Parking Meter Installation Within the Next Sixty Days

Parking meters for the city of Mt. Vernon are now assured after a meeting of the city council last Wednesday, February 2, at which time it was voted to install the meters for a trial period of six months.

The meters will be installed by a group of Mt. Vernon men, headed by J. E. Denny, of Chicago, the same company which made a contract with the city in September, 1947, at $100,000. It has not been decided whether the meters will be placed in front of the Court House.

Work of installing the meters will begin in about 30 days and will be ready for operation 10 to 15 days later.

The meters will register a total of two hours in twelve minute periods. Each period will cost 1 cent. Parking one hour will cost 5 cents and two hours cost $1.00. The present parking spaces and exemptions will prevail and the same rulings will be enforced.

Highway 25. The meters will be of the automatic type which will register your time without turning a crank. One meter will be installed for each parking space on both sides between the L & N Railroad on West Main street and the Court House, and on both sides of the Church street from Main to the Signal office at the Highway junction of 25 and 150. It has not been decided whether meters will be placed in front of the Court House.

WHO IS THE "SCHOOL CROWD"?

Occasionally one sees in the papers some references to the "school crowd's" demands for more state aid to education. Undoubtedly, they refer principally to the Kentucky Education Association, the Kentucky School Boards Association, the Classroom Teachers' Association, the several parent teacher organizations in Kentucky, and similar organizations with special interests in education. But does this constitute the "school crowd"? How about the 150,000 pupils being taught by emergency teachers; the thousands of Kentucky high school youth for whom no high school of any kind is available? How about the crowded school buses, even in the more favored districts, hauling twice the number of children they were built to haul; or the 20 x 30 "shoobox" type of school houses which dot Kentucky's hillsides—so full of children that the teacher is crowded into a corner?

Yes! There is a school crowd all right! They are the parents of Kentucky's neglected children! They are the public spirited citizens of Kentucky who realize that Kentucky cannot advance economically or socially or politically so long as her citizens are denied educational opportunities equal to those of other states. They are Kentucky's 682,000 pupils of school age crying for educational opportunities! They are the several hundred thousand citizens who on November 8 voted for or against Constitutional Amendment No. 1 in accordance with their beliefs as to what would be the best for their children! They are an aroused and alarmed Kentucky demanding better schools and doing what they can for them with the limited resources at their command! They are not primarily interested in teachers, administrators, school board members, legislators, or state officials. But they are tremendously interested in what is happening to their boys and girls!

GOD SPEAKS
By Lanus E. Kineman, Pastor
Mt. Vernon Christian Church

The missionary's little grandson, Bill, age three, came in from play one day and seriously announced, "Grandma, God spoke to me today." "Did he?" the grandmother replied understandingly. "And what did you say to him?" After a moment's thought, Bill answered, "I said yes."

This incident reminds us of the earnestness and simplicity of a child's faith. There is no mystery to him about the Heavenly Father nor does he find it hard to believe God's Word. To him, life is made up of communion and fellowship with the Heavenly Father.

This incident further reminds us of the account of little Samuel in the Temple with Eli. God kept calling to him and he thought it was Eli speaking to him. After the second time, Eli felt certain that God was speaking to the boy and he told him to return to his bed and if the voice called a third time to answer. "Speak, for thy servant heareth." It was there in the stillness of the night that God spoke to Samuel.

Since the beginning, God has spoken to mankind when he will hear. To some he speaks as he did to Elijah—in a "still small voice;" to others he appears in a dream, as to Simon Peter; or others with a blinding light, as to Paul on the Damascus Road. Today He speaks to us through His Universe, the Holy Scriptures, and His son Jesus Christ. Prayer is a conversation with God. When we pray, may we not make it an address to God, but let Him also speak to us. When He speaks, may we answer "yes," as did the little boy or as Isaiah, "here am I, Lord, send me."

HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD
HOW MERCIFUL ARE YOU?
Blessed are the Merciful: for they shall obtain Mercy. Matt. 5: 7

People get back in this world just about what they give. If we think the world is hard with us, the probability is that the hardness is in ourselves, and that it is the echo of our own speeches that we hear. The measure of our own sinning is that we feel, the reflection of our own ugliness of disposition and temper that we see. Many times it is the harvest of our own sowing that we gather into our own bosoms. If we are untrue to anyone it is quite likely that some day somebody will be untrue to us. If we are unjust to another there is little doubt that sometime some one will deal unjustly with us. On the other hand, if the world seems to us full of love, it is quite likely that we are giving the world love things. People generally treat us as we treat them. A merciful look toward another will get it back from the person. The generous man finds people generous. The sympathetic man finds sympathy. The merciful man obtains MERCY. The man who always thinks this world is very selfish. What we do to others they will do to us. "The Golden Rule rests on a deep principle in life." Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them. As a rule people do not give warmth for coldness, courtesy for rudeness, kindness for unkindness. What Great Man said these words: "And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors." In God's judgment we receive according to our deeds. He who obtains forgiveness is he who forgives others. He who finds MERCY is he who shows MERCY to others. I believe that the man or woman that CHRIST will confess before his Father is he or she who here before men confesses CHRIST. Much has been said about the Atom Bomb, how powerful it is, and much is now being said about the H-Bomb, saying it is so much more powerful. Begin reading the 8th chapter of Rev. and read to the close of the 9th, and think on the power described in these chapters.

Down Your Alley

By A. F. H.

Mr. Edward Kessler, proprietor of Kessler Jewelers in Richmond, is a firm believer in the country newspaper—and especially ours—both as an advertising medium and as a means of disseminating valuable information to folks who live in the smaller communities.

When he offered to give the Signal a year to anyone in this county who would make a purchase of $10 or more from his store I was truly surprised, for it was the first time in my newspaper experience that any merchant had ever made such an offer.

If you will stop to think it is really a generous gesture on the part of Mr. Kessler and when I told him this and was convinced he that he sincerely desires to help us add more and more names to the Signal's ever-growing list.

Mr. Kessler's offer is a flattering one to us and a generous one to you. I don't want to say in the lower part of his advertisement on this page.

The seasons seem to be reversing themselves. We have been having March in January. In my yard Sunday I saw robins, jonquils and dandelions in bloom as well as hundreds of bees at work on the bush-honey-suckle. But Mother Nature may say, "here'll be some changes made."

The trouble with many community improvement schemes is that they depend, for success, upon a contribution from somebody designed to prevent everybody from working to a successful conclusion.

Kentucky On The March

By Ewing Galloway

Quoting Editor Clarence Martin of the Tompkinsville News about civic apathy in his town:

"Too many of our civic organization gatherings are a disgrace to our town and community rather than what they ought to be. This remark is in no way meant as any reflection on anyone of the 'chosen few' who do strive from week to week and month to month trying to make a better town and community for those who do not care enough for their community to get up after supper and come out to the meetings and join in with their fellowman in trying to promote and build our communities."

"When the monthly meetings of the Tompkinsville Chamber of Commerce are held, it could be no odd sight to see the courtroom packed with citizens, who are eager to help their town and community. Instead there is the little group of six to 15 interested citizens, who are broad-minded enough to want to see improvements, gathered there in the remote corners of the hall of justice, working and trying with all their might to lay plans for better things of the community, while the majority of the citizens make their shins or read the funnies."

"The Chamber of Commerce is no exception to the rule. There is the Lions Club, the P. A., the American Legion, the V. F. W., and possible other civic organizations whose purposes are so often defeated by lack of personal interest from those who should be for the uplifting of our communities."

My guess is that Editor Martin's picture fits two-thirds of the small cities and towns in Kentucky. Half of them, anyway. But wherever small groups meet there's hope, if the little groups are determined to get what they want. It sometimes takes almost a mob, zeal. Half a dozen respected Tompkinsville citizens, backed by the local newspaper, can in some cases accomplish more than 50 fall in line eventually. Certain-ly 100 when it comes to making a majority will.

For ten years Henderson has had what amounts to a one-man chamber of commerce—Leigh Harris, publisher of the Glen-ner and the Journal Harris says that when you want "to get something done, three are a Va.

The name Kentucky was first used officially by the State of Virginia. On December 6, 1776, Kentucky County was created out of Fincastle County, which was then a Va.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN touched the log cabin and it became the palace in which greatness was born. He forged a republic no power can tear asunder. His voice is recreated out of the past as we listen to his words of wisdom over the air waves. The spirit of Lincoln still lives and while it lives, America is safe.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Surprise Birthday Party Given

In honor of Martin Vanzandt a surprise birthday party was given in honor of Mr. Martin Vanzandt at his home in Poplar Gap, Feb. 4, in honor of his seventieth birthday. It was also the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Vanzandt. There the party was treated as a double featured occasion with the entire family present. Only seven grandchildren were absent.

Each of the family contributed to the bountiful dinner consisting of a twenty pound turkey and all the trimmings. An elegant cake of ample size graced the occasion. More than 40 persons were served. Mr. Vanzandt is the father of eleven living children. He was very fortunate to have them all present for the occasion. The Signal and their friends all join to wish him many more happy birthdays and he and Mrs. Vanzandt many more years together.

...to BETTER LIVING!

PROBABLY no other man in history did more to raise living standards in his lifetime than Thomas Alva Edison.

Through his invention of the incandescent lamp and his many other discoveries in the field of electricity, Edison brought better light and better electrical living to all the world.

Today, electricity is serving more people in more ways at lower cost than ever before. You have only to imagine life without electric service to realize what Edison's achievements have meant to mankind.

Small wonder then that Edison lives on in the hearts and minds of a grateful humanity. His genius has made life brighter and work lighter for everyone.
