War is hell. General Sherman made this remark, but its truth has been known for centuries. A war entails hardships, not only on soldiers, but on civilians. It is cruel, inhuman, and brings out the worst in man. Wise men have known these facts since wars began, but man has always known the horrors of war. Remember World War I and the Spanish American conflict. Both were costly and inhuman wars. We led a great wave of progress followed the last World War, and people soon forgot the costs. Now, many people are afraid that this war will not last long enough to get rich, and they want the profits of war without the costs.

The biggest argument against war in this country is that due to our distance from the enemy it would be impossible to ever invade this nation successfully. In other words, "let the rest of the world go to the devil, while we live, free from war. To the selfish, that might be a good idea. If we could live in a world indifferent to economists, that we could not maintain our present state of prosperity without foreign trade. Prices would soon go downward, wages would be cut and only a very few would have jobs. Remember the depression. Many German sympathizers are now in this country, and with a Nazi controlled Europe, Asia and Africa, it would be very easy for these friends of Hitler to get many converts here, for dissatisfied people are willing to try anything for their betterment. In fact, as we see in Mein Kampf, that America will be conquered from within. Some of our so-called heroes and peace-makers and our defense methods, would under Hitler be unable to stand their mouths under the cold to do so, and those words would not be their own. It's a privilege to be able to speak out against your President and country without being shot or lodged in jail. Do you think that the Nazi would allow us to have the many favored privileges that we now have? Of course not. Labor leaders should stop and count the labor unions in occupied countries. Unions and organizations are not allowed, because they spread dissension.

People who believe this holocaust put out by Lindbergh and others don't know the facts. This country wasn't founded on such rot, and our grandfathers and great-grandfathers would have advocated shooting such men who openly talked so harshly against their country in a time of such great emergency as now exists. Now is the time to think collectively, not separately. When the danger is over, the threads of humanitarianism can be rewoven into a new America and a new world. When a man is going to be shot at sunrise, he doesn't think about how the beauties of nature or how his grandfathers would get through the winter, he is thinking solely of himself. That's our problem today, we have a tremendous job to do, let's do it.

Do men work in the various service departments in the armed forces? Sam's battalions get paid extra for their efforts? Yes, they manage to add to their incomes if they're trained for tailoring or cobbling or if they work as fountain clerks or attendants.

Christian Church

By Aubrey Russell

For the past few weeks one of the Sunday School Classes has been responsible of the Opening Worship.

These classes have been of fine quality. Last Sunday the young people brought us a little peace play. It was not only timely but pointed out the practical method of bringing "Peace on earth".

This Sunday Miss Hazel Riddle and her class will have the worship. It is hoped that all members will show their appreciation by being present. The message of the morning will be THE CHURCH. This is another of the sermons that emphasize "Great Christian convictions" for which we have been thinking for the last few weeks.

The evening message will be SACREDNESS OF LIFE. In this message we are continuing our comments of the Ten Commandments. Let this be your invitation to see how they are living and vital laws that must be observed if we are to make a better world.

Many say they do not get up to time to come to Sunday School. If you are one that makes such an excuse, do the best thing and attend the church and Communion services.

Baptist Church

By Rev. W. C. Younce

The Association of W. M. O. Meeting was held at the church last Wednesday with 67 in attendance, representing the six societies in the county, namely: Brodhead, Conway, Fairview, Livingston, Valley and Mt. Vernon. The speaker for the day was Mrs. C. Creemore, our Regional Vice President. Her message was very inspiring. We do wish more women from our association could have been present. We want to thank our women for the fine dinner which they served.

We want to take this opportunity to remind the Baptist Sunday Schools in our association that our two orphanages, The Kentucky Baptist Children's Home, Glendale, Ky. and Louisville Baptist Orphans' Home, Louisville, Ky., are expecting a Thanksgiving offering from our churches, which will supplement their inadequate incomes necessary to properly operate. The need is great and the funds are few. Therefore, let us plan to remember them with a generous offering.

Sunday School—9:45 a. m. Charles Brown, Supt. Lesson: "The Privilege of Union with Christ"—John 15:1-10. Who is a Christian? What does it mean to be a Christian? What is our relationship to Christ? Are we accepting the spiritual privileges and opportunities which are ours? What is the purpose of Christ in our lives? These are questions which arise in the study of this lesson. Present last Sunday, 137. Let every member of the churches try to make our Sunday School what it ought to be. It takes work. We cannot expect to accomplish very much without it. Morning Worship—11 o'clock. Sermon: "An invisible host which carries out the high purpose of the righteous God".

Training Union—6 p. m. Lesson: "Learning to live with Christ", a lesson we all need to learn. When we learn to live with Christ then it is that we can work together. A good program is being prepared for each department. Let everyone interested in the church attend this service. Present last Sunday, 60.

Evening Worship—7 o'clock. Sermon: "An earnest cry for the essential intervention of Divine Grace". "Those who are divinely led know what is the will of God for their lives but are finding it difficult are urged to hear the above messages. The pastor, like the apostle Paul, urges the people to pray "with all perseverance and supplication for all saints; and for me, that utterance may be given unto me that I may open my mouth boldly to make known the mystery of the gospel, for which I am an ambassador in bonds; that therein I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak."

In view of present conditions we urge those who believe in prayer to attend the Wednesday night prayer service. We are in need of heavenly wisdom. In connection with our Bible study, taken from John 2. Prayer Series—Isaiah 41:12. "Who to them that go down to Egypt for help; and stay on horses, and trust in chariots, because they are many; and in horsemen because they are very strong; but they look not unto the Holy One of Israel, neither seek the Lord". Also, Romans 10:12. "For the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon Him." Let us, therefore, seek the Lord.

Mrs. W. L. Cummins was taken to Lexington Hospital Monday of this week for a operation. Let us remember her in our prayers.

Mrs. Frank Richmond and little son have returned home from the Berea Hospital. We welcome him into our Credit Roll Department.

Let us continue to remember these in our prayers, thanking God for his blessings upon them.

Try This Method Roast Turkey

The usual American "turkey time" is approaching—which means anytime after the first frost. The University of Kentucky poultry section says that the turkey supply this year totals 33 million birds; that is about one turkey for every family in America. During 1933-41, the number of turkeys raised has gone up about 10 million.

Asker for approved recipes for roasting turkeys, the home economics department of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics suggests the following:

Select a young turkey 12 to 14 pounds in weight, preferably a hen. As stuffing, some prefer it moist and others dry; some with sage, some without. In any case, it is better to have the turkey cleaned, stuffed and trussed the day before cooking. Rub the outside generously with flour and butter, and with some salt and pepper. Place in a hot oven for 20 minutes; then, reduce the temperature to 375 degrees, and baste frequently until tender. Allow 15 to 18 minutes per pound for young turkey, and 20 to 25 minutes for a mature one.

What is the "bull horn" on a United States Navy ship? It is the huge amplifier through which orders are issued to the crew.

Sheep Need Extra Care This Season

The dry weather during the past three months has affected very seriously the pastures in Central Kentucky and other parts of the state. In some areas the pastures are practically bare; in others what little grass and weeds there are, are very inferior in nutritive value. In addition to poor pastures, the water supply for domestic livestock is inadequate and what pond water may be available is unfit for animals to drink.

This seems to have been a bad summer for parasites in sheep, particularly stomach worms. Lambs infested with stomach worms to the extent that they were visibly sick were encountered several weeks earlier this year than has been the case for several years past. The most serious trouble in sheep from parasites has occurred in lambs that were not ready for market late in June and early in July. In several instances, groups of lake lambs have been treated two, three and four times for stomach worms between July 1 and October 1; and yet, on autopsy, stomach worms and other parasites of the digestive tract have been found. All red blood cells per given volume of blood were found in many instances to be as low as one-fifth of the normal number. Lambs that are heavily infested with parasites in the digestive tract, that have become extremely anemic, do not respond to good care and feeding, even though they are treated in a way that removes the parasites. In that there has been serious trouble in lambs this year that is common in this area, it seems quite evident that the two most important factors are the unfavorable condition of the pasture and earlier than usual heavy infestation of parasites. Even where the lambs are fed all the good grain mixture they will eat, they do not respond.

Another class of sheep in which trouble has developed is the young western ewes shipped in. Young ewes brought in from the west should, under present pasture conditions, be immediately placed on good hay and a good grain ration in addition to whatever pasture may be available. Western sheep are not altogether free of parasites; neither do

"JUST CALL ME ABOUT RETONGA," SAYS RUSSELL

Felt So Miserable From Acid Indigestion and Toxic Wastes He Could Hardly Keep Going. He States. Wants Others To Know What Retonga Did.

Happy and grateful endorsements of Retonga continue to pour in as well known men and women tell how this famous medicine promptly relieved their distress from acid indigestion, nervousness, weak, run down feeling, sleeplessness, muscular pains and aches, loss of appetite, weight and strength, and similar debilitating symptoms due to insufficient flow of stomach digestive juices, the toxic wastes of constipation, and need of Vitamin-B-1 for digestion, nerves and strength. Mr. J. T. Russell, well known carpenter and contractor of St. Matthews, Route 1, Anchorage, Ky., is among the "largest" to come out with a strong public endorsement of Retonga.

"I dragged around for two or three years feeling almost past going," declares Mr. Russell. "I suffered so much distress from sour, burning indigestion that I carried soda with me to work, and took it every night after supper. Constipation bothered me all the time, and I felt so miserable that when I went to bed I didn't ever want to get up. Gas in my stomach often made me so nervous I could hardly stand it.

"Retonga brought me relief after everything else I tried had failed. I eat what I want, the gas and nervousness are relaxed, and I don't have to take harsh laxatives. I have gained several pounds and feel fine. If anybody wants to know more about what Retonga did for me they can call me at Taylor 1502."

91 YEARS OF PROGRESS

A Historical Tour of the Louisville & Nashville R.R.

Good Times and Bad

Many misfortunes beset the Old Reliable in the first decade of the 20th Century, but fortunately none was fatal. The disaster was narrowly averted in 1907, in November and December of which the L. & N. was forced to pay its employees in scrip; a disastrous fire which partially destroyed the magnificent Union Station at Louisville in 1905; severe storms along the Gulf Coast in 1906, which did great damage and disrupted service for 8 1/2 days, and the strike of the Western Kentucky coal miners in 1901-1903, which created chaos and confusion and greatly disorganized train service.

Although the decade was not grim enough, entries for the credit side of the ledger were not lacking. The first Old Reliable employee was pensioned in 1901; the first employee to complete 50 years of continuous service, Major James Geddes, superintendent, Nashville & Decatur Division, was honored with a banquet at Louisville in 1910; the huge South Louisville Shops were completed in August 1905 and a new general office building was completed at Louisville in January 1907.

Contemporaneously, acquisition and construction brought into being a new line between Cincinnati and Atlanta, and the road continued its program of aid to industry and commerce by the construction of several branch lines, notably in the coal fields of Alabama.

It is noteworthy that the Louisville & Nashville has weathered all the storms of its 91 odd years of corporate existence. It has faithfully discharged its obligations to its bondholders and employees, with rare exception it has never paid dividends to its stockholders, and it still doing business under its original name. In truth, it has justified its affectionate nickname, "The Old Reliable."

Editors Entertained At Levi Jackson Park

Last Saturday editors and their wives of the Ninth District were royally entertained at London, by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dyche. The locale was the beautiful Levi Jackson State Park, one of the many projects that Editor Dyche's efforts brought to London.

Lunch was served at one of the recreation buildings in the Park, and a meal fit for any good Kentuckian was served, consisting of old country ham roasted on Mr. Dyche's farm, old fashioned honey, candied sweet potatoes and green beans.

The guests had an opportunity to sample some of the famous Swiss cheese made near London.

The program was sponsored by H. A. Browning of Williamsburg, and was one of a series of meetings of the different districts over the State by the K. P. A. After a short business session the group were shown the many interesting buildings and historical sites which make the Levi Jackson Park the most interesting in the State. One could spend hours in the museum where many antiques of early Kentucky are assembled. Two of the most interesting were two pewter plates that were recently unearthed in the Park near the site where early emigrants were massacred by the Indians. It is surmised that the plates were used to cover the fire built by the early pioneers and the Indians failed to include them in their booty. The name McNitt is plainly engraved on the plates, and it is definitely known that the McNitts were among those killed by the savages. The old water mill, which is in active operation was visited and each visitor was given a bag of water-grown corn meal.

The editors thoroughly enjoyed their visit to Russell Dyche's home town and the Park. London is growing rapidly and Mr. Dyche's active interest in all community projects is one reason for its growth. Besides his many activities at the Signal, Russell is president of the Kentucky Press Association, and is making one of the best news that body ever had. Friendly and capable, Kentucky needs more editors like Russell Dyche.

Civilian Defense Week Nov. 11-16

The president of the United States has proclaimed November 11-16 as Civilian Defense Week. The purposes of this week are to:

1. To stimulate the people to an awareness of the need of Civilian Defense, and the many specific ways in which people can participate.
2. To inform the people as to how local civilian defense groups are being organized, and how civilians can enroll and serve.
3. To stimulate the establishment of Voluntary Officers so that active civilian protection and community service programs can proceed promptly.

Governor Keen Johnson has also issued a proclamation, setting aside the same week as Civilian Defense Week for Kentucky. Mr. J. J. Greenleaf has been made the Director of Civilian Defense. Mr. Greenleaf has appointed Dr. C. B. Crittenden and Dr. A. Y. Lloyd as Chairman and Co-Chairman in setting up a program for "Health and Welfare Day", which is to be Friday, November 14. This day has been selected as one dedicated to placing emphasis upon the importance of a healthy and secure population as a strong foundation for military defense. The further purpose of "Health and Welfare Day" is to point out what can be done in the community to minimize the social-economic disturbances caused by the impact of the defense program upon the civilian. Through agencies already established, promote the cause of physical well being at this time of national stress and strain. Only the fit can successfully defend themselves against antidemocratic ideologies from without.

All organizations, both lay and professional, national and local, are urged to participate in the activities of "Health and Welfare Day." Much can be done to preserve the ideology of democracy through the activities of the citizenry of the State.

Seventh Grade Boy Writes Patriotic Poem

Ernest Lee Cope, who attends the Fairview school, and is in the seventh grade recently wrote a poem, that is remarkable for a lad of his age. The spirit expressed reflects the feelings of all Americans, and we take pride in printing young Cope's poem.

AMERICA - OUR COUNTRY
I'm glad to be an American boy
For the freedom and Liberty we have
...to enjoy.
We have beautiful prairies, lakes and hills,
Huge factories and tall steel mills.

It's the most wonderful country, the travelers all say,
New people are coming for new homes every day.
There are bright rolling rivers that flow north, south, east, and west
America's our country is really the best.

The English people are coming day after day
To try to dodge the conflict that's in Europe today.
There's the huge mountains reaching up to the sky
That stands like a brave man as the flutty clouds drift by.

Columbus came in 1492
He made that voyage just for me and you,
And our brave fathers who fought and died for peace,
We should praise their courage now at least.

The Pilgrims who stood under the Indians attacks,
Starvation, and sickness but they wouldn't turn back.
Now they say we have an army to protect us from harm,
But America is protected by God's strong arm.

So as we pass our flag, we give our hats a wave
And think of our army that stands strong and brave.
Just think of whats in Europe, its not a jiffy mess,
But America, our country is really the best.

Old Chestnut Ridge 4-H Club Notes

The Old Chestnut Ridge 4-H Club attended achievement at the Mt. Vernon high school Saturday, Nov. 8. All our officers except one which is out of the state were present. There were also 5 members and two leaders there. The champion winner which is given to the best club in the county. There were three county champions in our club, Clyde Pitman, fattening hog, champion; Ruth Ella Halcomb was sweet potato champion; and Lee Roy McClure was wood pork champion. Outstanding boy of the county was elected vice president of the County. The funnest part of it all was the pig calling contest which Lee Roy McClure won. He had eight opponents and it was very close between him and a girl from Fairview. Fairview had won the pig the last six years by Old Chestnut Ridge finally broke their winning streak and won a purebred O. I. C. pig. We all had a good time and expect to keep our good record up next year.

Improvements In Rockcastle County

Rockcastle County has made progress the last six years in Rural Highways, Roads and Streets, 131 miles made and improved; 18 New Bridges and Viaducts or 476 Linear feet; 722 New Culverts or 15,490 Linear feet; 89 or near one mile of New Curbs and Gutters; One New School Building and an addition to another; One New Gymnasium; 74 or three-fourths of a mile of New Storm and Sanitary Sewers; Nine New man holes and Catch Basins; 260 Sanitary Privies.

All these were accompanied by the co-operation of the W. P. A. Rockcastle County Fiscal Court, County Health Department and the School Board.

Many other improvements were made which furnished good honest employment to many of our citizens that otherwise would have been out of work without this co-operation.

Women and children were helped to food and clothing in a time of dire need and distress.

Poor Honey Season Bees Need Feeding

Due to the poor honey flow during the past season in some parts of Kentucky, many bee colonies are short of winter stores. Each colony should now have 50 to 60 pounds of honey, says Prof. W. A. Price of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Those having less than this amount should be fed a sufficient amount of sugar syrup to bring the stores to that level.

The syrup is made by dissolving two parts of white cane sugar by volume to one part of water. Measure the desired quantity of water, place it in a boiler, and heat to the boiling point. Then pour the sugar into the boiling water and agitate the mixture until the sugar is dissolved. Allow the sugar solution to heat to the boiling point and then remove from the fire. Pour the syrup into 10-pound friction top pails. The lid should have 8 to 10 holes punched through with lath nails. When the syrup has cooled to about 100 degrees invert the pails directly over the frames of the hive. Place an empty hive body and cover on top of the colony to protect the feeder and prevent robbing. When the feeding operation has been completed remove the pail and empty hive body.

Statistics show that during the U. S. Navy training period recruits gain an average of almost ten pounds as a result of good food, exercises and regular hours.

Circular Lists Ways Family May Have Home Foods

A circular called "Make the Farm Feed the Family," published by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics, discusses foods that may be produced by the farm family on the farm, in this time of rising prices.

For instance, a family of five members may find a half-acre garden worth at least $250, in normal times. It may be worth much more in 1942.

A family of five requires two cows, one freshening in the spring and the other in the fall. Any surplus of milk from two cows could be made into butter or cottage cheese.

A flock of 25 hens and two roosters would meet the table needs of a family five persons. With a little extra care, such a flock should produce 100 eggs or more per hen in a year, or enough to furnish an egg a day per person, several dozen to set and some to sell.

The home meat supply usually includes hogs and chickens and sometimes sheep and beef cattle. A family of five requires 400 to 500 pounds of meat products, and may use more. The best way to have this meat is to produce it at home.

Home-produced feeds for the cows, hens and other stock should include at least two acres of pasture for the two cows, two tons of good hay for them, and 1,200 to 1,500 pounds of grain.

The U. S. O. plans to operate at least one clubhouse at every U. S. Naval base and, in addition, will arrange to introduce sailors to civilian families so that Uncle Sam's seaman can get a taste of home life during their stay in port.

As an indication of the amount of food it requires to feed the sailors in the U. S. Navy, more than 12,666,000 dozen eggs, 55,000,000 pounds of fruit will be consumed by fleet personnel during the next year.

Imitate The Squirrel Say Home Economists

A really first-class squirrel always stores up lots of nuts for winter. By spring, he still is fat and energetic—so the nuts must be pretty nutritious, at that. The Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics suggests that families desiring to escape high food costs might likewise spend a little time, collecting walnuts, hickory nuts, etc., to add to the winter diet. The children will like collecting them. They are excellent to add to the menu, especially along about frost time and through the cold weather. And they are highly nutritious, rich concentrates of much-needed food.

All battleships in the U. S. Navy are named after states in the union and cruisers, of the fleet are named after cities in the United States, although several cruisers not as yet commissioned will be named after U. S. territories and insular possessions.

The most important single instrument in a U. S. Navy submarine is the depth gauge. It reveals the water pressure on the outside by which members of the crew can tell the depth in feet.

The U. S. Navy maintains a fleet hospital ship, the U. S. S. Relief, that represents the most advanced ideas in sea going hospitalization. Its arrangement and equipment is comparable to that of the most modern civilian hospital.

To avoid bodily collisions, sailors in Uncle Sam's Navy ascend ladders on the starboard (right) side of the vessel and descend on the port, or left side.

A Bouquet For Dr. Webb

Dr. Webb has been confined to his room the past week because of illness. It seems very unusual to hear of Dr. Webb being sick. He has always stood up so very wonderfully under the terrific strain he undergoes, visiting his patients in the remote sections of the county at all hours of the night and withstanding the very extreme weather conditions. Although it has been very seldom in Dr. Webb's life that he has been ill he is getting along in years now and isn't as rugged and able to withstand the exposure his work calls for. He has been serving this community both as a citizen and a leader for thirty-five years and there are few homes that Dr. Webb hasn't visited in this section of the county in that span of years. His services also carry outside the community because of his position as L. & N. physician. He is also President of the Livingston Lions Club, on the school board and as we all know a big factor in the various other organizations of the town.

Dr. Webb graduated from the Louisville school of medicine in 1906 and in that same year he bought a horse and set up practice here in Livingston. He has been here ever since devoting a life of service to his community and as we all have to admit, he's done a grand job of it. He has watched Livingston grow through all these years and through his untiring efforts and splendid leadership there has been added beautiful improvements that make Livingston what it is today. Under his thrifty and efficient management he has added to the convenience and appearance of Livingston an attractive five-brick building which houses a large share of the town's business, including the post-office and his own modern, well-equipped office.

A few years ago, he and a small group of men in Livingston met together and discussed plans for the construction of a new modern school building to replace the old frame structure that stood on the site where the new gymnasium now stands.

They set to work to do what seemed to some the impossible because of the limited financial possibilities the community afforded. The result is our school which now stands as a monument to their efforts. Since the new school building has been built, with the efficient leadership of Dr. Webb and the help of various other booster and citizens Dr. Webb ranks added to the school a new gymnasium of which every parent and student should be very proud, and this year for the first time, Livingston has a sixteen piece band. As a booster and citizen Dr. Webb ranks as tops, and the people of Livingston should be proud and fortunate in having such a man as Dr. Webb to assist in its welfare. Since that day back in 1906 that Dr. Webb came here he has accepted the responsibilities put on him by the problems of the community and has never once faltered. So at this time while Dr. Webb is ill and unable to attend to his duties and at a time when the people see how much they do miss him is the proper moment to express to him our gratitude for all the nice things he has done for our school and the little community in which we live and to wish him a speedy recovery and many more years of service and happiness which he obtains from that service.

An Armistice-day program was given at the High School Tuesday. Mr. Linville led the pledge to the flag. Interesting discussions were given on Defense by Supt. Walter Chestnut and County Agent Robert P. Spence. Mr. Chestnut discussed "Home Defense" and Mr. Spence spoke on the topic "The Farms part of our National Defense."

Prospects Promising For 4-Lane Highway

Cincinnati, Ohio, October 30—Upon his return from a week's tour, Frank E. Bolton, Field Secretary of the Cincinnati Automobile Club, reported tremendous interest in cities and towns of the South in the proposed Great Lakes-Cincinnati-Charleston Super-Military Highway. Passage by the House of Representatives, last week, of the new Highway bill, which provides $10,000,000 for plans and surveys for strategic roads, has awakened the promoters of the proposed North and South road, to their opportunity for securing a Federal grant for the purpose of a survey.

Over the week-end, Bolton visited Congressman Butler B. Hare, at his home in Salsburg, South Carolina, and found him very optimistic over chances for securing Federal aid just as soon as the new Highway bill is passed by the United States Senate. Hare said he had strong assurances of support from many New Deal Senators and Representatives and that they are favorable to the project, realizing that the road not only will facilitate the transportation and concentration of the many essentials in wartime to the South Atlantic ports, but afford easier access to those sections where our soldiers are to be trained, and also provide better connections with the textile and munition plants, the iron and steel plants, in both the South and Midwest areas.

In addition to the reasons already submitted in support of the proposal Mr. Hare added, "It should be said that a great deal of work has already been done in the Blue Ridge Mountains between Walhalla, S. C. and Maryville, Tenn., in the way of constructing fills, excavating tunnels, and installing culverts, and we might suggest in passing, that some of these tunnels should afford excellent sites for underground munition plants and storage of war materials, explosives, and so forth."

"It will be an outlet for the transportation systems of the interior to the south Atlantic seaports from which South America and the Panama Canal Zone will necessarily be served in case of war, particularly since air and naval bases are being established and developed on nearby possessions obtained from England."

"It will furnish a right-angle route from the interior to the navy yard at Charleston, the marine barracks at Parris Island in South Carolina, the ports at Savannah and Brunswick, Ga., the increasingly large air base at Pensacola and other ports on the Florida coast."

"It will mean that all the steel mills, munition plants, airplane factories, packing plants, grain elevators, and every other industrial or military enterprise between the Allegheny and Rocky Mountain on the one hand and the T. V. A. and the Great Lakes on the other, will be from 200 to 300 miles nearer the southeastern seaboard—the base of concentration of our every military agency including the Army, Navy and Air Corps—should this country become involved in the war we are now trying to obviate or are preparing to meet."

"In addition to facilitating transportation, the suggested super-highway may easily be made a further vital factor in the defense program by having runways or landing strips thereon at points varying from 10 to 15 miles apart so as to accommodate the landing or taking off of any type of airplane. The terminal of this highway should, of course, be on the Atlantic coast and some central point in the interior, probably Charleston, S. C., on the coast and some central point in the Great Lakes region."

"Press reports say that if the invasion of Britain does not come this winter, it will come when and where the defense program, the railroads and highways to be used in bringing men to the scene of attack."

Continuing, Representative Hare also pointed out the commercial importance of the project, providing as he said, "a shorter sea-lane time a new and shorter sea-lane for our weather-battered boats from the Middle West to Florida. It will serve an area that is one of the country's largest in motor car population, as evidenced by the fact that the Great Smoky Mountains has had more than a million visitors, this year, while the new Pennsylvania Turnpike has been traveled only slightly in excess of that number, in this, the first year of its existence. Incidentally, he called attention to the fact that at the rate this road is paying off its indebtedness it should become toll free in four years instead of fourteen years, as originally estimated."

Bolton was accompanied on his tour by Frank T. Hamlin, of Anderson, South Carolina, president of the Great Lakes-Cincinnati-Charleston Super-Military Highway Association. The contracted business, civic and motor organizations in cities and towns of South Carolina and received encouraging support all along the line; this, despite uncertainty as to the exact route the military road will follow. "This matter of location" said Bolton, "is an engineering proposition, but like the Pennsylvania Turnpike, the super-highway will circumvent cities and towns, altho it will connect with the more important ones thru by-passes. The road should benefit such communities, however, whether 25 miles to the east or 25 miles to the west of them."

Frank Switalski, of Cincinnati, Managing Director of the newly formed association and its Executive Committee, plan, soon to visit Washington, D. C. for the purpose of conferring with Congressman Hare, Senator Robert R. Reynolds, Chairman of the Senate Military Affairs Committee, Representative Andrew J. May, of Kentucky, Chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee, and others, relative to pressing claims for a Federal appropriation for a Survey This, it is estimated, will cost approximately $250,000. The next quarterly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Association will likely be held at Middleboro, Ky. the middle of December.

J. H. Lambert Next County Judge. Given Majority Of 536 Votes Over Carter

School Amendment Goes Over In County And State F. F. Robbins And Poynter Win Magistrate Races.

The General Election held last Tuesday, was featured by the County Judge race, and 1904 voters went to the polls and wrote Lambert's name on the ballot. Carter received 1368 votes, Lambert winning by a margin of 536.

In the Primary Lambert got 1596 votes and Carter 1008. Only 371 more votes were received in the General Election than the Primary in this race for these two men.

Lambert was especially strong in Brodhead, while Carter carried Mt. Vernon. (See table.)

The voters of the county gave a heavy majority to the school amendment, 2357 voting yes, and only 87 no. In some precincts no opposition votes were received. Wildie, Red Hill, West Livingston, North Brodhead, Pleasant Run, East Brodhead and Rocky Bend were the precincts that went down the line one hundred percent. In fact only three votes were tallied against the amendment in West Brodhead. Livingston registered four votes against and Mt. Vernon, twenty.

The amendment to organize voters' meetings carried, 594 for and 225 against.

F. F. Robbins was easily elected magistrate of the third district over his Democratic opponent, Grover C. Sutton. Robbins got 442 votes to Sutton's 224.

In the constables race in this district, Richard Riddle defeated J. H. Owens by 44 votes. Riddle's vote was 344, to Owen's 300.

In the second district J. R. Poynter won over Madison Graves for Magistrate, 213 to 142.

The other Republican offices were without opposition. Stacey, for representative received 1579 votes; Bowman, 1633; Nicely, 1768; Sowder, 1776; Clark, 1723; Brannaman, 1640; Scott, 1811 and J. A. Jones, 1337.

County Chairmen For Clarks Memorial

Supts. Myrtle Bryant and W. R. Champion have been selected chairmen of the George Rogers Clark Memorial Movement in Rockcastle County. The Movement, as stated, is a Kentucky Movement by Kentuckians in pay to Kentucky's debt to one of her greatest patriots, is receiving support from all parts of the state, including help from Governor Johnson, Superintendent John W. Brooker, President H. L. Donovan, of the University, the presidents of all of the colleges and prominent persons throughout the state.

It is believed that the plan for raising the funds will succeed because of the individual contributions asked for are very small and because of the fact that Kentuckians are waking to the fact that, in neglecting General Clark, Kentuckians have neglected not only one of their greatest patriots and heroes, but one of their own sons as well.

The plan calls for contributions of five pennies each from school children, twenty five cents from teachers, and one dollar each from members of clubs, such as Kiwanis, Rotary, Woman's and D. A. R. In addition, each school is asked to present some sort of entertainment, such as a play, pageant, social, dance, movie, game, and to invite the public; the funds derived therefrom are to be contributed to the Movement.

Supts. Bryant and Champion will select a committee to help in the campaign. Their duties consist of organizing the work in the schools and clubs, making speaking engagements and securing speakers, helping and advising the schools in preparing and presenting the entertainments, arranging for publicity and checking with the principals, teachers and presidents of the clubs regarding contributions.

Supts. Bryant and Champion are two of Rockcastle County's outstanding civic and patriotic people. In their hands the worthy work, we are sure, will go over with marked success. This paper takes the lead not only in extending to them its best wishes, but its help as well.

Robbins Thanks Voters For Support

May I express my deepest appreciation to all of my friends and supporters who made it possible for me to carry six precincts out of seven in my magisterial district. In the beginning of this, my fourth term as a magistrate of Rockcastle County, I assure you that I will do my best to serve not only the people of my district, but of the entire county. I want all the church workers and church people to feel free to call on me for my services at any time.

Thanking you again for your wonderful support and confidence, I remain,

Faithfully your friend,
F. F. Robbins.

Results Of City Elections

Races Close For Judge And Town Board

The voters of Mt. Vernon, Brodhead and Livingston went to the polls last Tuesday and elected city officials for another term. The results of the Mt. Vernon election were given last week, but the other town elections were not counted as we went to press, so the complete results are given this week.

In Livingston ten men were out for the Town Board and three for Police Judge. Jimmy Jones defeated both his opponents, Lee Mullins and C. A. Blanford for Judge. Jones got 64 votes; Mullins, 53 and Blanford, 27. The race for Town Board was red hot, and the new Board is composed of W. B. Cummings, F. A. Davis, C. H. Webb, John Halcomb and Delmas Rowe. The complete vote for both Livingston precincts follows: Cummings 92; Davis, 76; Webb, 69; Bates, 61; S. Halcomb, 35; J. Halcomb, 32; Moore, 22; Rowe, 72; Bales, 56; and Burdine, 67.

In Brodhead the Town Board had no opposition. In the three precincts, Sowder got 118 votes; Hist, 115; Cass, 114; Gray, 110; and Anderson, 105.

The Police Judge race was hotly contested, Watson winning 19 a margin of 12 votes. The complete vote showed Watson 109 and Fletcher 97.

Food Will Win War And Write Peace

An intensive drive has already started throughout the United States to raise food production to unknown heights in order to be ready for whatever may occur.

In this county, the Agricultural Association will call on each farmer to find out what he is capable of raising in the way of food.

Rockcastle county is expected to increase the output of milk 224,000 gallons; eggs, 100,000 dozen; pork 22½%; and dairy cattle 7% over 1941 production.

By glancing over these figures it is easy to see that the situation must be bad in our county and considerable more nutritive food must be produced.

Medical examiners for the U. S. Army have found an alarming number of our boys are deficient because of a lack of the above foods.

Peace or war must raise enough of these essential foods to insure the younger generation strong bodies with which to face the enormous tasks which are ahead.

HOMEOWNERS CLUB WILL MEET FRIDAY

The Mt. Vernon Homeowners Club will meet at the home of Mrs. S. F. Bowman, Friday, November 14th. The main project study will be vitamin B and the minor project will be zinnig room grasses. The roll call will be answered with "For What I Am Thankful". The club will also discuss meat canning and getting ready for Christmas.

Remember that this offer will close Saturday, Nov. 29, the sooner you come in the better.

Dr. R. G. Webb III At Home

It is kind of a rarity to Rockcastle citizens not to see the dynamic figure of Dr. R. G. Webb on the streets, in the country or wherever his fancy dictates, and to those who have missed him, we impart the information that he convalesces at his home from overwork. Many, many times Doc has told countless patients that all was wrong with them, was overwork and a sure cure was to stay at home and rest up. He always gave those patients a big bottle of medicine and the largest pills he had, knowing full well, that they wouldn't stay home and rest. However, this time Doc has had to slow down, and a few weeks rest at his home should make him good again, and capable of performing his many duties. Hurry up and get well, Doc, we all miss you.

W. S. Robbins Has Squirrel Rifle

W. S. Robbins, of Wadd, crated quite the bit of interest Tuesday afternoon, by exhibiting an old-time muzzle loading squirrel rifle on the streets of Mt. Vernon.

The rifle was well-made and in excellent condition, and Mr. Robbins still uses the gun for hunting. The present owner stated that he bought the gun from a man in Laurel county about a year ago. The old rifle was the same kind of gun that made Ky. marksmen the most feared of all the old-time plainsmen. Over five feet in length the present owner stated that this type of firearm was noted for its deadly accuracy.

Mr. Robbins was unable to tell the exact age of his antique, but it undoubtedly is over a hundred years old.

Banquet For City Firemen

Program To Be Given Tuesday, Nov. 18

After years of fighting fires and saving thousands of dollars for citizens of this community, with very little in the way of recompense, the courageous firefighters are at last to be honored by the people of Mt. Vernon. Tuesday evening all the active firemen and prospective members will be banqueted and entertained at the High School, The P. T. A. will prepare the feast.

The main speaker will be Russell Dyche, London Fire Chief, for many years, and one of the most prominent firemen in the State. Mr. Dyche has always taken an active interest in fire fighting problems, and his message should be well-worth hearing. Fire chiefs from neighboring towns will also be invited.

Other entertainment scheduled will be a cornet solo by Jack Lincoln Adams, who is rapidly developing into an accomplished musician.

Ballard Peyton and Alfred Sparks will repeat their interpretation of Homer and Jethro, which was the hit of the Little Renfro Show at the school carnival.

J. F. Jellison will give the address of welcome and Fritz Krueger will respond for the firemen. Banquet tickets are now being $6.00. All business and professional men are requested to buy at least two tickets. N. M. Smock has charge of ticket sales, and he reports many have already been purchased.

If you appreciate the work of our Volunteer Fire Department, show your appreciation by attending the banquet Tuesday night.

Navy Recruiting Officer To Be Here Friday

There will be a representative of the Navy Recruiting Service at The Court House, Mt. Vernon, Ky., Nov. 12 & 13, 1941, for the purpose of examining and accepting men who are interested in serving the country in either the U. S. Navy or Naval Reserve.

Many vacancies for men between ages of 17 and 50 exist at present. Qualified young men between ages of 17 and 36 may be enlisted as apprentice seamen and sent to the Training Station for regular recruit training, with a prospect of attending one of the specialists' schools, if desired. The pay while in the rating of apprentice seamen is $21.00 a month for the first four months.

After six months naval service an increase to $36.00 a month is authorized. Men up to 50 years of age in many trades and professions may be enlisted in the Naval Reserve with rates commensurate with their experience and pay ranging from $60.00 to $170.00 a month. Medical attention is furnished and an initial outfit of uniforms, worth about $119.00 is given to each recruit. The present rate of enlistments permit those accepted to be called for duty within a few days.

The Naval Service provides an excellent opportunity to learn any standard trade such as Machinist, Electrician, Carpenter, Boilermaker, Metallsmith, Stenographer, Radioman, and many others.

Naval Reserve personnel are expected to serve only during the national emergency.

Those interested in either the Navy or Naval Reserve are asked to meet the Navy Recruiter while he is in your section or write to the Navy Recruiting Station, Post Office Building, Somerset, Ky. for further information.

Madison Site For Storage Depot

$22,000,000 Project To Be Started Soon

A new ammunition storage depot will be constructed in Madison county it was announced last Thursday by the War Department. The huge project will occupy 14,000 acres, and will cost approximately $22,000,000. The definite site has not been determined, but government surveyors are now at work selecting a suitable location.

The new project will employ many workmen and all available labor in this section should have the opportunity of securing jobs.

Thursday's Richmond Register has a complete account of the ammunition depot, and as it is of vital interest to local people we are reprinting this story:

"Sites in the vicinity of Richmond, Ky., and Charlottesville, Va., were inspected by the War Department today for new ammunition storage depots."

"Each would comprise approximately 14,000 acres and would cost several million dollars, the department says."

When completed the depots will be operated by the army's Ordnance Department with some civilian personnel. Construction contracts have yet to be awarded the department said, adding no further information was available.

With the announcement in Washington today by the War Department of the selection of a site near Richmond for the establishment of a new ammunition storage depot, activities here were speeded up under the direction of Judson Harmon, Z. C. J. C. attorney, who is project manager.

Announcement was made that five land appraisers have been assigned to the project as have an engineer and two stenographers. It was said additional personnel may be assigned.

While it was disclosed in Washington that the approximate acreage of the Madison county project will be 14,000 acres, Mr. Harmon said that he still was unable to announce exact boundary lines, of the tract and methods of settlement for land taken. This information will be released as soon as received, he said.

Mr. Harmon also said that any attorneys, abstractors or abstracting companies desiring to bid on the job of abstracting for the project should contact him within the next two or three days. Temporary offices are located in the Glyndon hotel.

The Richmond Chamber of Commerce today released a statement pointing out the advantages of having the ammunition storage depot located in Madison county.

The Richmond Chamber of Commerce, local sponsor of the defense plant project, issued the following comment today.

"Total assessed property valuation of Madison county is slightly over $22,000,000. The estimated cost (construction cost alone) of the ammunition storage plant to be erected in Madison is $22,000,000. Rare indeed is that opportunity for a community to get on a transaction which involves as much money—and cash in this case—as the valuation of the entire community."

"Total annual retail business in all of Madison county last year ran right close to $4,000,000. Construction cost alone of the munitions depot is, therefore, better than five times that of total annual business."

"Staggering figures—correct statistics and we are happy though not surprised to learn that the great majority of the people of Richmond and Madison county realize the sound pertinence of these facts. Too many realize that America's future hangs precariously in the balance. They realize that our nation is at war (although, officially undeclared). They are happy that Madison county has been assigned the opportunity to play an active and patriotic role by having been selected as the site for one of the nation's largest defense storage plants."

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Miller returned to their home here Sunday after spending two weeks in Louisville.

BAND NOTES

The Brodhead Band will play at the Liberty-Brodhead basketball game Friday night, Nov. 14.

The band has been progressing very rapidly under the leadership of Mr. Atkinson of Mt. Vernon. It was organized last February under the leadership of Mr. Goech of Evansburg. During our vacation, Mr. Goech secured a better position than the one he had at the present and he immediately took advantage of this opportunity, leaving our band without a director. Mr. D. A. Robbins, our principal, immediately secured the services of Mr. Atkinson.

We wish to thank the P. T. A. for their constant assistance and also the citizens of Brodhead who have made the band possible. The P. T. A. financed the purchasing of several new horns which served to increase the quality of the band.

The band has played on several occasions, with the help of the Mt. Vernon Band in connection with the speaking on the school amendment to the state Constitution.

Farmers To Use Tobacco Presses

The need of separating leaf to match colors and quality was stressed at four demonstrations in stripping and grading tobacco in Adair county. Also emphasized was the importance of tying neat hands of small size. Farmers were impressed by the appearance of the hands of tobacco as they came out of small homemade presses. The tobacco stripped at each farm was weighed and found to average about a pound per stick.

STARS IN THE SPOTLIGHT!

BY ETHEL WINE

Jeanette MacDonald made her stage debut when she was three years old with a solo at her sister's dancing school recital. One of three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel MacDonald, Jeanette was born and brought up in Philadelphia. While her parents were not theatrical folk, all three girls showed a talent for acting and so were given music and dancing lessons while still youngsters.

Jeanette grew up to become a movie star—her latest picture is "Smilin' Through"—after a brief career on the stage in New York. She became an actress rather by accident. Her sister Blossom was dancing in the stage show at the Capitol Theatre on Broadway was putting on in those days and so Jeanette, who was then sixteen years old, came backstage to visit her. During their chat the producer of the show noticed that she could not introduce him. He was impressed with the slim red-haired girl and when he learned that she could not introduce her a small part in the revue. Jeanette's father thought she was far too young to take the part, but finally consented to let her have a try at it. She made good and in time the family moved to New York so that the two girls could live at home.

Models Coats

After the Capitol she played a small part in the musical "Irene" while underplaying a number of the players. When the show closed she was out of a job for a time and helped keep the family budget going by modeling coats. In time she got a role in a Greenwich Village production called "Fantastic Fricasse" and subsequently was asked to join the cast of "The Magic Ring," "Sunny Days," "Yes, Yes, Yes" and "Angela" while she was singing in "Angela" that Paramount made a screen test of her and she was offered a leading part in one of their pictures starring Richard Dix, but couldn't accept it because of her stage contract. Later, however, when Ernest Lubitsch was looking for a girl to play the starring role in "The Love Parade" he discovered the test, sent for Miss MacDonald and hired her for the solo opposite Maurice Chevalier. She has appeared in many films since. Among her hits have been "The Vagabond King," "The Merry Widow," "Naughty Marietta," "San Francisco," "Maytime," "Sweethearts," "New Moon" and "Bitter Sweet."
