

KENTUCKY FIRE DEATHS DROP FROM LAST YEAR

State Fire Marshal, J. T. Underwood, Jr., today attributed a 38 per cent drop in fire fatalities during the first three months of the present year to increased diligence on the part of the state and local fire protection authorities.

Local fire protection authorities are bringing results.

Recalling the wave of deaths from unvented or defective gas heaters, especially those in tourist cottages, last year, Underwood noted that for the first three months of 1951 there were 17 such fatalities and this year only seven have died from the same cause.

Open fires, also a perennial killer, accounted for 18 deaths during the first three months of last year, and five deaths this year, while home fires resulting from miscellaneous hazards dropped from 28 to 23 during the period.

MAY 25-31 PROCLAIMED PARK RECREATION WEEK

The week of May 25-31 will be Park and Recreation Week in Kentucky, according to a proclamation issued here by Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby.

Noting that a good system of parks and places for recreation is a vital and integral part of the democracy that has been developed in America, the Governor called on all Kentuckians to acquaint themselves with their park facilities and to help acquaint others.

A tour of Kentucky by about 25 out of state travel editors from midwestern newspapers has been scheduled for the week. The editors, coming on invitation of the Governor, will end their tour in Frankfort the following Sunday.

FISHING LICENSE SALES UP 315,000 IN 8 YEARS

A look at the increased sale of Kentucky fishing licenses is solid proof that the state is fast becoming recognized as the land of opportunity for the fisherman.

Figures released today by the Division of Game and Fish show an increase of more than 315,000 in the license sale in an eight year period. The increase is considerably above the national average and an all-time high is expected this year.

Fiscal Court Approves Issuing Of Bond For Hospital

Architect's drawing of proposed hospital for Rockcastle County. The drawing was made by Mr. Jack Crawford of Renfro Valley. The estimated cost of the hospital is $100,000.00 and is to be covered by a bond issue to be voted on by the voters this fall.

Voters in county to decide next fall whether County is to be bonded for building new hospital.

FIRE LOSS SET AT $5,000

The large barn belonging to Tony Brown of near Quail was totally destroyed with all its contents last Friday, a few minutes after midnight. In the fire were two valuable horses, 3 veal calves and 3 shoats. Also 60 bushels of corn, 2 tons of fertilizer and some tools as well as a corn planter and other machinery. The Chevrolet car belonging to Clinton, the son of Tony Brown was parked on the road near the barn. The heat was so terrific that the car caught on fire and burned up, a complete loss. It was valued at $245. The barn measured 32x45 feet with three twelve foot sheds.

The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. Brown woke up some time after midnight, turned on the radio and then noticed that the room was all lit up with flames. At that time he awoke and rushed to the front of the house. When he opened the door he was shocked by the flames which were at that time had swept across the front of the house. A gasoline tank full of gas had the paint burned off but the tank did not explode. The side of the house had the paint blistered from the heat. Mr. Brown carried no complete insurance. The fire was a complete loss to him which he estimated at $5,000.00. He plans to rebuild as soon as possible.

Mrs. Nancy E. Boreing Dies May 4th

Mrs. Nancy E. Boreing died Sunday, May 4th, 1952 at the age of 74 years. She was born August 1, 1877 in Scott County, Virginia. She was a former resident of Mt. Vernon but for the past four years had made her home with her son, Henry Boreing of Cincinnati, O., where she passed away after a long illness.

She joined the Christian Church at Cove Branch at an early age.

Mrs. Boreing is survived by two sons Henry and Basil Boreing of Cincinnati, O., one brother, Jack Treadway of Terre Haute, Ind., seven grand children, seven great grand children and several nieces and nephews.

Members Of F. F. A Hold Banquet

Top row reading from left to right: Supl. Clyde Liville receives the award as honorary farmer from the hands of J.B. Payne, Jess Bullock receiving the coveted trophy as the outstanding boy in the chapter. The selection was made by the boys themselves. The trophy was given to him by Anderson Ramsey. Jess is the star farmer of the Cumberland district. His father, Cecil Dalley seated. Edwin Price. Second row: Bobby Lay, Kenneth Cromer, Denton Dash and Members of the Future Farmers of America of the Mount Vernon High School banqueted their fathers last Thursday evening at the local cafeteria room. Tables were placed in a rectangular shape around the room at which at least 125 fathers and sons and a few other guests shared in a delightful meal of fried ham, greavy, mashed potatoes, green beans, tossed salad, strawberry shortcake with whipped cream and coffee. Jess Bullock presided over the program like a veteran parliamentarian and brought the evening's events to a successful conclusion.

The invocation at the opening of the banquet was given by Edwin Price, and the speech of welcome was made by Carl Deatherage.

President. Various subjects of the outstanding Future Farmer in praise-worth words that would have fitted a master farmer. This Future Farmer has already accomplished much and has won many honors. The winner of this award, a beautiful cup, was Jess Bullock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bullock. Edwin Price told of the supervised farming program and mentioned four steps that are necessary to fulfill its objectives: (1) A cash crop, (2) a livestock project, (3) a feed crop project and (4) supplementary practice, such as building or repairing buildings or machinery. Another project is to enter the dairy contest. Last fall the boys won two firsts, three seconds and one third at Somerset. Still another project is to enter the School and Anderson Ramsey presented Agricultural Fair. In this the boys had 139 entries. In his report Price mentioned the boys who were selected by the chapter for their achievements. These were Jess Bullock, William Bullen and Jack Dalley. Jack Dalley spoke on Information. His particular job is to inform the public on the doing of the chapter through the newspaper, and through newsletters. He also keeps a scrap book of all the important events that relate to the chapter.

Bobby Lay headed the Recreation topic. He told his committee initiated a number of Greenhands into the chapter. And that the basketball team has just completed an undefeated season.

Harold Mink told the audience on the Earnings and Savings that his committee members are doing how they make out the budget, audit treasurer's books, show movies in rural schools and sell rock phosphate to their father farmers. Here, they really can have high pressure salesmanship with a clear conscience.

Music for the evening was given by the high school band through the leadership of Bragg Thompson. The event was an unusually successful affair for the Mt. Vernon Chapter F.F.A.

HOMEMAKERS TOLD WORLD PROBLEMS RELATED TO FOOD

Ten weeks spent in the islands of the Pacific convinced Mrs. Anna C. Pettets that the problems of the world are closely related to the problem of food. Colorado newspaper publisher and traveler, she spoke to members of the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers at a series of 12 district meetings held throughout the state last subject was "Earth's Fullness."

There is not enough soil on the islands to feed the people, she said, and rural areas are fast losing their people to industry.

Mrs. Pettets told of the Pan-Pacific Conference of Women attended by representatives of 20 countries; of the university (patterned after Berea College) built on the "Isle of Okinawa, where 1,000 natives are learning agriculture and home economics, and of her visit to the New Christian International University in Tokyo, the highlight of her trip. She urged that the women of the United States show great understanding and patience for the women of Japan. "You are free to do, to think, to act," Miss Myrtle Weidorn of the University of Kentucky reminded the homemakers in her address. Possibilities Unlimited. She spoke of the military and the home.

"Now as never before, the home must offer: 1) security with close bonds of understanding and affection; 2) more social and recreational life; 3) strong bodies developed through good food and good health habits; 4) inviting homes where families like to live and friends come; and 5) conveniences that make it possible to carry a full work load with a minimum of wasted effort," she said.

Other speakers heard by more than 6,000 farm and rural women were Mrs. Wade Holt, Bloomfield, president of the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers, and the district chairmen of citizenship, reading, membership and publicity committees.

INSTITUTE RECOGNIZES OUTSTANDING CHURCHES

Eight churches and their ministers were recognized for outstanding community service at the 15th annual Rural Leadership Institute at the University of Kentucky. The two day conference for town and country pastors, agricultural extension workers and other community leaders was sponsored co-operatively by the University and the Kentucky Rural Church Fellowship.

Chuches and pastors honored were: Onton Methodist, Leslie; Leale Baptist, Chapman; Mayslick St. Rose, Mason county; Father Paul Brinker, West Liberty; Methodist, Morgan county; Rev. William M. Pope, St.amping Ground Christian, Scott county; Rev. James C. Nease, St. Andrew's Methodist, Oldham county; Rev. C. D. Goodwin, Brandenburg First Methodist, Meade county; Rev. Bill Silder, Summerville Church of the Nazarene, Green county, Rev. H. B. Root, and the Hillsboro Baptist, Rev. Adrian Lamkin.

The average annual temperature in Kentucky is approximately 57 degrees.

In 1780 Kentucky consisted of three counties: Jefferson, Fayette, and Lincoln.

The geographical center of Kentucky is near Lebanon in Marion County.

There are more than 70 native species of trees in Kentucky, at least 59 of which have commercial value.

The greatest flood in the history of Kentucky was recorded in 1937.

The American Romantic style has been planned to fit with the simplicity of the classic architecture of Memorial Hall.

FEWER LIQUOR LICENSES EXPECTED FOR NEXT YEAR

Alcoholic Beverage Control Board Chairman Guy C. Shearer today predicted there will be fewer whiskey and beer licenses renewed for next year.

Because of this Department's announced policy of denying renewal licenses to those who possess federal gambling tax stamps either in their own name or in the name of another person whose address corresponds with licensed premises.

Department field representatives are checking a list of those in possession of gambling stamps to eliminate any between gambling and licensed liquor and beer premises.

"The General Assembly has given us the duty of policing the liquor and beer sales business, and it is our intention to do all within our power to keep it clean," said Shearer. "Several months ago warning stamps was given that licenses would not be renewed where owners name or in the name of another person possess gambling stamps. We

STATE REVENUE AHEAD OF RECEIPTS LAST YEAR

Total State revenue for the first three quarters of the current fiscal year is 1.7 per cent ahead of revenue collected during the same period last year according to a report released by the Departments of Revenue and Finance.

The report—covering collections from all sources for the nine months ending March 31—showed that tax revenue for that period totaled $2,000,000. Every major class of taxes is up except license and privilege taxes which are more than nine per cent behind last year.

Most of the slump in this class is caused by a 27 per cent or 41 per cent, decrease in the tax on production of distilled spirits. Receipts in this tax were inflated last year when whiskey production was increased in anticipation of production curtailment as a defense measure.

The motor vehicle usage tax is down 14 per cent and whiskey consumption taxes are off about 2 per cent.

Individual income payments increased $2,850,000 and corporate taxes gained more than $2,000,000.

General Fund collections are up 9.2 per cent during the period but declined to show in the Road and Agency Funds. Tax receipts are up in all three funds but a decline in 75.2 per cent caused the Road Fund to slip.

The first three quarters stood at about $49,600,000.

New licenses for the fiscal year 1952-53 must be obtained by July 1, Shearer recalled. That year there were 4,974 retail sale liquor licenses, 132 whole sale beer licenses, 823 retail package licenses, 947 retail drink licenses and 4,974 retail beer licenses issued through the department.

Shearer is bidding ourselves not winking at anyone in the industry when this promise was made explained that an up-to-date list of those with gambling stamps has been provided by the Bureau of Internal Revenue "and they are being culled thoroughly."

The Treasurer not only handled the bid for the custodian of more than $30,000,000 worth of securities owned by various agencies.

The present Kentucky constitution was adopted in 1891.

333,000 PIPE ORGAN IS DEDICATED AT UK

The University of Kentucky's new $33,000 pipe organ, installed recently in Memorial Hall on the University campus, was dedicated at a recital program Tuesday night, May 6, with Arthur Foster, professor of organ at Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y., presenting the dedicatory recital.

The Memorial Hall organ was purchased for the University from income of the Haggin Fund, which was given to the school by Margaret Voorhies Haggin in memory of her husband, James Ben All Haggin.

The new instrument is replacing an organ which has been in constant use in Memorial Hall since 1929 when it was installed while Dr. Frank L. McVey was president of the University.

Designed by Walter Holtkamp Organ, Inc., Cleveland, Ohio, the new instrument was built especially for the space in Memorial Hall and for special requirements of the University. Holtkamp was assisted in the planning and construction of the organ by Arnold Blackburn, University organist, and Dr. Edwin E. Stein, head of the University Music Department.

The design of the organ described as a departure from

General Store And Stock, Service Station And 2 Acres Level Land

LOCATED ON ROUTE 21-E ONE MILE EAST OF BERA ON BIG HILL PIKE

As Mr. and Mrs. Bowman are retiring from business, they have contracted with us to sell his thriving business on

WEDNESDAY, MAY 14

1:30 P. M.

The store building is 24 ft. by 40 feet and is constructed of bricks and blocks, having full size basement and large plate glass window, good metal roof and is in first class repair. It has electricity and city water. There are two gas pumps and they are now doing a good gas trade.

This property has 300-foot frontage on blacktop highway with two nice building sites. It is further improved by good combination stock and tobacco barn as there is an acre tobacco base. There is also large mill house in good repair with the following machinery, all in good repair: Meadow grist mill, International hammermill, Hercules 30hp unit, platform scales all of which help to bring in a handsome income.

This is a general store, carrying a well known line of groceries, some hard ware, dry goods and notions, Freedman-Shelby shoes, soft drinks and feed.

This is a good business location as it is the only store in the immediate neighborhood on a highly traveled and near Silver Creek Graded School. Mr. and Mrs. Bowman have conducted a thriving business but feel they must retire. This is your golden opportunity to step into a well established business and money making proposition. This is a lock and key job as the stock and fixtures will be sold for cash and real estate for only a small down payment with balance carried at a small rate of interest to suit the purchaser's pocketbook.

For inspection, call at the store.

THE GARDEN

The time is near for setting eggplants and peppers. Officially, at Lexington, the date lies between May 10 to 20 or any where in the state when the weather and the soil have gotten quite warm.

All are fruit crops, and so benefit from a good supply of phosphorus, as described in the general garden fertilizing scheme here outlined some weeks ago.

ing or leaf puncturing are seen, more dusting or spraying will help. The varieties are Block Beauty and New York Purple, and setting distances are in rows 3 feet apart, 30 inches to 3 feet in the row.

Peppers—Fortunately, these have no pests except possibly the fleabeetles for a week or two after garden-setting. This pest's control is as described above.

As to varieties, Ruby Giant and Bullnose are tops in home gardens, or, if obtainable, California Wonder. Also, there are several types by various names including "pimentos" that do the "hot" kinds are Chili and Birdseye.

Both these troubles can be stopped by dusting with a combination of DDT or Methoxychlor, 5 percent plus copper, 6 percent. Either dust is readily obtainable, ready to use. Or, spray may be used, 50 percent DDT or 50 percent Methoxychlor, two level tablespoons and two level tablespoons of 45 percent Copper-A or 45 percent C.O.C.S., all in one gallon of water.

Application should start at first setting, to be repeated weekly, at least four times, to carry the plants past danger but in further signs, leaf-spotlarly if they are hired from a farm where black shank was present the year before. Black shank can be introduced in setting water if it is taken from an infested creek or river. Pond water, if the pond receives no drainage from a black shank field, cistern water and water from town or city water supplies should be safe to use.

CLOVER LEAF WEEVIL

nearly every spring in clover and alfalfa fields in Kentucky. At this time of year, the leaves of the clover or alfalfa plants will be found with notches eaten out of their sides or occasionally with whole leaves eaten off. Small, green fat-bodied, legless larvae will be found during the daytime hidden in trash about the base of the plant. Their bodies are nearly always curved so that the head and tail nearly touch.

Usually fungus diseases or natural enemies keep the weevils, however, it may be under control. In certain cases, it is possible to poison them. On a three acre orchard last year after following the spray schedule sent him by the UK College of Agriculture and four 4H club members in Home Economics.

One Union county farmer more than 50 calves, more than half of them being Herefords, last year after following the spray schedule sent him by the UK College of Agriculture and four 4H club members in Home Economics.

GIVES CONTROL OF PESTS OF TOBACCO

Because there is some insect injury to tobacco every year, growers should have a copy of Circular 437, "Tobacco Insects in Kentucky," published by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

ON KENTUCKY FARMS

Seed dealers in Spencer county estimate that 1,000 acres will be seeded to Kentucky clover this spring. A total of 58,000 three-year seedlings were distributed in Leslie county this season.

Harlan county 4H club boys are finishing their woodwork projects in preparation for the annual rally day. Approximately 43,000 strawberry plants were set in Jackson county, the majority being the Tennessee Beauty variety. Many Carlisle county farmers are planning heavy fertilization to raise corn yields on reduced acreage.

Floyd Newton of Estill county is installing a water system in his home, poultry house and barn from a spring some 600 feet away.

Homemakers in Barren county estimated they saved $437 in making garments at home.

About 35,000 strawberry plants were ordered by farmers in Letcher county as a new cash crop.

Income from cattle and dairy products in Adams county now exceeds that of tobacco. Fifty-three 4H boys and girls in Pendleton county are carrying the first half of his 8-week visit in Kentucky with Tommie Phillips of Simpson county, former 4H club state sheep champion.

Gaston, 22, works with his father on their 150-acre farm, where they have a dairy herd of 90 grade Jerseys. A member of the Young Farmers Club he will attend National 4H Club Camp in Washington, June 10-25, before going to Montana. Mr. Gaston brings to the Bluegrass state his herd of 12 the number of visitors to the 4H club department of the University of Kentucky. In return, 15 young men and women from the state have visited foreign countries in the past four years.

Four students from the University of Kentucky have been named recipients of the annual Danforth Fellowship Awards, permitting them to spend two weeks this summer at Camp Minawanka, leadership training camp at Shelby, Mich. Selection was based on scholarship and leadership records.

Berea College To Celebrate Annual Labor Day

Berea College, Berea, Ky., May 8, will celebrate its own Annual Labor Day Program—its thirtieth.

The day is a holiday from classes for Berea students. The morning features a parade across the campus by labor departments, students dressed in their work clothes, carrying implements of their labor.

Speakers this year will include two alumni, Fred J. Burkhard, '35, editor of the Casey county News, Liberty, Ky., Karl Warming, Jellicott, business manager, Berea College Hospital and a Berea senior, Miss Peggy Brown, Trophill, N. C.

In the afternoon various labor contests will be held in which students will compete with their skills. Dredging this unique program is the Dean of Labor, Wilson Evans, St. Charles, Va., Berea graduate of 1930.

Of the cherished place of labor in its over-all activities, Berea College records: "Let it be a point of honor with you to keep calm and to go on looking after your affairs working with your hands as we abide you, thus your life will win respect from the world around you, and you will not need to depend upon others.

This wrote Paul to the Thessalonians about 1900 years ago.

Through the ages man has realized the great value of work to the individual and to society, and leaders have exhorted their fellow-men to greater things through work. Almost one hundred years ago the founders of Berea College wrote into the Constitution those words concerning the purpose of Berea College and ways and means by which it might be achieved, "to furnish the opportunity for a thorough education to all persons of good moral character."
