FIRST AID to the AILING HOUSE
By Roger C. Whitman

Question: My new plastic tablecloth has made the ends of the breakfast table sticky. How can this be removed from a varnished birch finish and not ruin the finish?

Answer: Try wiping the sticky places very lightly with benzine, being careful not to press hard on the finish. Be careful of fire, and close the door leading to the kitchen. If the table is in the kitchen, do not work there. If the benzine dulls the finish, apply a thin coat of paste wax, let it dry and then polish with a soft cloth.

Question: Can anything be done to stop the radio interference caused by our oil furnace? Some say to ground the furnace. Our furnace is on the main floor as we have no basement.

Answer: Radio interference from oil burners, motors and other electrical equipment can be eliminated, but this calls for the service of an expert electrician or radio serviceman. The manufacturer of your oil burner might be able to take care of the nuisance.

Conceivably, a man could build a house and have his bedroom in New Mexico, his bathroom in Arizona, his kitchen in Colorado, and his living room in Utah.

The only drawback to such a plan is the fact that this would be site - the common meeting point of Utah, Colorado, Arizona, and New Mexico - is quite inaccessible to the ordinary traveler since it is deep in Indian territory, miles from human inhabitants, and used for winter grazing land.

Surveyed by a surveyor named E. N. Darling in 1888, the four-state boundary is at the intersection of the 37th parallel of north latitude and the 109th meridian of west longitude.

Home-Town Vet Named Police Chief At Evans

From about 250 applications including one from Scotland, the Evans City Council Tuesday night picked a local boy as its sixth police chief in eight months.

Bobby McLean, about 25, was sworn in immediately after he was selected for the job. He is a son of Councilman W. O. McLean, a war veteran, and married.

Applications poured in after the arrest of former Chief Lashar Combs on a murder charge stemming from the slaying of a restaurant owner.

Combs and his former assistant, Lewis Deaton, were convicted on manslaughter charges and given 10 years each.

The police chief badge began changing hands last August. One chief quit after several shots were fired into his automobile. Another was shot to death. The third turned in his resignation because he didn't want to get shot in the back.

Matt Jones Announces For Magistrate 5th Dist.

Matt Jones for re-election for Magistrate District No. 5 Rockcastle County, Kentucky, composed of 7 precincts as follows: Powers, Orlando, Crooked Creek, Red Hill, East Livingston, Pleasant Run, and Mullins.

I take this means to announce myself for re-election to this district. I have been elected and I want to thank the voters for selecting me as their choice 4 years ago and if I am nominated I will serve for the next 4 years. I have handled some of our citizens' money and I haven't heard of any kick from any of the citizens who put money in my hands for building work and for crushed road stone. I have heard some grumbling from people who didn't put a dime on the road.

I have worked all over the district with the county grader and have paved and have bought lumber to floor almost all the bridges and bought lumber to floor a new bridge over the river. I have helped citizens build the bridge and it washed away 2 years ago and the county has furnished concrete for the bridge. I have 5 as long as we could get cement to make them and I have bought a lot of dynamite and caps and fuses and galvane for our air compressor.

I am asking to be re-elected on my record as your Magistrate. We have put a good road program in this county and we will have about $90,000 from the state this year and can do a lot for our roads and build or reconstruct more roads.

Bloom Overworked

ONE THING that contributed to the death of much-loved Congressman Sol Bloom was overwork. And his work load was increased by the fact that many Democratic members of the House foreign affairs committee brazenly loafed on the job, leaving most of the work to Sol and the Republicans.

While the 11 Republican members of the committee usually are present, sometimes as few as three Democrats have turned up. This once caused conscientious Congressman John Kee of West Virginia to remark, "maybe what we need is a polite Republican to accompany me to attend meetings."

So far statesmanlike Congressman Charles Eaton of New York, leader of the Republicans, hasn't taken advantage of this. But he could easily turn the tables on the Democrats and put the Republicans in the position of running American foreign policy.

As a result the first act of new Democratic chairman John Rankin when he took over following Sol Bloom's death, was to warn Democratic congressmen it was time for them to quit playing hooky.

Note—Sometimes it has even been necessary to telegraph Democrat Joseph L. Pflieger of Brooklyn at his home to inform his attendance for committee votes.

Servant of Brotherhood

When Forrest Warren, now on the San Diego Journal, was a reporter on the Alchison (Kras) case, he lost his temper with the wheels of a train. Perhaps that tragedy had something to do with causing Warren to spend much of his time since that time in the sorrows of others and doing something about them.

At any rate, Warren has become a tireless worker for his fellow men. He has organized a revolving wheel-chair service in which there are more than 600 wheel chairs and many walkers for both victims. He originated the San Diego shoe fund, collecting $40,000 and more than 100,000 pairs of shoes that were repaired and given to needy children.

At Christmas time Warren conducts a Santa-helper program by which 4,000 men, women and children are cheered by their presents. He has collected money to buy books projected on the ceiling by films so that flat-on-the-back patients may rest their eyes on the ceiling above their beds.

Warren, now 71 years old, does all this in addition to his regular work on the San Diego Journal. He is a real servant of brotherhood.

Plumps for Peron

No newspaper in the U. S. A. has fought Harry Truman more vitriolically, vehemently and vigorously than the Chicago Tribune. The attacks have also centered on Truman's military aide, Gen. Harry Vaughan. Nevertheless, Tribune publisher Colonel McCormick now has a good reason in common with Harry Truman and Harry Vaughan. He is an admirer of dictator Peron in Argentina.

Col. McCormick has been traveling through Latin America spending an average of 30 hours in each of four capitals—but spent more time in Buenos Aires than in any other city. President Peron pinned a medal on his breast—the same kind of medal given to General Vaughan.

After lunching with Peron, McCormick informed the press that he and the dictator were in complete accord on western hemisphere affairs.

Other things about the Colonel's trip were interesting. One was the way American ambassadors kowtowed to McCormick, giving the impression that the publisher's views were sympathetically received in Washington. Wherever he stopped McCormick was met and escorted by the U. S. envoy, with top government officials of each country invited.

Another interesting fact was McCormick's rabid attitude toward Europe which became so violently manifest that even his own interpreter toned down his remarks.

Drooping Merchant Marine

Democratic Sen. Warren Magnuson was informed Presidential Assistant John Steelman that he will do some tough talking on the senate floor if the White House doesn't wake up to the plight of our merchant marine.

It's time we realized that the American flag is going off the seas, declared Magnuson. Our private commercial shippers have fewer vessels in service than the approximate 350-vehicle seagoing fleet of the army. Furthermore, 95 per cent of our relief shipments to Denmark and 90 per cent of our relief supplies to England are being carried in foreign bottoms.

As a result, declared Magnuson, about 40,000 U.S. merchant seamen have been beached in the last seven months.

Truman Ignores Program Setback, Insists Congress Is Cooperating; Approval Seen for Vets' Pension

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of its newspaper.

PRESIDENCY: Explains Pact

Say It Isn't So
Mr. President Truman emulating the ostrich with the old "head in the sand" technique, or was he naive enough to believe what he was saying?

This seemed a fair question when Mr. Truman, despite multiple setbacks in congress for his legislative program, declared he and the congress were cooperating and that only "troublemakers" talked of bad feeling between them.

MR. TRUMAN said he suffered three major setbacks in attempting to have his campaign pledges enacted into law. He had been blocked in the present appointment of Gen. C. Walgren as a key figure in the national defense setup and civil rights program.

But the President shook off these reverses by ignoring them in a speech to the United States conference of mayors in Washington. Instead, he told the mayors: "Of course I differ with the congress on some points and where these differences are important I shall continue to urge the course I think is right."

"BUT, BASICALLY, the congress and I are working together and will continue to work together for the good of the whole country. We are going to agree on a lot more things than we disagree on."

Many observers took the view that the President's remarks indicated a desire to work together in dealing with congress—that an attitude of "soft words" might be the best way to control the angry denunciations of the lawmakers.

PENSIONS: Who Pays?

It was beginning to appear that a veteran's pension bill in some form would be enacted by the first congress. Prolonged by Rep. John Rankin (D. Miss.), all of the house veteran's affairs committee, the measure under consideration would give veterans of World Wars I and II a pension to begin at age 49 to 65, but budget bureau experts contend this would cost the nation upwards of $25 billion dollars over the next 20 years.

WHO WOULD PAY THE cost of the pensions? American taxpayers, of course, and among these would be the young men in the service who receive the bonus. As one young veteran put it, "By the time I reached 65, I would have a double tax on my taxes to grant me a pension."

That's the viewpoint of some veterans. There are many others who honestly feel they are entitled to a pension and would readily accept an "installment" tax payment during their present period of age and age 65 in order to get the pension.

SOME OPPONENTS of the pension measure favored restricting it only to veterans of World War I, but it was obvious no such proposal as this would be enacted. The measure would give World War II veterans who would oppose that simply on the principle of discrimination, no matter how they might feel about the pension proposal.

On the first test of the measure, it was almost lost, but swift passage was secured by the measure being returned to committee where it might have died a natural death.

DRAFT: Easing Off

Military draft eligibles could relax — Ma). Gen. John E. Dahlquist, army personnel chief, said no more men will be inducted into the army before July, 1950; and that's when the present peacetime draft act expires.

SO, IT SEEMED that the peacetime draft was virtually over, except for the possibility of enactment of a new draft act by congress of the present law.

MEMORY: Ours Is Short

To many who had experienced the horrors of war and who had met German foemen in battle, American politics in Germany was almost maddening. Official approval of selection of a group of ex-Nazi's to manage the Ruhr-Germany's greatest war-making potential—was bringing cries of protest from all over the nation.

The grasp of the ex-Hitlerites was reaching farther and farther into Germany's vital affairs and the optimism of the group that their dream would be fulfilled was significant.

Latest manifestation of the trend was a statement by Hans Thomsen, who was the Nazis' last foreign affairs in Washington, that he and other veteran Hitler diplomats expected to resume their careers in the "new Germany."

There was no lack of cockiness in Thomsen's stand. Said he: "The new German government cannot get along without the old Wilhelmstrasse men—who know their business." He is now in the banking business in Hamburg.

The College Influence

THE ADDITION of Red Rolfe, the distinguished Dartmouth alumnus, to the list of big league managers, increases considerably the influence of the college mind on our national game.

The list of college-trained managers now includes Lou Boudreau of Illinois and Eddie Dyer of Rice, Red Rolfe of Dartmouth and Eddie Sawyer of Iowa. This is only four out of the 16, but it's at least a lift from the old days when Jake Stahl of Illinois and the Red Sox was the only college in the charge of squaring the bat.

It isn't beyond reason to see that the Cardinals' hook up in another world series. This, however, is no even-money bet.

THE AMERICAN league, the Indians still have the Red Sox, Yankees and Athletics to subdue. In the National league, the Cardinals and Braves have the Dodgers, Braves, Pirates and Giants to lasso and handle.

THESE COLLEGE-trained managers must also overpower such non-collegiate stars as Joe McCarthy, Casey Stengel, Burt Shotton, Leo Durocher, Billy Southworth, Billy Meyer and Connie Mack—a rather formidable list.

What teams are going to win the two pennants, anyway? With nothing better to do under a hot, steamy sun, we begin interviewing ball players—not the rookies—to get their angles. After all, they had played against these teams and sought have some slant on the subject.

Their opinions were quite interesting. From an American league camp, the Cleveland Indians are the best bet to balance the edge through stronger pitching, hitting, outfield and infield.

There's no doubt that Boudreau's Indians are the best-balanced outfit in either league. As Boudreau said, "I should be the best pitching staff, a fine outfield, a strong infield and competent catching."

Any way, most of the world league managers thought the Indians would win again. They thought so rather violently. They are probably right, as Boudreau is a smart, keen, hustling manager who is going to get no loafing. Joe McCarthy must get better pitching and Casey Stengel must get better infield play, improved pitching and improved catching. Good happen.

MIRROR of your MIND

Do people who gamble always hope to win?
Answer: The average person who takes an occasional "flier" may only be trying to forget life's hardships that you do not get something for nothing. But psychiatrists say the "neurotic gambler" — the chap who plays the horses or shoot dice with his employer's money even though he knows there's better than an even chance that he will be disgraced and ruined—is unconsciously the victim of a secret urge to self-destruction. It is this that will not let him quit when he's ahead but makes him go on till he's "cleaned out."

Can you give yourself "shock treatments"?
Answer: Literally, no. As I have laid before, such treatments must be given by a physician. But a correspondent notes, the interesting fact that now and then, when she is deeply depressed, she will unconsciously get herself into trouble or danger (she once "accidentally" set her house on fire, for instance) and be jolted back to a more normal frame of mind. Like "insanity," depression often represents a wish to punish yourself for some real or imagined offense, and almost any kind of shock may serve this purpose for the moment.

KEEPING HEALTHY

Treating Ailments of Old Age

THERE are so many elderly men and women today that many large houses, once so hard to sell, now are being bought by registered nurses or practical nurses and established as "rest homes" for elderly people and invalids. Some of these larger rest homes not only have a graduate nurse living on the premises, but also a physician calls once a day.

This specialty, geriatrics, is the natural result of the lengthening of the life span. As we grow older, we may not develop any special disease or disease, but there is naturally a gradual loss of strength, and so symptoms of old age. Dr. C. W. Crampton, however, states that geriatrics is concerned less with treating disease already present and more with preventing, postponing and easing the aging processes and guarding against a vigorous old age.

In New Jersey at the present time there are now in progress five different studies on vision in various industries. By these studies much valuable material is being collected for the purpose of improving our present knowledge of vision of industrial workers. This will mean more and better production and at the same time conserving the vision of the industrial worker.

Burglar Iiked

In Champaign, Ill., Carl Fletcher, 32, was so loked at finding nothing but stolen silver and housebreaking that he called police and reported his own burglary.

Fletcher broke into a filling station, then telephoned the sheriff and police to "come get me." He waited for them and unlocked the door to let them in. "I just got loked," he said. "at finding nothing worth taking."

'Boss' Censored President's Swim Photos

Whatever else the incident of the "boss" censored President's swim photos in Florida was, it was a blow to Harry Truman's membership at all. The President said, which caused presidential party attaches to seize photo taken of Mr. Truman while swimming in the pool at the White House. Mrs. Bess Truman doesn't want her husband's trunks around old men in bathing trunks, and Harry S. Truman jolly well knows it.

GLORIOUS FABRICS and new, enchanting styles await those of you who are handy with the needle and like to whip together your wardrobe on the sewing machine.

You'll like the feel of the new fabrics when you sew them, then you can't come out with clothes that look though they had been purchased from the smartest shops.

Another new wrinkle in the fashion picture which will be extensively used with the bohero type skirt is the print blouse that goes with the skirt.

If you prefer, make a basic dress in one of the new soft woolen materials, then top this with a bolero.

This all-over quilted-coat, made of economical Indian Head cotton, is easily casted at home with the aid of a quilting attachment on the sewing machine.

Women care for men who wear ARROW'S TANTVINY ENSEMBLE

Women have two good reasons for liking a man who wears Tantivy.

1. Because Tantivy, Arrow's new planned-as-a-team shirt, tie, handkerchief ensemble, brings out the handsome good looks of a man. It's fine quality broadcloth with a double, white sofa stripe.
2. (twice only) Because the Tantivy shirt, being Sanforized labeled, behaves wonderfully in the wash, never shrinks out of fit, and wears a long time.

In soft tones of blue, gray, tan, wine, and green. Shirt: $3.65, Tie: $1 and $1.50, Handkerchief:

needed, it is in the operation of the average American restaurant and luncheon. The run-of-the-mill eating places of this country are presided over largely by chefs who are strictly grease-and-hot-flame boys.

Even the proper technique in trying to cook a steak is being taught in the G. I. schools. The chefs are tired of being guinea pigs for apprentice ham-and-bean boys whose motto is, "If you can eat it without cussing, it's our mistake."

A Song from Sorrow

Of my sorrow I shall make a song
So beautiful that others' grief will cease
If one but listens, slowly and long.

As for menu planners, ah, there's a field! Take 150,000 middle-class restaurants in this country today, and 149,923 think the menu has been radically changed if the string beans are left out.

The course in hotel management is needed, too. What a field! Range of Religion

Lesson for April 10, 1949
ONCE THERE WAS a farmer who owned a large farm. His wide acreage was divided into pastures and fields and a garden and orchards and so on.

What Does Religion Cover?
YET THAT FARMER is not a bit more than a Christian farmer, who when asked about this or that activity or aspect of life, answers, "That's not religion. I have no interest in it. Religion isn't a little fenced-off pasture for lambs, a tiny garden plot behind tick hedges.

Religion covers the whole farm, every bit of life from end to end. Jesus knew this very well, but he never once refused to discuss anything on the ground that it was not religious.

The Light of God
A GOOD cross-section of Jesus' A methods and ideas can be seen in Mark 10, which is one chapter Mark keeps the whole account of a number of weeks which Jesus spent in the region called Perea. Observe the variety of situations which confronted Jesus. First there was a question about divorce. When they brought that question up to Jesus, he did not dodge it. He did not call it a personal matter in which he, as a teacher of religion, had no interest. He did not say it was strictly a matter for the civil courts. You may read what he did say in Mark 10. You will note that first of all he brings God into his answer.

Religion And Little Children
THIS CHAPTER includes the famous story of the little children who were brought to Jesus—evidently small children, for Jesus lifted them into his arms. We do not hear Jesus saying, "Children are not permitted to take an interest in them. Wait till they are older. What good can religion do these tiny tots?" On the contrary, Jesus not only blessed them but he held them up as models for other people.

Is your church following Jesus here? Is your church interested in the little children as much as it is in the "pandying" members? Or are the little ones shoved off into some dark corner of the church basement? In your state or province, do the Christian people take an interest in the children? Do children in your section get as good attention as pure-bred cattle do?

As Wide As Life
WHEN THERE WAS a question about eternal life. Of course Jesus answered that one, it was obviously a religious question. (Except that he gave it what some people even today would consider a not very religious answer.) Jesus went on to talk about money and the effect it has on a man's prospect of eternal life. Jesus would be the very last person to imagine that a man's bank account has nothing to do with religion. Some people to this day don't like to hear a preacher mention money in his sermons. Well, such people might have been offended by Jesus, for he often preached about money and property.

Then there was the question of ambition, the audacious request that James and John made of him. He had some strong remarks to make about that. And finally at Jericho, not long before Palm Sunday, there was the blind beggar Bartimeus. Jesus did not say to him, "Health is no affair of mine. I care souls, not bodies."
