

ONE AUTO CLUB LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN ... Some Drivers Act Late for Their Accidents ... AGAINST THE SAFE AND SANE DRIVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

ALL DONE BY DAUHLERS
WATCH OUT! You're apt to get hit by a careful automobile operator, bub! You can never tell those drivers who are in no hurry may do next. Wham! I know it — another smashup due to one of those scourges of the highway, the cautious autoist! The Automobile Club of New York, through William J. Goit-Heb, its president, issues (with a statement saying that dawdling drivers are a menace to safety, and urging that something be done about them. "While it is commonly believed that irresponsible, speeding, intoxicated or reckless drivers cause most accidents, many may be traced to those who drive cars too slowly," says the statement.

"When these slow drivers move out of the right-hand lane," says Mr. Goit-Heb, "they create peril for faster drivers." (Ya don't say!) "It is utterly selfish and provocative of accidents," he adds. (How about some traps for slow drivers?)

However, "Anything to make the highways safer!" is our motto. So let's rush up the following caution signs at once.

DRIVE FASTER FOR SAFETY'S SAKE! KEEP YOUR FOOT ON THE GASI! IT SAVES LIVES DON'T DAUWLE! SCHOOL ZONE AHEAD

Or perhaps a few reading "SLOWPOKES CAUSE ACCIDENTS," "TAKING YOUR TIME FORBIDDEN," "ARE YOU DRIVING FOR PLEASURE?" "BE SHAME ON YOU!" and "DON'T RISK LIFE AND LIMB BY PROCEEDING WITH CAUTION."

Of course, it is just possible the auto club is looking for some publicity. Auto associations are like that. But it is dangerous stuff these busy days on the highways to belittle the slow driver and classify him with the drunk, the roadhog and the speed maniac.

The dawdlers are mighty few and you never hear of one running over a child, crashing into a baby carriage or a crowded sidewalk or going through a drugstore window. And who are these rough, tough, inconsiderate schmoos who may be seen tearing down our crowded highways at homicidal speed in traffic trucks? Just dawdlers out for a pleasant dawdle, eh?

(Note: At this point this writer had to be concluded. The writer heard a terrific crash and rushed out to see what had happened. He found a truck, a bus and two sedans full of picknickers in a tangled mass. Well, that's what comes of caution.)

Anne Neire, the Jersey gal who won that "Hollywood Calling" gig among other things a trip abroad, an ermine coat, a diamond ring, a sedan, two puddles and a year's supply of dog food free — That slims ya ed.

"There is no need for anyone to intervene between the businessman and the government in procuring government contracts. Let me repeat, there is no need to have any broke between the businessman and the government to do business," — Louis Johnson.

"Well, we'd like to see some newspaper send a businessman to Washington about doing business with it and record his progress trying to see the right man."

"Ignorance and uncertainty on the part of the businessman as to how he should proceed and whom he should see have been the basic causes for his succumbing to the five-percenters," added Mr. Johnson. Never was a truer word spoken.

And the bureaucratic red tapers, whose chief delight is playing hard-to-find and whose motto is "Never do anything in a half hour that can be stretched over a month," would die rather than violate the ignorance and uncertainty.

YE GOTHAM BUGLE & BANNER

"Tohacco Road reached London the other night. . . . British shipping companies to get a leg out of it." — Wires Union reports a deficit of nearly four million. . . . Those "Having a wonderful time; you were here" telegrams must have been cut to "Arrived. Okay. Too!" — And nobody wants a lining telegram unless it's delivered by Etta Pinna. . . . Ginger Rogers is still a hot commodity.

IT'S ABOUT TIME, said Uncle Ralph, "that you, my dear Connie, were married only to see Connie coming slowly up and walked up his newspaper. Connie came on, doleful and sorrowful of expression. She sighted Uncle Ralph, stopped and smiled whimsically.

"I guess you were right," she said.

"About what?" asked Uncle Ralph.

"Don't."

"Don't? How was I right about 'Don't'?"

"About never knowing what he's going to do next."

"What's his home, now?"

"He married. Decided to last night about 6 o'clock. At 6:30 he was a married man."

RELIGION AND HABITS

Lesson for September 15, 1949

RELIGION IS not moral, it is a pool, filmy, no-good religion. It morally is not religious. It soon cracks. Religion has to be moral and morality has to be religious, or the both of them or else they lose their excuse for existence. This is not a new idea. It was in the Bible long ago. Our Psalms for this week among other things say those that bring out this truth: Dr. Foreman is interested in

He is interested in what they do seven days and seven nights a week. He is interested in their habits as much as their souls. Psalms 15 and 24 are so plain on this point that they need no explaining. . . .

Churches and Liquor
Don't Mix
The truth, that right religion and right behavior are twins, lights up all of life like a flood-light; but since this is our temperance lesson, let us focus it more or less on one spot.

It is a sore spot: the drink habit. Why does the church and the state fuss about people drinking? Catholic churches are opposed to liquor in excess, and most Protestant churches are opposed to liquor, period.

The movies have made the "binge," the hangover, almost respectable; but the church knows better. Why? Will the time ever come when the churches are not opposed to the liquor business? No, it will not, because the churches know what liquor does.

"The minister is usually the man (along with the lawyer and doctor and the clergyman who has to pick up the pieces when drink gets a man or a woman and breaks up a family. The minister gets behind the scenes, but the funeral home is not here because it had not been there drunk."

The car that "went out of control," the disease that should not have been fatal, the family quarrel that grew to hatred and violence — he sees enough of these caused by alcohol, to have no illusions about the stuff.

A Psalm in Reverse
IF THERE is a single reader of these lines who imagines that there is only a "matter of the soul" and has nothing to do with what people eat or drink, then let him try a little experiment with the 11th Psalm.

As it stands in the Bible, it is a description of the kind of man one can appear without shame before God — in short, of the religious and moral man.

Now beginning with verse 3, take the first phrase by phrase, and see how false and ridiculous it is if you try to make the description fit the man with the drink habit.

"The victim of drink walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness." — Quic the contrary, he seems to be doing his best to ruin his own happiness and that of others.

"The drunkard speaketh the truth in his heart." — There is one truth he never speaks in his heart: I am a drunkard. The one thing the victim of alcohol never admits till it is too late (if ever) is the hold which alcohol has on him. "He that backbiteth not with his tongue, nor taketh up a reproach against his neighbor" —

Contempt Is No Cure
WELL, read on for yourself. The slave to alcohol (and many a man is chained to it who would feel insulted if you called him an alcoholic) carries down with the description of the man whose life God approves.

But the Christ's will by no means deal so gently with those merely by falling in the scum-er's seat, or being an abstinence himself, or even by helping those who have fallen into the snare. He will remember that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

The liquor business has no conscience. It sometimes comes out with pious remarks about temperance — but it keeps right on advertising. It knows no law but profit. The only whole-hearted workers for temperance will always be the people who make money out of temperance. And the most effective workers for temperance will be those who themselves, in all their habits, give examples in life of what they preach.

Vending Machine Move Proves Business-Getter

A. R. Geist hated to tear down the attractive little building which had been his office when his Traffic Circle service station at Still Water, N. J., grew up and required larger quarters.

Instead, he moved all the vending machines he had put in over the course of years into one spot in the old building, added a few comfortable chairs, and invited car-wary patrons to use the building as a lounge.

The relocation did so well for both the vending machines and the service business that Geist is planning to add a frankfurter machine, a hot coffee machine selling coffee by paper cups, and more drink vending machines, and an ice cream vendor so that he can offer motorists a 100 per cent automatically dispensed lunch. Attractive features of the plan to Geist is that it requires no extra labor.

The Greater Love

I THE sight of others' suffering hurts me so, How can God bear it, he who knows so well The innermost recesses of the heart That hold the secret tongues can never tell I wonder at it often as I see Some child in pain, some aged one in distress— When my heart aches with pity, how can God Restrain a hand with power to heal and bless?

I question it, and then I know, I know! I learn it in this school which I attend: Whatever hurts us, hurts his great heart more; Whatever else may fail, he is our friend. He does not send our grief, or pain or loss, But if we wait and trust him as we should, I am quite certain his great love will turn Ultimately, all things for our good.

Connie Brigham wrinkled her cute little turned-up nose, closed one eye and stared soberly at Uncle Ralph with the other. Uncle Ralph cleared his throat and began to let his gaze wander about the room. He felt guilty.

"Which," said Connie, with the slightest of twinkles, "is a polite way of suggesting that I accept Bob Merrill, and forget all about the other fellow?"

"You can't do that," said Uncle Ralph, "but you can do this. You can go on with the other fellow. It's up to you."

More about the pretty Marie. Arriving on one of New York's hottest days, she posed on a bed of ice for news photographers. Her dog, a true lens bound, promptly scrambled up beside her and gazed into the cameras.

"My race for life against a Rattler's Poison!"

A true experience of WILLIAM F. COLLEY - San Diego, Calif.

1 "A piercing shriek cut the silence as I lay in wait for deer in the Laguna Mountains near San Diego. I dashed to Sam Reedwood, my hunting companion. A 1/2-foot rattler had dug his fangs into Sam's ankle! Twice in my own life, I'd felt the rattle's sting. I knew no one else who could do it."

2 "I shot the rattler - opened my snake kit. Night was closing in. I needed light. My flashlight with its 'NINE LIVES' batteries was the answer. By its light, I made a knockout, cut a cross incision and removed the venom."

3 "And those long-life Eveready batteries gave plenty of bright light as I carried Sam and fished a car. I thank my flashlight for saving Sam's life. Now I know why 'NINE LIVES' batteries are the batteries with 'NINE LIVES'!"

THE FLASHLIGHT BATTERY WITH "NINE LIVES!"

Just as an active cat... takes a cat nap... and bounces back with new pep... so Eveready flashlight batteries recover power between uses and bounce back for extra life!

Technical explanation: due to the electro-chemical regeneration of the depolarizer.

"Eveready," "Nine Lives," the cat symbol are trade-marks of National Carbon Company, Inc.

DEATHS

Following an illness of almost a year, Edna Davis Bird passed away on Thursday, September 23, 1949. Daughter of the late Chas. C. and Alza Logan Davis. Mrs. Bird was born January 21, 1903 and spent most of her life in her home town, Mt. Vernon.

She graduated from the local high school then spent several years specializing in music at the Cincinnati Conservatory. She shared with the community her ability as a musician, much joy seemingly was hers to be the pianist for various church and social functions. Time to time, were sponsored by the church, church and local clubs.

On Christmas day, 1931 she married Robert E. Bird, a practicing attorney, formerly of Williamsburg, Kentucky. Mt. Vernon remained their home except for a short time they resided in Frankfort and in 1934 they moved to London. It is that death relieved of the suffering she had so nobly endured in early childhood she united with the Christian Church and had transferred her membership to London since.

Ever when a body has become weak and is only natural to live and live, for as long as there is life, there is, at least, a ray of hope. As life's sunset approaches, it is with a peaceful mind that we cross the turbid waters, wondering what is beyond the place of rest. It seems to drop down to meet the sea. Those who put their trust in God, as Edna Bird did, need have no fear as to what awaits beyond the horizon of a well spent life. Her tired and feeble sleep now sleeps the endless sleep which knows no dawn. We who are left, for a comparative few, brief days, will hold in our hearts the memory of our friend and neighbor, Edna Davis Bird.

The chapel walls of the Cox Funeral Home in Mt. Vernon, where Mrs. Bird's remains were placed, were banked with dozens of beautiful floral designs which spoke in silence of love and esteem which her friends had thus expressed. Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon at the Mt. Vernon Christian Church. Burial was in the family lot in Elmwood Cemetery.

Sue Davis is her husband, Robert B. Bird and one twelve year old daughter, Barbara Jo Bird, one daughter, Mrs. Stoner Bird, and one son, Charles R. Bird, and one son, Charles Alfred Muller of Mt. Vernon, both by a former marriage; also one son, Mrs. Bentley Sparks of Covington, Kentucky.

J. S. Cooper Is Appointed U. N. Delegate

President Truman Wednesday nominated John Sherman Cooper, former Republican senator from Kentucky, to take over the United Nations post formerly held by John Foster Dulles.

Dulles resigned when he was appointed to the Senate seat formerly held by Senator Wagner (D., N. Y.). He is seeking the Republican nomination for a special election this fall to fill out Wagner's unexpired term, which has another year to run. Wagner retired because of ill health.

Senator Dulles termed the President's selection of Cooper to succeed him on the United Nations delegation "a fine appointment."

Cooper, a native of Somerset, served as G.O.P. senator from 1946 to 1948 when he was defeated in 1948 election by Democrat Virgil Chapman, of Paris. He was first elected in 1920, with a landslide over John Young Brown for the seat vacated by A. B. Chandler, who became baseball player.

Shortly after his defeat, Cooper could have had an appointment as a member of the Federal Reserve Board. But the 6-foot 1 inch mountain son carefully avoided being buried in Washington board of bureau.

The only major interest in the U. N. which interested him was one in the nation's foreign program. At that time he would have liked to have been elected to Germany where he was on duty with Patton's Third Army after the war.

After completing his law school in Germany, Cooper entered politics in Kentucky in 1927 when he was elected without opposition to the House of Representatives. Two years later, at the age of 28, he was elected Pulaski County Judge and four years later was given another year's term as governor in 1933, but was defeated in the primary by G. W. Letcher.

He entered the Army as a private in 1942 and was discharged January 3, 1946 with the rank of captain. He served at Fort Cavalleria, Italy, and Fort Cavalleria, Italy, and Fort Cavalleria, Italy.

He was married in 1927 to Mrs. Evelyn Pfaff of Portland, Ore.

They have three children. One is a daughter and two are sons.

He was united in marriage January 5, 1908 to Lucy Hoff who departed this life November 25, 1947. This onevent were born six children. One who died in infancy.

Mr. Black united with the Baptist Church at Mt. Pleasant early in life. He was a member of the Masons, Eastern Star, Junior Order and D. of A. Lodges. He received his twenty-second degree in the Masonry Order in 1947. He was a loving and devoted husband and a father. Always interested in the upbuilding of his community, to know him was to love him.

He is survived by three daughters, Miss Beulah Black, Mrs. Mary Ann Black and Mrs. Norris Black of Victoria, and a host of other relatives and friends.

Funeral services were conducted Monday, September 12, at the Livingston Baptist Church, officiating by Rev. A. S. Stokes, conducting Burial was held Wednesday, September 12, at the Carter Cemetery in Victoria, Ky.

HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD

"By G. W. (Bro.) Murphy

"My thought for this week is taken from Mark's Gospel, 2nd. Chap. 3rd verse, and 5th verse: And they came trying to bring one sick of the palsy, who was borne of four."

This sick man sure had four friends that was a very touching sight. These four strong men carrying their helpless find to the healer. That is the kind of help that we should always be giving to one another. Not band together, and get four or more to carry the poor fellow away from their front doors. There are on all sides of us many people who need to be helped. There are lame people to be assisted over rough and perilous places. Likewise there are blind people to be led along by the way they cannot see themselves, and many others who have to be carried in strong hands. We never can tell how soon it may be our turn to require for help, but let us be such as these four men rendered to their sick neighbor. Bless your heart reader, these four men bore their friend to Jesus, they could not heal him themselves, but they could carry him to the one who could heal him. Four men were strong men, they were carried in, one of these men could not have done it; two of them could not have carried him; three men were strong, but the burden would have been much to bear, but when all four of these big stout fellows united their strength, they bore the man along without difficulty. (Get the thought?) "There is strength in the union of hearts and hands." Now lets look at Jesus after they carried the man to him, and broke the roof a hole in it and let him down at Jesus' feet. Verse 5: "When Jesus saw their faith," So far as we know, no one had spoken a word to Jesus about the sick man, but Jesus saw their need for works. Jesus saw their faith, saw the pains the friends had taken, the journey they had come the road they traveled, the roof torn up, the firmness they held the rope that led the man down with to the healer. He saw their faith, saw their faith with works, and I will show thee my faith by my works." Jesus is pleased when we show our faith by our works. I was much pleased last Sunday, when my Sunday School class presented me with a lovely and useful gift, something useful in the work of the Lord. This act on the part of the boys, that God does not just listen to our prayers, but looks for action on our part. In words simple and plain, He sees, and He hears. So close by saying, call someone one or lead some one this week to Jesus.

Truman Undaunted

ED. NOTE—While Drew Pearson is on vacation, the Washington Merry-go-round is written by his old partner, Robert S. Allen.

CONGRESS hasn't heard the last of government reorganization plan No. 1 to set up a department of welfare.

The Senate's turnaround has not cooled Truman's determination to get the proposal through. He will make another try to get approval.

The President disclosed this in a talk with Reps. Robert Crosser and Wayne Hays of Ohio. They had conferred with him on government reorganization plans.

As long as government reorganization can be vetoed by either branch of Congress, said Hays, it will be impossible to effect economy in expenditures. It is the old story of lobby pressure. The lobbies go to work behind the scenes to kill these proposals.

That's sure, said Truman, "but they're not scaring me. The Hoover commission's committee report is to mean anything, it will have to be put into effect. I am going to keep on asking them that purpose to Congress. Whenever one is vetoed, I'll send up a revised plan in its place."

Touchy History
House rules committee consideration of the arms-for-Europe bill unexpectedly touched off a sharp explosion on American history.

Supporting the measure, Rep. Ray Madden, D. Ind., vigorously criticized former President Hoover for assailing administration spending policy.

The ex-President was talking of both sides of his mouth when he said he was spending ourselves in a colossal state, thundered Madden. "If himself had advocated 30 billion dollars for defense and foreign aid out of a total budget of 45 billion, he wouldn't cut a cent of the military and foreign aid expenditures."

That's an old story," broke in Chairman Adolph Sabath (D., Ill.). "I remember it as well as the period after World War I, when the same orcs were in a frenzy to keep us out of the United Nations. If Congress had not listened to these men, there might not have been a World War II." Then, pointing at Rep. John Lodge (R., Conn.), Sabath added, "There sits the grandson of the man who led the fight against the League—Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge."

BRITISH LOAN:

Even before the talks got fully underway, the trend of the discussion concerning British-American finance deals was becoming familiarly clear.

THE PROBLEM was Britain's current financial crisis. The hope rested with U. S. procedure as it affects assistance. That C. C. B. was thoroughly under the spell of British need and potential was shown in the statement that this government is hospitable to a proposal to relax terms of the British loan.

Under the current preliminary proposal, the U. S. would grant Britain permission to discriminate favorably against British-American goods. Under the British loan pact, Britain got 3.75 billion dollar from the United States in return for a great American exports to the same as those from British-empire countries and Europe.

Now, the British want that re-opened. Here's how the British plan would work: BRITAIN could, for instance, re-open license British goods they want to buy American goods, but it could give "open licenses" to Britishers who, for example, want to import Italian goods. The Italian imports could be purchased with sterling, this would save Britain dollars.

And, as the pattern seems to be, officials were reported favorable to the British proposal—and sympathetically, too—were planning to work on it in implementing that approval.

WATCHMAKING:

Pioneered in U. S.
Many Americans believe precision watchmaking is an exclusively Swiss craft. Hence the small but lusty U. S. jeweled watch industry, looking to the Swiss for technology.

Two years ago American craftsmen proved they hadn't lost their ingenuity. At Elgin, Ill., watch manufacturer introduced a rust-proof, acid-proof "dualpower" mainspring which was carried over to come out of Washington. By pre-forming the arbor end, possible only with the new alloy, they were able to cut down the time to spring to work. The result: A longer run of the watch between windings, hence a boon to lazy and forgetful thumbs and forefingers!

How long would Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito manage to hold out against Moscow? On-the-scene observers don't seem to think so.

THE RUSSIANS must realize that as well as anyone else. It will be interesting, therefore, to observe the Russian attitude in the continuing onslaught against Tito's regime. If the Russians resort to tactical subtlety, the Kremlin will not be ready to face war and is ready to face the issue.

SPENDING:

Slush Rejected
The United States senate stood firm in support of President Truman's estimate of the financial needs of the nation for the next fiscal year.

A move to force the President to slash federal spending by a level of 10 percent below his advance estimates was defeated. But the margin was only three votes.

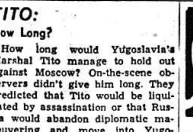

After the decision on this issue, the senate passed by a vote of 42-18 a billion dollar appropriation bill to pay for national defense—the cost of the army, navy and air force. This was $20 million less, however, than President Truman had asked.

TELEVISION:
Color Must Wait
For those who want color in television, there were four more years of waiting.

That was the expressed conviction of a radio manufacturer, Benjamin Abrams. He said that while color television had been demonstrated successfully, "it still isn't a practical proposition and it will be years before it is available for the general public."

Abrams said that at the present stage of development of color television, he did not believe manufacturers could turn out adaptors for less than $300 to $500. And he estimated a set built especially for color would cost $1,000.

Pride of Name

DICK HYLAND, the Stanford-Los Angeles football philosopher, used to say and write that it wasn't much ability and skill that kept southern teams hard to beat as it was "pride of section."

It is still Dixie against the world. Dick said that Mal Stevens, Yale's coach, before the game: "I don't know who'll win but we are hoping..."

Granlund Rice handled all the details of the trip. When a bunch of us left St. Petersburg last March there was little to cheer about. You knew just one other year who helped and was doing a fine job with fine assistance from Bill Dickey, Frank Crosetti and Jim Turner.

TRUMAN:
Long Memory
While President Truman may have nothing else in common with the symbolic GOP elephant, he shares the pachyderm's fame for long memory.

This was indicated by a recent story in Washington that the President appeared about to shake up the members of the Fine Arts commission which opposed the current balcony Mr. Truman installed in the White House.

The champion checked out her new record this spring when she raised a litter of 10 pigs, nine of them eligible for registration, to weight 47 pounds at weaning time, 96 days.

To qualify for production registry, conducted by the purebred associations, sow must raise a litter of at least eight pigs to a minimum weight of 320 pounds within 96 days. They must be approved breed type, free from fault.

Here is Ringold Lady Dora with her litter of 10 pigs which qualified her as a 5-star sow. The only sow having such designation in registry sows of any breed. This litter weighed 447 pounds at 96 days of age.

The champion has repeated it eight times, raising a total of 81 pigs to weigh a total of 3183 pounds at the weaning age. Besides her eight litters which qualified for production registry, this sow has raised another 18 pigs in two litters which failed to qualify, or a total of 96 pigs since her first litter was farrowed in September, 1944.

Renovate Last Year's Clothes To Aid Budget, Be Fashionable

By Ertia Haley

AS LONG as there has been a startling change in the fashion picture, many women will feel quite free about wearing their last year's clothes without any changes and few additions to the wardrobe. A bit of sharpening here and there on last year's clothes will, however, will work wonders. The few hours spent on clothes and sitting can even work a miracle which all women can appreciate: fast remodeling can change last year's look for this year.

Although some of the fashions shorter last year were shown over the previous season, they are now considerably shorter, with fourteen inches being the ideal length. However, as you may have noticed, many of last year's dresses were quite long, especially in comparison with current wear styles. Pocket interest, too, was evident, but not nearly so marked as at present. The same is true of necklines. We had those which plunged and those which climbed high, but they were rather simple in their lines as well as without some of the current decorative features. Pleats were present, too, but most of the types now being shown are the stitched-down variety. Even with pleats, skirts have a clinging, graceful and slenderizing effect.

You don't have to be a genius with clothes to see the remodeling possibilities in these different situations. And wouldn't it be worth a few hours of fitting and sewing to convert last year's clothes into fashionable things for the current season? For those of you who say yes, we have some fashion tips which will work an amazing transformation in the wardrobe that you'll be proud to wear with a refreshing alertness and handsome pride.

Several Methods Employed For Shortening Skirts

Those of you who have some of the slender skirts of last year will find it fits in nicely with the new plans since that is the look designers have been achieving in their clothes. Remove the old hem carefully and slowly so as not to catch or cut the material. Then measure the length of the skirt, or better than the waistline and cut the fabric down to the length of the skirt, or better

Decorative Features

Albeit Many Dresses
Finesse collar and cuffs are very much a part of the new fashion picture, and simple tricks may be employed for refreshing old clothes.

If you have enough material left over from shortening a dress, this might easily be used to make collar and possibly cuffs, or a pocket or two. Collars are big. They may have large points; they might be the cocoon type that stand up in back and plunge low in front. If this is a new collar, especially on the classic type dress might be a simple pointed type or Peter Pan variety, and could easily be carried out in velvet or velveteen, and thus be exceedingly fashion-wise.

Some dresses can be remodeled in the neckline to give you a new, drawing type which is also very popular. If you have a dress with a shawl collar, try trimming this with some fringing for a new fashion touch. If you've been watching fashion news, you'll already know that parading the necklines in a new, probably the newest of new in the whole fashion picture. Since these may be contrasting material and color, you can easily make a simple basic dress with them. Some are full length, to slip over the whole dress, while others start at the waistline and are used simply to decorate the skirt. Since the natural shoulder line is being pushed into the fashion picture more than ever this season, take a good look at the shoulders on your dresses. You may have to remove the pads entirely, if your shoulders can easily resist, or you have to put smaller pads in the dress to give the new effect. For those who are particularly fond of the necklines, they can be completely changed to give you the sling type which is increasingly popular. The bodice of the dress will have to be removed, and then put together as though it were new material.

Fringe Interest

Black and -shocking pink checked wool are used by Josef Walker in this dress, with black wool fringe trimming the wide collar and three-quarter sleeves, and down the bodice. The new length skirt shows slenderness and grace with its inverted fringed pleat.

You'll have to cut the material so the hem is not bulky. Use the old tape if it's still in good condition, but remove and reset it before turning the hem. Full skirts which were so popular last year are being used for evening only. Many of the full skirts can be cut according to a pattern so they carry the new look. On others it may be possible to employ stitch-down pleats or gathers, so they give the effect of slimness. Whatever is done to the full skirt must be done with consideration of the dress must be harmonious. Check new fashions and see what hints you can copy for your particular dress.

For the skirt which is not quite so full, but which still has a swing and flare to it, here's a trick. Take a tuck, the size of which is indicated by the length, a few inches from the hem of the skirt. If this can be done properly, you'll find that it's a very new and easy way to shorten the skirt.

Incidentally, if your closet holds clothes from several seasons, you might look over those which could be lengthened sufficiently for the last two years, and see if some fashion tricks wouldn't put them into use now.

Remove the old hem carefully and slowly so as not to catch or cut the material. Then measure the length of the skirt, or better than the waistline and cut the fabric down to the length of the skirt, or better

'Possible Phenomenon'

SAN DIEGO, CALIF. — Mr. Warrant Officer Rudolph R. Hendrick, postal officer of the Post Office building here, recently became the envy of the philatelic world when he discovered a "possible phenomenon" in the 1935 series of President James Monroe stamp.

While purchasing stamps for parcel post, Mr. Hendrick discovered a double overprint of two plate serial numbers. This unusual oddity is extremely scarce because the post office department destroys such errors in printing before the stamps are released for sale. Only two full sheets with the double plate serial numbers remain in existence, one being in the possession of Mr. Hendrick. Mr. Hendrick's only comment was, "This sheet can be obtained at a price."

'Secret Witness' System Now Used In War on Crime

CHICAGO. — A new secret weapon is now being used in the war against crime. This is a "secret witness" plan which gives police officers who know something about a crime a chance to get their information in the hands of authorities and collect a reward without revealing their names.

The idea has begun to spread rapidly. It has been put to work in Los Angeles, against murderers and hat burglars in Kansas City, against gunmen in Detroit, and against hooded mobsters in Birmingham, Ala.

Sponsors — newspapers in some places, groups of citizens in others — have offered a total of $48,000 in rewards. None of the money has been passed out yet. An informant will collect until the case ends in conviction.

The chief result, so far, has been information. Hundreds of letters have been received. Many of them offered information that looked helpful. In Chicago, for instance, 236 letters came in during the first two months. Forty-one contained what seemed to be good leads. Two of the Chicago cases have resulted in arrests.

The Chicago Sun-Times conducted a secret witness plan as a community service. It was sparked by an FBI report that Chicago had 226 active and 194 highest wanted fugitives for any city in the U. S. The starting switch was pulled last May 2.

The newspaper ran a series of reviews in the Sun-Times. 35 in all. It followed up with a full page list of 47 persons who had been slain since 1938 and whose slayers were still being brought to book.

The Sun-Times offered to pay $50,000 for information resulting in the conviction of the guilty in each of the first 30 cases solved. Deadline for the rewards is July 5, 1950. (The total was increased to $110,000 by $20,000 for the highest wanted fugitive of two Gary, Ind., women.)

Seafood Specials

ISH DO NOT swim in the ocean just to be eaten on Friday," says the old adage. If you've had the good fortune of eating fish prepared properly, then you certainly will adhere to the adage for fish cooked to perfection is truly delicious. But, there are other reasons for eating fish. You may have abundant protein, vitamins, and a dapper serving of fish. Fish are modestly priced whether you buy them fresh, quick-frozen or canned, so they'll help you with food budgeting problems. They're plentiful and amazingly versatile. If you'll just give them a chance.

If you don't particularly enjoy fish, try a new way of preparation. One of the recipes in today's column might start you on a new food adventure. Or, if you tend to get tired of fish, try other methods of preparation with a dash of spanking brand new fishy tricks. You'll be surprised at how many new ways there are for preparing the same foods.

Many have heard of "fish and chips," but have you ever tried them at home? Use fillets of fish which have been cleaned and seasoned with salt and pepper. Roll them in flour and dip in a thin batter, and fry in deep fat (360°). Serve with shoestring potatoes, and also try in deep fat until golden and crisp, a heart of lettuce salad and a generous serving of lemon dressing.

DO YOU OBJECT to the odor of fish? Fish which is not overcooked will not have that odor, which you may rightly object to. It's wise to remember that fish is delicate and does not need long cooking to make it tender.

Baked fish is popular, especially when it's stuffed with a nicely-seasoned celery mixture, then served with a tangy "non-butter" sauce.

"Stuffed-Baked Fish" (Serves 6)
3 to 4 pound whole fish
1 1/2 cups chopped onions
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1/2 cup bacon drippings
1/2 cup dry bread cubes
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons sage, marjoram or thyme
1/2 teaspoon onion
1/2 teaspoon bay leaf

Have fish cleaned but leave on head, tail and fins. Slice dry. Rub inside and out with salt; let stand about 10 minutes. Cut out onion, celery and parsley in thin slices. Mix with gold-colored breadcrumbs. Combine with egg, bread cubes, and onion.

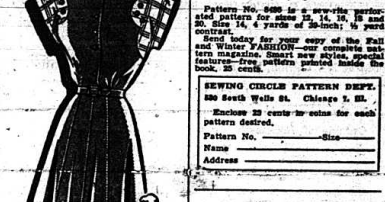

Toss lightly and stuff fish loosely. Patien fish with skewers and place in shallow, well-buttered baking pan. Brush with melted fat or salad oil. Bake, uncovered, in a moderately hot oven (375°-400°) to 50 minutes. Bake occasionally with fat or oil. During the last 15 minutes turn fish over.

LYNN SAYS: These Tasty Ways Help In Fish Cookery When brooding fish fillets, allow the fish to stand after bleeding for at least one half hour, so that the roasting will not fall off when the fillets are fried.

Potato nests are a nice innovation for serving creamed fish. After cutting raw potatoes into rings, dip them in oil for 2 minutes. Press the potatoes into muffin pans and brown in a hot oven.

Cleaning A Copper Stand
QUESTION: Can you tell me of a safe way to clean a copper stand? It has floral designs on the legs. I would like to have something that wouldn't be too hard to get out of the grooves.

ANSWER: There are excellent metal polishes on general sale which will get into the carvings of floral designs. A simple way to clean copper is by washing with ordinary vinegar in which has been dissolved as much salt as will be taken up, followed by rinsing with clear water. You can make the solution into a paste by the addition of flour. If not well rinsed-off afterward, the salt will further discolor the copper.

HOW NOT TO GET MORE DOCTORS

One of the most absurd arguments used in support of compulsory government health insurance is that it would help to cure the doctor shortage.

A 1948 report of the World Medical Association discloses that the United States has more doctors in proportion to population than any nation which has adopted socialized or regimented medicine—and in most cases we lead by a wide margin. Furthermore, we have more doctors in proportion to population than any other nation in the world save for little Palestine, where there are great numbers of refugee Jewish physicians from Central Europe.

It is true that even this country needs more doctors—there are serious shortages in some sections, just as there are shortages of other desirable services and facilities. But it is impossible to see how placing the medical profession under what would amount to political domination to see how placing the medical profession under what would amount to political domination would do anything but make the situation worse. It takes ten years or more of arduous and expensive training to become a doctor. Would young men find the profession more attractive if they knew they would occupy much the same status as civil servants, that advancement would largely depend on political favoritism, and that, in time, they might actually find themselves part of a completely socialized medical system? The obvious to that is an unqualified "No."

Measured by either the qualitative of the quantitative yardstick, the medical standards of the United States are unequalled in any comparable nation.

THE OLD GRAY MARE

Coal mining, like the old gray mare, ain't what she used to be. That, in essence, was the theme of a five-page feature in the Louisville Courier-Journal's Sunday magazine section. The feature dealt with the operation of a modern Kentucky mine.

Does coal mining make you think of picks and shovels? If so, you're as out of date as an old calendar. In today's modern mines, the miner is a skilled specialist, operating fast, safe and efficient machines that do most of the heavy work.

Even that old saying, "Black as the inside of a coal mine," has lost its force. The inside of a mine today is literally white—its ceilings and walls are sprayed with powdered limestone to prevent coal dust explosions.

The article went on to say that the particular mine it dealt with has produced 3,000,000 tons of coal without a fatal accident. And finally, the story concludes, miners earn up to $16.50 a day for six-and-one-half hours of "actual working time."

Coal mining isn't a picnic—no big industrial operation is. But the changes that have taken place in mining methods in a comparatively few years are revolutionary. Coal management is often damned—but management has done wonders in providing its workers with the safer, more efficient tools that make high earnings possible. And it isn't marking time now. It is going ahead with plans for making the mines a still safer and better place to work in.

Crop-Building Soil Tilth Plus Plant Food Gives High Yields Regardless of Weather

Thirty-Six Acres of Pasture Carried 40 Holstein Cows All Summer on This Minnesota Farm and Yielded 8 1/2 Tons of Hay, Besides Building Soil Structure and Organic Matter.

CHICAGO—Weather extremes can mellow your soil for bumper yields some seasons, but your best all-year crop insurance is plenty of organic matter in the soil, declared a statement by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

"Recent breeding 1948 corn and wheat crops were helped along by climate conditions that improved soil tilth months before the growing season," says the statement.

"After a long winter in 1947 swelled the soil. Droughty spells late that summer dried the ground and shrank it out. Subzero temperatures last winter froze the ground down a foot and a half in many areas. The drying and freezing pro-
