BROADWAY AND MAIN STREET So Wilson Held Up the War For Fast Shorthand Lesson

During the closing days of World War I, I took the President of the United States out of play for 15 minutes. I did it with my little shorthand pencil.

At the time, I was working for the War Industries Board, in Washington as a stenographer, and running out to get chocolate sodas for Mr. Baruch, its chairman.

My TREMBLING vanished. I knew the President was a shorthand writer of sorts—the tachygraphy magazines were always bragging about it. "I hear you're great good yourself, Mr. President," I blurted out.

THE ALPHA, Alpha, Alpha, Alpha fraternity at Boynton university is responsible for the fate of Percival Kelly. It happened this way.

During his freshman year the A.A.A.'s pledged Percy to membership, and initiated him into the mystic three R's. (Rites, Rituals and Regulations.) Percy took it like a man. When he ordered to imitate a dog howling at the moon, he did it like a level best.

3-Minute Fiction The brother A.A.A.'s cheered loudly and clamored for epigrams. Percy obliged a second time and a third. He was immensely pleased with the applause and at the class.

A mighty roar of applause greeted the recitation. There were cries of "More! More!" Percival obliged a second time and then once more.

Returning to college in the fall, Percy had completely put from his mind the cause and fact of his last year's popularity. There were other and more important things to occupy his interest. He was now a sophomore, with all the rights and liberties and sensation of importance that are synonymous with that lofty position. Best of all, he was unhampered by the 30-odd members of the A.A.A. who had last year cramped his activities.

One sophomore caused Percy's brain to swim. Here was lowliness and intelligence and timidity combined. Unhappily, it took him a fortnight to negotiate an introduction. Her name was Della Winslow.

TO A CONVALESCENT AM praying for you, friend, while you are waiting

The long hour through for strength to come again. God grant you patience that you may wait bravely; God grant you courage for these days, and when the healing comes, as come it will, I pray, Health may be yours for many a useful day.

In the meantime, rest, and know the everlasting Arms are close about you, that they will Sustain you, and a gentle voice commands you "Know that I am God, be still, be still." And heeding him, his healing touch will mend Your weary heart and mind. God bless you, friend.

back. When I told him he had made no mistake, the President smiled like a kid who has just finished playing with his Elmer Feltz for Radarski.

I had no sooner gotten to my desk than the phone rang. "Mr. Baruch wants to see you," said his secretary.

STAIN DUST STAGE SCREEN RADIO BY INEZ GERHARD

WHEN DEAN MARTIN and Jerry Lewis (NBC Friday evenings) teamed up for the first time at the Atlantic City night club, they were so unfunny that the manager warned them they'd better pick up fast or they'd be out of town.

MARTIN AND LEWIS dishes, three food, took up collections among the audience. They included the patrons, who howled with laughter and bayed for more.

Betty Blair decided, when she married Gene Kelly, that her marriage was going to be more important than her career. She was well set on Broadway, but she gave up the stage to be with him in Hollywood.

Haide Goransson, the Swedish model whose picture was on the cover of a recent copy of "Life," has been deluged with movie offers since she was spotted by Robert Smith and Robert Briskin made plans for her to take a screen test in Stockholm; Fox and United Artists executives also approached her.

Don MacLaughlin, "Dr. Jim Brent" on "Road to Life," wonders how he dared do it—his first addition was to his first appearance in a studio and his first broadcast. And it was "live," heard by several thousand radio listeners.

Betty Clark, ABC's 19-year-old blind soprano, has been the subject of more than a dozen magazine articles this past year, and has managed to mention her singing idol in almost every interview.

Effective Cough Syrup, Mixed at Home for Economy

No Cooking - No Work - Real Saving.

Here's an old home mixture your mother probably used, and is still one of the most effective for coughs due to colds. Once tried, you'll never buy it.

Make a syrup with 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup water. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Now put 2 1/2 ounces of Pine into a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This makes a full pint of cough medicine, and gives you about four times as much for your money. It keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

And you'll say it's really excellent for quick action. You can feel it take hold swiftly. It loosens phlegm, soothes irritated membranes, helps clear the air passages. Thus it makes breathing easy and lets you get restful sleep.

Pine is a special compound of proven ingredients in concentrated form, well-known for its quick action on throat and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if not pleased in every way.

FOR EXTRA CONVENIENCE GET NEW-READY-MIXED, READY-TO-USE PINE!

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS Bethlehem Steel Signs With Union; Confusion Shrouds Defense Policy; Industry Profits Reflect Up-Trend

RELIGION: New Concept Urged When man makes himself unable to cope with his myriad problems that best him, when there seems to be no avenue toward solution without the aid of a higher power, then he is in need of religion.

Tax Violations

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S warning that there must be a tax increase recalls the fact that bureau of internal revenue experts estimate they could collect close to a billion dollars more annually without increasing taxes—if they had better income-tax enforcement.

Two years ago the 80th congress chopped off a huge army of income-tax examiners, a group of mid-worked underpaid public servants who have the unpleasant but necessary job of checking on people's income taxes. While part of this cut personnel was reinstated, the tax examiners are still woefully understaffed and able to inspect only a fraction of the returns.

On top of this they developed another tax-payment enforcement scheme, called "delinquent" and directed in the prosecution of tax frauds.

When the average taxpayer sees certain big shots getting away with spectacular tax violations, naturally he figures he is entitled to do the same. This is not the fault of the treasury tax examiners nor the prosecution officers of the justice department, most of whom are different public servants.

BIG STEEL:

The Break Comes

The break had come in the steel strike.

The United Steelworkers had signed an agreement with the steel corporation ending the strike for that company's 80,000 workers and breaking the otherwise long steel strike which had been maintained by big steel in the strike issue.

IT WAS A TRIUMPH for CIO's President Philip Murray who announced that the agreement called for Bethlehem to pay the full cost of minimum pension for its employees 65 or over with 25 years of service. A social insurance plan also was included in the agreement.

Slowing Down

Indicative of the general slowdown in industry and field affected by it as a result of the cost strike is this photo of a store of the Westland mine of the Pittsburgh coal company. Bethlehem sales dropped so much with miners out of work, that store cut its operating hours from 9 each day to 4.

DEFENSE:

Some Confusion

It was difficult to reconcile Mr. Truman's constant emphasis on the grave defense problem, that he said confronted the nation, with his slanting of the air force budget which limited the troops to 38, and the more recent decision of the navy to cut 31 warships from the active fleet.

THESE ACTIONS served only to intensify the average citizen's confusion and puzzlement as to what actually is the status of the country's defense.

The navy's top admiral had been ousted because he contended present defense policies would destroy pay value and effectiveness. Other navy officials were facing probable punishment for speaking out. Unification and harmony were urged on all sides as a desperate need for this nation is to protect itself in this time of the cold war.

Despite all that, the air force was to be less than its generals declared it should be and the navy was to be deprived of much of its strength. This left still hanging the question of who was right in the air force and the navy.

The navy was taking 77 ships out of active service—cutting the operating fleet by 31 percent—while mid-1950 will be made up of 235 combat vessels. The navy's fleet had on September 1. Most of the cut was to be in the Atlantic force.

The navy also reported that 54,891 men will be whittled from the navy and marine corps by next July to correspond with the reduction in ships.

Delayed Cases

But whatever the reasons, here are some tax-fraud cases which have been delayed in the justice department and the district attorneys in the field. In some cases the delay may be involved, but in any case the effect on the rest of the taxpayer public is obvious.

In a case at Washington, D. C., the T-men found that the sheriff of Prince Georges county, Md., Earl Sheriff, had collected about $100,000 from gamblers during four years though he reported a total income only $8,000. The case in the justice department sent this case to U. S. Attorney Bernard Flynn in Baltimore, he sent it back to the fact that it was a difficult case.

Again out in Kansas City, Kansas, the T-men caught an eminent doctor, Herbert B. Hessler, in a report as income 1,000 fees received from patients during three years. The justice department sent the case to U. S. Attorney Lester Luther in Topeka for criminal prosecution, but Luther wrote back that he did not want to prosecute, because Dr. Hessler was too prominent in the community. The justice department instructed him to proceed anyway, however.

STETTINIUS:

Was Hard Worker

With the death of Edward R. Stettinius the local senator and Roosevelt expert passed from the American scene. The former secretary of state died of a heart attack at the age of 62.

STETTINIUS' contributions to his government were many and valuable. A rich man's son, he scorned the life of leisure. He was one of Roosevelt's advisers at the Yalta conference with Winston Churchill and Joseph Stalin.

Youngest secretary of state since the administration of George Washington Stettinius held the post only 11 months. He resigned to become the first U. S. delegate to the United Nations general assembly. He was one of Roosevelt's advisers at the Yalta conference with Winston Churchill and Joseph Stalin.

INDUSTRY:

Profits Climb

The first upward trend in U. S. industry profits since the peak of earnings was reached in the third quarter of 1948 was reported in New York.

Profits turned around and headed upward in the third quarter of 1949, the report said, and pointed out that the third quarter of 1949 surpassed even the fabulous 1929. This appeared that industry earnings were at a record peak.

The steel industry was not quite as bright as it may have appeared. Washington had a different picture of the steel industry. A survey reported that the coal and steel strikes had increased the number of jobs by 235,000 in the week ending October 8, as compared with early September. It was quite possible that the strike effect had no influence the roseate report concerning earnings in industry.

The future was uncertain. As strikes continued, so would purchasing power decline, and with that purchasing power there would be a deflation which would come an inevitable result of industrial curbing.

HE EMPHASIZED that the figures released do not show the full extent of the strike curbing. They were compiled while the walkouts were in their early stages.

Stuart Benson, 72, international known sculptor, was reported missing when the Polish navy's "Gdańsk" was hit by a mine as he was a passenger, decked in New York. The ship's master said the ship was sunk for 24 hours but no trace of Benson was found.

BARKLEY:

He Made It

He said he had no way of knowing whether he'd "make the grade," but he made it at Washington when Vice-President Allen W. Barkley's plans to marry his Missouri sweetheart, Mrs. Carleton Hadley, were announced.

BUT, THE WEDDING would culminate a romance that had the entire nation looking on with avid and excited interest.

THE VICE-PRESIDENT is 71 and a widower. Mrs. Hadley is 38 and a widow. Mrs. Barkley's age, however, was not apparent to the public, just as it hasn't been to his political and governmental associates.

THE WEDDING was held at the residence of the bride's parents in Washington at the courtship presser.

Mrs. Estell Rucker, mother of Mrs. Hadley, was the bride's maid. She was told of the proposed union. "I've been sitting on a volcano," she said, "it suddenly blew up. All this excitement!"

The Hadley-Barkley romance began last spring at Washington when the two met at a party in her honor by Clark Gifford, presidential adviser.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN was duly notified of the event and, it was said, would be present at the wedding.

Patentees Indicted

Another significant case, reported in this column, was the indictment of Mrs. Eleanor Patente and her son over concealed profits made from the sale of the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The patentees paid a tax of only $1,567 in 1939 when they should have paid $220,000. Thanks to the diligence of one or two treasury agents and a series of exposes by this column, the Patentees were finally indicted in August 1948.

However, the significant fact is that the justice department had all its information available in 1945, that Raymond Patente was in this country from 1945 on. Yet thanks to Patente's ability to hire one of the best lawyers in the country, H. J. Ellsworth, $100,000 in indictment was brought in 1948. Means there were liberal threats against this man.

Even after the indictment, however, another year dragged by, with much legal haggling over a compromise. Finally it was arranged that Madame Patente would end up with $500,000 in cash settlement if she didn't have to go to jail. Next folio, of course, can't afford top lawyers or such big cash settlements.

ALBANIA:

New 'Strong Man'

The Communists were beginning to throw their weight around in Albania. New Communist "strong man," Lt. Gen. Mehmet Shehu, Moscow-trained army chief of staff, was reported gradually taking over from Premier Hoxha.

ACCORDING to reports reaching western diplomats, Shehu appears to be the victor in the power struggle. Hoxha, Albanian leader for five years, was reported to have been shoved into the background although he retains the title of premier.

The "strong man" is only 36 and he is not only the boss of the army, but also chief of the secret police, interior minister and vice-premier. He is described as the most ruthless in the Balkans.

He gained considerable fame in Albania during the war by leading the first Albanian partisan division in the country's early raids against Germans and Italians.

NICKEL CUT:

Howl of Protest

The Eatonton, Ga., city council recently evaluated the nickel and right away got a taste of the trouble Britain is having with the pound sterling.

The value of the nickel went down when the council raised the price of soft drinks by leaving a penny tax. The bottle business immediately went to pot. Some stores quit selling soda pop altogether to escape the customer ire.

GYPSIES:

Free as Ever

In Belfast, Ireland, there was sounded a new and lighter note in the dismal refrain of world confusion.

Gypsies, with freedom of movement, were to be seen on them and itinerants in northern Ireland.

THE MINISTER of home affairs took the view that proposed legislation was "rather too drastic" to meet a situation which is more of an annoyance to individuals than a threat to the public.

One complaint, issued to bolster the proposed legislation, was that the gypsies tramped over crops.

Missing

Imagine such fast backs as William, Sikko, Coutre, Gay, Swistowicz, Spelator, Hunter and others working back of that crashing Notre Dame line?

Or such backs as Elye, Gregory and others working back of Minnesota's set of mastodons and mammoths, including one or two dinosaurs—comparatively speaking, of course?

Football's Big Gap

One main trouble with football's schedule is the big gap that often separates the two halves. For example Cornell was 50 points better than Army and Navy was at least 70 points better than Harvard. Notre Dame could have run well over 50 points against Tulane.

Army and Navy should have exchanged places in these last two years. Army was equipped to face Navy's schedule—and Navy could have done extremely well with Army's schedule.

One of the main features of the year so far is the rise of Captain Tom Hamilton's Pittsburgh Panthers. They have beaten the team that has beaten the team that has beaten the coach Walter Miligan who has turned in one of the season's best jobs.

Church's might as well slip another chaplet of wild plum blossoms to Paul Bryant, Kentucky's coach. Paul Bryant is one of the best of the younger coaches. He is from Alabama and, brought up under Frank Thomas, one of the masters.
