"WHERE THE BOONE WAY JOINS THE DIXIE"

Rockcastle County

ON Kirby For Jailer

Feeling that the voters should be given an opportunity to learn the facts in regard to service rendered by one of my opponents while holding an office of trust given him by the voters of this County, I give you the following facts which are of a public rather than a private record.

I have been, and am now, a member of the Rockcastle Fiscal Court and know the following facts to be true: You will find on page 9 Commonwealth Order Book Number 18 in the Clerk's Office at the Rockcastle Circuit Court: "Presented by the foreman of the Grand Jury to the Court on the 16th day of April, 1938 indictment No. 5057, Commonwealth v. D. G. Clark for conspiracy to do a felonious act, and bond fixed at $1000.00."

Mr. Clark will not deny this because he was not caught, and the conspiracy was nothing more than the taking of several thousand dollars of money belonging to the taxpayers, who he is now asking to elect him, and converting it to his own use, further he taken up hundreds of dollars of Livingston, Broadhead and Mt. Vernon Schools, which when he done so kept the little school children from receiving the benefits of this money. In the same order Book on page 138 appears an order which shows that "At the request of the Commonwealth's Attorney, that the indictment be dismissed, for the reason that the shortage due the County has all been paid." This order is dated January 12th, 1939. The way I see it, a man that does those things is not worthy of the support of the people, whose money he wasted in spree, drunken parties and then tries to pass it all off just like nothing has happened.

When elected your jailer, I will be an honest officer.

CLARK BROWN IN HOSPITAL

Clark Brown entered Good Samaritan Hospital, in Lexington Sunday and underwent a minor operation on Monday. Mrs. Brown accompanied him and word comes from her that he is getting along nicely.

E. L. Owen For Representative

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for Representative of the Legislative District, composed of Laurel and Rockcastle counties, subject to the action of the Republican primary, Saturday, Aug. 2, 1941. I previously made this race and my supporters, who almost put me into office, have prompted me to run this session. Your influence and support will be greatly appreciated.

Your friend,
E. L. OWEN

Sorghum Brand Named Rockcastle

The judges named to select a brand name for the sorghum Co-operative met Monday and after due deliberation selected the entry of Mrs. Jesse L. Mink, of Conway, as the winning entry. It was her suggestion that the sorghum be called "Rockcastle" and this will be the brand name of sorghum produced in this county.

Entries were received from over the County. Honorable mention went to Floyd Owens of Mt. Vernon for the name "Flowing Gold." Several names were unique, such as "Rosogold," "Gold Stream" and others. One person suggested the sorghum be called "Hitler's Defeat" because the raising of cane would help defeat Hitler.

A check for $5.00 will be sent to Mrs. Mink in a few days.

Carter For Judge

TO THE VOTERS OF ROCKCASTLE COUNTY:

In last week's issue of this paper one of my opponents said that I had posted bills and notices four years ago saying that Forty Thousand Dollars of the County's indebtedness had been paid at that time. I made that statement because it was true, and since that time we have paid, and have the money to pay, Twenty-Two Thousand and Nine Hundred Dollars more on our indebtedness. As my opponent said, a County warrant is as good as its face value. This same opponent says that this County was sued for judgment rendered against it for One Hundred and Twenty Five Thousand Dollars. The judgment is for One Hundred and Twenty Three Thousand Dollars. All of this debt was made before I became Judge. But who made that debt, Squire Lambert? Didn't you help? You collected Three Hundred and Fifty Dollars for reporting a little moonshine still. That is part of the judgment. By failing to properly attend to your duties as a magistrate by not requiring the County Treasurer to execute a bond, Twenty Three Thousand Seven Hundred Seventy Five Dollars and Fifty Two Cents was lost in the Peoples Bank. You paid two hundred and Twenty Seven Dollars and Fifty Cents of the County's money to O. H. Finnell for a fence. This is part of the debt and is shown by the records in the County Court Clerk's Office.

Squire, you made the statement that this County received from Eight Thousand to Ten Thousand Dollars each year in truck license money. This statement is about as near true as some other things that you are saying about me. If you had examined the records you would find that Five Thousand Two Hundred Dollars is the largest sum the County has ever received for truck license, and that every penny of this sum has been spent for road purposes.

Now about misappropriations: you voted for Three Thousand Dollars of this truck money to be used to pay a misappropriation. I have never misappropriated a single penny of the County's money; have never bolted the Republican Party or failed

Edward Hansel Killed At Ft. Knox

Edward Hansel, age about 24; died in a hospital at Fort Knox from injuries sustained by parties unknown. Hansel was found unconscious Sunday evening, his skull having been crushed by a blunt instrument.

It is reported that young Hansel had considerable money on his person, and robbery is thought to be the motive for the assault.

The deceased was well known here, having been born and raised in this locality. Guard Hansel, his father survives.

Funeral services were supposed to have been held Wednesday, but as we go to press the body has not arrived from Fort Knox.

Richard Branaman For Tax Commissioner

In the regular announcement column will be found the name of Richard Branaman, who is running for Tax Commissioner. Mr. Branaman has chosen H. C. Kirby and Tom Sigmon as deputies.

Jones Withdraws From County Judges Race

I wish to state that I have withdrawn from the County Judges race. I decided to withdraw after a lot of my friends advised me that they did not think it was my time to win.

I wish to thank every one for their kindness toward me and wish to state that I have no malice in my heart toward any one.

I may be with you again sometime.

Your friend,
Joel M. Jones

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Proctor, of Waukegan, Ill., arrived Saturday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Proctor.

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF ROCKCASTLE COUNTY:

In the June 26th issue of this paper, I stated that the real issues in this election were the financial and moral issues. I gave you a few items showing how waste and extravagance are causing a boost in our taxes. One of my opponents, the third term man, has been over this county speaking in almost every school house in the county. You may know an administration for almost eight years should speak for itself. An administration that requires all these false and misleading statements to prop it up is rotten. A just, business, and honest administration speaks for itself and doesn't need all this defending.

In all these speakings, my opponent uses the big "I"; he has left all the good people out and tells you how he is going to elect himself. My claim is in the Republican Voters' hands to do as you like and I will be satisfied.

If elected, I will stand by and with the people and do nothing to throw any reflections on Rockcastle County. I will help develop all our resources and protect and boost all of our moral and business institutions.

Yours for a Better Rockcastle County,
J. H. (Jim) LAMBERT

Rockcastle Wants A NEW JUDGE

— LET'S NOMINATE —

EARL PHILLIPS

HE WILL BE FAIR AND FRIENDLY

I ASK FOR YOUR SUPPORT

One of my opponents keeps saying that he will help you when in need. That may be true. But he hasn't got anything on me. I do the same thing every day or week. He can't find a man or woman, even children who know me, but what will say "Cous" Ivory Anglin, will go his full length for you, day or night. And at the same time I am not an officer and never was.

Now I just wouldn't let "Uncle Clark" out clever me or out do me on anything. And if he does anything good for you, he owes it to you, for he has been in office so long.

I pledge to you if elected to be kind. To be courteous, to be sober. Give me your support, I need it and I will appreciate it.

To The Republican Voters of Rockcastle County:

I am a World War Veteran, and I know the duties imposed on an officer. I am a candidate for Sheriff of this county, and kindly ask for your support in this primary election. I was faithful to my country as a soldier, and will be faithful with you as a peace officer in the strict enforcement of the laws. I have chosen as deputies, Ted Mink and Givins Lear, both good substantial citizens.

Baptist Church

By Rev. W. C. Younce

Now that the Vacation Bible School season is over, we wish to thank the following churches for cooperating with us in having a state worker during the past few weeks: Ottawa, Freedom, Poplar Grove, Conway and Mt. Zion. When Dr. Gardiner, State Secretary, promised to give us a worker for this association the matter was made known to the above churches and we glad to say they were willing to take advantage of the offer. Great things can be done when there is co-operation.

Concerning the Vacation School held at Conway, will say that their attendance was 75, average attendance 45. Miss Newman was assisted by Bro. Sears, Mrs. Sears, Bro. Towery, Mrs. Arthur Rice and Mrs. Verala Wynn.

Mt. Zion Church, closed their school last Friday night. Their enrollment was 31; average attendance 25. Those assisting Miss Newman were: Bro. and Mrs. Hubble, and Miss Mercia Abney.

A training union was organized in Conway Baptist Church last Saturday night. The enrollment was Mrs. Fred Baker, Mrs. Mary Mullins, Mrs. Younce and myself. There were twenty-four present. Mr. Towery is director, Dewey Huff, Assistant, Miss Ruth Sears, Secretary, Bro. Sears, Adult Leader, Mrs. Arthur Rice, Senior Leader, Mrs. Sears, Intermediate Leader, Mrs. Verala Wynn, Junior Leader, Mrs. Mercia Abney, Story Hour Leader.

These brothers and sisters will have a Sunday Service at 10:00 A. M. Sunday Services (C. S. T.)

Sunday School—9:45 A. M. Lesson: "When Religion and Business Clash"—Acts 17: 21-27. Seven sons of one seava; burning bad books; silver shrines; a man named Demetrius; craft in the temple; Diana or Jesus; and all the counsel of God—these are the high points in the lesson. How can a person test his business to see if it is Christian? Why should laws be enforced, forbidding evil business to exist? Answers to these, and similar questions, will be given Sunday.

Public Worship—11:00 A. M. Sermon Text: "They went out and preached that men should repent." Training Union—6:30 P. M. Last Sunday. General theme: "Regarding Religious Liberty." It is to do with the building of strong Christian personalities by securing freedom from the many hindrances that ordinarily be set us on every hand. The Bible is our principal text book. Let no one think that it is being laid aside. Every staunch believer in the Bible who is not enlisted in this department of our church work is urged to become a member of our union.

Public Worship—7:30 P. M. Sermon Text: "They all with one consent began to make excuse." Whiskey drinkers, bootleggers, thieves, hars and such like are urged to hear this message. It may as well be faced now as later. "Be not deceived, a man soweth, that shall he also reap." It is appointed unto man once to die, but after this the judgment."

Prayer Service
To-day, in the name and by the authority of Christ, the body of believers might, if they but understood their heavenly privileges and responsibilities, that much of the working of Satan in this world and procure a large measure of peace on earth and a greater freedom for the rapid spread of the gospel to the utmost parts of the earth.

Prayer, therefore, should be rendered by God's believing people against strife and confusion. Before the throne of God we should bring our charges against the dragon and his cohorts "who accuse the brethren." It is not necessary that the number who pray be large. Sometimes the meeting of two or three may have a greater power with God than would the assembly of the whole congregation. When a little group of His children join in a common calling upon His name He makes His presence felt in an unusual way. "It is not by might nor by power but by my spirit saith the Lord."

Let the Wednesday night service (7:30 o'clock) be a standing engagement with all who are interested in the Kingdom's work.

Many will be surprised to know that Mrs. J. T. Meadows, our faithful co-worker, is in the Stanford Hospital. She will appreciate our prayers.

We extend our deepest sympathy to the families of Mr. Jess Anderkin and Mrs. W. V. Sigmon in their bereavement.

SLANTS

By W. L. S.

After the week-end business which was caused by the most part by the traffic on Highway 25, the merchants of Mt. Vernon and Livingston should realize that this highway is of vital importance to the well-being of the county. Instead of the traffic lessening it should increase.

In this week's London, Sentinel-Echo is an item about Highway 25 which shows that this city is taking no chances on having this main artery of travel re-routed around London. Plans are being made to correct 25 objectionable features of the existing road at public expense.

That plan should be followed in this county. If we tell the Highway Commissioner to map out a route through Mt. Vernon, and that we will co-operate in seeing that points of ways are secured, and best points of view are secured, the chances are that the road will be brought through town.

In a few months the route will definitely be set and if Mt. Vernon is missed, it will be just too bad.

As usual in an emergency, the majority of people wait until the last minute to do anything. This means more to Rockcastle county than anything except agriculture. Many business subsidists solely because of trade. Many restaurants and filling stations would be forced to close if Highway 25 went elsewhere, and these people all do business in the county.

This is serious emergency and demands the full co-operation of all citizens.

Thrashing Demonstration a Success
The demonstration of a small thrasher Tuesday at Berea was a great success. The demonstration was put on by C. G. Filler, Assistant Agricultural Engineer, Kentucky State College of Agriculture. Due to the rain the demonstration was moved from the Experiment Field to Major J. H. Washburn's barn where he had a large stored which was used in the thrashing demonstration. 33 farmers attended the forenoon session, and 22 the afternoon session. Rockcastle, Madison, Garrard and Breathitt counties were represented.

The small thrasher used in the demonstration was designed by C. G. Filler to meet the needs of farmers in hilly and rougher sections where many farmers have stopped growing grain and no longer save crop from clover and grasses for home use or market because of the difficulty of getting the crop thrashed. The farmers in this section certainly need to give more attention to home grown seeds. This means that we must have more small thrashers to take care of the thrashing of grains and grasses.

This thrasher is mounted on rubber tires and is moved about as a trailer behind a passenger car or truck as fast as the condition of the roads will permit. Only a few minutes are required to set it up for a new job and to get ready to move again. It has been tested for four seasons, in a hundred counties and farmers have expressed satisfaction with its size, mobility, performance and cost of operation.

Farmers interested in this and other small thrashers can get information at the County Agent's office.

HOG CHOLERA

Hog Cholera seems to break out ever so often in different sections of the county. There is a reason for this. Usually we find cholera where hogs have been purchased from stock yards or from some herd where cholera has been. Cholera can be carried by trucks, on the feet of people, by birds, dogs or running water. Hogs purchased from stock yards or herds not known, should be separated from the rest of hogs on the farm for a period of 20 to 30 days before turning with the home grown herd.

Hogs may be vaccinated with serum alone or with serum and virus. If serum alone is used it is called the "Single-Treatment." If both serum and virus is used it is called the "Double-Treatment." This double-treatment is good for the life of the hog. The single-treatment is good for about 90 days.

The double-treatment should be used on all breeding hogs. In other words the hogs the farmer keeps from year to year for breeding purposes. The single-treatment is usually used on hogs when the farmer is not expecting to keep his hogs but a short time.

Hogs should be vaccinated. They should be confined for 15 to 20 days and kept away from other hogs in adjoining field or in a field with running water in it. Hogs double-treated go through with a mild case of cholera and must be treated as such, or else other hogs may take cholera from the vaccinated herd.

Any farmer can single treat his own hogs but it takes a veterinarian or a man with a permit from the State Veterinarian to double-treat.

If there isn't any cholera in the community hogs need not be vaccinated but if it gets in the community vaccination is the surest and best thing to do. Farmers should co-operate with each other in keeping cholera out and when it does get into a community there needs to be a closer co-operation in order to stamp it out. All dead hogs should be burned or buried. Barring the best way to dispose of dead hogs or other dead animals.

SHEEP A PROFIT

Arthur Brown, Quail community, sold his lambs last week. He sold 26 lambs from 4 ewes for $204.10. He got $47.50 for his wool making a total of $251.60. His income per ewe was $13.98. This isn't a bad business when his ewes are only worth $8-$10 per head.

We need more sheep on our farms. Not too many, but what the farm can carry in connection with other livestock.

Western ewes are scarce and rams are scarce—farmers who want either of both should act at once.

694 Lambs Entered At Show And Sale

The annual Central Kentucky 4-H and Utopia lamb show and sale, recently held at Lexington, brought entries from club members in 14 counties who showed 694 lambs.

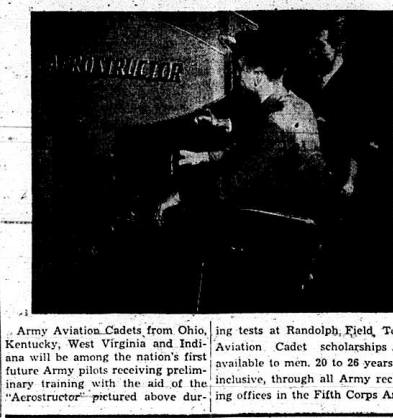

The grand champion lamb of the show was from Jessamine county. This lamb sold for 36 cents a pound and weighed 85 pounds. The reserve champion was shown by Mary Frances Green, from Clark county, bringing 25 cents a pound.

Clark county had the champion carlot of the show. These lambs averaged 85 pounds each and brought $15.75 per hundred pounds. The reserve pen was from Mercer county and sold for $14.25 per hundred.

Hugh John Richards, of Grant county, had the champion single lamb in the Utopia show. Frank King, of Montgomery county, had the champion carlot of Utopia lambs. The average sale price for all lambs in the show was $13.15 per hundred.

Among Co. Agents

In Owsley county, 200 acres were planted to hybrid corn—enough "permanently to establish the crop," it is reported.

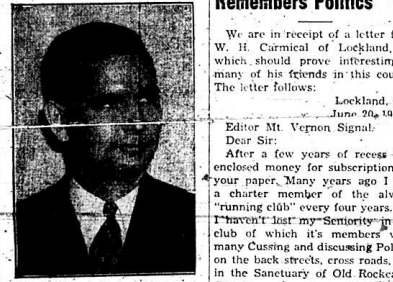

Army Aviation Cadets from Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia and Indiana will be among the nation's first future Army pilots receiving preliminary training with the aid of the "Aerotractor" pictured above during tests at Randolph Field, Texas.

Ivan Jett Joins Chain Council

Ivan Jett, director of marketing for the state of Kentucky for the past year, became agricultural counsel of the Kentucky Chain Stores Council July 1. It was announced today by Joe T. Lovett, executive director of the Mid-South Chain Stores Council.

The organization, with headquarters at Murray, was established to coordinate the contribution of chain stores to the agricultural, civic and industrial advancement of Kentucky, Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee.

Mr. Jett was born in Jackson, Kentucky, in 1911, moving to Madison County while a youngster. He attended Eastern State Teachers College and the University of Kentucky, from which he graduated with the degree of B. S. in Agriculture in 1931.

For nine years he was instructor in Vocational Agriculture at Stamping Ground High School, Scott county, prior to becoming director of marketing. The Future Farmers of America chapter, of which he was advisor, won the National F. F. A. contest in 1937 and again in 1939; the only chapter in history to win this honor twice.

Mr. Jett is widely known throughout Kentucky, particularly by farmers and agricultural leaders with whom he has worked in establishing more orderly and effective marketing channels for farm products. He owns and operates a farm in Scott county.

Mr. Jett will make his headquarters in Central Kentucky but will spend the greater portion of his time in the field, principally in Kentucky.

Milk Co-operative Association Formed

For several months milk producers in the Blue Grass region have been working toward the formation of a co-operative marketing organization. It is the only one of the kind in the State and its membership is composed only of producers, some of which sell their milk to pasteurizing plants and others sell direct to the consumer.

Central Kentucky milk producers have long felt a need for an organization to represent them and to aid them in solving their problems in merchandizing their milk, promotion of better relations between producer and consumer, purchasing of supplies and increasing the consumption of milk.

The Marketing Division of the Kentucky Department of Agriculture at Frankfort assisted the farmers to organize. In order to show what could be accomplished through co-operation of all agencies of the milk industry, considerable time was spent in sponsoring John Dairy Month, and the results obtained were conclusive proof for all concerned that there were great benefits to be derived from a co-operative.

The low-lying keys from Key West northeast to the mainland on Florida constitute the sole habitat and breeding ground for the handsome great white heron.

A highly fatal disease in quail and grouse, ulcerative enteritis, is peculiar to these species and was recently described by U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service scientists.

The most spectacular and important fur-animal enterprise in the United States is silver-fox farming, which yielded -6000 pelts in 1923 and increased the output to 350,000 pelts by 1940.

The wild mallard breeds freely and abundantly in captivity, but, unfortunately, the duck also domesticates rapidly and loses those qualities desired for sporting birds.

Poultry Course Attracts 131

The 17th annual poultry short course, held recently at the Kentucky State College of Agriculture and Home Economics at Lexington, attracted 131 farm men and women and hatcherymen from 44 Kentucky counties and four other states, according to W. M. Insko, Jr., head of the University poultry section.

At the conclusion of the course, 25 persons took the examination to obtain certificates in pullorum control and blood testing. At the opening session, Insko stressed, the part Kentucky's poultry can play in national defense, urging that farmers use this time of government stabilization of prices for poultry products to improve equipment or get better equipment. No wholesale expansion is desirable, however, he stressed. Speakers included Melvin Buser, poultry coordinator for the United States department of Agriculture; R. B. Jones, Montgomery, Ala., head of the poultry division of the Department of Agriculture and Industries; Adam Siler, Henderson, Ky., hatcheryman, and C. W. Sulter, Lexington.

THE FORMATION OF A CO-OPERATIVE IN CENTRAL KENTUCKY IS ESPECIALLY IMPORTANT BECAUSE CENTRAL KENTUCKY FARMERS HAVE NOT BEEN AVAILABLE TOWARD CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING AS THOSE IN WESTERN KENTUCKY.

Members of the organization will be drawn from the "Lexington Milk Shed" of Woodford, Scott, Franklin, Fayette, Bourbon, Clark, Mercer and Jessamine counties.

Mr. Earl Robbins, teacher of Vocational Agriculture of the Lexington High School, was very prominent in the organization of this co-operative.

Former Resident Remembers Politics

We are in receipt of a letter from W. H. Carmical of Lockland, O., which should prove interesting to many of his friends in this county. The letter follows:

Lockland, O., June 20, 1941.

Editor Mt. Vernon Signal:

Dear Sir:

After a few years of recess find enclosed money for subscription for your paper. Many years ago I was a charter member of the always "running club" every four years. But "I haven't lost my seniority" in the club of which its members were many Cussing and discussing Politics on the back streets, cross roads, and in the Sanctuary of Old Rockcastle County.

Respectfully, W. H. Carmical

MEET THE STARS

BY ETHEL VINE

Clark Gable, who has been Hollywood's most popular leading man for more than a decade, owes his success in part to his great versatility. He can and has played all types of men, from ruffians to drawing room smoothies, with equal skill and ease.

Aside from "natural talent," his achievements are often due to the fact that he knows his characters so thoroughly. He knows them because he has lived them. Starting out as a young man in Akron, Ohio, his first job was that of time-keeper in a rubber factory. He had just graduated from Hopedale High School and his salary was $100 a month.

What did he do with it? Part of it went into a pre-medical course at the University of Akron, for ever since he was a youngster on a Pennsylvania farm he had planned to become a doctor. But during the course he got interested in a local stock company and when offered a job as super, he accepted. It was a roving and uncertain existence and soon he found himself "at liberty" in Oklahoma. But he promptly found a job in the Oklahoma oil fields as driller. Later he bartended throughout the mid-west with a repository company. When the town wound up in Portland, Oregon, he got work as line-man and subsequently as surveyor with a lumber camp. This led, in time, to a job in the advertising department of an Oregon newspaper.

Sometime later he worked his way down the coast to Los Angeles where he joined the actors' ranks once more as an extra. However, soon he was let out because he was "too tall" (6 ft. 1 in.). He was then offered a part as a soldier in Jane Cowl's company of "Romeo and Juliet" which took him back East. His first play on Broadway was "Machinal" in which he clicked. Soon afterwards he was sent for to play "Killer Meats" in "The Last Mile" on the West Coast. Movie scouts now became aware of him and he was signed by M-G-M.

He has played countless screen roles since and both here and abroad is one of the biggest box-office attractions in the business. His popularity in such pictures as "It Happened One Night," "Gone With the Wind" and "Boom Town" is unparalleled.

In his newest film, "They Met in Bombay," he is playing opposite Rosalind Russell.

Grasshoppers in Ky.

By Robt. F. Spence

Grasshoppers, content to feed and roamin in the meadows and along the road sides as long as the grass remains green, are now leaving the tough, dry grass in many parts of the state and moving into fields of corn, tobacco and vegetables where the plants are green and succulent. The migration is comparatively slow. The insects usually start feeding on the edge of the planting and gradually move deeper into the field, consuming the plants as they go. It often happens during migration that there is a fence-row between the field left and the one invaded. In this instance, the grasshoppers, after feeding during the day, return to the fence-row to pass the night. Advantage of this knowledge is taken in applying control measures. Apply the bait to that part of the field where the grasshoppers are feeding and to the space between their bed and breakfast—or between the fence-row where they spend the night and the plants upon which they feed.

If the grasshoppers are now in clover, timothy and alfalfa fields, it is suggested that these hay crops be harvested as soon as possible. In harvesting the crop, leave an uncut swath around the margin and in the middle of the field. The grasshoppers will congregate in the uncut grass where they can be poisoned. A poisoned bait should be scattered in the uncut swath and on either side of it for a distance of several feet. The bait should be spread at the time cutting starts since the pur-

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF THE 81st LEGISLATIVE DISTRICT

Last week there appeared in a local paper in London, the endorsement of Cam Mullins for Representative by some of the County Officials of Rockcastle County, who were through long acquaintance and fear of embarrassment forced into signing this document, and many of them state they only signed the article to appease "Cam" and have no notion of supporting him.

These County Officials over looked the fact that they also are seeking office in Rockcastle County and that the Trucking and Gasoline interest has many warm friends in Rockcastle County. There is a great movement under way to clean house in Rockcastle County's Courthouse. Do we want this crowd to dictate to the good citizens of Laurel County who we should elect when it is Laurel County's time.

Certainly Not

Jim Stacey is making a clean aggressive fight and the good citizens of Rockcastle County are supporting him strong.

ROCKCASTLE AS WELL AS LAUREL WILL GIVE JIM STACEY A NICE MAJORITY.

JIM STACEY IS NOT BEING RUN BY ANY CORPORATION OR GROUP OF POLITICIANS. HE IS FOR LEGISLATION MORE FAVORABLE TO THE TRUCKING INDUSTRY AND BETTER LEGISLATION FOR OUR DISTRICT IN GENERAL.
