Golds-Influenza Pneumonia

Due to promise and this being opening season for bad Colds, I am going to talk to you about the common simple little bad cold, yes you say I have had it and know all about it, why talk about colds doctor, tell us something about real diseases like Pneumonia Well I will, but not I am going to stick to my plans and tell you something about the common colds. Colds are due to a germ, and are contagious, we learned that fact many years ago. We speak of catching a cold, how do we catch cold? Only two ways first by being in close contact with some one or more who has an acute cold, second by lowered body resistance, sudden changes in temperature, exposure and a dozen other changes that comes under this head. Man and beast have been afflicted with colds from the earliest history we have, and there is no disease that has caused more suffering, headaches, sneezing, rotten feeling, as working under the above conditions. This is a broad statement and some of my readers will say you are wrong —bad colds never kill anybody. No they do not, by their selves, but they do when they are the forerunner of other germs more deadly than they come along and finish up the job.

Before the great Flu epidemic of 1918, we had had simple bad colds and simple Pneumonia, since 1918 our colds and Pneumonia have changed and to meet that change we had to find different treatments to meet the changed conditions. About 1912 after six years of hard study and bed side work I found the remedy for the cold and pneumonia, yes it worked to my heart's content, for during the winter of 1913, I treated thirty-two cases of Pneumonia in both old and young without losing a single case and I have records and a living witness to prove the above statement. I was sitting pretty then for I had found treatments that worked on the worst diseases that we have to contend with here in our changeable semi tropical climate, colds and Pneumonia, but my high von laurels was not to last long for in 1918 when the Flu struck our county like lightning out of a blue sky and we had Flu one day and Pneumonia the next, my medicines and treatments failed, in fact they had no more effect on the new Flu Pneumonia than pouring water on a ducks back, and it did not take me long to find that out, so I had to change medicines, and trust to provide the rest of the way through that epidemic, well I guess I got through it about as well as any other Physician, except one and I must tell you about that, some two months after the epidemic was over one of our former County Physicians was back on a visit and I met him, spoke, shook hands and asked him how things were. He was a big fine looking man with a lot of pride and importance. He asked me how many cases of Flu and Pneumonia I had lost and I said, I lost a plenty, how many did you lose?, and then is said he got up on his dignity and said none. I said heek you never treated any cases, you were either flat of your back in the bed or such poor Doctor, the public had rather take their chances with vicks vapo, bone set Tea or whiskey than to risk you. No Physician went through that night mare without a loss, for it was new to us all, and one knew about us much as the other fellow, and we had no time for study and no writings on it to study every fellow had to use his own head and figure his own treatments, some of them helped, but the majority was worthless.

Now what had happened with my treatment, was that the influenza germs due to the poison, death and decay of the world war had become very virulent and went on a rampage of destruction and like the common cold pneumonia was the main complication. I had to start all over again studying Flu and Pneumonia to find a new treatment, so about 1920 Parke Davis & Co. of Detroit, Michigan, the largest drug concern in the world told me the first serum for flu and pneumonia, so I got some and started to use it that year and have been studying serums and using them ever since, and I think that I can safely say that there is no one who has devoted any more time to the study and use of serums than I have, and I use them twelve months out of the year. Some will tell you that cold shots are no good —well I only have to say to you, I was interested in making money only I would never give you one a shot because they get well too quick. Nearly every case of colds and pneumonia has had the Flu complications with it since 1918 and just ordinary cold medicines has no effect on it. We have worked out a plan of vaccination for Flu and Pneumonia if five shots given five to seven days apart beginning in the fall —that protects you from both colds and Pneumonia during the winter months and it has worked to my satisfaction. Some people are subject to colds, they have one after another to those there is but one sure remedy and that is the vaccination against them.

In closing I will say the best home remedy for the simple colds is a good, clean, teaspoonful of baking soda three times a day and if possible go to bed and stay there for three days. Do not take any other cold mixtures do you more harm than good unless you stay in the house all the time while taking them.

I have mentioned Pneumonia a lot in this writing on colds, and why? because Pneumonia is what you get when you trifle with your bad cold, and Pneumonia is what you get when you trifle with your bad cold, but thanks to serum and the new Sulfa-drugs we physicians do not dread it any more, however it is not a pleasant thing to have now, and I know for I have devoted more time and study to it than all the other diseases combined and I say an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

TWILIGHT

As I stand in the Valley deep,
I see the Mountain in its solemn sleep.
Resting under a blanket of colors
Which flashes brightly with a great delight.

There's a few birds flying high,
And beyond the pale Moon against the sky.
The sun set glowing, giving a aluring color to the fresh and floating
The humidity rest at the end of the day.

The sky among these heavenly stages,
Colored bright as the blooming sages,
Everything seems to give out a lovely ray.

What's more beautiful than twilight on an Autumn day.

Silkworms Need Mulberry Leaves

Now that silk stockings "aren't being worn" because of the lack of silk imports from the Orient, many women are asking: "Why can't we grow our own silkworms and have an All-American silk?"

Prof. W. W. Price, entomologist at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington, replies as follows:

The silkworm must have mulberry leaves to eat and the United States has no great supply of the leaves. For this reason, and as the situation now stands, the silkworm industry definitely is out for this country. Besides this entomological aspect, there might be other industrial-economic problems involved, says Price.

Hog Prices Go In Five-Year Cycles

The market price of hogs varies with rather consistent regularity up about two and a half years, down about two and a half years, completing the cycle in about five years. So says Grady Sellards of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics, in a circular called "Pigs From Birth to Market in Six Months." There is also usually a cycle in hog prices within each year resulting in peaks in March or April and troughs in August or September. Farmers should study these price variations, thinks Sellards, and plan to have hogs ready for market when prices are at or near peak.

Kentucky's Columbus-Belmont Battlefield State Park Created When Civil War Fortifications Rediscovered

"telling Kentuckians about Kentucky"

Prepared by The Hickman County Gazette.

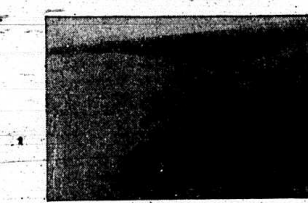

The Red Cross representative for West Kentucky was sent to Columbus in April, 1927, to handle the flood problem. Since the town was virtually wiped out and its municipal levee cut away by the boiling muddy waters, it was necessary to move the little pioneer city, the first county seat in the Jackson Purchase, up on the nearby bluff.

Upon examination of the terrain for the new town site the great trenches of the Civil War fortifications constructed by the Bishop General Leonidas Polk, C.S.A. were rediscovered. The physical evidences of the immense works, the war entrenchments, the water-works, the views from the 200 foot high eminences covering the majestic Mississippi, with its galaxy of accompanying oxbow lakes, marshes and woodlands, caused this group to make the effort to create a park on the site. It was clearly evident that such an undertaking could be made to dovetail into the proposed city removal plan, since the lot owner in the old town would surrender it for the selected lot in the new Red Cross city.

A park association was organized and incorporated and the collection of funds begun. It was found that over 2,500 city lots were involved in the area required. The cause from the fact that a tract of 33,000 acres was here platted by Kentucky-Virginia realtors in 1821 as a site for the capital of the nation and the municipal government was at the time changed from "Iron Banks" to "Columbus." The idea resulted from the Louisiana Purchase of 1803 which reached to the Pacific, thus being too large for the pre-rapid transit area and, too, had got Adams and Warrum of the British Navy burned our Capitol in 1814 and was it not necessary that it be placed where British sea-lanes ran not, thus making it more safe from America's early antagonist, the United Kingdom?

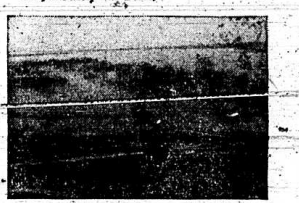

After several years of effort some 360 acres were obtained and a CCC camp was established on the area July 17, 1934. For three years these 200 men worked steadily under competent leaders to create the present splendid center, which now has a constant stream of visitors during the park season.

Parks should always reflect values in scenic, historic or recreational interests. The Columbus-Belmont Battlefield State Park bears elements of all three of these interests. No visitor comes but is immediately struck by the historic aspect touching our national life. Then,

From the Columbus-Belmont Park, the Mississippi River is seen bursting over its banks into the low sub-marginal lands (between Columbus and Wickliffe).

(This is one of a series of articles sponsored by the Kentucky Press Association which in 1941 would tell Kentuckians of what was in Kentucky should the world in 1942 (Sesqui-Centennial Year).

Former town site of old city of Columbus, Ky., built in 1821 at 1866ville Nation's Capital. The town was moved to the high Mississippi bluffs by the American Red Cross in 1927.

one stands in amazement on the great loess soil bluff at the sublime angles, rising very steeply and down America's greatest river.

As for recreational facility the job was well done. Long, winding trails call the visitor onward. Trail-side shelters at needed points let him rest and meditate. The picnic area has a splendid large shelter house; a well arranged concession building and rest rooms as well as a plentiful supply of seats, tables, urns. Space and facilities for all-night camping, games and for vacationist groups are at hand in the former CCC camp site.

On the whole, Columbus-Belmont Battlefield State Park serves well the some half-million people living within a radius of 150 miles from it as well as the thousands that come from afar to rest, learn and enjoy. Its solid worth and its location insure its continuous growth and its constantly increasing contribution to not only the beloved Commonwealth, but the entire Nation as well.

Kentucky's Columbus-Belmont Battlefield State Park is easily available by the great Mississippi itself; the Mobile and Ohio railroad and five modern all-weather highways that radiate from it.

Travelers in the Jackson Purchase of Kentucky, by all means, should see the park. Travel U.S. highway 51, north or south, or highway 58 to Clinton, the county seat of Hickman county, 12 miles to Columbus on highway 58. At Clinton, ample tourist accommodations will be found in a modern hotel and well-kept tourist homes. Camping facilities at Columbus are provided and tourist homes available.—E. Marion Rust.

Christian Church

By Aubrey Russell

There was a fine response to Roll Call Sunday. The Sunday School was a little below par for 94 present, but Communion Service and the Church hour was above normal. At the present time there are over 100 Church Activity Enlistment cards that have been filled out. These cards indicate what the various members will do in the way of service during the next few months. There are several more that have been filled out but have not been turned in. Still others to fill out cards that were not in church Sunday.

Sunday next will be opening day for our "Eight Weeks With God." The sermon topics for the period have been printed in the local paper. In addition there is a calendar printed to go in every home in which the local church is represented. It is hoped that these topics will be studied with interest for they are vital to our times and needed for personal religious living. The first of this series is THE REALITY OF GOD, which will be discussed Sunday morning.

In addition to the sermon emphasis there will be other interesting and inspiring items on our program. We hope to have our choir in shape for some special music Sunday and we will make an effort to have some fine choir music throughout the period.

At the Evening Service the sermon topic will be "Nothing Sacred."

This is a message asking the question relative to those things we hold of value. Are these things worthy of our support, or are they out dated ideas that we can get along better without?

Press Head At Rotary Club

Russell Dyche Gives Interesting Talk

The Mt. Vernon Rotary Club was honored last Thursday evening, by having Mr. Russell Dyche, editor of the Sentinel Echo at London, and President of the Kentucky Press Association as principal speaker.

The Rotary Club was observing National Newspaper Week, and Mr. Dyche's topic was "The Value of a Newspaper to a Community."

He told of the time his father moved "The Mountain Echo" from Barbourville to London because the people there wanted a Republican paper. Politics in those days played a vital part, in the success or failure of all newspapers, and readers liked "hot" editorials berating the party that the editor didn't represent.

Mr. Dyche stressed the point that newspapers are symbols of liberty and free speech. Without free speech it is impossible to have liberty and that is one reason our form of government has survived.

The speaker is known throughout Kentucky for his vigorous personality and as a veteran newspaper man.

The Rotary Club was pleased to have Mr. Dyche with them, and enjoyed his informative address.

Lions Vs. Rotary In Basketball

The Lions' Club of Livingston challenged the Mt. Vernon Rotary Club to a three game series of basketball, and after due deliberation and thorough thought, the Mt. Vernon club accepted the challenge. The first game will be played at Livingston, Wednesday, Oct. 15 Game time 7:30.

It is understood that the Lions have a good team, and they have been working out daily. Clyde Linville is captain, and he has such stars as Cliff Pike, Calvin Webb, Burgess Pike to call upon Dr. Webb is furnishing the liniment free.

Fritz Krueger was elected captain of the Rotary team, and this stellar staff of other days is forecasting a fast team from such experts of the game as M. R. Maggard, Ed Henry, Aubrey Russell, Russell Warren, Kearney Campbell and W. L. Simpson.

A small admission will be charged, and the proceeds will go to the Lions Club.

Train Kills Ohio Man

Body Found On Track Near Livingston

The body of a man that apparently had been struck by a train, was found near the tracks Wednesday about 3:30 in the afternoon. The authorities were notified and an inquest was conducted by Squire F. Robbins of Brodhead.

The only identification was a letter from some girl in Chattanooga, Tenn. to the deceased. The police there were called, and later the undertaker from Franklin, Ohio telephoned here, and asked for a description of the body. The description fitted, and the man was identified as Delbert Roach, of Franklin.

The body was in bad shape, both legs were severed, ribs broken and the neck smashed. The man was about six feet, three inches tall, and his age was estimated to be between 24 and 25 years.

Export Sees Desire To Save On Clothes

Getting out the old gray bonnet—with or without the blue ribbons on it—will be popular practice during 1941-42 when it will be fashionable to save, and to make use of clothing. Miss Verna Latcke of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics also has pointed out that dozens of clothing economies may be possible, permitting release of goods and services to defense.

Sports shoes may be resoled and re-heeled, for instance, so that they're almost as good as new.

Men's suits (ready to discard) may be made into attractive women's tailored suits.

A man's old felt hat sometimes can be transformed into an excellent "spectator sport" hat for a woman.

And, continuing the list along a slightly different line, farmists may be washed or dry cleaned frequently, thus saving the material and making it longer-lasting. Especially is this true of hosiery, slips, suits.

Tears or rips may be mended promptly before they have done much damage. Good clothes may be taken off in favor of work clothes at home.

British women now regard it as fashionable to wear clothes longer than they previously had thought possible. American women also may find that countless economies—looming up into a big total in a year—are possible.

Farmers Urged To Check Fire Hazards

Pointing out that the nation's farmers lost ten cents out of every dollar they earned last year, through fire or other serious accidents, Chief E. Gibson, County Supervisor for the Farm Security Administration, urged Rockcastle County farmers to pay particular attention to National Fire Prevention Week this year.

"The annual bill for farm accidents is estimated at one billion dollars or roughly one-tenth of the gross farm income last year," Mr. Gibson said. "These accidents on the farm cost the farmer 4,400 farm homes last year. Emphasizing that fire is one of the farmer's costliest enemies, Mr. Gibson pointed out that October 5 to 11 is National Fire Prevention Week and said that Rockcastle County farmers should take this time to check up on fire hazards on their farms.

Over 350,000 fires occur throughout the country annually, killing more than 5,000 people, and causing a 100 million dollars damage, Mr. Gibson said, adding that the isolated location of many farm homes and their distance from city fire fighting forces, make such fires a common property to be particularly hazardous.

He warned farmers to check carefully on lighting and wiring facilities in their homes and barns; to check construction of chimneys and flues; to make sure stoves and stove pipe connections were safe, and that roofing material is fireproof, if possible. He also warned against careless handling and storing of gasoline and kerosene, two common causes of farm fires. Smoking around barns where sparks may ignite unwept litter should be avoided. He stressed the importance of keeping several good fire extinguishers handy, as well as buckets and pails near convenient spots.

Any farmer who would like information about spotting fire hazards and fire fighting methods, may stop by the Farm Security Administration in the Miller Building, next door to Dr. J. D. Henderson's office, for the United States Department of Agriculture leaflet No. 44 on fire prevention.

Chain Stores Help Potato Growers

The Directors of the St. Matthew Produce Exchange at a meeting during the first of August requested help from the chain stores, independent merchants, hotels, and restaurants in moving their bumper crop of Kentucky-Cobbler Potatoes. The large crop of potatoes throughout the United States caused Kentucky potatoes to drop to such a low price level that it was no longer possible for them to be harvested and export a fair return.

President of Jefferson County Farm Bureau, Fred Stutzenberger, presided, and appealed to all concerned to help the Kentucky Growers. He called attention to the fact that Kentucky Potatoes had formerly been shipped to other markets; but that these markets were glutted and the growers would have to sell their crop at home or let them rot in the fields. Buyers of the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company, The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, and the Steiden Stores responded by purchasing the total of 115 carloads of Jefferson County Potatoes and the price rose from $1.10 per hundred pounds to $1.40.

In order to do this it was necessary for the chains to put on a Kentucky Potato Campaign, and the results speak for itself. They printed huge banners 3 x 4 1/2 used window cards, and advertised in newspapers to call to the attention of the consumer the necessity of helping Kentucky Growers.

These Producer-Consumer Campaigns are used only at the request of the Growers and some of the others that brought sensational results are the Peach Campaign, East More Lamb Campaign, and one that will soon make its appearance is the Apple Campaign.

Mrs. A. F. St. Clair, Mrs. Jalia Bray, Mrs. M. E. Price, and Mrs. F. E. Mullins spent Sunday in Somerset.

Highway Association Honors Dr. Webb

Dr. R. G. Webb, of Livingston, one of Rockcastle county's biggest boosters, was given signal recognition in an article appearing in a pamphlet published by the Great Lakes-Charleston - Super - Military Highway Association.

The complete text of the article follows: "A pioneer trail blazer is Dr. Webb, widely known physician and pharmacist of Livingston, Kentucky. The good doctor was one of the original promoters of the Dixie Highway and will do us recall tramping through deep snow which covered Gauley Mountain, the then barrier to North and South-bound thru travel. He for years has been surgeon for the Louisville and Nashville Railway and during the present year has served his country well in examining selectees and draftees for the Army, his clientele consisting of hundreds of youths from the Cumberland foothills of Laurel and Rockcastle counties. To many of these who appeared emaciated or underdeveloped physically, he said that a few months in Uncle Sam's service would make real men of them, and that they appeared feebly to emerge from the army, stronger in body and soul."

This military highway is being backed by many large cities and thousands of dollars have been raised to push its construction. The City of Lexington has pledged $50,000 and several clubs in Cincinnati have pledged $400.00.

This great highway would be four lanes would probably be close to Mt. Vernon.

Cyclist Narrowly Misses Serious Injury

Emma Fabre Franklin, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Franklin, had a narrow escape from serious injury last Thursday afternoon, when the bicycle she was driving got out of control, when coming down the hill in front of The Signal office. Erlanger Presents Martin For District Governor

The Breakfast Assembly meeting of the Erlanger Rotary Club, held at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning, was the occasion for an announcement of great interest to Northern Kentucky Rotarians when Rotarian R. D. Martin was presented as a candidate for Governor from the 162nd District. The election will be held at the annual Conference which will convene in Pikeville, Ky. in April.

R. D. Martin is an outstanding Rotarian and speaker, and was the first President of the Erlanger Rotary Club. It is believed that he will have the unanimous support of all the Rotary Clubs of the 162nd District.

Watch The Classifieds For Real Bargains

The farmers' and other business people are getting in the habit of advertising, when they desire to sell or buy. They have found that inserting a small twenty-five cent ad in our classified ad department usually gets results.

In the last few weeks we have had items advertised from opposite ends of the county. A grist mill at Quail and a cotton plant at Orlando were offered for sale.

We have one large manufacturer in Lexington who regularly uses The Signal to advertise his product. Each time an ad has appeared, the product was sold.

For bargains that are bargains get in the habit of turning to the Classified Ad column.

NOW IT'S KISS A MINUTE GABLE!

Lana Turner and Clark Gable

Moviegoers can take our word for it or bring their own stopwatch when they see Clark Gable and Lana Turner in "Honky Tonk." Not only does this teaming bring together Hollywood's two most combustible personalities to form one of secondhand's all-time sex romantic teams, but when their lips meet in this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature (and this is often) they set what is believed to be a new time high for kisses. When Gable isn't busy breaking down doors, talking his way in and out of trouble, he's a mighty busy romantic. With Lana doing her share of osculatory duty.

Hunters Cause Forest Fire

Hunters have undoubtedly been wrongly accused of setting fires but "Texas Sam", one of the blood-hounds owned by the U. S. Forest Service proved beyond a doubt that a fire last week was caused by hunters when, after a four hour chase, he led Forest Guard Ledford Perry of Stearns, Kentucky, to the home of Floyd Hencock and then Lonnie Bolin, both of Sloans Valley, Ky. Both men were taken before the Pulaski County Court, where Hancock pled guilty to lighting the fire to smoke some game out of a hollow tree on the National Forest. He was fined $10.00 and costs for violating 1255-1 of the Kentucky Statutes, which states: "No person shall kindle or start any fire in or near a public or private road, or in any wooded area or forest in the Commonwealth, unless such fire shall be under the control of said persons at all times, and said persons shall, before leaving said fire, totally extinguish it."

The theme is "Following the Living Christ". The song is "Follow the Living Christ". The Scriptures are Gal. 2:20 and Luke 9:23. The program is planned for every Baptist in the Region and will be devotional, inspirational, and practical. The Intermediate Sword Drill on Thursday night, the Junior Sword Drill and Young People's Speakers' Tournament on Saturday morning are important features. The Life Dedication Service will be conducted Friday night by Rev. H. C. Chiles of Barbourville.

Mr. H. J. Litton of Stearns is President of the Region, which is composed of Central, Lincoln County, Russell Creek, South Concord, South District, South Kentucky, Tate's Creek, and Wayne County Associations.

The main address Thursday night will be delivered by Rev. E. A. Petroff, Pastor of First Baptist Church, Danville.

Ohio Leads In Air Cadets

Ohio led the Fifth Corps Area in Army Aviation Cadet appointments for August, supplying 390 as compared with 93 for Indiana, 91 for Kentucky and 36 for West Virginia. Corps Headquarters reported today at Fort Hayes, Columbus, Ohio.

Kentucky boasted the best population percentage record for the month, supplying 22 per cent of the cadets while having only 12 per cent of the Corps Area population. Ohio with 45 per cent of the population furnished 45 per cent of the cadets.

The month's appointments, totaling 410, included applicants who passed the May educational examination candidacies, created the Fifth Corps Area with 285, ranking it fifth among the nation's nine Corps Areas. The Fourth Corps Area (the Carolinas, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana) led with 530.

The development of low-cost electric "daylight" lamps has increased the efficiency of stripping tobacco by artificial light. Lighted stripping rooms lengthen the day two to three hours and permits uniform grading, and consequently better prices.

A profit of $106.76 on one litter of pigs is reported by George Duvall of Ohio county, Kentucky. The 10 purebred Chester Whites weighed 2,203 pounds when 165 days old, and sold for $10.95 a hundred. They ran on clover and bluegrass pasture and received a ration of corn, barley, wheat and skim milk, which County Agent Raymond D. Ridley considers an ideal combination. In figuring the $106 profit, Mr. Duvall allowed $19.40 for his labor.

Safetygrams

By Fred W. Braun
Slippery roads, icy windshields, more hours of darkness—these are the hazards motorists must contend with for the next several months. How have you prepared for driving under such adverse weather conditions? Will your defrosters and windshield wipers work properly? Are your brakes good? Regardless of the mechanical perfection of your car, if you do not change your driving habits, the possibility of your having an accident is great. Good brakes won't be of much help on a stretch of icy pavement if you are traveling fast and are required to make a sudden stop. You apply the brakes, but the car merely slides along. Control your speed; approach intersections, stop signs along, and traffic signals with caution. Winter driving requires much alertness, less speed, and good common sense.

WHAT CO-OPERATION MEANS

Webster's Dictionary defines co-operate as follows: To act or operate jointly with another or others; to concur in action; effort or effect. Nothing worthwhile is ever accomplished without some sort of co-operation. Lack of co-operation keeps small towns from growing larger, and failure to work together is more prevalent by far among small town business men than in the larger cities.

Mr. Vernon, Brodhead and Livingston are little different from thousands of small towns throughout the United States. Most of these towns are satisfied to make a mere living, taking the bad years with the good, pushing nothing but their own business, and co-operating with nobody except themselves. Anybody with plain commonsense and reasoning should realize that a small community like Mt. Vernon has no chance to advance and prosper, unless the majority of businessmen east side their petty jealousies and work for the good of the community.

You hear on every hand about what will happen when this war is over. The depression will look like a boom compared to the one to come, these pessimists say. Still, Mt. Vernon, is making no plans whatsoever, to try and cushion this "coming depression." One of the biggest and best methods to forestall a depression is to have a factory here, that even though business conditions were bad over the country, would manufacture goods that were necessary and were used, good times or bad. Large manufacturers have already started to locate in small towns, realizing that they can operate much more cheaply than in the larger cities.

If this community were asked to erect a factory building for a manufacturer that would cost $20,000, many would say such an immense sum was out of the question. From a standpoint of co-operation, every people would have to put up $500.00. If the factory hired 200 workers at an average salary of say $15.00 per week, it would mean a payroll every week of $3,000.00, or a yearly output of $150,000. All property would advance in value, and instead of slow months, and bad years, every merchant that was progressive, would make money, year in and year out. To a merchant who has lived here many years, we wonder if such a factory would be worth $50,000 to him.

This county is a pauper county solely because people have not learned the value of co-operation, or as Webster says, concur in action, effort or effect. There is no reason why this fine county, blessed with many natural advantages, and situated on the edge of the famous Blue Grass country, should not be a prosperous county. The farmers in this county are rapidly learning how to make the most out of their land, and are raising other crops besides tobacco. Practically all farmers have increased their buying power in the last few years, and they are striving to find out new methods of farming whereby they can put money in the bank, build new homes and purchase good livestock.

A factory in Mt. Vernon would change the whole life of this community, and would give us a boom town that would live through the years and help everybody. The reason we don't have a manufacturing plant here now, is because the majority have not wanted one. The time has come for co-operation by all the business men and property owners to unite and work toward securing such industry, that will insure a better town and future for our sons and daughters.

Baptist Church

By Rev. W. C. Younce

A word of appreciation to those who have made a special contribution in time or money to the work of the church is in order. During the last few months we have had extra expenses, such as installing the bell, painting the church, etc., and our people have responded in a fine way to these calls. The regular offerings to the expenses of the church and missions, also contributions to the calendar fund, which will be used in building Sunday School rooms in the basement, have been gratifying. During the last week of our services have given much of their time to taking the census, this we appreciate.

"What can we do to help in the Revival Meeting?" is the question some are asking. We thank God for such people who are concerned for the lost. We hope that this group, "The Andrew Club" some might call it, will continue to grow in numbers. There is much to be done and the more we have working at the job the more shall be accomplished.

The Lord willing our Revival Meeting will begin October 20th. Brother Castleberry of Richmond will be our Evangelist. We understand there is to be a Fox Hunt during the first week of our meetings. Of course, you don't know this when we made our plans. Nevertheless, this will test the quality of religion people have. Christian people will do well to put the cause of Christ first in their lives. Pleasure, riches, honor and such like are of this world, which shall perish in due time; Jesus said, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness."

In this connection, let it be remembered that God would have his people to be able to set up a line of demarcation between good and evil. This is a truth that is laid down plainly in the Bible. For example: "Come ye out from among them, and be ye separate" (the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing, and I will receive you (2 Cor. 6:17). One reason why churches are not accomplishing any more for our Master is due to the fact that many of their members are worldly-minded. They seek to serve God and mammon, a thing which Jesus said could not be done. They seek to do as they please, a thing which Saint Paul said is contrary to the will of God: "Ye are not your own; ye are bought with a price; therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's." The truth is, a real Christian seeks after the good and best in life, that is, to please God.

County Exhibits Feature Robinson Harvest Festival

Booths filled with farm and home products representing 21 counties featured the annual Robinson Harvest Festival at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Quicksand, Breathitt county, this year. The amount and high quality of the products indicated a good season in Eastern Kentucky. In addition to the booths, there were more than 1,000 individual exhibits at the festival, making it one of the best and most attractive fairs yet held here. The event was pronounced one of the best ever made in Kentucky. There were 65 entries of prize-winning white corn, 47 of yellow varieties, and hybrid corn and popcorn. The potato show also was considered a great good. Exhibits of canned and baked foods, clothing and home furnishings were made by 4-H club members. Other features of the fair included a display of apples from the Experiment Station orchard, woodwork materials from the Robinson Forest, a National Youth Administration booth, a hog show and a poultry show.

In a program held in the new auditorium from 28 counties. Contests for club members included demonstrations in farm and home practices, declamation and singing.

91 YEARS OF PROGRESS

A Historical Tour of the Louisville & Nashville R.R.

HALF A CENTURY OLD AND STILL GROWING

On March 10, 1895, the L. & N. secured control of the Atlanta, Knoxville and Northern Railway; the first of several steps which were to culminate in a new line between Cincinnati and Atlanta, a distance of 438 miles. On April 3, 1902, it formed the Knoxville, LaFollette and Jellico Railroad; the building of a 75-mile line between Jellico and Knoxville, Tenn., and exactly three years later the first through trains were run between Cincinnati and Atlanta.

The line through the rugged country and its Westwood Loop, which encircles Bald Mountain, is said to be the third longest railroad loop in the world. The subsequent construction of a "new" line from a point near what is now Etowah, Tenn., to Cartersville, Ga., in April, 1904, resulted in the birth of Etowah at the junction of the old and new lines.

To underwrite the costs involved in the erection of this trackage, the L. & N. in the early part of 1902 issued new stock in the amount of $5,000,000. As a result a copy by certain Wall Street financiers, involving the purchase of the stock, control of the road passed to J. P. Morgan and Company, who eventually owned or controlled 30,000 of the 600,000 shares outstanding. Subsequently, in October 1902, J. P. Morgan and Company sold their holdings to the Atlantic Coast Line, giving that railroad ownership of 51 per cent of the L. & N. capital stock, a condition that endures to this day.

A re-organization of the general immigration and industrial department, resulting in a more intensive effort to attract settlers to Southern Alabama, and the opening of sections of Alabama's Warrior Coal Field, highlighted 1903.

The policy of the Louisville & Nashville has never been to let traffic develop of its own accord. Rather, it has created traffic by building new lines into undeveloped sections and by policy of generous encouragement to the settlers, farmers and industries located along its line. It has been largely responsible for the development and growth of many of the sections and communities the L. & N. serves.

County Agent Notes

Poultry Culling Demonstrations
In order to stimulate more interest in the production of eggs for this winter, a number of meetings have been scheduled for the purpose of culling out the non-producers and discussing facts for an increased egg production this winter.

takes fewer dozens of eggs to purchase one hundred pounds of feed than it usually does at this time of the year. Feed costs have advanced but egg prices have advanced more rapidly. In spite of this favorable condition and our Government's appeal for more eggs for defense and export to England, field observations show that too many flocks are not being fed and managed for best results. Too many flocks of pullets now five to seven months of age are not getting laying mash and many of these same flocks and some that are being properly fed are badly infested with lice and mites.

These culling demonstrations are the first of a series of meetings which will be this winter along the line of increasing our poultry as requested by the Government for 1942. Farm men and women who are interested in knowing how to cull their pullets and hens for egg production, as well as feeding and management of the flock for the winter should make plans to attend one of the meetings scheduled below:
Monday, October 13
Big Hill—9:00: John Anderson's farm.
Berea—10:30: Bill Botkin's farm.
Conway—9:00: J. H. Bowman's farm.
Wildie—3:00: Mrs. B. H. Parson's farm.
Tuesday, October 14
Disputanta—9:00: Howard Linville's farm.
Climax—10:30: Shelby Mullins' farm.
Brush Creek—1:00: W. C. Johnson's farm.
Livingston—3:00: Walter Durham's farm at Horse Lick.
Friday, October 17
Blue Springs—9:00: John Bullock's farm.
Mt. Vernon—10:30: A. V. Lee's farm.
Quail—1:30: Olney Sutton's farm.
Broadhead—3:00: Tom Owen's farm at Hiatt.

In order to get the greatest production at the least expense we must cull out the non-producers; (2) provide good houses; (3) supply clean, cool water; (4) feed properly; (5) control parasites. You can get a poultry calendar record from the County Agent by writing or calling.

TOBACCO GRADING

Since our farmers are interested in the Government inspecting and grading tobacco for the market in order to get a more uniform price it has been decided to conduct a number of Government tobacco grading demonstrations throughout the county. The County Agent has secured a special Government tobacco grader for four days. We will put on two tobacco grading demonstrations a day. It will be impossible to put a grading demonstration in every neighborhood since the time is limited, therefore, it will be necessary for farmers to attend the meeting the nearest to them. Read carefully the dates and the places of these grading demonstrations as scheduled below. Many tobacco questions will be answered as to the grading and marketing under the Government plan which the farmers recently voted on.

Tuesday, October 21
Big Hill—10:00: Roy Clark's farm.

THE FAIR

Friday and Saturday of this week are the two big days for Rockcastle county. Friday, October 10 is entry day. Farmers, homemakers and schools are all urged to make their entries. Everything must be entered on Friday except the livestock for the 4-H and F. A. members. Poultry can be entered on Friday and up till 9 o'clock Saturday morning, October 11—not later.

Farmers—Since we have fine crops in the county this year why not make a big entry of farm and garden products? This is the time to exhibit the products of your farm and to show the products of the county.

There will be a lunch counter again this year in connection with the fair. The public is invited to do their eating and drinking at the lunch counter since the money comes back into the fair fund to help pay the premiums. This gives us all an opportunity to contribute to the fair. No one connected with the fair in any way whatsoever is paid for any of their work, therefore, let's all buy our food and drinks and be glad of the opportunity to contribute this much to the fair and at the same time, satisfy the stomach.

All plans have been completed for the most successful fair we have ever had. Let's make it the biggest day the county has ever had by making entries and attending. Don't forget the big parade. It's not only for the school children but for 4-H clubs, F. A. boys, farmers, homemakers, business and professional men. Our parade this year will be headed by our own band. Let's make the day a great occasion.

The Garden

By John S. Gardner, Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics

Tomatoes—(Continued). A common disease of tomatoes is blight. It causes the falling off of the leaves, exposing the fruit to sunburn. Also, fruit size dwindles and the flavor becomes sour. A deterrent is to spray with Bordeaux mixture, and those whose property is not sprayed to its effectiveness. However, some of the benefit from using Bordeaux is offset by leaf injury from the lime in Bordeaux, and this made Experiment Station workers seek for a material that would control the disease, but without the use of lime.

Such a material is "copper oxide-yellow." This is a ready-prepared combination of the well known red copper oxide and a spreader, to enable a small spray being made of it, merely by stirring it in water.

The cost of "copper oxide-yellow" spray is no more than that of Bordeaux. The simplicity of having only one ingredient to add to the water, and, best of all, its effectiveness, recommend the oxide spray, as Kentucky gardeners this year can testify, copper oxide-yellow was everywhere effective. In fact, several instances are on record where early set tomato plants kept producing fruit that showed almost no deterioration in size or in quality, all summer long. A case is on record of tomatoes but this year in the same ground as last year (which one should never do) that produced a quite satisfactory crop, whereas 100 plants left unsprayed failed after ripening just a few inferior fruits.

Having "discovered" copper oxide-

yellow as a spray for tomatoes may be listed as a "Triumph."

Beans—Those gardeners who used the Commodore variety of beans reaped for themselves that in quality and flavor it is fully the equal of the favorite Kentucky Wonder. A bush sort, it obviates the need for finding poles, where this is a chore. Again, as a bush sort, it is much more easy to protect against the Mexican bean beetle.

This year it has been all the more firmly established that rotenone and pyrethrum are adequate controls for the bean beetle, provided they are applied at the proper time or times. The first is just after egg-laying has begun, and the next, 10 days after. If there is doubt in the mind of the gardener as to whether he has been through enough, he may give a third spraying, again in 10 days.

Cabbage—Many gardeners this year successfully grew cabbage where its raising had been discontinued because of the Cabbage Yellows disease. Seed of resistant strains of practically all the varieties, early and late, are becoming more and more easily obtainable, local seedmen needing merely to be reminded in time.

Quails—From Fair displays and from gardeners' comments Ebenezer appears to be the variety to use, not just "yellow sets." A bit of insisting on the part of the gardener who wants to have his onions kept in addition to the state hunting license. No stamp is required to hunt ducks.

Shooting hours, as follows: Waterfowl and coots, sunrise to 4 p. m. and rails and gallinules (other than coots), woodcocks, and mourning doves, sunrise to sunset.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct.—Confiscated guns, fishing tackle and outboard motors will be sold at public auction by the Division of Game and Fish, Saturday, October 11 at 10 a. m. central standard time. S. A. Wakefield, Director of the Division, has announced.

This illegal contraband has been seized by the Conservation Officers of the Division from those persons who try to violate the game and fish laws.

The items will be sold to the highest bidder and any person may come early on the day of the sale or any day preceding the sale and examine the guns, rifles and traps and motors at the Div. of Game and Fish officers Welfare Building, Frankfort, Ky., where the auction is to be held.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct.—The Conservation Officers of the Division of Game and Fish made 37 arrests during the month of August and received 22 convictions. On some of these cases no report of trial has been received to date. The Officers also checked 1,444 hunting and fishing licenses and seized a large amount of contraband or illegal hunting and fishing equipment.

Extensive soil tests in Meade county have shown that most of the uplands need phosphate as well as lime.

TAKE A MOMENT TO THINK

Right now, you are probably earning more money than you have for some time. How long will it last?

If we can judge the future by the past, these boom times won't last indefinitely.

In looking over our accounts we are impressed by one thing—smart people are saving money. They are building up a reserve, to fall back on when the going gets rough.

As we see it here in the bank this is a big opportunity to save. See that a part of what you make is laid away—and stays there. You'll be ready for anything.

Farm News

By getting rid of some of his corn acreage, and selling part of his workstock, J. S. Holbrook of Leitcher county has actually increased his profits, he reports. He put part of the land in hay, and cut farm operating expenses.

It looked as if Jefferson county farmers might have to dispose of part of the potato crop to the Surplus Commodities Administration, but a sudden spring in the market made it unnecessary. A fairly good price was received.

In McCreary county, a special attempt was made to get 4-H club members to grow fall gardens. Seed was purchased cooperatively at low cost for 4-Hers, with eight different kinds furnished each member. Approximately 100 have gardens.

To "beat the drought," W. H. Hoeker of Jessamine county seeded 25 pounds of Hardigan alfalfa per acre. He used three tons of lime-stone and 400 pounds of superphosphate per acre on nine acres. If the stand is good, as a result of the heavy seeding, he intends to apply potash top-dressing in the spring.

The Tennessee Valley Authority is clearing out the wood in the area to be covered by the water of the Gilbertsville dam. It is cut in 10 to 12-foot lengths and made available to farmers without cost.

Elbey Sharp of Adair county has found fair prices for calves and hogs profitable. From his herd of 10 Jerseys he sold cream for $695 and calves for $287, from March 3 to September 17. He also sold hogs for $800, and has 14 left on feed.

Champion 4-H club tobacco grower in Logan county is Laurin Wilkins, who harvested approximately 1,800 pounds to the acre, despite dry weather. Green manure crops were turned under and stable manure fertilizer applied.

A special page in The Madisonville Daily Messenger, pointing out the food value of peaches and ways of canning or otherwise preserving them, helped Hopkins county growers dispose of a big crop. All sold locally at prices averaging about 50¢ a bushel.

A good blue grass pasture on the farm of Henson Marvin near Russell-was one of the sights on a tour of McClean and Muhlenberg county cattle raisers. Good pastures and ample water supply were stressed on the tour.

In a crops tour in Boyd county, farmers saw corn that had been improved by applying rotted sawdust to the land. In another place sawdust and chicken manure had brought better yields. Tests indicated that the sawdust was high in phosphorus and other fertilizer elements.

Henry county farmers who used 10 to 15 tons of manure to the acre, 500 pounds of phosphate broadcast and 250 to 300 pounds of fertilizer in the row, almost without exception had good tobacco. There is evience all over the county that it takes an abundance of plant food to make a good tobacco crop," says County Agent W. B. Howell.

Probably Daviess county 4-Hers will take as many as 40 pigs to the Evansville, Ind., show and sale.

Last year 9 men in Madison county yielded Balbo 796, the first yield in the county, now 500 bushels have been purchased for seeding.

Encouraged by rising prices for eggs, Elliott county farmers are cutting flocks, increasing feed, and making better laying quarters.

Wondering about the 1942 cars?

Here is Buick's superb solution to the problems posed by making our national defense, as it should be, industrial America's No. 1 job

BUICK BUILDS FOR DEFENSE

Our engineers build the Pratt & Whitney valve in head aircraft engines for defense use.

It was no time to duck or dodge the facts. So we didn't try.

Instead we said — these being the materials critical in the defense program, we'll do our planning for 1942 with that foremost in mind.

Not merely for an "acceptable" car — certainly not for any "ersatz" number.

We had to have a real and representative Buick. One able enough, active enough, durable enough to serve till annual new models are the rule again.

We resolved on a 1942 automobile of such merit as could carry and cherish the Buick reputation without fault until other new Buicks, however far off, could come along to refresh it.

Now we're announcing those 1942 cars.

Why waste words telling you how good they are? You can't put language in the gas tank and learn either how many or how enjoyable are the miles you'll get per gallon.

There's a better answer—you drive these cars themselves. Come on, do that! Put your own yardstick on their quality.

It would be a shame, for you and for us, to have you miss the dreadnought Buick we've built to stand up successfully to the toughest job in years.

No other car has ALL THIS FOR YOU IN 'FORTY-TWO
