SCHOOL SCOOPS

The Blue Devils will take the floor against Bush High School Tuesday night clad for the first time in their new, flashy uniforms.

We regret to hear that Eugene Black, a valuable member of our basketball squad is confined to his room with flu.

J. T. Pike attended the Young Men's Democratic convention in Louisville Thursday and Friday of last week.

Clady Gilliam, Katherine Mullins and Lloyd Mason have been selected as cheerleaders for the season of 1941-42.

Emmá and Norma Rankin attended the L. & N rally held in Covington this week.

Mr. Chestnut attended a banquet and zone meeting in Danville Monday evening sponsored by the Danville Lions Club.

Coach Linville was called to Scotland Cane Sunday because of the critical illness of his mother.

Arlic Nicely was absent from school for some time because of illness.

Mr. Bullock entertained his sixth grade by giving a picnic at Lettered Rock Friday afternoon. Hazel Gibson acted as chaperone for the group.

KEYHOLING WITH A KEY

Engraved in the facial make-up of Edison Russell lie the results of the great calamity he has undergone. In his attempt to bail off the from steps recently, he received a few minor injuries when his parachute failed to open.

It is reported from various sources that Coach Linville, Charles and Bill Singleton have gone into the potato and onion business. The particulars of their success have not yet been revealed.

Charles Singleton was out of school Monday. Rumors are to the effect that he most willfully and maliciously assassinated two hogs. His conscience must hurt him terribly.

It appears that Lloyd Mason trucks the year around. He drives a truck during the summer vacation and "trucks on down" as cheerleader. When asked how he felt after the Woodbine game, he replied, "This day of victory we long have sought and wept because we found it not."

Would someone tell James Ball when the next "Negro Instrument" is to be held.

O. D. McKinney, in his attempt to reach the fifth position on his trombone the other day made a mistake and slid down the twenty-fifth. We wish O. D., all the success in the world in finding the remaining twenty positions.

When an opportunity presents itself, it would be most fitting and proper for some kind, considerate person to remind Joyce Bass that an Algebra I class meets down in Mr. Linville's room Friday except Saturday and Sunday at 8:30 a. m.

If everyone has as much school spirit as Elmer Prater there would be lots of enthusiasm around the old Alma Mater. Elmer likes school so well that instead of the teacher keeping him after school he keeps himself. Of course no one would dare insinuate that he stays to keep Mae Mahaffey company until her bus runs.

Has anyone noticed lately how self-conscious Arnold Taylor is becoming? Who wouldn't be self-conscious with a big pair of blue eyes focused on your every movement.

We wonder if "Bug" Mullins drank in all the details of Mr. Spence's speech the other day. For "Bugs" convenience a portion of that speech was directed at the evils of the so called "Hip-hip-hooray music, Coca-Cola drinking and Hot dog eating."

"Stag" Schooner, a worthy member of our band is doing a bit of specializing in "barneyard melody". The peculiar sounds that emerge from his baritone (or should we say Call-o-phone) are as Lil Abner says, "Very amazing" and as Mr. Atkins says, "somewhat confusing."

Bill (local boy makes good) Singleton is now appearing in the grand production "Little Orphan Annie". Watch for it at your local theatre.

NOTE: Any similarity to persons living or unconscious in this article is purely coincidental.

Money Talks

By Frederick W. Stamm, Economist and Director of Adult Education University of Louisville

The farmers of the United States are enjoying the best year since 1929, and may expect a better year in 1942. This year's total cash income for farmers (including federal subsidies) will amount to about $10,700,000,000 against $9,120,000,000 in 1940 or an increase of approximately 18%. Next year's estimates place the farmers' incomes at well over thirteen billion dollars. A thirteen billion dollar-year for the farmer would be the largest since 1919, even topping the 1929 peak by a comfortable margin.

But to share in this increase our farmers must plan their production more carefully than they have in the past. Farmers, who have been accustomed to raising wheat, cotton, and tobacco every year, may make more money by shifting to other crops. They now have surplus cotton and equivalent to approximately a full year's requirement after deducting anticipated domestic consumption and exports during the current year. And since we have lost our export market for tobacco, due to the war, we have more than we can possibly consume for several years to come.

If farmers are to "cash in" on war prices, they should plan to raise more poultry and eggs, produce more hogs and "tattie" and milk. These will also need an additional 1,500,000 acres each, planted to soy beans and peanuts, to meet the increasing needs for edible oils. Wheat can be raised on easily switch to soy beans while cotton producers can switch to peanuts. And there is practically no climatic to the production of poultry and eggs.

If the farmers are willing to shift crop production to meet increasing demand for various products they should make more money in 1942. Add higher prices to larger crops and you have very optimistic outlook for the agricultural regions. We can truthfully say the farmers are "in clover".

Farm And Home

For economical winter feeding give dairy cows all the roughage they will clean up with a minimum of waste. In addition, feed them grain according to their production, at the rate of approximately a pound of grain to 3 to 6 pounds of milk. Before buying an electric washing machine try it out at home. Note its action, ease and quietness of operation, and the action on the clothes. Avoid machine which tend to form clothes into balls or wads.

Drylot rations for hogs in winter can be balanced if supplemented by legume hay, preferably alfalfa, in a rack. Corn, middlings, skim-milk, and hay in a rack make a good ration. Alfalfa leaf meal may be used instead of alfalfa hay.

A warm mash fed about noon each day lowers the average 755 production. About 3 pounds of moistened mash is sufficient for 100 hens. This is not a substitute for dry mash. Pullets are kept in good flesh by feeding liberally on grain.

Well-finished hogs weighing 175 to 225 pounds are ready for home butchering. There is too much fat on heavy hogs, and their cuts may be of inferior quality. A temperature of 30 to 40 degrees is cool enough for butchering.

An ideal school lunch contains milk, cocoa, milk soup; one hot dish; sandwiches; an apple or other raw fruit, and a simple dessert, such as custard, gelatin, fruit sauce, cookies. Leave out fried foods, pickles, pies and rich cakes.

THIS MODERN DESIGN — THE 1941 GABLE APPROACH!

Clark Gable . . .

and Lana Turner . . .

Kiss

One thing that has kept Clark Gable at the top of the cinema screen heap for so long, the experts say, is that women like to watch what he handles women. The Gable Approach — is what they call his romantic style. In his new picture, "Foxy Brown," Gable exemplifies the Gable technique in all-out fashion. Blonde Lana Turner is his inspiration. Gather round, boys, for the Gable technique. Above is No. 1 — the Gable bloom, the glad-eye. First stance is the approach.

Now, in this one, the approacher has moved in a trifle; he's gained the confidence of the approachee; the gleam is still in the Gable eye, some of it is reflected in the Turner eye, too. The brotherly embrace helps break down the barrier of space, etc. Little is said at this moment but plenty in thoughts. If this No. 2 position can be taken before a long mirror — the reflection in the glass is helpful.

The Arrival. Lips meet. Gable's arms show their strength. Turner's there in the clutch, too. Thru half-opened eyes the approacher satisfies himself that the approachee is having a good time, too. That's being thoughtful and gallant. Turner has just closed her eyes and the rest of the world goes by. Then if these three movements in the Gable symphony are properly executed, to be specific, it's terrific.

Says "Emergency Does Not Warrant Plowing Up Yards"

The present emergency does not warrant city back-yard gardening, especially the plowing up of parks, playgrounds, golf links and ornamental plantings, according to a letter received by Dean Thomas P. Cooper of the College of Agriculture and the Economics from M. L. Wilson, director of extension work for the United States Department of Agriculture. Officials do not want to see a repetition of the "win the war" type of city gardening that took place during the first World War, Wilson declared.

It is the opinion at Washington that vegetable production should be left to farmers and commercial gardeners who know how and who are prepared to do the job.

From the standpoint of efficiency and conservation of seed supplies, fertilizer and spray materials, vegetable suburban gardeners who have suitable facilities, opportunities and experience wrote Mr. Wilson.

"It is recognized that city gardening has certain health and recreational value," continued the letter, "but it also should be recognized that the money, time and energy expended on city vegetable gardening is usually far in excess of the value of the vegetables produced. Poor soil and gardening conditions, coupled with neglect when the gardens need the most attention, drought, insects, diseases, lack of supervision, all may result in disappointing yields and indifferent or poor quality vegetables."

"It would seem far more desirable to apply the enthusiasm and interest for gardening to the continued land-use improvement of city yards and not to destroy lawns and ornamental plantings for the sake of growing a few vegetables."

Signal Starts 55th Year

Interesting Items From First Issue

This week's issue is Volume 55 number 1 or in other words is the birthday of the Signal. Started way back in 1887 in the days when all papers were hand-set and work was done the hard way, it was really something for a small town like Mt. Vernon to have a newspaper. Many towns were without papers in those days, and news was passed around by gossip, which is still a popular method of communication.

Thanks to Dr. M. Pennington we are able to print the main items in the first issue of the Signal. Dr. M. Pennington had a clipping given him by James Maret, then editor of the Signal that was run-in 1913 to observe the birthday of the Signal at that time.

Many residents will recall the names of the business men operating at that time and also other people of whom many relatives are now living in the country.

One thing interesting, as was the strange fact that no advertisements appeared then than now.

We print below the clipping taken from The Mt. Vernon Signal in 1913:

ITEMS FROM THE SIGNAL THE YEAR OF ITS FORTY-FIFTH

By James Maret

THE SIGNAL is 27 years and two weeks old today. The first complete copy was printed at 12 o'clock on the night of Friday, November 4, 1887 in a room over the store house of J. E. Vowels, now the property of D. C. Price. The paper was printed on an Army hand press which required three hands to operate; one to use ink roller, another to place on and take the paper from press and one to turn crank. It was a tedious and slow operation, but good work was turned out. One man, today in SIGNAL office with its improved machinery does the press work that would have required four men at that time. This paper was started. The paper was a five column sheet, page, patent inside, four pages home print. James Maret was the editor and J. E. Vowels, business manager; W. B. Cox and John R. Vowels types, R. G. Williams, traveling solicitor.

The advertisements showed up as follows: The Mount Vernon Hotel, McClure & Williams, J. W. Brown, J. G. Carter and J. R. Cook, The doctors, J. J. Brown, S. C. Davis and A. G. Lovell, Mt. Vernon; Dr. I. S. Burdett, Occulist, Broadhead. Other advertisements follow: Thomas Taylor, Blacksmith, Newcomb Hotel, W. and J. W. Ping, general store; M. R. Moore, groceries; M. J. Miller, E. L. Thompson & Bro.; Davis and White; L. B. Adams and Sarah Welsh, general stores. Drug stores: J. L. Whitehead, M. C. and D. N. Williams, Lewis, general store, Clark, J. E. Allen, Boot and Shoe maker, Joshua Boring, Millinery, Mrs. M. E. Brown, Staves and heading, J. W. Nesbitt, Moses N. Langford, general store, Langford Station, Chestnut & Kitts, general store, Orlando, Green Living, S. C. general store, Wabed Mt. Vernon Mills, Willis Griffin, proprietor.

Among the locals and persons appearing in the Signal (named the Mountain Signal then) during the first few weeks we find these: Elder F. J. Hayes, who had returned from McKee, where he had been holding a series of meetings, with 13 additions.

D. N. Williams would like to know who hogged his stove wood a few nights since. Uncle Dick Owens says he'll sponsor. Would you please Court Judge he would enforce the law in a very "expulsible" manner. W. H. Spradlen was in town Sunday. James Merricks is building a new shop at Orlando, Green. Fish occupies the J. K. McClary property. Ben Purcell and Miss Elizabeth Spoonmore were married yesterday. Walter B. Smith sold his Frank Myers farm to Colby Hayes. A cow belonging to Mrs. Nancy Proctor, of this place, has formed a great attachment for a small hog and refuses to be comforted when separated.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Thanksgiving day in the United States is a day set aside annually for the giving of thanks to God for the blessings of the year.

The first Thanksgiving in the United States was celebrated by the Pilgrims at the Plymouth colony in 1621. This day was then set aside by Governor Bradford. The first Thanksgiving was not a feast only; there were prayers, sermons, and songs of praise which lasted for 3 days.

In later years this spread to other colonies and in 1795 the annual Thanksgiving Day Proclamation, but there was no national day; some colonies celebrated Thanksgiving while others did not.

Mrs. Sarah Josepha Hale, deeply interested in a national Thanksgiving, worked for twenty years before a nation wide Thanksgiving was proclaimed. In 1864 President Lincoln appointed the last Thursday of November as Thanksgiving Day. Thus it was that Mrs. Hale rightly gained the title, "Mother of Thanksgiving." In each year each President has designated it an honor to proclaim one day in each year a national Thanksgiving Day.

MORE BUS TROUBLE

Two flats at once on our old bus certainly a great worry to all concerned, especially to the driver if he waits until almost eight o'clock to get the flats repaired, then drives all the way to Pine Hill and finds the students have thumbed rides to school. We of the Mareburg gang get a thrill out of being late when we think we are missing a test, but a shock when we arrive and find Miss Ning giving the class a study period until the delayed bus has arrived.

If we can't miss any tests by being late, we'll just be in style and go on a strike for a new bus.

Livestock Barn Burns At London

Gas-Leak Explosion Kills Two Persons

Two persons were killed and seven others injured, at least one of them critically, in an explosion that blew the new $100,000 farmers livestock market from its foundation and left the wooden structure in flaming ruins at London.

A gas-leak was blamed by John Rawlings, 50, one of the injured. Rawlings, a plumber, said the explosion occurred when he struck a match to light a gas cooking range in the restaurant in front of the stockyards building.

The dead were Mrs. Eula Hayes Provence, 24, and Mrs. Ethel McFadden Bishop, age unknown.

Injured seriously were: Mrs. Elmer Walker, 58, proprietor of the restaurant and wife of the owner and manager of the market who suffered severe burns and fractures of both legs. Stanley Ingram, 30, bookkeeper, dangerous head injury. Miss Mabel Johnson, 25, severe burns. Lesser burns and cuts and bruises were suffered by Mrs. Phil Swanner, 48, Mrs. Nattie Russell, 55, and Marshalee Gibson, 18.

The dead and the injured, all of the market except Rawlings, were grouped together in the restaurant and were buried under debris from a wall that was shattered by the force of the blast.

They were brought out of the wreckage by fellow employes as fire raged through and destroyed the rest of the building, a structure measuring 150 by 250 feet.

Officials of the stockyards said that approximately 100 horses and mules were in the building and that all apparently had been rescued.

The market was to have opened Tuesday, and preparations for the opening were being made by employes at the time of the explosion.

Homemakers Club Met With Mrs. Bowman

The Mount Vernon Homemakers Club held its regular monthly meeting on Friday, November 14, at the home of Mrs. S. F. Bowman. In the absence of Mrs. Sallie Ballard, president Mrs. Della Gentry, called the meeting to order and read the Creed. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. C. C. Cox and approved by the Club. The Roll Call was answered with "For What I Am Thankful".

After the reports of the various committees were read and a business discussion of the ways and means of earning money for the Club, Mrs. E. M. Hatcher gave the Major Project lesson, "A Study of Vitamin B," which was very interesting as well as beneficial. She pointed out how essential Vitamin B is to the body and how healthy years may be added to one's life by getting the daily supply of Vitamin B. A delicious lunch was served, consisting of vegetables and a chicken loaf high in Vitamin B content.

There were thirteen members present and they were glad to welcome Mrs. Bert Pugh and Mrs. G. L. Owens as new members. Mrs. W. E. King was a welcome visitor.

The Club voted to have a Christmas party and dinner instead of the regular December meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Mary Deatherage.

Red Cross Needs Help

All Must Contribute If Goal Is Reached

The 1942 Red Cross Roll Call for Rockcastle is slowly climbing toward its goal of $700 but many more donations will have to come in before our quota is reached.

Since last week Broadhead has come through nobly with an $80 donation. Rev. Harold Newham, who is heading the drive there, expects to increase that amount considerably.

Mrs. R. G. Webb has reported $20 from Livingston to date but Livingston can always be depended upon to do its part. Mt. Vernon workers have turned in some $50 in addition to what was reported in this column last week. The grand total in sight at present is around $350 or about 50% of what we are expected to raise.

There should be more $5 and $10 donations $1.00 memberships held and are sincerely appreciated but they count up slowly. The donors to date of $5 and over follow:

Bank of Mt. Vernon	$25.00
Renfro Valley	25.00
Citizens Bank	25.00
C. C. Cox	10.00
McCabe & Adams	10.00
Bryant Bros	10.00
J. F. Griffin & Son	10.00
Mt. Vernon Signal	5.00
Bills 5 & 10c Store	5.00

J. D. Henderson	5.00

T. B. Dillingham	5.00
Dr. Pennington	5.00
Dr. Lee Chestnut	5.00

Folks living out of the county and in the small communities should have a part in this drive and we believe that you will. Our workers can't reach you but you can reach them. If you are in either of the above named towns you can easily leave your donation at the Post office or Bank if you don't see a worker on the street. Or just mail your dollars to The Red Cross in care of the Signal and your receipt will be mailed back to you.

And you can always be depended upon for some good work in her section and else where.

The drive is on—time is wasting. Let's Go!

Firemen Honored By Citizens

Many Attend Banquet Russell Dyche, Speaker

The Volunteer Fire Department of Mt. Vernon finally had their day or night, for Tuesday evening the boys were guests of the business and professional men at a banquet, held in the library at the high school.

The total attendance was estimated at more than sixty persons, and all enjoyed the excellent food prepared by the P. T. A. and served by the teachers of the grade and high schools. The menu consisted of chicken and gravy, dressing, potatoes, au gratin, buttered peas, cranberry sauce, vegetable salad, hot rolls, pie and coffee.

The program opened with the group singing "God Bless America." Rev. Aubrey Russell gave the invocation. Dr. M. Pennington presided as toastmaster.

Jack Lincoln Adams gave two cornet solos, accompanied on the piano by his mother, Mrs. R. L. Adams. These two numbers were thoroughly enjoyed by the crowd.

The address of welcome was given by J. E. Felton, and Mr. Felton told of the courage necessary to be a fireman, and recollects the days when a fire was announced by a fusillade of pistol shots, and usually the fire had gained such headway, that the bucket brigade had little chance to put it out.

The response was given by Dr. Krueger, a fireman. Mr. Krueger spoke of money saved by having a fire department, not only to property owners, not amount of loss but a big saving on insurance. Since the department has been in operation 39 years, he has seen the kind of fire being false. Of the 37 real fires, the loss per fire on real property has been only $138.00; on personal property, the loss has averaged $38.90. This is a remarkable record and one that every fireman should be proud of.

Dr. D. Henderson told of the fire on insurance, but the kind of buildings inside the city limits with stone foundations is 90c; the present rate is 32c; on brick dwellings, the old rate was 60c, now it is only 22c. The average saving to every man, woman and child in the town is approximately $2.00 each.

Ralph Griffin, Red Cross Roll Chairman made a short talk, on the progress of the drive in this county.

A real treat was in store for the assembled firemen and townspeople for those two hillbillies, Ballard-Peyton and Harry Peck, who were on the stage and gave their interpretation of Homer and Jethro, of Renfro Valley fame. The boys really done their stuff and received tremendous applause. They were accompanied by Bill Krueger and Billy Purrell, who also sang and played two numbers.

The address of the evening was given by Mr. Russell Dyche, of London, prominent fireman, and editor of the Sentinel-Echo. Dyche told of the importance of keeping all equipment in good shape and the necessity of having the tools on the extinguisher and the black combs that had several blocks burned to the ground because the firemen were inexperienced in handling the hose.

He also commented on the fact that everybody gets a thrill out of fighting a fire, but the toll is staggering, and the black combs that the firemen still have lots of work to do in cleaning the equipment and getting everything in shape for the next fire.

Mr. Dyche's talk was enjoyed by all, for he really knew what he was talking about.

The speaker was accompanied to Mt. Vernon by Harold De Marquess, fire chief at London, who also made a short talk.

Mrs. Harry Lani of Louisville, Mrs. Frank Kenner of Shelbyville, Mrs. Frank Newell of Somerset, Mrs. O. Newell and Mrs. B. F. Denney of Bronston were guests of Mrs. Charles Gibson Tuesday.

Historic Cumberland Gap First Shrine of Kentucky

(This is one of a series of articles sponsored by the Kentucky Press Association, as well as many residents of the states of the North-west, cherish with pride the memory of their heroic ancestors who followed Daniel Boone and the other pioneers through the old gateway and along the dangerous trail in the dark wilderness before the valleys of the Blue Grass were fenced.

AS KENTUCKIANS prepare to celebrate the centennial of the state's admission to the Union in 1792, Cumberland Gap is the historic shrine of prominent importance. It was through this historic gateway, on the last western range of the Appalachians, that the hunters and founders of Kentucky passed in the quest of "The Dark and Bloody Ground." The Wilderness Trail, entering the Kentucky land at the pass and following the general route of the ago-old Warriors Path of the Indians, became the life-line which led the young commonwealth from 1775 to 1826.

Cumberland Gap, framed by the portals of Pine-nacle Mountain and Three States Peak, witnessed the most amazing migration in the annals of American history, and most of present-day Kentuckians, as well as many residents of the states of the North-west, cherish with pride the memory of their heroic ancestors who followed Daniel Boone and the other pioneers through the old gateway and along the dangerous trail in the dark wilderness before the valleys of the Blue Grass were fenced.

Nationally known for its influence upon the course of American history, Cumberland Gap and the surrounding scenic region is now scheduled for development as a National Historical Park through the cooperation of Kentucky, Tennessee, and Virginia. Prominent in pioneer history, a strategic point in the Civil War struggle, and the focal center of a spectacular industrial development in 1890, the pass has been the scene of tremendous episodes typical of the growth of the nation.

The pageantry of historical incidents at Cumberland Gap, the long blue wall of the Cumberlandians cut in twin at the Gap, the tumbling streams and interesting caverns, the sharp gorge through Pine Mountain at the Narrows where the Cumberland River breaks out of its mountain imprisonment, the famous Cumberland Ford over which the early pilgrims crossed, and the sylvan-locked Laurel Cove in Pine Mountain State Park where thousands of Kentuckians come each year to exalt the magnificent forest-beauty of the mountains, combine to make this region one of Kentucky's most romantic spots.

The tide of humanity which once flowed through the area is turning again to this shrine of courage, to enjoy its beauty and to visualize again the glories of the past.

FIRST JUNIOR SPORTSMAN CLUB ORGANIZED IN KY.

Frankfort, Ky.—Organization of what is believed to be the first junior sportsman's club in Kentucky, was carried out at the second street school here November 6, with James J. Gilpin, Public Relations Representative for the Division of Game and Fish, making the principal talk to the group of young boys.

The Junior sportsman's club was organized by its president, Ronald E. Rhody, member of the fourth grade at the school, who initiated formation of the club after seeing one of the new textbooks on game and fish conservation compiled by Gilpin, and recently issued by the Division of Game and Fish, the League of Kentucky Sportsmen and the State Department of Education.

This hand-book on Conservation of Wildlife and other natural resources for teachers in elementary and secondary schools' has in it a part set aside known as social studies. School and Community Fur, Feather and Fin Club—which instructs the teacher on how to organize a junior sportsman's group and the many things this group may do to help the conservation of wildlife and other natural resources in their own community.

S. A. Wakefield, Director of the Division of Game and Fish, stated that as far as was known by the personnel of the Division, the Second Street school club is definitely the first of its kind in the Commonwealth and urged every Game and Fish Club and other sportsman's organizations to follow suit and promote such junior sportsman's club in their own county and city schools. Wakefield pointed out that the Franklin County Game and Fish Club should sponsor this junior organization and stated that the League of Kentucky Sportsmen would be pleased to participate in furthering this movement throughout the state.

QUAIL & RABBIT SEASONS OPEN NOVEMBER 24

Frankfort, Ky. Nimrods have silenced their guns on doves and squirrels and are now making check-ups on hunting equipment preparatory to the opening of the quail and rabbit season which begins in Kentucky on November 24 and extends through January 9.

S. A. Wakefield, Director of the Division of Game and Fish, pointed out today that the only game that can be hunted at the present time is ducks and geese. All other game is now protected by closed seasons until the rabbit and quail season opens on the 24th of November.

According to reports received from practically every section of the state, quail are quite plentiful this year, due to the restocking program carried out last spring by the Division and the sportsmen, and to the favorable nesting and rearing seasons which the quail found during the late spring, summer and early fall months. Rains in recent weeks have assured ample water supplies for the game birds and other forms of wildlife. This was one important factor which was missed last fall and the results of the long drought during these autumn months was noticeable in the shortage of quail during the hunting season.

The cotton-tail rabbit is reported plentiful in a good many counties. Wakefield called the hunter's attention to the fact that the Bob White Quail CANNOT BE BOUGHT OR SOLD ANYWHERE IN KY. and that anyone doing so is liable to arrest. The hog limit is 12 a day or not more than two days bag limit—24 in possession. Rabbits MAY BE BOUGHT OR SOLD ANYWHERE IN KY. but no person may have more than 16 rabbits in possession at any one time. The daily bag limit is 16 in possession of 16—two days bag limit.

TRAPPING SEASON OPENS NOVEMBER 24. TRAPPER SHOULD KNOW REGULATIONS

Frankfort, Ky.—The Kentucky Trappers' association was called today to the trapping regulations for the 1941 fur-bearing season which begins Nov. 24 and ends Jan. 9, under the Anti-Steel-Trap Law by S. A. Wakefield, Director of the Division of Game and Fish.

For the water animals, such as Muskrat and Mink the Bridle Rubber-jawed trap, size 1, shall be used along the shores of streams, lakes or ponds where drowning nets may be made in the water at least 22 inches deep, so that the animal will be quickly drowned. No trap shall be set without a drowning device. These prevent not only trapping, but also wring-offs and injuries to fur.

For foxes, the Verbal Chain-loop trap is to be used. This trap may also be used for opossum, skunk and raccoon. But the best trap for opossum and skunk is the Box Trap, plans of which may be obtained from the Division of Game and Fish Office here upon written request.

As the raccoon has been reported as being scarce practically every section of Kentucky, Wakefield urged all trappers to use discretion in the trapping of this animal so that it will not be exterminated in the Bluegrass State.

For Weasel and House Rat, the Official Weasel Trap has been adopted.

All furbearer may be taken in home-made or cage traps, with the old-fashioned deadfall, or with instant-killers set far back in holes or burrows.

Every trap set shall be visited every 24 hours after setting, and a animal found therein killed instantly, or liberated unharmed.

Wakefield also pointed out that no person shall set any trap on the land of another without written permission from the owner of the land. And that there is a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $50 as the penalty for any violation of this trapping law.

The Bridle and Verbal traps may be bought from any dealer in the state, through the wholesale firms of the Belknap Co. and the Stratton, Terstogge Co., Louisville, Ky. The Instant-killing Weasel Trap may be obtained from any hardware dealer. There is no open season for beaver or otter in Kentucky. The resident state trapping license costs $1, while the non-resident state trapping license sells for $10.50.

THANKSGIVING DAY TO BE OBSERVED BEFORE HUNTING SEASON OPENS

The Thanksgiving proclamation issued by the President of the United States and concurred in by the Governor of Kentucky, setting aside Thursday, November 20th, as the Day of Thanksgiving, will again be a bitter pill for the hunters of the Commonwealth as the quail and rabbit season opens in this state on November 24th.

This day of rest, which is recognized as a holiday by the state at large, is usually a day when most sportsmen take to the fields in the pursuit of the Bob-White Quail and the Cotton-Tail Rabbit, but it will be strictly against the law to do so this Thanksgiving.

S. A. Wakefield, Director of the Division of Game and Fish, today cautioned all hunters to refrain from hunting until November 24 because any person caught hunting any game, other than ducks and geese, before that date, will be liable to arrest and upon conviction will either have to pay a fine or serve a jail sentence or both, as the case may be.

Wakefield also urged all hunters to have their minds made up positively before they purchase their hunting license as a 51-county hunting license may NOT be exchanged for a 33-state-wide hunting license. He also urged the nimrods to get their license early so as to avoid any rush upon the county court clerks or delay as the result of the Sunday holiday preceding the opening day of the season on Monday, November 24.

All guns must be plugged to hold not more than three shells for the taking of any sort of game in Kentucky.

No Reduction In Tobacco Growing

Acreage allotments for burley, dark air-cured and dark fire-cured tobaccos will be the same in 1942 as in 1941 under the Agricultural Conservation Program, the state office of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration announces.

This applies to 'total allotments for Kentucky and to all individual allotments except where adjustments are authorized by law in cases of marketing quota violations or other special

The burley allotment for Kentucky is 264,275 acres. State acreages for dark types of tobacco are: Dark air-cured, 30,780; and dark fire-cured, 33,150.

In adjusting surplus-crop acreages to allotments under the program during the past few years, Kentucky farmers now find their farms better prepared for food production in the defense program, it is pointed out. Increases in pastures and other improvements through soil-building practices plus the additional labor made available by the reduction in tobacco production will enable farmers to grow more poultry, dairy and meat products.

In many cases, program officials believe, farmers may find it more profitable to make further reductions in tobacco production in order to produce foods needed in the defense program. Under the regulations, tobacco growers may plant less than their allotments without losing any of these allotments for future years.

Experiment Station Herd Produces Well

The Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington owns eight registered Holstein cows that produce enough milk in the past year to provide 29 families with four quarts of milk daily for a year. The herd average was 376 pounds of butterfat and 11,442 pounds of milk per cow. This butterfat average is more than twice as much as that of the country's average dairy cow. The highest producer in the herd, a junior 4-year-old, produced 436 pounds of butterfat and 14,110 pounds of milk in 297 days. Testing was supervised by The Holstein-Friesian Association of America, in co-operation with the Experiment Station.

What happens to the 15 per cent profit allowed the Service Department of U. S. Navy ships? The profits are spent on athletic equipment, parties, dances and other social functions. Some of the ships even buy their own radios, phonographs, records and other equipment for use by the crew.

Farmers Need No Priority Rating

In answer to inquiries as to whether farmers need priority ratings for making certain purchases, the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics calls attention to the effects that such ratings are not necessary.

Farmers are not required to have priority ratings to buy machinery, repair-parts, equipment, fertilizers, sprays, roofing, nails, fencing and similar materials needed in the operation of farms. Priorities are issued to manufacturers, processors, and warehousemen, and not to individual farmers using materials.

Since deliveries of machinery and materials may be slow, many farmers are determining their 1942 needs this fall and placing orders for repair, equipment and other materials. This may save them time and money during the rush periods on the farm next year. The possibility of a farm labor shortage also seems to make planning desirable, it is pointed out.

SLANTS

By W. L. S.

Vernon Richardson, popular columnist for the Daily Advocate-Messenger recently had a little item, which read like this: "Emily Post, noted authority on what is what, and what not, in the social whirl, says that a bride may carry gloves, prayer book or bouquet. This is innocent enough, but underneath this item—was the showing in big black type, stove pipe, mats, collars, coal buckets for sale by a local hardware firm. Of course the above article was duly set off by a rule, and nevertheless, most married men read over this division.

Somerset, one of the fastest growing towns in Kentucky, is again having their Christmas parade, which is an annual event. This gay festival of Christmas lights, decorations, considerable, but the parade, which is an annual event, shows that the money spent is well invested. People from miles around come to Somerset to see the parade, and shop. When merchants of any city lose all interest in having something to draw people to their town, it means that the only ones who trade there come through absolute necessity.

Last year the Signal carried less advertising in December than any month. The advertiser who has a banner month, the merchant probably figured that the people would come anyway, why advertise? Out-of-town stores and the big mail order houses like those kind of merchants, it means many extra dollars for them.

One of the reasons for lack of wealth in this county is the dairy cattle and poultry. You can drive for miles out in the country without seeing a cow. Some farmers have one, some which have even enough milk to supply his family, and many have none at all. Very few, consider the fact, that good dairy cows are money makers. A farmer with four or five cows could sell the cream and use the skim milk for the pigs. When these cows calved, additional money would be forthcoming with the sale of veal. Heifers should be kept, or sold to some other farmer for dairy purposes. Instead of coming to town with nothing to sell, the farmers would be bringing cans of cream, which can always be marketed for cash. Give every land-owner five cows and a flock of producing hens, and Rockcastle's poverty would be over. When our little crop of tobacco is sold the majority of our revenue is at an end for the year. Is it any wonder that our county is known as a pauper county?

Baptist Church

By Rev. W. C. Younce

There are some among us who seem to be very interested in becoming a Christian, but are not willing to give up some things which are contrary to the teachings of Christ. We are sorry for them but we are not responsible for the high standard of discipleship. We are reminded of a certain ruler who came to Jesus saying, "Good Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?" The Master replied, "Go and sell all that thou hast and distribute unto the poor and thou shalt have treasure in Heaven; and come, follow me." When he refused this, "he was very sorry." Surely Peter was right when he said there are "some things hard to be understood which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest unto their own destruction but we know" as John puts it, "that the will of God and the whole world is ripe in wickedness, and that the Son of God is come and hath given us an understanding." Therefore, in light of the Scriptures, "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world for all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. The world passeth away, and the lust thereof; but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever and he who separates with the Lord and I will receive you."

PRAYER SERVICE

Union with Christ is necessary to work for Christ. We must live in Him before He will live through us. When we abide in Him and He abides in us, our lives become fruitful. The amount of fruit we bear is regulated by the intimacy of our union with Him and the strength we draw from Him and translate into good works. Prayer is a means to this glorious end. The Wednesday night prayer service will prove to be a real blessing to those who attend. Our scripture is 1 John 3: Abiding in Christ.

Mrs. Delbert Parker returned home from the hospital Tuesday last of this week. We extend our deepest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Parker in the loss of their little son.

We also extend our sympathy to the family of Mr. Luther Mason who passed away last Friday night.

We want our people who are in sorrow and trouble to know that we are remembering them in our prayer.

"Pecan Cake" Recipe Given By College

For those who wish to make cakes for fall holiday occasions, pecan cake may be just as desirable as fruit cakes. The Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics again gives the following recipe, found to be excellent:

- 3 pounds seeded raisins
- 2 1/2 pounds pecans
- 1/2 pound candied orange peel
- 2 slices candied pineapple
- 1 pound butter.
- 1 dozen eggs
- 2 pounds sugar
- 1 pound browned flour
- 1 pound white flour
- 7/8 cup molasses
- 1 cup grapejuice
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 3 teaspoons baking powder

To the fruit and nuts add half of a pound of the white flour and mix thoroughly. Cream the butter and sugar, add the yolks of the eggs beaten slightly. To this add the molasses, browned flour and half of the grapejuice, then the dry ingredients, the remainder of the grapejuice and the whites of the eggs beaten stiffly. The fruit and nuts are added last and thoroughly mixed. Place the batter in two six-pound molds which have been well greased and lined, both sides and bottom, with one layer of graham paper. Bake at 325 degrees for three hours.

Kentucky farmers will meet the increases in food production asked by the Secretary of Agriculture, in the opinion of Dean Thomas P. Cooper of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. These increases include 12 percent in milk production, 15 percent in each of eggs and poultry in lambs and 2 percent each in corn and hay.

In most instances, Dean Cooper pointed out, the increases asked are along lines with expansion already under way in the state. For instance, 27,000,000 gallons more milk are wanted from Kentucky, for condensers, milk powder and cheese plants. Dairying in Kentucky has been on the up-grade for several years, Dean Cooper said, by better feeding of the cows steadily on hand, and possibly milking a few few beef cows, it is thought the increase readily can be met, without materially expanding herds or adding equipment which might not be needed after the emergency.

Grass and hay production has increased, as major features of the agricultural conservation program, and livestock raising has been expanded as a natural result of more feed. More eggs and poultry, pork and lard are needed, and these, too, are in line with recent trends in Kentucky farming, Dean Cooper added.

"The increases asked, while not large, are substantial," commented Dean Cooper. "However, there is every reason to believe they can be met, with a favorable producing year and with an energetic interest of the farmers of the state. It is possible that an unfavorable labor situation may develop, and this would make careful planning most desirable. A statement on the farm labor situation has just been issued by the department of farm economics of the College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

"It is of special interest to note that the increases asked in milk, poultry products, pork and beef are of the types of production adaptable to Kentucky agriculture. This is especially true of milk and poultry, and to a less degree of hogs. For several years dairying has been growing in the state, in keeping with the program of soil conservation and turning land back to grass and other soil-building crops.

"I believe farmers can undertake larger production without sacrificing the gains in the program of restoring and maintaining fertility. It is important that the soil building program be continued and it is fortunate that the increases in production needed in Kentucky are in keeping with that program."

Robert Earl Powell of Marshall county made $92 on a litter of pigs, after allowing 10 cents an hour for his work. The seven pigs weighed 164 pounds when 165 days old, and sold for $114.45 per cwt.

The purchase of permanent 4-H club and Utopia club grounds is being considered in Boone county. A fair held by the clubs returned a profit of approximately $75. Both clubs are actively interested in the national defense program.

TOO WEAK FOR JOB; GAINS 25 POUNDS ON RETONGA

"I Eat Anything Now Without Distress and Never Felt Better," Gratefully Declares Jno. T. Richard. Tells Of Case.

A continuous stream of grateful praise of Retonga continues as well known men and women report wonderful relief from the distress of nervous indigestion, loss of weight and strength, torpid bowels, muscular aches and pains; tired rundown feeling and similar harassing distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices, in the stomach, constipation, and need of Vitamin B-1, for digestion, nerves and strength. Mr. John T. Richard, well known resident of 124 N. 4th Ave., Louisville declares: "I suffered from loss of appetite, weight and strength until I was forced to quit my job. What little I ate caused me to bloat and swell with gas until I felt like I couldn't get my breath. My nerves were on edge, I couldn't get much sleep, and constipation was so bad every muscle and joint seemed to ache from toxic wastes.

"Thanks to the relief Retonga gave me, I eat what I want now without indigestion, gas and bloating. I have regained twenty-five pounds and the constipation is relieved, too. I hardly ever felt better than I do now. No one could be more grateful to Retonga than I am."

Thousands praise Retonga. Accept no substitute. Get genuine Retonga at Maggard Drug Store, Mt. Vernon, Ky.

4-H ACHIEVEMENT DAY

120 leaders, club members and visitors met at the Mt. Vernon High school building Saturday, November 8, for their annual 4-H Achievement Day program. The Mt. Vernon and Brodhead bars began the day's program with a good peppy concert after which the group was called to order by the President of our County 4-H Association, Lee Gejtry who is a member of the Quail club. Miss Ruth Mullins led the group in singing three songs which they enjoyed very much. After Reverend Aubrey Russell, Pastor of the Christian church, gave the invocation the pledge to the 4-H Flag was given. A welcome was given by Lester McHargue in the absence of Professor Champion who was sick.

The minutes of the 1940 were read by the county secretary, Winnie Roy Lewis, member of the Wildie club. She then called the roll and the following clubs were represented:

Brodhead, Blue Spring, Fairview, Freedom, Maple Grove, Mt. Vernon, Old Chesnut Ridge, Ottawa, Quail, and Wildie.

Mr. J. M. Foltner, Assistant 4-H State Leader, gave a very interesting talk on "Our Responsibility." He stressed the importance of our responsibility first to God, second to others and third to ourselves.

One of the main features of the day's program was a play entitled "Dr. Vitamins." This play was written by Miss Barnes of the Wildie club and presented by her members. Mr. N. M. Smock spoke to the group on Savings Bonds and urged them to "Start Saving Habit."

After lunch we heard a very impressive speech made by our state 4-H club president, Wayne Stewart. We were very glad to have the president of the state to speak to us and especially since he is a member of our Wildie club. He made a very impressive speech on club work in Rockcastle county.

The officers elected for 1942 were: President, Kenneth Stewart, Wildie club; Vice Pres., Lee Roy McClure, Old Chesnut Ridge club; Secretary, Miss Ruth Lewis, Quail club; Chairman, Asst. Sec., Lena Mae Staverson, Mt. Vernon club.

There were nine new entries in the hog calling contest which was won by Lee Roy McClure of the Old Chesnut Ridge club. Lee Roy got to take the hog home with him and he will furnish a pig to be called in 1942. There were 45 leaders in Rockcastle county to receive pins or certificates for 4-H leadership but of this number only eleven were present. Special recognition was given to J. M. Wallace of the Quail club who has served as a 4-H leader for 20 years. He is the first leader we have had to receive such recognition for such a long period of years.

The last but most important of the program was the introduction of the county champions and the awarding of the banner to the outstanding club, Winnie Roy Lewis, Wildie Club, was introduced as Rockcastle's outstanding girl for 1941 and Lee Roy McClure, Old Chesnut Ridge club, outstanding boy. The county champions were:

- CLOTHING UNIT
- Unit 1 Bonnie Taylor, Quail.
- Unit 2 Sue Ellen Brown, Quail.
- Unit 3 Georgia Brown, Quail.
- Unit 4 Alta McKinney, Freedom.

- CANNING UNIT

STARS IN THE SPOTLIGHT!

 BY ETHEL VINE *****

Maureen O'Sullivan, an Irish lass who made good in the movies, will appear in the fifth Tarzan picture in "Tarzan's Secret Treasure," playing opposite Johnny Weissmuller. The daughter of Major Charles O'Sullivan is the Connaught Rangers of Ireland and born on the Emerald Isle, Maureen declares. It was Lady Luck who decided her career.

Maureen O'Sullivan

Educated in English and French convents, Miss O'Sullivan, seventeen at the time, was attending a dance with a young man in Dublin when fate beckoned her to Hollywood. Frank Borzage who was then in Ireland directing "Song O' My Heart" with John McCormack, happened to be at the party. Struck by the girl's beauty and typical Irish appearance, he asked her if she would care to play a bit part in the picture.

She had no acting experience but decided, rather as a lark, to accept the offer. When the film was completed, Borzage was so impressed with Miss O'Sullivan's photogenic possibilities that after making a test of her in a speaking role, he offered her a contract. Her father consented and so on October 5, 1929, accompanied by her mother, Maureen sailed from Southampton for New York. She arrived in Hollywood some weeks later and proved successful from the start. Her early pictures include, "So This is London," "Connecticut Yankee," "The Plumber" and "The Big Shot." Subsequently, M-G-M signed her to a long term contract and she has appeared in countless films since, among them "A Yank at Oxford," "The Crowd Roars," "Pride and Prejudice" and the Tarzan series.

Based on Burroughs' Works
In this series she takes the part of Jane, adored by Tarzan, who grew up in the jungle country and slowly awakens to love when he encounters the lovely American girl. Little John Sheffield again takes the part of Boy in the new picture, "Tarzan's Secret Treasure" and the supporting cast includes Reginald Owen, Barry Fitzgerald, Tom Conway, Philip Dorn and Cordell Hickman. The picture is based, as the entire series is, on characters drawn by Edgar Rice Burroughs, and is directed by Richard Thorpe. It was filmed on M-G-M's fifty acre outdoor lot where an exact replica of the African jungle was created.

In 1936 the actress was married to John Villiers Farrow, a film actor. They have a son, Michael, two years old. Miss O'Sullivan believes it possible to combine a career with a home and looks forward to playing in many more pictures.

Rockcastle county took part in the Civilian National Defense Week by conducting 12 community meetings under the direction of the County Agent. Meetings were held at Beech Creek, Climax, Disputanta, Livingston, Blue Springs, Wildie, Leavel Green, Quail, Brodhead, Conway, Crooked Creek and Mt. Vernon with an attendance of 826 people.

Emphasis was placed upon the production of milk, eggs, pork, beef and vegetables. Rockcastle county must produce 16 per cent more milk, 19 per cent more eggs, seven per cent more beef and 30 per cent more vegetables for 1942. Better housing, feeding and management of poultry and cows this winter will help us to increase our milk and eggs. Our hens and pullets need more corn. They are in no condition to lay. More corn should be fed once and twice a day and egg mash before the pullets at all times.

This increase for 1942 is what we ought to do even though we were not in war. Now is the time for us to make our plans for such increases. Let's keep in mind these figures of increase as we make our individual plans on our farms. The way we plan and what we do will be seen and felt in Rockcastle county more than anywhere else.

Farm men and women who wish to have more information on the production of eggs and milk this winter and the care and management of pigs for the increase of pigs in the spring and the way to increase the seven per cent of beef and how to increase the fertility of a garden, insect control, etc. can secure such information from the County Agent. Our first duty is home production for home consumption. This is our first job. Let's make plans to produce all we can for home consumption. This food production is exactly what we have been trying to do for many years. It's nothing strange but the same old story—more food, better feed, better soil, more grasses, better buildings and livestock improvement. This has been going on for sometime in a little more vigor due to the fact that we are at war.

McCreary County Population Grows
The population of McCreary, Kentucky's youngest county, has increased in each decade since 1860, according to a survey which the State College of Agriculture and Home Economics made of neighborhoods and communities in the county. In 1940 there were 16,451 people in McCreary county. There have been 2,000 to 3,000 persons added to the county's population in each 10-year period since 1860, with the exception of 1910-20, when the growth was smaller.

More Broccoli Found In Fall Home Gardens

With the "home gardens for de-fense" program widely followed in Kentucky, many different kinds of vegetables may be found in many gardens. Broccoli, a delicate vegetable something like green cauliflower, is being used, more often. The following recipes come from the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics:

Wash the broccoli, remove all dried leaves, and cook in an uncovered pan in boiling salted water for 25 to 30 minutes. Drain carefully (as it breaks easily), and dress with Hollandaise sauce.

The Hollandaise sauce is made as follows: Cream one-fourth cup of butter with yolks of two eggs, adding eggs one at a time and beating well. Season with one teaspoon salt, a dash of pepper, a grain or two of cayenne. Add slowly one-half cup of boiling water, stirring constantly. Simmer over hot water until thick. Remove from fire and add two tablespoons of lemon juice. If sauce begins to curdle, beat with a rotary beater and it will become smooth again.

"War" Maneuvers Family Exhibits 100 Farm Products
Recruits to the army engage in "maneuvers" on a large scale, when so-called Blue and Red armies test war practices under special supervision for a limited period of time. It is a "polishing off" period, giving extra training and eliminating imperfections.

And—in a totally different way—the same thing is done for girls in home economics at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. When they are seniors they are sent to "home practice" houses of which the university now has two for a 6-week period of highly specialized practice in the things they've learned in classrooms for four years.

They plan budgets, buy foods and other goods, keep the house not merely spotless but attractive, prepare meals and serve them, and in general show their knowledge of domestic home practice and a high type of home living. They do this under the general direction of Miss Esther Taylor. During this period they get additional training, and at the same time show their worthiness for graduation in the home economics field.

During the past 14 years, improvements have been made in the equipment at the practice houses, and standards have been raised constantly. During that time, approximately 420 young women have received this "practice house" work, and received their degree in home economics.

W. Magill and W. D. Armstrong of the college.
