

Cover Crops Reduce Soil Erosion Losses
Research Tests Show Four Main Advantages

Now cover crops seeded in corn and other row crops could help farmers fight erosion, build up the soil's organic matter and add to the nitrogen supply, is indicated by studies by research men of Iowa agricultural experiment station.

Four major advantages are cited:

1. Cover crops protect the soil from August to May. One-fourth of the annual soil loss occurs during this period.
2. Well-fertilized legumes and grasses add organic matter to the soil that helps resist erosion during the May and June period. This is the time when one-half of the annual soil losses occur.
3. Cover crops add nitrogen to the soil, especially when legumes are a part of all of the mixture.
4. The yield of corn will be slightly increased in the year following the seeding of cover crops.

Research workers have developed a plan that links the problem of seeding the cover crops. Just before

Clover and Alfalfa Need Lined, Fertilized Soil

Sweet clover and alfalfa will do a good job of increasing the soil's supply of nitrogen and vitally needed organic matter if they are well fed. Legumes are heavy eaters of phosphate and potash. They thrive best in a soil that has been limed to correct acidity and to furnish calcium.

Look who gets squeezed!
In contrast, this small group of railroad union leaders are attempting to float the interest and spirit of the Railway Labor Act, and dictate their own terms.
They have dictated a paralyzing Railroad Act.
You will be the victim!
How long will the American public stand for the monopolistic, arbitrary and abusive control of the Railway Labor Act? How long can the American people permit a few individual union leaders to defy the laws provided for present settlement of this issue?
There seldom produce settlements that are fair or better. Therefore, a public is often reacted when personal interests must be held subordinate to the interests of the public. That is why the railroad unions have created the Emergency Board recommendations. That is also why the leaders of these three unions should reconsider their decision to call a paralyzing strike.
Union leaders representing less than one tenth of railroad employees reject recommendations of President's Emergency Board. They will negotiate except on their own terms — attempt to paralyze nation by strike.
The leaders of three railroad unions, representing less than one tenth of railroad employees, have called a railroad strike that would paralyze the nation.
These leaders refuse to accept a 17% cost-of-living increase rather than to accept a 1.5% pay raise. The union leaders have recommended by President Truman.
This increase is easily met by the workers, as evidenced by the 1947 strikes. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America won't accept what more than 90% of all railroad employees have accepted. They have called a strike to be implemented May 14th.
Union refuse rules decrease in certain rules changes demanded by these union leaders — will a world increase wages will therefore being recommended by the Railroad. But the union leaders want the pay increase, but the railroad pay raise effect. They demand that the railroad pay raise effect. They demand that the railroad pay raise effect. They demand that the railroad pay raise effect.
On top of this, they insist that certain rules changes imposed by the railroad be withdrawn — in spite of the fact that the Railroad recommended the same. These union leaders have refused to negotiate except upon these arbitrary terms.
Greater wage increase not justified. Engineers and firemen are among the highest paid of all employees in America, as figures in the box show. They make three times as much as the lowest paid. They are not justly giving a greater increase than other railroad workers received.
Emergency Boards are a means provided by the Railway Labor Act in the public interest to avoid strikes. The President's Board,

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Anti-Communist Coalition Crushes Red Opponents in Italian Election; Lewis, Miners Fined for Contempt

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

LEADERS' NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the writer. Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.

EAST, WEST:

In Italy By the time officials finished counting the first vote returns from Italy's national election, it was clear to anyone who had any doubts as to the fact that the anti-Communist coalition parties were winning two-to-one.

Unusual thing was that the anti-Red Christian Democrats, Republicans and Social Unity party had scored such a top-heavy victory. They led everywhere, even in the so-called "Red North" where Communists had amassed considerable strength in the industrial areas.

Communist front spokesmen conceded that the election results "must be considered a victory" for Premier Alcide De Gasperi's coalition.

This Italian election had been the plan for which both the U. S. and Soviet Russia had been competing ferociously for six months. It was a real contest.

Probably the principal factors deciding the outcome of the election were passage of the European recovery program and the U. S. proposal to return Trieste.

Further, the election appeared to indicate an important point concerning the workings of Communist intrigue.

The Red army was not a factor in the Italian elections. It was a factor, either through its direct presence or its threatening proximity, in the coups of Czechoslovakia, Poland, Rumania, Bulgaria and eastern Germany.

If that reasoning is sound, a disturbing conclusion is evident: Should the U. S. realize the true nature of the threat of Europe, Communist activities should be stopped.

LEWIS: Lost and Fined All things considered, John L. Lewis came away from his brush with the government in fairly good shape—suffering, at the most, minor abrasions of the pocketbook.

For bringing a federal order to end his strike of steel workers, Lewis was fined $10,000 and sentenced to jail for 30 days.

It was almost a verbatim re-enactment of the Lewis-Goldenbrough drama of 1936 when the judge fined Lewis $10,000 and a $3 million dollars for contempt.

This time, however, Judge Goldenbrough wanted to see Lewis retrained to give Lewis a jail term but refrained from doing so upon advice from the government, chief prosecutor in the case.

Nevertheless, he deplored the government's policy of "expediency" which dictated that the mine chief's punishment should be limited to a fine and that he should not be given a jail sentence because that would make a martyr of him in the eyes of the miners.

It was a bad spot for Lewis—perhaps the worst of his career. Not only had he failed to bring his strike to a halt, but he had been fined and sentenced to jail for contempt.

And now, if the miners continued to stay away from work, the protection against the punishment, the government retained a powerful weapon that could wield. The Taft-Hartley legislation against them still was pending.

Ancient Africans A heavy fist cleaver, reduced to chalk-like consistency after having lain in the earth for 70,000 years, is part of the evidence a Harvard anthropologist brought back from Northwest Africa to support his claim that man was first in the region of the world 150,000 years ago.

Dr. Hugh Hencken, director of the American School of Prehistoric Research, returned from an expedition with two tons of fossils.

NEBRASKA:

Stassen Again

Harold E. Stassen had hunked his political corn well in Nebraska—winners in the state's preferential primary—typed this year as a "popularity poll"—showered their favor on the waylaid semi-annalist from Ohio in a field of seven of the publican presidential aspirants.

Results of the Nebraska balloting gave Stassen 35 national convention delegates for at least the first ballot. Legally, Nebraska's delegation goes to the national convention unpledged.

By counting the votes of the defeated outcome of the preferential primary is binding on the delegates for the first ballot. Stassen now estimated that he would command 100 delegates on the first ballot in Philadelphia this June.

As far as Thomas E. Dewey was concerned, the Nebraska primary added not a cubit to his political stature. He ran an indifferent second.

Stassen and Dewey were among the other four contenders: Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Gov. Earl Warren of California and Speaker of the House Joseph Martin.

As always after a pivotal political event such as the Nebraska primary, innumerable reports were circulating, some of them very interesting to find significance.

This was the consensus: Stassen had generated a lot of horsepower because of his Wisconsin and Nebraska victories.

Conceivably, he could sweep the GOP nomination, although the odds favored Dewey by no means certain yet. Taft and Dewey were in stout water and heading for the rocks unless some outside force gave their candidacies a boost.

The question no longer was whether Taft or Dewey would get the nomination, but whether they could resist the differences long enough to get together to stop Stassen.

Successor "Does he belong to any underground organizations?" asked the "investigator."

"Yes, one!" The investigator leaned forward eagerly. "The National Scientific Society."

Epifanio Quirina, vice-president of the Republic of the Philippines, succeeded to the presidency upon the death of President Manuel Roxas. He died in a Clark field hospital, only a short time after uttering a pledge of "independence and absolute freedom for all Americans and Philippine peoples."

UPSWING: Inflation Latest of President Truman's recent announcements that the nation's economy is being outstripped by high prices was backed up this time by department of commerce economists.

Headliners In SCRANTON, Pa., Mrs. Marie Francis pointed out that drinking is bad for the liver, dancing is hard on the heart, singing weakens the lungs, and that she had done all three activities as the reason she has lived to be 100.

Washington Digest Is This Where We Came In? War Duration Thinks Not

By BAUKHAGE News Analyst and Commentator

"Just now Washington isn't as warlike as it sounds. The emphasis is on defense, not offense. However, there are conflicting views on what we ought to do."

That sentence just about reflects sentiment here as I write these lines—a sentiment that has changed rapidly in the last few weeks, days, hours and may change still more before these lines are printed.

That sentence also reflected the sentiment in Washington eight years ago. I found it among my clippings of the 1940's which appeared early in October of 1940.

"According to many letters I get" (I wrote) "what a lot of people want to know is why we need a citizen army program."

A lot of people are asking that question again today. The answer which I reported to you in this column is that the answer was this: "Speed is what counts in an army today. We aren't calling out these boys to fight anyone."

"The Lesson's Over, No-Time For Recess" Today we have more to say. We have learned a great deal since December 7, 1941. We have learned that the old plan of "wait and see" is no longer valid.

Apron Potholders

A BIC, competent-looking and very tailored apron which can take hard wear in the kitchen can be made of striped, checked or flowered cotton and trimmed with two rows of bright blue binding.

It can be made of the same or contrasting material. Plain blue denim makes an interesting mix if it is trimmed with a lush red appliqued square berry as illustrated.

To obtain pattern for both apron and potholders and address for the Editor, write to: Editor, The Pattern People, Dept. B, 1000 N. Dearborn St., Chicago 10, Ill. Enclose 20 cents for pattern.

Due to an unusually large demand of aprons, we have had to close our office in Illinois since a few days of the month's pattern. Send your order to:

Charming Toddler's Clothing Can Be Made From Cast-Offs

By Erta Haley

"Do you really think that adult's old clothing can be made over into really becoming things for youngsters? There's something so pathetic about seeing a little girl in something that so obviously was her mother's," said a woman to me one day.

Of course, there are makers and mackovers. If a woman simply cuts down her dress for daughter or son's trousers for son and leaves grown-up lines and features in them, she has not done the kind of remodeling job that I talk about.

Now the process of ripping a garment apart, adding new material that properly contrasts with the remnant you have, and using a pattern typical of the child's fashion, may seem like a lot of work, but truly, that is the only way clothing can be made. You can't reuse heavy padding at the same necklines for children's clothes. You're left before you start.

However, if you have usable material and are willing to treat it to a pattern, styled for the youngster, and sew on it as though you bought fresh yard goods, then savings and satisfaction are yours.

This is not all, altering a few things in a dress for you; it actually is sewing a new garment.

It seems wrong to many women simply to let outfits for their children lie in a trunk or closet; how much more satisfaction to clear out remnants and sew something both attractive and fitting.

How To Use Hand-Made-Dresses
Do you want to make some dresses for a little girl? Check the following sources for material in your own home: Old, out-moded or torn dresses; some suitable material; brick brace and keep them excessively simple. Denim usually gets pretty hard wear if Dad or older brother has used it, so if you're making overalls or pants from that material it's a good idea to buy it new.

You can, however, use old white shirts or blouses for aprons or pinafores. Use a pattern and don't attempt to cut down to size using the old shirt.

Woolens can be used for making pants provided you refreshen the material, clean and rip it open, then use a pattern suitable to the child's size.

Children for Toddlers
Should be Sturdy
Although you may sew a very fine seam by hand, it's a good idea to plan to use a sewing machine when you make things for youngsters. Their clothing takes heavy wear and tear as well as frequent laundering, and machine stitching is the only means by which the clothing can be made to stand up.

When making boys' clothing, use flat seams as this will enable you to give it a more tailored look. It's a good idea to stitch pockets twice on clothes that will receive the really hard wear and laundering, such as denim overalls.

Decorative patches are used for overalls on both boys' and girls' clothing, particularly at the knees. Select something really decorative, such as a bunny, dog or kitten face, and you'll find the knees will not wear out so quickly.

Don't make clothing too large because children's growing discourages you. They won't be comfortable, but they can have a big herny on their dresses and let out cuffs for the joints and overalls.

The older the child and the more strenuous his activity, the sturdier the fabric selected for him or her should be. If you have a boy who engages in sports, he plays out doors, or does a great deal of climbing, durable materials for his clothing.

Those short overalls for the beach can be made from plain white fabric made from some of your old check or house dresses as they require only about a yard and a quarter to one-half of material.

Knit Sharkskin

Fabric news is being made right now with this latest knit sharkskin moded into a soft, feminine classic type dress. The new fabric made of Avicore rayon yarns combines the appearance of crisp sharkskin with the draping qualities of rayon jersey. It will not stretch lengthwise or crosswise. Notice how well the contrasting waistline lines are handled.

When Humphrey Bogart was training with aviators in the Colorado desert for "Sahara," he encountered John Derek. Now Derek, with no previous film experience, is to be seen in Columbia's "Knock on Any Door" in an important role as the sullen young killer. Bogart has the star role of the lawyer who defends him.

THE "Theatre Guild" on the air has not attained its reputation as one of the best radio shows by accident. Homer Schickel, director, rehearses the cast of each broadcast as carefully as if for the stage.

With Arizona, New Mexico and Nevada contemplating an independent statehood, which would tax royalties, California also town which will be used for his Columbia production, and tested to other companies.

Gene Kelly will do two of his songs and six numbers from "Pal Joey," the stage musical that made him famous, in "Words and Music" featuring the talents of Richard Rodgers and Lorenz Hart, who wrote "Pal Joey."

A special network is being established in Philadelphia by Mutual for its coverage of the Republican and Democratic conventions in June and July. Forty-five commentators and newscasters will broadcast from convention hall during these weeks, and the entire city will be linked to one of the special broadcast units for complete coverage.

In his first screen role, Larry Parks got second billing to a cameo. It was in a Biblical story, "I Didn't Mind Getting Only $3 a Day," said he, between scenes for "The Galena Blade." "Until I found the canal, got $50."

Odds and Evens... William Wallace, "The Winning Edge" achieved a golfer's dream by making a hole in one—now wonders what he did for his conqueror.

Be Smart!
A variable density fabric is made from a synthetic material, almost invisible in its texture. It is made in plain, plaid and check, mostly white. No wonder then, that it is so popular. It is one of the big fabrics. It's being used for some of the most exquisite nightgowns and matching negligees.

Canning Rules Insist
On Perfect Ripeness,
Freshness of Produce

There never was a canning rule devised that the one about putting up your fruit and vegetables at their peak of freshness and while they are perfectly ripened. If you have your own garden of strawberries, peas and asparagus, you can check them every day and find when perfection has been reached.

Then think the produce into your kitchen where jars and canning equipment wait in readiness. Following directions, you may be certain you have caught the produce at its best, thus assuring perfect eating enjoyment later.

The early canning we want to get out of the way includes strawberries, rhubarb, peas and asparagus, particularly. It may seem easy, but right now is the time when the delicacies are coming to their best form, so make the most of them.

*Strawberry Jam (Makes about 5 six-ounce glasses)
2 1/2 cups prepared fruit
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup bottled fruit pectin

Wash, stem and crush strawberries. Wash and slice rhubarb, add to fruit. Cook for 10 minutes, then add sugar and pectin. Boil until thickened or firm in 200 degrees. Skim and cool five minutes to prevent foaming. Pour into clean hot jelly glasses. Cover with melted paraffin.

Raspberry Jelly (5 or 6 glasses)
2 cups raspberry jelly
1/2 cup extra-sweet corn syrup
1/2 cup liquid pectin
1 tablespoon lemon juice

To prepare jelly: Sort and wash slightly underripe raspberries, drain. Crush berries. Strain 10 minutes. Strain through jelly bag. Measure jelly and mix with corn syrup, sugar and lemon juice. Boil until mixture reaches 221 degrees or mixture threads from a spoon. Add lemon juice. Remove from heat. Stir. Pour into clean hot jelly glasses. Cover with melted paraffin.

Strawberry Sunshine Preserves
3 quart strawberries
3 cups sugar

Wash and hull berries. Leave whole. Add sugar and stir just enough to mix. Heat in a flat pan over a low flame, stirring occasionally to prevent sticking. When the boiling point has been reached remove from heat and pour into flat pans. Cook for 10 minutes. Add sugar and let stand in the sunshine about two days, or until the syrup is thick. Seal in clean jars.

LYNN SAYS:
Before you fold your omelet, spread it with a mixture of creamed cornmeal. Serve with tomato soup or a fruit cup to make an easy meal.

Round almonds go well in creamed chicken soup. Make it thick, smooth and creamy.

LYNN CHAMBERS' MENU

Broiled Trout
Mashed Potatoes
Fresh Peas
Tossed Salad
Hot Blueberry Jam
Beverage
Pineapple Sundae
Recipe Given

Tutti Frutti Jam
4 cups strawberries or raspberries
2 cups raspberries
2 cups currants
2 cups dried rhubarb or plited cherries
1/2 cup sugar (3/4 as much as fruit pulp)

Mash fruits and heat gently until juicy and well mixed. Measure and mix in 1/2 cup sugar as much as fruit. Cook rapidly and stir the mixture until thickened, about 20 minutes. Four into clean, hot jars and seal.

Remove scales from stalk. Wash thoroughly to remove all soil. Cut in jar lengths. In the bundles, place fresh up in boiling water to cover. Lower lower portions. Cover vessel tightly. Pre-cook three minutes. Drain, pack into clean pint jars, tips up. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt to each jar if desired. Fill jar to within 1/2 inch of top with water in which vegetable was pre-cooked or boiling water. Put on cap, screwing the band tight. Process 40 minutes at 10 pounds in pressure cooker.

Use only young tender, freshly gathered peas. Shell, wash and according to size. Pre-cook three to seven minutes, depending on the age and size of the peas. Pack loosely to within one inch of top into clean jars. Fill to within 1/2 inch of top with water in which vegetable was pre-cooked or boiling water. Put on cap, screwing the band tight. Process 40 minutes at 10 pounds in pressure cooker.

Wash and cut rhubarb into one-inch lengths without removing leaf ends. In boiling water, add one cup sugar to each quart of rhubarb. Cover dish and bake until Perfect jellies and jams are possible when you use the carefully tested recipes in this column.

Rhubarb is tender. Place rhubarb and syrup which has formed, into clean jars and adjust 1/2 inch of the top. Put on cap and adjust according to manufacturer's instructions. Process in water bath five minutes.

Strawberries (Will Not Frost)
1 cup sugar
1 pound strawberries
1/2 cup strawberry juice

Boil together the sugar and strawberry juice. This juice may be obtained by crushing and heating some of the cups or overripe berries. Cool and add the whole berries, then boil for three minutes. Cover, vented, then set aside for four hours or overnight. Pack into clean jars with within one-half inch of the top. Adjust. Process in water bath for 15 minutes.

A Refreshing Thirst Quencher
A refreshing fruit drink always is welcome as the warm days of spring and summer approach. Try the following for the evening's refreshment: For four glasses, combine 1/2 cup cranberry juice, one cup lemon or lime juice, one-half cup chilled or shredded fresh pineapple. Chill thoroughly. Pour into glasses with crushed ice or ice cubes, fill with gingerale.

Before you fold your omelet, spread it with a mixture of creamed cornmeal. Serve with tomato soup or a fruit cup to make an easy meal.

Mix tuna and crabmeat, then mix with celery, green pepper and hard-cooked eggs. Add cream sauce and bake in tomato sauce. This is an appetizing meal on a busy day.

Using up hard-cooked eggs? Chop and mix with crumbled bacon, molasses with mayonnaise and onion with Worcestershire sauce. A good snack on salted rye bread.

FIRST AID TO THE AILING HOUSE

By Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: We are using quite a bit of plywood in our home, and want to keep it natural—also all the woodwork. What is the best to use on it to keep it a light color? Also, what can I use to fill the nail-holes so they won't show.

ANSWER: All plywood, except the plywood that is given a thin coat of white shellac finished half-and-half with denatured alcohol. Then two thin, even coats of paste wax are applied and, when each coat is dry, it should be well rubbed. Another method is to finish with a penetrating wax of two coats of top-quality, quick drying varnish. If by drywood is used, it should be given a priming coat of a special kind of preparation which fills the grain of this particular kind of wood for a smooth finish. After the prime coat is dry, the wood can be finished with wax, varnish, shellac, paint or enamel. Nail holes can be filled with wood putty colored with an oil stain to match the wood.

QUESTION: Kindly advise me what I can do to smooth a concrete basement floor? It is rough, scabby and pitted.

ANSWER:—For a fine job, you can use a terrazzo flooring contractor grind the floor down and use his terrazzo grinding machine. If the floor were very thin and grinding would suggest having broken up, and a new floor poured on top. If the floor is not leaking or cracking, I believe you could simply apply a floor leveling compound, smoothing it on with a trowel.

QUESTION: I have bought an old house that had wooden gutters and metal things. The things have rusted through from lack of paint. Could I paint over the metal things some of the red-type waterproof paint?

ANSWER: If the metal has rusted through, I believe it would serve no purpose to retain it. If you can remove it without too much trouble, you could paint the wood gutters on the inside with liquid asphalt paint, and the outside with a good house paint. If there are spaces at the joints, cover them with roofing cement and roofing felt, then paint over the felt with asphalt paint.

The "Stop-at-Nothing" Vehicle the Whole Country Needed— 4-WHEEL-DRIVE UNIVERSAL Jeep

THE UNIVERSAL "JEEP" is the kind of vehicle this country has needed for forty years. It is a tough, rugged vehicle that can always be depended on to take men and supplies where they are needed.

With selective 2- and 4-wheel drive, the Universal "Jeep" gives speed on hard roads and ability to get over bad roads or travel cross-country. With all four wheels pulling, you go through mud, sand and snow that stops ordinary vehicles. The "Jeep" will climb a 60-per-cent grade and maneuver its way through dense growth.

For every kind of work-on or off the road, in any weather—the Universal "Jeep" measures up to every need. We invite you to drive the "Jeep" fifty miles and see for yourself.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To wash or not to wash that is the question. If you have a few tips: (1) The smoother and flatter the more likely it is to wash...

For extra plain, juicy, raisin rice there is no better before water. When using raisins in baking...

Keep both bulls and plows free from that even a light coating of oil or grease...

As a few drops of glycerin to the hair will make it shine and give it a soft, downy texture...

For tender, juicy scrambled eggs, use water instead of milk and add a teaspoon of lemon juice...

No folding, or use drained from spaghetti can be used in place of starch.

To Become National Shrine

For a long time the home where Patrick Henry lived and died has been a forgotten spot...

The Henry Home—Red Hill, in Charlotte county, Virginia—was founded in 1819...

This great patriot won his first fame by demanding for colonial Virginians the rights of Englishmen...

By 1775 war was imminent. On March 23 Patrick Henry offered a resolution to organize the Virginia militia...

Although a slaveholder, Patrick Henry considered slaveholding an economic curse as well as a social evil...

STATION IDENTIFICATION

By JOHN H. HOSE

"PLEASE take a seat along the meridian, sir. The next four...

"Only two," he murmured, of the week for which Bob had saved all year...

"Bob was 25, tall, blond and tagged as the rugged type by the home-town boys...

"That it sure was worth it," thought Bob, as he joined the group...

"Please step forward to the elevator, folks. I am Helen Barry. We're happy to welcome you...

"When we wish to reproduce telephone calls, we use the filter microphone...

"The voice dropped on end-on, but Bob had lost interest in radio...

"When Anne left Vandalla, she was such a practical little woman...

"The others dutifully chimed in. 'Miss Miller, Algonquin, Ill.' 'Mr. Johnson, Mascoutah, Ill.'...

"Partly because she came from nearby Vandalla, but more because of Anne Strong, Vandalla, Ill."

"When Anne left Vandalla, she was such a practical little woman...

"That confuses our tour of Radio City. I hope you have enjoyed your view behind the scenes in radio...

"Turning to Anne he asked: 'Since I'll probably never see you again, how about celebrating my last day in New York with you? I can be your farewell salute to Illinois.'"

"Anne said, 'O.K. Bob, what's on the schedule?'"

"Somewhat sheepishly, Bob told her his plans, and they set out together. They visited the art museum, lunched at the open-air restaurant in Central park...

"Anne said, 'I've been living in two rooms over the garage when I work. I have five rooms there, but I use only two of them.'"

"I just wondered," said Anne. "I thought I might like to send you a postcard some time. It's been a long time today, Bob. You're the first person in New York with whom I've felt friendly. And you had to come all the way from Illinois. We passed it on the way. It's not a bad place. There are five rooms there, but I use only two of them."

"I hope you have a nice trip home," she continued as she extended her hand to him in a firm, well-greased, "Thanks for a very nice day."

"God help me sing the song, I pray, God help me sing the song to you, Clear-eyed to see The crowd, upward-winding way, For full I cannot see I have, He's fair in me."

"Oh, you bet!" replied Bob. "I'm going back tomorrow—"

Each seemed to be deeply engrossed in his own thoughts.

"Now we shall televise some of you," the guide announced, and you can observe how you might appear on a television broadcast."

"Would you like to be first, Miss," she asked, indicating Anne.

"Oh... I guess so," replied Anne, stepping forward.

As he watched her enter the enclosure under the glare of the lights for the television view, Bob again was aware of the undertones of feeling created by Anne's vibrant personality. He couldn't help but note

Euro Looks A Revival Lesson for May 9, 1948

Lancing for a moment at the history, we see that in 536 B.C. 50,000 Jews were returned to Jerusalem...

HAPPY TIMES WITH THE BIBLE "OH, you bet!" replied Bob. "I'm going back tomorrow—"

There was great need for a revival of religion, and Ezra knew that there had to be no rest until the people came back to God.

What would you think of the people being summoned into some public place today to hear the Bible read? But you say, we hear it read in church, and we sometimes hear it read in the home.

HEARING AND DOING GOD'S WORD "ZRA not only read God's word to the people, but he led them to do what they were commanded in the law. They went out to give portions to those who were in need.
