Milk Products Help In Conserving Grain

Better Rations Result When Proteins Are Used

With a world grain emergency and a national drive to conserve grain used in feeding, and grain prices high, milk by-products are more important than ever in poultry feeding.

Balanced rations probably can do more to conserve grain used in feeding than any other single measure.

These milk by-products provide animal proteins of unusual quality. The milk proteins, lactalbumen and casein, have a high growth promoting value and contain all the essential amino acids.

Milk by-products provide animal proteins of unusual quality. The milk proteins, lactalbumen and casein, have a high growth promoting value and contain all the essential amino acids.

Milk by-products are rich in lactose, or milk sugar, a natural laxative which helps poultry maintain good intestinal health and minimizes the hazards of intestinal parasites.

These milk by-products also provide minerals, particularly calcium and phosphorus and contain the water-soluble vitamins of whole milk.

In preparing a balanced ration the object is to feed the correct proportion of the various nutrients that poultry require.

In every case there is a point beyond which it is wasteful to include additional grain without providing other nutrients because the fowl cannot make complete economical use of all nutriment in additional grain.

WHY

GENERAL ELECTRIC PUT LOWERED PRICES AHEAD OF OTHER THINGS

General Electric lowered prices because we wanted to do our part to stop the present spiral of inflation.

General Electric lowered prices on electrical appliances in greatest demand—because that is where lowered prices on General Electric products will do the most good and have the greatest effect.

General Electric lowered prices regardless of the fact that G-E profits are not high—are not at present levels high enough.

We did this because we know that in the long run General Electric can prosper only as the people of this country prosper. We believe that producing more goods for more people at less cost is the soundest way of running a business. And we feel that inflation in this country has reached a dangerous level—for the wage earner, for the man with savings, and for industry alike.

This applies to the man who brings home a weekly pay check, to the man with a little savings in the bank or a life insurance policy, and to companies that have to build new plants and buy new machines to fill future needs and provide future jobs.

Inflation is a sinister thing. It steals up on a country and its economy in a gradually seething two-step of prices and wages—each trying to out-pace the other—and there is no red line to show when the danger point has been reached.

Inflation is like a fire. Once it gets well under way, it can never be checked until everything is destroyed.

Do you know what inflation can do to you?

As money buys less and less, your savings lose their buying power. Life insurance policies dwindle in value. Money saved to take your wife to the hospital won't pay the bill when the time comes. Pay checks buy less and less. Retirement money won't pay for retirement.

Self-restraint by industries and individuals the best check

You as an individual can do most by buying less and saving more—thus avoiding bidding up the prices for scarce goods. Business and industry can do much by lowering prices whenever and wherever possible—voluntarily.

General Electric put lowered prices ahead of other things because we believe it is a step towards checking inflation.

We Must Destroy Inflation or It Will Destroy Us

THREE STATE BILLS WOULD TAX PAR-MUTUEL BETTING AT TRACKS

Three bills calling for taxing parimutuel betting at Kentucky race tracks were introduced in the Legislature late Tuesday. Republican Representatives Everett T. Cooper, Creston, and D. B. Saylor, Mt. Vernon, proposed a 5 per cent impost. Another Republican, Dennis Henderson, Louisville, called for 10 per cent in the bill he introduced. The State Revenue Department estimated a 5 per cent parimutuel tax would bring in $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 a year.

Henderson's bill also would specify that 3 per cent of the revenue from the tax go to the State and the other 7 per cent to the track. "The race track is located or adjacent thereto," Saylor's bill proposed, that income from the tax be divided equally between public assistance and the State's school per capita fund for aiding teachers' pay.

SNOW SNOW BEAUTIFUL SNOW

Most of Rockcastle's citizens as well as those of the entire state, are now doubting the existence of this phrase. For the past two weeks this section has been completely covered by snow. One layer covering before the last could melt away.

Last Thursday evening and night brought a four inch snow fall, coming on top of the snow which had stayed for almost a week. Then again Friday night and Saturday morning evening was added to make it 10 to 11 inches deep in the open fields. Continued cold days refused to let this melt and Tuesday night another three inches was added. The total snow fall for two weeks about 18 inches.

Predictions do not show any let up either, with another cold wave due this coming week-end.

Revitalized Country Church Plays Social, Economic Role

By EARLE HITCH
Long on the road to decline, the country church is being revived as an integral force for re-energizing small rural communities.

Without in any sense departing from the Christian aims of saving souls and preaching redemption, these churches simply are adding an awareness of social and economic responsibility to their mission of salvation.

York and Westport, Ky., and at Big Lick, Tenn. The Methodist churches have community missions at Frakes, Ky., and Sevierville, Tenn. A target community project at Blue Springs, Tenn., represents the combined parishes of the Methodists, Disciples of Christ and Presbyterians.

Woolen community, under the ministry of Benton Deaton, has a fine community church and playground, built by the people themselves. In the recreation center the children of the neighborhood have a place to enjoy their games and the whole community has its picnic and outdoor religious gatherings.

Woolen owns a cooperative truck, which provides transportation for the farmers who need to send things to market, and have things bought for them in town. Very few of the people are able to get to the market by means of travel by auto.

COMMUNITY ENTERPRISES

One of the leading churches in the community is the Methodist church at Frakes, Ky. The church was built by people of the community. It has a membership of 50 families. Landscaping was done by the pastor and farmers.

classes in current problems, such as farm machinery repair, work on the home, and home decorations.

All this represents the life work of a great country preacher. He was Paul A. Doran, who went to Blue Springs in 1917 as a divinity school graduate, and died three years ago after 25 years spent entirely in the community's service.

One of his many lasting services was his homestead plan. He made home-buying his personal concern. Through small loans from a nominal sum held in trust by him, the minister made it possible for 20 families in the community to become owners of their own farms.

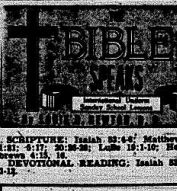

The pastor at Big Lick is both pastor and articulator in behalf of better rural living. He has known country life from childhood and he knows how to farm. He has a tractor, plow a contour furrow and help in the saw mill. He has organized a Big Lick homestead project and young men get established on the land, and 27 families have been assisted in buying farms since 1940.

His Work of Salvation

PROFESSOR WILLIAM JAMES was once asked to give a definition of Christianity. He replied, "I doubt if there is a satisfactory definition of Christianity, but I can give you an example."

Our lesson for today falls in many things about Jesus, his work of salvation chiefly, but first before we can understand what he does, we must look again at who he was and is.

The boy Jesus, it seems to me, "The Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost." Hold to this truth every door will open in this lesson.

JESUS HELPS ZACCHAEUS IN THE first ten verses of the 19th chapter of Luke we have the story of the man called Zacchaeus.

Zacchaeus is but an illustration of what Jesus seeks to save every man. He wants to save every man, but he wants to save every man by a different way.

The "worst" boy in your community may be saved, just as he is, by the ministry of Jesus. He will be saved, not as Jesus, just as he is, confessing his sin and believing on the Lord Jesus Christ.

HOW JESUS CHANGES PEOPLE JESUS saved Zacchaeus by forgiving his sins and putting a new heart in his heart.

He may not have asked them to forgive him, but when he met Jesus and was changed by the remarkable grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, he proposed to restore tenfold wherever he may have wronged anyone. More than that, Zacchaeus offers to give the half of his goods to the poor.

But we must remember this, Zacchaeus bore his soul to the Savior in repentance for his sins and believed on him as the Son of God before he manifested a changed attitude.

THE PURPOSE OF JESUS RECALL again the words of the angel to Joseph, "Thou shalt call his name Jesus, for he shall save his people from their sins." It was to save sinners like Zacchaeus that Jesus came down from heaven and lived on the earth. That was his purpose.

"He went about doing good, for God was with him," Acts 10:38. We shall never understand the work of Jesus until we come to see him at work in every age and amongst all mankind to do the will of his Father in heaven and all who will come into him in faith believing.

"SO SEND I YOU" JESUS calls upon you and upon me and upon every follower of his to accept as the central purpose of our lives this mission of winning lost souls unto him. "As the Father hath sent me, so send I you."

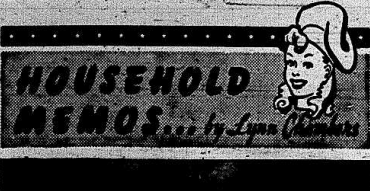

I sat in a boat with two prominent business men, fishing in a lake one afternoon last November. Mr. Asa G. Candler of Atlanta and I were guests of Mr. Carr P. Collins of Dallas. We were talking about "What is money worth if we think of it apart from the purpose of God? Until we come back to the work of Jesus, we cannot hope to improve the sorrowful plight of our frightened day and generation. All men are lost until they come to know him as Saviour."

Let this testimony of one of God's gentlemen be heard and heeded by laymen and ministers alike, and fear will give way to faith, and the kingdoms of this earth will become lost souls unto him. "As the Father hath sent me, so send I you."

Just don't feel like I can entertain now that food prices are so high," said a friend of mine to me recently. Actually you can do so, if explained to her, if you serve less expensive food but dress it up, company style.

There's a pot roast, for instance, which, done to succulence and tenderness, and garnished with stuffed prunes or spiced crab apples, leaves nothing to be desired.

Or what about meat loaf? Now there's a good old-fashioned meat dish that can be dressed over beautifully with a touting of mashed potatoes and served with parried carrots and glazed onions.

Short ribs of beef? Yes, indeed, there are few meat dishes that can come up to it in tastiness. Basters can be made that are very inexpensive, but, put in a mold, they have "company manners."

Menu I. Yorkshire Steak, Seven-Minute Cabbage, Glazed Carrots, Tossed Salad, French Dressing, Cloverleaf Rolls, Omelette, Cream Sauce.

Menu II. Brussard Sprouts, Whole Wheat Macaroni, Cabbage-Apple, Fresh Orange-Cream, Pork Roast with Spicy Sauce, Sweet Potatoes, Creamed Apples, Cabbage-Pineapple Slaw.

Menu III. Female Juice, Savory Meat Loaf, Green Peppers Stuffed with Corn, Braised Potatoes, Orange Rolls, Grapefruit Salad, Apple Pie with Hard Sauce or Chocolate Sauce.

All the items on the above menu are inexpensive, and even if you are busy, they are easy to prepare.

Savory Meat Loaf: 2 pounds ground beef, 1 egg, slightly beaten, 1/2 cup minced onion, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning, 1 1/4 cups condensed vegetable soup.

WILL OF THE WIND

BY WILLIAM BRANDON

MRS. HACKETT found her in the bedroom crying. She knocked the door and said grimly: "I came in to borrow some sugar, Sylvia. The door was open so I just walked in. Now what on earth's wrong with you?"

Sylvia sat up and dried her eyes. Her startled expression was wiped and her black hair was tangled and disordered. A curling strand of it hung down beside her nose as she sat up. She had come out of her imitation fire collar and it had fallen down to catch in the red buckle at her waist. She said calmly: "Hello, Mrs. Hackett. Nothing."

Mrs. Hackett drew down the corners of her mouth. "Nothing, my foot! Because of this wanting to pull up sticks and go to Canton, isn't it? Of course it is."

Sylvia slapped the lock of hair out of her eyes. "I won't be a boomer's wife!" she flared. "I won't!"

"Ain't you'll be the wind's will, that's a woman's just as a slave, to follow a man around at whatever he happens to want to do?"

"Oh, you don't," Mrs. Hackett said. "And just what can you do about it?"

Sylvia bowed her head and scrubbed unhappily at her cheeks with her handkerchief. "I don't know," she sobbed.

"Of course you do. You're nothin' but a child." Mrs. Hackett smiled. "It's been twenty years finding out what to do and by that time it's too late to do you any good. Unless there's somebody around who knows."

Sylvia was not impressed. "What could you tell me, Mrs. Hackett? What could anyone do? I've argued with him until I'm almost crazy but he—he doesn't even listen any more. He's got his mind set on moving on to something different that won't be any different at all, and then he'll want to go again, and he'll be the wind's will," said Mrs. Hackett. "That's what the poem says. It's just as true as that matter. The older they get the truer it gets. I reckon only they kind of give up trying to do anything but to begin with. She pushed up her lower lip and looked down her nose at Sylvia: "You mean Mrs. Hackett?"

"You mean Mrs. Hackett?" Sylvia looked up, startled. "You mean Mrs. Hackett will be to—want to?"

"He was the hardest man to hold down in this town. He got tired of everything, that was his trouble. It's a sort of laziness, that's all it is. But he stuck here. He stuck, all right."

"But what if he wouldn't want to go?"

"Oh, you tell him you want a little vacation before you move to Canton. If he thinks you've given in about that he'll take you. You try it and see."

"But what if he wouldn't want to go?"

"Oh, you tell him you want a little vacation before you move to Canton. If he thinks you've given in about that he'll take you. You try it and see."
