Education Helps Combat Cancer

At least one-half of the 3,062 Kentuckians who died last year of cancer would have been alive today with early detection and prompt treatment, according to Robert Hansen, M. D., Director of Preventive Medical Services, Kentucky State Department of Health.

Dr. Hansen, in a statement urging public support of Cancer Control Month during April, said that the high cancer death rate can be greatly lowered with public knowledge of the seven danger signals of cancer and with prompt treatment. The purpose of Cancer Control is to raise funds for cancer education, for research and for service to cancer patients.

Because pain is seldom an early symptom of cancer, it is important for everyone to know the following danger signals, Dr. Hansen points out:

- 1. Any lump or thickening, especially in the breast, lips or tongue, or about the neck, armpit or groin.
2. Any irregular bleeding or discharge.
3. Any change in the color or size of a mole, wart or blemish.
4. A sore that does not heal normally particularly about the tongue, mouth or lips.
5. Persistent hoarseness, unexplained cough, or difficulty in swallowing which lasts more than two weeks, or blood in the sputum.
6. Unexplained indigestion or uneasiness after eating or drinking, particularly after the age of 40.
7. Alternate periods of constipation or diarrhea when there is no change in diet to account for it, or rectal bleeding.
8. Anyone experiencing any of these symptoms should see a physician or contact his local health department without delay. Dr. Hansen added.

Manure Not Enough For Tobacco

Even when a lot of manure is used on tobacco, a fertilizer containing phosphorus should be used except on soils containing considerable phosphate.

A University of Kentucky circular on fertilizing burley tobacco. A ton of manure contains about 5 pounds of phosphorus and ten pounds each of nitrogen and potash. It is recommended that 500 to 700 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate or 1,000 to 1,500 pounds of a 5-10-10 or 1,800 pounds of a 4-8-12 be used where mixed fertilizer is applied on low phosphate land. Unless tobacco land is high in potash, or unless 18 or more tons of manure is applied an acre, 150 to 200 pounds of potash should be used.

Refinishing Saves Money

Mr. W. H. Baerlein of Garrard county revealed to members of her homemakers club the beauty of refinished furniture when she showed them two old dining chairs of the same set; one was black with the accumulation of years, the other one, which she had refinished, showed the rich natural color of walnut.

Mrs. Baerlein bought a set chairs for $2 each at a second hand store. Refinished, they will be worth many times that amount, said Miss B. Crump, University of Kentucky home agent. Homemakers in that county are refinishing 127 pieces at the present time. No included in the wide variety of pieces is a clock more than 100 years old.

Cedar Trees Making Money For Farmers

How would you like to play Santa Claus and Dan Cupid; and make money while you're doing it?

Thousands of southern farmers are playing this dual role this spring by planting cedar trees on land formerly considered barren. Cedar's popularity for hope chests and Christmas trees assures it a steady market.

A continuation of the widespread planting program inaugurated several years ago by the Aromatic Red Cedar Association and the National Cedar Chest Association, this spring cedar tree planting is already well underway. Seedlings are obtained from state forest nurseries and the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The Aromatic Red Cedar Association states that more than 3 million cedar seedlings were ready for distribution last spring. Most of these already are being planted by owners. The Tennessee Valley Authority produced 280,000 seedlings. North Carolina grew 1,000,000 Oklahoma put out 980,000; Alabama produced 748,000 Georgia grew 123,000; and Arkansas, Kentucky and Virginia produced 5,000 each.

It is recommended that 500 to 700 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate or 1,000 to 1,500 pounds of a 5-10-10 or 1,800 pounds of a 4-8-12 be used where mixed fertilizer is applied on low phosphate land. Unless tobacco land is high in potash, or unless 18 or more tons of manure is applied an acre, 150 to 200 pounds of potash should be used.

Living Cores Tax Raising: So Are Taxes

Americans pay far more in taxes than they do for food but they are not getting their money's worth. The government is floundering in a sea of red ink when budget time comes. It was disclosed today by Don J. F. Nemitz, Secretary of the Kentucky Tax Research Association.

In 1951 we taxpayers paid some 18 billion dollars more in federal, state and local taxes than we paid for food. The federal tax burden is slightly greater than all consumer expenditures for food this year. Federal taxes will be an ever bigger slice of our incomes and will easily outdistance the total cost of our living.

Nemitz said state and local taxes in 1951 were estimated at between 18 and 19 billion dollars which together with the federal tax bite put taxpayers far above the cost of food.

Declaring that the tax problem today is primarily a federal one, Nemitz pointed out that the only way to reduce the tax burden is to reduce the "taxpayers' spending."

Nemitz said this week he finished sending in their 1951 blood money to the federal government via the income tax. He finished sending in their 1951 blood money to the federal government via the income tax.

Nemitz pointed out that the conference regarding wide open. Already our inflated dollar buys about 50 cents worth. And its still going down. If the federal tax bite put taxpayers far above the cost of food, we would have believed 15 years ago that our dollar would go down even to its present 50 cent level in the past year and a half, the dollar has lost almost 50 per cent of its value.

Shrubs Must Be Pruned Experts Say

Pruning time for shrubs is as soon as they quit blooming, according to Prof. N. R. Elliott, horticulture expert at the University of Kentucky. He points out that the right way to prune is to cut out three or four of the old black canes about two inches above the ground. This will reduce the size of the shrub without calling attention to the pruning. At the same time it will encourage new wood to grow. Shrubs should not be neglected for so many years that they have big ugly stems, little foliage and with only a few flowers in the extreme top.

Tobacco Champions Are Named

The program of Grant county's annual tobacco day revealed 11 farmers and several others who produced 2,000 or more pounds of an acre. R. H. Sebree, champion in the farmer class, grew an average of 2,162 pounds of Ky. 26 an acre and sold his crop for an average of $1,316.57 an acre. Earl Caldwell led the veterans class with a yield of 2,339 pounds of Ky 16 an acre on three and one half acres. Average return was $1,153.33. For the third time, Floyd Poore was 4-H champion. His crop yielded at the rate of 2,174 pounds and $1,226 an acre. He grew Ky 26, an acre of most yields, according to UK County Agent Robert Hume.

Brush Fire Brings Out Fire Department

Quite a bit of excitement was created in Mt. Vernon last Thursday afternoon when the local fire department answered a call to Gentry's Garage, on Richmond Street. Everyone thought that the garage was afire and the huge billows of smoke in the vicinity made the thought more likely. However, and fortunately for the garage, the fire turned out to be no more than broom sedge on fire at the rear of the building. It is reported that someone was burning trash in the neighborhood and the wind evidently carried sparks into the dry broom sedge, quickly igniting it. The wind spread the fire over a large area but the fast, efficient work of the local fire department brought it under control in short order. No damage was done to the garage.

Reams Indicted For Murder

The Grand Jury, on Monday of this week, returned an indictment against Preston Reams who is charged with the wilful murder of his aged father, Bill 'High' Reams. The elder Reams was found beaten to death February 16, and was the victim of a subsequent arrest. He explained to officers at the time that he had been drinking and had taken some sleeping pills so was not aware of what appeared to be a rugged fight. Reams is scheduled for trial Monday, March 31.

PUNKEYDOODLES CORNERS Three Counties Claim Village

CANADA's southwest Ontario counties of Perth, Oxford, and Waterloo are conducting a running argument about the location of the six-inhabitant village of Punkeydoodles Corners.

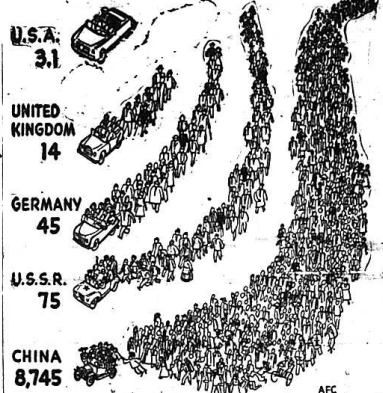

Each county claims the honor, adding that it is possible to stand at the cooperative town pump and throw stones into all three provincial districts. The latest map shows Punkeydoodles Corners in Waterloo County, but the others contend map-makers can be wrong. The fame of the village lies, of course, in its name, as does that of numerous other communities and geographical features. Canada has no corner on unusual names, although she has her share. The other country of England holds her own with such towns as Bishopscleevington, which recalls the hair shirts of ancient clerics. There is a punch of the three Berkshire villages of "Piper Wallop Middle Wallop and Wether Wallop. Old British names are found all over the world. Tribesmen in the colony of Georgia in northwest Africa have told a story that they can stop living in Sin any time they want to and move across the border to neighboring French possessions. Even here they could remain in Sin, as the village extends over the border. The British Isles have one claim, however, that is hard to dispute. That is the longest place name, the Welsh village of Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerychwyrndrobwllantillynnogoch. Rivaling this is Tasmatawhatawhitanhiwhakapouatama te a p o k a i w h e n u a k i t a n a t a h u, a small hill in New Zealand. The forty-miners who rushed to California for gold a little more than a hundred years ago had ears for the unusual in names, to put it mildly. They were dot always original. Lousy Level, for instance, was found in both the Sierra Nevada and the Andes. But the California names neared the peak for graphic description or whimsy.

Soil Testing Saves Money on Farm

A saving of $102 on fertilizer was made by Albert Thompson of Hart County after he had his soil tested and UK County Agent Free W. Wallace made recommendations for its treatment.

For the past four years, Mr. Thompson has grown tobacco on his two and nine tenths A. tobacco base, applying heavy applications of fertilizer every year. He had already bought 1,500 pounds of phosphate, 1,500 pounds of sulphate potash and 3,000 of 3-12-12 at a total cost of $176.

Population per Motor Vehicle

Other countries, without mass production methods or mass distribution of automobiles through the sales credit system, now lag far behind the U. S. in the number of people to each motor vehicle and in their standard of living.

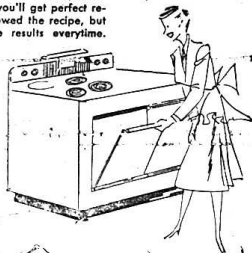

I CAN'T COOK...

but you'd never know it since I got my new automatic electric range. Even my husband is amazed at the wonderful meals I serve now.

My new electric range is:

SO AUTOMATIC AND CERTAIN

Not only can you set the oven controls, confident you'll get perfect results if you followed the recipe, but you'll get those results everytime.

SO CONVENIENT AND MODERN

Its controlled accuracy makes it so easy to cook with. Cooking on an electric range is as simple as flicking on the kitchen light.

SO FAST AND COOL

The big surface units heat up right now; that's important when you're in a hurry. Yet all the heat goes into the pans, not the kitchen.

SO CLEAN AND SAFE

There's no flame to go out or swirl smoke and soot around the kitchen, no fumes, no valves for children to playfully turn on.

SO ECONOMICAL

Electric cooking costs less than you think! Check the chart below to see what it will cost you to cook for an average family of four. These costs are based on the use of 100 kilowatts a month for cooking. If your present bill is: $2.00 an over, electric cooking will cost you $2.00 5.20 to 5.40, electric cooking will cost you 2.20 4.60 to 4.80, electric cooking will cost you 2.40 4.00 to 4.20, electric cooking will cost you 2.60 3.40 to 3.60, electric cooking will cost you 2.80 2.80 to 3.00, electric cooking will cost you 3.00

RAMBLINGS

It has been about fifteen years since I first rambled over the country side in southern Madison and northern Rockcastle Counties in search of news and subscribers. At that time I was the editor of The Citizen. I was particularly interested in making a detailed survey for my own use, of ever family I visited. My primary purpose of course was to get new readers for my paper. I continued my ramblings as long as time permitted during the summer and fall. I used a bicycle, a habit of months. For my mode of transportation I acquired when I was a young lad. For six years I traveled to school on a bicycle. It meant ten miles every day. Sometimes I walked that distance when the weather was such that I could not use the wheel.

On one of those rambling trips I went as far north as Conway and west to Paint Lick, Wallaceton and Cartersville. They were profitable trips which gave me invaluable information and many new subscribers. Many of these still are readers of the paper. Only a few days ago as I stopped at Towery's store and postoffice at Conway I met a man who recognized me. I had forgotten his name but he remembered the incident. "I am..... Do you remember when you made the bicycle trip and your sister met me? I went to the well to fetch you a glass of water. Then I remembered very well.

Last week I began another trip through the countryside but this time I took the car. It is a faster and easier mode of travel. I started up the Seaford and Canoe roads to the Macedonia Church. I took the east fork of the road that leads towards Disputanta. It was Friday morning. The weather conspired to make it a perfect day. The sun shone bright and warm on those rolling hills and meadows, and woodlands. I got that nostalgic feeling as scented the freshly plowed earth. You know how a gardener feels when Spring arrives. I was "hears" the "tute-uc" live two widows, Mrs. Mary Lightcap and Mrs. Kate Gadd. The former lost her husband last October, a victim of Cancer. Mrs. Gadd has no books or magazines in her home because she cannot read.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Abney
As I rode down the steep winding road towards Disputanta I stopped first at the home of Mrs. Ollie Holt. She was working about the house and getting ready for a garden. The house nestles in the narrow valley and under the shadow of a hill Mrs. Holt is proud of her kitchen which has a well right in her sink. From the ceiling she lifted a large cylinder fastened by a rope and pulley. Then she dropped it into the well and in a few seconds she drew up a bucket of fresh, cool water. Mrs. Holt also showed me her cellar which was filled with canned fruit and vegetables of all kinds. There were cans on the floors and on shelves around the cellar.

FARM AND HOME NEWS

The strawberry growers of Rockcastle County will meet at Mt. Vernon Saturday, Mar. 29 at 10:00 A. M. in the auditorium of the county school building. The purpose of this meeting is to discuss and make a final plan for enlarging their acreage and marketing this year's crop.

This is the year to set another one fourth or one half acre in order to have strawberries to sell next year. A good crop depends on getting a good crop last year's settings. Each grower should set a new patch this year. Orders for plants can be placed at this meeting Saturday March 29. Plants should be set by April 15.

Plans for marketing this year's crop will be outlined and explained to the growers. A representative of the Central Strawberry Growers Association will be present to tell about the truck route and schedule for fruit at Mt. Vernon to pick up Rockcastle county berries.

Farmer AH club members and Future Farmers growing strawberries are expected to be at this meeting. Farmers are having more soil tested than ever before. More than 100 tests were made. It is a beautiful sight to see those hills covered with growing timber.

The first schoolhouse on this road is that of Davis Branch and the school is taught by Luther Hill. Mr. Hill lives just a short distance from the school on his 88 acre farm. Mrs. Hill is also a teacher. At present she is a senior at Eastern State College at Richmond. Mr. Hill has a B. S. degree from Union College. At one time he worked in Berea and worked in one of the industries.

Not so far from the Davis Branch School is the Disputanta School where Mrs. Hilda Jabbar is the teacher. The school was holding its last day on Friday.

Elie Chastet was just ready to do some plowing and is son, William was riding the tractor. I was surprised to see so many of the farmers use powered machinery, especially the tractor. Horses don't plow anymore.

Across the road from the Chastet farm is the white summer house of Clarence Cotton' Foley. It is nestled in the edge of the wooded hills and no doubt is a very desirable rendezvous for the family when hot summer days arrive.

last week and all were found to be low or very low in potash except one. A number of these tests showed that the soil had plenty of phosphate and lime to grow any crop. If these tests hadn't been made these farmers would have purchased more phosphate or lime and used on these soils as usual. One man saved himself $72.00 by having some tested. Another had planned to use 5 tons of lime on his tobacco which cost $12.50, but when tested it was found that his soil didn't need any more lime for tobacco. The soil test will save or make money for any farmer. Test and save or you'll be guessing and spending money. Information on how to select soil samples can be had at the County Agents office.

In 1934 tobacco averaged 49 0 pounds per acre. In 1951 the average was 1512 pounds per acre. There are a number of tobacco growers who produced 2000 to 2500 pounds per acre. Some have reported as high as 2700 pounds per acre. In 1951 there were 189.3 acres of tobacco grown in the county which made 2,872,226 pounds. This tobacco sold for $1,435,929.28. The total sum sounds big but the average per 100 pounds was only $49.99. Improvement can still be made in yield and quality. More attention should be given to soils, fertilizing, pruning, time of cutting, housing and curing. If this had not been done in 1951 the crop would have made a better average and no doubt a better price per 100 pounds.

The county Green Pasture Program is moving along right well, but not as well as some think it should. Many of the pastures improved and started this year. These good pasture last year need some fertilizer have an application of lime and fertilizer once in a while. Test the soil of pastures and add the necessary fertilizer and lime needed for best results in hay and pasture. There has been close to 100 farmers enrolled in the Green Pastures be 250 enrolled. Enrollment Program for 1952. There will planks will be found at the County Agents office. Call and enroll if you haven't already done so.

The workshop was held one year at Camp Fleming, four years at Berea College and one year at Kentucky Lake.

The registration fee for the workshop is $6.00 and the board and meals at Sue Bennett will be approximately $35.00. It may be possible for many people in this county to commute daily and eat only their lunch at the college. There will be instructions in folk games, dances, storytelling, arts, crafts, swimming and folklore.

This is an opportunity which 4H leaders, ministers, teachers and community minded people who are interested in recreation for teenagers, will certainly want to take advantage of.

Tomato Blight May Be Stopped

By John S. Gardner, University of Kentucky. In 1950, not too many tomatoes were produced in home gardens because of late blight. Ordinarily, this disease does not come so far south as Kentucky, but that year Kentucky had "northern weather," and it may come again.

Dusting with a pagoun is only a half way measure, as generally used, and with enough dust the dust is not applied evenly to assure the completeness of covering that disease. To prevent late blight, the plants have been sprayed with the correct spray, they may be assumed as covered. Dusts applied only where it blows, and unprotected areas are surely left.

There is another class of spray materials that have zinc in their make up and that behave as well as coppers. They too, run about 50 per cent in strength, as contrasted with the 6 percent strength of the ready to use dusts that are on the market.

New Type of Grass Discovered

Now in the same efficient, easy way that plug in appliances clear up house chores, grass plugs build beautiful lawns. No back breaking spading, sowing, no harvest of weeds and bare spots, fine bladed rapid growing U-3 Bermuda grass sod plugs set in existing lawn bare spots or newly prepared lawns spread quickly to form a tough dense, green lawn, choking out crabgrass and summer weeds as it spreads.

Ky. Has Rise In Unemployment

Seasonal factors, normal for winter months, kept unemployment insurance claims activity in Kentucky at a relatively high level during February, the department of economic security reported in Frankfort today.

The 8,184 new applications taken during the month were less than the monthly average during the 1949-51 period. The usual January and February doldrums in hiring kept job placements at a relatively low, 2,213, about the same as in January. Jones emphasized that the January level of placements was maintained although job openings received dropped 8.6 percent to 2,929. A slight increase in job placements in manufacturing was counterbalanced by a drop in the number of jobs filled in the trade industries.

Sheep Losses Met By Association's Surplus

The 16 year old Marion County Sheep Protective Association has paid all sheep losses every year except the first year of its existence, UK County Agent Gilbert H. Barne reports. While the losses the past year exceeded the association's income, there was enough surplus in the treasury to pay out and still leave a balance of $1,168.

Soil Testing Brings Greater Yield

A Washington county survey reported by UK County Agent Trol Young showed that tobacco growers who tested their soils and followed recommendations on the use of fertilizers and manure had average acre returns of $890. Farmers who tested their soil and then applied fertilizer got no manure got average returns of $903. Those who did not test their soil averaged $743. Ky 16 was the top variety in return of dollars an acre. Pastures Boost Hog Profits Home grown grain and pasture go a long way in boosting profits from hogs, say stockmen at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and home economists.

To weigh 200 pounds, each pig requires at least 15 bushels of corn, 150 gallons of milk and a tenth of an acre of pasture. Tankage, soybean meal or other protein supplement can be used instead of skim-milk. Salt and mineral mixture of half bonemeal and half limestone should be provided; also clean drinking water. Sows should receive wheat middlings while nursing pigs.

Price Controls Make Stable Economy

The contributions which the Voluntary Credit Program has made to stabilization is not measurable in dollars, but the cumulative effect of the restriction of credit to essential purposes is clearly evident from reports received from lenders in all sections of the country. The program has been an important factor in holding prices level during the first year of its operation. There is need, however, for a new determination to preserve progress that has been made containing inflationary forces.

Washington

THE DEMOCRATIC political picture in Washington has been somewhat complicated by the announcement by Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia that he will be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination at the national convention in Chicago next July.

men and others to smoke out President Truman on his intentions with regard to his candidate in the contest failed to elicit an answer. According to the "inside dope" from political observers, the President Truman's intentions may hinge largely upon whom he believes the Republicans will nominate, and these attempts have failed to elicit an answer.

Senator Russell may go into the convention with the southern states votes from the southern states, which, of course, will not provide a nomination but will give a whole of a trading bloc of votes in determining the final nominee. Senator Russell is the second southerner to enter the lists, the first being Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee who has been campaigning over the country for several weeks.

Mr. Truman at 68 is physically fit and these observers report he feels he has life expectancy of at least 15 more years, but that another term of four years in the presidency would probably cut this life expectancy to 10 years. The President, according to the observers, feels so deeply about his foreign program and his plans for world peace that he might make the sacrifice if he believed the Republican nominee would directly alter the country's present foreign policy.

Senator Russell has headed up the southern coalition in the senate, which, with Republican backing, has been successful in blocking or passing whatever legislation is wished, much of it in opposition to President Truman, particularly the President's civil rights program.

For instance General Eisenhower the President see pretty much eye to eye on foreign policy, but Senator Robert A. Taft is definitely against the foreign program. So those observers here who are watching the political pot closely and predicting that Senator Taft is likely to capture the GOP nomination in Chicago feel that President Truman may be forced to run again in an attempt to carry to fruition his foreign policy program. The President may have something to say upon return from a winter vacation at Key West.

In the 1948 convention in Philadelphia, Senator Russell received 293 votes for the nomination, but following the nomination of President Truman refused to bolt the party and followed the Democratic Governor J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina. In 1948 Senator Russell received the vote of the entire delegations from Virginia, South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Arkansas, Texas and Louisiana and some scattering support from North Carolina and West Virginia.

Senator Russell is chairman of the senate firm services committee and has been active recently in attempting to obtain senate approval of universal military training and a military pay boost. He presided last year over the joint committee hearing on the matter of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, which included a sweeping review of administration for eastern foreign policy. Senator Russell is a former Georgia governor and is a 54-year-old bachelor.

In the meantime, repeated attempts have been made by news-
