CADY.

CAMPAIGN ROCKCASTLE
Beginning November 1, there will be one of the biggest and most beneficial campaigns launched in Kentucky that she has ever had. This campaign will end December 31. It will be carried from valley to valley and from hill top to hill top. It will be worked through the schools and other organizations.

The County Agent of Rockcastle County is very enthusiastic about what can and will be done if he wants the assistance of the teachers, trustees and parents in order to put Rockcastle County in the lead in the state. He says it can be done with the right kind of work.

This Campaign will not ask the people of the County a penny. It will, however, bring thousands of dollars to the people. Let's all get ready and help put Rockcastle County in the lead.

Plans and details will be published by Signal from week to week—Watch each issue.

ONLY A COLD.
"Are you ill?" is often answered—"Oh! it's only a cold," as if a cold was a matter of little consequence, but people are beginning to learn that a common cold is a matter not to be trifled with, that some of the most serious diseases start with a cold. As soon as the first indication of a cold appears take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Remember that the sooner you get rid of your cold the less the danger, and this remedy will help you to throw it off.

Can't Praise It Too Much, He Says
Is Glad He Took It For
It Has Completely Restored His Health

"In three weeks I picked up ten pounds in weight and I can say that Tanlac will do all they say it will," said Barney Johnson, Lee, 2220 Lyons Avenue, Louisville, Ky.

"Back in February I had a spell of the 'flu' that left me all run-down and my stomach out of order. After I went back to work I was so weak I could hardly hold out during the day. My appetite was so poor I had to force down enough to keep my alive and it always soured on my stomach and caused me no end of trouble. My nerves were unstrung and I felt next to impossible for me to get a good night's sleep. I was just about played out."

"I had heard about Tanlac and when I saw the statement of Reverend Charles Sanders, of Huntington, Va., I decided to try it. My appetite picked up right away, and in a few days the indigestion commenced to leave me. Although I have taken only two bottles of Tanlac I have gained ten pounds, my nerves are strong and I sleep like a top every night. I am as well and strong as I ever was and feel like my old self again."

Tanlac is sold in Mt. Vernon by Chas. C. Davis, in Brodhead by the Brodhead Pharmacy, and in Livingston by R. C. Webb, in Burr by W. M. Owens.

He is a steeled, unflinching critic who has written the Democratic convention hall in San Francisco. He is the International News Service, William J. Bryan took the following remarks to the press at the close of the Young Women's Christian Association's charge of the Philippine Independence Day celebration in the United States.

By WILLIAM J. BRYAN. The greatest personal victory yet won in this Democratic convention was scored by a young Filipino by the name of Jose P. Melencio. He has charge of the Philippine Publicity Bureau at Washington.

He is only twenty-six years old and received his education in the public schools of the Philippines - under mercenary teachers, and he proudly says that he has never been in the United States. He is a remarkably promising young man.

Speaking with grace, using the best language and without a trace of embarrassment, he presented the claim of the Filipinos to independence. The audience was astonished at the strength of his argument, the skill with which he marshaled his facts and the high tone of his speech. He captivated everyone as a commitment and visitors paid him the compliment of "singing and cheering when he concluded his remarks."

When one of the committee asked some questions he returned to the platform and answered them with as much logic and precision as if he had known weeks to prepare his answer. It was a remarkable triumph.

As one who began twenty-two years ago to fight for the promise of independence for the Philippines, I am proud to say that the Filipinos are capable.

SOME FACTS ABOUT THE PHILIPPINES

The University of Santo Tomas is 25 years older than Harvard.

The Philippine people number 20,000,000 of which 3,000,000 are Christians and only 9 per cent non-Christian.

They have been Christians for 800 years and have a culture and education that will compare very favorably with that of other nations.

There are only 6,000 Japanese in the Philippines. There are about 10,000 Japanese in California, or 15 times as many as in the entire Philippine archipelago.

English is taught exclusively in the Philippine public schools. Two million natives now speak English, and 10,000,000 speaking children in the public schools. It is destined to be the national language.

Seventy per cent of the inhabitants of the Philippines are over 16 years of age, according to a census just completed. As compared with the higher percentage of literacy than that of any South American country, higher than that of Spain and higher than that of any of the new republics of Europe whose independence is being guaranteed by the Allies.

The Filipinos people are unanimous in their desire for independence. When they are called upon to deposit their ballots they have always ratified this aspiration. At every session before adjournment they reaffirm in the Legislature their desire for their faith in the principles of liberty and the independence of the Philippine people.

The Filipinos declare they have no grudge or grievance against the American people. Their appeal is accompanied by a message of friendship and gratitude for all that America has done for them. They point out that Uncle Sam gave independence to Cuba, and they hope that they, too, will receive that boon without which, they declare, no civilized and patriotic people can enjoy the maximum of happiness and self-respect.

A special delegation of Filipinos, officials representing the Filipino people, attended the Republican and Democratic National conventions, seeking to have the United States pledge its support for independence in the two platforms. Their arguments, briefly stated, were:

First - That the American Declaration of Independence declares that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed;

Second - That the American Congress, in the Jones law, solemnly proposed the Philippine independence upon the establishment of a stable government, and that the stable government is now in existence in the islands has been officially confirmed by America's own representatives there; and Third - That America went before the world in the Jones law as the sowed champion of "self-determination." American soldiers have been told it was one of the things they were fighting and dying for.
