MUCH as we appreciate the auto- mobile, and all the many opportunities it affords, it can be the instrument that is killing the goose that has provided rural America with its golden eggs.
In the horse and buggy days it was the need of market places that created and maintained our rural centers, our villages, towns and small cities. It was the patronage of the people of their home town stores that made these villages, towns and small cities possible as social and cultural centers and sustained property values. In those days it was not convenient to go elsewhere to do the family purchasing.
THE AUTOMOBILE has changed all of that. Today the tendency of the people is to buy almost everything except food in the larger centers, where such centers be- come miles or many miles distant. With a car in every family, with hard surfaced roads on which it can roll, it is all too easy to travel to the larger metropolitan centers to do the family buying, especially for such things as clothing, home furnishings and other items of considerable value.
Automobiles without good roads would not attract much business away from the home town stores. It is the peo- ple, including the merchants, who provide the hard surfaced high- ways through the taxes they pay. They are largely responsible for the decline of the sales in the home town stores.
TWO PLACES, both of them small cities, can serve as illustrations. One is located but 35 miles outside of one of the nation's largest cities. Not only one but several hard surfaced highways lead from that small city into the metropolitan centers. Now these roads are being supplemented by a speedway that will enable the motorist to cover the distance between the town and the large city in not more than 40 minutes.
The people of that home town, including the merchants, are paying a considerable portion of the cost of that speedway which is destined to take more of the commodity pur- chasing dollars of home town citi- zens into the near by city.
Even before that speedway is completed and open for traffic, 30 per cent and more of the dol- lars the people of that home town community paid for their mod- esties, other than food, has been going to the merchants of the metropolitan center.
LANTIER, small city, with which I am somewhat familiar, is located about 400 miles from the nearest metropolitan center, with which it is connected by an excellent hard surfaced highway, paid for in part by the people, including the mer- chants, of that small city. In in- stance automobiles, operating on good roads, are carrying as much as 20 per cent of the com- modity purchasing dollars of the peo- ple of that community into the stores of the big city, 400 miles away.
ONE POSSIBILITY of saving these rural market places lies in the merchants, as a group, meeting the competition of the large city mer- chants by offering the variety, the quantity and the quality of mer- chandise that attracts the people of the home community into the cities.
It can be done with no one, two or three merchants carry- ing the load. Together the mer- chant can stock agreed lines of merchandise such as is found in the department stores of the large cities. Collectively the hometown stores can constitute a large department store of dif- ferent units, under different management, with and with- out under one roof, all in convenient proximity.
TO MAKE such an idea work calls for close co-operation between the merchants of the home town. There can be no "dog-in-the-man-ger" attitude. With each one wishes something not carried one store but to be found in another, she would be told where she can acquire the desired article. Some of the home community people to con- sider the home stores as constitu- ting but one big department store, carrying a full and complete line.
If enacted into law the Hoover committee recommendations would save more than three billion dollars each year. In 84 years that would pay off the national debt.
To put our currency on a gold ba- sis at about $40 an ounce for gold, would stabilize present prices and wages and stop the inflation. Presum- ably we have the gold buried at Fort Knox.
Time to economize. The federal government costs $100,000,000 each day.

March Of Dimes Off To A Flying Start

The 1949 March of Dimes got off to a flying start yesterday. Mrs. Clyde Linville Director of the Rockcastle County Campaign.

This is the most important campaign in the history of the Kentucky Chapter. Infants born with spina-bifida are again in 1949 striking more than 27,000 boys and girls, men and women. Kentucky had 206 new cases, the largest number since 1944, said Mrs. Linville. Rockcastle County's goal is $10,000.00 and everyone contributes his share we will go over the top. And it is important that we reach our goal so that Kentucky Chapter can continue the fight against polio wherever and whenever it strikes," said Director Linville.

The 1949 March of Dimes Campaign opened January 14 and runs through January 31. Do not wait for someone to call for your contribution—send or bring it to the committee and receive it as large as possible. When polio strikes it may be your child or your neighbor's that would need assistance. Join the March of Dimes and help some child "wee again," added Mrs. Linville.

Robbins Is First To Announce

The first candidate to announce for the August primary election, this year, F. F. Robbins of Brodhead who seeks the office of Magistrate in the 3rd District. His announcement follows:

To the voters of the 3rd Magisterial District, subject to the Rules of the State at the August Primary, 1949.

I would appreciate very much serving the people once more as heretofore the county had very little road money to operate with. You know what conditions exist here in this county. I have been over every road and have worked on almost every one of them without pay.

Now the county and state will have over $90,000 per year to spend on Rockcastle road needs.

So, Mr. and Mrs. Voter don't you think we ought to have someone with experience in road matters in handling our financial part.

You know that I am very married to my wife and children as it helps our schools and helps to get your boys and girls to high school. It also helps the churches and lessens law violation.

The reason for this early announcement is that a few good citizens have asked me to make the race for county judge, and I wish to thank them for their confidence in me. I will make the race for Magistrate on my past record and will deeply appreciate your vote and influence.

WEST MAIN HOLINESS CHURCH

By G. W. (Bro.) Murphy

God has so wonderfully blessed our church, I feel it necessary to make this report, and tell the people through the Signal about it. In Mark's Gospel 16: 15-17, just before our dear Lord ascended back into heaven He says Jesus said, "That he that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned. And these signs shall follow them that believe: In my name shall they cast out devils, they shall take up serpents, and they shall drink deadly poison, they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall be healed." (Now note He did not say, "You" meaning only the apostles as some folks would try and make you believe, it was for them 12 only.) But He said THEM THAT BELIEVE. That God, which includes me too.

I will say for the past six months, these above mentioned signs have been both seen and heard right here in Mt. Vernon, at both Holiness churches, at least as many as I know of. This (IS BAPTIZED) experience, because we have heard them speak with tongues, they are speaking in tongues and I have no house or body of flesh to dwell in, therefore he only speaks with his spirit, and that will let him come out; furthermore He has His own voice to blend with our voice and to let us know that He is letting the world know He dwells within that person. I further say, only last Sunday night the 10th sister in my congregation here in Mt. Vernon, and no better wife or mother lives, witnessed the Holy Tongues. IS BAPTIZED Blessing. We have much interest at the Church, some 12 to 20 people are meeting on each Thursday and Sunday night at 6:45 p.m., if you are a believer why not come and try God out, let me ask you the question like Paul did, in Acts, 19: 2. He said unto them, have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed? (Now think just who was Paul talking to certain disciples in those words, not every kind of disciple or follower of Jesus is a real believer, but a certain kind is); I believe you will find that as many as believe in Jesus at our place of Worship as Paul did, as there was only 12 in that place. Come with us, who reads and becomes a member and get tradition starch, pride and high-minded away from you, and be ready to stand before the King who will judge the world. A word to those who do not have the IS Baptized experience, why do you not get it? The Judge says in Rev. 21: 8, as follows, "But the FEARFUL, (Fearful of what?) and the UNBELIEVING, and the UNWILLING; read the rest of the things that will knock you out of heaven, in this same verse.

There is a new book in this article is published at my own expense, should any person who reads it and becomes interested in, their souls welfare

Check Lamps, Shades to Make Sure They Match Your Rooms

By Erta Haly

WHEN YOU bought the lamps for your room, did you buy them because they were pretty and because they appealed to you, or did you select them especially to go with the style and furniture of your room?

Perhaps this sounds like a foolish question, but strange as it may seem, many lamps have been bought in this very way, like everything else in the room, the lamps must have a relation to it. They must harmonize or contrast in color, but they must have been chosen with the room in mind.

An elaborate lamp with an ornate base and ornamented satin shade is out of place in an early American room done with maple furniture. A beautiful modern lamp is just as out of place in an eighteenth century room.

Now, what about the colors on your lamp shades? Are they light? Or do they have a color that is not used anywhere else in the room? Are they easy to clean or have you noticed for some time how shabby the shades look?

Have you grown tired of the lamps? Or do you still like them just as much as when you first put them in the room?

Yes, these are some of the questions you must answer with regards to lamps in your rooms. It may be

Have lamps match room... easy enough to remedy your particular problem once you know the essential facts about lamps.

Lamps Should Meet

Rules for Unity, Design
Since current trends show that we are getting away from overhead light fixtures, it's well to know just what to look for in lamps.

Lamps are still fairly new, and for this reason it is often difficult to find good design and features that adhere to the needs for unity. One thing upon which most authorities agree is that lamps should be much larger than they are. They should also be inconspicuous because light in itself is so conspicuous.

Floor lamps are to be preferred in many instances to table lamps because they are more convenient than table types. Lamps that can be regulated as to the amount of light

These Things Are
Good Taste in Lamps
Landscapes, portraits and flowers belong in pictures on the wall, not on your lamp shades. Frilly lamp shades may be attractive, certainly they are hard to keep clean. You can't do wrong if your lamp shades are monastically simple.

If you have lamps with a lot of design on them, it's simple enough to solve the problem by using a flat paint on them. If the shade is of composition, paper or a material that takes the paint. You may even use water paints on some lamp shades.

Silk or pleated parchment shades go best on fine bases. Split reed, rough fabrics, and other textured materials should be used on bases of a sturdier type.

There are many choices for the bases of lamps. Pottery is very popular right now, but so are alabaster, plastic, metal or wood. Bases should not be made from an object or a statue. These are important enough to use alone.

About five years is the life of a shade, and many have to be discarded or "chirovated" sooner if you live in a community where it's difficult to keep out the dirt. If your frame is in good condition it's easy to cover the shade yourself with gathered chiffon, tightly stretched tulle, pleated white buckram, imitation parchment, plastic material, mica, reed, raffia, or metallic papers.

Braid or tape may be used to cover the stitches, if you use materials. Papers, etc. can be glued to the frame.

Here's a Guide to Use For Choosing Lamps
If you have fine rooms, your best choices in bases are brass, copper or silver. For study rooms, choose pewter, aluminum or tin.

Glass, pottery and wood lamp bases may look either refined or shabby depending upon their quality and make, so they may be used in either type of room.

When you choose shades, be certain that you are furnishing an ornate room such as Louis the Fourteenth. There will be enough of the drape in the room so that the lamps will be a relief.

Indirect floor lamps are suitable only in modern rooms. For others, select adjustable functional lamps.

Modern rooms also make great use of pottery lamps with deep or bright colors in shades that are opaque. However, some of these same lamps may also be used in rooms of knobby style, etc.

Many lamps can be made from glass jars, demijohns, urns and wood cylinders. Just be certain that the over-all effect is simple before you go to the trouble of having the object wired. Also keep the deep in keeping with the base and be certain it is of proper size and over-lapping the base.

PIES ARE ONE of the favorite foods for dessert all over the country. This is really remarkable because all pies, whether served at home or elsewhere, are not always good. They're soggy and pale and their fillings are tasteless. However, whether you're making your first, twenty-first or your hundred and first pie, there's no reason for it to be anything but the best. Measure ingredients with standard tools, follow directions for mixing carefully, and bake properly, and you will have a pie that meets the test.

Household Hints

Chopped pecans go well with the following kinds of cheese, as sandwich fillings; cream cottage, smoky, softened American cheddar.

Sprinkle baked custard with coconut and nutmeg before putting into the oven. Serve with peach sauce.

Roll leftover pie crust thin, cut in small squares, and bake in tin pans. Serve hot with a dab of jam or marmalade on each square, with tea.

Try putting down on paper everything you are planning to serve for a week and work out how to use your leftovers to the best advantage.

If you have a tomato paste or two of tomato paste left in the can, add three times as much mayonnaise as you have tomato paste, a few grains of chili powder and a few drops of tabasco and, presto, a zingy new salad dressing!

The preference of red salmon over pink salmon is based on eye appeal rather than on higher food value. Both kinds contain similar amounts of niacin and riboflavin.

A New Milk Market

Carnation Company is pleased to announce the opening of their New Milk Plant at Danville, Kentucky on Tuesday, February 1, 1949. The milk received at this modern plant will be used for the manufacture of Carnation Evaporated Milk.

We enter this territory with confidence because we have faith in the people and believe that the area around Danville has unlimited possibilities for future dairy development. We want to take this opportunity to express our appreciation for the splendid support already received from farmers and business men.

Milk routes, providing hauling service from farms, have already been planned for many roads in the area. Service to additional farms will be available as soon as these routes can be extended and new routes organized.

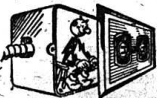

We offer a Dependable, Year Around Milk Market. Dairymen who have not made definite arrangements to ship to this new market are urged to contact our Plant or the hauler for their area immediately.

REDDY, AT YOUR FINGERTIPS!

I'll work for you the whole day through
Toast your toast; cook, roast, or stew
Wash your clothes; and press them, too.
I'll beat, I'll clean; make ice for you.
I'll help in factories, stores and schools
And help the youngsters learn the rules
For farmers I've got lots of tricks
Like milking cows or hatching chicks.
And, Boss, I bet you're glad to know
I work long hours for wages low
So call me early; keep me late
In my REDDYBOX home I'll always wait.
