91 YEARS OF PROGRESS

A Historical Tour of the Louisville & Nashville R.R.

The War Years 1861-1865
After completing the line to Nashville in October, 1859, the L. & N. built from a point south of Bowling Green to Guthrie, Ky., where it connected with the Memphis, Clarksville and Louisville Railroad. Through operation of traffic between Louisville and Memphis began early in 1861.

War came, but a lively trade between the North and South continued for several months, the latter importing vast quantities of materials via Kentucky, a border state. The L. & N. handled much of this traffic. Consequently congestion eventually caused a brief embargo on all freight.

In July 1861, Tennessee troops seized all of the road's property in that state, but portions of the line were controlled alternately for a while. Track and bridges were destroyed whenever possible. Damage was quickly repaired, however, and trains kept moving. Later, after the North was permanently in control, General John F. Morgan and other Confederate leaders often hindered operation of the road.

Despite heavy damage to its property, the L. & N. emerged in better financial condition than before the war.

In the War Between the States, the Louisville & Nashville was of vital importance. Eighty years later it is an integral part of that strong arm of National Defense, our country's railroad network. Constantly improved, especially since the World War, operating methods are more efficient, and organized cooperation among shippers, the Government and the railroads makes it possible to get more use out of better railroad facilities.

The Louisville & Nashville, in appreciation of the business entrusted to it, is constantly striving to render a better service. As an example, within the last year this Company has appropriated a total of over nine million dollars for new freight equipment. In addition, it has spent large sums to improve its plant facilities, in order to furnish its patrons with the best possible transportation service.

An Article On Selective Service

Due to the war in Europe the Congress and Senate, September of last year passed the Draft Law, requiring all men between the ages of 21 to 35 to register for one year's military training. Immediately after the passing of this law the machinery of the government went to work to put it into effect. We had our registration day, then our call of numbers by the President and our boards and examiners all having been appointed by the Governor we held our first examination on November 19, 1940 and from that date to the present, examining one or twice a week, I have learned a lot of things I did not know, and that is the purpose of this article to go along with the people of Rockcastle county, so we may all profit by it.

I have found that there exists in the minds of part of our Draftees the word (FEAR). Now they are not altogether responsible for this feeling for in the most part it has been, willed upon them by their parents. When the draft law was passed last year every father and mother begin to take stock whether it would get any of their sons and if it did they at once began to figure one way or another—now do we want him to go or do we not—to those that said, yes, Johnny, Uncle Sam is calling you, go on with him, I love you more than tongue can tell, but your country is above everything, it is right there on this earth and if you live to get back home to us—every thing will be better by having gone—I have nothing to say but praise, but to those parents that said, "no, Johnny, I do not want you to go and have done your mindings, they possibly could to install the word fear in their hearts and minds, I have got a lot to say, and this is, what I want to say first—you are doing your boy injustice, unthoughtedly of course, you think you are doing the right thing by testing, by seeing means fair or unfair to keep him from passing his medical examination and thereby keeping him out of the Army, but you are only doing one thing with your build up of the word fear, if your son is found physically fit for military service he is passed by your medical examiner regardless of who's son he is, rich or poor, black or white, friendship or past favors or future promises my every day work and enter my mind to work for the State and my country examining his draftees, now what have you done to him, he has passed and will be sent on, he does not go with good grace, he has a feeling he should have stayed at home and plowed corn and worked on the farm because Pop and Mom said he was always a sick boy had weak eyes, blind spells, headaches, stomach trouble, kidney trouble, rheumatism and in fact about everything wrong with him that they could find listed in Doctor King's Medical Advice Book for home diagnosis and treatment. No he will not make a good soldier because he has the wrong advice and training, so to those of you whose sons have not been examined, please do not make the mistake of trying to keep your boy at home. You love him and want him to be a big strong healthy man, you want him to know how to walk straight with his shoulders thrown straight back and his head in the air, you want him to know how to eat, sleep, breathe, how to take care of his body and last, how to take care of his body while a passenger here on this earth, and all this he gets in the Army.

Now the sad side of this experience of mine for the past five months is the fact that fifty percent of our sons are physically unfit for the army and have to be rejected, no parents should rejoice when his son informs him that he did not pass, instead he should weep, for then he knows there is something wrong with his boy. Friends, fathers and mothers, this war will kill with all its death damages, heartaches, cost and suffering has and will prove a blessing to all that live through it and to those that have and will lose their lives by it, will not in the words of Abraham Lincoln "have died in vain".

Says Better Farm Leases Are Needed

Speaking at the conference of farm tenants and landlords at the Kentucky College of Agriculture, Dr. Joseph Ackerman of the Farm Foundation of Chicago declared that "many of the problems of both owners and tenants are traceable to poor leasing practices. Verbal leases give no security of tenure beyond one year and are too frequently entered into without careful planning for the operation and maintenance of the farm. Likewise, the one-year lease with no assurance of continuation does not encourage the best practices on the part of the tenant. A well-written lease, with the provision that it shall continue indefinitely except when notice is given of its termination a reasonable time before it is to terminate, encourages tenants to follow better practices and to give attention to the maintenance and improvement of the farm."

THE EYES' HAVE IT

In many insects the eyes of the males are much larger than those of the females, reports the Better Vision Institute. In some kinds of flies the eyes in males form nearly the entire head.

Perfect vision until about three months after birth, reports the Better Vision Institute.

The pupil of a cat's eye is a vertical slit in strong light, but in dim light it becomes circular, according to the Better Vision Institute.

Most spiders have eight eyes grouped symmetrically around the side of the head, according to the Institute.

Letters Awarded At B. B. Banquet

Morehead Coach
Principal Speaker

The annual athletic banquet was held Thursday evening in the library at the high school and was sponsored by the Mt. Vernon Rotary club. The basketball team this year was the best ever coached by Coach Wm. Landrum. The victor had a run of 17 straight victories before being conquered by London. It is possible, had not injuries and sickness intervened that the team would have been state champions. Many seasoned coaches on viewing the squad earlier in the season were of the opinion that nothing but bad luck could keep them out of the state tournament—the team had had luck and then some, Totsie Noe star center became ill with rheumatic fever.

regular guard also had a siege of sickness, that kept him out of the district tournament. To cap the climax, Curtis Harmon injured his knee in the last game, which was next in the final contest, which these handicaps the boys kept on fighting, and were only beaten in the district by a superior team. The banquet opened with the song "God Bless America" Rev. W. A. Fite, returned thanks. The entertainment was in charge of Raymond McClure, which consisted of songs by Nell Wanda Nicely, and Mrs. Warren Carpenter. Kathleen Rowe gave a piano solo.

Opp Bussell and Bob O'Mara gave memories of the past season, which was very cleverly and ably presented. Capt. Robert Harmon thanked the Rotary Club for sponsoring the event. The awards were then made by Coach Landrum. The following speakers received awards: Robert Harmon (captain), Totsie Noe, Jim Cox, Opp Bussell, Earl Harmon, all seniors; Curtis Harmon (ex-captain), John Noe and Alfred Sparks. The men left for next year, provided they are eligible; by passing their examinations are the last thirteen mentioned above and Billy Pinnix, Bobby Kirby, "Piggy" Southard, Arnold Chastain, Glen Cummins, Jim Davis and Vernon Smith.

The speaker for the occasion was basketball player for the University of Kentucky, now coach of Morehead Teachers College, Ellis Johnson. Mr. Johnson made appropriate remarks suitable to the affair of this kind. He commented on the fact that many people thought too much time was devoted to athletics, however, in his opinion, it is this intense spirit of rivalry in athletics that keeps our youngsters thinking about other matters besides their studies. Foreign nations stress the manual arts instead of competitive athletics. Mr. Johnson made an interesting talk, and his remarks were absorbed by his listeners.

F. F. A. Journeys To Somerset

Twenty-eight members of the Mt. Vernon Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, went to Somerset Saturday, April 5, for their annual Field day. Many of our boys were entered in the various contests and did well. Approximately five-hundred boys representing twenty-six chapters were present.

Some of the contests were—public speaking impromptu speaking, individual music, spelling and closing the meeting, parliamentary procedure, chapter scrapbooks, record book, and treasurers record book. Some of the enterprise contests were—farm management, hays and pastures, dairy cattle, hogs, beef cattle, sheep, poultry and many others.

Twenty of our boys were entered in these different contests. The boys reached home about 6 o'clock, although it was a rainy day, all enjoyed.

County Directory Worthwhile Book

Will Contain Many Facts Of County

Rockcastle county will be off the press by June 1. This book will contain all worthwhile information about the county and will be a book that all will want to keep for many years. The cover will be leatherette and the inside will be printed on book paper. People in Rockcastle county that have facts of interest should bring them into the office not later than May 1. Scenic views will also be shown in the book.

Advertisers are afforded a rare opportunity to have their business listed in this book. The name of the store, kind of merchandise handled will bring much additional business, for all homes in the county will get a directory free of charge. Chambers of commerce in all Kentucky cities and also travel bureaus will also get books. The publication of this directory will be the best advertising the county ever had.

There is no excuse for your store not to be listed for the charge is only fifty cents. The display rate is very moderate for a book of this kind, $10.00 per page, $5.00 half page and $3.00 for a quarter page. Those who would like ads should come to the Signal not later than May 1. It will be too late when the book is printed to wish that your place of business had been listed.

Many Subscribers Added To List

During the special subscription offer just ended many new subscribers became readers of the Signal. Many more took advantage of the special offer by marking their time up for another year. We sincerely thank all for your loyal support.

To publish a GOOD newspaper costs lots of money. If we took out the linotype and would only publish four pages it would be easy to make the subscription price $100 a year. However the subscriber would be getting a $100 paper. Very little county news could be published and it would be much different than your present paper. It is curious facts however, that even on a much poorer paper we would have virtually the same amount of advertising. Some merchants believe in advertising others don't. All subscribers would do us a favor by reading the ads and when you patronize a merchant tell him you saw his ad in the Signal. This encourages him to put in more business and thus save you money. Advertising is another item that helps the Signal go.

The Signal is YOUR newspaper, and we stand ready at all times to further any community enterprises.

Earl Phillips For County Judge

I take this method of announcing my candidacy for the office of County Judge of Rockcastle County, subject to the action of the Republican primary to be held August 2nd, this year.

For the past few months, I have been telling the voters of this County, whom I have had the opportunity to see and talk to, that I would be a candidate for that office, and then I have received the encouragement that makes a man want to do his best.

For the past three and a half years I have served you as your alderman, and in that capacity I have done the best I could, as I promised the people, four years ago I would do. Any and all citizens are invited to examine my records.

I was born and reared in this County; have lived here all my life and expect to spend the balance of my life in Rockcastle County. No man has any more interest in the advancement and welfare of his County than I do for Rockcastle County.

If nominated and elected to this important office I promise its people that I will serve them as conscientiously and honestly as my man can.

I earnestly ask your vote and support.

EARL PHILLIPS

"Enriched" Flour, Bread On Market

White flour and white bread are coming to the market now in a new "enriched" form—that is, with a higher mineral and vitamin content than ordinary white flour or bread.

"Women who bake their own bread may want to know a few basic facts about the new 'enriched' flour before they buy their next sack," suggests Miss Florence Inlay, nutrition specialist for the Kentucky College of Agriculture.

"Nutritionally," says Miss Inlay, "the 'enriched' flour differs from plain white flour in its content of thiamin chloride (vitamin B-1), nicotinic acid (pellagra-preventive factor), and iron. To be labeled 'enriched,' the flour has to come up to certain minimum standards for these three important food values. It may also have greater amounts of calcium and riboflavin in it than does plain white flour."

"Standards for the vitamins and minerals that must be included in 'enriched' flour have been recommended by the Committee on Foods and Nutrition of the National Research Council—which is a co-operative organization of the scientists in this country. This committee has been working in an advisory capacity to the Administration of Health and Welfare in the Defense Program."

"'Enriched' bread, buy 'enriched' flour and use it. And, if you use whole-wheat flour, use whole-wheat flour. Or, use whole-wheat flour made from good, sound wheat already exceeds the minimum standards for at least two of the three required substances that are being included in the new 'enriched' white flour. Since all nutrients of the wheat are retained in whole-wheat flour, anything, there is no reason for enriching it."

Suggests Delay In First Lawn Mowing

In the interest of better lawns, Prof. N. R. Elliott of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture pleads that the grass be given opportunity to grow in early spring. Early growth is essential, he declares, if one would have a good lawn. It is the first luxuriant growth that stores plant food as long as possible.

Another thing don't remove clippings unless you are so heavy that they will smother the grass. Piles of hay might need redistributing, but the general removal of clippings does not meet the approval of Prof. Elliott. The clippings settle around the grass crowns, protect the plants, conserve moisture, and eventually decay and furnish plant food.

After blooming is the best time to prune shrubs, Prof. Elliott advises, beginning with the forshythias and spires. Remove a fourth to a third of the old canes, taking them out clear to the ground. This is called the "topcut" system. It encourages new shoots to grow. New shoots produce the best foliage and flowers.

Also: never cut the top of a shrub or rounded form. This destroys its beauty, and encourages irregular growth at the top, leaving the old canes at the bottom. These old canes never look well.

Above U. S. Average Prices In Kentucky

Prices that Kentucky farmers as a group received for their products during the past five years were higher than prices received by farmers throughout the United States as a whole. From 1936 to 1940 prices for the products in Kentucky averaged 85 percent of prices in the twenties. It was in 1936 and 1937 the largest difference occurred, for in these two years prices of farm products in Kentucky averaged 20 percent higher than prices of farm products in the United States.

The reason for this price advantage Kentucky produces a larger proportion of the products that have been relatively high in price, than does the United States as a whole. Prices of Burley tobacco and livestock were high relative to prices of grain, cotton, fruit and vegetables, dairy products and poultry products.

For those sections of Kentucky where Burley tobacco and livestock are not important as farm enterprises the price advantage enjoyed by the state as a whole does not apply so fully.

In an earlier period, from 1930 through 1934, prices of farm products in Kentucky and the United States were practically the same. During this period the price relationships that existed in the twenties.

"During the World War period, 1916-1921, prices in Kentucky were lower than prices in the United States, due primarily to the fact that tobacco prices did not show the extreme rise experienced by the prices of some of the other commodities produced less abundantly in Kentucky.

"Index Numbers of Prices and Production of Farm Products in Kentucky," Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station Bulletin No. 411, recently published, contains this information on price levels and price relationships among groups of related products in Kentucky. The bulletin was prepared by Dana G. Card, A. J. Brown and O. M. Farrington.

Mrs. Bob Cummins and daughter, Betty Cella of Mt. Vernon spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Betty Newland.

Miss Estelle Carter who is a student at Eastern spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Estil Carter.

Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Payne were in Danville Friday.

Miss Anna Belle Smith of Hiatt spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Charley Smith.

Mr. Perry Howard of Harlan was here over the week end to see his brother Joe, who is very sick.

The Robertson county sheep grower's association last month completed four years of protection with a surplus of $400.

NEWEST FILM CHARMER

Beautiful Georgia Carroll, formerly an actor John Powers model and called the most photographed girl in New York, is featured in the lavish new musical, "Ziegfeld Girl."

The Garden

By John S. Gardner, Kentucky College of Agriculture

Several weeks ago, parsnips and salsify were discussed, because their starting time was then. Today, discussing the root vegetables is to be covered.

Soil preparation should be thorough, but fertilizing, conservative. That is to say, there should not be too much nitrogen as in fresh manure, else there will be too heavy top-growth, and the roots will be small. In gardens where the practice is to use manure annually, the root vegetable portion can be skipped, but complete fertilizer, as 3-8-6, 4-8-8 or 5-10-5 used instead. It should be worked in lightly as the final going-over is given the seed bed, and the rate is one pound to 40 square feet, broadcast.

Radishes—Radishes were mentioned as a "maker" for the soil, germinating parsnips and salsify, and these should have been the earliest types. For sowing up to April 15, these may be continued, but from then on until May 15, the latest date, the alwhite sorts should be used. These are Icicle or Lady Finger. They may follow spinach but not any of the greens of the cabbage family, for radishes belong to that family, too. Rows may be as close as 12 inches; one ounce of seed sows 100 feet.

Turnips—If turnip-sowing has been delayed, now is not too late; but April 15 is generally the last date. Spacing is the same as for radishes, and Purple-top Strapped-leaved is the best sort.

Carrots—The first sowing should go in as soon as possible, and if extra speed is desired the stubby Ox-heart should be used. Because carrots are cold-loving and because they need so much moisture to start the roots, the main planting for the year's supply should follow soon. May 15 is usually the deadline, after which full stands cannot usually be expected. Chantenary or Model is the best variety to use. It is short but broad, giving splendid yields. It has no grain core, but is solid and stays solid, and tender, no matter how large it grows, or no matter how long it stands in the garden.

As a "yellow" vegetable, it is highly recommended by dieticians as carrying the vitamin that tones the nervous system, the eyes, reducing what is called "night blindness." In this connection, it is of interest to note that R. A. F. "night fighters" have been receiving a special diet including carrots and cod liver oil, these two being in fact interchangeable in this regard, with carrots the more palatable.

Carrot rows may be as close as 12 inches; one ounce of seed sows 100 feet.

Beets—Last in this discussion, their sowing time comes last, too, but now is the time. Sowing for the early crop may be continued until May 15, after which moisture may become insufficient. So often the complaint is that poor stands are secured, but this is not surprising, for beet seed is exceedingly small; what appears to be a seed is really a berry with 3 to 5 seed within.

The sowing depth should not exceed 1/2 inch, and a good plan is to lay a plank down the row until signs of sprouting are seen, after which the seedlings can take care of themselves, no matter how soil-packing the rains are. Eclipse is the quickest variety, but Crosby's Egyptian is so much finer it is well worth waiting for a few days longer. Spacing may be the same as for the others, and one ounce sows 50 feet.

County Agent Notes

By Robert F. Spence

Potato planting time usually starts about the 15th of March and closes about the 15th or 20th of April. There are many people who have not planted their potatoes to date. It's not too late. In fact a good time to plant.

The potato program is: (1) Use certified treated seed. (2) Use a bag of 3-8 or 4-8-6 fertilizer with each bag of potatoes. (3) Insect control. (4) Better winter storage.

The farmer should be certain that he is getting certified seed. The following is our seed treatment before potatoes are cut. Use one ounce of Corrosive Sublimate to 7 1/2 gal. of water. Corrosive Sublimate can be gotten at drug store or seed dealers. Use wooden barrels and wooden buckets for mixing your Corrosive Sublimate. It's injurious to metal containers. Dissolve the ounce of Corrosive Sublimate in two quarts of hot water and add this to the seven gallons of water. Pour potatoes in the solution and let remain one hour. The second lot remain one and one-fourth hours. The third lot one and one-half hours and fourth lot two hours. The average farmers won't have to treat more than second lot. The Corrosive Sublimate is poisonous when taken internally, therefore when the treatment has been used it should be poured in the ground and covered up and kept away from livestock. This solution, however, does not hurt the hands in the handling of the potatoes. Therefore, we urge farmers to plant certified treated seed. Fertilizer should be put in the bottom of the furrow and mixed with the soil before the potatoes are planted.

Further information can be had by writing or calling the County Agent. Insect-control and storage will be discussed later at community meetings throughout the county.

A Good Garden For Every Farmer
Our good garden for every farm is a slogan and has been since 1914. We still believe that the garden furnishes more food and is more valuable than any other piece of land on the farm as far as producing food for the family is concerned. Our garden program for this year is as follows:

- (1) Better preparation of soil.
(2) Increase the fertility by using manure and 3-8-6 or 4-8-4 fertilizer.
(3) Increase variety—we suggest carrots, parsnips and Chinese cabbage added to every garden.
(4) Clean cultivation. Keep all the weeds out and let the vegetables grow.
(5) Consecutive planting. This means plant every ten to twelve days of the various crops growing in the garden.
(6) Storage.
(7) Storage. This includes canning, drying and storing up in cellars and in the ground this fall.
Any gardener wishing information on any one of these seven points can write or call the County Agent.
We are emphasizing the Live-At-Home Program which is being taken to mean much to individual families for the coming year, since war is drawing near.

GARDEN MEETINGS
Arrangements have been made for Mr. John S. Gardner from the College of Agriculture, our Garden Specialist, to meet with the gardeners in two special meetings on Friday, April 19, at the following places.
Johanna Schoolhouse, 10 3/4 a. m.
Mt. Vernon, County Agent's Office, 1:30 p. m.
The above garden program will be discussed at these meetings. Emphasis being placed on insect control. Every person raising a garden and desiring to take this opportunity to hear Mr. Gardner is invited to attend these meetings.

POULTRY
This is the month to buy baby chicks and to set the hens. The early hatch produces the birds that lay the eggs in September, October, November and December when eggs are high. White Rocks, Rhode Island Reds and Barred Rocks are still emphasized for farm flocks. White Leghorns are used when one goes into the poultry business for eggs alone.
Information on poultry subjects can be had at the County Agent's Office. A card or letter or telephone call will get the information.

SLANTS

The average income of the farmer in Rockcastle county is less than $200. With that cash he has to buy supplies for his farm, food, and clothes for his family. Naturally he has an extremely hard time to make both ends meet.

Approximately 80% of the population make their living by farming. Ninety-nine percent rely on the farming class for a livelihood. It can be readily seen that the farmer in Rockcastle county is an important individual.

Last week a meeting was held in the county agent's office, to discuss the agricultural program in this county, and some of the problems of the farmer. The business men of the county were especially requested to be present. Only two were there. The meeting was important enough that all the stores in the county could have been closed.

Raise the income of our farmers and all business men will benefit. That is why we have a county agent, but the job is too big for one or two men. Co-operation by the business men on farm problems is absolutely necessary.

Last year over one hundred thousand dollars of fertilizer was put on our soil. Berea College bought $22,000 worth of milk and cream from our farmers. When we talk about the farmers we are talking about the big money of the greater part of our wealth is invested with the farmer.

This county will only progress upward as the wealth of the farmer is increased. The addition of fertilizer and lime to the soil and the teaching of new methods has already added some to this wealth, and the prospects are for slow but steady improvement.

All business men should make it a point to be ready at all times to lend a helping hand to all farm programs. When this is done it will be a major step toward adding to the wealth of this county.

Sunday-School Day Announced

At a recent meeting of the Central Committee of the Kentucky Sunday School Association, Sunday, May 4th, 1941, was designated GO-TO-SUNDAY-SCHOOL-DAY in Kentucky. Rev. George A. Joplin, D. D., former General Secretary of the Kentucky-Sunday-School Association, inaugurated Go-To-Sunday-School day on May 3rd, 1941 and its observance has been part of the annual program of the Association ever since.

The purpose of the day is to help make Kentucky Sunday-School-conscious and to increase enrollment and attendance upon the Sunday Schools, thus encouraging the study of the Bible and helping in the development of Christian character. That there is great opportunity for improvement along these lines is indicated by the statement of Fred T. Fowler, Field Secretary of the Kentucky Sunday School Association, to the effect that it is his observation, as he travels over the state, that not more than 33 1/2 per cent of the people in Kentucky are in any Sunday School.

The goal for 1941 is a 20 per cent increase in attendance over Go-To-Sunday-School Day last year. Workers throughout the state are asked to unite in this great effort to see that every person in Kentucky receives at least one invitation to attend the Sunday School of his choice on May 4th. Further information regarding the observance of the day may be secured from the Kentucky Sunday School Association, Louisville, Ky. Posters will be furnished free of charge, upon request.

... honest and fair. And if I fall short of the standards I hold, Give me will power to change, else how can I dare, Be the kind of leader I am?

County Health Department News

The maternity program is carried out by the Rockcastle County Health Department primarily to teach parents that motherhood is a natural process and that it is the duty of all parents to bring their children into the world in good physical condition. They are taught that simple, regular living habits during pregnancy brings good health to both the mother and the baby. Personal hygiene is stressed, and the mother is also instructed in child hygiene in regard to the preparation and care of the infant at birth.

Each Friday a prenatal clinic is held in the office of the County Health Department. At these clinics the patients are given complete physical examinations. Each patient is examined for presence of syphilis, high blood pressure, diseases of the kidneys and heart and for abnormal conditions that may result from pregnancy or impair the health of the expectant mother and her baby.

Many serious complications, and death, may be prevented by early prenatal care. Those found with abnormal conditions are referred to their family physician for immediate treatment. * We urge every expectant mother to attend our clinic or get under the care of their family physician.
