

IRON-CLAD

By Clark Dawson

ON THE TRAIN going west, Freda thought it all out. She must never, no matter what the circumstances, let them guess that she had an inferiority complex. Somehow she would have to build up a defense that was iron-clad. Of course, when you consider the matter, especially if you were a stranger, you never would have dreamed that a girl who had just captured first prize in the biggest beauty contest ever held in the east and was now on her way to Hollywood with good chances of becoming a movie star, could have an inferiority complex.

The trouble was that in Hollywood she was going to have a lot more skilled competition than back home. There were going to be girls there, five all told, from other sections of the country, and only one was going to be selected for the part in All American Beauty.

Unusually Freda reflected upon her success back home. She wished she could be wholly certain that the first prize had gone to her wholly upon merit. She remembered the two other girls over whom the judges had wrangled long and hard had been beautiful, possessed of undeniable charm and appeal. Had they been more beautiful than she had her father's famous name and prodigious wealth indicated the judges?

That was the beginning of her inferiority complex, that was why she knew she'd have to build up an iron-clad defense, long and hard, to reach Chicago she had it all figured out. She would give the impression, without boasting that she was tremendously popular, that she was much more than that, that she had turned down all sorts of offers in order to make this trip.

A neat and very efficient young man met the train at Pasadena. Freda was surprised to discover that two of her competitors had been in forward cars. Her heart throbbed a life when she saw them. They were terrific.

To Freda's surprise she discovered during the next two weeks that her plans were working. This week she had been chosen to represent her town in which the five contestants for the role were entertained and exploited by Hollywood officials and celebrities.

Only once did she have any regrets. And then not because of the general effect she was creating. It was when Craig Franklin asked her if she knew Dana Bridges back in Philadelphia.

"Know him?" she had laughed. "The dear boy! He bought me a

TO REMOVE grease spots easily from suede shoe, rub with a cloth which has been dipped in ordinary glycerine.

To fire-proof upholstery, garments or curtains, dissolve ounces of borax and 3 ounces of boric acid in 2 quarts of water. This may be sprayed on upholstery or may be used as a dip for the other article. This does not prevent burning. Repeat treatment after each cleaning.

Jewelry that has been dulled may be brightened by dipping in a solution of 2 teaspoons of baking soda to a quart of warm water. After cleaning, rinse and polish with a dry cloth.

Use natural wood to frame pictures. The wood may be kept its natural color or you may paint the frame white or a solid color chosen from the picture itself.

Keeping a mounted blackboard hung at eye level just outside the backdoor is a useful way of reminding children and tradespeople. It may be used to remind youngsters to remove rubbers before coming into the house or tradespeople that you are busy at the moment and do not wish to be interrupted.

NEW WORLDS KING

By a Witness of Jehovah's Witness

Unto us a child is born, unto us a Son is given and the government shall be upon His shoulder and the increase of His government and peace there shall be no end upon the throne of David and upon His kingdom to order it and to establish it with judgement and justice from henceforth even forever. (Isa. 9:8-9)

And the angel said unto her, Fear not Mary for thou hast found favor with God. Thou shalt conceive in thy womb and bring forth a son and shall call his name Jesus and he shall be great and shall be called the Son of the Highest and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David and he shall reign over the house of Jacob forever and of His Kingdom there shall be no end. (Luke 1:30-33)

And suddenly she was with the angel, a multitude of heavenly host praising Jehovah and saying, "Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will toward men."

(Luke 2:14)

At the age of 12 years Jesus began to prepare to be about His Father's business. (Luke 2:49)

At the age of 30 years he was baptized in the Jordan river dedicating himself fully to the ministry of his Father Jehovah. (Luke 3:23)

The spirit like a dove descended on Jesus and a voice from heaven said, "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased." (Luke 3:22)

Then again in the transfiguration on the mount Jehovah spoke again, "This is my beloved Son, Hear ye Him." (Luke 9:35)

Jesus went all about Galilee teaching in their synagogues and preaching the gospel of the kingdom. (Matt. 4:23)

Jesus said, "My doctrine is not mine but His who sent me. If any man will do his will he shall know of the doctrine whether it is of God or whether I speak of myself. (St. Jn. 7:16-17)

When you have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself but as my Father has taught me, I speak these things. He that sent me is with me, the Father has not left me alone for I do always those things that please Him. If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed and ye shall know the truth and the truth shall set you free. (St. Jn. 8:28-32)

Pilate said unto Jesus, "Art thou a King then?" Jesus said, "Thou sayest that I am a King for to this end was I born and for this cause came I into the world that I should bear witness unto the truth. Everyone that is of the truth hears my voice." (St. Jn. 18:36-37)

Pilate sought to release Jesus but the chief priests answered, "We have no King but Caesar." (St. Jn. 19:15)

Jesus humbled himself and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross. Jehovah highly exalted him and gave him a name above every name. Every tongue should confess Jesus is Lord to the glory of God. (Phil. 2:8-11)

Men have long prayed, "Thy Kingdom Come, Thy Will Be Done in the earth as it is in Heaven." (Mat. 6:10)

This Kingdom of Jehovah under the Rightful King Christ Jesus shall take full sway over men of good will toward God and all the Kingdoms of this world will become the Kingdoms of our Lord and His Christ and he shall reign forever. (Rev. 11:15) (Rev. 18:15-18)

They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountains for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord as the waters that cover the sea.

God did not form the earth in vain, he formed it to be inhabited. (Isa. 45:18)

The heavens are the Lords but the earth has he given unto the children of men. (Psa. 115:16)

Jesus Christ Our King shall judge the poor of the people, he shall save the children of the needy and break in pieces the oppressor. In his days shall the righteous flourish and abundance of peace so long as the moon endureth. He shall have dominion from sea to sea. Yea all nations shall fall down before him, all nations shall serve him. (Psa. 72:4-11)

When the righteous bears rule, the people will rejoice. (Prov. 29:2)

He shall be called wonderful counselor, the mighty God, the everlasting father and the prince of peace and of the increase of his government of peace there shall be no end. (Isa. 9:6-7) (Dan. 2:44)

And this gospel of the Kingdom shall be preached in all the world as a witness to all nations. (Mat. 24:14)

Mount Vernon Schools Have Enrollment Of 529

Record Attendance on opening day Monday augurs well for a successful year. Fourth grade highest in enrollment.

The Mount Vernon Independent school opened its doors for another year of school. Superintendent Clyde Linville was gratified by the attendance of the first day and expressed his appreciation for the interest and enthusiasm on the opening day. Mr. Linville presided at the first public assembly and called upon the reverend Howard Ray of the Christian Church to lead the pupils and visitors and faculty in a group of familiar songs. A former graduate of the school Albert G. Griffin, now a student at Georgetown where he is studying for the ministry, conducted the devotional exercises. He based his few remarks on the 21st psalm which begins with the well-known words, "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills. Mr. Griffin then told of the love of God, what he has given us of friends and good parents of brothers and sisters. He told three stories to illustrate his points.

Albert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Griffin. Mrs. Bryant spoke briefly on the compulsory attendance law and urged parents to cooperate to the fullest extent in the observance of this law. After the opening program the teachers together with their pupils went to their respective rooms to make a careful check on attendance.

The following is the latest record of enrollment by grades: Grade one, 60, grade two, 49, grade three, 37, grade four, 61, grade five, 59, grade six, 49, grade seven, 38, grade eight, 36, grade nine, 49, grade ten, 28, grade eleven, 27, and grade twelve, 28. This makes a total of 529 pupils that enrolled on the first day.

The fourth grade has the highest number being 61, next to it is grade one with 60, and grade five with 59. For two days, Monday and Tuesday the school operated for only one half day, but on Wednesday the school went into full swing.

Mr. Linville stated that school hopes to carry a weekly column of news in the Signal. In this the Signal staff will be happy to cooperate.

Hayes Clark Sr. is visiting relatives in Butler this week.

Christian Education Week

Christian education week will be observed in Kentucky from September 28 through October 5. It was announced recently by the Rev. Alexander M. Warren, executive secretary of the Kentucky Council of Churches with headquarters in Lexington.

Dates for the observance have been set nationally by the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. Mr. Warren said the week also has been set aside for the Revised Standard Version Bible observance. This is in celebration of the completion, after many years of research by groups of scholars, of a new translation of the bible that has been accepted officially by the national Council.

The National Council also is making five of these new bibles available to each community planning union services during the week. These bibles are for presentation to those persons who have given a distinctive service to the community. Special window displays also are available for the week, and the local Ministerial Association have assumed responsibility for handling the publicity.

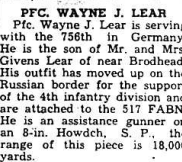

The Kentucky Council of Churches, incorporating local groups through its affiliation with the National Council, was organized in December, 1947. The following denominations entered into an agreement to constitute this organization: Disciples, Episcopal, Evangelical and Reformed, Methodist, Presbyterian US and Presbyterian USA. In order that our many friends might be better informed about the Kentucky Council of Churches, we quote from the Constitution and By-laws.

Saylor Clan Holds Reunion

Quite a few of the family relationship arrived at the Bradley Saylor home on Saturday the 30th and shared in the barbecue which was served in the woods near by. Those who attended included the Saylor family, the Superintendent of Schools, Clyde Linville, and there and supervised the barbecuing of the many chickens. Rockcastle Baptists Sunday School Con.

The Rockcastle Baptist Sunday School Convention will be held at the Mt. Vernon Baptist Church on Tuesday night, September 16, at 7:30 P. M. Plans will be discussed for the coming Sunday School year. Rev. Elliott, pastor of the Brodhead Church will bring a report of the state Sunday School meeting held last week in Louisville. Mr. E. K. Cook, Associational Sunday School Superintendent, will preside at the meeting.

The Sunday schools of Rockcastle County's Christian Churches met at Wildie on Sunday, Aug. 31 for an all-day meeting for the purpose of fellowship and a complete report of the activities of the various schools for the past year.

There was a goodly number present and the reports and messages were well received. The reverend E. C. Simon, pastor of the Wildie church brought the morning message at the regular church service. His subject was "What will ye do with Jesus?" The minister emphasized that everyone who meets Jesus has to make a choice, either to receive him or reject him. "What will we do with him?" he asked, "is it food only that we want or is it healing or is it some spiritual nourishment. Peter, the apostle was an aggressive man, he always wanted to be a choice, either to receive Jesus, but later wept bitterly for his mistake. Judas, too, wanted to follow Jesus, but betrayed him, at the last moment and met a shameful death.

So, we too, have to face that great personality and we have to make a decision which will mean death or eternal life.

It is better for us to obey God than man. Sometimes you hear men say that it is "sissy" to go to church. Those who say so are not strong enough to take it.

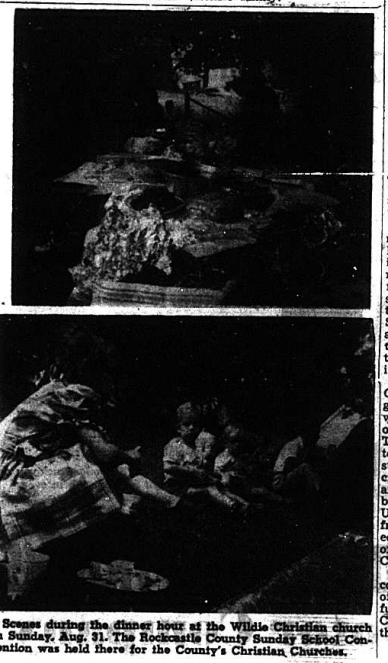

After the morning worship the ladies of the church prepared a picnic lunch which the members of the church brought to the church. The food was spread upon the large tables under the shade trees and then all present partook of the bountiful meal.

The afternoon's program was devoted to the reports from the various churches including Rose Hill, Brodhead, Mt. Vernon and Wildie. The reverend Howard Ray, minister of the church of Yarrow, Christian Church brought the message of the afternoon. His message was very appropriate to the occasion and appreciated by all the delegates and guests. Jack Holt reported for the Rose Hill church. Reverend Ray for the Mt. Vernon Church. The Livingston choir furnished music for the afternoon by singing "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer."

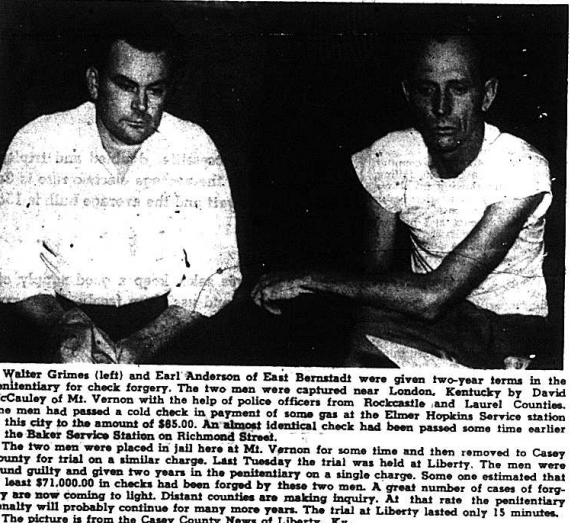

FISH FRY

The Berean Class of the Christian Church is having another of their good fish fries Friday night, Sept. 12 from 6:30-7:00 in the basement of the church. $1.00 adults, $.50 children.

Mr. Murphy Ballinger and daughter, Dextil and Mr. Berkeley Ballinger was in Mt. Vernon Saturday.

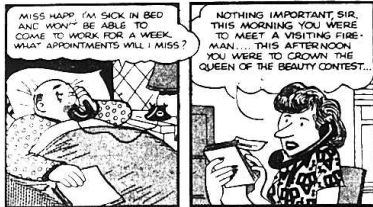

Sees during the dinner hour at the Wildie Christian church on Sunday, Aug. 31. The Rockcastle County Sunday School Convention was held there for the County's Christian Churches.

Walter Grimes (left) and Earl Anderson of East Bernstadt were given two-year terms in the penitentiary for check forgery. The two men were captured near London, Kentucky by Deputy McCauley of Mt. Vernon with the help of police officers from Rockcastle and Laurel Counties. The men had passed a cold check in payment of some cash at the Elmer Hopkins Service station in this city to the amount of $48.00. A great number of similar checks had been passed some time earlier at the Baker Service Station on Richmond Street. The two men were placed in jail here at Mt. Vernon for some time and then removed to Casey County for trial on a similar charge. Last Tuesday the trial was held at Liberty. The men were found guilty and given two years in the penitentiary on a single charge. Some one estimated that at least $71,000.00 in checks had been forged by these two men. A great number of cases of forgery are now coming to light. Distant counties are making inquiry. At that rate the penitentiary probably will probably continue for many more years. The trial at Liberty lasted only 15 minutes. The picture is from the Casey County News of Liberty, Ky.

MAYOR McGUP By John Jarvis

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Scalloped corn will make a good dish for the evening meal when children have been at school all day. Fresh green corn in canned corn may be used. Mrs. Pearl Haak special-izes in foods at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Scalloped Corn
2 c corn
2 eggs
two-thirds c milk
1 t salt
Dash of pepper
2 T butter
One-half c buttered crumbs

Beat eggs slightly and add to corn, milk, salt, pepper and melted butter, pour into greased casserole and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 1 hour. After thirty minutes of baking sprinkle with buttered crumbs over the top.

Menu: Cold baked ham, scalloped corn, greens, sliced tomatoes, muffins, butter and berry cobbler.

Tomatoes that were munched did well this year. It may sound far-fetched, but another way to beat drought or tomatoes is spray out them as far blight. At least, the evidence points that way. The leaves stayed greener and rolled less and fewer blossoms dropped, and it was remarkable how the plants responded to even light showers. It should be added that at the same time, spraying served as insurance against blight, which this year did not come in epidemic form. A series of 13 sprayings cost not quite three cents per plant.

Sprayers cost much more than dusts, but it is a matter of record that by controlling the fleabeetles on just one 100-pound planting of seed potatoes enough extra crop was made to pay for the sprayer, when potatoes were much cheaper than this year.

BOUGHT HAY COULD BRING IN JOHNSON AND QUACK GRASSES

A warning to farmers to watch for Johnson and quack grasses in hay brought in from other states has been issued by the University of Kentucky. Seeds from these grasses might get scattered over farms and result in years of struggle to get rid of these pests.

Johnson grass is listed as one of nine noxious weeds in Kentucky. While not as serious as Johnson grass, quack grass is considered something to be avoided on every farm.

Both Johnson and quack grass was said to spread from bits of hay falling off wagons or trucks as it is moved along roads. That is why it is often seen growing along highways.

Both grasses were said to be difficult to recognize in bales of hay. About the only way farmers can avoid getting them when buying hay is to require a guarantee that there is none in the hay.

Johnson grass thrives in the South and quack grass in the North, and both are well in Kentucky, the statement said.

Bulbs and Electricity are about the cheapest and most valuable things you can buy today.

Not many years ago the price of the average bulb was 40c each and electricity was 15c per kilowatt flat. That was in the day of 5c bread, 12c eggs, 11c gas, $15.00 suits and $360.00 Fords.

With these necessities doubled and tripled in price we find the average electric rate is 3c or less per kilowatt and the average bulb is 15c each.

THE GARDEN

The Inquest, 1

By John S. Gardner, University of Kentucky

Dry weather was a common cause for some gardens failing, or for their slowing up. However, some gardens did better than others because the soil held more humus, and by that token, more moisture.

The best source of humus is stable manure, but it is becoming more scarce. A good substitute is a plowed-under cover crop, as many gardens this summer testified, beating the drought quite measurably, and some, handsomely. A cover crop of rye sown after killing frost is not always a sure thing, but a progressive cover crop moving across the garden as vegetables mature, makes vegetation well worth turning under, part of it in time to start even the earliest vegetables, especially with a dab of manure to hasten its breaking down. That is to say that humus is drought insurance.

Another way to beat drought is mulching. The first material one thinks of is straw, but tree leaves that have spent a full year in a compost pile are excellent. So are year-old lawn

Few Animals Beat Wildcat in Fight

ABOUT the only animal, man included, who can 'lick his weight in wildcats' is another wildcat. Pound for pound, the American wildcat, or bobcat (Lynx rufus) is probably as capable a fighter as there is in the animal world.

The bobcat is a distinct species, not to be confused with the larger cougar, or mountain lion, or with his Canadian cousin, the lynx. He is similar to the lynx in that he has the same short, or 'bob' tail, but he is smaller, prefers warmer climates and his ears are not so markedly tufted.

This redoubtable scrapper is found in all parts of the United States—wherever there is sufficient cover such as forest, cut-over country, canebrakes, brushy bottomlands and the scrub growth of the west's arid canyons. Unmistakable bobcat sign has been found within 25 miles of downtown Manhattan, and there is not a State that does not harbor some of these animals.

Because they live concealed lives and are seldom seen, no reliable estimate has ever been made of the number of wildcats in the United States. But experts agree they are on the increase.

The animal's secretiveness is not due to lack of courage, but rather to caution. Like many other capable fighters, bobcats are willing to let predators take the place of valor when fighting is unnecessary. They will go to great lengths to avoid man, and will flee from dogs they can cut to ribbons.

This widely distributed predator is a silent hunter and usually makes little noise, but in a fight he will spit and snarl and scream. In the January and February mating season his courtship song has an astounding range, volume and variety.

A spring litter usually numbers from two to four. The kittens stay with the mother during the summer, learning the fine art of keeping alive. Frequently the litters remain together for their first winter, with each yearling cat going his solitary way the next spring.

IN MEMORY

In memory of our father and our brother, George Leonard Frederick who was taken from us so suddenly Sept. 10, 1939. Nothing can take away the love our heart hold, dear brother. Fond memories linger long. Every day remembrances keep you near. As years fade away, in the distance peary gates were open, a gentle voice said, "come" and with farewell unspoken you gently entered home. Some memories may dim with the years, but those memories of my dear father are the lasting kind that each year bring tears. You passed away so suddenly, on a Sunday-so brief your time-you scarcely knew the meaning of a sigh. Your love was kind, why should we miss, but holy death is kinder.

Missed by your son Robert Leonard Frederick with the U. S. Navy in Korea, and brothers.

IN MEMORY

In memory of my beloved son George Leonard Frederick who lost his life near London, Kentucky thirteen long years ago today, Sept. 10, 1939.

Yes, dear son, thirteen long and not forgotten years have passed and gone since you was called away from your home. God needed another angel to worship before his throne. So he looked down from heaven and called you... loved, one home. Yes, God took you, it was His will and in my heart your memory liveth still; and only a star shines over the grave of you dear son, I loved, but I could not save you. You are not dead nor lost but gone on before. You live with us in memory and will forever more.

As sadly missed by mother, Mrs. Maggie Frederick.

Cooper To Speak In Most Kentucky Counties

John Sherman Cooper, whose easy and humble way has made him the top Republican vote-getter in recent Kentucky history, starts a tour of the state this week in an effort to organize the United States Senate seat he lost by a narrow margin in 1948.

Cooper announced that early speeches in his campaign will deal mainly with problems of Kentucky farmers. His first pledge will be that he will speak and work for farmers when he returns to the Senate, as he did in pushing to enactment in 1948 the first permanent guarantee to burley growers of a support price equal to 90 per cent of parity.
