MUTUAL FIRE AND CASUALTY COMPANIES

Mutual fire and casualty companies now have more than 20,000,000 policyholders, Ball said. They have paid an estimated $1,500,000,000 in pre-1951 for protection of their policyholders. The growth of casualty companies has greatly accelerated in the first half of this century by passage of workers' compensation laws and development of the automobile and the only Kentucky mutual casualty company is the Kentucky Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance Company of Louisville.

It was 1821 before the mutual insurance concept moved to the farms. A group of New Jersey farmers, objecting that exorbitant rates were being charged by insurance companies, formed their own. It was the first farm fire mutual insurance company.

Pioneers carried the mutual insurance story across the nation and the history of farm fire mutual closely parallels there are about 1,800 such that of our country's expansion, companies today.

A fire mutual, the Louisville Mutual Fire Insurance Association, Louisville, bears the distinction of being the oldest Kentucky mutual company, Timanus said. It was organized in 1855 and in 1951, its 96th year had $6,769,523 of insurance in force.

Franklin also fostered loss prevention by requiring that all houses insured be inspected at regular intervals and obvious hazards removed.

This program has been carried on and expanded by mutual fire and casualty insur-

TOASTY HERB BREAD CRUMBS GIVE A GOURMET TOUCH

Bread crumbs, made from enriched bread then toasted in herb- or spice-seasoned butter give a delightful personality to any dish — meat, fish, vegetable salad — even dessert. They're really tasty tidbits, economical too.

To make soft bread crumbs, crumble a slice of bread with fingers or place two slices together at a time, cutting into tiny cubes with a sharp knife. Crumbs may be left on or not, but never throw them away — use for dry bread crumbs. To make buttered crumbs melt butter in a saucpan or a small frying pan. Add soft crumbs and toss over medium heat till golden brown.

For cooking fun — eating fun too, make herb-flavored crumbs. Add curry powder to the melted butter or margarine and use crumbs for a de luxe meat loaf or to top creamed fish or chicken. Or add dill seeds or fresh dill to melted butter and use crumbs with green salad or use to top ham loaf. Do the same with dry mustard and add a generous sprinkling to scalloped ham or vegetables. Cinnamon spiced crumbs make good fruit crusts.

Here's a recipe to make you crumb-conscious and start you experimenting with your favorite herbs and recipes:

CURRY-CRUMB POTATO SALAD

6 slices bacon
1 quart diced cooked potatoes
1/4 cup minced onion
1/2 cup minced green pepper
1/2 cup mayonnaise or boiled dressing
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1 teaspoon curry powder
1 cup soft enriched yeast-raised bread crumbs

Fry bacon till crisp. Drain on paper towel; then crumble. In large bowl combine crumbled bacon, potatoes, onion, green pepper, mayonnaise, salt and pepper. When ready to serve salad, blend curry powder with melted butter or margarine in small skillet. Add crumbs and toss till light brown. Sprinkle over salad and wait for the compliments. Melba Greenberg

INSURANCE MEET IN LOUISVILLE

Louisville, March — Kentucky participation in the 200th anniversary of mutual insurance March 25 will be highlighted in Louisville at a special bicentennial dinner.

Thomas J. Ball, president of the Mutual Underwriters Insurance Agency, Inc., state 2-00th Anniversary Committee member, and executives and agents of the states' 24 mutual fire and casualty insurance companies are expected to attend.

The nation's oldest mutual insurance company was organized in Philadelphia on March 25, 1752. Benjamin Franklin, who played a major part in its formation was one of the original directors, Ball said.

That company, The Philadelphia Contributionship for the Insurance of Houses from loss by fire, is the forerunner of today's 2,610 mutual fire and casualty insurance companies. About 1,700 persons subscribed to the deed of settlement under which the Contributionship was organized.

Durable, Low in Cost

The light, durable hog house is a labor efficiency. An example of the ideal hog house, which is large enough for four sows and which can double as a farrowing house, is illustrated. Any lumber dealer can furnish the lumber for the flooring and framework and the Masonite quarter-inch tempered hardboard used for the siding and roof.

A great saving in time will come in the construction itself, as the 4-foot-wide panels of hardboard go into place more quickly than narrow siding.

Double, full-length doors, divided mid-way, automatically provide access for both farmer and animal as well as ample ventilation. Openings in the upper panels may be covered with glass cloth or a similar material.

The house is built on 4 by 6-inch wood sills which serve as sills and the 1-inch flooring is laid on 2 by 4-inch joists. The eaves are also 2 by 4" stock. A 2 by 6-inch guard rail is nailed 10 inches from the floor around the house, between the sills. It protects pigs from being crushed by the sows.

Provision is made for removable partitions. Trim from the Masonite tempered hardboard panels may be used as batter strips. This hog house is easy to clean and will last indefinitely. There is no additional saving of labor for the busy farmer. For working plans, write Farm Service Bureau, Suite 2031, 1400 Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill, and ask for free plan AFB-197.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelley Shelton have received word that their son, Paul, who is with the armed forces, is being sent to the Panama Canal Zone. The attendance at the Wildie Christian Church has been good all winter. Rev. Ed Simon of Johnson College is the pastor, with services each 2nd and 4th Sundays with the probability of services each week within the near future. Rev. Columbus Isaac of Be-Church Sunday morning, March will preach at the Wildie 3rd.

Shirley Parson believes that ones' troubles come in triplicate. Recently Shirley broke his leg. Then one of his ponies was killed when it stepped on a pitchfork. Last week the last of his triplets arrived when he found one of his prize steers dead. At the last report Shirley was trying to decide on what to name these monstrosities. The community auction at Wildie was well attended Saturday morning. The Owen County Utopia Club voted to buy 50 bulbs per member of six varieties of gladiolus for setting near the county fair grounds.

REJECTED CORNER STONE

Except the Lord build the house they labor in vain that build it. (Psa. 127:1). Approximately 1900 years ago Jehovah sent his only begotten Son into the world and lord him as the foundation of the true tabernacle of the Lord pitched and not man. (Heb.8:22). For no other foundation can man lay than is laid which is Jesus Christ. (1Cor.3:11) Jesus said "Upon this Rock I'll build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it. (Mt. 16:18-19) And that rock was Christ.

Ye also as lively stones

Ye also as lively stones are built up a spiritual house, and holy priesthood to offer up spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God by Jesus Christ. (1Pet. 2:5-8) The church was for a long time a mystery but was first revealed to those selected from among men as members. (Mark 4:11) The church is a predestinated number that shall ultimately sit with Christ in his throne blessing all the nations of the earth. (Rom. 8:29-30. Rev. 2:26-27) These are Gods husbandry, these are Gods building. (1Cor. 3:9) This buildin gis built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets. Jesus Christ Himself being the chief Corner Stone, in whom all this building is joined together groweth into an holy temple in the Lord. In whom ye also are a portion of God through the Spirit builded together for an habita- tion. (Eph. 2:20-22) As it is written, "Ye are the temple of God and the Spirit of God dwelleth in you. (1Cor. 3:16) And again, "Ye are the temple of God as God-hath said I will dwell in them and walk in them and they shall be my people. (2 Cor. 6:16) These are a light to the world enlightening the path of the other sheep who will make the earthly paradise their home. (Mat. 5:14-16 St. Jn. 10:16) (Mat. 5:9) Plans for kitchen improvement are being made by homemakers in all parts of Bullitt county as a result of lessons they had on arrangement of equipment and making rooms attractive. One of the first to make changes was Mrs. W. F.

HOME IMPROVEMENT IN KITCHEN

Plans for kitchen improvement are being made by homemakers in all parts of Bullitt county as a result of lessons they had on arrangement of equipment and making rooms attractive. One of the first to make changes was Mrs. W. F.

Maaden, who had a water system installed in her home. She was careful to have the water heater and the kitchen sink placed as recommended. Mrs. H. H. Combs of the Iron Church moved her range to a better location and installed a 36 inch base cabinet by her refrigerator to complete a baking center. More than 50 home makers in the county have had portable lab tables made in order to sink while they do many kitchen tasks, said Mrs. Bernice S. Cash, Universit of Kentucky home demonstration agent. The record of achievement in the farm home and on the farm has been made by Miss Mary Ann Hufflage, 4H club member of Jefferson county. In completing 32 projects, she canned 139 meals, baked 302 cookies, decorated her bedroom, cared for 31 pigs, seven steers, 75 chicks and grew a garden. LIKE A TREE

Rev. Wendell Below "And he shall be like a tree" is the Lord's description of the righteous man, as found in the first psalm. The living things that God has made often point to great lessons for us in the Christian life. All of us have fond memories of some great and stately tree that grew along our highways of life. It may have been a stunted and gnarled tree that made a shade from the sun on a boy to climb, a limb to which one might fasten a swing, an apple tree, with green and forbidden fruit that later ripened to bright red lusciousness. The righteous man is like a tree planted by the rivers of the water, that bring forth fruit in season; it shall shall not wither. The tree that is planted by the rivers of water are usually luxuriant in foliage, care for a life giving requirement for a tree. The righteous man has his rootage in the vital living waters that flow from the throne of God, or shelter, fruit or wood, the nourishment God gives. ABOVE THE HULLABALOO

THIS COLUMN does not believe that the American people have lost all sense of proportion. That they had lost a great deal was apparent in 1948 when over 50 per cent of the eligible voters stayed away from the polls and allowed about 25 per cent to outvote about 25 per cent and return the money-mad Fair Dealers to office. It was proved when the farmers swallowed the "get rich quick" scheme of the "Coca-Cola" that before they can ever digest it. It was made obvious by the total lack of the interest of vast millions of eligible voters who did not possess the brains and/or the patriotism to try to have their country from being spent into bankruptcy and eventual ruin. How can this nation expect to resist the ruin determination of the Kremlin to conquer it if half its people don't even care enough about their own children's future to take off their hats and vote four years to life in the Presidential election? Nature itself will not allow us to be lulled into a sweet, four year nap. And to this nation's backbone—those of you who have the intelligence to realize that you must vote—say you going to try to return to office a bureaucracy which spends your money on such projects as "Tolerance for Environmental Stress in Aged and Newborn Sheep and Chickens"; or "Coca-Cola and the Electric Factor in the Mental Health of the Hutarians"; or "The Influence of Post-Adult Environmental and Adult Behavior and Neuroses"; or to "Study Unconscious Factors Governing Courtship and Marriage." We don't believe you are. We believe you know a real light when you see one and that you understand the meaning of the word "Danger ahead". We believe you want to help defend western Europe, that only you can save them but we believe you will vote for a government which can ship a gun for 500 when you can buy one for 10. We believe you see that and that you will vote for a government which can ship a gun for 500 when you can buy one for 10. We believe you see that and that you will vote for a government which can ship a gun for 500 when you can buy one for 10.

There is no use trying to stay in the poultry business unless one is willing to invest in the minimum of equipment. Remember, you are competing with those who realize that poultry production is business and who are constantly trying to produce at lower unit costs. It is the little things well done that mean the difference in profit and loss. Because of a lack of equipment most poultry flocks are neglected during the most critical time when farmers are busy with more pressing farm work. The equipment needed to enable one to produce good pullets at lower costs need not be expensive and is within the reach of everyone. Many farmers pay for this equipment every year, yet never have a single chick. A range shelter is a must in the production of good pullets at lower costs. By using a shelter the pullets can be put on a good pasture which will result in lower feed costs. The shelter protects the growing stock from dogs, foxes, and other predatory animals at night and cheaply constructed rain sheds protect the growing stock from rain and shade during the hot summer days. Outdoor feeders, which are easily and cheaply constructed, are needed for mash feeding. Grain can be fed in hoppers or it may be strewn on the sod. Automatic waterers are necessary and may be provided by placing barrels or a tank on runners or a low truck and using float valves to regulate the water flow. Two or three barrels placed on their side on a slide make watering the small flock an easy task. A feed holding bin that is weather proof should also be put on 2x8 or 2x10 runners or on wheels. It should be large enough to hold 2 or 3 weeks supply of feed and should have two or three compartments, one for grain and one for mash. If oats and yellow corn are to be fed, and it is hoped they will be mixed in the same compartment or if pre-ferred the bin can be divided into grain in each. By moving the bin on old car wheels the feed may be moved more easily. Lift-up doors will permit the feed to be taken into buckets of convenient size will make feeding easier. Indications are that egg prices may have reached the seasonal low for this year, but a general improvement in the general price level is expected in the immediate ahead. The egg feed price ration in February 1952 was the lowest years. As a result of low egg prices for this month in the past ten years, farmers indicate that they were planning to start approximately 10 per cent fewer chicks for flock replacement this year than in 1951. If farmers plans are carried out as indicated, egg production will be sharply lower next fall than that of the last half of 1951. Producers who are looking ahead will probably plan to have their flock in full production by early fall to take advantage of seasonally high prices that are expected to rise in the number of hens in suit from a substantial reduction in laying flocks. The average farm family should try to have from 50 to 100 pullets to start laying by September 1, September, October, November and December are the months the egg market is best. The farmer who is in the commercial poultry business should have from 300 and winter laying. We have both classes in the county. In any case the 65¢ chick should be started early and fed well and get them started laying as early as possible. Remember it's important to get the price of eggs and eggs usually and should raise poultry chickens on the farm or raise chickens for family use. Most of all the feed for home flocks for home use. This is a special invitation for you to join us on Kentucky second Green Pastures Tour on April 22, 23, and 24. The tour starts this year at the Berea College Dairy Farm, Berea, Kentucky, and proceeds south through the rugged hill country of the Cumberland National Forest area to the beautiful Cumberland Falls, thence west through southern Kentucky across new Wolf Creek Dam, then northward to Campbellsville, ending just south of Danville in the edge of the Central Blue Grass Region. Here is your opportunity to see excellent pasture development in an area where opportunity for pasture improvement is unlimited. Two farms in rugged Jackson County will be visited on the 22nd, the Robie Lear Farm and B. B. Hilliard's Farm both winners of District Pastureman Awards.

On the second day stops will be made on farms of Master Pastureman: C. T. Barton, Whitley County; W. O. McCreary, Rufus Barton, Wayne County and on the third day stops will be made on the farms of Master Pastureman: Phillip Corbin, Taylor County and Oliver Payne, Lincoln County. The trip will not only be educational but will be a real vacation through a very scenic part of the state. The mountains in Jackson, Whitley, and McCreary Counties are beautiful at that time of the year and Cumberland Falls and Wolf Creek Dam are spots of national interest. Those coming a distance may wish to spend Monday night in Lexington, Richmond or Berea. Reservations should be made for Tuesday night at the Cumberland Falls State Park. Be sure to indicate that you will be on the Green Pastures tour. We hope you can join us on this trip to see Kentucky's transformation to a pasture state. We would appreciate your calling the attention of others who might be interested in this tour. A good attendance will help stimulate further active interest. The program of Rockcastle county farmers includes cooperation with the Mt. Vernon Chamber of Commerce in promoting a community hospital. The Agricultural Extension Committee in the county recently voted to add a school and agriculture fair and a county artificial breeding association to the general farm set up. Strawberries will be sold through the Cumberland Scenic Society, a group which will run a truck from Williamsburg to Cincinnati. Berries will be packed up along the highway by Shirley Kray, Farmall, Rockcastle and Jackson counties. Thirty two Rockcastle county farmers have enrolled in the Green Pasture program according to Robert F. Spence, University of Kentucky County Agent.

RAMBLINGS

This week we are offering a new column for our many readers. It is written by Cleatus Tussey for Clear Creek. Comments just who this stranger is we are not going to tell, but let us assure you that he knows his stuff and how to tell it. He knows a lot of people and what they think. He is quite a philosopher and will no doubt amuse many by his homespun saying. You will like him. He might get into your hair, but don't let that bother you. He won't hurt you. He knows a lot of stories. Some may be true and others may have a great deal of truth in them. Perhaps some will teach a lesson. We welcome this new writer and I am sure that the readers will look forward with eagerness every week for this quaint column. The drenching rain of two weeks ago did more damage than I thought. I saw the waters of Roundstone Creek and how they covered the entire landscape for miles, but what I didn't see was the turbid stream in the large Clear Creek Valley. Here the swift current leaped out of the fields, made deep gulleys, gutted the road and filled the valley with debris. At one place a huge mud slide covered part of the highway. They tell me that Indian Creek in Jackson County and southeastern Rockcastle County was the worst in this section of the Cumberland Forest. Last week my ramblings took me through the Clear Creek section as far as Disputanta. It is here that tall, lanky John Payne holds fort. I have heard him nicknamed the "Ma of Disputanta". He operates and owns a typical country store where farmers congregate often during the week to do their trading and gossiping. John probably knows more people in Rockcastle County than anyone else. At one time he was county clerk. During his campaign for this office he went up and down his county, many places on horseback. The Paynes have two daughters and one son. Mrs. Payne is a talented woman who at one time was a court reporter and for many years did special secretarial work at Berea and other places. Not far from Disputanta is the rural school taught by Mrs. Hilda Gabbard. I was able to take a picture of the school with some of the pupils attending. Others had gone home for lunch. I notice that many of the school buildings are supported with loose stone. I undertook a rather foolish venture last Friday. As I left John Payne's store I made the suggestion that I would like to see Anglin Falls, noted for its beauty and often visited by students and faculty from Berea. After getting proper instructions as how to climb the valley I started out to the north. Enroute I saw the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Abney. Mr. and Mrs. Gabbard, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Coffey. The latter sent seven of their children to Berea. Not long ago their daughter Mrs. Dean Cornet of Rowan County won the nomination as master home-maker. Up the road lived the Cobbe and the Anglin. I stopped to receive more information as to the direction to the falls. Well, the traveling went fairly well until I reached the rough and rocky valley where boulders were heaped high and brambles tucked at my arms and legs. I felt as though I would never reach the end of my trail. At about two hundred feet from the falls, I halted, snapped a picture of the valley, but the stream of water was barely discernible. Any one not used to climbing hills should not attempt to make this trip. It takes considerable courage and stamina. At one time this valley was covered with towering spruce trees. Today these trees are gone and only underbrush and brambles and some young saplings remain. I noticed at one spot at least a hundred logs, some as long as three feet in diameter, rotting away. Some six years ago the spruce trees were cut down and never cut into lumber. Here is a valley, robbed of ferns and flowers. There are still some ferns and wild flowers, though in Jaccinate. The lotanin, but the splendor of its original beauty of trees and native evergreens is gone.

AIR FORCE UPS RECRUITMENT

Recruiting season "The Armed Services" campaign to more than double the number of women in the various female components is now proceeding at a satisfactory rate, M-Sgt. A. E. Shreve Jr. of the local U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting station announced yesterday. The goal of 72,000 new service-women by June 30 of this year has not reached the half way point, it was said.

Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna M. Rosenberg has stressed that no restriction exists on the number of women who can be enlisted for the woman's Army Corps and especially for the women in the Air Force. We will take all the qualified women we can get, it was stated, pointing out figures which showed that there are the nation's largest available pool of military service age personnel is the 8,500,000 women in the 18 to 34 age bracket. More than a fourth of this group could easily qualify for military service as they have high school educations or better or have no dependents. M-Sgt. Shreve stated that many women who tend to disregard service careers because of the small number of possible jobs do so in error. In the WAC for instance, more than 400 different jobs are performed by women who tend to disrepute. There, tasks in 446 of the 556 highly technical fields in that service can be and are assigned to the WAF. Local-recruiter for the United States Army and United States Air Force have announced that the present restriction on enlistment in the U. S. Air Force does not apply to men with two years of college who are desirous of beginning Aviation Cadets. The critical shortage of applicants for pilot and aircraft observer training in the United States Air Force's Aviation Cadet program has resulted in easing admission requirements for college men with only two years of college may now apply directly to the recruiting station. After favorable action there, preparation will be completed to the nearest Air Force Base for physical and completion of classification in one-fourth the time previously required. Applicants who have been accepted for Aviation Cadet training may enlist for two years, instead of the otherwise required four years. In addition, would be Cadets who have a high school education but have not yet entered college may make application for Aviation Cadet after they have enlisted in the Air Force and are undergoing basic indoctrination training.

M-Sgt. A. E. Shreve Jr. of the Mt. Vernon recruiting station stated today that between 3 and 5 men may be enlisted in the air force during the month of April, anyone interested in enlisting in the air force should contact Sgt. Shreve at his office. Sgt. Shreve stated further that there are plenty of open

Mrs. Shelby Cummins who has been charged by insurance companies, formed their own. It is the first farm fire mutual insurance company. Pioneers carried the mutual insurance story across the nation and the history of farm fire mutual closely parallels that of our country's expansion, companies today. A fire mutual, the Louisville Mutual Fire Insurance Association, Louisville, bears the distinction of being the oldest Kentucky mutual company, Timanus said. It was organized in 1855 and in 1951, its 96th year had $6,769,523 of insurance in force. Franklin also fostered loss prevention by requiring that all houses insured be inspected at regular intervals and obvious fire hazards removed. This principle has been carried on and expanded by mutual fire and casualty insurance companies, which have extensive safety programs for farms, highways, factories and homes. Under the mutual insurance concept, all savings are returned to policy holders. The growth of casualty companies was greatly accelerated in the first half of this century by passage of workmen's compensation laws and development of the only Kentucky mutual casualty company is the Kentucky Farm Bureau Mutual Insurance Company of Louisville.

Bread crumbs, made from enriched bread then toasted in herb- or spice-seasoned butter give a delightful personality to any dish - meat, fish, vegetable salad - even dessert. They're really truly tidbits, economical too.

To make soft bread crumbs, crumble a slice of bread with fingers or place two slices together at a time, cutting into tiny cubes with a sharp knife. Crusts may be left on or not, but never throw them away - use for dry bread crumbs. To make buttered crumbs melt butter in a saucpan or a small frying pan. Add soft crumbs and toss over medium heat till golden brown. For cooking fun - eating fun too, make herb-flavored crumbs. Add curry powder to the melted butter or margarine and use crumbs for a large meat loaf or to top creamed fish or chicken. Or add dill seeds or fresh dill to melted butter and toss crumbs with green salad or use to top ham loaf. Do the same with dry mustard and add a generous sprinkling to scalloped ham or vegetables.
