GOVERNOR FOUND

Frankfort, Ky., March 23.—An executive journal, dating back 1844, when Christopher Greenup was Governor of Kentucky, has been found by the Historical Association of this State.

All records were written in "long hand," and the writing is as legible as today.

In those days, the book reveals, instead of being the Governor by vote of the people, the Sheriff and Deputy Sheriffs of all the counties in the State gathered at Frankfort and elected him.

The old records were probably written with a "quill" pen, as they were broadly shaded. All records of fines paid were recognized in this book, as were all the Chief Executive's official acts. Several Assent by the Governor.

Edmond Dixon said he would turn the book over to the State Historical Society.

IN MEMORY

There's a vacant chair in our home that's empty all the time. We often think of when we used to sit in our dear home with mother. But since her death it don't seem like home to us. No one can know what it is to lose a dear mother unless you have had the trial. There's nothing in this world that is better than a sweet mother. Our dear mother she was true to her children and her home and we can never forget her in our home. But we are glad to know that she is at rest.

JESUS THE SUFFERING MESSIAH

LESSON TEXT: MARK 8:27-33
 GEDDES KING—Whoever will save his life will lose it; and whoever will lose his life for my sake will save it.
 PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus' Self-Sacrifice
 JUNIOR TOPIC—The Road to Calvary
 EXPEDIENTS AND SUGGESTIONS—The Chief Disciple
 YOUR PEOPLE AND YOUR HOME—The Road to Calvary
 1. Peter's Confession of Christ (v. 27-30)
 Two questions of Jesus provoked this confession. "Who art thou?" "Who sayest thou I am?" The question referred to the opinion of the people regarding Jesus.
 Here he was doing his usual thing, and some one of the prophets "This man recognized I to be a teacher of Israel." "He had a human authority, and was Jesus spoke not content with his acknowledgment. He had been led to believe that He would not have been molested in Jerusalem, for the law would not have allowed Him to be more than a human teacher."
 This fact is very important. It was the very Son of God incarnate. He wanted the personal opinion of the disciples concerning Him.
 H. Jesus' Teaching concerning the Kingdom of God
 He taught the Kingdom of God to be a public life. He said as that was a public life, it was a public life. He said as that was a public life, it was a public life. He said as that was a public life, it was a public life.
 U. G. BAKER, Master Commissioner, Rockcastle Circuit Court.

 On the north by the lands of Chint Lear, deceased and piece

Tuesday, March 13, the people of Wildcat met at the house and discussed and adopted a program of work for the year. The major projects adopted were soil, caring, sheep, poultry and club work. J. L. McKeown was elected 4-H club leader and W. H. Jones, Community leader.
On Friday afternoon, March 16, a number of farmers of Wash Creek met with the County agent in a box car and outlined a program of work for 1928. Practically the same projects with grasses added were selected as for Conway and Wildcat.
Green Hill, Mareburg, Wadell, Ottawa, Quail and Lev. Green are having meetings this week for the purpose of outlining and adopting a program of work for the year.

LIME

Farmers of Rockcastle can take good care of their soil if they want to make a better crop and save more use time. Lime gives your soil a better opportunity but you have overlooked the value of using it.

Not only the farms but every garden should have lime. Lime and acid phosphate will produce bigger and better crops. Ask the following men about the value of lime: Charlie Quinn and J. J. Lambert, Berea; J. B. Griffin, T. Hicks, Wilder; J. M. Wallace, Otwell; John Seaton, Ottawa; M. G. Fish, Mt. Vernon; and scores of others who have used it. Try some this year and see what it will do for your crops.

SWEET-CLOVER

Farmers should sow sweet clover for two main reasons. First, for soil improvement. There is no soil than with sweet clover, second, for grazing. One acre of sweet clover will graze as much as 2-3 acres of the best blue grass in Kentucky.

Sow about 12 to 15 pounds of seed per acre. Inoculate the seed before sowing. The land should be limestone land or limed land.

There are many other reasons why we should sow the crop, but the above are enough if there were not others.

SOYBEANS

Soybean hay is the best hay for dairy cows grown. It will produce more milk than alfalfa. Every farmer who expects to feed a cow should plan at least one acre for each cow he has on his farm.

The Haberlandt, Virginia, and Laredo are the varieties to sow. Don't forget to inoculate seed; it pays in dollars and cents. When you buy the beans call for the inoculation. If the dealers can't furnish the beans and inoculation agents in the County—Agents where to get them. Now's the time to buy, don't put it off.

SPRAYING

Don't forget the spraying. The time is here to protect your fruit. It means many dollars worth of marketable fruit.

POULTRY

Remember the early pullet lays first in the fall. Hatch all the chicks you expect to keep for your home use in April. They do best in the spring. Buy the best quality and most fertile birds. Buy pure bred eggs and get a pure stock.
