The 1950 peach crop will only be a drop in the bucket.

Take care for the needs of our people in Kentucky, according to Harry F. Walters, Commissioner of Agriculture. Many orchards have no peaches to ship, and very few orchards have approximately 50 percent of a normal crop. The cause of this is the result of the late spring freeze.

Kentucky is not alone, as our neighboring states also were hit. However, there should be ample supplies from Michigan, arriving in Kentucky around September 1, to take care of the folk who must have their peaches.

The United States and Kentucky Departments of Agriculture report the United States production of potatoes at 467,392,000 bushels, up almost 17 million bushels from the July 1 estimate. Production last year was 401,982,000.

Kentucky's yield is much heavier than was first estimated, and harvesting will not be completed for another two weeks. Field representatives report if prices decline further some fields may not be harvested, especially where quality is poor.

As reported by the USDA and

Kentucky Department of Agriculture at the close of the week of August 14, 1950, No. 2 red winter wheat brought $2.19 at St. Louis and $2.19-2.23 at Kansas City.

Marketing of corn increased and arrivals at the leading terminals totaled 8.3 million bushels. With demand corn prices declined at some markets but at Chicago and St. Louis were about unchanged. No. 2 yellow corn was quoted at Chicago at $1.55-5.5, St. Louis at $1.55 and Kansas City at $1.44-1.47. Oats were unchanged and soybeans continued to decline to a new crop basis.

MT. VERNON TELEPHONE COMPANY J. F. DEES, President

This statement was made under oath. I have a copy of same and will be glad to show it to anyone interested in the facts. I became owner of the Mt. Vernon Telephone Company in 1917 and what improvements have been made up to the present time I have done myself and it has been a long hard road.

My statement following this one for January, 1950 will be sufficient to prove a steady improvement in the growth of the telephone business to the extent of 21.13-15% including December 31, 1949. During this time of 32 years the L&N yards were taken away from Livingston which answers the question of the telephone business there, leaving very little business of any kind. The farmers owned their own lines and they let their lines go down and there was nothing I could do about it. They stopped paying and I am sure they were not overcharged at the rate of 50c per month. I wonder how long the most of them would keep their lines when they were asked to help pay the cost of building their lines and pay $3.50 to $4.00 a month? Why don't they quit kidding ourselves? This is not a WPA project and you will find that out before you get the money. Your Uncle Sam says whoever get his money must pay it back with interest as this is not a gift by any means.

Fruit cake can be kept indefinitely if you wrap it in a damp towel. The towel can be dampened with plain water, but it's better with wine.

Stale cake or leftover sweet cookies can be made into a good "quickie" dessert. Crumble up the cake, boil one cup of milk for each cup of cake crumbs; then mix them together and beat the mixture with an egg beater. Let it cool and you've got something good that's even better if you let it in a few raisins.

When light cream has a mind of its own and refuses to be whipped, it's time to assert yourself. Toss the white of an egg into it and beat some more. It'll get stiff in short order, and nobody but your mother-in-law will suspect that it's been "doctored."

If you make your own fruit cake, here's a super way to do it. Slice up the apples or oranges and extract the fruit so that the shell is left in one piece. Candy the shell, let it drain dry; then fill it with the fruit cake batter. Steam the whole business for two hours before you bake; and you end up with fruit cake in an attractive, edible container.

Foodstuffs mailed at Christmas time should be packed with special care. Cookies are the commonest casualties, but they can be protected by packing them in alternate layers with marshmallows or popcorn.

Kool-Aid makes 10 delicious drinks. Makes 10 delicious drinks. Makes 10 delicious drinks.

Mrs. Alma Kincaid, 2125 East Adelaide, St. Louis, Missouri, who was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron, and Nicotin, has turned into a regular cheerer since she has been taking HADACOL. Yes, she keeps her eyes on the clock all day long, just waiting for breakfast, dinner and supper. Imagine how unpearable life can be without enjoying good, wholesome food.

Here is Mrs. Kincaid's statement: "I have been taking HADACOL for over a year. Before taking HADACOL, I had stomach distress for quite some time. Imagine how awful it is to live a normal life when you can't eat such delicious things as tomatoes, oranges, grapefruit, etc., or drink milk without getting horrible cramps. Getting something your stomach. One day I took my husband's advice and got some HADACOL. A good friend of his had told me that he had gotten on from HADACOL. And now, since I have been taking HADACOL, I can eat anything I want and really enjoy it. I have a wonderful appetite, too—thanks to HADACOL. Naturally I recommend HADACOL to all my friends. Yes, HADACOL is Truly Wonderful!"

In the way it has helped countless thousands of folks whose systems were deficient in Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron, and Nicotin, HADACOL can help you, too, if you will just give HADACOL a chance. If you suffer from stomach distress, nervousness, insomnia, constipation, aches and pains of neuritis, or a general run-down condition, caused by such deficiencies, let HADACOL help you as it has helped others all over the country. Even hundreds of doctors are now recommending HADACOL to their patients suffering from such deficiencies. Give remarkable HADACOL a chance to benefit you. Remember, you have nothing to lose. HADACOL will make you feel great after the first few bottles you take, or your money will be refunded. Only $1.25 for Trial Size; Large Family or Hospital Size, $3.50.

If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order direct from The Lablanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana. Send no money. Just your name and address on a money postcard. Pay postman. States where you want the $2.50 hospital economy size or $1.25 trial size. Remember, money cheerfully refunded unless you are 100% satisfied.—Adv.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. S. Rejects Soviet Union Move To Seize China in United Nations; Marines Start Offensive in Korea

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns they are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Signal.)

SECURITY COUNCIL: No Communist Deals

"So long as men are dying on the battlefield," in Geneva, the United Nations Security Council will not wish to cheapen their suffering or sultry their heroism by negotiating to engage in the consideration of deals."

With these words, Warren Austin, the American chief delegate to the United Nations, rejected the Russian move to link the question of Red China's entrance to the U. N. with the Korean war.

It was a bitter exchange of words between Austin and Soviet delegate Jakob A. Malik, who became president of the Security Council Aug. 1.

Malik wanted the question of admitting Red China to the U. N. to be the first order of business on the agenda, with the Korean situation second. The Russians were defeated by a vote of eight to one.

Some believed the Russians had any formula for peace that was acceptable to the western powers when they ended their boycott of the Security Council in 1949. The interest in seeing Red China and nothing else in the Security Council was only delaying tactics in the belief the North Koreans would be able to force the Russian troops of Korea and thus open the way for any demands the Soviet Union desired to make.

That belief became wide-spread when the Russians demanded American troops be withdrawn from Korea, under threat of use of force, and the next 20 years in security council deliberations.

On the other hand, it was just as evident that the United States would not agree to such a situation. The only outcome could be a deadlock which would lead to a vote to kill any action the majority might sanction.

TRANSPORTATION: Truck Firms Increase

A for hire fleet of 1,000,000 trucks valued at $1,000,000,000 which roll America's highways—is available for transport of military supplies in case of a grave national emergency, the American Trucking association has estimated.

The figure was the chief finding of a study made last week conducted by the transportation organization as the first step in preparing for a possible all-out mobilization. The study also revealed that the first to be mobilized and used, the association said, carry the brunt of the military ton-mile load.

But an additional 4,500,000 privately operated trucks, 2,300,000 farm trucks and 350,000 trucks under public ownership, could ultimately be made available.

Taken as a whole, the association's survey revealed the trucking industry could provide 17,300,000 inter-city ton-miles of transport facilities during the next 12 months. In 1941—the year before Pearl Harbor—the industry clocked up 17,123,000 ton miles.

That difference—11,246,000 ton-miles per year—represents the increased load of guns, food, ammunition or other military supplies which American civilian trucking firms are able and ready to handle without relying on any other form of transportation and with the full advantage of point-to-point shipment without bandaging.

EUROPE: Steps Up Defense

The democratic nations of Europe with Communist aggression in Asia, support to mixed formed plans for increased defense measures against invasion by Russia.

The United States and its North Atlantic allies mapped a three-year $20 billion campaign of defense. Britain offered to adopt a three-year $24 billion drive, and the heavy load for the already hard pressed British government. If the U. S. foot part of the bill.

Other members of the group agreed to recommend that all member governments take immediate steps to increase their military forces for common defense.

France meanwhile asked that more American and British troops be sent to Europe to help start a $3.7 billion three-year rearmament program. The new program would be in addition to the $50 billion budget of $1.3 billion.

H-BOMB: Work Continues

The United States has stepped up its work toward production of the hydrogen bomb. The government has assigned a major segment of the job to the Du Pont Company, already experts in making the plutonium which goes into the present atomic weapons.

Rebuke

The post-war indignation felt by all who had heard Jacob Malik's scathing attack on the United States in the U. N. Security Council is registered and voiced by chief U. S. Delegate Warren Austin. Austin's usual cool, collected temperament has been put by the boards as he replied to Malik's statements. This cleavage shows Austin fiercely rebuking the Russian delegate.

KOREA: A Limited Offensive

The Korean military picture appeared a little brighter for United Nations forces. A powerful American attack, the largest launched by the U. S. since the Korean war began, rolled slowly forward on the southern front.

The North Korean troops, evidently completely aware that an attack was being made, soon began every spot of cover and battled U. S. marines for every foot of ground.

In the central sector the Communists established one bridgehead across the Nakdong river behind which United Nations forces had established new defense positions. Military authorities reported immediate danger points were in the center the Reds had three divisions and four of their finest in the south.

While U. N. forces attacked in the south, U. S. B-29's pounded military targets in North Korea, dropping many as 40 tons of bombs in one day. One mass flight dropped 400 tons on railroad yards at Pyongyang, North-Korean capital, with excellent results.

Air groups from two 27,000-ton U. S. carriers bombed scattered targets over southwestern Korea and gave air support to attacking troops in the southern sector.

Military authorities warned that the southern action was a "limited offensive" and not a "general offensive." It evidently was designed to block the Communist strategy of:

- (1) Drive down the southern coastal plain, capture Pusan, seal off the U. N. port of entry and the only escape hatch; (2) march through to Taegu in the Nakdong valley, encircle the defenders and cut them up.

Whether or not the Communists can execute this strategy hinges on the question: Have we the men and the equipment to stop them? It will, recently the outlook was grim.

BRIDGES: Jailed at Last

Harry Bridges, turbulent longshore labor leader, had gone to jail. In delivering his opinion, Judge Harris assailed the C. I. O. labor leader as "an agent dedicated to the execution of the Communist program nationally and internationally," and a menace to United States security.

"This is not the time for divided loyalty," Judge Harris said. "This is not the time for Communist double talk."

The move to revoke Bridges' citizenship was started by F. Joseph Donohue, special assistant to the U. S. attorney general. Donohue argued that remarks by the labor leader at a union meeting in 1948 to the effect that he opposed resolutions supporting American intervention in the Korean war, were against the best interest of the country.

Plane Crash

Nineteen persons were killed and 60 injured when a bomb laden B-29 crashed, burned and exploded near the Fairfield-Sutton air base in California.

The plane crashed near a trailer camp where 200 service families are housed. The flaming explosion of the 10 or 12 500-pound demolition bombs the plane carried shattered more than half of 80 automobiles and 10 trailers parked in the area.

Soft Water Ration Ups Milk Production

575 Milk Production 575 Percent Increase Shown From Experiments

The effects of soft water on milk production of cows was reported at a recent meeting of the Shelby County Holstein Breeders association meeting at Plymouth, Wis.

Milk production of two test cows increased up to 50 percent when cows were switched from hard water to a soft water ration.

One animal, a high production Holstein, had never exceeded an 80-pound daily production until fed soft water. The animal, Setch 14 Delta Forbes (Reg. No. 2356-237) increased milk flow to 121 pounds, 50 percent greater than her previous high.

Previous records show that this same cow produced an average of 58.8 pounds of milk per day for three months following the birth of her first calf in 1946. After the second calf the following year her average was 68.8 pounds, and then the average was 53.7 and 72.1 pounds after the birth of succeeding calves. Thirty days before this cow was to have her fifth calf she was given aerated soft water to drink in place of the 10 grain hard water previously supplied. Her average production jumped to 102.7 pounds for the 90-day period following the calving.

The experiment was conducted by E. J. Culligan of Northbrook, Ill.

E. J. Culligan is shown above with one of the animals used in his aerated soft water ration test. The animal increased milk production as much as 50 percent when switched from hard water.

Marketing Quotas Will Not Be Imposed on Wheat

The announcement of Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan that no marketing quotas will be proclaimed for the 1951 wheat crop is the result of compromise among most wheat growers throughout the wheat area by their 1950 acreage allotments, many wheat growers believe.

In making the announcement of no 1951 marketing quotas, Brannan said, "If wheat growers in general plan their 1951 crop acreage allotments, as they did for the 1950 crop, it may be possible to continue to avoid marketing quotas in the future."

The estimated total supply of wheat for the 1950-51 marketing year is 1,395 million bushels, or about 18 percent more than the normal supply of 1,170 million bushels.

Bumpless Farm Wagon

Something new in farm wagons is one that takes the bumps out of hayrides, which is not so good. But to the farmer, it means carrying 8000 pounds of hay without the jarring, the tossing, bounces. The picture above shows the way front and rear axles can tilt independently without disturbing balance.

Ultra High Sound Waves Knock Off Borer Moth

Scientists at the U. S. department of agriculture research center at Beltsville, Md., have found that ultra high frequency sound waves, which can be heard by humans, will knock off the corn borer moth. They also work on mosquitoes, and some bacteria in milk can be destroyed by sound waves.

Now scientists are busy bombarding hybrid seed corn to see if they speed up germination.

Old Face In a New Place

The appearance at the Broadhead Fair of "Babe" Adams, former Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher, brought back many of the memories of two nearly forgotten eras—the "Terrible Tees" and the "Roaring 20's".

But this time "Babe" wasn't bidding for the limelight of baseball, that "strikeout" against the Yanks, or to "Walk" the Washington Senators' Walter Johnson. This time he was bidding for the Broadhead Fairground for his grandchildren.

"Babe's" day was the day of prohibition, of Mary Pickford, and some wild music called Jazz. But in baseball "Babe's" arm was the strongest in the National League, perhaps strongest in any league. (He helped pitch Pittsburgh to a World Series Victory in 1909.) But as he stopped to talk to the young men visiting the fair it was tragic to see how revolted youth can be with age and how lightly they can dismiss the years. For them, it is so easy to forget and so simple to disbelieve.

Like many old athletes "Babe" is limping and has to lean on his cane. But his handshake is still strong and his eyes still bright with the years that have piled up behind him and even he cannot forget the noise of the crowds which he once listened, so he has left his farm at Winchester to spend his remaining days at the Fair—the duty lies with the State Police and high County officials who plan their cleanup campaign long before the Fair begins.

THE SAME OLD STORY

It is really useless to "cry over spilled milk." The "Signal" has pointed out the fact on occasion (Aug. 19, 1948) that gambling at the Broadhead Fair has been going on to a much greater extent than is suspected by the average citizen. This year was no exception. But for that matter, the whole state of Kentucky is a hotbed of gambling syndicates. The "Signal" naturally does not favor gambling, nor do we believe in tolerating it with a smile; however, we do feel that it is not to the benefit of the community to want only to expose its residents to the courts on a purely curiosity charge.

Newspaper campaigns have, in the past, reduced many undesirable activities throughout the nation without resorting to sensationalism and camera hogging. The most successful have been waged with tact rather than tattling.

If gambling is to be stopped at the Fair the duty lies with the State Police and high County officials who plan their cleanup campaign long before the Fair begins.

STARVATION

IN-THE LAND OF PLENTY

For years, gulls around St. Augustine, Florida have lived off the refuse thrown overboard from the shrimp fleet. But recently the fleet moved 500 miles down the coast. Many gulls, unused to making a living as nature intended, starved to death. In our growing dependence upon government subsidy, we wonder if this might be a lesson. We wonder!

How Now, Brown Cow?

Once dairy herds were milked by hand, and the milk taken to the springhouse or the milk train. Getting it to the consumer before it spoiled was a major problem. Then the average American family spent less than $5 a month for all the milk and milk products, like cheese and ice cream, that it used.

How now? Today Bossy is almost a symbol of electric living. Her milk is coaxed from her by electric milkers, chilled in electric coolers, moved to market in refrigerated cars and trucks, kept fresh in electric refrigerators.

Today, just as it pays more for nearly everything else it buys, the average family spends about $12 a month for milk and milk products.

But the electricity that keeps it fresh, whips it into pies and cakes—and does hundreds of other chores around the house—costs that same family only $4.17 a month.

Go upstairs, downstairs, all through the house... Electricity is still the biggest bargain in the average family budget.

Secret ECA Session

AS CONGRESSIONAL leaders gathered in his office to discuss the President's request for an additional $4-billion to arm our allies, Mr. Truman opened the meeting by urging everyone to "speak freely and give me your opinions." He got his wish.

There were two verbal explosions at the secret session. One from Democratic Sen. Tom Connally of Texas, who demanded that some of the $4-billion be diverted from ECA spending; another from GOP congressman Dewey Short of Missouri, who objected to bypassing congressional committees.

"Are all these millions for economic (ECA) aid necessary at a time like this?" demanded Connally, pointing out that if the U.S.A. must tighten its belt economically for war, our European friends should expect less economic help from us.

"Yes, but we don't have to feed our people," exclaimed Short, "boiled the acid-tongued Truman. 'Some of our own people need feeding. Besides, not all this ECA money is spent on food. Some of it is spent for such things as hydroelectric projects in Europe.'"

Connally agreed, but reminded Short that western Europeans need electric power not only for peace, but to manufacture arms for use against aggressors.

It takes two or three years to build a dam and the other facilities needed to produce electric power," Short back Truman. "In no mood to be argued down, we are dealing with a current emergency—the problem of providing relief to our people. If an agreement is offered to use some of this ECA money for arms, I'll vote for it."

Missourians Differ

Congressman Short, the only House Republican from Truman's home state—therefore an object of special disdain at the White House—complained about the strategy of bypassing the foreign affairs and armed services committees by sending the $4-billion measure directly to the senate and house appropriations committees.

"The time you will save will not be worth the bad feeling you will create in congress," protested Short. "If you went through the regular procedure of getting authorizations from the foreign affairs and armed services committees, you could still get this bill to the floor in a day."

"A lot of my colleagues will want to know what type of weapons we are sending to Europe—what countries are getting how much—and the arguments can be made without weakening ourselves. But this information will be denied us."

"I'm humble and insignificant member of congress," the Missourian continued; "I can't say that we should give unanimous approval to the unconstitutional procedure."

"Oh, you're trying to make an issue out of nothing," snapped the President.

"No, I'm not," retorted his fellow Missourian. "There's a proper and an improper way to handle these matters. The proper way is to let the House GOP leader Joe Martin intervene in favor of the president."

Wiretapping Probe

Betting odds on Capitol Hill are that the federal grand jury now probing police-state methods and the wiretapping inspired by Senator Brewster of Maine will end in a whitewash.

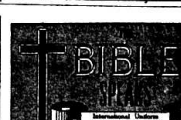

Despite the efforts of conscientious James McInerney, chief of the justice department's criminal division, alibis are arranged to get Senator Brewster and his friends, Pan American Airways, off the hot spot.

In the first place, the justice department held the wiretapping report for almost a year and only filed it out of the files after the facts had been exposed in the press. As a result, the statute of limitations is about to expire, and but for recent recall remaining for 60 days from today—in which the grand jury can act.

Foared for His Life

Meanwhile Senator Brewster's story is that his life was in danger and he called in the Washington police. While they may have tapped some wires in protecting him, he had no knowledge of what they were doing and received no information from them.

Significantly, other policemen who tapped Howard Hughes' wire under Lieutenant Shimon's direction had instructions to listen especially for conversations pertaining to the airplane industry.

Blessed Woman

Lesson for August 27, 1950

A PROTESTANT Christian is essentially a Bible Christian. Among other things, this means he will form his ideas about Bible characters from the Bible itself and not from books about the Bible, not from legends long afterwards invented.

Some Protestants seem not to realize that even a revealing Mary-an idea book like "The Greatest Story Ever Told" is as much fiction as is the facts.

If some Christians ever do reveal for Mary, offering prayers and incense before her statues and even going to the point of saying we cannot come to heaven through Mary—an idea totally false to the Christian gospel—other Christians make the mistake of neglecting her memory altogether.

Surely we ought not to forget or under-rate the woman who of all the women in the world was chosen of God to be the mother of our Lord Jesus Christ.

God Knew Her Heart NAZARETH was a small village with no good reputation. Yet it was in that town that Mary grew to womanhood. Man looks on outward appearances, but God looks on the heart.

Mary for the mother of Jesus, or to put it another way, you would hardly have expected Mary's child to be the person Jesus became. She was very young, for girls were engaged early in that climate and custom—perhaps no more than 12 years. She could have had no great education. She was poor, as the whole story shows.

ending it was for her station or her social standing or her experience or any such thing, but because of her heart, her character, herself that the angel came to her that spring day in Nazareth.

Mary's Song "THERE IS no room to tell all that can be known of Mary from the Gospels. We can know or guess much from that one song, the "Magnificat" as it is called from its first word in the Latin translation (Luke 1:46-55).

We can tell from this that she was a woman, who knew her Bible, and the translation of the New Testament uses italic type to indicate quotations from the Old Testament; and in the Song of Mary, of its sixteen lines all but two are printed in italics.

Words and phrases came to her, in the familiar cadences of the book she knew and loved. Further, she was a poetic turn of mind. This "Magnificat" has been set to music and sung in churches over the world. Since Mary was herself a poet, it is not surprising to find that Jesus often spoke in words which are rich with the beauty and rhythm of fine poetry.

Patriotism and the Poor

MARY WAS A woman who loved her country. We are so familiar with the "Magnificat" as a church anthem that we overlook it actually and originally was; a hymn of praise to God for his mercies to Mary's nation, Israel.

Her people, so long enslaved, were to be set free. It is a revolutionary hymn, too. Princes are to be dethroned, the proud cast down, the rich made empty; but God will give his help to the hungry and the poor.

Mary and Jesus

LOVE OF HER Bible, love of beauty, of her country; and most of all, love of God. You could guess this from the words of the angel, but you can see it plainly in this song. It is an outpouring of joy and thankfulness to a God who is very real and near and loved.

Every mother lives again in her sons; in Jesus we can see the manner of woman Mary must have been. When the boy Jesus called God his Father, who had taught him that name? When the young man Jesus, fought off temptation by using the Word of God, who had first taught him to do that? When he had Jesus learned Scripture except under his mother's roof?
