HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To keep straw hats clean, slick occasionally with a clean cloth or brush lightly with a clothes brush. This prevents dust from accumulating in the weave crevices.

Be sure to skim all the fat from the drippings of a lamb or mutton roast before you make the gravy. Then you'll have the flavor of meat without the strong fat flavor.

Drop cookies may often be flattened with the tines of a fork; just press fork in two directions, making a crisscross pattern.

Ash trays should be emptied and washed each night before closing up the house. This prevents a stale, musty odor the following day.

Garded yarns mean the cotton has gone through one process to straighten out the fibers before they are made into yarn. Combed yarn has gone through two. This means more long fibers, and a smoother and more durable yarn.

Since frankfurters are cooked when manufactured they need only be heated; cover them with boiling water and simmer (do not boil) for about 5 to 10 minutes until they are thoroughly hot.

Butter needs protection from air, from light and from evaporation of its moisture in order to keep its fresh taste and texture. The paraffined carton does a fine job of performing these duties.

Origin of Mascara

Woman's oldest manufactured beauty aid, according to a Hollywood make-up man, is mascara. This material is known to have been compounded by the Egyptians as far back as 4,000 B. C. Inspection of feminine portraits of that time, as presented by wall paintings in modernly unearthed tombs, leads one to suspect that the glimmer goals of ancient Egypt were highly comparable with those of today.

Many of them were inclined to apply their mascara more heavily than is artistically advisable.

DEATHS

SARGENT
Mr. Walter Sargent, died October 4th in the Darrell Hospital, Danville, at the age of 79 years. He was a citizen of Brodhead, a very fine old gentleman and will be missed by his many friends in that community.

He was united in marriage to Miss Mollie Adams, and to this union was born one son, Everett, of Reading, Ohio.

Besides his wife and son, he is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Loreta Adam of Corbin, Christian Church.

Short services were conducted at the grave by Brother L. E. Harris, pastor of Brodhead Christian Church. Interments in the Saylor Cemetery near Hiatt.

He was a son of Mrs. Lola Remers Campbell, formerly of Brodhead.

He was born 1918 at St. Louis, Mo., killed in action at Dutch Harbor, Alaska, September 24, 1942.

Franklin was an extremely fine young man, kind and courteous to all and his charming personality made for him a host of enemies who tried to know that he was listed among the many brave youths who gave up their lives for their country.

Besides his mother, Mrs. Campbell, of Lakeview, Fla., he is survived by his father, Thos. Remers, of Ilion, N. Y., and one brother, Fred, of Remers, New York, N. Y., and other relatives and friends. To whom we extend our sympathy.

TO THE VOTERS OF EDUCATIONAL DIVISION NO. 2

To the Voters of Educational Division No. 2, I am asking to be named for member of the Board of Education and I have the best encouragement.

Four years ago you gave me a handsome majority for which I thank you very much. A majority of the board raised my last year from 75c to $1.25 on the $100.00 worth of taxable property. They also raised the salary of my superintendent and my officer. I never voted for either one. One member of the board was disqualified by the Court and I was appointed to fill that position that suggested a raise in salaries. His wife is a candidate for member of the board in Educational Division No. 2.

There are three members to be elected this time and if I understand it right they can elect a superintendent and the "Teachers Tenure Act" for life or until he retires at the age of 70 years. I am opposed to it.

I am asking the voters of Rockcastle County to study this matter well before you vote. The same man, Boone Saylor, who fought me in my race four years ago is doing the same thing now. He wants to get his man in for superintendent so he may serve until he retires at the age of 70. Mr. Saylor knows he cannot use me as a tool. I understand that he carried my name and he is trying to get the voters to sign so he could get his name on the ballot. I vote for Mr. Harris as an indirect vote for Boone Saylor.

I understand from good authority that Boone is boasting of the money he is going to spend against me. He told me after I was elected four years ago that he didn't spend any money against me but he spent on the other side of the account in educational division No. 4 and 5.

It is reported that if any of the voters voted for me and it was found out they voted, they would have trouble getting a school next year. I am asking the voters to vote the dictates of your conscience, do not fear. Rely on the honesty of your superintendent, she is not a placid teacher school. I want to say to you voters again, it is to the interest of members of the school board that is qualified and will not be dominated by a man that lives

WESTERN ALLIES PLACE BERLIN ISSUE BEFORE U. N. AS NEGOTIATIONS FAIL; TWO UNIONS BARRED FROM A-PLANTS

By Bill Schoengett, WNJU Staff Writer

BLACK FURY: Of their time to consideration of international development.

Peace Threat: There was no war in sight, yet the East-West situation was steadily changing.

Practically no optimism existed among U. N. delegations in Paris. There was no reason for any.

The United States, Britain and France had broken off negotiations with Russia over blockaded Berlin.

No hint of appeasement appeared in the western nations' attitude. They said they would reserve to themselves the full right to take whatever measures were necessary.

When the western nations discovered the disillusioning fact that Russia was literally trying to pull a fast one in order to gain control of Berlin, further direct negotiations were patently useless.

MOTIVES: Russian: Washington believes the crisis centering in Berlin will continue at fever pitch at least until next spring.

It is a bad outlook, of course, from the U. S. viewpoint. But for the Russians the coming six months loom as a golden opportunity to expand their power in Europe and throughout the world.

THEY WILL be able to do this, they believe, because American efforts and sentiment will be divided and weakened by the election campaign.

Official Soviet attitude is that American leaders will be so immersed in domestic affairs that they will be able to give only a fraction of their full attention.

Futility Unlimited: There are the three western ambassadors to Russia who are engaged in six weeks of rigorous but unavailing diplomatic fencing with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

NO ATOMS: Two Unions: Mortally afraid of skulduggery at the atomic crossroads, the government has taken to bar unions whose officers refuse to take the non-Communist oath from its atom bomb plants.

SPECIFICALLY, the atomic energy commission issued an order telling two CIO unions to keep out of atomic installations.

The action came on the heels of Congressional charges that a network of Soviet spy rings thrived during the war to dig up atomic secrets for Moscow.

ACTUALLY, UNION activity in all atomic plants, with the exception of the one at Oak Ridge, has been curtailed sharply since the atomic bomb project was launched.

Russia, the only nation that has not closed its lend-lease account with the U. S., has been asked to pay up pronto.

News of the action was kept secret for two weeks for fear of upsetting the delicate Berlin discussions.

Rose Bushed

Dollar-an-hour Man: When and if Harry Truman leaves the White House, he will have a first pay-up until 1948-just about $4,000 a year out of the total $75,000 annual salary which the people of the United States pay their president for the year 1948.

The President sat down with paper and pencil the other day and figured that his job as president paid him only $1 an hour—until the GOP tax cut. He estimated that, getting up early in the morning as he always does, he would average 4,200 hours a year on the job.

WHIZ: Rocket Plane: It wasn't the sort of subject that Stuart Symington cared to be very specific about, but the air secretary did hint in an Air Force association report that the U. S. rocket-powered research plane might have blasted through the air at a speed of from 800 to 1,900 miles an hour.

Not many people know, for instance, that Truman has been in bed and not up and about for a couple of days. His favorites are Shelley and Keats, but he can also recite at length from "Alice in Wonderland."

Historian Truman: Truman's secret ambition is to write the history of his own administration. He does not like to wait until this term is finished.

Exports: Predictions by the department of agriculture that U. S. grain exports for the first 90 days of the current year will be the best ever.

Merry-go-Round: George Allen, ex-White House secretary, is reported pulling backstage wires to block the sale of the government's Cleveland blast furnace to Henry Kaiser.

Under the Dome: Down-to-earth Army Chief of Staff Omar Bradley isn't the kind who will pull his rank—even on an enlisted man.

Left a Note: A United States expedition to the Arctic last summer found documents left there in 1905 by Rear Adm. Robert Peary.

Bill Collector: Russia, the only nation that has not closed its lend-lease account with the U. S., has been asked to pay up pronto.

Washington Digest Will Stratovision Arrive? They're Working on It Now

By BAUKHAGE, News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—"Is television here to stay?" That has been the favorite crack in AM (regular broadcasting) circles for some time. Now it's been displaced by another:

"Does stratovision arrive?" If it doesn't, say the enthusiastic stratospheric promoters, millions of people in rural areas will be unable to receive television programs for years, if ever.

What is "it"? The stratovision system simply puts the antennae and television receiver into a special cable-mounted airplane flying in lazy circles above the earth.

Since television waves travel in a straight line and not in long, leaping loops like long-wave radio, their range is limited.

What about storms? Well, the stratospheric rays are not much affected by them, and anyhow, they can use more than one receiver, so they can shift the point of transmission of a program from one to the other and thus dodge the storm.

I haven't seen any of the recent tests so I don't know. Naturally the broadcast is through an antenna (old-fashioned in television sets, but new in stratovision), although the antenna (microwave relay) is at 50 miles.

What are the test results so far? Well, the test sets were not ideal in any sense, and it was admitted that conditions on the ground were not ideal in any sense, and it was claimed that there was interference from other stations which would be eliminated.

"Be not the first by whom the new is tried. . . ." The backers of the new system, Westinghouse and Alcoa, corroborated, think differently. Their test sets were not ideal in any sense, and it was admitted that conditions on the ground were not ideal in any sense, and it was claimed that there was interference from other stations which would be eliminated.

And once you get the rural believers looking, I think what a lot of new material would be put into the telecasts to say nothing of the greatly enlarged market for telecasts and advertising which would be created.

The first stratovision experiment established the surprising fact that there were areas of television reception in areas which could not possibly be reached ordinarily (by co-axial cable or microwave). At the first in response to the test programs many letters came from such areas. Probably amateurs who had built their own sets, and perhaps erected their own antennae on some high elevation.

It would seem that the country is willing to try the Nobel experiment if it gets the chance. The Russians, after claiming that not Marconi but a Russian invented wireless telegraphy, now are saying that the electric bulb, the flashlight, the transformer and electric welding all started in Russia.

To get the most fun and enjoyment from bicycling, it is well to think of some simple things about buying one, says the Bicycle Information Bureau. One thing it might be well to know is whether you have enough money to pay for it.

Woman's World

Trends in Fashion Designed To Make You Look Prettier

By Erta Haley

IT'S easy to enumerate certain fashion trends for the season, but women are most interested in what the new clothing does for them, at least in the final analysis. All experts agree that this year's clothing makes women look prettier and more feminine.

This year's dresses have both color and warmth, accented by the deep rich tones that qualify woools, jerseys, rayon gabardines and corduroys give. There's interest, too, in plaids, in gray, copper tones, light reds and dark greens.

If you're a school and college girl, your interest will be in all this fashion-wise features as dropped shoulders, shallow caftans, fitted suits, stoles, and the convertibles which are jumper dresses with jackets that can be changed to fit the occasion.

For all women, here are some of the trends worth noting. The skirt with the slim front and back panel pattern and smooth hip lines are new this season. Among the other skirts which are fashion-worthy, there's the skirt that buttons at the front, back or either side; or the godet skirt tucked and gored which is full without being voluminous; or the straight-fronted skirt with back fullness.

Necklines are reaching higher in daytime clothes, both in dresses and coats. For evening wear, you may want to choose the ever so flattering portrait neckline, or for a formal dress, something of the strapless variety.

Side-Slanted Hats Are Emphasized

Whether you buy a budget-priced hat or an original creation by one of the top designers, here are salient

Coats are long and full...

style trends: an overwhelming emphasis on the side-slanted hat no matter what the contour; major attention to berets, cuffed or otherwise treated pillboxes, bonnet types, with manipulated details for women's hats or an original creation by one of the top designers, here are salient

As for color in hats, you'll find that cloud or off-white shades in fall rate a lot of interest. In the novelty line you'll find emphasis on such colors as royal, American copper, avocado, gray, flamingo, red, continental green and a sprinkling of tape, carter, coffee and beige.

You'll be seeing high feathers and veils as trimmings for many hats. All-over embroidery of beads or sequins are used, particularly on berets.

Generally speaking, hats are small, head-fitting with occasional casual and manipulated brims of medium-size.

Look For These Coat Silhouettes

If you're buying a fur coat this season, it may well be that one of the following silhouettes should be your choice, for they emerge as those which will probably be seen. First, there is the fitted coat which is full skirted and detailed in

Be Smart!

As dresses go, then so must footwear. The long slender toed shoes which you'll be seeing in today's footwear are designed to match the longer hemlines, and to lend to the same aristocratic and formal note that pervades the costume picture generally, according to St. Louis' own high class, curvy Louie here in the year it was thought that toed shoes might be pointed, as they were in the 19th century, but now it appears that more modern accessories such as the softly tapered toe will be the fashion.

Beret-Bonnet

This softly bloused beret-bonnet of closed white felt designed by Sally-Max has a rolled brim of forest green velvet, accented by a green quill and a green mesh face veil. This budget-priced hat may be worn well with simple black dresses.

velvet, wool. Interesting buttons or other dress-maker touches. The pelignot coat, belted in front and loose in the back, may also be one of the most important fur coat fashions of the season.

The empire style coat, worked high in the waist and to the back is the most significant coat of the season as a direct result of the new, slimmer dress fashions. This coat has narrow, sloping shoulders with fullness controlled rather than flaring out.

The demi-coat is sometimes full and other times slim and narrow, and is destined to be popular because it can be worn for several seasons. It ranges from 32 to 38 inches in length, thus affording excellent room for long, slim skirts to show off to full advantage.

The semi-wrap is the fifth silhouette in an endeavor of last year's cocoon-coat. This has the curved hemline, and is good on tall femininity types.

Thin sequined gloves, Aris Lady-Like Tapered fingers, slender wrist-lines and smooth-gloved hands predominate on the glove fashion in the wider use of catskin (glass) leather and in the delicate cut decorations with lace, ribbon and sequins.

Glove gloves will double for daytime and evening wear, the darker shades being used with suits and street wear while the light pastel colors will be popular for after-dinner costumes.

Even the classic pigskin gloves have adopted the trim and slender look, though they were primarily used with casual and sports clothes.

Smart glove colors for the season are the darker shades of brown and green as well as the new slate and charcoal gray. Other popular autumn accessories colors are black, beige, white, navy and wine.

Slender Heelings Match Heelings As dresses go, then so must footwear. The long slender toed shoes which you'll be seeing in today's footwear are designed to match the longer hemlines, and to lend to the same aristocratic and formal note that pervades the costume picture generally, according to St. Louis' own high class, curvy Louie here in the year it was thought that toed shoes might be pointed, as they were in the 19th century, but now it appears that more modern accessories such as the softly tapered toe will be the fashion.

Heels are as graceful as the joes, thus drawing on the high, curvy Louie here for inspiration. You'll find that heels are thinner and fragile, and it looks as though the ultra-slender french heel will be leading the fashion parade.

Stage Screen Radio

BY INEZ GEBHARD
AFTER months of preparation and several postponements, Columbia Broadcasting will present "The Hollywood Story" on October 27. One of their expertly done documentaries, running from 10:00 to 11:00 p. m. EST, it will examine the way in which a picture is put together. The Best Years of Our Lives will be used as an example, sound track and all. Paul Stewart, a member of Samuel Goldwyn's staff, has the main role, and Myron McCormick will act as narrator.

Leo McCarey, producer-director of RKO's "Good Sam," predicts that the near future will find more children on the screen, in better roles, because we are entering on a new era wholesomeness, Americanism and family life.

Howard Hawks' "Red River," (United Artists) takes a page out of the western history, based on it on the first cattle drive over the Chisholm trail, from Texas to Kansas. It has all the requirements of a super-western—fight with Indians, a cattle stampede and not much love story. John Wayne heads the program's contest to help the U. S. Navy. Seventeen are gorgeous creations; the 18th is a baggy dress obtained from the California state prison for women.

Montgomery Clift

Girls from 13 to 17 may enter the "Teenagers Club" radio program's contest to help the U. S. Navy. Seventeen are gorgeous creations; the 18th is a baggy dress obtained from the California state prison for women.

Patricia Knight has 18 changes of costume in "The Lovers," her first co-starring film with her husband, Cornel Wilde. Seventeen are gorgeous creations; the 18th is a baggy dress obtained from the California state prison for women.

Alexis Smith, boarding a Hollywood-bound plane to leave Fentimore C. C. after presenting her own St. Louis' annual peach festival, stumbled and fell flat on her pretty face. Hundreds of people who had come to see her off from the airport. But her groans changed to laughter when she stood up, smiled and said, "Always leave 'em laughing, that's me!"

When Guy Hoakinson won an extra role in RKO's "Rachel and the Stranger," part of his costume was a cowboy cap which he wore home the first night. His young son exclaimed "That's just like one Randolph Scott were in a movie." It was he who was thrilled when his father took the cap off and examined the leather lining for in ink was written "R. Scott."

CBS's master of ceremonies Bill Cullen works so hard he hardly has time to sleep, with what appears as quaintness in "Winner Take All." "Hi the Jackpot," and doing numerous other chores on the air. But he finds time for his hobbies—auto racing, motor-cycling, and creating and cooking odd dishes.

ODDS AND ENDS—Lawrence Tibbitt Jr., star of the famous singer, will be seen debut at a singing salon at "El Paso." Dan Clark's "The Professionals" had their service station alterations found it had been caused by a large gold pin which still remains in his hair.

Blowing at Solano Beach, Zachary Scott got coverage enough to beat with his "The Professionals" had their service station alterations found it had been caused by a large gold pin which still remains in his hair.

BETTER SIGHT STUDY LAMP

Especially designed to provide more and better light for home study

$6.95

WHY THIS LAMP GIVES BETTER LIGHT

Shade (1) is deep enough to shield eyes from light source.
White shade lining (2) reflects more downward light. Diffusing bowl (3) sifts out glare. Wide angle shade plus extra tall standard (4) spreads light over broad area. Three-lite bulb with 3-way switch permits lower lighting levels when not in use for home study.

Back again for the first time since pre-war, this Better Sight Study Lamp combines eye-easy light with outstanding beauty of design. Solidly cast of heavy metal and finished in gleaming bronze, it is also available with decorative drum-type shade for living room use. Get one for the living room and one for the children's study table. You can afford both at this low special price.
