

THE GARDEN

Bean Beetles

By John S. Gardner, University of Kentucky. There are two kinds of bean beetles. One kind consumes an unassorted lot of general feeders that browse on the beans until their batter-like wastes are ready, then leave. The holes they make in the leaves are roundish and are eaten through. One dusting on the leaves usually is enough to stop these beetles.

city, Syracuse, N. Y., presenting the dedicatory recital. The new instrument was purchased for the University from income of the Haggin Fund, which was given to the school by Margaret Voorhies Haggin in memory of her husband, James Ben Ali Haggin.

ANNUAL 4-H WEEK SET FOR JUNE 3-7

Dates for the 29th annual 4-H Club Week to be held at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, have been set for June 3 to 7, it has been announced by the University.

Delegates will be 4-H club boys and girls who have excelled in leadership, or were selected for their achievements in activities or projects.

The five-day program has been planned to provide inspiration, information and entertainment according to J. W. Whitehouse, state leader of 4-H work. The 4-Hers themselves, however, have an important place in the program, as they demonstrate farm and home practices and take part in discussion groups.

There will also be a speech contest in which they will tell the value of club work to their families.

"Getting Along with Others" is the general theme for discussion groups, in which both boys and girls will have a part. Prof. J. P. Schmidt, of Ohio State University, nationally known leader of young people discussion groups, will be in charge.

The convention's program will be opened Tuesday night with a lecture-demonstration entitled, "Progress in Better Living" by Louis P. Shannon of the Du Pont Company, Wilmington, Del. Through exhibits he will show American progress resulting from chemical research.

Miss Judy Lester of Lyon county is president of the Kentucky Association of 4-H Clubs. William Mc Coy of Martin county is vice president and Miss Janette Peters of Scott county is secretary.

CANNING EQUIPMENT SHOULD BE CHECKED

Canning will seem only half the ordeal when necessary equipment is on hand and in good repair, says Miss Florence Imley, foods authority as the University of Kentucky. She advises a check-up now, while the steam pressure canner, required for all vegetables except tomatoes, needs an annual check-up for safety's sake.

NEW MEMORIAL HALL ORGAN IS DEDICATED

The University of Kentucky's new $33,000 Memorial Hall organ was dedicated last week with Arthur Poister, professor of organ at Syracuse University.

have new or perfect lids, and new rubber rings. Metal lids with sealing compound edges must also be new.

There are several aids to simplify the canning—measuring cups and spoons, sharp pointing knife, long handled wooden spoon, rubber scraper, jar lifter, food mill or rotary masher, sieve and colander. Sec-

A copy of a new circular, No. 440, "How to Can Fruits and Vegetables," may be had from offices of county farm or home agents, or from the UK College of Agriculture and Home Economics, Lexington.

ALUMNI WILL HONOR RETIRING PROFESSOR

University of Kentucky alumni returning to the campus May 29 for class reunions and other commencement week activities will honor Miss Margaret McLaughlin, assistant professor of journalism, at the annual alumni banquet.

"Miss McGraw" as she is affectionately known by thousands of UK alumni, will be honored at the reunion banquet on the evening of May 29 when Ollie James, Cincinnati Enquirer columnist and former pupil of Miss McLaughlin, will give the principal address.

HIGH SCHOOL BANDS COMPETE ON CAMPUS

More than 3,000 high school musicians took part in the instrumental section of the Kentucky High School Music Festival held last week at the University of Kentucky. Fifty high school bands and seven orchestras from throughout Kentucky competed in the event.

4-H BOY BUILDS DAIRY BUSINESS

As a member of a 4-H club at Sharon Grove, Todd county, Clyde Maxwell just a few years ago bought a grade dairy heifer for $55. He bred this animal artificially three times and obtained two heifer calves by Jeweler, one of the top sires of the Kentucky Artificial Breeding Association; also a bull which he valued.

In the meantime, the first artificially-sired heifer calf. So heifer out of this cow has a Clyde now has two cows, a yearling heifer and a heifer calf. UK County Agent Stuart $675, all from an initial investment of $55.

URNS WASTE LAND INTO TOP PASTURE

To see the luxuriant pasture of 150 acres of the farm of Harold Beard in Breckinridge county, one could hardly believe that it was largely waste land three years ago, said Kenneth A. Brabant, county agent with the University of Kentucky.

Mr. Beard bulldozed trees and bushes, filled in gullies and limed the entire area. He also applied 3,000 pounds of fertilizer to the acre and sowed red clover, red clover, timothy, trefoil and fescue. Mr. Beard is using the farm as a supplemental pasture for a herd of 50 cows and calves, the latter sold as yearlings.

BETTER EATING MAY CURE TIRED FEELING

Many older people aren't as healthy and happy as they might be if they would eat the right foods. A chronic tired feeling, a gloomy outlook on life, anxiety over small things, loss of sleep and too much weight might be the result of being badly nourished. So says a new Washington bulletin, No. 17, "Food Guide for Older Folks."

OLD CHAIRS REVAMPED

Wayne county homemakers have found that worn-out chairs may be made both comfortable and attractive by padding them, then making a new slipcover, said Miss Blanche Back, University of Kentucky home demonstration agent. Old chairs and even nail legs for leather chairs, upholstered dressing table stools, have taken on a new appearance. About 50 chairs in the county are being redone.

USES ARTICLES MADE IN HOMEMAKERS CLUB

Mrs. Ernest Huffman of Metcalfe county has made more of the articles recommended in the home management lessons in her homemakers club than any other member. She joined the club about a year ago, said Mrs. Ethel M. Paschall, home demonstration agent with the University of Kentucky. This homemaker not only made the articles, she uses them daily, she said.

There is the portable table, with iron rest attached, to pull over one's lap while sitting to room is a step-saver in rolling it about as needed for ironing or while sewing. Her son used it for study, others use it for games, writing or work.

A basket to carry the necessary cleaning supplies from room to room is a step-saver on cleaning days. Mrs. Huffman covered the basket with oilcloth inside and out, then fitted it with about 35 small cleaning essentials, including a lintless dustcloth which she made. Especially handy is the small plastic box, with compartments for holding screws and nails of different sizes.

A sleeve board—padded for use, a vice for use in sharpening scissors, a woven red basket for Ivy and another for bread, a shoe scraper made from a scrub brush cut in two, shuck mats and a medicine cabinet are other articles she made. All were displayed in a store window in Center, Ky., during Home Demonstration Week.

Proof of the practicality of Mrs. Huffman's handiwork is seen in her husband's enthusiastic promotion of homemakers club membership to neighbors and friends.

ON KENTUCKY FARMS

When J. T. Davie and Thomas Stone of Fulton county graft 150 pecan seedlings this month it will bring to about 600 the number in the county grafted during the past five years, said John S. Watts, farm agent with the University of Kentucky. Varieties used for grafting are mostly Major and Green River.

In Casey county, 107 4-H club members enrolled in the tractor maintenance school topping enrolments of other years in the county.

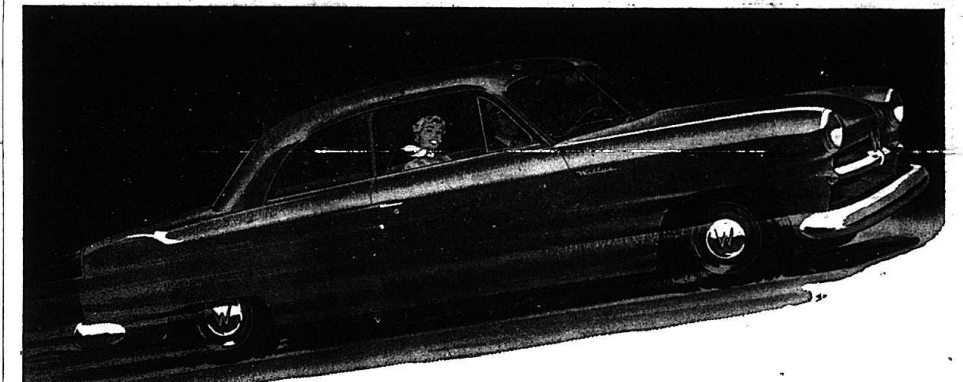

The most popular varieties of tobacco in Owsley county this year are Ky 16, Ky 35 and Ky 41A.

Plant Food Can Help Farmers Meet Call For More Grain

THE call for bigger grain crops in 1952 emphasizes the need for farmers to order fertilizer supplies early, declared the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee, in a recent statement. "Stocks of grain are reported shrinking in proportion to the number of farm animals to be fed," says the statement. "Livestock feeders will need more grain to provide for increasing numbers of cattle. Farmers will be asked to boost feed production."

Kentucky Farmers Get Four-to-One Return on Crops by Increasing Use of Fertilizer

16,146,132 tons above the 1900 level. One-fourth of all crop production is now attributable to the use of fertilizer, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Since the value of crops produced in 1950 was $12.3 billion, U. S. farmers received $3 billion additional income from the $744 million they invested in fertilizer last year. Each dollar spent for plant food in 1950 returned $4.13 in additional income from crops.

NOT A BAD RETURN! FOUR DOLLARS FOR EVERY ONE INVESTED IN FERTILIZER!

WHO SAID YOU CAN'T TEACH AN OLD DOG NEW TRICKS? Put an old-timer behind the wheel of a modern John Deere Tractor for the first time. Show him the Power-Trol lever that controls integral or drawn equipment hydraulically and let him make a few rounds. He'll come back, grinning from ear to ear, with one enthusiastic comment - "Who said you can't teach an old dog new tricks?" Everywhere, farmers are taking to Power-Trol like a duck takes to water. And no wonder, for it's the greatest contribution to easier, faster, better farming made in recent years. Field-proved on John Deere Tractors since 1943, it offers you effortless control of the greater variety of integral and drawn equipment. It's available on 13 great John Deere models. Find out all about it; ask for a free demonstration the next time you're in town.

THREE LINKS

These nice rains are making farming look prosperous around this section of the county. All tobacco plant beds are looking fine. Four young people from Three Links and of the Grading class of Livingston High School went on the senior trip to Washington, D. C. They were Mildred Martin, Opal Martin, Lucille Cox and Polly Anglin. The family of Carlos Bowman all have measles at this time. Brutus Martin who has been ill is much improved. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hayes of McKee visited relatives at Three Links Sunday. Maxene Johnson has just left for Dayton, O. where she will work this summer. John Cox and family of Lexington are visiting in Three Links this week. Richard Kates Jr., who is located in San Diego, Calif., in the U. S. Navy, is home for a few days. The first Bible Camp at the Three Links Camp will open June 2. BLUE GRASS COUNCIL BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA Camp Offert will open June 15. The Negro Scouts of Walton Perrell, Field Scout Executive, will direct camp for the first week. Negro Troops are being made reservations as soon as possible. Robert Meader, Field Scout Executive, will direct camp from July 15-August 2. Many improvements in physical facilities will be offered this year to add to the attractiveness of the camp and the program. Among these are a brand new shower bath house conveniently located; a new swimming crib and water front dock; four new adirondack shelters to take the place of out-worn tents in the Sasafrafras camp site; new mattresses throughout; first aid service will be provided. The camp fee remains the same as last year, $10.50 per week per scout, under his own leadership, and $15.00 per week without his own leader. All leaders who attend camp with as many as five Scouts are entered without any fee at all. Registration and reservations are considerably ahead of this period last year. The total camp capacity is 125 Scouts per week. Unit leaders are urged to make their reservations as early as possible to insure complete utilization of the camp's full capacity. A full program of Scouting has been planned with well trained staff. Boards of Review will be held weekly and all scouts will have an opportunity to advance one or more ranks.

BITUMINOUS COAL FILM IS FIRST PLACE WINNER IN BOSTON COMPETITION

The Film Council of Greater Boston today awarded to the Bituminous Coal Institute the certificate that goes annually to the winner of the Institute's public relations section of the Annual Film Festival. The "Oscar" is in recognition of the high quality of the Institute's film, "Powering America's Progress," a story of bituminous coal. The prize-winning film dramatically presents production, transportation, and utilization of coal in sound pictures made under working conditions. In contracting with the March of Time for production of the film, Ralph C. Mulligan specified that the picture was to include sequences at underground and surface mines, in preparation plants, on railroads and in homes, plants and factories using bituminous coal. "Our aim in making this film," Mr. Mulligan said today in acknowledgement of the picture's selection by the Film Council, "was to show the nation the mechanized side of bituminous coal mining and carry on through the various uses of coal. We wanted to present, in the 25 minutes that we believed to be the most practical length of a documentary, not one story but a dozen stories — underground mining, surface mining, surface mining, reclamation, preparation plants, coal in industry, coal in chemistry, coal in the home. The film is currently being shown on television stations, at club meetings and in classrooms throughout the nation. Headquarters of the institute which is a department of the National Coal Association, are in Washington, D. C.

CHEMICAL PLANT IN W. VA. HERALDS NEW DEVELOPMENT IN COAL INDUSTRY

Another industrial use for bituminous coal has been introduced with the opening of a plant in Institute, W. Va., to produce chemicals through hydrogenation, a process in which coal is pulverized and combined with hydrogen under extreme pressure. The process is not new, having been used for some years as a method of producing gasoline, but this is the first time that it has been proposed to employ it with chemicals as the primary objective. Eventually, hydrogen could conceivably plant carbonization as the foremost source of valuable coal derivatives that

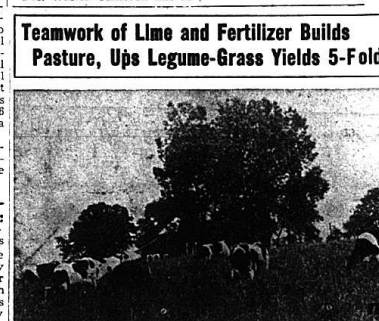

JOHNNY BLAKE was tough. Plenty tough. Long weeks in solitary didn't break him. Neither did his periodic sessions at the whipping post. But these things were nothing. More routine. This today was different. Today he had to do it at that ominous door across the room. Johnny's heart thumped to water. "Gee... They were going to use gas!" He shifted nervously in his chair, then turning to the guard and at his comrade asked, "What time is it?" The man glanced at his watch and answered quietly, "Soothly." "You're still got ten minutes. There's a man ahead of you." And now, suddenly, a soft whirring sound penetrated from the other room. "Ventilating fans," murmured Johnny knowingly. Then turning again to the guard he asked, "Will it hurt, d'you think?" "No, nothing to it. One or two whiffs 'n' you're out. Never know what hit you. Easy!" "Second Sweepstakes!" HE SLUMPED in his chair and with a low groan bowed his head in his cupped hands. He smelled something. Was that the gas he smelled? Was it seeping out despite the tightly closed door? Joy beads of perspiration stood out on his forehead as his body twitched, squirmed, straightened up, then slumped again. "Finally he whined: 'Can I smoke?'" "Extracting a small sack of tobacco from his shirt pocket and the paper from the book attached to the bag, he tried to roll a cigarette. No use. The paper tore in his trembling fingers and the tobacco spilled on the floor. Without comment the guard drew a cigarette from his own

Teamwork of Lime and Fertilizer Builds Pasture, Ups Legume-Grass Yields 5-Fold

Milk and meat production per acre are boosted when pasture improvement program is based on a high soil fertility level. NO ONE pasture program is tailored made for every farm. But any good pasture program must be based on a high level of soil fertility. That was the statement of Dr. D. R. Dodd, Ohio State University extension agronomist, in summarizing the results of a pasture survey of 28 states, sponsored by the University and the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee. "The best pasture," he said, "is the one that best suits the particular situation and makes the farmer the most money." "The use of low nitrogenous fertilizers are building profits and improving soil fertility via the grassland route, is the experience of Clarence Kaiser, Eckley, Ind., according to Dr. Dodd. When Kaiser first limed and fertilized, he got 5 times more legumes and grass than formerly. Now he gets 200 to 300 pounds per acre of 0.20-20 yearly to all his soil

Blame for Erosion Rests on Poor Soil Management Methods

THE blame for soil erosion usually rests on poor soil management rather than on washing of the land, declared Dr. L. D. Bayer, formerly with the Ohio State Agronomy Department. "When we ask the question, 'How serious is soil erosion?' he said, 'we probably have phrased the query wrongly. A better question would be 'How serious is poor soil management?'" Poor soil management, he said, affects more people than soil erosion. It affects people in the hills as well as rolling and hilly areas. Good soil management on the rolling lands includes more than erosion control. "Good soil management," he said, "is closely allied to good farm management. You do not put grass on a

MERCURY WINS SWEEPSTAKES!

MERCURY TOPS ALL WINNERS IN 1,415-MILE ECONOMY TEST!

In motorist's most spectacular performance test—the official AAA-conducted 1,415-mile Mobilgas Economy Run—Mercury took top honors for its class and the grand Sweepstakes prize! Passenger cars representing practically every size automobile produced in America, from the smallest to the largest, were entered in this famous event. And a 1952 Mercury Monterey Sedan equipped with optional overdrive outperformed them all—scoring its third straight victory and setting a new record. Mercury delivered a sensational 59.718 miles-per-gallon performance, and averaged an amazing 25.4696 miles to the gallon. And this was achieved over the longest, toughest course in the history of the contest—1,415 tortuous miles from Los Angeles, California, to the Valley, Idaho, through deserts, over mountains and in city traffic. That's a top—official proof—that the 1952 Mercury is again "America's Best Buy." Come in—and drive—this Economy Champion—the "Sweepstakes Winning" Mercury today!

SET GARDEN GOALS

Homemakers in Casey county took practical steps to reduce their food costs when they said Miss Nell M. Pearson, set gardening goals this year, University of Kentucky home agent. Every homemaker is urged to make successive plantings to have a continuous garden to grow at least 18 varieties of vegetables, two or more of which are new, and to grow enough for table use, with a surplus for canning and freezing.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Here is a recipe for tuna loaf which housewives will enjoy whatever the season. It may be served hot or cold. Mrs. Pearl Haak, specialist in foods suggests that salmon may be used if desired.

Tuna Loaf
 2 cups soft bread crumbs
 1/2 cup milk
 1/2 can condensed mushroom soup
 1 egg beaten
 One fourth tablespoon salt
 1/8 teaspoon paprika
 1 can tuna
 2 tablespoons chopped pimento

Combine the bread crumbs, milk, mushroom soup, egg, salt, paprika, flaked tuna and pimento. Bake in a greased baking dish, set in a pan of hot water in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 45 minutes, or until inserted knife comes out clean. Serves 4 to 6.

Menu: Tuna loaf, buttered carrots, spinach, fruit salad, French bread, butter and rhubarb shortcake.

AIR CARRIERS COLLECTED $10,000,000 IN 1951

Scheduled and non-scheduled air carriers and charter operators in Kentucky did more than $10,000,000 worth of business in Kentucky last year it was announced today by Commissioner of Aeronautics Charles H. Gartrell. Comparable figures are not available for past years.

Scheduled air carriers took in $10,279,156.16 from 834,024 passengers at Kentucky points; non-scheduled air carriers collected $81,348.25 from 6,370 passengers and charter operators $29,435.20 from 3,126 passengers.

"The figures show clearly the public is taking to air travel," observed Gartrell.

He estimated the value of municipally-owned airports in Kentucky—some of which have not been completed, at $23,472,000.

CLEAR CREEK MOUNTAIN PREACHERS BIBLE SCHOOL PLANS EXPANSION

The constant urge of mountain men to answer God's call to "Go ye and preach," is taxing the facilities of Clear Creek Mountain Preachers Bible School, located near Pineville, Ky. Despite the 19 cottages, built by 700 volunteers in one day last year, in observance of the school's 25th anniversary, requests for admission to this unique institution exceed accommodations. The Board of Trustees has decided to meet this challenge and voted recently to launch a $1,000,000

Titth-Building Soil Organisms Get High Energy Foods from Spring-Plowed Legumes

Well-Fertilized Alfalfa Adds Tons of Organic Matter to Farm Soil.

WHEN you plow under a good stand of sweet clover early in the spring, you are supplying excellent food for the billions of soil organisms which work day and night for you below the soil surface.

These organisms need energy foods—nitrogen, sugars, starches—to do their vital job of rotting organic matter, fixing nitrogen, fighting plant diseases, building soil titth and providing nutrients for growing crops. Well-fertilized sweet clover supplies these energy foods.

Dr. G. W. Hoffer estimates that a good stand of sweet clover will add as much as 6 tons of organic matter per acre to the soil. The tops and roots contain about 1 1/2 tons of sugar, starches, nitrogen and other materials the organisms need.

A well-fertilized stand of alfalfa will give comparable results, research shows.

These tap rooted legumes will distribute the material through a thick layer of sod. Their roots push far below the plow layer. When they have enough top growth in late summer and fall the nitrogen, phosphate and potash and other raw materials they need, they will pack the roots with the sugars and starches. Then, when they are plowed under in spring, these sugars will be left distributed throughout the soil for the use of the organisms.

Dr. Hoffer emphasizes that plowing should be done early in the spring. All you wait until the top growth occurs, the sugars and starches are pulled from the roots and part of their value to the organisms is lost.

capitol fund campaign, which will include all of Kentucky and the adjacent states. Funds will be sought from individuals, businesses, foundations; and other friends of the school.

Kentucky will be divided into eight districts, with offices opening May 12, in Ashland, Bowling Green, Covington, Lexington, Louisville, Owensboro, Paducah; and the Clear Creek district will share the office of the State Headquarters, located in Middlesboro, which has been functioning since March 31.

An administration building, auditorium, 25 four room cottages, community center, central heating plant and an indoor swimming pool are some of the most needed facilities. A considerable fund could be used repairing roads and bridges and buying furnishings for dormitory and classrooms.

The Mountain Preachers Bible School is unique in accepting men who manifest their faith in God and desire to preach, regardless of their educational background. Most of them have less than high school training, are married and have children and their average age is thirty years. They cannot meet the entrance requirements of college or theological seminary and were it not for this supplementary institution these native preachers would be forever barred from serving God in the Mountains, where over 6,000,000 people live. Evidence of its value: Clear Creek Mountain Preachers Bible School has grown from 12 students 1926 to 178 in 1952.

They come from 18 states and Ontario, Canada. More than 2,000 preachers have received training at this school.

In Pulaski county, 221 samples of soil were tested in the first three months of the year, saving farmers fertilizer and money, says Hugh Hurst, University of Kentucky county agent.

RAMBLINGS

Two events during the past week brought me in contact with a large group of people. I saw the demonstration of the handwork of the students of the Broadhead School. There were demonstrations of typing, of dressmaking of carpentry. No doubt there are many more skills that these students learned, but here were these three important skills demonstrated in a manner that was interesting and heart-warming.

It seems to me that one of the most important achievements of the rural school is to be able to impart a knowledge that can be immediately useful. I do not mean to say that the schools should omit any of the classics or theories of mathematics or the sciences. We ought to know a lot about history and natural sciences. We ought to know something about our own earth, our stars and planets, our own solar system. A knowledge of these things makes us more intelligent. We cannot get too much knowledge on these subjects.

But along with these studies we can also make use of certain skills with our hands. The hand is a wonderful mechanism. It can do miracles. It can be trained to perform functions of extreme importance. The hands can become the greatest source of a man's income. They can be so skilled that they open the doors of opportunity and success. Why should a man become his ill luck because he has no job? Why should a man suffer because he has no manual skill?

There was another event that I had occasion to see. I went to Oak Hill, a spot in the open spaces between Reno Valley and Broadhead. There a little country church was dedicated Sunday. A fine congregation was present. Many of the former pastors were there. The new pastor, the singing "Blue Hawaii" and the reading of the class will by Dorothy Reppert, the reading of the class history by John Scott the class history by Carol Riddle, followed, and the class riddle, Edwin in the treasury, the offering by Mrs. Hilton presented the guests with a very enjoyable evening.

Bray Speer, the orchestra leader, and the organist, who presented a melody of songs, furnished the music without a hitch. Then the traditional "Farewell to the seniors" was given by Clyde Linville.

Baptists of County To Hold Conference

The Association of Baptists of Rockcastle county will have an Evangelistic Conference on Tuesday, May 27, at the Mt. Vernon Baptist Church. The meeting will begin at 9:30 A. M. and dinner will be served by the Church. In addition to the day services there will be an evening service beginning at 7:30 P. M. The emphasis of the day will be evangelism and the Summer and Fall revivals. Most of the pastors in the association are on the program, and the final speaker will be Rev. Ray Roberts, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Danville. Rev. Roberts is resigning his Church to become a pioneer Missionary in Ohio. This will probably be one of his last times to speak in this county while still here. This conference is a part of Kentucky Baptists' expanding program of evangelism.

Education Regulations Adopted by State

Emergency Teachers are required to earn six additional hours since last year or lose their status of placement and pay because of a renewal. Hours earned in residence are taken first in each category, therefore hours in correspondence or other work are given first consideration in each group.

SHERIFF MAKES FINAL SETTLEMENT FOR 1951 TAX YEAR

On May 20 Sheriff Arthur Payne and Deputy Leonard Davis was in Frankfort to make final settlement with the State for tax collections for the tax year 1951. They received a Quietus stating that the tax records had been examined and found to be correct and in order and that all property taxes had been accounted for for the tax year 1951. They were commended for the way the records were kept.

Junior-Senior Banquet

(Continued from page one) The banquet was a very successful one. The numbers, '52' standing up. The background behind the speakers' table was blue with white stars and stripes. The speakers were seated and were served by waitresses dressed in brightly colored skirts, white blouses and white shoes.

Charles Baker, the president of the Junior Class, gave the seniors their welcome and was responded by Johnny Machal, the president of the Senior class. After eating a delicious dinner, the guests were entertained by the boy's quartet singing "Blue Hawaii" and the reading of the class will by Dorothy Reppert, the reading of the class history by John Scott the class history by Carol Riddle, followed, and the class riddle, Edwin in the treasury, the offering by Mrs. Hilton presented the guests with a very enjoyable evening.

Southern States Rep. Will Meet May 27

Representatives of Southern States members in the Mt. Vernon-Hildie, Ky., area will meet Tuesday, May 27, 1952 at 7:00 P. M. CST at Boone Tavern Hotel, Berea, Ky., to work out plans for local Southern States membership meetings this coming summer. In the group will be Bradley Saylor, Mt. Vernon; Mrs. Roy Brown, Quail; James E. Reynolds, Mt. Vernon; S. Stewart, both of Wildie. Wane Stewart manager of Rockcastle and William L. Hiatt, manager of the Hiatt & Parsons, Wildie, will also attend.

At this session membership meetings for several communities in this area will be scheduled, and plans and programs developed for those meetings. The joint session of the community representatives will replace individual planning conferences held in each community in previous years.

The Napoleon 4-H Club in Gallatin county contributed $75 towards the building of the Concord Community Center. M. B. Rice of Daviess county will need fence between rows of soybeans after the row cultivation, in an effort to get a stand of grass. Twelve Negro farmers in Fayette county had soil tested in March to determine fertilizer needs for pasture and tobacco.

DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalm 6

God and Life

Lesson for May 25, 1952

IF THERE IS any one commanding which Jesus not only did not abolish but made far clearer and sharper is the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill."

By word and act, the Master showed that life is sacred. It is sacred because it is God's children; and whatever in our lives ever makes it less worth living, whatever ever lessens man's value as a creature made in the image of God, this is a form of killing. Jesus' attitude to sin is a case in point. We do not read of a single case where he came in contact with such a person and urged that the sinner be put to death. He always restored the sick to health; sickness in a sick, is a thing that ought not to be.

are at least as interesting as the stories. In real life we are not all so fortunate. Many a murder mystery remains a mystery after years. All police could ever be sure of was that "some person or persons, known to the victim, were the instrument of his death."

Now you would think that a murderer would pick out something more efficient. Why not a sharp instrument? However, the blunt instrument, whatever it was—a saw-weight, a brick or whatever—did the deed. It was not the instrument, but the man who used it.

As Simon Stylites pointed out, "It is not the instrument, but the man who uses it." "Christian Centuries" there are all kinds of blunt instruments besides crowbars, saw-weights and bricks. There is a kind of blunt instrument; it is "the law," though it is not the law, but the man who is deadly in the long run, though it is deadly, period.

Any sort of habit that cuts down on good health, and that is neglected, or any stupidity or foolishness such as driving too fast on a wet night; giving way to worries and getting indigestion from them; these are not un-beard-of ways of shortening life. They are, in plain language, murders.

Alcohol the Killer

IF THIS IS the temperance lesson, this is a good place to recall the fact that alcohol is one of the most popular deadly weapons.

You have heard of the so-called "shot" or "plague" which is spread in a healthy blood-stream. These are the little fighting cells which gather around invading germs and destroy them. Without them, our blood we could scarcely survive a single day, as it is so full of germs that it is almost like taking into our throats and lungs.

But alcohol taken internally will paralyze these phagocytes to such an extent that they are of no use. This is not to say that a single bottle or drink of liquor kills all a man's phagocytes at once.

But still, as David Star Jordan, president of Leland Stanford University, once said, "If a man were telling the whole truth he would not say, 'Let us have a drink together.' He would say, 'Come, let us parade our phagocytes together.'"

Insurance companies which insure only ministers and religious workers, that is to say, who are mostly non-drinkers, can and do offer insurance for much lower premiums than companies that have to insure all sorts of people including "moderate" drinkers.

Hit by the Bottle
A DRINKER is said to be hitting the bottle. Not at all. The bottle is hitting him. Liquor kills, in more ways than by paralyzing the phagocytes in the blood. Time is the stuff life is made of; and how much time liquor kills, how many "lost weeks" it is costing the drinker, only God and the devil know.

Liquor also creates poverty and poverty helps to shorten life. Liquor makes men reckless. The trade of prostitution would not be so profitable without it. Many a serious disease is contracted under the effects of liquor.

As for violent and sudden deaths, there are many who are killed on our American highways by this beverage. May we not read again after DeCarion Day, 1952, carefully: how many of these dead people, if sober, might have lived?

Kentucky Farmers Field Day

The State College of Agriculture, Lexington, is holding its 4th Field Day on May 23 as a Spring Field Day for all farmers of Kentucky. The farmers of Rockcastle and Madhaville will assemble at the Livestock Pavilion at 9:00 A. M. CST.

The farmers will be directed over the state experiment farm by groups. They will inspect and see many new varieties of grasses, corn, soybeans, wheat, clovers and alfalfa. They will get to see the varieties of tobacco in the process of breeding for wildlife and leafspot, also the varieties being produced resistant to black shank. This one thing should justify the trip by farmers.

In the afternoon we will get to see the work being done with dairy cattle, beef cattle, hogs, sheep and poultry. All breeding work, both of animals and crops will be on exhibit as well as explained to the farmers by a specialist and experts at the College of Agriculture.

Begin now to make your plans for this important day. A great day for farmers of Kentucky. H. H. Pennington, Mt. Vernon, will represent the 4-H Club in the boys public speaking contest at 4:45 P. M. at the 4-H Club. Clayton will represent Rockcastle county at the District Rally Day in Corbin May 19.

Jimmie E. Pennington took first place in the boys demonstration at the 4-H Club. He is a member of the Tobacco Plant Demonstration, with Bluestone, Line to Control Wildlife and Clayton Pennington, Mt. Vernon 4-H Club, will represent Rockcastle county and James Woodson of Log Cabin, Madison county will represent southern Madison county in the 4-H District Public Speaking contest at Corbin May 19. Both of these boys are to be congratulated for their work in a 4-H club and their speaking ability.

Clear Clark, Berea 4-H Club, won first place in demonstration division of Rally Day at Berea. He will represent Southern Madison and Jimmie Pennington will represent Rockcastle in the demonstrations at Corbin May 19. These boys are to be congratulated for their work.

RECEIVES LETTER OF THANKS

Pfc. Jack Blackburn of Kunsan, Korea has been given a commendation by the U. S. Army for his help in accomplishing a certain task in the Korean peninsula. Col. Mackey writes as follows to Lt. Col. Charles Tinkham of the 14th Transportation Port Bn.

Dear Lt. Col. Tinkham: In behalf of the officers and men of my command I wish to thank you for your unselfish support of this project by sending personal representatives to assist us and for the loan of two tractor-trailers with personnel for the period 27 April - 2 May 1952.

It is my desire that the following men be informed that their work was most helpful in accomplishing the mission then at hand, and that they reflected credit on themselves and their organization. Pfc. Jack Blackburn, US 2 087 638 Hq 1st Trans Port Bn (three other men were mentioned in the letter).

It will be a pleasure to meet you personally and when conditions permit, I will come to Kunsan and stop by to see you. Sincerely Yours, Elbert T. Mackey, Colonel, in Charge of Commanding.

Pfc. Blackburn is the son of Mrs. Bessie Blackburn of Mt. Vernon.

Jack Bussey, dairyman in Livingston county, has his milking plan so arranged that he can milk 20 cows per hour with no help.

Contract Let

Frankfort, Ky.—A contract for construction on the Broadhead-Rubank Road has been awarded the Carey Construction Co. of Lexington, according to an announcement by William P. Curdin, Commissioner of Highways.

The company submitted a low bid of $283,500 for the work which will start from US 150 and extend approximately six and one half miles. The contract calls for bituminous surfacing.

CLEAR CREEK COMMENTS

By Cleatus Tussey

A bunch of us had gathered over at Achene Meadows last Sunday evening. She had served us egg pie and lemonade, and we got to talking about the old days. We got off on the subject of good old protracted meetings that was used in Macedonia, Slip-Up and New Hope. How preachers used to gather in far and wide, such ones as Dan Phelps, James W. Lambert, Sherd Overbay and Dillard Parker. Lawsay, what meetings we had then! They would take a good text and preach for about two hours and how they could tell you all about fire and brimstone and how to get saved. They would not accept the protection of the Divine Guidance. Taking up a collection was not of much importance to them as they expected was a good dinner after church, in which they would be eating turkey. People would come from far and wide. They would come from Dan Phelps, James W. Lambert, Sherd Overbay and Dillard Parker. Lawsay, what meetings we had then! THE DAY that Fred Yerman won the new falling contest at Bear Ridge, Maine, he decided to go down country and become a golf player.

"Are you quite sure that's what you want to do, Fred?" Dale Lowell asked him.

Fred had been over to the practice tree that lay along the ground at the edge of the clearing where the contest had been held.

"You've been reading magazines," Dale said.

"But, Fred, there's so much for you here. Something that you'll never get back country."

"SO FRED WENT to Boston. His father had a friend who belonged to a golf club near Newton, and Fred looked up the friend.

"You've been reading magazines," Dale said.
