OUR Opportunity Day Gift For SAT., APR. 29th Will be a $5.00 Bill. We don't know what it's worth. Some economists say about $3.00; others say more, or less. It's hard to say. Guess it just depends upon how badly a fellow needs it, and where he spends it. Take it to most other countries and you can get a bushel basket full of money for it. Spend it in our store and see if you don't think it is still worth a full $5.00 in value. Tell you what we'll do. We think a lot of that $5.00 bill. We hardly ever give one away and we'd like to get it back. Bring it back to our store, with a receipt from Smokey Ward, showing that it's the right one. We'll allow you $10.00 for it, in trade or credited to your account! We'll even do better than that, darn it! We need that $5.00 bill as badly as you do, if not worse. If you just won't spend it with us, nor pay it on account, WE'LL PAY YOU $10.00 CASH FOR IT! That's our limit, though. If anyone else wants it worse than that, let him have it. Drainage. Drainage of wet land is a good conservation practice. Many times wet land could be the most productive land on the farm if the surplus water were removed.

Tuesday night, March 28, was our band concert and a very large program was prepared. There was a large crowd present and everyone enjoyed the program.

The band is fully over now - no more for a long time in our final class. Sophomores are champs and they try to keep it from you either.

Mr. Charles Machal, Mt. Vernon Cleaner, came out Monday night to give a demonstration of the cleaning process to the Science class. It was very interesting and we all enjoyed it.

At the end of the year now, you have all bought magazine subscriptions, seen shows at the school and gone to basketball games. You are just a little away from the end of the year. Let's all try a little harder there will be two more shows sponsored by Seniors, the Junior play - Cracked Nuts, which will be April 7, and the senior play - Grandad Steps Out. The Seniors will be going to Washington and we can all sit back and relax until next year. Let's all cooperate with the school and make more and we the class of 1950 promise to when we are alumni.

Coal Operators Hint at Price Hike; Britain Faces New Economic Crisis; Federal Tax Reduction Poses Puzzle

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of its members.)

COAL:

The 'Payoff'

The "payoff" in the recent coal strike settlement was coming more quickly than was usually the case in the settling of these disputes.

ANNOUNCEMENT came in the form of a statement by a spokesman for the soft coal operators that they are now in preparation of a 10 to 40 cents a ton increase on the price of coal.

When the United Mine Workers long strike against the industry was settled recently, operators foresaw a price increase.

However, discussion of the price hike indicated there would be no blanket increase. Rather, the boost would vary according to the financial situation and contract commitments of individual firms.

One official was quoted as saying: "If it (the increase) only amounts to 10 cents a ton, the retailer should be able to absorb it. But if it goes any higher, it will hurt the price of coal."

BRITAIN: Another Crisis

Great Britain truly had fallen on its times. Barely escaping one financial crisis after another, the word was that the nation was facing another financial-economic crisis in 1949—just as she did in 1948 and 1948.

THE DAY had passed when Americans could say to each other: "So what—what has happened to the British? For the fact was that because of U.S.-British economic-financial ties stemming from the early Franklin D. Roosevelt era, the door opened to Britain economically or financially should be expected to happen to the U.S.

The reason was that in any such crisis there was no one but the U.S. to whom the British could turn for help.

THE problem, as British leaders viewed it, was that although Britain's production is about as high as it can go in the near future, it does not yield enough exports to meet pressing British problems.

ONE OF THESE is the need to increase sales of the country's goods to earn more dollars and solve Britain's current inability to pay for the goods she must get from the United States.

TAX CUTS: A Problem

Cynical observers of congressional tax-cut maneuvering might be forgiven a "so what" reaction to the announcement that while Democrats had thrown out President Truman's limitations on excise tax slashes, they promised to dig up other revenue to balance the losses.

TO THE AVERAGE taxpayer that must seem to be a senseless business. What was the point in abolishing one type of taxes and levying another? Excise taxes affected almost every one in the nation, and the substitute for a slash there—tightening up of tax loopholes and "such other taxes"—could be deemed feasible—would most likely affect a majority of taxpayers.

That "other such taxes as may be deemed feasible," was the clincher that cut off any relief taxpayers might have had through a slash in the excise levies.

President Truman has threatened to veto the excise tax cut if the bulk of this revenue is to be made up by other sources. With developments as they were, it appeared certain that there would be no excise tax reductions before July 1.

Accused

Dorothy Kenyon, named by U.S. Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R., Wis.) as first on the list of alleged "fellow-travelers," or Communists, in the state department, is a 40-year-old member of the economic and social council of the U.S. commission to the United Nations.

ACHESON: Roped Again

Tall, debonair Dean Acheson, U.S. secretary of state, was under fire again. He was charged, among other accusations, with trying to "shift the blame" in defending the alleged loyalty-suspect cases Senator McCarthy (R., Wis.) has been airing on Capitol Hill.

SINCE ACHESON spoke his now-famous remark that "I will not turn my back on Alger Hiss," following the latter's conviction of perjury in question with treason charges, Acheson has been under fire on the part of the department of state to deliver their verbal blows.

This time, McCarthy charged three key state department assets as having shown Communist sympathies and demanded investigation into any civil servant whom he described as working on "top-most defense secrets."

He charged that the state department harbored men and women of Communist leanings or sympathies is not a new one. It has been cropped in the past—what he termed as "top-most defense secrets."

ATTLEE: Doing Okay

To the surprise of most observers, England's so-called "shaky" Labor government has survived two major tests of strength in parliament.

FOLLOWING the election, Clement Attlee's Labor party had a bare majority of parliament seats, it was predicted the victory margin was so slight that the government might crumble—that a new election was practically inevitable.

While it had seemed that the Labor forces were to trim down their nationalization program before the House of Commons, these new victories might reshape the pattern of intent. For example, following triumph on the housing bill, the Health Ministry, which ministry administers the housing program, declared...

CURVES: In or Out?

The matter of whether milday's curves were to be played down or accentuated in his spring fashions was a subject of no little controversy among designers.

TRUMAN: Costly Flight

Republicans, sniping at President Truman, declared that he, as a private citizen, "is one of the best, if not the best pilot man in the world today."

Figures lendings themselves to many artifices, the gentleman in chief, at a statement, Rep. Roy O. Woodruff of Michigan figured it out this way:

PRIVATE CITIZEN to match the standard of living now enjoyed by the President would need an income of three to three and a half million dollars a year.

Mr. Truman has take-home pay of $110,000 a year out of his salary, $50,000 of which is taxable.

He has an estimated staff of 650 persons at an annual cost of $1,091,500. He has a travel allowance of $33,000 to $40,000.

THE Representative Woodruff listed the costs of the yacht, the President's personal plane, his private railroad car, a destroyer escort, a private Pullman car and "vacation retreats" in Key West, Fla., and Maryland.

ELECTIONS: Certainty & Doubt

A graphic contrast between choices by electorates, in Communist and other countries, was provided in the Russian and Belgian elections. In Russia, there was no choice.

Stalin and associates campaigned in a pledge of following a policy of peace. The Russians elected a new parliament of 1,302 members.

IN BELGIUM the situation was quite different. The issue was: Should King Leopold III be returned to the throne? Fifty-seven per cent of the voters said he should, a fact which must have been comforting to Leopold, inasmuch as he had vowed to abdicate unless he received 55 per cent of the vote.

However, the victory at the polls didn't mean Leopold was back on the throne. Fifty-seven per cent of the voters said he should, a fact which must have been comforting to Leopold, inasmuch as he had vowed to abdicate unless he received 55 per cent of the vote.

THE crux of the election was some 151,000 invalided veterans, these were counted, the result would give Leopold only 54 per cent of the votes and he would have to act on the basis of a minority of votes to receive the 55 per cent he had mentioned.

IN times of peace, vast quantities of blood are lost for people undergoing major surgery, for accident victims, for children, for the aged, for sufferers from anemia or other blood diseases. Research has already uncovered the fact that one pint of blood which formerly helped only one person can now be broken down into fractions which may provide treatment for a dozen or more cases.

While the whole country is not yet covered by the network of Red Cross blood centers, every community is sleeping benefits from the program through the blood fractions, or derivatives, which it provides.

I have learned that one of these fractions, has been distributed to every state of the union to prevent or lessen the dangers of complications which sometimes follow measles, such as pneumonia, some types of sleeping sickness, milder infection, and heart impairment.

'I Was Tremendously Impressed'

"I was tremendously impressed with the progress of the Red Cross blood program. I am intensely interested in this program. It is one of the most important of the Red Cross' modern efforts and it is of vital importance in the event of major disasters. I am certain that its national importance is not yet fully understood.

SERVICE IN PEACE AND WAR

Red Cross 'National Blood Program' Called Just as Important Now in Defense, Security As It Was as a Survival Factor in Wartime

By General George C. Marshall

MILLIONS of Americans are familiar with the nationwide blood donor service of the American Red Cross during the war because most of them made a personal contribution to the nation's blood. They know that their donations saved the lives of many soldiers and sailors.

Now however, we are aware that wartime service has been revived and expanded by the Red Cross. Now it is called the "national blood program."

It is a program that is just as important today for our defense and security as it was during the war when it was a major factor in our survival.

Immunum serum globulin, a blood derivative used to modify or prevent measles, is being used here on a two-year-old girl following her exposure to the disease. More than two million vials of serum have been distributed since 1944 by Red Cross to physicians throughout the nation.

Another blood derivative is said to be invaluable in treatment of shock, burns, and certain kidney and liver ailments, and there still are others now in use or being clinically tested for future availability. Most of this fractionation, it has been done with surplus war plasma returned to the Red Cross by the army and navy. In one case, a ship that had been sunk in Manila Bay was raised and the plasma aboard was found to be in satisfactory condition for this fractionation.

But today this supply is about exhausted. Therefore, the national blood program is being stepped up to meet this special need.

It is estimated that a donation of one pint of blood from one out of every 25 American adults, would meet the nation's normal demand for whole blood and blood fractions.

People have asked me why the Red Cross does not require pin-point recipients or family. To demand replacement is kind, rather than replenishment, or to make any charge whatever for blood which has been so freely given, would be a departure from the basic Red Cross principle of helping people solely on the basis of need.

IKE GIVES THE PRESS A HINT

General Dwight D. Eisenhower, who commanded American forces in Europe during the last war and now serves as the President of Columbia University, recently told a group of student journalists that the newspapers of the nation have highlighted our problems "so much that I've stopped reading them."

We doubt if the General is to be taken literally but it would be a good idea for those who publish newspapers to weigh his words. The successful newspaper, in the long run, must retain the confidence of its readers. Once the columns are filled with speculative nonsense, propaganda and "expert" trash, the day of doom is approaching for the press.

"CONFUSION" IS MENTAL

It is quite common to hear so-called educational experts declare that the educational system of the United States is "in hopeless confusion."

What these critics means is that the schools are too dogmatic in their teaching. The curriculum has been broadened to embrace fields of thought in which mathematical certainty has not yet been attained. The experts, we think, are in greater confusion than the schools.

These critics apparently lose sight of the fact that intelligent thinking cannot occur in any intellectual field that is already closed. When the entire truth is asserted, there is no room for further instruction and no need for additional thinking.

A textbook on economy, for example, may not explain the workings of the gold standard throughout the world, or the exact relation between the supply of money and the prices of commodities, but this does not mean that the study of economics is absurd. Neither does it necessarily imply "hopeless confusion." It may be the result of utter frankness which is a necessary prerequisite to the discovery of absolute truth.

So far as we are concerned, we believe a student will get more out of attending a school which frankly faces the questions of the hour in an exploratory manner than from a school where all the answers are known by the teachers and rammed down the students' throats. If this last process can be considered education in any sense of the word, there is little use in spending immense sums for public education.

Fertilizer Called 'Good Buy,' Liberal Use Urged To Beat High Fixed Costs and Lower Crop Prices

COMMERCIAL fertilizer is an "excellent buy" and should be applied liberally to responsive crops to beat the squeeze of high fixed costs and lower farm prices, according to Ed Longnecker, Michigan State College soil specialist. Longnecker pointed out that in the present period of declining farm prices, residues be returned to the soil, efficiency is vital if reasonable farm profits are to be obtained. This can be accomplished, he said, only if soil productivity is maintained or increased economically.

He recommended several steps to good soil management. First, he advised eliminating crops from land where such crops grow poorly. He advised, too, that a soil test be made of each field at least once during the crop rotation. The results of these tests can be considered in planning the fertilizer program.

Fertilizer should be applied to responsive feed crops such as oats, barley, wheat and alfalfa and to corn when grown on well suited land; also to responsive cash crops, particularly potatoes, sugar beets and wheat. As cash crop prices decline, such acreage should be reduced and the acreage of productive sod crops increased, he said.

Longnecker recommended adding fertilizer to permanent pastures to increase production. This is particularly important on poorly drained mineral soils and muck soils. He also suggested eliminating excess tillage that adds expense and increases crop production costs per acre. Michigan tests have shown that plowing, leveling and packing will

Fertilizer Bought Now Can Be Safely Stored On Farm Until Spring

BUYING fertilizer now and storing it on your farm this winter is one sure way of having on hand all the plant food you need for the 1950 crop season, the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee points out.

Agricultural economists say such a procedure is particularly advisable right now in view of prospects for a big demand for fertilizer in 1950. U. S. Department of Agriculture indicates there may be a rise of from 10 to 25 per cent in the 1950 demand for plant food. So it is important to act promptly if you want to be certain of having plant food when you want it.

Good quality fertilizer can be satisfactorily stored on farms during the winter. It can be kept in good condition until spring planting time. If a few simple precautions are followed, Dr. H. B. Cheney, extension agronomist of Iowa State College, offers these suggestions on winter storage:

1—Store fertilizer sacks only in a barn or some other dry building that has flooring off the ground; 2—If you have to use earth or concrete floors, stack fertilizer bags on a crib of blocks and boards; 3—Keep the piles close together, if sacks are of burlap. This will reduce the circulation of air from which fertilizer may soak up moisture; 4—Prevent caking by piling sacks only seven or eight high; 5—Keep broken bags separate from the main pile. Loose fertilizer soaks up moisture faster than that in a bag.

THE BLOOD OF JESUS CHRIST CLEANSSES US
FROM ALL SIN

Louis E. Kineman, Minister
Mt. Vernon Christian Church

The first death on this earth, as far as we know, was that of a little creature whose blood was shed that the bodies of our first parents might be covered. We read that when man realized his naked condition that "Jehovah God made for Adam and his wife coats of skins, and clothed them" (Gen. 3:21). Before their bodies were covered something had to die. Blood was shed. What a preview is given here of the blood atonement which God was later to reveal.

Time marches on! The children of Israel were in bondage in Egypt. Nine times God sent the plagues upon Pharaoh that he might let the people go. Then came the plague of the death of the first-born. The Israelites were to put blood on the doorposts of the door and lintel, and the first-born of their households would be spared. Whenever the death angel passed over that night wherever he saw the blood, stained, door posts, he "passed over." The "passover" became a feast to the Jews for a perpetual memorial. (Exodus 11 & 12). The blood atonement pictured in Exodus is the beginning of our understanding of God's mercy, and is the beginning of the blood stream that was soon to widen into the crimson tide.

When the tabernacle was set up and the sacrificial system was in full swing under the laws God had given to Moses, we find definite types and pictures of the blood atonement in the sin, and in the trespass and in the kindred offerings of Leviticus, one, a year, on the Great Day of Atonement, the 10th day of the seventh month, the high priest took the blood of an animal killed for the purpose and entered into the Holy of Holies and sprinkled the blood upon the horns of the altar and the sins of the people would be covered for another year, the sin-dict rolled ahead for twelve months. But it is impossible that the blood of bulls and goats should take away sin." (Heb. 10:4). So the great and accumulated year by year until God provided an infinite sacrifice to atone for the sins of an infinite number of people, "But once at the end of the ages, he (Christ) was manifested to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself." (Heb. 9:26). "We have been sanctified through the offering of the body of Christ once for all." (Heb. 10:10). "But Christ having come a high priest of the good things to come, through the greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this creation, nor yet through the blood of goats and calves, but through his own blood, entered in once for all into the holy place, having offered eternal redemption."

What killed Christ in six short hours upon the cross? He was a strong man, physically and spiritually. He had carried His cross the Roman custom had made nearly three hundred pounds in weight, yet he died in half a day. Strong men have been known to live for three days after crucifixion, and some exceptionally strong have lingered for nearly five. What killed Christ in six hours? Isaiah says, "Jehovah laid out His iniquity of us all" (Isa. 53:8). The great mountain of sins of all ages was upon Him. "Who knew no sin he made to be sin on our behalf." (II Cor. 5:21). True is the saying, "who his own self bare our sins in His body upon the tree, that we, having sinned, might live unto righteousness; by whose stripes we are healed." (II Pet. 2:24). He died to cleanse us of our sins. Thus, in God's redemptive plan "Apart from the shedding of blood there is no remission." (Heb. 9:22).

What can wash away my sin? Nothing but the blood of Jesus! What can make me whole again? Nothing but the blood of Jesus! Read again the 53rd chapter of Isaiah, as Peter 1:18-20, Sinner and Christians alike, as we draw near to the greatest event in human history let us remember the words of Jesus, "And if it be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me." (John 12:32). Go to Church Sunday.

HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD
By G. W. (Bro.) Murphy
"The officers answered, Never man spake like this man." John 7:46
I am of the same opinion that the officers were. He has power in his words when He speaks there are no words like those Jesus spoke. Do you remember what wonderful power His words had? One of them dropped upon a wild raging sea and quieted it in a moment.

Another touched the blind man's eyes and opened them. Another fell upon the sparkling water and changed it into wine. Another fell into a drab grave and caused a dead man who lay there, to arise and come forth. Another fell upon a sick man for 38 years standing, and he took up his bed and walked. Another fell on the ears of the great sinner Paul, and he answered back "Who art thou Lord?" Another word from Him said, come and dine, and they did. The same Jesus said to Zacchaeus, make haste and come down, and he made haste and came down and received Him joyfully.

We remember how his words comforted sorrow, and gave peace to troubled ones; how they reached man's hearts and changed their whole lives. Only this past Sunday, I witnessed a man above 40 years of age, after he had prayed solo for an hour or more, raise his feet with the words, "He has spoken peace to my soul," and the man embraced the people and shouted and praised God, as I believe all men and women do, when they really can say, "Never man spake like this man." These words of Jesus Lord! Another word power, they are yet calming tempests, and opening blind eyes, and expelling evil spirits and raising the dead. They are yet giving hope to sorrowing ones, and comfort to their sad hearts. They are still words, yet understandable to the penitents, when the words say "Neither do I condemn thee, go sin no more. Praise His name. He will make flowers bloom where thorns grow before. If you are weary, or in sorrow, and pillow your head on one of these precious words, you will find that you are lying on your Father's bosom, close to His warm beating heart. I trust close, and bid you come be with me at Hill View Holiness Church this Sunday, April 2. We will have communion, and remember the words spake by Him, "It is Finished." We have the promise of Brother Peter Smith, who is 81 years old being with us. He is a great preacher. Come hear him. God bless your hearts.

THE STORY OF TEN LITTLE FREE WORKERS

THESE ARE THE WORKERS
REDDY DOCTOR RAILROADER MINER STEELWORKER FARMER LAWYER GROCER SALESMAN REPORTER
Ten little free workers in this country fine and fair. But if you think your freedom—workers have a care! Ten little free workers—Reddy was doing fine Until the socialists got him—then there were nine.
Nine little free workers laughed at Reddy's fate Along came federal medicine—then there were eight.
Eight little free workers thought this country heaven But the government took over the railroads—then there were seven.
Seven little free workers—till the miners got in a fix. Uncle said coal's essential and took over leasing fix.
Six little free workers 'till the day did arrive. The steel mills too were federalized—then there were five.
Five little free workers—but the farmers are free no more The farms have been collectivized—that leaves only four.
Four little free workers till the government did decree. All must have free legal advice—then there were three.
Three little free workers—the number is getting few. But with government groceries selling food—then there were two.
Two little free workers—our story's almost done. With c/s at work in federal stores—that leaves only one.
One little free worker—the reporter son-of-a-gun Mustn't criticize government—so now there are none.
Ten little workers—but they are no longer free They work when and where ordered, and at a fixed rate you see. And if all could have been prevented if they only seen fit to agree And work together instead of saying "I never can happen to me!"
This is the story of CREEPING SOCIALISM! It's the story of what HAS HAPPENED in some countries, IS HAPPENING in others and can HAPPEN here.

complete his work. The New Covenant which he came to seal by his blood could not be in operation as long as he lived; thus he had to die for our sins. The spreading of the gospel message had to take place after his resurrection and ascension. He gave the great commission that they should begin the proclamation of the message of Jerusalem to the ends of the earth. When Jesus spoke, people knew nothing about the railroads, telegraph systems, tele- phones and radios; airplanes and automobiles, or the print- ing press. Today we stand in an age in which the entire world has been brought very close to- gether. Will we take them the good news about Jesus Christ and perform the greater works of which Christ spoke or will we by our mere negligence and procrastination bring condem- nation upon ourselves. The promise that Christ gave should demand that we exert ourselves to fullest extent.

You will remember that after Jesus had resurrected from the grave and recom- mended Peter, he asked him three times if he loved him. Peter said that he did, but his neglect to act upon his words brought open rebuke. Remem- ber, Christian friend, you have the opportunity with all of the great inventions of the world to do even greater works than our master if you will use your time, talents and finances for the spreading of the Kingdom. Jesus abides in Heaven. You have been commissioned to tell the news. Will you give up with your opportunity?

HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD
By G. W. Bro. Murphy
St. Matthew, tells us in chap- ter 1st verse, that he heard the Master say this: "JUDGE not, that ye be not Judged." Few faults are more common to us people than this judging of others. I wouldn't think so much about it, if we disposed to look at people charitably, but some how or another we do not. Our eyes are far keener for flaws and blemishes than for marks of beauty. I desire to look for some new features of beauty some loveliness that has been overlooked for a long time, and when I make the dis- covery then tell others about it. If we were free from all the faults we so readily see when they appear in our neighbor, we should be well nigh fault- less. The word of Our Lord not only instructs us not to be crit- ical of others and censorious, but it presents the strongest kind of motive against judging. It makes the appeal to our own interests. "The eye is not judg- ed." Others will mete to us just what we mete to them. None of us like other people to be critical and censorious toward us. We squirm and twist under unjust judgments we re- ceive unkind faultfinding. We demand that people judge us fairly. We claim forbearance and charity in our derelictions in duty and for blemishes in our character. Can we expect other people to be any more lenient toward us than we are toward them? If we would re- ceive the same judgment from others we must give the same to them. If we criticize others today in a harsh manner, we hear some one else tomorrow likely we shall hear tomorrow some pleasant word that another has said of us. In other words we get back what we give. Now the opportunity to say good things about one another if we are not at Peace with each other. Let us close saying: "FOLLOW PEACE with your men, and HOLINESS, without WHICH no man shall see the LORD." Amen.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES
The winner depends on feeding and management and producing the greatest number pounds of pork in 165 days. So come on boys and make your entry of litters running from 8 to 12 pigs. The best feeding practices will be the final story.

The County Corn Derby has been continued this year and is now open for farm- ers, future farmers and 4-H Members to enter. Entry cards will be found at the County Agent's office. All who wish to enter should do so right away. Those who have the privilege of using any variety of seed, the amount of fertilizer, manure and other plant foods that they care to. There is no entry fee but there will be awards given by state and counties this fall as well as special recognition by certificates. The Corn Derby in Rockcastle is being sponsored by the County Farm Bureau.

Pasture Improvement
Kentucky Green Pasture Program has started a great movement throughout the state in the improvement of pastures in all counties. The chance to enter the state and County green pastures contest has closed but it's not too late to continue efforts to make the county pastures greener and better. It's still time to sow grass seed and especially leg- umes but it should be done as soon as possible. The longer we wait at this season of the year the less moisture we have in the soil. All grass and legume seed sown from now on should be covered either by lightly discing or harrowing then rolled or dragged for best results. A good application of phos- phate and complete fertilizer with some Ammonium Nitrate will be good for all of the old and the new pastures. There has been more done in the past three months in Pasture im- provement as liming, phos- phating and reseeding of old pastures and the liming, fertil- izing and seeding of new than ever before in that length of time.

THE GREATER WORKS
Lanis E. Kineman, Minister
Mt. Vernon Christian Church
"Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also, and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father." (John 14:12)
The alphabet is not capable of forming a more surprising sentence than this. It should startle us from our sleep of selfishness and cause us to shake from our eyelids the drowsiness of indifference. A promise such as this coming from one who had all power and authority should make us feel the most important group of people in all the world. Jesus certainly performed some wonderful works and to try and say which was the greatest would certainly be difficult. Was it greater to still the tem- pest than to feed the 5,000? Was it greater to give sight to the blind than hearing to the deaf or speech to the mute? We would certainly say that all of his works were great, but work- ing miracles for the sake of just doing great deeds was not Jesus' primary concern. They were as natural to His divinity as His body was to His human- ity, but his great works as the Son of God were only creden- tials of His mission and proof of His authority. "But that ye may know that the Son of man hath authority on earth to for- give sins (He saith to the sick of the palsy), I say unto thee, Arise, take up thy bed, and walk." (read also John 20: 30, 31). He came to reveal the full will of the Father in Heaven and make possible the redemp- tion of mankind from sin. He was more than a worker of miracles; He is the Saviour of man! Even though Jesus was the Son of God, he was limited to a specific territory and had only approximately 33 years to

COMES AGAIN ON Saturday, April 22nd

Last Saturday was the biggest Opportunity Day yet. The town was so packed with people that it looked like Circus Day. We hope you all had a good time and that you found the day worth while. Folks tell us they like it, so we expect to keep having these specials for some time to come.

Smokey Ward is our trouble-shooter, as well as a first class Master of Ceremonies. If you have gripes, tell them to Smokey; he wants to please everyone, insofar as that is possible. It isn't his fault that he hasn't had entertainment every Saturday, and he is still trying to scare up some.

Don't fail to be in Mt. Vernon next Saturday. In some ways we expect it to be the best Opportunity Day up to now. If you don't come you will be sure to regret it.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. S. Defense Setup Challenged; Progress Reported in ECA Field; Truman Signs Crop Increase Act

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

DEFENSE: Charges Hurdled

Charges that the government has been "ragging its feet" in an organized civil defense against an atomic attack and that officials who know how to protect themselves have been buried by four big-city officials.

BYOR Elmer E. Robinson of San Francisco minced no words in asserting that federal authorities have "fumbled the ball" in their civil defense. He urged that a policy of total defense be inaugurated immediately by the federal government.

Federal planners have said the local officials will have to assume primary responsibility for civilian defense against atomic warfare, the government's role being that of coordinator.

THAT MUST have seemed an odd statement to officials who have no knowledge of atomic bomb effects or of the first steps to take toward protection if such bombings occur. Surely public leaders were within the bonds of reason and logic when they demanded that the government channel to officials who have no knowledge of atomic bomb effects or of the first steps to take toward protection if such bombings occur.

The government's attitude seemed a contradiction of the war effort with all the scarce techniques prevalent in connection with the possibility of another war in which the atom bomb or the hydrogen would be the most frightful weapons.

FOREIGN AID: Some Progress

As the economic cooperation administration started its third year of operations, March 22, 1950, countries were being urged to take two steps of paramount importance to the program.

COUNTRIES participating in the program have been urged to take two steps of paramount importance to the program: to take steps to increase their production of goods and services for export to the United States and to take steps to increase their production of goods and services for export to the United States.

AS a result of increased production and financial and political stabilization, ECA said, "communism has been placed on the defensive in all participating countries."

HOGS: No Progs

FOR the first time within the past eight years, hogs were being bought and sold at major U. S. markets without any price supports—and dealers limited it was difficult to note any difference.

PRICES were steady to 25 cents higher. What did that mean? It was an indication that federal agricultural planners could have been wrong all these years? If that were the case, there probably would be no admission of it.

IN fact, one U. S. department of agriculture spokesman hailed the event as a "normal market."

It was "just a matter of supply and demand," he said, as if the department had been aware of and had considered that venerable law ever since the government went into the farming business.

SECURITY: A Denial

U. S. State Secretary Dean Acheson denied as "baseless" statements by Sen. Joseph P. Kamp that Owen Lattimore—whom McCarthy has called a Soviet agent—was the actual author of a book on policy in the Far East.

Nation Going Soft

AFTER the ratifiability dance one of the "brothers" shot another, no good reason. Well, there was a reason of a sort. The killer was drunk on liquor the fraternity had bought and served him.

McCarthy, meanwhile, was in a hospital after a four-hour senate speech in which he said he would prosecute a witness who had said "right" he was triggered happy.

Lattimore never was in a hospital after a four-hour senate speech in which he said he would prosecute a witness who had said "right" he was triggered happy.

Lattimore was most important to McCarthy for the senator had declared he would rest his entire case of Communist leanings in the state department on the outcome of his charges against Lattimore.

And, unless the senator could produce his witness and his documents, the case boiled down to one of the senator's word against that of Acheson and Lattimore, with the public deciding as it pleased about who was right.

FLYING DISKS: Navy Says 'No'

IF there are, or were, any flying saucers whirring through space, the United States navy has nothing to do with them and knows nothing about them. The air force said the same thing.

THE SERVICES also denied that they are developing secret plans to guide missiles or anything else that could be mistaken for flying saucers.

These denials were issued after two published reports traced the saucers to navy and air force "secret" projects.

An air force spokesman declared that "the armed forces are not doing anything that could be traced to the basis of reports of flying saucers."

He said the air force position was the same as it was last December when it announced—after investigating reports of flying saucers—that they were "misinterpretations of various conventional objects, a mild form of mass hysteria or hoaxes."

A NAVY SPOKESMAN denied with equal vigor that the navy is developing super-speed planes that have been spotted as "saucers."

So, that should be that. However, it would be difficult to convince many Americans that there are no flying saucers and if a troubled citizen, seeking, subconsciously or not, a momentary relief from his ills, is beginning a campaign to send Bibles to Japan—Bibles printed in the Japanese language.

Boy of the Year

GENERAL MACARTHUR isn't alone in that opinion. He has asked for millions more. And Dr. Shiro Murata, a member of the Japan Bible Society, said: "The eyes of Japan are fixed on two books. One is Das Kapital by Karl Marx. The other is the Holy Bible. Japan is at the crossroads."

To usher in its program of Bibles for the Japanese, the American Bible Society this month is sponsoring a huge signature book of donors for the purpose of raising funds with which to purchase and send the Bibles. Every person who contributes one dollar or more to the project will be asked to sign the donor book.

WHEN the campaign comes to an end, probably this fall, the huge book bearing the signature of every donor, will be forwarded to Japan where it will be displayed in front of the Japan Bible Society as a token of friendship from the people of America to the people of Japan.

Adam's Daughter?

Did Adam have a daughter, no mention of whom is in the Bible? Dr. Guido Klach, noted scholar, has declared that a 900-year-old manuscript dating from the time Adam had a daughter, whose name was never mentioned in any version of the Old Testament.

GERMANY: Crisis Impends

According to U. S. German High Commissioner John J. McCloy, a "real crisis" appears inevitable in Germany. McCloy uttered the warning in a talk before a congressional subcommittee on the German group that Soviet pressure is a result of confidence, rather than any "sense of inferiority or fear of attack" by western forces.
