CONWAY HOMEMAKERS met at Mrs. Martha Gill Saturday Sept. 20. Roll call was answered with what I should include in a daily diet for my family.

The minor lesson was on the "Philosophy of Etiquette" given by Miss Nancy Lambert which was a splendid lesson.

A short discussion on the Study of Vitamin A was given by Orel Gill. She will take up next month, the study of Vitamin B and so on.

This will encourage the Homemakers to really know why they are using the food rich in vitamins for their family.

Style Trend for fall and winter was our major project for the day. It was given by Mrs. Elizabeth Hays.

The Homemakers extend a hearty welcome to any one who wishes to join them and we have to make it a worth while step to do our part in discarding trivial things and make our community and county a good place to live.

ARE YOU A QUIZ EXPERT?

This quiz is full of facts. Here are the questions, and we think you will be interested in the answers.

Q: What social and economic benefits does the state derive from Kentucky's $20,000,000 beer industry?

A: Beer provides jobs for 15,000 Kentuckians, pays salaries and wages exceeding $10,000,000 a year, and since 1935, has paid the State of Kentucky over $6,275,000 in taxes.

Q: Is beer rightfully considered a beverage of moderation?

A: Eminent authorities, after scientific investigation have proved that beer is a beverage of moderation.

Q: What is being done to weed out undesirable beer outlets?

A: The Kentucky beer industry, through our Committee, is cooperating with law-enforcement authorities to eliminate all undesirable retail beer outlets. To date, on our recommendation, 18 retailers have lost their licenses, 6 have had their licenses suspended, and 2 have had their outlets padlocked.

Q: Will this "clean up or close up" program be continued?

A: It will! The Kentucky beer industry is determined that conditions in all retail beer outlets shall be as wholesome as beer itself.

"Telling Kentuckians of Kentucky"

GEORGE ROGERS CLARK IN KENTUCKY

By Hamilton Tapp, General Chairman, George Rogers Clark Memorial Movement

George Rogers Clark, perhaps as great an extent as any famous Kentuckian, belongs to the entire state and not just to one community. This fact is being realized more and more as the campaign for funds—September 15 to November 19—for an adequate memorial to him gains momentum. Any spot throughout the state is an appropriate site for a memorial to him.

Clark as an eager young pioneer made more than one trip back to Virginia over the Wilderness Trail to transact political and military business vital to the safety and even the life of Kentucky. He traversed by flat boat the Ohio, blazing the trail of American freedom and carrying the torch of American civilization. While residing at Harrodstown, in 1776 and 1777, he conceived and planned the bold move into the Northwest, to save Kentucky from annihilation. Near the site of our state's capital he, in 1776, helped establish a settlement, Lestown. The great expedition into the Northwest was launched in 1778 from Corbin and at the Falls of the Ohio—the expedition which saved Kentucky and conquered an empire for the new nation. He founded Louisville. He spent some time in western Kentucky at Fort Jefferson, on the Mississippi River. He lies buried in Cave Hill Cemetery, in Louisville. Surely George Rogers Clark belongs to all Kentucky.

When Clark, in 1775, as a bold, handsome, young man of twenty-three years old on the high lands overlooking the Kentucky River, he beheld a land more beautiful and lovely than any yet seen. He gazed thrilled and enthralled; it was as gorgeous as a new Eden. He determined to live in it, at all hazards, and make it a safe place for others. From that happy time until the bleak day, as the end approached, when he sat in a wheel chair old, one leg gone, the other paralyzed, helpless, poverty-stricken, wracked with pain, neglected by his government, almost forgotten by the people, he never ceased to love his health, his fortune and all hope of comfort and happiness, for Kentucky.

For his courageous services and his noble sacrifices, Kentucky has done little to show her gratitude. Now she has the opportunity.

The plan to raise funds for a memorial to him is very simple. No person is asked to make a large contribution, as the individual gift range mostly from five pennies to a dollar. Every Kentuckian has the opportunity to have a gift.

Each school child is asked to give five pennies, each teacher twenty-five and each member of a club or society one dollar. The schools, particularly the high schools, senior and junior—and the graded and consolidated schools are asked to present by November 19 (Clark's birthday) some form of entertainment—play, pageant, movie, carnival, bazaar, athletic contest—asking the public to attend, and to donate the money made therefrom to the Clark Memorial Fund. In addition, special gifts will be solicited from interested persons, particularly in and around Louisville.

It is hoped that in these ways $100,000 will be raised.

Many states owing Clark far less than does Kentucky—Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Virginia, Missouri—have erected magnificent memorials to his memory. Indiana's memorial at Vincennes costing more than $2,000,000.

It is hoped that every Kentuckian will take an active part in raising possible this memorial which for more than a century, Kentucky has failed to raise. The Filson Club, Louisville, is the Clark Memorial Movement.

Men 17 To 50 Wanted For U. S. Naval Reserve

According to an announcement made this week in Washington by order of Secretary of the Navy Knox: "All men now enlisting in the Naval Reserve will be retained on active duty throughout the period of the national emergency, but they will be released to inactive duty as soon after the emergency as their services can be spared, regardless of the length of time remaining in their enlistment."

Enlistment in the U. S. Naval Reserve is for four years but, if a man enlists today and the emergency ends within a period of several months, he will be retrained to his civilian job as soon as possible after the emergency is over, and will not be required to complete his four year term in active service.

Four classes of services in the United States Naval Reserve need men urgently today. They are Class V-3, which includes radio and communications; V-5, aviation; V-6, for trade specialists or men desiring trade or vocational training; V-7, field officers. A more detailed outline of each class follows below:

Men with specialized training in radio, searchlight and semaphore signaling or Morse telegraphy may be enrolled in class V-3, the communications class of the Naval Reserve. These men will be enlisted as petty officers with ratings according to their degree of proficiency. Pay for men enrolling in this group ranges from $80 a month for a petty officer third class to $99 a month for a chief petty officer. An additional allowance of $1.15 per day is made for men with dependents who have the rating of petty officer second class or higher.

A man with at least two years of college education who desires to enter naval aviation will be enlisted as a seaman second class in Class V-5 of the Naval Reserve. After a month's preliminary training, the recruit will become a naval aviation cadet and will be sent for advanced training to one of the three principal naval flight training centers: Pensacola, Fla.; Jacksonville, Fla.; or Corpus Christi, Texas. On completion of this advanced course which requires approximately seven months, the V-5 cadet will be designated as a naval aviator and will be commissioned as an ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

During the first month of training, V-5 recruits are paid $38. On completion of the first month's training the V-5 recruit is designated as a naval aviation cadet and will be paid $27.50 plus $1 per day for living expenses. Upon completion as an ensign his pay will be increased to approximately $245 a month and in addition he will receive regular pay bonuses of $500 for each year he serves in active duty after the training period.

Class V-6 in the U. S. Naval Reserve offers opportunities for men with specialized training to continue their trades and at the same time serve their country. This group includes specialists of any kind, such as electricians, carpenters, machinists, stenographers, accountants, plumbers, cooks, bakers and many other trades and vocations. These men will upon enlistment be given rating in accordance with the amount of previous training they have had.

Men with no previous specialized training will be enlisted in Class V-6 as apprentice seamen with a pay of $21 a month. Following enlistment the new recruit will be sent to one of the four Naval Training Stations for a short period. At the Training Station the apprentice seaman will be given an aptitude test and if he passes this test successfully he will be sent to a Navy Trade School. Approximately 5500 men are admitted to the Navy Trade Schools each month. This schooling, valued at hundreds of dollars, is free and the recruit receives the regular Navy pay while receiving instructions. Those applicants who do not pass their test for admission to a Navy Trade school will be sent to duty aboard ship where an opportunity will be given them to train in a trade. Four months after enlistment, all non-specialized applicants in Class V-6 will be advanced automatically to seaman second class with a pay increase to $36 a month.

Men with previous specialized training of any kind will be enlisted in the Naval Reserve Class V-4 with

Priming Profitable in Lincoln County

County Agent John R. Killinger estimates that 50,000 pounds of tobacco was saved by "priming" in Lincoln County this season. About 500 farmers removed the lower leaves as they were matured by the extreme heat. Not only were the lower leaves saved by priming, but the quality of the rest of the plant improved by remaining in the field instead of being cut while green. Figured at 20 cents a pound, priming added $10,000 to the income of tobacco growers in Lincoln county, not considered any added value to the upper leaves.

Rotary Club Entertains Gov'r

Bert Willis Makes Official Visit Thursday

B. E. Willis, of Richmond, governor of the 162nd district of Rotary International, was the honored guest at the regular meeting of the local club Thursday evening.

The district governor, Mr. Willis was then introduced, and he gave as the topic of his address, "Let George Do It."

The speaker said that several years ago an experiment was conducted at a leading college with three rats. These rodents were put in a cage without food. However, a check was put about the cage, and the rats could get food by pressing on a trigger, which released three round pellets of food.

Of the three rodents only one had the intelligence to release his trigger, in the course of the experiment this rat pressed the trigger over a million times. If it hadn't been for this rat, whose name was George, all the rats would have starved to death.

The new governor then presented an idea to the local club that he has been presenting to all the other clubs in the district, regarding the establishing of a recreation center in all communities.

The need for such a project in this country has been felt for many years. The boys have no place to play, and if they find a spot to play baseball, their game is not supervised, and a great number do not get to participate.

Bert Willis's speech was thoroughly enjoyed by all present, and many worthwhile ideas were given his hearers. A fine gentleman, a real Rotarian, Bert Willis would be welcomed in any community.

This new precinct will be composed of that portion of the Wildie voting precinct lying south of Roundstone Creek and southwest of Medical Spring road.

The last precinct to be added in this county was Gum Sulphur. The law states that a new precinct must be added when over 300 votes are cast in a precinct.

T. J. Nicely, county clerk, recalls when this county had only one precinct back in 1906. Mr. Vernon had 2, Brodhead, 1, and Livingston 1. The others were scattered over the county and the voters usually had a long way to go, in order to vote.

From 1906 Mr. Nicely can recall when only nine precincts were in the county, and the voting was done by the poll book method. The voters came to the courthouse and were listed to vote, and it was written in the poll book.

Rockcastle county has grown considerably since 1906, but another reason for the big increase in the number of precincts was the advent of Woman Suffrage.

Dr. McWilliams Insurance Examiner

Dr. W. E. McWilliams has just been notified of his official appointment by the United States Government as Insurance Medical Examiner for Rockcastle County. Dr. McWilliams in past years held this same appointment in Fayette County and also in Lincoln County. This is a signal honor of which Dr. McWilliams and the community feel justly proud.

"WHERE THE BOONE WAY JOINS THE DIXIE"

Burley Growers To Vote October 2 To 4

A referendum will be held October 2 through October 4 for 27 Burley tobacco markets in Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, Indiana, and Missouri, to determine whether these markets shall be designated for free and mandatory inspection of all tobacco passing over the auction sales floor.

The referendum will cover the following markets: Bloomfield, Camp Taylor, Carrollton, Covington, Glasgow, Greenburg, Harrodsburg, Hopkinsville, Lexington, Louisville, Owensboro, and Richmond in Kentucky; Carthage, Fayetteville, Franklin, Gallatin, Greenville, Hartsville, Johnson City, Morristown, New Knoxville, and Nashville in Tennessee; Asheville and Boone in North Carolina; Madison and New Albany in Indiana; and Weston in Missouri.

Sixteen Burley markets are already designated in Kentucky, Tennessee, Ohio, Virginia, and West Virginia. Tobacco marketing officials point out that if two-thirds of the growers voting in this referendum approve tobacco inspection, tobacco sales in Burley markets in the United States will be graded at no cost to the grower.

Under the Tobacco Inspection Act all growers who sold at auction on these markets last year, and who have not previously voted in a referendum, are eligible to vote. Ballots will be mailed to growers who patronized these markets last season in so far as their names and addresses are known.

Growers who patronize markets on which the inspection service is conducted have access to a daily market report showing average prices by grade. With grades plainly indicated on each lot and price reports for the previous day's sale on each grade, growers have a reliable basis for use in accepting or rejecting bids offered at each market and market news service is free to growers.

Housekeeping Aide Project Moved

The W. P. A. Housekeeping Aide Project has been moved from the "Big" property on the main highway road to one of the Hopkins street houses on the Sand Springs hill. When the house has been put in order the public is invited to visit the project and learn more about the types of training the Aides receive and the valuable work they are doing in the homes they service.

New uniforms are being provided for the workers by the sponsors. Since the project opened December 1937 and up to June 30, 1941, a period of six months, one hundred twenty families, consisting of four hundred and seventy two persons had been serviced. Many referrals were rejected because of lack of Aides.

Because of the valuable service rendered many communities are requesting that units be opened. Due to a limited quota, at this time, only ten units are able to operate in the London District, and one of which is in this county. If you are interested in the health and welfare of your county your co-operation with this project will further that interest.

GIRL SCOUT MEETING

The Mt. Vernon Girl Scouts will hold their open meeting Monday, September 28, at 6:30 p. m. and will celebrate by having a Pot Luck dinner. The members of the committee and school girls, who are between the ages of ten and sixteen and are planning to become Girl Scouts are cordially invited.

State Fox Hunt Event Of Year

Renfro Valley Scene Of 30th Annual Hunt

Reservations for the 30th Annual State Fox Hunt and Field Trials have already started to pour in, and all available rooms are expected to be filled before the opening of the hunt, Oct. 20.

The Kentucky State Fox Hunt is known throughout the United States and hunters from all sections of the country are expected to be here to join in the chase, and to show the merits of their fox hounds.

Nothing is being overlooked to afford all visitors a warm welcome at Renfro, and needless to say, the hospitality of this institution is famous from coast to coast. The town of Mt. Vernon also will take extra pains to extend all hunters and visitors the best of welcome, and will endeavor to make their stay in this vicinity a pleasant one.

The entire week has been filled with entertainment for young and old. The horse show will be held Tuesday afternoon, and some real horseflesh will be shown. Wednesday night the square dancers will have a chance to "do their stuff" and the old-time fiddlers will be furnishing the music.

The complete program will be announced as soon as all arrangements have been completed.

John Lair wishes to stress the fact that all sleeping rooms in Mt. Vernon will be booked during this big week. If you have rooms to rent list them at once at Renfro Valley. Also, farmers who have horses to rent should get their homes in Renfro at once.

Watch the Signal for complete news of the hunt.

Farmers Urged To Plant Winter Pasture

A higher cash income for Rockcastle county farmers is one of the aims back of recommendations of the Rockcastle county USDA Defense Board urging farmers to expand their winter pasture crops.

Action of the equity board is in line with suggestions made by Secretary Wickard and the State USDA Defense Boards. In addition to providing more cash farm income, the program will aid in producing more meat and dairy products for the national defense and make possible a better use of land.

Winter pasture crops which are recommended for seeding include: ryegrass, winter oats, rye grass, vetch and crimson clover. Although early seeding is necessary, time still remains for obtaining a good stand of these crops if seeded on a well prepared seed bed. Use of lime and phosphate provides added insurance of a good stand.

It is estimated that 12,000 acres of land in Rockcastle county went through winter with no green cover on pastures, crops, despite the fact that winter pasture crops have been greatly increased in past years.

Members of the county board include J. L. Jones, Robt. F. Spence, Ernest E. Bullock, Charles E. Gilson, Ott Finnerd, D. H. Gray, J. M. Anderson and A. V. Lee. As chairman of the county AAA committee, M. J. J. Jones serves as chairman of the USDA Defense Board. Additional information about boosting acreages of winter pasture crops may be obtained from members of the county board.

Mr. and Mrs. Kearney Campbell, Miss Lucy Williams, Miss Mary Katterline Gore, Phyllis Bray and Kenneth Mullins enjoyed a picnic at Cumberland Falls, Sunday.

Miss Susie Thompson returned days ago, happily spending several days in Louisville.

Poultry Judging Team Capture Prizes

The Rockcastle poultry judging team which attended the State Fair returned with their share of honors. The team, consisting of Johnny Allen, Brodhead; Les Gentry, Quail and LeRoy McClure, Burr, finished fifth as a team and Johnny Allen finished ninth as an individual judge with a score of a little over 90%.

The team won six dollars for finishing fifth and Johnny Allen won two dollars for finishing ninth. Boyd county won the contest, Grayson second; Boone, third; Letcher, fourth and Rockcastle, fifth.

Fair Fund Reaches $300.00

$200.00 Still Remains To Be Solicited

With the school and Agricultural Fair only 17 days away $200.00 still remains to be raised. This past week thirty names have been added to the honor roll, and this roll takes in business men all over the county.

We stress again to patrons of the fair that the names listed below are the one that made this year's fair possible, and are the ones who are offering the cash prizes.

The following article in support of the fair was written by Robert Gentry, County Agent:

The fair is catching momentum and arousing interest in the people throughout the county. Weather permitting, we are expecting to have the biggest and best fair we have ever had. Mr. Simpson, the chairman of the Finance committee, is doing his best to raise the finances to pay the premiums. Hundreds of people should come to his rescue with a contribution of from two to five dollars per person since all of the money will be returned in the form of premiums to boys and girls and men and women of the county.

It takes money, exhibits and people to make a fair and there is no doubt but what we are going to get the money raised under the direction of our finance committee and through the co-operation of those who believe in School and Agriculture Fairs and too, the exhibits must come in large numbers since we have over 200 farmers and farm homes not including those people in our towns in the county. There are eleven different departments in this fair in which exhibits can be made.

The people are invited to look through the premium list on page 7 of this paper at the fair for a few weeks ago and decide in which department or departments they want to make entries. As far as the people are concerned it has been proven in the past that we have four to five thousand people who attend the School and Agriculture Fair. Let's all get behind our fair and boost it and make it a success. It's good for us all and offers a challenge to every individual for a bigger and better life.

The first list of names are honorary directors and they have contributed $5.00. The Webb Electric Co., Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Bros. have special exhibits at the fair, for which they have paid $15.00 as an exhibition fee. The complete list of names follows:

- Webb Electric Co. $15.00 (Exhibit)
Bryan Bros. $15.00 (Exhibit)

Big Demand For Sorghum

One Firm Has Ordered 50,000 Gallons

Reports from State Marketing Bureau indicate that this State will not be able to supply the demand for sorghum. A. P. Co., have already ordered 3,000 gallons, which is 600 more than last year, while the American Sugar & Syrup Co., have a standing order for 50,000 gallons of sorghum not suitable for blending.

The growers of this county have commenced manufacturing sorghum, and the latest reports show a fair yield. "The syrup is of excellent quality and taste."

Monday of this week State men from the Department of Agriculture started training men to grade sorghum.

It must be realized that this industry has only started in this county and with the proper co-operation could be made into a cash crop. Farmers who are now a trifle reluctant to sign the co-operative papers should take time to really study this new co-operative set-up. This Rockcastle Co-operative Association is absolutely made up of farmers and are the ones that will run the business. In a few years the members will own their own building and blending equipment. Sorghum is not the only farm crop that can be marketed and marketed soon find that by working together, money will be coming in, that they never thought possible under the old system.

The amount of sorghum raised this year will help all the men who participated in the program, but it is only a start. Next year should see many more members and a big increase in acreage.

Good Cows Well Fed Pay Better

A circular on feeding dairy cows published by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics points out that good cows properly fed give larger returns for the feed they consume than do poor cows. They eat more feed, and the total cost of the feed is greater, but they produce more than enough extra to pay for the additional feed.

For example, in Kentucky dairy management associations during the five years 1935-39 it cost on the average $41 a year to feed a cow producing 1300 pounds of butterfat, but it cost only one and a half times as much to feed a cow in the 1500 pound group. Cows in the 1500 pound group returned only $14 each a year above the cost of their feed, while those in the 350-pound group returned $62.

Success in dairying, says Dr. Ford E. Ely, author of the circular, depends to a large extent upon the production of milk at low cost, for regardless of the price at which the product sells, the dairyman whose herd produces at the lowest cost

Pilot Training Open To Soldiers

A drive to obtain enlisted pilot trainees from soldier personnel on duty in Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia and Indiana was ordered today by the Fifth Corps Area Commanding General.

Corps Area Headquarters at Fort Meade, Ohio, disclosed that more than 50 volunteers would be sought monthly from among regular enlisted men and selectees serving at camps, posts and stations within the four states.

Commanders were instructed to facilitate the discharge and reenlistment for flight training of all qualified soldiers desiring such training. Candidates must be high school graduates with and "one-half" units of mathematics, at least 18 years old and not yet 23, physically normal, single and without dependents.

Training of enlisted pilots is designed to augment the Aviation Cadet program with its higher educational standards. The 35-week flight course is similar for both groups. Upon graduation, enlisted trainees are rated as flight sergeants with minimum pay of $108 monthly, plus living expenses.

Since enlisted pilots are not accepted only from the ranks of soldier personnel, civilians who desire this training were advised to enlist in the Army Air Force and then make application through their commanding officers.

The Garden

By John S. Gardner, Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics

WINTER CARE

When the mercury was well up in the nineties, it seemed whimsical to discuss a matter of concern only after snow starts flying. Not so, however, as the well-being of the garden next winter depend on what is done to that end before frost.

A few weeks ago, as greens were discussed, one use was stressed, as a winter cover crop. Better still, though, small grains, with legume added were recommended, as furnishing so much more matter to turn under, to take the place of straw in stable manure. But that is not all of the benefit a winter cover crop gives, for because growing goes on when ever conditions are at all suitable, plant food, furnished at great expense in commercial fertilizer is absorbed and held against its turning under next spring. Also, the soil itself is held. Not too much can be said of the desirability of putting in now a sowing even of greens.

August has been a dry month. Many gardeners who otherwise would have started sowing down garden areas and rows that have done their season's duty; have been putting off this most important duty.

Many gardeners and inadvertently to themselves. They remain part of September and half of October, and it will rain if for no other reason than that rain has been scarce. Gardeners who have held faith, and who have been cleaning up weeds, making ready a cover crop seedbed, will thank their stars.

To be sown through September are barley (Kentucky's No. 1, winter-hardy) wheat and rye, at the rate of a bushel to the acre, to which may be added 15 pounds of hairy vetch or the same amount of crimson clover, but this last named only until middle September. For October sowing only rye is safe, except in the southern half of the state, where late-started hard barley will succeed.

Does your child SQUINT?

When you find your child squinting and groaning over his homework, maybe the best thing you can give him is better light. You may not realize that the lighting in your home is unsafe for young eyes. Yet science has discovered that one out of every five school children suffers from defective vision. A child can "see to read"—and yet be risking a serious case of eyestrain.

TWO WAYS TO PROTECT YOUNG EYES

Put an L.E.S. study lamp on the table where the children do their homework. Or use a pin-to-wall lamp if the study table is against a wall. Both are scientifically designed to give enough light and the right kind of light for safe seeing.

SLANTS

By W. L. S.

We might be getting old and childish, but a spate of feeling pessimistic, something keeps pounding in our tired brain, that the business men of this community ought to get busy on Highway 25. It has been definitely decided that the State will build seven miles of road, starting at Roundstone and coming south next year. It is hoped that this road will come straight through Mt. Vernon, but it might not.

Word comes from Livingston that the Highway will go through or near the business section, following the river route. This is good news for our sister city and the business men there are feeling good. Berca pulled the strings and the highway will go through the business section. It looks like that Mt. Vernon is left alone to work out her own salvation in regard to getting the highway to come here.

Hotel men, tourist camp owners, residents, and other business houses should be vitally concerned with where this road goes. It seems reasonable to surmise that after the route is surveyed around the business district, and the contract for building would be a mighty poor time to start howling to the powers that be.

It is possible that two or three men here with influence might say the right word and the highway would be built through town. Personally I feel that this would be a long shot.

We have had several editorials in this column and only a very few men have shown any interest whatsoever. Maybe the majority feel that the town would be quieter without the noise of the traffic, and that we have one good road.

No doubt about this situation being grave, as all the State men we have talked with are under the impression that the road WILL NOT BE BUILT THROUGH THE BUSINESS DISTRICT.

The business men of this community should have an open meeting, talk the situation over, elect officers, and get busy AT ONCE. We have noticed the publicity given a group of men to boost Highway 27. The State has promised over a million dollars on this route in 1942.

It might be foolishness to get worked up over this Highway, but we feel that thousands of dollars, that otherwise would not come here, flows into the regular channels of business through the tourist trade. It might be that nothing can be done, but the little effort expended, certainly will be worthwhile.

Baptist Church

By Rev. W. C. Younce

Don't be like this fellow: A certain church member was out hunting. During the day it began to rain. In order to keep his brand new hunting clothes dry he crawled into a hollow log. When the cloud began to empty itself upon the earth the log began to swell and the first thing the hunter knew he couldn't budge either way. He thought his time had come and immediately thought of all the wrongs he had done during his life time. When he recalled that he had not attended the church services for months, he felt so small that he crawled right out.

Sunday School—9:45 a. m. Charles Brown, Supt. Lesson: "The Glorious Consummation" or "The Fulfillment of God's purpose through the ages becomes a reality." Rev. 21:1-12. A picture of heaven, perfect bliss; endless life service in the presence of all these are the principal thoughts in the lesson. Those who expect to share heaven's bliss will say:

"Must I go, and empty handed, Thy dear redeemer meet?
Not one day of service give—
"Him Lay no thophy at His feet?"

We welcome into our Cradle Roll Dept.—Master William Cleveland Machal, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Machal, and little Sandra Dash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Dash.

Morning Worship—11:00 a. m. Sermon—The New Testament Church, and its Ordinances—Symbols which express the Father, the purpose of the plan, and the meaning of the Holy Spirit in Human life.

Training Union—9:30 p. m. Mrs. Fred Baker, Director. General topic: "Resisting the Devil." We believe in a personal devil. He is our adversary, as a roaring lion, walking about, seeking whom he may devour" (1 Peter 5:8). Present last Sunday, 60.

Evening Worship—7:30 p. m. Sermon: "God's distinct assurance to those who are more quick to notice the least symptom of His will than horse or mule to feel the bit."

A special Promotion Day program is being prepared for the Sunday School and Training Union. Prayer Service—These are days of distress and darkness. People are unsettled, unhappy and ungodly. New discords rise daily. Prejudices and strife are running riot. Home life is being decimated and deserted. Our churches are being tried as by fire. People need Christ. He can be found at the prayer service—Wednesday night, 7:30 o'clock.

Christian Church

By Aubrey Russell

Sunday Sept. 28 will be Promotion Day at the local church. At that time the members will have an opportunity to observe some of the work that our Junior Department has been doing. After the regular Sunday School the teachers of the various classes will promote those who are ready to advance, giving them certificates as an indication of the completed work. Each teacher will also point out the type of work that has been going on, and plans for the future. It is hoped that every member will be so interested in the work of our Sunday School that Promotional Day will be observed with interest.

Sunday Oct. 5 will be Rally day at the local church. Rally Day at the local church. If you are a member of the church and will enlist in any of the various services make it known by being at the Sunday School hour. Church service, the evening service. You will not only have the opportunity to let the church know whether or not you take your church membership seriously but will also have the privilege in indicating the type of activity in which you would enter. If you are a member of another congregation and want to have fellowship with us, at the same time keeping your present membership, you will have the opportunity to make it known on ROLL-CALL DAY.

A church Crusade is being launched for the purpose of stimulating in the minds of church members the need for the church in the face of present conditions. The Sermons during this eight-week period will be centered on the Great Christian Convictions. This campaign will begin Oct. 12 and extend through Dec. 7. The Sermon topics printed below will be those discussed. The evening services will be devoted to a study of the Ten Commandments, subjects to be printed in the next issue.

While there is light, Christian people need to take advantage of it and preach the Gospel of good will so needed in the world today. If the church fails to pass on the torch of conviction, the world will know of them at all. If the church has failed to do this job in the past it is because there are too many people with their names on some church roll who give little or no thought to the building of the Kingdom of God and the promotion of good will.

Within months and perhaps weeks, we may see the light fade into darkness, unless Christian people, can discern the cause of the darkness, which the world is now suffering. We, of this community can do little when we think of the needs of the world; but there is a job to be done here and by doing that job effectively we do our part to stem the tide. As we are called upon to do our part for our country, in whatever course of action she may take, let us do something in behalf of Him that gave his life that men might know love, peace and brotherly love. Support your church and assist in the Kingdom Building. Sermon topics: Oct. 12 to Dec. 7. The Reality of God—Oct. 12. The Saviorhood of Christ—Oct. 19. A Moral Order—Oct. 26. The Worth of Man—Nov. 2. Divine Revelation—Nov. 9. The Church—Nov. 16. The Kingdom of God—Nov. 23. The Reality of Redemption—Nov. 30. The Necessity of Commitment—Dec. 7.

Money Talks

By Frederick W. Stamm, Economist and Director of Adult Education University of Louisville

The U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics has released some figures on the cost of living which should interest everyone. The yardstick which is used to measure these costs is called "the market basket." This "market basket" contains food items which are purchased weekly by the average American housewife and is made up of: three pounds of round steak; two pounds of bacon; one quart of milk; one pound of butter; one pound of lard; one dozen eggs; one loaf of bread; one peck of potatoes; three poups of cabbage; one dozen oranges; one can each of corn, peas, and tomatoes; five pounds of sugar; and one pound of coffee.

It is interesting to note how the cost of this "market basket" has fluctuated. In 1929 it cost $6.21 to buy these articles. In 1933 prices were at their lowest level, and you could have purchased all these items for $3.26. On August 12 of this year it would have cost Mrs. Average American $4.85 to fill the basket. Since that date, prices have risen more, and it would cost around $4.90. It should be interesting to see what this "market basket" would cost at your grocery and butcher and check with the national average.

CRAWLING OUT ON THAT WELL-KNOWN LIMB?

High prices, tremendous industrial activity, flat pay envelopes may make expansion of your business seem very attractive.

But think twice before you take on a burden of debt that may prove a bitter experience.

Some day this boom will be over. Some day we'll be back living a normal life with business coming the hard way. But right now be careful about taking on unusual obligations if the way isn't absolutely clear toward paying them back.
