Game & Fish News

Frankfort, Kentucky

By James J. Gilpin

Frankfort, Ky.—The open season on mourning doves in Kentucky opens Sept. 11. It is closed Oct. 27. Shooting hours are from sun-up to sun-set, central standard time, while the daily bag limit is 12 birds and the possession limit is also 12. R. C. Souper, U. S. Game Management Agent, stated today.

The open seasons on doves and other migratory birds and waterfowl are set each year by the Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C., upon recommendation made by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, after thorough surveys have been made during the past winter and throughout the nesting period of all species of migratory birds, Souper explained.

A shortening of the season, said Secretary of the Interior, Harold I. Ickes, "was necessary because the status of the mourning dove was last winter found to be much worse than anticipated. The severe cold storms that killed many woodpecks and juncos in January 1940, also played havoc with the mourning dove populations in all the Southeastern and Gulf states, and the winter studies and the studies throughout the breeding range indicate that the number of these birds are still decidedly unsatisfactory."

Secretary Ickes said that in almost all areas in the southeastern states where the mourning dove is an important game species, the bird was so scarce that sportsmen, naturalists, and game administrators joined in their demand that steps be taken to give the dove better protection.

Souper, while conferring today with S. A. Wakefield, Director of the Division of Game and Fish, stated that "I have just finished making a survey on mourning dove nesting conditions (August 25, 1941) in four large peach orchards and find doves setting an egg in each orchard. I consider it biologically against game management principles to permit the shooting of mourning doves south of the Ohio River before September 16 or October 1."

Wakefield stated that the Division of Game and Fish is now making a moving picture of a dove hatching out two young birds at the home of Mr. Gill in Shelbyville, Ky., and the young birds are still in the nest

THOMAS A. MORGAN (pictured in insert), president of the Sperry Corporation, world's largest manufacturer of astronomical and marine instruments, received his early technical training in the U. S. of the modern equipped Navy Trade Schools. The Navy offers training to young men in nearly 50 different trades and vocations.

Opportunities for advancement, to learn skills of trades, for travel and adventure are identical whether a man enlists in the regular Navy or the Navy Reserves—and his pay, food, clothing, medical and dental care are the same.

August 27, 1941) and are being cared for by the parent old birds at the present time. "Kentucky dove hunters should not consider themselves so bad off," Souper stated, "because the shortening of the seasons in every state has been done in such a manner as to reduce the number of birds killed. Kentucky has 42 days of dove hunting this year while some of the other states have a much shorter season. For example Idaho's season on doves opens September 1 and extends to September 10, Illinois, September 1 to September 15. All split seasons have been limited in the southeastern states."

SLANTS

By W. L. S.

It was a revelation to the editor to see the fine spirit of co-operation shown by the merchants at Livingston at their day Saturday. Not only did they help financially, but many managed to take off from their work for a few minutes to witness the festivities and visit with friends. This is the sort of fellowship that builds business, because all patrons of our stores like to feel that the owner has a personal interest in their welfare.

As we have stated many, many times the future of Mt. Vernon rests solely in its business men. With the closing of Renfro Valley, and road construction, thousands of new dollars have been poured into this community. New homes are being built, new streets are being laid out, and all that remains to make our town an up and coming community is co-operation.

One of the tried excuses for not working or donating on community enterprises is that the merchants are "hit-up" for everything. It is queer that some of the merchants who are asked to contribute readily do so, and their names will be found as donors to any worthwhile enterprise. The ones who have been "hit-up" so many times rarely give anything, and then only a very small amount. It is fortunate, indeed, that all do not feel this way, because if they did, this community would be in a sorry state. Remember, it has been a long time since a drive was made to raise money to buy right-of-ways for Highway 25? Many really made sacrifices and gave large amounts. These same men, who are "hit-up" so many times give nothing in other words this wonderful road that is now being completed, and which gives Mt. Vernon an excellent chance of being on a permanent Highway 25 would not have been built without the co-operation of the same stand-bys who always do their part. You can take anything that has been promoted here for the last ten years and the same old story will be found. As long as the "suckers" keep on helping, it is excellent business for those who never contribute not to do so, because they get the additional revenue just the same and it never cost them a dime.

It must be stated here, that there are a few small merchants, who really are not able financially to do their part. These people would be the logical ones to donate their time and energy to further community enterprises. They could do their bit by helping raise money, distributing bills and other jobs.

We have found from long experience that when a man starts telling of how much he has given or he would readily give if he had the money, etc, that nine times out of ten he has given nothing, and that reality has many more dollars, in the bank than the majority who have kicked in.

Friendliness and fellowship not only help the business man financially, but makes him feel that he is REALLY a part of his community. Let us hope that a different feeling will soon develop here amongst all our business men, which will assure our community to advance and prosper.

price of eggs is better than it has been for several years, and from all indications it will continue to be favorable for some time.

If preparations for future eggs were not made last spring in that the pullets had sufficient green range, mash, grain and clean fresh water throughout the summer, much has already been lost but a profit is still possible by good management during the remainder of the year.

The pullets should be placed in their permanent laying quarters during the next few weeks and the following points should be kept in mind as we approach the laying season:

1. Have the laying quarters CLEAN before moving the pullets. Disinfect house, troughs with "Mey" disinfectant. Have feeders and fountains clean. If the house needs remodeling, it should be done before the pullets are housed.
2. Do not overcrowd. Overcrowding and poor ventilation are often the causes of colds and lower egg production. Allow at least one square foot space for Leghorns and 4 square feet for heavy breeds.
3. Cull the pullets when they are moved. Underfed pullets and those that lack vigor will not prove profitable under best of conditions. The County Agent will conduct a series of poultry culling demonstrations this month. Anyone interested should see him at once.
4. Feed plenty of grain and mash. The pullets will not get too fat and good weight is needed to avoid a fall molt.
5. Keep plenty of fresh water before the birds at all times. It is necessary for egg production.
6. Do not subject the birds to unnecessary treatment. Treat for lice if any are found. If it is thought that the birds have worms, examine one or two, and if they are found give a worm treatment, otherwise DO NOT TREAT THEM.
7. Keep a record book or poultry calendar this year. It is only by means of records that we know what is profitable. Underfed pullets and those that minutes each day and you may be surprised at the results you get.
8. Eggs are one of the most nutritious foods produced on the farm. Do not sell yourself short. EAT MORE EGGS.

SHEEP

STARS TURN TO MUSICALS FOR FALL SEASON PRESENTATIONS

The fall movie season promises to be a gala one for musicals. Many of your screen favorites in musical roles will be presented, including Mickey Rooney, Alan Sothern, Ian Hunter, Brian Ahearn and Alan Mowbray.

One of the early fall releases is "Lady Be Good" with Eleanor Powell, Alan Sothern, Robert Young, Red Skelton and Lionel Barrymore.

"Smiles" Through the modern love classic, will star Jeanette MacDonald, Brian Ahearn, Gene Raymond and Ian Hunter. Have the leading roles.

"The Chocolate Soldier," the musical based on Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man" promises to be one of the most interesting. It marks the debut of Rise Stevens, the Metropolitan Opera star, with Nelson Eddy in the male lead.

"Panama Hat" is the screen transition of the fast-paced Broadway musical of the same name, one of the biggest hits of recent years. In the film version, retaining all the hit songs of the original show as well as some new favorites, the cast includes Ann Sothern, George Murphy, Rags Ragland, Ben Blue and Alan Mowbray.

"Babe On Broadway" is still another promising Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer musical attraction, co-starring Mickey Rooney and Andy Hardy. This will be presented by the director-producer combination of Busby Berkeley and Arthur Freed of "Babes In Arms" and "Strike Up The Band" past successes.

Yes, it's Andy Hardy himself waving a "hello" to you and you, and one of the millions who will be seeing him on the screen in his latest Andy Hardy series "LIFE BEGINS FOR ANDY HARDY" and his new musical "Babes on Broadway."

The irrepressible Rooney, the nation's No. 1 box office attraction, is still America's typical small town lad looking at the big town in wild-eyed wonderment.

We now have a big increase in pullets on the farms over last year and we should make every effort to make the most of this opportunity. More Vitamins Needed In Diet

Drafts to the U. S. army have been found to have a high percentage of dental difficulties. Many factors may be involved, but from a nutritional angle, the need is for a diet containing plenty of vitamins A, C, D, and also calcium, phosphorus and copper.

Questions-Answers On Navy Life

What would happen if I enlisted in the U. S. Navy and became sick? You would receive the finest medical care from trained Navy doctors and surgeons absolutely free.

When can I get my first leave after I have enlisted? In a few weeks after you have completed your Recruit training period.

Who pays for my meals and care when I am first sent to a U. S. Navy Training Station? The Navy furnishes you all transportation and meals.

If I attend a Navy Trade School how many hours a week of school work will I have? Navy men in Trade Schools have seven three-hour hours of school work a week and about three hours of night watches.

Does a bluejacket have to pay for his own food and board out of his own pay? No. The Government gives you excellent food and board free.

Must my parents consent to my enlistment if I am under 21? Yes. All applicants must be at least 17 years of age and if under 21 years of age must have the consent of their parents or guardian.

How did the term "cut of his jib" originate? In the days of sailing vessels, naval officers of broad build distinguished by their jibs (type of sail). A Spanish ship had no jib, English ships had one jib and French ships usually two. The phrase was likely used to apply to men and gradually came into general usage.

If I join the U. S. Navy, will I have to buy my own uniform? No. You receive a complete outfit of uniforms free when you enlist.

What is the cost of torpedoes used by our Navy? The modern U. S. Navy torpedo costs from $6,000 to $15,000 each. They are 21 inches in diameter, are driven by a mixture of compressed air and alcohol and carry from 400 pounds to 500 pounds of explosive. Their speeds vary from 25 to 50 knots and they travel from 6,000 to 30,000 yards.

If I join the Naval Reserve, how long must I serve? Naval Reservists serve for four years. Reservists will be returned to civil life as soon as possible after the National Emergency is over, so that the term of their service may be less than 4 years.

Does the Navy offer retirement pay? Yes, it is possible for an enlisted man to receive as much as $153.73 a month in retirement pay.

The minimum age limit for enlistment in the U. S. Navy is 17. All applicants under 21 years will be required to have the consent of their parents or guardian.

One of the most popular hobbies of sailors in the U. S. Navy and Naval Reserve is that of collecting "coveys" from the bottle-tops that contain "mint" own Post Offices. Several naval aviators devote regular departments to stamp collections.

Many of the destroyers in the U. S. Navy are named in honor of enlisted men who are recognized for outstanding acts of bravery. A record of the service rendered by the individual for whom a ship is named is emblazoned on a plaque mounted on the ship and a duplicate of each plaque hangs on the wall of Luce Hall in the United States Naval Academy.

In addition to the base pay received by enlisted men in the U. S. Navy and Naval Reserve, men receive additional pay for certain types of work or honors received. For example, a seaman awarded the Distinguished Service Medal, Distinguished Flying Cross or Navy Cross, receives an extra $20 a month; an aviator receives $2 to $3 a month extra; Mail Clerks, $10 to $20 a month extra; expert rifleman or expert pistol shots, $2 more a month; sharpshooters, $1 extra per month; divers $10 to $20 extra each month, etcetera.

In Uncle Sam's Navy all seamen can buy cigarettes, candy and ice cream from the "Canteen" at practically every price.

A "bottle" in the U. S. Navy is called a "Bottle." He is ranked as an Apprentice Seaman and receives $21 a month besides board, clothing and equipment. After four (4) months he automatically becomes a Seaman second class and his pay is raised to $36 a month.

There are four (4) Naval Training Stations where Naval recruits are trained before going aboard ship or to the office of the Trade Schools. They are at Newport, Rhode Island; Great Lakes, Illinois; Norfolk, Virginia; and San Diego, California.

The days of sleeping in the swinging hammock are over, as far as the majority of Uncle Sam's sailors are concerned. Most of the new ships are equipped with steel bunks which, when not used, fold against the casemate, or wall.

Sailors in the United States Navy and Naval Reserve do not loaf for reading facilities. Practically every ship is equipped with a complete library where members of the crew can read for either relaxation or study.

Enlistment in the U. S. Naval Reserve is for four years but if a man enlists today, and the emergency ends within a period of several months, he will be returned to his civilian job as soon as possible after the emergency is over, and will not be required to complete his four-year term in active service.

The Garden

By John S. Gardner, Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics

It is not news that home gardeners may successfully save most of their own seed to cut the first cost of the garden or better, to use their seed money for fertilizer. The average seed and plant bill for a five-person garden is $6.75, and this will buy 3 sacks of high-grade fertilizer, the amount such a garden may need.

The home saving of seed beans is simple if it may be passed over. But beets, carrots, parsnips, salsify, okra, peas, radishes, lettuce, and all the roots. It is not recommended to save cucumber seed or any of the other vine crops where there are green close together as in the average garden, for their "mix". The same is true of sweet peppers, too close to the "hot" sorts.

To save tomato seed, it and the surrounding phlegm should be squeezed into a tumbler as the tomatoes are being sliced for the table, adding a bit of crushed fruit. In a few days fermenting will start, cutting loose the good seed which falls to the bottom. The floating matter is carefully poured off, leaving the heavy seed which is spread on paper together but may be handled quite as well as "boughten" seed.

Beets, carrots, parsnips and salsify make seed the second year. The letter two may be left in the garden row, to start, out again whenever spring comes. Beets and carrots, subjected to one's liking may be buried or kept under potato storing conditions and rest in the early spring.

To save okra seed, all that is needed is to letokra pods on plants that suit the gardener's style until they have become dry. The last of the English pea crop or that of "black-eyed peas" may be left until the pods become partly dry by which time the seed has ripened.

Saving lettuce seed, and that for all the greens is not difficult for control law. Until it does, you are these things "go to seed" of them—going to see all prices of the insects, quite too easily to suit the gardener, sometimes. The seed may be "thrashed" by sifting it from the chaff, with a bit of fine screen. Home-grown spinach seed usually contains a great proportion of light seed that may not sprout, but you can double the seeding rate, to make sure.

Home-saved seed potatoes are available to use. A by term is meant the leavings from the previous spring's crop of Bliss Triumph or Irish Cobbler, for these potatoes will have lost too much of their vigor because of the wait. It is always better to use "new" seed potatoes.

Money Talks

By Frederick W. Stamm, Economist and Director of Adult Education University of Louisville

The buying panic, which started with the silk stocking scare, has spread to many other items. Women stormed into the nation's stores looking for stockings, but before they got out, their jitters usually led them to stock up on sheets, pillow cases and towels, or make a down payment on a refrigerator or a radio.

Higher prices and scarcity has made the average American conscious that the purchasing power of his dollar is going down—and going down rapidly. To protect himself, he is just doing a little forward buying while prices are not unreasonably high. He is just doing a little forward buying when you realize that food costs in most of our communities have gone up from 12 to 30 per cent since the war began. And it looks very much as if food prices are going to reach much higher levels before the end of the year.

Two of the largest manufacturers of men's clothing have announced price advances of 10 per cent and 11 per cent respectively. Last week my neighbor paid 25 cents a ton, more for the same type of coal than I did a month before. It is needless for me to recount how prices have risen, for you are buying food, clothing, and other necessities every day.

It is important to remember that Congress is reluctant to pass a price control law. Until it does, you are these things "go to seed" of them—going to see all prices of the insects, quite too easily to suit the gardener, sometimes. The seed may be "thrashed" by sifting it from the chaff, with a bit of fine screen. Home-grown spinach seed usually contains a great proportion of light seed that may not sprout, but you can double the seeding rate, to make sure.

Farm And Home

Commercial fertilizer considered best for trees contains about 10 percent nitrogen, 6 percent phosphoric acid and 4 percent potash. Well-rotted manure and high-grade commercial fertilizer are the two principal materials used in feeding trees.

If tobacco is drying too rapidly, the barn should be closed tight to retain the moisture given off by the tobacco. In extreme cases, it is helpful to sprinkle the floor of the barn at night, to bring the tobacco in case.

In storing squashes, cushaws and sweetpotatoes, a temperature of about 50 degrees and controlled ventilation are needed. For turnips, beets, carrots, cabbage and potatoes, the best temperature is between 34 and 38 degrees. The pressure cooker is recommended for canning all meats, because if the high temperature can be maintained, it is necessary to insure the destruction of heat-resisting bacteria.

Drain tiles in a sewage disposal system should have a fall of not more than 4 inches in 100 feet. That the water may soak into the soil through the joints between the tiles along the whole line. The end of the tile line should be closed. One of the best treatments for lice on chickens is to cover the perches with a 40 percent solution of nicotine sulfate. Apply with a small brush or oil can a half-hour before the birds go to roost. It is claimed that few pieces of home-made farm equipment give so big a return for so little cost as electric pig-brooder.

S. D. Fleming of Fleming county says one diversion ditch saved a tobacco crop worth $500. Two ditches prevented the overflow of a 12-acre field on the farm of D. D. Porter, E. C. Rankin estimates a ditch on his farm to have been worth $50 an acre.
