SUMMER IN KENTUCKY FEATURES KY. COLONEL

The summer issue of Kentucky, which came off the press today, features articles about the Kentucky Colonel and beach and swimming facilities in the state parks.

The article about the Colonel reveals that the Division of Publicity is seeking an artists conception of the "typical" Kentucky Colonel to use in promotion of the state. Several drawings of the legendary figure are pictured in the State publication.

A four page feature in the magazine tells of the beach and swimming facilities to be found this summer at Kentucky's parks. New bathrooms and swimming areas are pictured in the magazine.

The issue carries for the first time a four color cover. It shows an attractive girl on water skis. Another feature in the magazine tells of girls who went to Cumberland Falls State Park for a college "bowl". The caves in West Kentucky are pictured, as well as the William Whitely House and Kenlake Hotel. Other features tell of Kentucky's expanding industrial drive, junior conservation clubs, roadside parks, the 1952 state fair, and the Kentucky issue tells of 35 girls who went to Cumberland Falls State Park for a college "bowl". stake in the country's welfare and the country has a big stake in the coal industry's welfare, according to Congressman Tom Feltz, who leaves the House of Representatives next week to become executive vice president of the national Coal Association. He succeeds John D. Battle, who has been active in the association for more than 30 years and is now accepting the newly-created post of assistant to the president.

"Coal is one of America's greatest resources and today coal contributes directly or indirectly to nearly everything America eats, wears, buys, and uses," Congressman Pickett said after announcing that he would resign the House seat that he has held for the past eight years. Continuing, Congressman Pickett explained:

"The National Coal Association, whose members produce more than two-thirds of the bituminous coal that goes into the open market, is a trade association with an unblemished record that has served the industry well for more than 30 years, a period which has embraced two world wars and in between them a world wide depression of unparalleled severity."

"I viewed the invitation to take the post of executive vice president as an honor, as well as an opportunity for important service in an important field. I have accepted it with the realization that it presents a real challenge if the association is to measure up to the increasing needs of the industry in these difficult times."

In conclusion, Congressman Pickett said that the longer term outlook for coal is very bright indeed and I am quite ready to agree with those who prophesy that in the years ahead coal is destined to be an even larger contributor to the nation's total energy requirements."

The Texas Democrat's election by the NCA board of directors took place concurrently with the election of L. C. Campbell of Pittsburg, Pa., to the presidency of the association.

Rompf of Lexington, Ky., well known specialist of our state. While under his care, she was located at the Left-wing Nursing Home, under the supervision of Mrs. Estelle Enoch, who personally gave her the best of nursing care and was perfectly satisfied and happy, until on May 20th she had a paralytic stroke, when Dr. Rompf turned her over to Dr. John Baker at the Berea College Hospital and there all was done that was humanly possible to be done, by medical care and most efficient nursing care. On June 18th, her gentle spirit took its flight to that home for which she had often longed. She was 81 years of age. Pleasant Grove Baptist Church at Benge, Clay county, Ky., On October 21st, 1886 she was married to Dr. A. Evans of Orlando, Ky., who departed this life in 1925. ### Fourteen Men Leave For Induction

On June 11th, thirteen boys left for induction in the Army. They were: Calvin Marler, Junior Rash, Charles Jordan, Roy Shepard, Charles Martin, Martin Abrams, Willard Benner, Elmer Chestnut, Willie Grilham, Robert Suttles, Glen Edward Hasty, Fred Anderson McFerron, Junior French and Walter Bentley Weaver.

James, 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brown of near Willallia is wearing a cast on his right leg as the result of an accident he had a week ago last Tuesday. He is recovering nicely at his parents home and is quite cheerful in spite of confinement. He has a hospital bed in which he can relax and stretch and be reasonably comfortable. But he will have to carry the cast for six weeks.

James was returning home from work with his tractor and as he reached the Brush Creek bridge he put on the left brake leaving the right one open. This made the tractor swerve very suddenly to the left, crossed the highway, and landed upside down in the deep ditch beside the road. There he was caught between the seat and the twisted mower bar. He couldn't extricate himself immediately but he had enough presence of mind to grab the tools which spilled near him, loosened the seat and got himself free from the machine. He was hidden in the bushes so that a passer could not see him or the tractor. He called for help. The mailman Charlie Thomas passed by and heard the voice but he imagined that the children were only playing near the bridge, so he passed on not knowing what had happened. Finally James was able to crawl to the top of the embankment where he was when his father, who had followed the same road some distance behind, found him. The boy was unable to walk because of the injured leg. He was taken to the Stanford Hospital where it was learned that one bone in his leg, just above the ankle, was broken and the other was cracked. James will be out in a short time but he will have to use crutches to get around.

The damage to the tractor was not too serious. The mower bar was bent and a few other parts had to be replaced.

Foods Facts, Fads and Fallacies

It is a fact that everyone is interested in foods. The daily habit of consuming food would scarcely be considered a fad. However, in these days, when few people have regarding milk and dairy products must definitely be labeled as fallacies. Test your knowledge of fact vs. fiction by the following true-false quiz.

Milk is too high in price; the dairy plants make too much profit on a quart of milk. False. Percentage-wise milk has increased in price less than most other stable foods. Based on the cost per pound of food solids, milk is one of the most economical of our high-quality protective types of food. The average profit to the dairy plant for receiving, processing, bottling, and delivering milk to the home is less than one-half cent per quart.

"Ice cream is a good food." True. Milk, with its fat, protein, carbohydrates, minerals and vitamins. Each of these food constituents found in milk is of such quality as to give it a special value in human nutrition. See which cultured "natures" most nearly perfect food?

Milk and other dairy products in the utilization of the best of modern methods of handling for the purpose of maintaining high standards of purity, wholesomeness, and natural goodness.

"Ice cream should be considered an expensive luxury item." False. Ice cream is a highly nutritious food, packed with easily digested food constituents, and with a universal appeal to the palate. It is a ready-prepared dessert which should be on hand for all emergencies. Make your own cost comparison with other desserts of equal food value and popularity.

"Ice is hard to digest." False. When consumed in normal quantities, ice is not difficult to digest. It is a very concentrated food with a universal appeal to the palate. It is a ready-prepared dessert which should be on hand for all emergencies. Make your own cost comparison with other desserts of equal food value and popularity.

"Let's have another dish of America's favorite refreshment today."

The earliest written records of man indicate that milk was recognized as an almost indispensable food. Through early man, the milk of the cow was so essential to health and physical well-being, the cow early as a B. C. Many references to cows and milk are found in the Old Testament, the promised land being described as a land flowing with milk and honey.

One of the most costly mistakes of the early settlers was their neglecting to bring cattle to the United States. As a result, the death rate, particularly of young children, was very high. Even children under two years of age died in winter. Since that time, however, the dairy cow has played an important part in the development of our country.

When the pioneers pushed westward there were always two or three cows of each wagon. Scientific investigation in the field of nutrition has made clear the reasons why milk is such an essential part of man's diet. Without the human diet would be so lacking in certain essential vitamins, particularly calcium, vitamins and proteins of the necessary quality, that civilization as we know it

The Home Demonstration Agent, Letta W. Jasper, is attending this question period after lunch, and no one ever quite answered it before Jesus. It can easily be a puzzling question so of the Laws of God as if they were sets of municipal regulations or by-laws of a club. They are not like that. They are all of a piece. When your tire is flat it doesn't blow out. It is flat. It is in one place it is in another. It is in a dozen places. The Ten Commandments are all linked together, indeed one can say much more than that. All the laws of God, everything God desires and orders man to do, it is all linked in one.

Jesus' answer to the old, old question about the "great commandment" was not absolutely original. It was not his time, a smart and a sleek young man, so the story goes had come to a great Rabbi named Hillel, and said to him: "The law is contained in how many words? Can you tell me the law while I stand on one foot?"

"Yes," said Hillel. "Lest one load you, Now. Lay the load of God with all thy heart. Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself... Now, put your foot on the other side, all the rest is commentary."

So Jesus quoted the same two laws that Hillel did, "Love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, mind and strength. This is the first and greatest of commands. The second is like unto it, thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

Two kinds of love. The word "love" in English has been dragged around till at times it is a very hard to tell what it means. If anything, girls love cream more than they do anything else. A movie actress claims she loves her fifth husband, and the preacher tells us we should love God. How can we love God and for so many different things?

Now a famous Swedish Christian thinker named Nyren has written a book that tells us out in plain English the book "Agape and Eros," this being the two different Greek words for "love." It's the same word in English for two different things; the Greeks knew better, and used two words that don't even look alike.

"Eros" means the kind of love girls have for ice cream or the movie actress has for her fifth husband. It is extremely simple in the diet. It is easily digestible, with a great percentage of the diet about 10 per cent to the average American life. The Dairy Industry is one of the chief sources of food for mankind and in turn one of the main contributors to the income of the farmer. The importance of milk is indicated by the fact that Eros and Eros is dependent on the sale of milk and milk and dairy products. Dairy farming is one of the few occupations that family pigments have entered and it is one of living as well as making a living.

Eighty-four students were graduated from schools in four institutions operated by the State Department of Welfare this spring, according to an announcement from the department today.

The largest group was at the State Reformatory at LaGrange where 39 were graduated. The Reformatory has an eight grade academic course and a vocational training program. Eight graduates were also taught at Kentucky Children's Home, Lexington, where eight were graduated, and at the Women's Reformatory at Louisville, where there were six graduates.

Graduation exercises were held for both the eighth and tenth grades at the House of Reform, Greendale, and there were 31 diplomats awarded.

RAMBLINGS

About the most interesting subject these days is the weather. It's hot. Everybody knows it and talks about it. But it's really little more than a fad. The sun rises and sets in its allotted time, the rains come and go regardless of our wishes, or desires. The wind blows in and reports directions no matter whether we like it or not. The clouds may be stumpy and streak across the heavens, or they may just be little wisps that move lazily about us. Nothing happens in this big world of ours without fixed laws governing every movement. So the weather has a way with itself that is beyond our immediate control.

I do not mean to convey the idea that we should just bow to the inevitable. There are always ways and means by which we can order our lives into a certain pattern, and by the means that we can overcome inconveniences or discomforts. There are ways even to combat the weather. We can dress for the heat. Why wear a coat when a simple sports shirt will do. The women folk are more masculine than the men in most respects. Take exercise with freedom. Seek the shade.

Seek the shade. If you have a little water on your arm before taking that Dixie High-cold drink. There are mechanical devices available to those who can afford them. There are fans, refrigeration that can help. I know of one person who draws the air from the basement into the house and into his workshop cool and comfortable. So when the weather gets hot, don't fret too much about it. Just make adjustments in your needs without hurry or worry. Peace of mind is something greatly to be desired.

The horse show held at Berea last night was one of the best conducted shows I have ever seen. The only regret was that certain classes should have had more entries to make competition more keen, however in most of the classes there were sufficient entries to give outstanding quality. The Kiwanis Club at Berea did a splendid deal of commendation for its achievement. At least two thousand hours of man hours were spent by the volunteer workers of the Club to put the grounds into shape. Substantial bleachers were erected that accommodated at least 750 persons. The show ring was in good condition with sufficient lights to make all showing easily visible. The weather was just what to help, and a big crowd sat comfortably through the three hour performance. Just how much we can get out of a horse show, I don't learned, but it must be considerable. This sum is to be used for worthy causes in the community. It was a success, though the horse show will be an annual event and one that will grow of greater importance with every year.

The Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon has just closed another successful summer of Vacation Bible School. I happened to pass by the church when they were having their picnic last week. I thought it interesting enough to make note of it. So on another day I am presenting some of the activities of that day.

These Vacation Bible Schools are growing in importance every year. The greatest reason for their popularity is their purpose. They take the children, just out of public schools, and give them an entirely different type of instruction. The children are taught during the winter months the Vacation Bible School curriculum. Supplements that the Church school is attempting to do but which is inadequate and sometimes all too futile.

I do not mean to convey the idea that we should just bow to the inevitable. There are always ways and means by which we can order our lives into a certain pattern, and by the means that we can overcome inconveniences or discomforts. There are ways even to combat the weather. We can dress for the heat. Why wear a coat when a simple sports shirt will do. The women folk are more masculine than the men in most respects. Take exercise with freedom. Seek the shade.

Seek the shade. If you have a little water on your arm before taking that Dixie High-cold drink. There are mechanical devices available to those who can afford them. There are fans, refrigeration that can help. I know of one person who draws the air from the basement into the house and into his workshop cool and comfortable. So when the weather gets hot, don't fret too much about it. Just make adjustments in your needs without hurry or worry. Peace of mind is something greatly to be desired.

The horse show held at Berea last night was one of the best conducted shows I have ever seen. The only regret was that certain classes should have had more entries to make competition more keen, however in most of the classes there were sufficient entries to give outstanding quality. The Kiwanis Club at Berea did a splendid deal of commendation for its achievement. At least two thousand hours of man hours were spent by the volunteer workers of the Club to put the grounds into shape. Substantial bleachers were erected that accommodated at least 750 persons. The show ring was in good condition with sufficient lights to make all showing easily visible. The weather was just what to help, and a big crowd sat comfortably through the three hour performance. Just how much we can get out of a horse show, I don't learned, but it must be considerable. This sum is to be used for worthy causes in the community. It was a success, though the horse show will be an annual event and one that will grow of greater importance with every year.

The Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon has just closed another successful summer of Vacation Bible School. I happened to pass by the church when they were having their picnic last week. I thought it interesting enough to make note of it. So on another day I am presenting some of the activities of that day.

These Vacation Bible Schools are growing in importance every year. The greatest reason for their popularity is their purpose. They take the children, just out of public schools, and give them an entirely different type of instruction. The children are taught during the winter months the Vacation Bible School curriculum. Supplements that the Church school is attempting to do but which is inadequate and sometimes all too futile.

Kentucky's first election was held at Harrodsburg. Kentucky's famous Man O' War one of the greatest there of horses of all time, earned more than $1,000,000 for his owner, Samuel B. Riddle.

The area surrounding the city of Harlan produces one fourth of Kentucky's entire coal output.

The goldenrod is the state flower of Kentucky.

RAMBLINGS

About the most interesting subject these days is the weather. It's hot. Everybody knows it and talks about it. But it's really little more than a fad. The sun rises and sets in its allotted time, the rains come and go regardless of our wishes, or desires. The wind blows in and reports directions no matter whether we like it or not. The clouds may be stumpy and streak across the heavens, or they may just be little wisps that move lazily about us. Nothing happens in this big world of ours without fixed laws governing every movement. So the weather has a way with itself that is beyond our immediate control.

The director declared that during the year more than 900 complete medical examinations were given to individuals making application for vocational rehabilitation, and a substantial number have been provided some degree of physical restoration. There are approximately 100 training institutions and agencies in Kentucky available for the type training the division provided. In addition, the division has an agreement with the United Mine Workers whereby disabled miners are sent to rehabilitation center at Fishersville, Va., for physical restoration and training. Educational training was provided 228 persons during the year, while seventy-one persons are receiving on the job training, including college, law, commercial, pharmacy, beauty culture, teaching, orientation, shop, watch repairing and manual training courses. CONFESION

By a Witness of Jehovah
 Rose Jasper
 If thou wilt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus and believe in thine heart that God hath raised Jesus from the dead, thou shalt be saved. For with the heart man believes unto righteousness and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation. Whosoever believes in him shall not be ashamed. (Rom. 10: 9-11)
 Whosoever shall be ashamed of me and my words in this sinful generation of him will I be ashamed when I come in the glory of my Father with the holy angels. (Luke 9:26)
 For it is written as I love saith the Lord every knee shall bow to me and every tongue shall confess to God. (Rom. 14: 11-12)
 Every follower of Jesus Christ is the Son of God who is in a and glorify your Father which is in heaven. It is also written at (Psa. 145: 10-12)

 Thy saints shall bless thee O Lord. They shall speak of the glory of thy Kingdom and talk of thy power to make known to the sons of men thy mighty acts.
 For out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. (Luke 6:45)

The time is not far distant when the kings of the earth, the great men, rich men, chief Captains, the mighty men, every bondman and every free man will hide themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains saying, "Fall on us and hide us from the face of Him that sits on the throne and from the wrath of the lamb." For the great day of his wrath has come and who shall be able to stand. (Rev. 6: 15-17)
