The Road Ahead

By JOHN T. ELYNN

THE ROAD AHEAD

America's Creeping Revolution

The bait held out by the Socialists to the workers was the vision of a softer and more abundant life. But poverty has not been abolished. It has simply been distributed. A small minority have been benefited a little; the great majority have been grievously brought down. John Strachey, Minister of Food, boasted that the British people "are getting enough money to buy all the food they ought to have. Here is the permitted ration: one egg and a half a week, three ounces of butter, six ounces of margarine, one ounce of lard, one ounce of cheese, one ounce of bacon, eight ounces of sugar, six ounces of meat, two ounces of corned beef, one ounce of marmalade, and four years after the war ended."

The Socialists' great boast comes from the fact that they provide from the cradle to the grave. These begin before birth with prenatal care and cover medical care, the allowance, old-age retirement payments, unemployment insurance, allowances for widows and for families in need. The allowances, however, are meager. But thin as they are, these social services, along with the success of the nationalized industries and the cost of the bulging bureaucracy, are wrecking Britain's enervated economic structure.

Workers were led to believe that Socialism would end "wage slavery." But in fact the worker has now merely exchanged the old boss for a new one, the bureaucrat. The old boss might have been a tough fellow, but he usually was also a fairly decent human being. The new boss is a cold, impersonal, remote bureau.

No decision can be made on the job without an immense amount of paper work. The begins at the local office and moves small-like through various boards, sub-committees, regional boards and other bureaucratic nests up to London, and finally back through the same maze of petty bureaus.

Added to all this are the controls, which are worse than they were during the war. Regulations and amended regulations pour from the Ministry daily so voluminously that neither shopkeeper nor housewife can keep up with them. There were 30,000 regulations for infractions of the regulations in a single year.

The Socialist leaders declared recently that they would not interfere with the right of British working-men to choose their occupations. But adequate supply of labor and the work of workmen have not been forthcoming in the industries the government wishes to stimulate. The government had to enact a law which says that no man between the ages of 18 and 40, can change occupations at will. The Minister of Labor has the power to direct workers to the employment he considers best for the national interest. This law has been exercised upon occasion, and men have been put in jail for resisting it. This ruthlessness extends to the farm. Over the farmland head hangs a threat perhaps more serious than that applied to the industrial worker. Farmers are paid large subsidies to produce what the government wants them to raise, but there is a requisit inspection of every farm and a record kept of its produce. If the farmer falls short of what is expected of him the government can put a price upon his property, pay him for it and put him off the farm, which then passes into the hands of a government manager.

The British Socialist Planners who have done these things are not wicked men; they simply believe they know how to run the economy of an entire nation. They have now discovered that this cannot be done without applying compulsion to labor and farmers as well as to owners of industries.

One of the curses of this system is that nothing is called by an honest name. Words are used to deceive. Hatred practices, absorbed for ages by the people, are now identified by luminous words, while Socialist practices are tickled with odious names. The man who works in a privately owned factory is a wage slave. Socialism itself is never called Socialism; it is National Planning. Thrift is a vice until the government asks you to save and lend it money; then it becomes a virtue.

Socialists say that the most diabolical crime against society is profit. Private industry runs on profit and Socialists want to expand its production. Government industry runs at a loss and taxes the subscriber to the people to pay for its inefficiency. The greater crime against society? The British Socialists have been destroying freedom. This was made possible because they prophesied that the Socialist State, uniting the functions of political ruler, landlord and employer, would result in tyranny. This is what happened in Russia.

Today the British Socialist, faced with the problem of compelling citizens to comply with his plans, has turned to compulsion. The government has a monopoly of machinery for this. It can grant or withhold electric power, transportation and fuel—without which no man can operate a business. It can grant or withhold these.

The citizen's right to spend his income as he chooses is at stake. It is not only abolished, since the government takes so much of it in taxes that most people have only enough left to cover the bare necessities of life. It would be possible to fill a book with accounts, amusing and appalling, of the blunders of men who only plan the economy of an entire nation. In 1947 Minister of Shinwell, then Minister of Fuel and Power, ordered all electricity used for power shut off in the extensive industrial areas of London and the Midlands, leaving only the 75 percent of British industry.

The reason given was the shortage of coal. It would last, under the Minister, only two or three days. But it actually lasted three weeks, threw 2,000,000 people out of work and lost $400,000,000 in desperately needed export trade. Many predictions of the coal shortage had been made public. Why was no provision made against it by the Minister?

In 1946 Shinwell had foreseen there would be a coal shortage that year, so he suggested to Alfred Barnes, Minister of transport, that 1200 locomotives be converted to oil to effect a saving in coal. (Oil, being imported, is far more expensive than coal, and if 1200 locomotives had been converted this policy would have cost about $16,000,000 a year more for fuel.)

Barnes converted 93 locomotives on at a cost of $6,000,000. Then he inquired about getting oil—and discovered there was none to be converted for this purpose. The British Transport Commission reversed the plan. Barnes and Shinwell had on their hands 93 locomotives for which there was no oil, so the 93 were converted back to coal.

In January 1947 the great housing plan was proclaimed. The government would build 250,000 houses that year. Brick, cement, plumbing, nails, plaster, and materials were ordered, and factories went to work to produce them. All this was along when it was discovered that lumber could not be supplied for more than 60,000 houses, and that there was not only nearly enough lumber, but that the other materials were being furiously produced; mountains of bricks were rotting innumerable. The great plan fell short by 190,000 houses.

There is just a few samples we can match such failures among our American planners. When they occur, the planners, but the stupidity of the planners. But the fact that no man or small group of men, no matter how brilliant, can ever hope to comprehend the vast amount of data and the innumerable conditions which order have to be grasped in order to make such plans for a large industrial nation. It simply cannot be done.

In taking over the railroads, the coal industry and others, the Socialists bought the properties and stockholders owned them. They paid for them with British bonds paying three percent interest. With each new industry it takes over, the government adds another heavy obligation to its already crushing national debt. Fully of this lies in the fact that under the old order the stockholders had no claim for any return on the investment if the industry was not profitable. These bonds are now a fixed charge upon the government, and it must pay interest on them whether the industry makes a profit or not.

England is being taxed to death. For instance, a clerk with an income of $280 a year gets an additional deduction of $750 for his wife, and $480 for his two children. Total deductions, $1,760. This leaves $1940 of his income subject to visible taxation.

On the first $200 he pays $30
On the next 800 he pays $30
On the next $40 he pays $5
On the next $40 he pays $5
Total tax $70
A man with the same family and salary in the United States would pay $28 in visible taxes. If a worker goes to the pub for a glass of beer to forget his troubles, he pays a tax of 16 cents on the pint. Half of the 80 cents paid for a ticket to a movie goes to the government. The dark realities of the condition created by this founder Socialist regime have brought many a Socialist up with a jerk. Alfred Edwards, formerly a Socialist member of Parliament, declared: "I have renounced his party affiliation on the defects of the capitalist system. But we have seen the two systems side by side. The man who would still argue for Socialism is the means of finding our society of the defects of capitalism is blind indeed. (Naturally he was promptly expelled from the party.)"

In 1949 Lord Milverton, Labor Whip in the House of Lords renounced his party affiliation during the debate on steel. In a speech on the floor he declared, to quote the London Times, "I had had certain ideas, but had thought the Labor Party could deliver the goods. He was now appalled at the type of steel being delivered. He thought of participating in a crusade but found himself a camp-follower in the ranks of progress. The road on which they were traveling led to a precipice at the foot of which clearly emerged the totalitarian State." (To be continued next week)

City Council To Put Up New Signs To Slow Traffic

The City Council voted at a continued session February 21 to change the present highway signs at the city limits of Mt. Vernon pertaining to the speed limit.

It was decided that the old signs were inadequate or unnoticeable and were in a measure responsible for the high rate of speed some tourists have been coming through the congested area.

The council ordered that new signs be set up reading, "We Love Our Children" and "20 Miles Per Hour-Enforced," to replace the old ones.

Two tourists, J. Sparks and Carl Shalte, both from Ohio, had been arrested Sunday by Sheriff Arthur Payne and taken to the county jail.

It is thought the new signs will do much to prevent a recurrence of these incidents.

At this meeting other business was taken up including the purchase from the L. & N. Railroad of the right for a crossing just south of the Kentucky State's road.

The crossing has been permitted.

1. Of course, I know you have been thinking about the low prices for which you would sell when it takes about all you get for your eggs to pay for the feed. However, we can't quit doing it with the hope that the average price of eggs will be higher before long. The farm family must have something to eat and chickens and eggs play a big part in furnishing a complete diet, so let's go ahead with about the usual amount of churning, creaming, etc.

2. Have you placed your chick order? Buy three chicks for each pullet wanted this fall. Don't only quality chicks from a reliable source, but make sure they don't waste your money on cheap chicks.

Remember it takes February 1st to 1950 will be discussed; and information will be given concerning the newest varieties of burley tobacco fall and winter. WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

British Laborites Face Major Tests; Lewis, Miners Clash With Old foe; U.S. to Continue Egg-Price Support

Truman for Strauss

AN INTERESTING DEVELOPMENT has taken place inside the atomic energy commission, wherein President Truman is reportedly considering the nomination of the new chairman, replacing David Lilienthal.

The Republican is Adm. Lewis Strauss, wartime secretary to Herbert Hoover and a member of the Wall Street firm of Kohn, Loeb, & Co. Strauss was formerly in the commission regarding the hydrogen bomb—Strauss being for the new bomb, Lilienthal being against it.

Feeling between the two men has been strained, and the President—instead of siding with the Democratic side—Lilienthal has backed up Republican Strauss regarding the H-bomb, and now is even considering him for chairman.

One reason for Truman's sudden coolness toward Lilienthal has been the fear that his negative ideas on the hydrogen bomb, as used by Moscow and used as a phony peace offensive. That was why Truman was so opposed to Lilienthal's idea of going to Moscow to make a deal with the Russians.

Truman feels, as the result of many attempted agreements with Moscow, that the effectiveness of this kind would be as profitable as a Missouri bond dog baying at the moon.

Recently, the Washington Post has noted the Russians have started a new and phony peace offensive. On January 20, at the very same time Moscow had initiated a new blockade in Germany. Prof. Eurausinsky put out the following peace overtures on the Moscow radio: "Comrade Stalin pointed out that peaceful cooperation between the capitalist world and the Soviet Union remains in the future. The possibility of peace cooperation does not only not diminish, but can even increase. The proposal to conclude a pact of friendship between the U.S.S.R. and the United States, as well as the proposal of a pact of the five great powers for the purpose of cooperating in the peace-loving foreign policy of the U.S.S.R."

"In its international policy the U.S.S.R. is guided by the principle of the possibility of the lasting coexistence of two social systems—the socialist and capitalist systems. The whole of the foreign policy of the U.S.S.R. bears testimony to the fact that it is not swerving acting as the partisan of peaceful relations with all those countries which in their turn desire to cooperate for the best of the world."

'Oleo' Day The day after he was unanimously confirmed by the senate, Oscar Chapman, the popular new secretary of the interior, got some good-natured ribbing at the cabinet meeting.

Asked President Truman quizzically, "How does it happen you go through so easily?" he replied, "I've even Republicans made speeches praising you."

Chief Chapman: "A very simple explanation, Mr. President—the senate passed the oleo bill just before it took up my nomination. Oleo greased the way."

BRITAIN:

Warning Sounded

The pledge of Anthony Eden, British deputy Conservative leader, and who Winston Churchill and other party bigwigs in the cabinet, is hoping to overthrow the Labor party, that the Conservatives will work with all nations for peace, might have meant more than it indicated.

EDEN, being the astute world diplomat that he is, must know the danger of an element within the United States, who feel that there must be a further step in the way for the Labor party in England.

With the Laborites' position often regarded as the fostering of socialism, the conservative people everywhere fear "it" has been an amazing thing to most students of world history, how the British, traditionally jealous of their liberties, ever permitted the imposition of this kind of government.

IT IS APPARENTLY assured that whatever the outcome, the Labor party faces its severest test in today's election. A reduction of Eden warned, in the first broadcast of a Conservative speech in London, that the "United Nations is at its lowest ebb, the democracies are forced to pay dearly for armaments, and the nightmare of communism stalks through Asia."

He made a telling point in recalling that the Labor party has been in power, it has not returned to power, it has not returned with the Russians because of its Socialist ideology—Eden declared, "I have never known of a government that has come from bad to worse since this."

OPPOSITION SPEAKER Laborite Fuel Minister Hugh Gaitskell, addressed an audience at Leeds that the cost of socialism was high in Britain, and would remain high, because of the "red" cost of labor because under the Labor government acute poverty has really been abolished.

That was a debatable point about which the argument continued while Britain voted.

EGG PRICES:

No Humpty Dumpty

The American egg situation had no chance to rise the nursery Humpty Dumpty story, inasmuch as federal price supports were fixed at the level of $1.25 per dozen.

THE GOVERNMENT, which already owns some 100 million dollars worth of eggs intended to keep on buying them through March of this year, at a price to support the price at an average of 55 cents a dozen on the farm.

Thundering Again

Like a stuck Victrola record or an old movie constantly re-showing, John L. Lewis, mine union czar, was in the news again, this time with another coal strike on the boards.

Lewis gestures as he appears before the conference table during contract renewal talks which broke down.

PIT MEN:

An Old Fo

An old and hated enemy was again at grips with John L. Lewis and his United Mine workers. After a delay which brought him sharp criticism, President Harry Truman had turned to the device he declares he hates in order to bring order out of the coal strike chaos.

THESE WERE MANY who had begun to wonder if Mr. Truman—known for the stubbornness he employs when he takes a stand—would return to the T-H law to resolve the mine deadlock. Now that he has, it would cause much delight in the ranks of the political opposition.

The T-H law, however regarded, has been used several times in national emergencies with an effect that gives it a real cache of respect, whether anyone likes it or not.

The miners, however, showed defiance in that they refused to accept the traditional refrain: "No contract—no work." And it looked like a contract agreement was far off as the three-maned board of inquiry who would attempt to restore peace in the T-H law.

TO THE BOARD, President Truman named David L. Cole, Patterson N. J., attorney who headed a board which had settled a bitter contract row between Lewis and the operators; John Dunlop, Harvard university built school, and a veteran labor management relations; and W. Willard Wirtz, Northwestern union chairman of the wage stabilization board.

These would be the difficult job, because John L. Lewis was a difficult man to deal with. He might be even more difficult since his three-day work week had reduced the nation's coal stockpile to a two-week supply at the time of the strike.

RED H-BOMB:

Terrific Echo

There was a sudden and dramatic interruption in all the talk about the hydrogen- or H-bomb. Just as everyone was pondering the fate of the atom which the Russian weapon might be loosed, along came a report that the Russians had already had it.

POLITICS:

Sound & Fury

The sound and fury of the upcoming congressional elections was increasing in volume. If the Republicans attempt to make it they had found their issue: "Liberty against Socialism."

HOWEVER, it appeared the one-old GOP was running into the same old trouble—inability to get along. The "one top" element, while pretending its collective will, has been a theless chomping at the bit when called upon to embrace a more liberal attitude.

In an 11-day closed meeting, members of the Republican national committee and house and senate Republicans attempted to iron out their differences. They had hoped that a proposed statement of "principles and objectives" would serve to unify the party and serve as a basic platform for the campaign electioneering.

Particular condemnation of the bi-partisan policy, but sharply criticized the action of it. Particular condemnation of the "secret agreements" at Yalta and Potsdam.

Denunciation of any socialized health program, wage and price control, and a balanced budget and repeal of wartime excise taxes.

FOREIGN AID:

Bottomless Pit?

The question of whether the United States ever would be freed of the burden of supplying economic aid to Europe was beginning to occupy the minds of many U.S. citizens.

With more than eight billion dollars already spent on efforts to build European recovery—that's on the basis of released figures—and the astronomical figures were becoming more astounding.

The Marshall plan is supposed to end in 1952, but the follower of U.S. aid to Europe was beginning to ask for another four or five billion for the next two years.

The apparent situation indicated that all the aid supporters had to do in one fell swoop was to request "European aid to be reported 'amazing progress' by the foreign nations on the road to recovery, and immediately terminate the aid."

By this time, with crisis mauling on crisis because of the imminence of the H-bomb and word that Russia already had it, it logically may be expected that there will be found multiple reasons for continuance of aid to Europe to an extent which no man can see the end.

The Double Battle

MICKEY WALKER, the toy ball dog of other years, has just laid aside his brush, canvas, easel and whatever else goes with painting a picture.

The embattled heavyweight who fought such heavyweights as Jack Sharkey and Max Schmeling, has been an artist for some time. Mickey even painted "moods" and "visions" as well as landscapes and seascapes.

Grantland Rice still belongs to the past. Mickey has been just 11 years since Mickey absorbed anything resembling alcohol, which is a good, solid seat on the good old car.

"My biggest thrill," he said, "was to meet an evening. I spent with a fellow by the name of Harry Greb. It was a long after the fact, starting in the ring around 11 o'clock, winding up around daybreak."

"I'd heard Greb hadn't been training right. In fact he staged a visit to a restaurant I was managing a little. It was an act. I was dead sure I could beat him. He was just as sure he could beat me. I knew after the first round that the first round that I was in for a stormy night. Greb was in perfect condition. His act had been phony."

"He almost knocked me out in the second round. I almost stopped in the third. But he was a dead Genie Tunney. Neither one of us wasted two seconds. We threw all the punches we carried and I knew Greb carried a lot. He was fast and strong and tough. He was only a dangerous puncher when he got the better of me."

"I was in at 148 and Greb was around 160. He had too much punch for me. He was a real round that I had little chance to win. But we kept on punching to the final bell."

"It was a great fight," Mickey said. "But I liked our new one better, that same night. I lost the first one and I think I won the second. 'Til that fight, both of us were 'A's'."

The Second Fight

"After the fight Doc Kearns and I dropped into Duffey's Old Tavern. I heard someone call my name. It was Greb. So I went over and sat down at a table later on that night, leaving only Harry and myself. By that time my right eye was swollen and itchy and swollen. We became great friends and as I saw we drank didn't hurt us any."

Not Always

Sonny had read many fairy tales but apparently had never realized, until now that most of them began: "Once upon a time..."

"Do all of them begin that way?" he asked his mother. "Why, no," she replied, "sometimes you hear a telephone ring and when you answer it you hear a voice say, 'Sorry, dear, but the boss called, surprise meeting at the last minute.'"

'Charter Member'

It was decided by the members of a humane society to rent a store window and put in an exhibit of wild furred animals to aid them in their campaign against the ruthless killing of the creatures. It was a grand exhibit and was spotted only by a man who insisted upon getting in amongst the stuffed animals.

"I'm long in there," he insisted. "At first they thought he was in the English Channel."

The Questions

FIRST AID TO THE AILING HOUSE

Leaky Porch Floor QUESTION: My cellar goes under the front porch and the porch floor leaks. The cellar also is cold at that spot. What would be the best way to seal the wood porch floor and to insulate under the floor? I was thinking about using a gypsum board as insulation. Would that insulate against cold?

ANSWER: To make the wood porch floor leakproof, cover it with a roofing canvas, then paint it with a good-quality floor paint. If insulation is desired, use a blanket or batt type of insulation between the floor joists on the underside of the porch floor.

Farm Shop Layout Adds More Space More Equipment Added As Skill Is Increased

The shop layout, sketched by Harold E. Givins, New York teacher of vocational agriculture, includes spaces for more equipment than most farmers plan to put in their shops; but he has observed, he says, that farmers rapidly obtain more equipment as they become skilled in handling their own repair and construction work.

In describing the farm shop in the book, "Welding Helps for Farmers," published by the James Lincoln Arc Welding foundation, Cleveland, Ohio, states that this plan is the result of many years of experience in working in and examining many farm shops, and makes the following suggestions: For storage space, make overhead benches. The walls can be used to hang other tools where they can easily be seen and reached. The heating stove is placed in the corner near the smokestack provided for the forge. The entire right side of this shop plan is for tractors and trucks. This is a handy chain hoist for raising machinery overhead and setting large overhead doors. The air compressor and the welder are close to the outside door so that fresh air can be drawn in and machines can be welded without having to drive into the shop. The arc welder should have sufficient welding cable to reach well over the repair area.

The combination of an arc welder, an acetylene torch, a blacksmith's forge, a heavy-duty grinder, a drill press, and a metal lathe are all included in this shop and are grouped together. The grinder and drill press are installed on a supporting post, allowing the grinding wheel and lathe to be moved in and out of the shop. The pipe vise is attached to another supporting post.

Safety Shield May End Power Line Accidents It is beginning to appear that the end of power line accidents may be approaching faster than anyone believed, for manufacturers of farm equipment are now producing power line safety shields that cannot be removed when the shaft is in operation.

These shields may be opened for servicing and inspection of the power shaft, but they cannot be removed unless the operator goes to work in a slow, controlled manner or a chisel-and-nobody expects that to happen.

For many years the manufacturers of farm machinery have been providing shields for power lines, but many farmers have failed to use them with a shield in place despite the fact that rapidly-revolving power take-off shafts are a never-present hazard.

Fertilizer Shortage Seen As Imminent This Spring Farmers cannot buy all the fertilizer they want when they want it during the coming spring, according to H. J. Hoffa, superintendent of the Missouri fertilizer inspection service. He explained that the fertilizer industry is geared to furnish farmers a much-fertilizer as they want for the 1950 crops. It has run out of stocks early. Industry has run out of stocks early.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Here are Easily Made Appetizers! (See Recipes Below)

Appetizing Tricks WHAT'S MORE FUN before a dinner party than an attractive tray of appetizers to help the conversation to a smooth start? Some hostesses like to prepare these tidbits before guests arrive so they'll have a few minutes before dinner begins to spend with their company; others have the fixings handy so folks can make their own. No matter how simple these tidbits are, they can be most attractive, and easily made if you keep a well stocked canned foods shelf. Serve with them some heated or chilled tomato juice or ice cold pineapple juice, and you'll be giving your friends a really royal welcome.

Many of the items pictured on the tray above can be made ahead of time and kept chilled until a few moments before guests arrive. Some will require broiling just before serving.

Olives: Spear tiny cubes of sharp cheese with toothpicks and top with stuffed olives. Place these into a large grapefruit as a centerpiece for your tray, if desired. Here are other ways with olives: wrap stuffed olives in half slices of bacon and broil until bacon is crisp. Or, spread olives with deviled ham, roll in minced parsley and slice each with a toothpick. Serve with a bowl of ripe olives, just as they are, with other appetizers.

TOAST IS THE BASIS for many of the delicious canapes that are to be served hot. These may be prepared in advance, then popped into the oven a few minutes before serving.

Toasted Ham Canapes (Makes 15-20) 1 cup ground boiled ham 1/2 cup grated cheese 1/4 teaspoon horseradish 1/4 teaspoon prepared mustard 1/2 cup condensed tomato soup 5 slices bread, toasted Mix first five ingredients together. Toast bread, slice and cut each slice into three or four strips. Spread with ham mixture, then toast under broiler until browned.

IF YOU PLAN to wait an hour or so before serving dinner, choose somewhat larger canapes, or fill your guests. For such an occasion, rolls, tiny, but of course somewhat larger than toast pieces, are ideal: Crisp Rolls (Serves 8) 4 long crisp rolls 1 cup minced, cooked chicken 6 tablespoons India relish 4 drops Worcestershire sauce 4 drops Worcestershire dressing 1/4 teaspoon grated onion 1/2 teaspoon salt 5 stuffed olives, sliced Cut off ends two inches long from the rolls. Remove soft center from ends and fill hollow with mixture of remaining ingredients. Slice the stuffed olives and place on each roll. Serve with toothpicks. These rolls may also be filled with egg salad.

LYNN SAYS: Lettuce Fruits, Juices Have Many Uses To get a beautiful glaze for fruit tarts such as cherry and strawberry, use lettuce sprout juice. Roll down 1 cup of the juice with 1/4 cup of sugar until thick. Spoon over tarts while still warm. Combinations of several fruit juices may be used successfully for glazing and flavoring baked ham. Use any of the following: cranberry, peach, apricot, pineapple, pear or apple.

IF YOU'RE HAVING a large crowd and don't think you can keep the appetizer trays filled well enough, then serve a bowl of these cheese snacks on the table while you are filling trays: Cheese Snacks 1/2 cup puffed rice 1/2 cup melted butter or substitute 5 drops tabasco sauce 1/2 cup minced American cheese Measure rice into a shallow pan and heat moderate (350°) oven for 10 minutes. Place in a large bowl. Melt butter, cool and add tabasco sauce, paprika and grated cheese. Slowly pour over rice, mixing well so that all kernels are coated. Serve at once.

THAT SETTLED IT! "Hello, Jim. I heard you were dead!" Jim—"They did say I was dead, but it was another man. I knew it wasn't me as soon as I heard of it."

ANOTHER EASY IDEA to use is to prepare several well seasoned butters and to place these in bowls to spread as they are eaten: Shrimp Butter 1 cup butter or substitute 1 cup minced, cooked shrimp 1/4 teaspoon salt Dash of paprika 1 tablespoon lemon juice Cream butter and mix with shrimp. Add seasonings and blend. Ham Butter 1/2 cup butter 1/2 pound cooked ham, ground fine 2 hard-cooked eggs, ground fine Dash of pepper 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard Cream butter and add remaining ingredients. Mix thoroughly. Olive Butter 1/2 cup butter 2 tablespoons chopped olives 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice Cream butter until fluffy and mix olives and lemon juice to blend. Lettuce butter with brown sugar and butter and bake for 10 minutes in a hot oven. Serve as a sweet relish with a meat course.

Leftover peaches and pears may be combined and placed in a baking dish. Dot with brown sugar and butter and bake for 10 minutes in a hot oven. Serve as a sweet relish with a meat course. Leftover halves of cooked fruit may be brushed with oil and broiled to garnish meat loaf or roast. Combine leftover canned fruits and serve with whipped cream over freshly baked gingerbread or as topping for sponge cake. This makes a delicious dessert!

Letters to The Editor

Mr. A. F. Hoffman, Editor The Mount Vernon Signal Mt. Vernon, Ky.

Dear Mr. Hoffman: You are to be congratulated on your stand against parking meters in Mt. Vernon. I am sure I speak most of the business men of Mt. Vernon.

Section 87.160 page 596 of Kentucky revised Statutes states "No person shall be eligible to hold office of mayor or councilman unless he is a property owner in the city."

Section 87.200 provides "The members of the city council may receive such compensation as is fixed by ordinance not exceeding two dollars for each regular meeting attended by them and the mayor such compensation as is fixed by ordinance not exceeding seventy five dollars per annum."

I am told that your city council draws seven dollars per meeting, and that they meet very often that the salary of the city clerk is $300.00 per year plus fifty cents for each privilege or license issued. If this be true our town is in a bad way for city officials, it seems some of overhead should be stopped, then with the revenue received by the city we could possibly operate on our income without such things as parking meters and other obnoxious charges that are running people out of town faster than the business men can bring them in by good will and special inducements to encourage people to spend their money in Mt. Vernon.

Neither do I believe it is right for a speed trap to operate in Mt. Vernon, fining people on Sunday $21.50 on each charge and collecting in this fine five dollars for a city attorney who resides and practices law in Somerset, and is not in the town except on special occasions to collect his part. Why not leave the parking meters to the property owners and business people of Main street where they are to be installed. I am sure if this procedure were followed there would never be a parking meter on Main street.

Let's play fair with everyone, neighbor or stranger: quit the fee grabbing and try to build a bigger and better Mt. Vernon. Again congratulating you on your stand against parking meters, I am,

Yours very truly, FRED BAKER

BIBLE FACTS ABOUT BAPTISM

By L. E. Kineman, Pastor

Mt. Vernon Christian Church There has long been religious controversies on the matter of baptism in a person's salvation. There has been a difference of opinion on its significance and mode, but opinions are not valid in God's work, we must let the Scriptures speak for themselves. It appears that the subject is of greatest importance and we would not have so many references to its practice by the early Apostles. I would like for you to take note of the following Scripture references, and study them carefully in your Bible. First of all, Jesus walked from Nazareth to the river Jordan to be baptized of John to fulfill all righteousness (Mark 1:9). Much water is required in baptism (John 3:23). Baptism requires "going down into the water and coming up out of the water" as was in the case of Phillip and the Eunuch (Acts 8:36-39). Baptism represents a burial and a resurrection and I quote from Paul's letter to the Roman Church: "Are ye ignorant that all we who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death?"

death? We were buried there with him through baptism into death, that like as Christ was raised from the dead... so we also might walk in newness of life" (Romans 6:3,4). Thus New Testament Baptism includes seven things: 1. "Water," 2. "Much water," 3. "Going down to the water," 4. "Going down to the water," 5. "A burial," 6. "A resurrection," 7. "Coming up out of the water." All of this would certainly call for immersion into Christ Jesus. The literal translation of the Greek word baptizo means "Dip, plunge, submerge, immerse or wash." Our English word "baptize" is a translation of the word rather than a translation. Next week we will discuss the importance of baptism in relation to the remission of sins.

HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD

By G. W. Murphy

HOW HONEST ARE YOU?

"Whoever, therefore, shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the Kingdom of Heaven, Matt. 5:19.

A great many people are careful about breaking large commandments and committing grave sins, but they continually and without scruple do little things. They would not tell direct that there is a word, but their speech is full of little falsehoods. They would not take money from the pocket or drawer of another, and yet they commit small thefts, such as for instance the merchant by mistake gives too much change, you keep it, console yourself, "Oh well he made plenty off of me anyway." You notice the weights and if it's over a few ounces never say to him don't rob yourself and sometimes by carelessness of a postal official the stamp is not cancelled, and you take it off and use it again because you think it doesn't matter. The government will never know the difference. That's right the postoffice deputies will never know about it, but what about your children seeing you do it? Maybe dad called for the little boy to hand him the muzzle so he could make it stick. Make folks would not blunder a neighbor's name or destroy his character, yet they will repeat to others the evil whispers about him, that some unkind friend has said, and by this teaching other men they soil his reputation. Lots of old fellows wouldn't cuss or swear (You know what I mean) but they will use all of the words that is so close a kin to down right cussing every body knows what you mean. I miss heard that there is a member of a church close around here, that several have heard him take the name of God in vain, get mad and rave like I believe all sinners do. Some folks would not take a drink, unless he was behind closed doors and then have a pocket full of breath-killers to eat. Yet they say "I'm going to heaven. Well Jesus said you would be the least one there if you do go. Come be with me at church and Sunday School. I will appreciate it so much, and will not hurt you, but do my best to help you. God bless you, Amen.
