World Evangelist Lesson for September 24, 1950

IT IS not only the ignorant and the prejudiced who claim that Protestant Christianity did not start till the 17th Century...

The World is My Parish THERE is another reason why Paul is important...

First Great Missionary PAUL was not a typical Christian any more than George Washington was a typical American...

Furthermore, Paul had a world-horizon. There are not-as-many Christians and there are world-Christians...

Bibles Across the Sea THERE is one thing which you, reader of these lines, can do right now...

New Vegetable May Edge Out Spinach Faithful, old spinach, the nutritious vegetable whose edibility has been challenged by generations of children...

The cotopeter is called Florida spinach, but will grow over most of the United States in spite of its name...

HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD
By G. W. Murphy
The Gift of Knowledge
"To another word of knowledge, 1 Cor. 12-8. "Word of Knowledge." Is it not a revelation of things that are or have been? I believe it is a revelation or inward knowledge about either spiritual or natural things, revealed to the individual by the Lord. This word of knowledge reveals to us that our Lord Jesus is omnipresent; that is, He is present everywhere at the same time. Also that He is omnipotent; that is, He has all power both in heaven and in earth. He is also Omniscient; that is, He knows everything that is known or that ever can be known. When our Lord imparts a little of His infinite knowledge to us it is called the gift of the word of knowledge.

When he gives a person a fragment of His knowledge to meet a temporary need, that is when He does, you absolutely certain things that you could not possibly have known if they had not been revealed to you: (Read 1, Cor. 2-7-10) You did not create that knowledge, you just received it. Then it must be an inner revelation placed in your mind by the Spirit. It may never be spoken nor written, but you know it can act accordingly. It comes as a flash to the human mind and for it's own use, suddenly you know something you did not know before, however strange it is, yet you know it to be true. This wonderful gift can be used to reveal countless thousands of facts about the existence, condition or whereabouts of some person, object, place or event. It can be used to reveal the need of others, to recover lost persons of property, to reveal corruption in the Church, to reveal men's thoughts to reveal secrets that convict sin, to expose a hypocrite, to reveal the cause of sickness. I believe if you have the gift, you know it, but those who hear you don't know it. If you have this gift and know it. Please use it to glorify God, the giver of the Gift. I am of the opinion lots of times this gift confused with man's knowledge and is therefore not recognized at all. I hope to write on the gift of working of miracles and discerning of spirits next week.

remembered his 89th birthday Sunday. A nice dinner was served, songs were sung, pictures were made. Mr. Norton is in fair health. Mr. Rome Graves, who is in a Louisville hospital for an eye operation is doing nicely. Mr. Rome Graves is on the sick list. Mrs. Alice Herron visited Mrs. Rome Graves last week. Mrs. J. D. Miller and little Bennie Miller have been on the sick list. Mrs. Bertie Price is suffering from a dog bite. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Mink, a son. The mother was Mrs. Lena Reager. Mrs. Nora McKinney spent a few days with Mrs. Ruth Doan who has been ill. Mrs. Dorothy Mize and daughter spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Geneva Whitaker. Miss Lucille Robbins visited Mrs. Davis Robbins Sunday. James Bullock has been to Coaling to be examined for army service. We are thankful for the grave spread on the Sand Springs road. We need a lot more of them. More coal and timber is hauled over this road than any other road in the county this year. Mr. Mitchell Fletcher has had a stroke but is some better. Mrs. Evie Robbins visited Mrs. Lula Cromer last Monday. Mrs. Rena Wainwright and her family spent a few days with her mother, Mrs. Mary Hayes and Mrs. Alma Evans and other relatives recently.

METEOR STREAKS SKC
Scores of West Kentuckians all the way from Louisville to Paducah reported Wednesday they saw a flaming meteor as it streaked through the morning sky. The meteor was reported to have exploded somewhere between Paducah and Memphis, Tenn. A Murray farmer said a fragment of the bursting object fell on his farm. The meteor gave off greenish light and a flood of sparks.

Doings At MVHS

By Betty Jo Childers School at Mt. Vernon High is well under way now after two weeks of the usual reading, writing and arithmetic. Younger students and quite a few teachers trying to keep down some of the "bagerness" in the halls. The Bad Devils haven't reported for practice yet, but things are being pepped up somewhat by eight hopeful girls who are practicing fully every day at noon for the cheerleader tryouts. Our high school band under the direction of Mr. A. Thompson, played at Wildie Sunday afternoon for the ball game. There is big news from the Junior class these days. They have ordered their class rings that are anxiously awaiting their arrival, which will be around Christmas. The rings are old shaped this year and quite different from those of previous years.

The Junior class has sponsored a noon hour movie and made plans for several more during the year.

The seniors have planned a Latin-American exhibition and movie for Tuesday night, Sep. 26, at the school gym. This program in a smaller form, was at the school last year and was reported to be one of the best programs of the whole year.

Our new piano was delivered this week and the students of MVHS owe a vote of thanks to the P. T. A.

That's all the "Doings" for now. So long until next week.

Rockcastle News

THE ONLY NEWSPAPER PRINTED IN ROCKCASTLE COUNTY

DETAILED LIST MT. VERNON NEWSYDAY THURSDAY, SEPT. 21, 1940 VOLUME 63 NUMBER 1

Really Status Quo

A lot of people have a lot of different ideas. Most of us think of communism as a force fighting against the United States. Against democracy. Against freedom of thought, and against freedom of worship.

But what really is communism? How would it be defined if we were to attempt to explain it to our children? The Signal believes that a lot of people in Rockcastle County would like to have it in black and white... to read and to study. What communism really is.

The Cincinnati Post has attempted to explain to its readers the meaning of communism. The Post went to J. Edgar Hoover, head of the F. B. I. when this question came up in Cincinnati.

Here is what the F. B. I. had to say about communism. "Communism is an atheistic philosophy. This means no more religion, no Sunday church or affairs of the church. There is no God under Communism. By means of violent revolution, reach the entire world."

Communism spreads ordinarily by convincing unhappy people it is a better system of government. But the aggression of North Korean Communists proves Communism's aims are to conquer by force where necessary.

Under Communism, the state would own every thing. You would not own your house, the land it sits on.

When you go to the polls to vote under Communism, there would be only one party listed—the party in Russia.

The living level in Russia is far below the American way of life. There is one class. Everyone is in the same and everyone is subject to the state. It is a drab type of existence, totally unlike the life you enjoy in the United States.

Freedom of thought is impossible under Communism. You may think the wrong thing about your boss, your neighbor, the chance you would be branded an enemy of the state. Russia has huge concentration camps for persons who do that.

Mr. Hoover's description was of pure Communism. Russia's government, he said, has distorted this into a system almost beyond comprehension. Stalin alone is the supreme dictator whose whims are law. Under this system, Communism, Stalin has as his goal the domination of all peoples of the world.

Rockcastle Men Called For Trial At Albany

Flifty Summoned On Old Murder Case

A jury from Rockcastle county was scheduled to hear evidence in the James Fowler murder case in Albany this morning. A total of 50 men were summoned from this county by Circuit Judge C. C. Duncan of that district.

Among those serving on the jury are Felix Croger, Joe Cromer, Alva Stanley, Jack Vaughn, Claude Dees, Hugh Sargeant, Does Wilson, and Paul Cope.

The group left Mt. Vernon Tuesday morning. Mr. Vernon Attorney Edwin R. Denney is serving as a defense lawyer in the case.

Fowler is being tried for the third time for the September, 1947, slaying of Luther Denney. Denney was killed in a pistol battle which also resulted in the death of his father, Nest Denney and Constable Bill Coope.

New Greyhound Bus Station In Prospect Here

Location Will Be In Center of the City

The Southeastern Greyhound Lines, with headquarters in Lexington, have for some several weeks been on a deal with Alex Milan, owner of the old John Bethum property located between Moore Street and Church, on the north side of Main, for a site to locate a new bus station in Mt. Vernon.

Although the deal has not been officially made public it will in all probability be consummated today. Mr. Milan writes in Lexington today presumably to close his part of the transaction which calls for his erecting a suitable building to house the station, restaurant and service station on the lot. The building would occupy all but a 20-foot space at the corner of Moore street and Main.

How soon the project can be completed and occupied by the new company is only a guess. But it is expected that the way for raising the old residence to make way for the new building.

Plans are for the loading and unloading of passengers to be done at the rear of the station, entrance to which will be made by way of Moore street and N. Church street.

County Agent's Notes

By ROBERT F. SPENCE

Hints For Fall And Winter Pasture Improvement

We are now completing the final scoring in the 1950 Green Pastures Program and we wish to take this opportunity of thank you for your cooperation. Your participation in the program has helped make the program a success. Many people have been inspired and aided in their pasture improvement work through the efforts of the farmers who have taken part in the program.

The program will be continued next year with a few minor changes. Between now and then there will be many opportunities to make our pastures better. Among the late fall and winter practices which apply to many Kentucky farms might be listed the following:

1. Seeding of small grains, wheat or rye, after late harvested row crops. They all make good spring pasture or may be harvested for grain.

2. Making accurate soil tests of land to be fertilized next year. Fall is one of the best times to take soil samples. For suggestions on taking soil samples, call at the County Agent's Office. Soil samples to be tested should be brought, properly labeled, to the County Agent's Office and will be turned over to the soil laboratory for testing. There is a fee of 50c per sample for this service. Recommendations for soil treatment will be furnished with each test.

3. Apply basic treatment of lime and phosphate where these materials are needed.

4. Making more efficient use of tobacco stalks and stable manure. The loss from the careless use of these farm by-products in Kentucky is enormous. They both are excellent pasture fertilizers.

5. Developing a water supply in fields where water is not adequate.

6. Changing field arrangements so as to provide better land use.

7. Clearing waste or idle land suitable best for pasture.

8. Construction of a silo.

in preparation for early spring treatment and seeding. For either upright or trench, for better utilization of surplus roughage.

9. Considering methods for improving the quality of hay. 10. Establish alfalfa and grass mixture early next spring.

11. It's always advisable to use your fertilizer and seed requirements early. You have a wider choice of grade and quality and the prices usually are more favorable for early purchases.

We trust that your participation in the Green Pastures Program has been beneficial to you and we look forward to your cooperation again next year.

Health Department Rockcastle By Dr. Walker Owens

To be most effective, rodent control programs should be carried out in the fall, rather than in the spring. Since rats reproduce rapidly, the emphasis should rightly be placed on the prevention of breeding and the months of October and November.

Rodent control drives must be conducted on a community basis. Guidance and direction for these drives are available from the Communicable Disease Center in cooperation with the State Department of Health and from the sanitarians in county health units. Rodent control is a matter of public health and the cooperation of all members of the community.

Stored materials should be raised at least one foot off the ground; piles of stored materials should be eliminated; and accumulations of paper, cartons, etc. should be removed. Adequate garbage collection and disposal methods are also necessary if rat control measures are to be effective. In addition, buildings may be "rat proofed" by the stoppage of openings where rats might enter. Advice as to how a "rat-proofing" program should be done may be obtained from your county health unit.

By making food and shelter inaccessible, the problem of ridding a community of rats can largely be accomplished. Poison and traps may also be used, but these can require precautions which both offer only short term protection.

It is a well-established fact that rats carry such serious diseases as rat bite fever, murine typhus, bubonic plague, infectious jaundice and food infections. When a rat borne case of typhus fever occurs, it is necessary to use control methods for the fleas carried by the rats. The need for the elimination and control of the rodent menace is an apparent and pressing need in Kentucky.

Kentucky Fertilizer Consumption Shows Big 10-Year Gain

KENTUCKY farmers used approximately 132,700 tons of fertilizer in growing their crops last year, according to a statement by the Middle West Improvement Committee, based on statistics compiled by the National Fertilizer Association.

Fertilizer consumption in Kentucky was about three and one-half times as great in 1949 as it was 10 years ago. In 1939, farmers of the state used about 26,000 tons of fertilizer. Important in encouraging this trend has been the work of the state agricultural college here.

For the entire United States the 1949 fertilizer consumption totaled 16,979,000 tons. This was the highest in history and exceeded the 1948 record by 623,000 tons. More than twice as much plant food was used in the United States last year as in 1939, when the total consumption was 7,707,000 tons.

The steadily increasing use of fertilizer on the nation's farms in the past 10 years is attributed to these factors: (1) Fertilizer has proved profitable in boosting crop yields per acre, cutting production costs and increasing net income. (2) Plant food gives a high return for every dollar invested. (3) Fertilizer is a "good buy" for farmers. Prices of fertilizer have remained very reasonable compared with prices of other commodities purchased by farmers and which prices received by farmers for their products.

The nation's feed markets lost most of the previous week's gains during the week ending September 12, according to reports to the Kentucky and United States Departments of Agriculture. Excellent fall pastures and a slow demand caused the declines. Wheat feeds, soybean and linseed meal declined materially. Cottonseed meal was independently firm. Animal protein feeds made substantial gains while most other grains were mostly unchanged.

The index of Wholesale feedstuff prices dropped about 2 points to 216.9 or about the same a year ago and was only about 4 points above the feed-grain index which stood at 212.6. This compares with 186.1 a year ago.

Five Hundred Dollars in premiums will be awarded at the London, Kentucky Fat Cattle Show and sale to be held October 2. The money will be given by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture.

On October 7, a similar show and sale will be held at Princeton. The same amount of money will be offered. Then at Louisville, November 15-16 and 17, a total of $6,000.00 will be awarded by the Grand Fat Cattle Show and sale.

Ladino clover continues to be the outstanding pasture improvement crop in Woodford county. Farmers showing this crop in the past three years have been able to pasture record numbers of stock on it.

Fescue made a good showing this season in both seed and grass production. Fescue gives promise as a supplemental crop to bluegrass.

Grandma's Sayings

VIENNA, ILL. — For happiness, try a "middle of the road" marriage. This is the advice of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Carlton.

He married them in a horse-drawn buggy in the middle of the road. Some 100 persons who attended the funeral stayed for the marriage ceremony.

Learn that funeral services were being held in the church where their marriage was scheduled 50 years ago.

FROM SUNKY California comes this bright idea, margarine molded in modern table style 1/2 pound packs (look at any service dish and wouldn't you know you'd find yellow "Tubs-Deeds" Nu-Maid in this modern way, 'cause Nu-Maid is a truly modern margarine.

THIS SUCCESSFUL MAN is most alike had an average man who either had a chance or took a chance. He said Jennie Christian, Lincoln, Neb.

I MAY BE A Grandma in years, but when it comes to cooking, I'm up to the minute. Top. I look for the pleasure of Miss Nu-Maid in chocolate margarine, 'cause I prefer a modern margarine. Yes, Nu-Maid is modern in margarine in taste—full of cream, delicious fresh flavor.

$5 will be paid upon publication to the first contributor of each accepted saying. Address: "Grandma's Sayings," 100 East Pearl Street, Cincinnati 2, Ohio.

ALWAYS LOOK FOR SWEET, wholesome Nu-Maid on the package when you buy margarine. Miss Nu-Maid is your assurance of the finest modern margarine in the finest modern package.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Truman Gives 8 Points for Peace; Reds Snap Defense Wall in North; New Wage Increases Are Reported

EDITOR'S NOTE: Where opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of William Vernon Signal's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.

TRUMAN: Conference

Statement of Policy. In an obvious attempt to erase some of the confusion that has developed around the American foreign policy since General MacArthur's statement on Formosa, President Truman made a report to the nation in which he stated eight aims of this country.

By this he meant, of course, Chinese this country. At the same time he announced plans for doubling American armed strength to nearly 3,000,000 men.

- 1. We believe in the United Nations. 2. We believe Koreans have a right to be free. 3. We don't want the Korean fighting to expand into general war. 4. We particularly hope the Chinese people will be united in fighting the U.N. and the American people who still are their friends. 5. We want none of Asia, Formosa included, for ourselves. 6. We believe in freedom for all far eastern nations. 7. We do not believe in aggressive or preventive war. 8. We want peace and "we shall achieve it."

KOREA: Stub-of Teagu

North Korean forces, in the greatest advance in several weeks, broke through the northern U.N. defense line and seized two important towns and troops within a few miles of Pyongyang, 12 miles south of Pohan.

On the south-front front U.N. forces further compressed the Red bridgehead across the Nakdong river where they join the Nam river. In the southwest U.N. forces were back in old positions west of Mamin and Mason after breaking up new Red attacks.

LEWIS: The Bear Grows

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, and known in some quarters as the unhappy bear in labor's ranks, has growled again. This time it was against A.F.L. President William Green.

EMPLOYMENT: All-Time High

Employment in the United States was the greatest in the nation's history, that of the department of commerce reported with more than 63 million persons at work.

Casualties

A total of 6,886 Korean war casualties were reported by the defense department at the conflict got well into its third month. The total, however, did not include those suffered during the latest big Communist offensive.

Washington

White House Breakdown

INSIDE FACT about the White House breakdown on Secretary of the Navy Matthews and General MacArthur is that the administration had been waiting for a chance to knock down the increasing aggressiveness of the military to establish the civilian branches of government.

Another flagrant intervention of the military into foreign policy was the fact that it generally sent word up to congress and secured a $100,000,000 loan to Dictator Franco of Spain—Spain—the military was the one to be in charge in the White House had ruled against such a loan.

Generals Want War

The two public crackdowns were aimed directly at MacArthur, and indirectly at Johnson through his secretary of the navy. Actually, the military was the one to be in charge in the White House wanted to hit him personally.

However, the statement by a cabinet officer in favor of a preventive war, it is decided, led to increased publicity. For it lay directly into the hands of European propagandists, already partly successful in branding us as warmongers.

Another reason for the crackdown was that Gen. Orvil Anderson, commander of the air war college, at Maxwell air base, Montgomery, Ala., has been staging a series of lectures in which a preventive war is urged openly.

Another earlier speaker at the air war college was Brig. Gen. S. D. Grubbs, former commander at Maxwell, who, in an address before a civilian group in Montgomery during the Berlin blockade, urged an ultimatum to Russia that if the blockade was not lifted in 36 hours, we should declare war.

Some economists, however, believe that as soon as the wage structure is equalized to make up for loss of purchasing power since Korea, the economy will go along on a plateau.

JOHNSON: Refuses to Resign

Defense Secretary Louis Johnson, under fire from many quarters to resign but still backed by President Truman, flatly rejected a recent proposal that he should resign. He had "no apology" for his record as chief of the nation's military.

In his unusual statement Johnson said many of the attacks on both him and Acheson were "practically political" and were leveled "with an eye to the November election."

He likened himself to the late Defense Secretary Forrestal who broke down after repeated attacks by critics and later jumped to his death.

He said he was sure he still enjoyed the confidence of the President and the public and that "in the long run the solid facts of what the department of defense is accomplishing will start out above the misinformation that various individuals and various groups, for the sake of their own, see fit to spread."

Among other things, Johnson has been accused of promoting a defense pact with the British and the policies of the state department. Criticism of Johnson has been forthcoming from both Democrats and Republicans.
