Bargain Day At Livingston

Merchants Co-operating Saturday, Sept. 6

The city of Livingston is planning on a big day, Saturday, September 6, and all the merchants and townpeople are co-operating.

The merchants will offer special bargains for this day only, and varied entertainment will be offered visitors.

The Lions Club is donating $5.00 in merchandise which will be given away. Dr. R. G. Webb is giving a $1.00 bill for the oldest person present. A year's subscription to The Signal will be given the couple most recently married. Other prizes will be awarded next week.

It is rumored that a rolling pin throwing contest for women only will be held, and Mrs. R. G. Webb is practicing up for the occasion.

Another feature of the day will be address on "Shall We Go To War." Before this speech a poll will be taken among those present on this important question. Ballots will be distributed and everyone will have a chance to vote.

It is planned to have the Mt. Vernon Band present, and this fine musical organization will give a concert in an especially erected bandstand.

Next week a complete program will be given, and a large ad will give the many bargains that the merchants have prepared for this day.

Make your plans now to come to Livingston, see your friends, shop and enjoy the day.

Defense Demands Boost Profits on Kentucky Pastures

CHICAGO. — With defense demands boosting money and dairy prices, Kentucky pasture land loans as one of the most profitable sources of 1941 farm income, according to a statement issued here by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

"For years farm leaders have preached the gospel of pasture improvement as a means of conserving the soil, controlling erosion and increasing fertility," says the statement. "Now the wisdom of that advice is evident."

● Need Fertilizer. "Pasture is the cheapest source of feed for livestock. But it is not an inexhaustible farm resource. Every pound of meat and every quart of milk removes valuable plant food from the soil."

"For example, an average cow will eat the equivalent of two tons of dry pasture grass during a grazing season. That much feed removes from the soil 115 pounds of nitrogen, 26 pounds of phosphorus and 88 pounds of potash. Even if the manure is conserved, only a portion of this plant food will be returned to the soil."

"Steady conservation of pasture land, obviously, lies in good farm management which includes the application of commercial fertilizer. Such a program not only produces grasses richer in essential minerals but promotes more rapid and luxuriant growth. It provides a diet essential to the most effective growth of livestock, helps build up the soil and adds to the farm's long range value."

Pasture Improvement Means More Meat and Dairy Products.

Agencies Combine To Fight Disease

Reporting to the State on the work of the Kentucky Nutrition Committee for National Defense, the chairman, Dr. Statie Erikson of the University of Kentucky home economics department.

Kentucky's 120 counties have been mobilized in an onslaught on nutritional deficiency diseases, the first serious all-inclusive effort to meet the problem.

Aiding in the program are representatives of the Works Progress Administration, Farm Security Administration, Agricultural Adjustment Administration, the extension service of the State College of Agriculture and Home Economics, churches, women's clubs, boards of health, service clubs and other groups.

Augmenting the 14-person State committee are district and county organizations now operating to have greatly-improved school lunches, big home gardens, stocking of ponds with fish and otherwise encouraging wildlife, supplies of canned foods for winter, etc. A 2 1/2 week special "refresher" course in nutrition was given by the College of Agriculture and Home Economics Aug. 6-23 for workers in defense and staff members of Federal agencies.

The Committee's report points out that "with everyone wanting to do something practical for American defense, the better-nutrition program offers a means. By becoming strong and helping others to do so, men and women, boys and girls can render a real service at this time." The "more and better food program" was launched in the spring.

I WISH I WERE A FAIRY QUEEN

I wish I were a Fairy Queen
And lived out in the forest green,
I'd watch over the kingdom, for that's the rule.
I'd also teach the Fairy school
I'd teach them to be nimble
And bright
And how to make merry the Long dark night.

My throne would be a frogstool white
That it may be seen the darkest
Of Night.
Around it would be a mossy green rug, and soft bright cushions kept clean by Sir Bug.

A party we'd have each evening so
First all would wade in the kingdoms dute-pool.
Then the binghing bugs would turn on their lamp.
And form a circle in the grass
so damp.

The lady bugs would prepare a meal so fine.
Including wild honey and dew
drop wine.

After the dinner the fairies would sing.
The jar flies banjo would also ring.
Then they'd form a circle, and merrily play
And entertain me until the light of day.

and live out in the forest green
I do wish I were a Fairy
Queen

And lived out in the Forest green.

Home-Used Produce Worth $512 A Year Farm Survey Shows

A survey made by the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics in southwestern counties of the state showed that home-produced products were worth an average of $512 a farm a year, when retail prices were used.

For 107 farms, the average value of products used from the farm, figured at farm prices, was: milk and milky products, $73; pork, $103; poultry, $32; other meats, $4; eggs, $19; fruits and vegetables, $80; fuel, $4; house rent, $196. The value of food alone furnished the family was $312.

In terms of nutrients, these values mean approximately 720 gallons of milk, 1710 pounds of pork, 182 pounds of poultry, 47 pounds of beef and mutton, and 127 dozens of eggs.

The report adds: "The more profitable farmers used more farm-produced products in the home than did all farmers. By doing this they have more money to return to their farm business because of the lowering of purchased foods. The larger the farm the greater the value of the home-produced products. This is due to having more people on the farm to feed. The economic advantage gained from using home-produced products is sufficient to justify considerable labor toward getting ample food-stuff from the farm."

Many Rockcastle county farmers made seedlings of alfalfa during August.

Baptist Church To Have Revival

Revival services at the Brodhead Baptist Church will begin Monday evening, September 1st, at 7:30 p. m. under the leadership of Rev. David E. Weaver, evangelist, and Rev. and Mrs. Harlan McGinnis, who will be in charge of the music.

Brother Weaver, a native of Canada, is a graduate of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary of Louisville, and was a student also at the Bible Institute of Los Angeles. For the last ten years he has been the successful pastor of the Pleasant Grove Baptist Church, near Louisville. Under his splendid leadership all phases of the work have gone forward, so that today the church is the strongest it has ever been. Brother Weaver was selected by the Board of School of the Southern Baptist Convention to promote the Vacation Bible School work in Kentucky because of his progressive work in this field of Bible teaching. He is loved by his church as few pastors are.

Brother McGinnis, who will be assisted by his wife in leading the music, will also have charge of children's meetings each afternoon after the services. His talented young musician son is a graduate of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. His few students in Georgetown, where his wife was graduated last June, Brother McGinnis is pastor of the Day Run Baptist Church near Georgetown. Brother McGinnis was formerly a member of the W.H.A.S. staff in Louisville. He has consecrated his life to the altar of sacrifice for the Lord Jesus Christ and has been blessed in his work for the Savior wherever he has gone.

Friends within driving distance of Brodhead are cordially invited to attend these services. Rev. Warren Filkin is the pastor.

It looks like a xylophone but it's a row of Bren gun barrels being reloaded in a Toronto munition plant. Canada which made the weapons of this kind before the war now possesses a factory that has the largest output of any automatic gun plant in the world. Many of the workers in the plant are women and they have proved themselves to be adept in this kind of employment. All the requirements of the Canadian armed forces are being met by this one factory and large numbers of Bren guns are being supplied to Great Britain. For these guns and many other munitions required by Great Britain, Canada is finding much of the money. During Canada's present fiscal year, the Dominion expects to finance British war purchases in Canada to the extent of $1,500,000,000, which is equal to $25,000,000 in terms of American population and income. The Canadian taxpayers are providing the cash.

Ky. 4-H Club News

Kermit and Wilmer Holmes of Hamilton county, expecting 50 to 100 bushels to the acre from two acres of hybrid corn. Many Hamilton county boys and girls have fall gardens from which they expect big returns.

While visiting the Cincinnati zoo, members of the Owen County Utopia Club thought of the monkeys and of them. County Agent William Kleiser says the animals sat on rocks in the shade and laughed at the perspiring youths.

Escoe Perry, president of the Bell County 4-H Club Association, sold $56.00 worth of monkeys from his garden project, and has 19 bushels in storage. His second garden includes beans, fomatos, cantaloupes, peppers and cushaws.

Approximately 1,400 club members, parents and friends attended a picnic, sponsored by the Kenton County 4-H Conservation Council. Among the speakers was Burt Monroe, president of the League of Kentucky Sportsmen.

WINTER STORAGE 3

The best way to store the "cool" vegetables for the winter is to bury them in "pits" or "hills". This is not new to Kentuckians, as they have been storing their potatoes, cabbage and the like this way for years.

However, sometimes, the potatoes "grow out of the top" and sometimes spoilage occurs. This results from a combination of excessive heating and "sweating" in the pit. Sometimes, the cause of heating is that the pit is placed where it

4-H Counties May Send 4-H Judges To State Fair

Plans are being made to accommodate members from about 100 counties in the livestock judging contests at the Kentucky State Fair. The champion fat stock team will receive the Bourbon Slogk Yards trophy and represent Kentucky in a national contest in Chicago. The champion dairy cattle team will go to the National Dairy Show in Memphis, and receive the Swing Von Althen trophy, and the best poultry judging team will receive the Kentucky Poultry Improvement Association trophy and judge poultry at the State Fair.

Members of 4-H clubs will exhibit dairy cattle, hogs, sheep and poultry at the State Fair. In the Grandstand building will be the usual 4-H club displays of clothing, canned and baked goods, refinished furniture, potatoes, and corn. Cash prizes will total $900.

There also will be judging contests and crop exhibits by members of Utopia clubs.

The general exhibits of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics will be found in the Grandstand building.

SLANTS

Every town, small or large, is measured by the people who come there to trade by the activities of the season within that town. Some towns try to cater to their tradespeople, while others feel that these farmers would come to town anyway, and that any form of advertising would be a waste of money.

The next few months mean considerable for Mt. Vernon for several big events are in the offing. Next Monday is Labor Day, and thousands of dollars will be spent. Every year several thousand will stop over to see the Renfro Valley fair. This week end should see many dollars dropped into the laps of merchants here, that ordinarily would not. On October 10-11, the School and Agricultural Fair will be held at the High School. This year's fair features 287 cash prizes, and more than five thousand people are expected to witness the activities. Exhibits. The week of October 20 will undoubtedly be the biggest in the history of Mt. Vernon, for the State Hunt will be held at Renfro Valley, and nobody will be able to forecast the size of that crowd. Some say ten thousand and others twenty thousand, but there is no question that an immense throng will witness the event. Remember this, not for one day, but for the entire week.

We mention these events to show that thousands of dollars can be brought into a town, and this money helps everybody.

The city that works hard to keep things moving is a big town. A live town is a good business town. The Commercial Club, Rotary and Woman's Club are organizations that try to keep this town going. Many will tell you that these clubs are no good whatsoever to a town. These people are the ones who think only of themselves, and will never be boosters for community enterprise.

Nobody can forecast the future, but it is a certainty that the town whose people are pulling together have a much brighter future, than the community whose business men will not co-operate.

Cities around us are fighting for business, tooth and toe-nail. This week Somerset had a big bargain day with all merchants co-operating. Richmond announced last week that a factory had been secured, which will start building operations at once. Danville is working hard to lure government factories. London is also busy seeing what can be done to get a factory located there.

A concentrated effort in Mt. Vernon would mean that this little city was also on the lookout for a factory, and natural advantages here makes this an ideal location. Now is the time to be thinking about such improvements, but two or three men can't get the job done. If you feel that a factory would help Mt. Vernon, start talking to your neighbor.

SHEEP MEETING

Saturday, August 30, at 1:30 in the Court House in Mt. Vernon, was the time for all the sheep raisers to sign up for their sheep in the Sheep Growers Protective Association. The success of this organization depends upon all the sheep growers coming into it with a true cooperative spirit. In this way we can solve the dog problem with our sheep.

THRASHING DEMONSTRATION

The farmers thrashing machine is to return to the Berea Experiment Station Field for another thrashing demonstration on Thursday, August 14 at 9:30 a. m. The County Agent just had a letter from Mr. J. L. McKittrick, Extension Agricultural Engineer, stating that this small thrashing machine will return to Berea to thrash the wheat on the Berea Experiment plots, and other grain and

In Our Community. Speakers from Ohio, Illinois and Kentucky will present these subjects to the farmer.

NOTICE—TOBACCO GROWERS

There seems to have been a misunderstanding on the part of farmers in the signing and returning a postal card sent to them by the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association. These cards were sent out to the tobacco growers who once belonged to the Burley Cooperative Association asking them to sign and return to the Association at Lexington for the purpose of getting the old chart renewed for future use if necessary. The signing of this card carries no responsibility on the part of the farmer except to indicate to the Board of Directors of the Burley Cooperative Association that the tobacco grower is in favor of the association and its charter renewed.

All farmers interested in signing one of these cards and returning it to the Burley Growers Cooperative Association can get the card at the County Agent's Office. The farmer only has to sign this card, put a stamp on it and return it to the Association. This association has a great deal to do with farmers getting loans on their Burley tobacco therefore, it may be necessary to retain the association has now set up for the purpose of future credit.

Baptist Church

By Rev. W. C. Younce

In these days when the call of pleasure is loud and insistent, we urge our people to "Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy." The highway, the automobile, the field, and a thousand other places offer much to gratify the lust of the flesh, but they cannot and will not satisfy the deep longings of the soul and furnish hope for the future. Nothing can take the place of the service of Worship and praise.

Sunday Services

Sunday School—9:45 a. m. Lesson: "The Test of a Christian"—1 John 3:13-18; 4:7-21. Victory over Sin. Faith in Christ, Hate and Love are the high points in the lesson. Sunday 10:15 a. m. We are reminded of the words of Jesus, "Will ye also go away?"

Morning Worship—11 o'clock. Sermon: "Encouraged to realize the security and blessedness of the Christian life."

Afternoon—Sunday School Conference at Mt. Zion Church, 2 o'clock. Sermon: "Encouraged to realize the security and blessedness of the Christian life." Every Sunday School worker in the Churches of our association is urged to attend this meeting. An interesting program is promised. Brethren Mahan and Filkin prepared the program for this occasion. Let those concerned pass the word on to others.

Training Union—6:30 p. m. Lesson: "The Good Shepherd's need for good Under-Shepherds." Present last Sunday 88. Everyone is urged to attend this service. COME.

Evening Worship—7:30 o'clock. Sermon: "Cheered with the prospects of the Ultimate Victory."

Prayer Service—8:00 o'clock. In these days when people are more interested in earthly things, greater effort must be put forth by the faithful. The Wednesday night prayer service will afford an unusual opportunity to strengthen ourselves for the task.

We want to thank the young people who carried on the service on August 20th and the deacons who had charge of the meeting, August 27th.

In the language of Nehemiah we want to urge our people to "Remember the Lord, which is great and terrible, and fight for your brethren, your sons, and your daughters." The quarterly meeting of the W. M. U. of Rockcastle Association will be held at Livingston Baptist Church next Wednesday, Sept. 3. All the women of our churches are urged to attend this service. The meeting will begin at 10:00 a. m.

Plain Facts About Kentucky Education

W. P. King, Secretary of the Kentucky Education Association, Louisville, Kentucky, released the following statement concerning schools in Kentucky: Many of the schools in Kentucky opened in July for a seventh month term. There are approximately one-half of the schools in the state that have only a seven months term of school. The others run generally from eight to nine months. In other words, the children who go to school nine months in the year for the eight consecutive years, have a total in school of 72 months, while those who go only seven months per year have only 56 months.

The average salary for county teachers is $11 per year. For teachers in the cities—$1286 per year, and for other independent districts $837 per year. There are eight teachers in Kentucky who receive less than $50 per year and 2388 who receive less than $50 per year—or $8.75 per week on a 52 week basis. Does anyone wonder that Kentucky is in the "forties" in all the rating agencies on education?

There are just two explanations in a situation like this. Either the teacher is poorly trained or else is giving only part time to the work of teaching, or both. And either is bad enough. And this is no fault of the teachers. No more faithful nor professionally loyal group can be found.

in any state. All they need to be given a fighting chance. The great inequalities in assessments, property values, and taxing procedures lie back of this tragic condition. The counties which have only seven months of school are nearly all taxing themselves all the law allows, and the state's aid to schools has to be given on the fifty-year old per capita basis. Obviously counties with little wealth have no sufficient revenue to operate adequate schools. For example, one county has a property value of $10,162, but only 40 per cent of the school census, while another county has $322 behind each pupil. The same range of difference prevails in the independent districts.

Some means must be found to equalize the advantages for our children. A part of the state's effort should be made on the basis of needs and in recognition of the whole state program as a plan to treat all our citizens as nearly equal as possible.

Campaign Continues For Better Gardens

Further plantings of vegetables for fall and winter gardens is suggested in a statement from the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Green beans, lettuce, radishes, mustard and kale are among the garden crops that will give returns yet this season, if the weather is favorable. The Seven Top is the suggested variety of turnips for greens. Purple Top and White Globe for table turnips; White or Rose Chinese or any other early radish; Siberian kale, and Grand Rapids or New York kale.

The United States Department of Agriculture at Washington continues to stress the importance of gardens in the national defense program. Farmers and all others having garden space are urged to plan extensive plantings for next season.

It should include proper care of the soil through the winter. As a result of a state-wide campaign, conducted through the extension division of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, gardeners were exceptionally large and productive in Kentucky during the spring and early summer. Plantings also were heavy for fall gardens, but with seriously damaged late crops in parts of the state.

Heaviest traffic today needs highways like this

Your concrete highways have served this state well, and will serve it for years to come. But wider, more modern roads are needed on some routes because traffic has outgrown the facilities provided many years ago.

National planning surveys are under way to determine the volume of traffic carried by various roads. The order in which they should be improved, where divided-lane, bypass or relief highways are needed.

Where grade separations and modernizing are required. The next step in sound highway development is to act on the facts revealed by these surveys—concrete, grade-separated, and engineering skill on doing "first things first" for highway users.

Game & Fish News

Frankfort, Kentucky By James J. Gilpin

Frankfort, Ky.—The report on the Division of Game and Fish which David A. Logan, State Auditor, made recently, tells rather pointedly about the job the Division has done since the new personnel took over last December. In his report to Governor Johnson, Logan urged that more "Conservation Officers be hired." The auditor's recommendations were based on the expectation of increased revenue for the boosting of state-wide hunting license fees from $1 to $3. "For the proper enforcement of all laws governing the conservation of wildlife throughout the state," Logan said, "the number of wardens now employed is insufficient." He reported that the division employed 57 wardens, part-time and full-time, for the fiscal year which ended June 30. Logan commended the Division for discontinuing the issuance of complimentary licenses to residents, a policy he had criticized previously. He said complimentary short-time licenses might still be warranted in some of other states. Logan's report also lauded the division for reductions in salaries and traveling expenses and for revoking 850 volunteer game warden commissions. The report stated that none of the commissions had been called in since 1925 and "many of these had fallen into hands of persons using them for their own personal advantage and gain." When S. A. Wakefield was promoted to the directorship of the Division of Game and Fish, the latter part of December, 1940, he found 50 out-standing bills and claims amounting to $17,000 more than his bank balance. At the end of the fiscal year, June 30, the bank balance was $19,371. And all bills and claims had been paid.

In six months' time, Wakefield's policy of living within the Division's income and creating a backlog against periods of diminishing income, has resulted in putting an amount of $27,000 on the right side of the ledger. For the fiscal year the Division had receipts of $193,377 and expenditures of $182,806, the first time in three years it had a balance at the close of the fiscal period. Frankfort, Ky.—A 95-pound blue channel catfish was caught recently in the Tennessee River at the Rainey T. Wells camp near Murray, Ky. It was caught by Lee Warren Fox, son of sheriff and Mrs. Ira Fox, and Carman Yarborough, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Yarborough, according to information received by S. A. Wakefield, Director of the Division of Game and Fish. It took the boys about 25 minutes to land the fish after hooking it.

NEWS AND FACTS . . . of Statewide Interest

$1,234,164 Is a Lot of Money!

Every year, the State of Kentucky receives more than one million dollars in taxes and other revenue from Kentucky's legal beer industry. The 1940-41 fiscal year was no exception. During this period, Kentucky's beer industry, alone, contributed $1,234,164.49 to the State Treasury! This money goes into the State's General Fund, from which it is disbursed for various purposes. It helps to pay State obligations—helps keep your taxes lower than they would otherwise be. For, without the brewing industry's tremendous contribution, every citizen in the State would have to dig deeper into his own pocket to defray the costs of State and local government. Through its Self-Regulation program, the Kentucky Beer Industry is endeavoring to preserve these benefits for Kentuckians.

Frankfort, Ky.—The Conservation Officers of the Division of Game and Fish made 9 arrests and received 5 convictions during the month of July. The officers also checked 998 fishing licenses and confiscated a large amount of contraband.

Frankfort, Ky.—A warning was issued today by S. A. Wakefield, Director of the Division of Game and Fish to all hunters NOT TO HUNT DOVES until the federal regulations on open seasons for that game bird are received and published in Kentucky papers.

Last year the open season on doves began September 1 and ended October 31. Thus far this year the Division of Game and Fish has not received any information from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service as to when the dove season will open or when the Duck season will begin. All regulations on Migratory Waterfowl are made by the Federal Government and adhered to by state departments of Game and Fish. Any person hunting doves before the season officially opens is liable to become involved with some federal court. Wakefield suggests that all game birds be hunted and not doves until the regulations are received from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. He stated that as soon as the information is received by the Division of Game and Fish, news releases would be sent to every paper in the state.

Mr. Miracle is an employee of the Frigidate Co. Co. at Dayton. Cigarette tobacco and making hay is in progress at this time in this county. Mrs. Stella Gattiff, has gone to Indiana to see her husband, Mr. William Gattiff. He was hurt with a piece of steel working on the railroad. It was necessary for him to be taken to the hospital. Mrs. Roscoe Dalton and daughter, Mrs. Sam Stanley and Mr. Stanley all of Dayton Ohio visited W. C. Viars. Mrs. Dalton's brother over the week end and attended Renfro Valley Barn Dance and enjoyed it very much and planned to be back soon. Mrs. W. H. Linville is some better at this writing.

Whitley county farmers shipped 110 tons of potatoes to city markets, comparatively, as well as selling small amounts locally.

Leaky Ponds Treated

Earnest L. Janes, agricultural agent in Clark county, assisted farmers in applying soda-ash in an effort to stop seepage in ponds. At the farm of A. H. Stephenson 256 pounds of soda-ash were applied to one pond with an area of 758 square yards, and 90 pounds to another pond with an area of 266 square yards. The material was used at the rate of one pound to three square yards. Other farmers using soda-ash included W. R. Sphar, George Lewis and H. C. Besuden.

Eggs From Gulls Cost $3 A Dozen

When the agricultural agent in Carroll county, Kentucky, held a culling demonstration at the farm of Charles Ennis near Worthville, he removed 31 hens that showed indications of being poor layers. Two days later Mr. Ennis reported that the culls, penned to themselves, devoured $3 worth of feed for every dozen eggs laid by them.
