Birthday Dinner For S. E. Hillard

75th Milestone Reached By Well-Known Citizen

It is every man's ambition to reach a ripe old age, to have children of which to be proud and to have relatives in which these children and relatives can participate. This goal was reached by Sidney E. Hillard, of Mt. Vernon last Monday, September 1, for on this date he attained the age of seventy-five years, and in honor of the event his children, brothers and sisters, and other relatives and friends gathered at his home to do him honor.

At the noon hour a special was spread outdoors that would have done justice to a king's table. The festive board liberally graced with heaping platters of golden brown fried chicken, tender ham, roast beef, and all the trimmings that make these dishes complete. For dessert cake and pie was served.

A beautiful cake prepared by Mr. Hillard's children and inscribed with the words "Happy Birthday" was presented to the happy father. Many other gifts were given to the celebrant, and he commented that "old age was not so bad as I had heard."

Those who attended the event were: B. H. Hillard and wife; Cincinnati; Mrs. John Meadows and husband, M. Vernon; G. F. Hillard wife, Livingston; S. F. Hillard wife, Covington; Mrs. Hillard's children of Mt. Hillard.

Brothers and sisters who attended were: Mrs. E. L. Angel, McKee, Ky.; Mrs. Eliza Hillard, Annville, Ky.; Bradley Hillard and wife, Annville; and Mrs. Mary E. Hillard, Mt. Vernon. Grandchildren, Earl Hillard and wife, Cincinnati; O. Raymond Hillard, Gary Junction, Cincinnati; and Mrs. Hillard, Livingston. Nephews and nieces: James Hillard and wife, Wolf Creek, Lee County; and two children: Bayson, G. Jess, Anna Parrott, Ky.; Walter Smith, wife and children, Parrott, Ky.; Anna Angel and Linda Ray Angel of Parrott, Mrs. R. Elliott, Clifford Elliott of Mt. Vernon; Jaunita, Nina Jean, Resaly Hillard, of Covington; Dorothy Lynch, and two children Covington; Ruben Elliott, wife and three children, Conway. Great-grandchildren, Jerry Hillard, Cincinnati.

Visitors were Clara Houser, Cincinnati; Rev. W. S. Younce, wife and two children; Ernest Bullock, Hamp Bullock of Mt. Vernon; James Fisher, Green McCullough, Hamilton, O.; Leonard Davis, Mrs. Harp and daughter and W. L. Simpson of Mt. Vernon. The visitors departed wishing Mr. Hillard many more such enjoyable occasions.

John Lunsford Hit By Rock

John Lunsford, who operates stores at Brodhead and Mt. Vernon, received a bad scalp wound last Friday evening when an unknown person hiding along the side of the road near Burr hurled a large stone from his place of concealment, which hit Lunsford on the head. The blood from his wound prevented the injured man from immediately seeing who his assailant was, but he shot several times at the fleeing figure. Later officers went to the scene, and blood was noticed on the grass.

Lunsford had been to Brush Creek to visit Ed Burdette and while there he picked up Ed Hamilton, who wanted to ride to Burr. The rock was thrown about five hundred yards from the highway, and Lunsford was driving. The rock came through an open window.

Motive for the strange attack can not be determined and the whereabouts of the rockthrower have not been located by officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hammonds were visiting in Junction City last week.

Mrs. George Payne and Mrs. Ben Bray were called to Covington, last Wednesday on account of the serious illness of their sister, Mrs. W. R. Allen. Reports coming from Mrs. Allen say she is improving.

Bad Wreck Occurs On Main Street

Early Wednesday morning a bad wreck on Main Street occurred when a car driven by Jim Bob Roby collided with an auto from Indiana. The Indiana car was coming up highway 25 headed north and had reached Fred Baker's garage, when the Roby auto coming off highway 150, made the turn and collided with the Indiana vehicle.

The Indiana car was damaged badly and Roby's machine also incurred a smashed fender and other damage. The occupants were unhurt.

Sorghum Blending At Waynesburg

Co-op Now Has Barrels Ready To Distribute

The directors of the Rockcastle County Sorghum Co-operative met recently and decided that due to the cost of erecting a building and also a bluing plant that it would be best this year to use the facilities of the Waynesburg plant located in Lincoln county. The directors of the Lincoln county organization agreed to co-operate by letting Rockcastle farmers use their plant at a very reasonable charge.

The sorghum will be trucked to Waynesburg in barrels and the blending, packaging and selling will be done by the members of the co-operative at the Broadway Chevrolet Co. where they are stored.

It is estimated that 5000 gallons of sorghum will be manufactured here, which will mean at least $3000 to Rockcastle farmers.

The Waynesburg Co-operative will be one of the best in the State, as farmers and business men of this community all worked to make it a success. It was financed by the business representative and was given for the building and members gave their labor to help erect the plant. It is expected that 10,000 gallons of sorghum will be made this year, which will mean at the amount next year. In a few years this small community will have a cash income of over $20,000, from a new crop that formerly brought only a few dollars.

Next year the Rockcastle county should endeavor to build a plant here, so the project will be a home enterprise.

Lambert Denies Carter's Petition

On August 23, 1941, J. H. (Jim) Lambert, the Republican nominee for County Judge, filed an answer and counterclaim to Chas. C. Carter's petition. Carter's petition charges that Lambert violated the Corrupt Practice Act in that it accuses Lambert of promising to return to the county a certain part of his salary, in the event that he was elected. To this allegation, Lambert denies that he promised to return or give back to the county any part of the salary in the event he should be elected. Lambert admits that he advocated economy in government, but denies that he or any one in his behalf with his knowledge and consent, promised to the voters that he would give back any part of the salary, either by word of mouth, circulars, hand bills, or in the Mt. Vernon Signal. Lambert further denies that he promised to serve as County Judge of Rockcastle County for the sum of $10,000 per month.

"The defendant states affirmatively that he at no time before said primary election, or at any other time, made any promise either oral or written that if elected or nominated, he would return any part of the salary he would receive as judge to Rockcastle County or to any one else.

"The defendant denies that he conspired with any one of his friends or workers, or in direct violation of the Corrupt Practice Act, or to bribe or intimidate any voter or voters for the purpose of procuring their votes."

Record Crowd At Renfro Valley

Five Shows Necessary To Handle Overflow

Visitors from twenty states converged on Renfro Valley last Labor Day week end, and it would have taken three armies to handle the immense crowd, which occupied all available space surrounding Renfro Valley. Six shows were held including matinees Saturday and Monday. The Saturday night shows terminated at 5:00 a. m. and the last performance was played to a packed house.

All hotels, tourist homes and rooming houses were filled early and overflowed. The fills also reported capacity business. Many people slept in their cars, as lodging was not available.

The scene Saturday evening at Renfro Valley reminded one of a circus day. Crowds were in a holiday mood, and even though some knew they would have to wait six or eight hours to see the show, they had made up their mind to wait all night if necessary. The hamburger stands across from the lodge averaged at least ten hamburgers a minute, and enough soft drinks were sold to have flooded the entire valley. The lodge was jammed from six o'clock Saturday afternoon until six the next morning. The owner of a grocery store said he sold completely out of meat and could have sold 300 pounds more. One filling station proprietor said he sold more gasoline last week than he had sold the rest of the month. Yes, his business was certainly good.

More than ten thousand people visited Renfro during the week end, and 4500 "paid" admissions to the shows were reported. Renfro Valley is by far the biggest boon this community ever had, and at the present time is one of the widest advertised attractions in the State of Kentucky. More improvements are planned at this popular show place, and its fame will soon be spread throughout the nation. Everybody in the county should take pride in Renfro Valley, for a Rockcastle boy burned many gallons of kerosene, oil, and tilled long and hard in order that his present day standard of perfection might be attained.

Watch Your Date For Expiration

As all our subscribers know The Signal is cash in advance. Each month notice is sent to all whose subscription will expire next month. In other words when you get a notice, it does not mean you owe us anything, but is just a reminder that your paper will expire the first of October. You have a month in which to pay.

When we are not notified that your name is wanted your subscription is discontinued. Sometimes a good friend of ours whom we know personally neglects to come to the pay, and his paper is stopped. Often these persons get mad because their Signal is discontinued. We try to be fair to everyone, and whether you are a friend of ours or not if your paper becomes due and we are not notified that you want it, you can be certain it will be stopped.

The rising cost of producing a newspaper makes it absolutely necessary that all pay as promptly as possible. If you live in the country, and are unable to get to town, drop us a card, telling us you will pay within a few weeks. Sometimes this privilege is abused, and we have carried a few persons six months without hearing from them. Our most valued subscribers are those who really want the paper, even though they are hard-pressed financially, manage to pay small amounts until the $1.50 is paid. Look at your date this week and if you owe, come in and see us.

Livingston To Have Big Day

Speaking, Prizes, Band Other Entertainment

Our sister city of Livingston, which is known as one of the most cooperative towns in Kentucky, are having a bargain day, Saturday, September 6th, and practically all the merchants are co-operating to make the day a success.

On the Livingston page will be found a large ad that tells of some of the bargains and all the business men listed will have other bargains which they will offer for this day only.

The Mt. Vernon School Band will play a concert at 2:30, and at 2:30 a speech will be made on "Shall We Go To War." A poll will be taken among the spectators on this important question that confronts all-Americans.

Immediately after the speaking $5.00 merchandise will be given away by the Lions Club. Dr. R. G. Webb is giving a $1.00 to the oldest person present. A year's subscription to the Mt. Vernon Signal will be given the couple most recently married. W. L. Simpson is donating a dollar to the winner of the rolling pin throwing contest, for ladies only. Somebody has suggested that we use some married men as a throw-away for the ladies, and this will be done if we can get some male who is brave enough to take the risk. Most of 'em are expert dodgers.

Lots of fun should be had by everybody, and a large crowd is expected.

Race's Shop Doing Nice Business

The Peaceful Sweet Shop which was recently purchased by Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Race, Liberty, is enjoying a steady increase in business and they were here over Labor Day week end. The race traveled extensively as a professional pianist, taught music and school. For the past three years and at the present time he owns and operates a successful "Dime Store" business in Liberty, Ky.

The Signal welcomes and joins their host of friends in wishing them success.

Entire Hospital Feed Bill Entered Pennington

Reports coming from him state that he is slowly improving.

Shower

Miss Geraldine and Wathylene Fairchild were hostesses at a shower at their home Tuesday, August 26th, honoring Mrs. Warren Carpenter. Twenty friends enjoyed the afternoon and presented Mrs. Carpenter with many nice gifts. Refreshments of punch and wafers were served.

Gordon Graham spent last week in Waynesburg with his son, Mrs. Theodore Stokes and family.

Henry LeBesque Jr. of Newark, N. J. and his mother, Mrs. Henry LeBesque of Lexington spent Tuesday with her brother Mr. and Mrs. Russell Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. William Peyton and family of Dayton, Ohio spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Peyton.

Large Catfish Caught In Herrington Lake

A. L. and Amos Owen, who live near Burr, caught a 29 lb. yellow catfish in Herrington Lake Wednesday morning, and the giant fish was shown to an admiring audience on the street here.

The fish was caught on a trot line, and the boys thought they had a young whale. This is one of the few big fish caught at the Lake this summer, as most fishermen have reported bad luck.

County Teachers Dine At Renfro

Seventy-five Present To Enjoy Feast

The cares of the teaching profession were thrown aside last Friday evening and the rural teachers of this county enjoyed a banquet served in the large dining room at Renfro Valley.

Besides the teachers, several guests were present and an excellent program had been arranged by the program committee.

Several interesting games were played and the entire gathering made a most enjoyable occasion. Mrs. Hazel Riddle received a prize for getting the most autographs of Rockcastle teachers. One of the games that aroused the most interest was a quiz in which the correct answers were given in answer. The men stood the ladies, and managed to win by one point.

Mrs. Ed Banks presided as toastmaster and she handled the situation very well. Several guests made short talks, including Dr. M. Pennington, who told the group of his plan for a community house to be located near Clinch. W. L. Simpson spoke on the School Act and Rev. W. A. Fite made a short address.

Mr. W. B. Sigmon was introduced and this gentleman has been teaching in Rockcastle schools for 48 years. He told of many interesting experiences garnered during his many years in the teaching profession. His talk was very much enjoyed by Myrtle Bryant, superintendent, spoke briefly.

Such a gathering has a distinct advantage, for it brings a fine group of teachers together for a social gathering and this leads to know one another better. This affair should be an annual event.

Vandals Burn Little Rock

Fine Rural School Totally Destroyed

The Little Rock rural school, one of the best in the county was burned by a fire ground Tuesday evening by a group of persons unknown. The light from the fire was seen in Mt. Vernon by Ed Payne, night watchman, and he gave the time at 12:30 a. m.

The Signal is taught by Lucille Hysinger and Della Mac Scroggins and the enrollment this year is sixty pupils.

The building is located five miles from Mt. Vernon near the old Brodhead place. The road leading to the school is inaccessible for a car, and it is thought that the ones who set fire to the building, must have come on foot. Bloodhounds were brought to the scene Wednesday afternoon, and as we go to press, the result of their findings have not been determined.

The building was valued at $3000.00 and was not insured. It is planned to resume teaching in the Rose Hill Church, which is located one mile from the school.

Miss Mable Sears of Ft. Thomas and Miss Rosemary Cummins of Covington spent the week end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Cummins. They visited friends in Pittsburgh and London Sunday.

Mr. Warren Moore is confined to his room with an injured hip.

Drive Started For School Fair

$500 Must Be Raised To Pay Premiums

Rockcastle County's sixteenth annual school fair will be held Friday and Saturday, Oct. 10-11, but it must be understood that this fair held only through the financial help of those who have the interest of the county at heart. As no admission is charged, the premium list must be contributed.

This week the finance committee started a canvass of all business houses in Mt. Vernon, and the result was anything but promising, in fact the majority felt that the cost of the fair is too heavy, and will not donate.

With this attitude it is foolish to try and finance a project that depends solely on donations to survive. Unless the farmers and other business men show more interest it is doubtful if a fair will be held next year.

The finance committee are determined, however, that a real fair will be held this year, and a thorough drive of the entire county will be made. Catalogs will be out this week end, and a fine list of premiums are being ordered.

This week we make this year's fair a success, all who possibly can are urged to contribute. Even small donations will help, and it will show that you want a school and agricultural fair, which places on exhibition the work of our school children and 4-4 Club boys and girls. After all, are the citizens of tomorrow.

This year some business firms are paying $15.00 to exhibit their articles of merchandise. Webb Electric Co., which has stores in Mt. Vernon and Livingston will have a large exhibit of electrical appliances and gas stoves. L. D. Bryant will demonstrate his fine line of international farm machinery in an outdoor exhibit. Any firms in Rockcastle county who desire space for a display are urged to get in touch with W. L. Simpson at once.

Each week until fair time the Signal will run a list of those who have donated to make this year's fair possible. The below list are all Honorary Directors and each have paid $5.00. To the people out in the country we stress the fact that these men and women are the ones who are paying the premiums, and those who are in business will appreciate your patronage.

Defense Body Seeks More Pasture Crops

In keeping with the request of Secretary of Agriculture, Claude R. Wickard, the Kentucky Agriculture Defense Board is urging farmers to expand winter pasture crops and to increase production of certain winter pasture crops.

M. D. Royle of Winchester, chairman of the board, said this action is being taken to provide a larger cash income for farmers, to produce more meat and dairy products for the national defense program, to make better use of the land and to save the soil.

Suggested crops to be seeded this fall for winter pasture include: ryegrass, winter oats, rye grass, vetch and crimson clover. For seed production, vetch, rye grass and crimson clover are recommended. The seed production offers advantages to farmers of providing a cash crop, reducing seeding costs and providing a more adequate supply of home grown seed for future use.

Additional recommendations designed to aid in securing a good stand of winter pasture crops included early seeding on a well prepared seed bed and the use of lime and phosphate.

"The use of winter pasture crops has been greatly increased in recent years," but extensive further increases are now more urgent," Chairman Royle said. "The defense emergency and increased demand for farm products makes it more important than ever that soil productivity be maintained and improved and that ample feed and food be available."

Dairy Gattie Show Feature 4-H Fair

The dairy cattle show was a feature of the annual 4-H club district fair at Lexington. Boys and girls in 10 counties sent Jerseys and Holsteins. In the county group class, placings were in this order: Carroll, Marion, Anderson, Jefferson, Fayette, Mercer, Carroll, Anderson and Owen. Campbell county was at the top of the Holstein show, followed by the counties in this order: Jefferson, Shelby, Shelby, Jefferson.

John Kalmey of Jefferson county had the senior and grand champion Holstein and Alice Beck of Campbell county the junior champion. In the big Jersey show, Kenneth Young of Jefferson county carried off the senior and grand champion honors and William Cook of Carroll county the junior champion. William Peterson of Marion county was the best showman of the dairy judging. Highest honors in the stock judging contest went to Bourbon county.

Championships at the district fair were awarded as follows: Rema McCabe of Woodford county, poultry; Mary K. Ewbank, Gallatin county, sheep; Kendall J. Keller, Bourbon county, beef cattle; Monroe Miller, Jefferson county, swine; Nancy Stiles, Fayette county, fods; Sylvia Morgan, Oldham county, clothing; and Charleen Burris, Bourbon county, canning.

Livingston county farmers have increased their poultry production approximately 25 percent, in response to defense needs.

Heberding has zoomed to aviation honors. Former president of the O. S. U. Avion Club, she presented Miss Jacqueline Cochran a special University cup during Miss Cochran's Columbus visit last spring. "Flying has always seemed natural for me," Miss Heberding said. "Two of my brothers are pilots—guess it's just an old Heberding habit! It's fun to fly! And, another thing, if it weren't for that Army regulation excluding women from the U. S. Air Force, I'd try to be right up there carrying for Uncle Samuel. Oh well! Maybe later—who knows? I'm sure there's fun and action in the Army Air Force. That man at the Army recruiting station will tell you about it. Let's go, Fifth Corps Area, Keep 'Em Flying," beams the Queen.

Fall Hatched Chicks Have Many Advantages

The farmer who takes advantage of good egg-prices prospects by raising fall-hatched pullets of improved breeding, in addition to his laying flock next spring, will be helping his country as well as himself, says a statement from the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Egg Sam wants eggs for national defense food, and this demand is expected to maintain egg prices at profitable levels for at least two years.

Fall-hatched chicks will increase the size of a farm flock at a time (in spring) when culling and winter losses may have reduced the number of layers by as much as 25 percent. Fall raising also provides more pullets without additional brooding equipment and makes more efficient use of buildings, equipment, and labor.

Experiments have shown that well-managed fall-hatched pullets give satisfactory egg production. Egg weight does not come up to normal as early as it does with spring hatched pullets, but these smaller eggs are produced at a time when the price differential between pullet eggs and large eggs is relatively small.

Farmers are advised to purchase chicks for fall brooding from hatcheries having a sound breeding program, such as those cooperating in the National Poultry Improvement Plan, a cooperative effort to improve flocks under the supervision of official State agencies and the United States Department of Agriculture.

Farmers Make 8 Percent In 1940

Eighty-two farmers in Union and Henderson counties, Kentucky, made an average of 83 percent on an average investment of $20,679 in 1940, says a report of the State College of Agriculture and Home Economics, which an analysis was made of the farmers' account books. Average cash sales per farm were $4,277, and the average cash expenses were $2,512, leaving a cash income of $1,765.

Simon Rice, Perry county 4-H'er, owns a sow that farrowed 45 pigs, 11 of which lived. Adam Kalb, Bracken county, sold his fruit and apple crop by putting up a roadside stand.

4-H'ers Take Lead In Defense Program

During the defense emergency, Kentucky's 4-H club youngsters are setting a record for patriotism in the following ways:

Aiding or conducting "aluminum for defense" drives, often collecting 75 percent of a county's contribution from farm folk.

Growing big home gardens, or encouraging their families to do so with their help.

Raising a pig—or a flock of poultry, or more lambs or beef and dairy cattle, to be specific—for the United States of America. This helps in the "more and better food" drive conducted by the Kentucky Nutrition Committee. Also, increased profits may be invested in defense bonds and stamps.

Eating right for better health: a full well-balanced diet so that 4-H'ers will not suffer from the nutritional deficiency diseases causing so many army rejections.

Helping stock ponds with fish, and encouraging the preservation of wildlife.

Livestock Raising Increases In Todd

While tobacco continues to be the main single source of farm income in Todd county, Kentucky, Stuart Brabant, the county agent, notes that a recent survey revealed an increase of 13 percent in sheep and 16 percent in hogs.

Miss Anna Lee and Fay Dooley of Cincinnati was here for Labor Day.

Last year was the best farm year in Todd county since 1936, the survey showed. Chief sources of income were tobacco, wheat, dairying, hogs, sheep, beef cattle, poultry and seeds. Forty-five farmers who kept records made an average of 13 percent on their investment in 1940.

Albert Elkins, a Wolfe county farmer, reports a profit of $290 from two and a half acres of potatoes. The drought, destroyed 90 percent of the spring grass seedings in Scott county.

Many farmers primed tobacco in Hancock county. Several who primed last year made $1 to $3 an hour for their work.

When 140 miles of proposed lines are constructed, 90 percent of the rural areas in Pike county will have electricity.

This week marks the second year of the new war. On a bleak September morning Americans awoke to find that Hitler had sent his panzer divisions into Poland, which meant that France and England would declare war.

Today America has recruited a large army and factories are turning out armaments of warfare at a fast rate. Billions of dollars are being spent, and billions more will be spent if the war is continued.

Americans, as a whole, fail to realize the seriousness of the conflict, because the war has not been brought to our door. Stiff taxes will make many citizens realize that war costs money, and it is estimated that six million Americans will be new income tax payers next year.

The longer the war lasts, the more money will have to be spent. England is spending millions of dollars every day, and her war debt is fantastic. An all-out war is expensive.

Freedom is the birthright of all true Americans, but that freedom will not be won by cowardice and pussy-footing. The realization of the seriousness of the situation, the sooner this war will be over.

County Agent Notes

By Robert F. Spence
County Agent

Tobacco is now being cut and it soon will be time to cut corn. Every acre in Rockcastle county that has been in corn and tobacco should be seeded to a cover crop this fall. To be effective, cover crops prevent soil from washing and leaching and affords pasture this fall and next spring. To be effective, cover crops must have a good growth before winter. This means that they should be sown the early part of September and before October. The choice of cover crops to be seeded depends upon the time of seeding, fertility and the ultimate use of the crop. When the crop is to be harvested for grain, wheat and barley are the best cover crops to be used. For green manure crops, to be plowed under, a mixture of crimson clover or vetch with a small grain or rye grass is recommended. The advantages of small grain as cover crops are that the cost of seeding is generally low, they may be seeded with safety later than other cover crops or they may be harvested for grain or hauled off or permitted to fall on the ground. They have many uses therefore, they are the most commonly used cover crop.

Wheat and common rye are the most winter hardy with barley next. Barley requires a rather fertile or drained soil, wheat a middle fertility and rye will grow on soil of low fertility. The usual seeding rates of small grains are: wheat, 5 to 6 pecks; rye, 4 to 5 pecks; barley, 6 to 8 pecks; oats, 8 to 12 pecks. The cover crop is to be grazed the heavier seeding is recommended.

Italian rye grass is an excellent cover crop due to its very dense root system and prevents erosion and it ranks near the top as a pasture for livestock. The Italian rye cover crop we can recommend for over-flooded land. It does not seem to hurt it to be covered a while with water and the root system will prevent the water from washing out gullies. Rye grass should be sown the latter part of August or September, 10 to 12 pounds makes a good seeding rate.

Crimson clover and hairy vetch are the two legume cover crops. Vetch is the winter legume of viny type closely related to the common garden pea. Due to its viny growth it should have a small grain or rye grass sown with it in order to hold it up. Vetch makes an excellent green manure crop and also takes nitrogen from the air and adds to the soil.

"NAVY INTELLIGENCE"

Is it necessary to be a high school graduate in order to enlist in the Navy?
No. Navy enlistees need not be high school graduates. All applicants will be given an examination containing approximately 100 questions. A grade of 50 per cent or better on this examination is sufficient to pass the Navy educational standards. However, a high school education will be valuable to the seaman during his Navy enlistment.

If I enlist in the Navy or Naval Reserve, will I be sent to a Navy Training School?
All new recruits are sent to one of four Naval Training Stations and after a training period they are sent to Navy Trade Schools. Those recruits who pass their examinations with sufficiently high grades are sent to Navy Trade Schools where they receive regular Navy pay and free schooling valued at $15.00.

What is the greatest benefit you can expect to receive during your first term of enlistment?
It is possible to earn as much as $12 a month by the end of your first term of enlistment. These member rates cover clothing, lodging, medical and dental care are all supplied.

After I have received my term of enlistment, what benefits do I get too re-enlistment?
Depending on your rate and length of service, you can get a cash bonus up to $200 plus 40 days leave with pay.

What does the term "ash can" mean in the Navy?
An "ash can" is a slang term applied to the death charge used to destroy submarines. The average depth is 200 feet and the depth is with approximately 300 pounds of TNT and can be dropped overboard from a ship and so controlled as to explode at depths ranging from 25 to 200 feet. These are generally carried by the fast ships in the fleet, as a boat dropped from the explosion area at a depth of 25 knots or more. These "ash cans" are either rolled off the stern or shot from "y-cans" which hurl one right and one left.

A Grasshopper-Proof Crop
County Agent J. L. Miller says Korean-lespedeza scored an additional victory for farmers of Madison county when it was grasshopper-proof this season. Practically all other crops suffered from the hoppers, but lespedeza was damaged little if any. "The fact that so much early hay was destroyed by drouth and grasshoppers alike, means that Korean lespedeza will furnish a greater percentage of our hay this season than in any other year in the history of Madison county," declared Mr. Miller.

Farm News

F. H. Howard of Harlan county has rebuilt his farm in three years through the use of lime and phosphate pasture mixtures and cover crops. County Agent Gray, H. Williams says the fertility has been increased at least 50 percent.

Woodford county farmers who used sulphate of ammonia harvested a good crop of hemp. Otherwise the hemp crop was "spotted." Grasshoppers cut the tops out of plants in many fields, according to County Agent Wilmot Carter.

County Agent Russell Reynolds reports "excellent" stands of clover in Johnson county. Galen Piekleimer planned to turn red clover, after cutting three crops, and sow alfalfa. Other farmers expected to sow sweet clover for soil building purposes.

Thirty-six draft horses were a feature of the Gallatin County Fair. Other livestock exhibited included six registered flocks of sheep, registered hogs and dairy and beef cattle, all of superior breeding and quality.

Baptist Church

By Rev. W. C. Younce

The associational Sunday School Rally was held at the Mt. Zion church last Sunday afternoon. Brethren Hubbell, Eshlin, and Mahan were the principal speakers. We wish more of our brethren and sisters could have been present.

In this connection let us say that our church leaders must co-operate in an associational work if much is accomplished. Our program for the year includes every church and its leaders. Surely no one who is anxious to promote the work of Christ will be satisfied with anything less than what is called co-operation. In every phase of the work we are trying to do. We wonder sometimes if some of our people ever had a real experience of grace, being so indifferent to the church and its program. When Church members habitually attend places of amusement and revelry instead of places of praise and worship it is time to question their salvation. Our belief is that those who love our Lord and want to carry forward his work will manifest the co-operative spirit by attending our meetings.

Sunday Services

This is a mighty good time to amend our ways by attending the services on the first Sunday in September.
Sunday School—9:45 a. m. Mr. Charles Brown Suppt. Lesson: "Christian Churches in a time of Persecution—Revelation 2:11. Text: 2:10 John's Vision of Jesus; A message to persecuted Christians; Faithful unto Death certain Triumph. These are the high points in the lesson. Present last Sunday, 121. Average attendance during August, 132. Surely we will want to redeem ourselves during September.

Morning Worship—11:00 a. m. Sermon: "The New Testament Church." Training Union—Mrs. Fred Baker in charge—6:30 p. m. Theme: For September: Resisting The Devil. Present last Sunday, 60. Average attendance during August 68.

Evening Worship—7:30 p. m. Sermon: "The Supreme motive and passion in the heart of God." Those who are participating in The Calendar Fund for S. S. rooms in the basement will please bring offering to the Church Sunday morning.

We extend our deepest sympathy to brother Lige Woodall in the death of his sister.

Many will be glad to know that Mr. Fred Baker who was taken to the London hospital last week is improving and is expected to return home soon.

The enlisting period in the regular Marine Corps is for four years, or you may enlist in the Reserve for the period of the emergency with the same advantages such as pay, promotion, travel, and free education as the regulars.

Applicants after passing the recruiting Sergeant's examination will be sent to Louisville for their final examination. Those passing the examination at Louisville will be enlisted in the Marines and transferred to Fort Belvoir, South Carolina, for from 6 to 8 weeks of Military Training. Shortly after completing this training they will be granted 10 days furlough before being assigned to one of the many Marine Corps stations in duty at all Naval Stations, aboard certain ships of the Fleet, as well as in many Foreign Lands. Most Marines during their first enlistment have the opportunity to visit several of these Foreign Lands.

If you are interested in a Military career arrange to see the Recruiting Sergeant when he visits the city near your home. The Marine Corps also maintains a Recruiting Office at 432 U. S. Life Office Building, Lexington, Kentucky where any desired information may be had by writing or calling in person.

Text Of Telegrams On Navy Situation

Telegram From The Governor Of New York To Secretary Knox

There is some confusion among the young men in our state in regard to the requirements for the Naval Reserve. Will you kindly wire me the following information:

First, is it a fact a man who signs up for the regular term of four years in the Naval Reserve will be transferred to the inactive list as soon as possible after the end of the emergency? Does this mean, for example, that if the President should declare the emergency ended on July 1, 1942 or January 1, 1943, a man in the Reserve who requests transfer to the inactive list could then be transferred regardless of the fact that his term of enlistment has three years or two and a half years to run?

Second, does a young man who enlists in the Naval Reserve have the same opportunity as a man who wishes to make the Navy his career and so enlists for the full six year term? By this I mean, does he have the same opportunity to learn a trade? Does he receive the same wages? Does he have the same opportunity for promotion? Does he enjoy the same shore leave, the same medical care, and other Navy privileges?

Third, if a man who has enlisted in the Navy makes up his mind that he would like to make the Navy his career can he make application for transfer to the regular Navy?

Our boys are anxious to do their full duty to the country in this emergency but many of them have obligations or have made plans for going on with their studies after the emergency is over; and it is important to such boys to enroll if possible in a branch of the service in which they can fulfill their obligations and be returned to private life in the shortest possible time commensurate with the nation's need.

Herbert H. Lehman
Governor of New York

Telegram From Secretary Knox To Governor Of New York

I am glad to answer your telegram which I appreciate raises questions that I believe are in the minds of many of our patriotic young Americans. On June 18th I announced that all men enlisted in the Naval Reserve would be transferred to the inactive list, which means their return to private life as soon as possible after the end of the emergency. This means that if the emergency ends while a man in the Reserve still has two years or three years of his enlistment to serve that man would be returned to private life as soon as possible. This "de-mobilization program" could be put into effect. This offers the opportunity for patriotic service to many young men who, as you point out, are anxious to do their full duty but for family reasons or because of their plans for a career, prefer a flexible term of service.

Answering your second question the privileges and opportunities offered to the man in the Reserve who is seeking such a transfer are precisely the same as those offered to the man who elects to make the Navy his career, and so enlists for the full six year term. That is to say, the Naval Reserve man, just like the man in the regular Navy, can, if qualified, make his choice of any one of 45 trades and will receive the same training as the man in the regular Navy. He will receive the same pay, the same uniforms, the same good food, the same expert medical attention, the shore leaves and furloughs and the same opportunity to see the world. In a word, no distinction is made during the term of this emergency between the man in the regular Navy and the man in the Naval Reserve.

All our recruiting stations have full information on both the regular Navy and the Reserve, and any man who is seeking such a transfer will receive a cordial welcome at the station and courteous attention. I am glad you raised these important questions at this time, and I hope to be able to add that I consider today's Navy to offer an unusual opportunity for a young man to serve his country and at the same time build his future.

Frank Knox,
Secretary of the Navy.

"The Breaks of Big Sandy"

One of the Scenic Spots of Kentucky

By Tom Holland

Looking into the gorge from the lower mountain top. The path is about 200 feet wide. The tracks of the Cumberland Railroad Company, which follow the river through the mountains.

This picture was taken at a point where the river turns out of the gorge and the exceptionally good several miles down stream.

Eastern Kentucky's greatest contribution to the scenic beauty of the state is the magnificent "Breaks of the Big Sandy," located 30 miles from Pikeville into the Cumberland mountains on the Virginia border.

Recently added to Jefferson National Forest, "the Breaks" as the spot is known to East Kentuckians, is rapidly becoming an object of widespread tourist interest.

The federal government is planning an improvement program in the area which will include picnic and recreation sites. At the moment, the road leading to the top of the mountain is rather narrow, but Kentucky and Virginia have highway projects under advisement which will make the spot easily accessible.

Described simply, the Breaks is a huge gorge formed by the Russell Fork of the Big Sandy River's Levisa Fork. The river breaks through the mountain, literally. Hence the name.

Elevation at the point is about 2,800 feet. Ruggedness of the country is evidenced by the fact that Pikeville, 30 miles away, has an elevation of only 700 feet.

The Breaks is located on State Route 90, which branches off U. S. Route 59 at Shelbiana, in Pike county. Lumber roads, erected by the Pike County Fish and Game Protective Association, easily direct visitors to the spot.

Probably the most interesting view of the gorge is from a high rock located at the very top of the mountain. With little danger of falling over the cliff, a person can look straight down to the river, hundreds of feet below.

It is at this point that the government will probably establish most of the picnic and recreation sites.

By 1942, it is hoped progress as expected, the Breaks will be a full fledged tourist mecca.

Visitors will be amply rewarded for their trip even before they reach the mountain top. The rugged country is virtually untouched, affording a primitive beauty characteristic of the Cumberland mountains. It was in this same area that John Fogg, Jr. laid the setting of his famous story of the mountains, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine."

Historically, the Breaks is interesting for the part it played in a Civil War episode. The Breaks that a Confederate regiment, organized on the lower Licking, passed into Virginia, having retreated up the river and over into the Big Sandy valley, reuniting as it went, and as has often been said, making a stirring of Democratic counties in its wake.

Near the Breaks is a vast game preserve and fish rearing ponds. Eastern Kentuckians have visions, based on sound reasoning and plenty of work of a huge garden spot for tourists, hunters, and fishermen in years to come.

The "Call of the Cumberlands," they say, will be made much more inviting in the Breaks area during 1942.
