By Robert F. Spence

Kentucky Farmers Field Day At State Experiment Station August 9 and 10, The Farmers of Kentucky will gather at the State Experiment Station at Lexington to see experimental work being carried on with tobacco, corn, legumes and grass crops, and with dairy cattle, beef cattle, sheep and hogs. Guiders who are familiar with the work will explain the results of the various experimental projects. This is an opportunity for farmers and other visitors to see the latest developments in crops and livestock.

Kentucky's Field Days are two outstanding days for farmers. Every farmer who attends sees results of the latest experiment in crops and livestock first hand which is better than reading about it. Farmers from every county in the state will be there August 9 or 10. Two days are scheduled in order to accommodate the large crowd which always attends.

On Thursday August 9, Counties beginning with letter A through H are requested to attend. Friday August 10, is visiting day for counties beginning with the letter J through W. This schedule puts Rockcastle County in the August 10 group. However, if any farmer or group of farmers can't go on August 10, but can go on August 9, do

Your Locker Key

Just imagine going to your own frozen food locker . . . and taking out tender T-bone steaks, new hamburgers, fresh frozen peas from last summer's garden, corn-on-the-cob, fresh strawberries for shortcake.

A locker holds over 200 pounds of food all ready for you to take and use . . . there's no paying high retail prices for meat, no waiting to be served, no going from store to store.

It's the modern way to live. You buy meat at wholesale from us and have it cut up to your own needs. Then we wrap it quickly, freeze it and place it in your locker. You can also buy fruits, vegetables, fish, and poultry at low quantity prices. Or if you raise your own foods, we'll process them and put them in your locker. Drop in now . . . there's a frozen food locker key available for you.

Household Hints

If you use thin oilcloth as a lining for dresser drawers or shelves and want it to stay put until it wears out, give the surface to be covered a thin coat of shellac and place the oilcloth on while the shellac is still wet. The shellac will serve as a glue when dried.

The attractive sea shells you find this summer will make fine ornaments and gift novelties. Wash them thoroughly and dry. Then apply two thin coats of fresh white shellac, allowing each coat to dry first.

If aluminum sink edges become spotty or personal soiling against them, rub the aluminum with steel wool. Then apply two coats of fresh shellac.

Discolored glass flower vases can be cleaned by filling them with a solution of warm water, baking soda and a few drops of kerosene. Let this remain for several hours, then rinse in clear warm water to which ammonia has been added.

THE RURAL SCHOOL Holcomb's Consolidated School A Model for Rural Communities

Adequate educational opportunity is a major desire of all American parents for their children. The American system of public schools was designed because of that desire, and it remains a dominant factor in the continued maintenance and improvement of the system.

Because of sparse population that often entails special difficulties in providing financing, of housing teachers and transportation of pupils, the rural school system has been the slowest to develop.

A model of what the rural community can do to meet its problem is the Holcomb community in Adams county, southern Kansas. For 30 years the community has been building an exceptional rural school system.

The village of Holcomb is situated eight miles west of Garden City, the county seat. It has a population of 200. Transcontinental highway 30 and the main line of the Santa Fe railroad pass through it. The consolidated school is the dominant institution. There are six schools, a post office, and two filling stations, one of which carries a small stock of groceries. There is no nearby bank, no general store. For the services of these institutions, the people go to Garden City.

On January 4, 1920, three districts voted for consolidation of a school at Holcomb. On July 23, 1921, another district petitioned for admission to the union district. At various times since 1921 additional districts have joined. These additions brought to nine the total number of districts to come in and brought the area of the consolidated district to 210 square miles.

During the past 30 years the Holcomb school has developed a full curriculum, including instruction in the elementary grades from the kindergarten up, and in the high school full courses on every subject including vocational agriculture and vocational homemaking.

By 1950 the school owned 12 buildings and 20 acres of land. The buildings included the main school building, a grade school, a vocational agriculture building, a teachers' cottage, a bus garage, and seven teachers' cottages.

"THE VISITOR to the Holcomb community soon senses an attitude of community pride. The school and a marked popular spiritude for the school's welfare. The students extend cordiality to the visitor and other extracurricular activities but also to courses offered and to the maintenance of good academic standards. The student gains the impression that the community, for all its enthusiasm for the school, is a grade school, a vocational agriculture building, a teachers' cottage, a bus garage, and seven teachers' cottages.

Clifton Webb seems satisfied to go on playing fathers forever and ever. The papa of twins in "Cheaper by the Dozen" is set for 20th Century-Fox's "Eloquence", a comedy about the two families of an eloping couple.

Red Skelton, son of a circus clown, practically grew up under the big tent. Now M-G-M is looking for a good story based on a clown's life for him. Red is tired of just making faces and wants a chance really to act. Reports are that he has a recent picture, "Texas Carnival" and "Lovely to Look At" have been his sort of parts he wants to do.

Katherine Hepburn and Spencer Tracy made such a wonderful team in "Adam's Rib" that M-G-M obviously had to find another film for them. The new one is "Pat and Mike", a romantic comedy with the two stars as a pair of managers of soft-boiled men. It is a sequel to their recent picture, "Texas Carnival" and "Lovely to Look At" have been his sort of parts he wants to do.

Eight of Hollywood's prettiest girls have been signed by RKO in a new picture, "The Girl in Every Boy's Arms" starring Groucho Marx, Mafie Wilson and William Bendix. It is a simple comedy.

"THE VISITOR to Boston wonders at it and comments on the narrow, winding, crooked streets of the business section of the city. The natives, to whom he comments, tell him these streets were the cow paths blazed by the cattle of the early pioneers, and the people of Boston cherish them for that reason.

Far to the west, on the shores of the Pacific, from San Diego through to the Oregon border, from the beaches to the ocean, eastward through the high Sierras, the San Bernards and other of the several mountain ranges, stretch the magnificent California highways. They were blazed by wandering Indians, but by a devoted band of Spanish padres in their efforts to carry civilization and Christianity to the Indians.

To those weary, disheartened, Spanish, and their following of native Indians, they were bringing El Camino Real. Today the tourist follows the same route when his car glides over the concrete marked as Highway 101. That was the first of many trails that were blazed. Along it, starting at San Diego, and north to Monterey, the padres, led by Father Kino, and there they blazed a trail, from which to lead the Indian natives from the ways of barbarism to civilization and a Christian life. The tourist who travels over Highway 101, passes these missions. Some of them are now but pic-

THE NO APOLOGIES CORNER

By Georgia C. Nicholas

"YOU'RE LATE, Nell Horner!" Tafty handed Nell her jacket to hold for her.

"I know it," Nell said. "And what's more I forgot to bring back that book that my mother borrowed from your mother."

"An 'd' you're not a d' Tafty prodded. Nell opened the door for her. "I'm only ten minutes late and your mother said you was in no hurry for the book."

Tafty didn't answer until they were in the car and on their way to the dinner table for dinner. "Just how late do you have to be to say you're sorry?"

"What good would it do to say I'm sorry?" Tafty didn't answer. She didn't want to start a quarrel now. She didn't know Nell's parents very well and she did hope they'd like her. Tafty's mother and father belonged to the same club and that's how they became acquainted.

"When are you going to say you're sorry?" Nell asked as if he didn't know Tafty was never. "I'm not. You haven't any manners."

"I haven't had any complaints before. Don't I always open doors for you and all the other things a guy is supposed to do?"

"Oh, yes, the manners that are left between us two sometimes I think you're downright rude. You never apologize."

"When are you going to say you're sorry?" Tafty didn't answer.

blazed by the padres. On those trails are to be found intensely interesting history, an abundance of adventure and romance, and beautiful scenic effects. Those devout Franciscans did not realize that they were laying out a great highway nation to serve an illiterate people. They were doing that of civilizing the Indians, was to establish a new colony for the people of Spain, and to provide routes of travel to and from that colony as they braved the weary miles of ocean beaches or desert sands. Through the dense chaparral and the difficult stony passes of the mountain ranges. They did not realize they were serving as the highway engineers of a state in the American republic, but they were.

To the trails blazed by the padres were those of the fur traders, those of the stage coaches and the emigrant wagon trains. The following of those of the padres. Today all of these constitute the thousands of miles of hard surfaced highways, or the trails of the railroads that make California and its many places of historic and scenic interest. The roads of the padres, the travelers using such transportation as best suits their wishes. The El Camino Real of 160 years ago is Highway 101 today.

We lost the services of MacArthur but we still have the ambassador to Mexico.

FIRST AID TO THE AILING HOUSE

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

QUESTION: We bought an old cottage which has grained woodwork. It is badly marred in places. Is there any way this can be removed and an oil stain applied? The baseboards are rubber side and I am afraid if we toenail them white, it might make them look still wider.

ANSWER: I don't agree with you on that point. I believe that if you were to enamel them to match the color of the walls, the "width" of the baseboard would not be so apparent as it would be if it were a contrasting, and probably a darker color, than the walls. You can remove the present finish with a small portable electric sander (if you can buy or rent one), or else by sanding it with varnish remover and scraping it off, then cleaning off the remover thoroughly with kerosene. You can finish with two coats of enamel undercoat and a coat of enamel, or else with your oil stain and varnish. I hope you will not make the woodwork too dark.

8% Brighter Teeth

What kind of a dog is it? What father was an airhead, but his mother was a female, so I don't just know what he is.

Don't Blame Him
I bought him for a lap dog but they lied to me. What makes you think so? Because the first time I sat on his lap he bit me.

Thrupey Pet
I know a dog worth seven thousand dollars. How could a dog save so much?

Joke Died Too
My dog swallowed a tape worm and died by inches. That's nothing, my dog crawled in on my bed and died by the foot.

Didn't Like It
I shot my dog. Was he mad? Well, it didn't seem to exactly please him.

WORKSHOP PATTERN SERVICE, Inc. Bedford Hills, New York

When you get paint on the windowpanes, or when somebody else does and you have to get it off. Soak the glass with hot vinegar. Give the vinegar a few minutes to work, and then rub or scrape the paint off. A penny makes a safe, effective scraper. If you use a razor blade or something else that is sharp, be careful around the edges. A careless thrust may jab under the putty and eventually cause it to fall out.

CONSTIPATION GONE—FEELS WONDERFUL

"I was constipated for years with no relief in sight. Then I began eating ALL-BRAND every day. Now I'm regular... feel wonderful... thank a million!" Abner Zelman, 6200 Deerfield Rd., Fair Rockaway, N. Y. One of many unusual letters from ALL-BRAND users. This may be your answer to constipation due to lack of dietary bulk. Eat a cup (about 1/2 cup) of crispy Kellogg's ALL-BRAND daily, drink plenty of water. If not satisfied after 3 days, send empty box to Kellogg's, Battle Creek, Mich. Get coupons! YOUR MONEY BACK!

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks suffer from restless nights. You don't realize it until you get up in the middle of the night and find you're still wide awake. This is because your kidneys are not doing their job. They should be filtering out the waste products of your metabolism. If they are not, you will feel tired and restless. You may also have back pain, aching joints, and a general feeling of weakness. It is important to get your kidneys checked out by a doctor if you experience any of these symptoms.

SCANNING THE WEEK'S NEWS of Main Street and the World

Allied Officials Again Expressing Belief Talks On 'Smooth' Footing

HOPEFUL SPECULATION—As the UN and Red Korean negotiators resumed efforts for a cease-fire agenda at Kaesong (without the "protection" of the armed Communist guards), Allied officials expressed the hope that the problem of getting something on the agenda would be quickly solved. There were hints that the talks were going smoother after the lay-off and the situation was more relaxed. The man on the American streets, however, was not too full of optimism. Those who had followed the criss-cross, tie-tat-toe pattern of the war and the inevitable breakdown of the initial conferences knew that there was no available sounding board to gauge the pattern of events in Korea. Most Main Street leaders approved the action of Admiral C. Turner Joy, senior UN delegate, in refusing to continue the negotiations until certain Allied rights were recognized. The spark of aggressiveness offered hope that, years hence, we might ask one another who won the war in Korea.

LET'S CHECK THE RECORD—Administration forces and Truman backed Capitol Hill started off the week with an eye to the 1953 elections and a beckoning gesture to the voting public on Main Street. Realizing the pressure from Republicans and anti-administration forces, the parties tried to get everything possible on the way of economic control bills in order to prepare some manner of checklist for the voting public. The Administration decided to move quickly for final action on the new defense production bill, in which form it could be shuttled through to replace the original law which expired June 30; is currently in force only through Congressional resolution. The law carries powers for wage and price control, materials allocation, and the management of economic control bills in order to prepare some manner of checklist for the voting public.

REASONABLE CEILINGS—The long-awaited Washington explosion came in the House as the battle over federal authority to roll back prices opened with loud fanfare. The Administration's willingness to compromise went for naught as farm-area congressmen balked like the proverbial mule. Before the debate got under way, minority leader Martin and Republican Wolcott (Mich.) leveled charges that the Administration hoped to lead the pending control bill with pet "socialistic schemes" to make in the thoroughly discredited Brannan farm plan through a system of so-called production subsidies.

Administration forces sought the compromise by offering an amendment to retain the present 10 per cent rollback on live beef prices, but forego other farm rollbacks. Farm bloc speaker Cooley (D., N.C.) however, suggested a bill on all farm-price rollbacks—including the one already passed by the Senate (S. 1) went further—seeking to bar all price rollbacks; on industrial goods as well as farm products. The hopes of the Administration thus lay in finding a way to woo the farm-area congressmen and also take advantage of the House Republican leader's proposal to pass a law that will keep prices within reason.

UNPROVEN ANGEL—In New York a federal judge gave evidence that the pending control bill with pet "socialistic schemes" to make in the second time in a week, the Civil Rights Congress was outlawed as a bandman in federal court. The dozen-and-ryan were already out on bond made by CRC. The Red's angel, but Judge Ryan held the Congress had failed to show clear title to bonds; ordered them to find another angel or come back to jail.

MANDATORY SENTENCES—In Washington the House came through with overdue attention to the narcotics problem, voting approval of a bill requiring mandatory jail sentences for narcotics law violators. The measure, Senate-bound, provides for one to five year sentences for first offenders; five to ten years for second offenders; and a 10 to 30 year term for three-time losers. The law would apply to both peddlers and addicts; should be a strong weapon to fight one of the nation's grave problems. Across the country parents, after watching with growing horror the dope probes and hearings, expressed the hope that there was a strong axe to break the narcotic evil from the family threshold.

AN EYE FOR AN EYE—The United States lashed back at Hungary for the expulsion of two American envoys from Budapest two weeks ago; ordered that nation to call home two top diplomats, Peter Varhonyi, legation attache and Lajos Nagy, charge d'affaires. Varhonyi was to leave "immediately," Nagy as soon as new minister Emil Welli could present his credentials. The move was retaliation for the expulsion of American envoys and other pressure that had caused cessation of U.S. information and educational activities in Hungary. It marked, however, a new low in diplomatic relations between the two countries—relations that had seemed improved recently by the release of American businessman Robert A. Vogel.

AND THE RAINS CAME—As the week began, the most-woefully flooded in the history of the nation moved south from Kansas City along the Missouri river, leaving the gateway to the Southwest strangled with slowly receding waters. Residents along a 400 mile waterway counted the damages, 75,000 or more had been left homeless, 400,000 more otherwise affected. Losses were estimated close to the billion dollar mark, nearly twice as much as that in the 1937 Ohio and Mississippi river floods.

NO SIGNIFICANCE—Navy spokesmen in Washington declared there was "no special significance" in Admiral Forrest Sherman's conferences with Premier Stalin, although press reports that the U.S. officer sought the use of navy bases in Spain for the U.S. Sixth Mediterranean Fleet. Britain and France, opposing admission of Spain into the 12-nation Atlantic Pact, came into the open against the U.S. Franco ties, said only the Communists stood to gain anything. Uncle Sam, however, seemed to be enjoining a limited role for Spain in the future Western defense efforts. Supply and demand, France needs arms and ammunition, America wants naval and air bases.

Let Us Search for Peace General Matthew B. Ridgway (second from right) bids farewell to the five United Nations delegates as they prepare to return to Kaesong cease-fire conferences. From left are Admiral Burke, Maj. Gen. L. C. Craigie, Maj. Gen. Paul Sam Hoy, Vice Admiral C. Turner Joy, senior delegate, Ridgway, and Maj. Gen. H. I. Hodet, 8th Army.

U. S. Spurs Record Grain Output

WASHINGTON—The Agriculture department set out to spur the nation's farmers to a new record output of wheat and other fall-sown crops with the release of production goals. Secretary Charles Brannan set the 1952 goal for both winter and spring wheat at 18,850,000 acres. With normal yields, crop increase would be 100 million bushels. The increase would not only meet all expected requirements for the marketing year—both domestic and export, but would also provide for some increase in holdover reserve stocks for that fiscal year ending June 30, 1953. As Secretary Brannan pointed out, "The goal for other fall-sown grains recognize the need to build up feed grain supplies to aid livestock production."

THE BIBLE SPEAKS BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN. SCRIPTURE: Luke 12:13-46; 18:18-24; Acts 18:11-18; 1 Thessalonians 4:10-12; 5:1-11. DEVOTIONAL READING: Luke 12:13-46. No Free Lunch. Lessons for August 6, 1951.

YOU cannot find the words "economic relations" in the Bible, but you cannot find the word "humanity" in the Bible either. If you would not say that the Bible has no message for humanity, a n d if you say so (as I am doing) to have nothing to say about the economic life, it means you have not thought of what the words mean. "Economic relations" is an expression for everything that goes into life from a business or money standpoint, everything we buy and use, make or raise or manufacture or sell. Money's not everything, but money's a part of everything. The Bible speaks about life including the economic aspect of life. Nobody can live for a day without having some kind of economic relations (as that is a holey dove) by not having them.

NO Free Lunch. One vital part of our economic life is the money which we use. A learned professor of economics has said that the whole subject can be put into one short sentence: "There is no free lunch." He means, of course, that everything has to be paid for, by somebody, some time. You may say (as that is a holey dove) but everything on the table costs somebody something, and if you are not paying for it, someone else must be.

New the Bible teaches that every one who is able to do so, should earn his living. Saint Paul made no such distinction in his churches: "He that will not work, neither let him eat." That sounds hard-boiled, but that's what the Bible has to say for the hobo, the loafer, the "moocher," the "grifter," the person who thinks the world owes him a living. The world owes no one a living.

The Right to Work. It is the duty of all of us to earn our board and keep on our feet. The world ought to give us the opportunity to do so. Along with the duty of earning a living goes the right to earn a living. If we have the world ought to give us the opportunity to do so. Along with the duty of earning a living goes the right to earn a living. If we have the world ought to give us the opportunity to do so. Along with the duty of earning a living goes the right to earn a living.

Religious Arid. Because of the religious arid of a king named Aoka, the dome-type of architecture characteristic of India during the Third Century B.C., was spread nearly half-way round the world. Aoka "felt it his duty to convert all mankind to Buddhism." He sent missionary monks to Burma, Ceylon, Java, Syria, Egypt, and many more lands. The Aryans' religion, which he had made an emblem of faith, spread to these lands along with Buddhism. From it evolved the religions we know today in China, Korea, and Japan.

Still, on the other hand, the more a man's property piles up, the more he is tempted to certain sins: the sin of greed, wanting more than our share, more than we can wisely use; the sin of pride, wanting to have more than anyone else in sight; the sin of selfishness, wanting to use what we have for our own ends; the sin of stinginess, wanting to hoard, wanting to fill barns or bank accounts for no particular reason, except just to let the pile grow; the sin of materialism, measuring success in terms of dollars.

The main question is: Why do we want it? To have something good, or to do good with it? The big Christian question about every relationship and transaction, economic and otherwise, is a question about people. What is this going to do to the people who depend on me? To the community? To Pope Pius XII used two words about the economic life which President will agree are of top importance: Make it more human, he said, and more Christian.

Praise of Children. Praise should not be doled out to a child like chocolate candy—one piece at a time. Dr. Martin L. Raymer, consultant for the service and director of the Moosheer laboratory for child research at Moosheer, Illinois, stresses that importance of "encouraging" the little successes of our little ones, along the way.

Writer's Friend. "Birds of a feather flock together," probably never was more true of anyone than Louisa May Alcott, author of "Little Women," "Old Boy's" and other famous children's books. Ralph Waldo Emerson, Henry Thoreau and Nathaniel Hawthorne, were counted among the friends of her childhood days in the historic old town of Concord, Massachusetts.

Religious Arid. Because of the religious arid of a king named Aoka, the dome-type of architecture characteristic of India during the Third Century B.C., was spread nearly half-way round the world. Aoka "felt it his duty to convert all mankind to Buddhism." He sent missionary monks to Burma, Ceylon, Java, Syria, Egypt, and many more lands. It is estimated that a car traveling 80 miles an hour is capable of doing nine times as much damage to property, people and itself as one going 20 miles per hour.

Terramycin—New Miracle Drug. A 21st century—Terramycin has been added to the list of new antibiotic drugs which stifle the life processes of germs so sick people can get well. The new drug is a purified form of a chemical produced by a particular soil mold. It has an effective wear-and-tear against blood poisoning, virus pneumonia, whooping cough, tonsillitis, strep throat, amoebic dysentery, shingles, flu and venereal diseases. Terramycin was discovered by chemists of Charles Pfizer & Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., who turned out in a spoonful of Indiana soil during screening of 100,000 soil samples from all parts of the world. Only eight months were needed to find, prove and mass-produce it, compared to 12 years for penicillin. One of its advantages is that it is swallowed, not injected, and it is so free of toxic effects that dosages for children are as big as for adults.

TEMPLE CITY WOMAN FINDS THAT HADAOOL CAN BRING REAL RELIEF

HADAOOL Helps Folks Suffering Stomach Distress, Poor Appetite and Sleeplessness Caused by An Upset Stomach, If Due to Deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in System. Mrs. William F. Lauer, 10208 E. Nadine, Temple City, Calif., writes: "I'm feeling good these days and you can bet your life that the intense I keep on feeling that way. For Mrs. Lauer had been bothered for years with stomach distress, poor appetite and sleeplessness due to an upset stomach which can be cured by lack of vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, in the system. Mrs. Lauer began taking HADAOOL, which supplies these important elements, and soon was feeling fine and says she is going to keep right on taking HADAOOL. Here is what she writes: 'I'm using my third bottle of HADAOOL and I can't recommend it highly enough. I suffered with stomach distress, indigestion, gas and I could hardly eat anything. Now, I can eat almost everything. I'm able to sleep better and just feel better all around. I shall continue to use HADAOOL and I recommend it.'"

Is it any wonder that Mrs. Lauer is so enthusiastic about today's great HADAOOL? HADAOOL makes it possible to actually relieve the REAL CAUSE of stomach distress, poor appetite and sleeplessness due to an upset stomach. When due to lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in the system.

AND LISTEN TO THIS! Continued use of this great HADAOOL not only gives continuous complete relief but helps keep such distress from returning when caused by indigestion. Now that's the kind of product folks have been looking for... the kind that buy and start taking once. HADAOOL's wonderful Vitamins and Minerals come in liquid form and are quickly absorbed and assimilated in the blood, ready to work. HADAOOL is so effective. Because HADAOOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamin and Minerals to every organ and to every part of your body. You may have tried other Vitamin prepara-

WHATSOEVER ELSE YOU DO THEN VOTE SATURDAY

As a citizen of the United States, one of the very few democratic countries surviving, all of us in Rockcastle able to do so should get to the polls some Saturday and exercise our right to the ballot. True it is sometimes hard for us to decide which man or woman would make the best leader in these trying times with so many problems facing us. Sometimes it is a choice to be made for the lesser evil and we let personalities enter into our decisions. But we believe in the American way—and we believe that all of our freedoms should be protected—with our lives, guns and votes. Let's not sit idly by when we have the opportunity to defend our freedoms.

ROCKCASTLE FACTS and STORIES

By RALPH GRIFFIN

For two years following its first publication date in 1887 The Mt. Vernon Signal made a little impression upon the affairs of Rockcastle. After all, one doesn't acquire editorial experience within such a space of time, to say nothing of other difficulties. Due to the impossibility of obtaining news reports from the more isolated sections of the county, regular correspondents contributed only from Mt. Vernon, Brodhead, Livingston, Wildie, Pine Hill and Pleasant Valley (Cove). Occasional bits of news filtered into the office from other sections but it was largely rumor, hearsay and surmise.

The larger part of the Signal's space was devoted to the State at large and local correspondents contributed from London, Crab Orchard and Williamsburg. Other space fillers were syndicated stories from the outside world. There were advertisements from London, Crab Orchard, Stanford, Williamsburg, Lexington and a sprinkling of ads from local firms. Typical advertisements were from mail-order houses which specialized in sewing machines, organs and pianos, queer-looking typewriters, patent medicines and guns of all kinds. Lively stories recommended themselves very highly from London and Stanford, while Williamsburg was touted from many points in surrounding counties. As early as 1887 there was a furniture factory in Mt. Vernon, a broom factory and a tobacco works in Brodhead.

The co-founders of The Mountain Signal were also owners of this furniture factory, so the paper was sold out the store in the newspaper. They sold to a man who did not own the paper long enough to be named among our previous and present editors. This man printed an article which aroused the ire of a Mt. Vernon citizen, was shot at upon the street and given a limited number of hours to leave town. Considering discretion to be the better part of valor, the editor followed instructions to the letter. He got the paper to Mr. Ed Smith and left the county with a goodly margin of time for the editor. Editor Smith was of different mettle. He immediately served notice upon his readers that he would say what he pleased, when it pleased him to say it. Furthermore, he stood ready to adjust any and all complaints to the satisfaction of objectors—upon the street, in his office of just any old place. Just to show his contempt for tradition, he changed the name of the paper to The Eagle and screamed just long enough to show that he could. After this exhibition of bravado he resold the sheet and properties to James Maret.

Benefiting by his previous experience editor James Maret did a good job with his paper for many years. He renamed it The Mt. Vernon Signal, which it has remained ever since, and announced to the world that it was intended to be a strong champion of the Democratic Party.

Rockcastle had been Democratic for several years following the Civil War but the Republicans captured a small majority about the year 1880. During the period of Maret's editorship that majority was small enough to leave the Democrats a hope of an occasional victory at the polls and partisan feeling ran high. With date lines rather loosely drawn, it was not unusual for the century between 1880 and 1910 were years of political strife and dissention, of lawlessness and ruckus, and of incidents carried to the extreme. Our paper, launched in the midst of such conditions.

These facts did not deter the editor and his correspondents from adding their personal opinions to news items. Blistering editorials scorched the pages, particularly where political questions of killings were concerned. Scathing denunciations were indulged in and repeated to through mast advertisements and The Mt. Vernon Signal became a medium of controversy.

Ancient of the county early history is to be found in the old files of the paper. There is much that is amusing and more that is absorbing to the interest to the student of history.

J. S. Sandusky Appeals To Voters

To the Republican Voters of the 28th Judicial District:

On next Saturday, August 4th, the Republican voters will decide who will be the Circuit Judge of our District for the next six years. They will decide whether our courts will continue in politics or whether they will be held in a lawful manner where no man will dictate to the Judge, and where all men will stand on equal footing and everyone is guaranteed a fair trial.

Tartar says his record has not been surpassed by any other Circuit Judge in Kentucky. As to the number of times he has been reversed by the Court of Appeals, that statement is true. The record discloses that he has been reversed more times than any Circuit Judge in Kentucky.

He again refers to the slanderous article signed by Hamilton in which I was charged with operating a black market. This article was written by Tartar for the purpose of trying to destroy me and prevent me from running against him in the coming election. As before stated, every charge made in that circular was false, wilful and malicious, and Hamilton would not swear on the witness stand that it was true. A fair example of the evidence was that of Luther Turner, the star witness, who swore that he sold the store twenty-four hogs in one day. In truth and in fact he had never been in the store, and had never sold the store a pound of meat. The reason Turner swore as he did was because he had two penitentiary sentences hanging over his head in Pulaski County. It is true Hamilton was acquitted at the trial, but twenty-four reputable witnesses testified that every charge made in the circular was false.

Tartar says that when he was indicted in Clinton County that it was a crude ruthless effort to smear him. Three reputable men appointed by Tartar as Jury Commissioners, made an affidavit that twelve men were called for jury service by him that they did not put in a jury wheel. The Statute not having prescribed a penalty for such violation of the law, the Court of Appeals said the only remedy the people had was to try to impeach him in the Legislature. I think the people have a remedy this coming election. I cannot see where the opinion of the Court of Appeals vindicated him in any way. I did say that I did not believe I could get a fair trial in Pulaski County, and my reason for making that statement was because I did not want my case tried before a jury that came out of Tartar's pocket.

Three high Sheriffs have been assassinated during Tartar's tenure of office, and now, just before the election, he has filled the County jail. He is continually making religious pretenses for political gain, which is a reflection on the intelligence of respectable citizens.

At the last term of court I held, Tartar and two other former Circuit Judges signed and published a statement which said in part:

"Judge Sandusky is entitled to the thanks and appreciation of both the bar and litigants for the ability, integrity, and courtesy which he has always shown in the performance of the duties of his office. He is now going out of office enjoying the confidence and personal friendship of every individual member of the local bar and this, in itself, is an unusual thing. Judge Sandusky has set a splendid example of good morals for the people of the District. He has been a sober man, a good husband, and a faithful member of his Church. He has faithfully enforced the law with the result that law violations have greatly decreased. The District was fortunate in having him for its Circuit Judge and has profited greatly by the splendid example set by him for law enforcement and good morals. The Bar Association regrets the retiring of Judge Sandusky from the bench, and he may have the satisfaction of knowing that after twelve years of service as Circuit Judge he now leaves the office with universal high regard and respect, not only of the Bar Association, but of the people generally."

I have never been indicted in the Clinton Circuit Court for unlawfully empanelling a jury. I have never been arrested on the streets of Mt. Vernon, or any where else, for public drunkenness or for anything.

Tartar has held public office most of his life, and received in salary more than $100,000.00, which he has wasted and squandered, and is not even a poll tax payer. Now, in his dotage, he is asking the people to keep him in office the remainder of his life. Is it good policy to keep a man in office who is a failure, and expect him to succeed for the public?

When elected, I shall take our courts out of politics. I will see that every man gets a fair trial. No man will dictate me in the discharge of my official duties. I will protect the churches, schools, and taxpayers, as I did during my former terms of office.

If you approve of the principle which I stand for, and my former official record, I will appreciate your vote and influence.

YOUR BALLOT WILL BE THE ANSWER.

Gratefully Yours,
J. S. SANDUSKY

THE PEOPLES CHOICE

Good Representation; Better Legislation

Elect Harlan Sanders, State Senator

TO YOU IT MEANS MONEY

As a tax payer and Candidate for State Senator, I have addressed you several times through these columns, and in meetings you have indulged your patience to listen to me speak, and I am grateful of the opportunity that has made it possible for me to meet and get acquainted with so many of you fine folks of Laurel, Rockcastle, Jackson, Clay and Owsley Counties. The territory is large and the 1648 miles of mud road in this Senatorial District has deprived me of the privilege of meeting many of you personally, but I am counting on your vote and support on August 4, Republican Primary.

When I am your Senator we will work together diligently for the up-building of this District through County Road improvements, by securing our rightful share of monies for such purposes. We will get it!

Remember that the 2c rural gas tax amounting to over ten million dollars this year is not programed law as the original not programed by law as the original less we go after it vigorously we will not get our share to apply to the improvement of the 1648 miles of mud road in this Senatorial District. This must be done!

We will have to work aggressively for a chance of the equalization law concerning our schools, in its present form it is depriving our teachers and schools of this district of many, many thousands of dollars by tying the schools equalization money to an arbitrary assessment of property proposition done by another agency of the County and State Government, of which the school authorities have no connection or control, yet the schools get penalized. This must be changed!

All The People Need Relief

The Federal Government is taking more than a BILLION dollars from Kentucky in Taxes this year. On the State level Kentucky has taken $161,234,317.00, thereby bleeding our counties white. The State of Kentucky is taxing land, automobiles, gasoline, income alcoholic beverages, race courses, theatre and amusement tickets, electricity, cigarettes, etc., these burdensome taxes leave nothing but Real Estate for our county and city income. Cigarette tax at 2c per pack last year, 1950, yielded the state government four million, nine hundred eighty six thousand, six hundred eighty seven dollars and forty seven cents ($4,986,687.47). If this tax alone could be rebated or sent back to the counties and cities on a basis something similar to the distribution of the original Five Million Rural Highway Fund or on a population basis it would give each of the counties in this Senatorial district approximately these respective amounts:

Clay, $50,000.00; Jackson $39,000.00; Laurel, $50,000.00; Owsley, $28,000.00; and Rockcastle, $39,000. for their general fund.

I want to assure you that when I am elected your Senator, I will do all in my power to make a law diverting the cigarette tax back to the counties and cities, so that your real estate tax for county and city purpose can be lowered or abolished and still provide more revenue than at present.

Taxes Can Be Reduced

This can be done in view of the fact that Kentucky Revenue records have been smashed! In this fiscal year—with still one month to go. For the eleven month period ending May 30th, Kentucky State General Fund collections amounted to sixty three million, one hundred fifty thousand, nine hundred seventy six dollars ($63,155,976.00.)

This is already an increase of five million four hundred forty thousand and fifty eight dollars ($5,440,058.00) over year 1949 still the tax collections for the full month of June are to be added.

So the cigarette tax can be diverted to the counties and cities in order to provide revenue and reduce taxes at the same time, without impairing the State's revenue of the last year's level.

I want to ask you as one tax payer to another to compare the proposed programs of us three candidates for the Senate seat, and I believe you will become active on my behalf and vote for me. As I am anxious to do something worth while for the people, and when I am elected your senator, I will always respond to the call of any group of citizens or officials in this Senatorial District to be of whatever help I can for the development and improvement of this district. It can be done!

Sincerely

disappearing dollars!

"My crop money seemed to just melt away," says a customer, "until I got the habit of putting it in the bank and paying by check. It still disappears too fast, but at least I know where it goes. And I'm able to control it a little better."

This bank is interested in the financial welfare of farmers of this community and glad to have them as depositors.

Caleb McFadden Makes Statement In State Senator's Race

To my friends of Rockcastle County:

I hope that you will not fail to go to the election Saturday. I will appreciate your support and in return I promise to you the best service of my life. I will continue to be just and impartial, and continue to protect all of Rockcastle County with the strong arm of the law.

I have not failed you and I hope you will not fail me.

Your Friend,

To The Voters Of The 19th Senatorial District:

I have an active campaign of State Senator, through the papers. I have an active campaign and have placed my candidacy before the people. The only politics I know is to place myself and my platform before you, the voters, and await your verdict.

I desire to restate to you briefly my platform which promises support for Better Roads in our District, an improved program of Rural Electrification, increased Old Age Assistance, also the needy blind and dependent children, more help for the schools of our District a Bonus for Kentucky's Veterans and opposition to the Liquor Industry.

The 1948 session of our Legislature surely taught us how powerful the Liquor interests are in our State. We saw the Liquor industry push through our Legislature a law breaking down the County unit of our Local Option Law and allow elections in cities of the first four classes. We saw men vote for that law which we did not believe would do so. Make no mistake this time. You can safely count on me to vote dry in every instance.

I am running my own race. I belong to no slate if there be such thing. I have not the money to buy the office even if it were for sale, which I do not believe is true. If I had the money and the office was for sale I could not afford to buy it unless I meant to sell the office after elected or otherwise use it for personal gain. This I do not mean to do.

The reports that are coming in from all over the District are indeed encouraging but may I urge you who are for me not to be over-confident, but to see your friends and go to the polls and vote next Saturday. If you elect me to this important office I will never betray the trust you put in me.

May I thank you again for the things you have said and done for me in this race.

May God bless you now and always.

Your Friend,
