Views and Counterviews

THE INFLUENCE OF THE U.S. in the U.N. is so crucial that without our support it would be powerless. The U.N. is disliked by powerful American organizations. Can the arguments of U.N. enemies stand against the arguments of U.N. friends?

ANTI-U.N.
 The U.N. has followed the League of Nations in its failure to bring about disarmament and has failed in atomic control. The ideal developed at San Francisco through which the five great nations would exert their strength to enforce peace has deteriorated into the "cold war." The Security Council has no troops to stop aggression, and anyway, the veto would keep it from using them.

The U.N. is being used by the Arab and Asiatic nations to attack the colonial powers, embarrassing the U.S. in its attempts to build NATO and giving Russia a propaganda weapon when we fail to side with the freedom-seeking colonies.

Potential new U.N. members from non-Red areas are being denied membership because of the struggle between the U.S. and Russia—U.N. membership applications are subject to the veto. Certainly it is a bad thing for a country as Italy, Ireland and Finland to be denied admittance just because we won't admit a big bloc of Communist nations. Other nations had their enthusiasm blunted by the League failure.

wonderful time was reported by all.
 Mr. Ed Simon was in Tenn. Friday and Saturday of last week.

UNUSUAL SERMON
 Pastor B. Samuel Miller will preach in the Mareburg Baptist church Sunday morning, November 23rd using as his subject "Seven Things God Does Not Know."

The Rev. Miller has been Mareburg's Pastor for only a very short time but his ministry has shown splendid results. You are always cordially invited to worship at Mareburg and especially for this service.

PRO-U.N.
 The U.N. is a forum for 60 nations and the last point of contact between the west and the east, offering negotiation when either side considers it opportune. Disputes between members of the non-Communist world have been settled successfully by the U.N.—Israel and the Arab states, Netherlands and Indonesia, India and Pakistan. Also, the U.N. has taken very strong action where the Soviet was involved but not willing to risk war—removal of Soviet soldiers from Iran, the Greek civil war and the lifting of the Berlin blockade.

When the U.S. is willing to lead the way, as in Korea, the U.N. can take very strong action against aggression. The Communist forces have not crossed a border since the U.N. forces drove them from South Korea.

The U.N. has improved social and economic conditions in the world. It has offered technical assistance to backward countries to the tune of $20-billion a year.

The U.N. has inspired the birth of two new states—Israel and Indonesia—and increased the prestige of new states such as India.

On The Mend

Sampson Sandusky is recuperating nicely from his accident that happened on Saturday, Nov. 1, when he lost two days of his middle fingers on his left hand while operating a drilling machine on the farm of Mr. England on the eastern edge of Madison County near the Estill County line. Sampson was attempting to put on a fan belt on the gas engine when the glove on his left hand was caught in the belt and then thrown into the driving pulley in the engine. Mr. Sandusky's son Jr. happened to be present when the accident occurred and immediately took his father to Berea where Dr. H. C. Jones dressed the wound. Mr. Sandusky hopes to be able to use the two fingers that he still has, although the index finger is still quite numb. Mr. Sandusky was drilling for oil.

Ralph Terrill Building Truck Stop

Mr. Ralph Terrill, owner and manager of the K-Taxi and Carleton restaurant of Berea is constructing a large modern and up-to-date truck stop between Berea and Boone Gap on U. S. 25. Grading has been done and stone has already been placed for the driveway. Construction on the building has begun and will probably be ready for occupancy by the first of the year. Mr. Terrill is building the place primarily for the drivers of the large trucks that now pass over U. S. 25. So far there has been no easy place for the trucks to park. Mr. Terrill is a former truck driver and knows the needs of the men who have to do long runs on the road and who sometimes thought they were the prettiest ever. In aid to our newly organized Civil Defense Program Lt. Alexander was here to organize a Broadhead Aircraft Spotter Corps. Eugene Bengue was appointed chief spotter. Mr. Chas. Bert is in charge. There were twenty-five volunteers.

Events From Broadhead High School

Broadhead High was honored by the following speakers: Mr. Raphael Emmanuel, from Turkey, who gave a very interesting and educational talk on Turkey and its people.

Brother Holdreby, who has been holding a revival at the local Baptist Church, has conducted chapel in the gym for two mornings. His talks were very inspirational.

The Senior Class was visited Thursday by Mr. Whaler, from the Specierian Business School of Louisville.

Our annual is well under way with the staff busy getting advertisement and materials together.

The Junior Class was well pleased with the outcome of their magazine sales. The proceeds amounted to over $400.00. High salesman was Mary Doris Smithers, with sales amounting to $62.00, next was David Saylor with sales amounting to $52.00. The money will be added to their class funds for their trip next year.

The Juniors received their rings today, and as usual

Mr. D. B. Cook, a Contact Representative of the Kentucky Ex-Service Men's Board will be present on Wed. Nov. 28, at Court house to assist veterans and their dependents with claims for benefits due them as a result of their military service. He will be present from 8:00 A. M. to 4:00 P. M. Miss Goldie Penzol visited her mother, Mrs. Sadie Penzol over the week-end.

The girls have organized their ball club and will meet every Thursday evening at 1:45. The Tigers suffered two consecutive defeats at the hands of Rice Hill and Kirksville, by the score of 58-47 and 62-49 respectively. Huston and Ad-ducted were high point men at Rice Hill and Kirksville. The boys played hard against strong teams and the fans are well pleased with them. The boys now have a 50-50 playing record for the season. Both the defeats were away from local floor and we look forward to hitting the win column Friday against Bush, a strong Laurel Co. team. Good Luck boys.

Renfro Valley Prepares for Future While Preserving Pioneer Traditions

Mrs. John Lair, Renfro Valley, Kentucky, uses simple home tasks as examples of living in training her four daughters. Mrs. Lair tells youngest daughter, Barbara, "Put the best ingredients, properly proportioned, together with patience and care, and you cannot fail in anything you try. Following the recipe exactly assures a good life as well as a good cake." Father

John Lair has proven these rules in pursuing a dream and seeing it come true in the restoration of Renfro Valley, Kentucky, as a mecca for folks who cherish the best of pioneer Americans preserved there. Young Barbara follows mother's advice in baking her favorite "Tropical Delight" Pineapple Sponge Cake utilizing a thoroughly tested cake-of-the-month recipe:

2 teaspoons Double-Acting Baking Powder
2 cups sifted Cake Flour
4 eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups sugar

*Mixes sift flour once, measure and sift again. Beat eggs and salt together until thick and light colored. Add sugar gradually, beating constantly. Add 1/2 cup of flour alternately with hot pineapple juice, beating well after each addition. Combine remaining flour and "double-acting" baking powder and sift over. Baking: Turn batter into ungreased 5-inch tube pan. Bake in moderate oven (325°) 45 minutes, or until done. Remove from oven, invert pan, let stand one hour, or until cake is cool. Slice Confectioner's Sugar (1/2 cup), spread on top and let drizzle down sides. Garnish top with ring of drained crushed pineapple.

*Note: One No. 1 can crushed pineapple will give sufficient juice and drained pineapple for this cake.

So many persons do not know where Calloway is and many thousands more do not care but to those that have the privilege of living here (and can't get away) it means a lot. Quote: "Calloway is situated on the center of the earth, on Route No. 25, half way between Pine Hill on the north and Livingston on the south. There are approximately 75 homes, two churches, three stores one restaurant, one blacksmith shop, one slaughter house operating full time at present, last but not least one part time telephone, no mail service except when the missionary arrives bringing it from the Post Office." Unquote. I will also add we have no rich residents nor do we have any paupers, there is no record of any ever starving to death here and we have about the average number of fat persons.

GOOD RURAL MAIL BOXES PAY OFF IN IMPROVED ALL WEATHER MAIL SERVICE

While you are getting things in shape for the long winter months ahead, if you live on a rural route, don't fail to give your mail man a break and fix up that mail box so he can give you prompt service in all kinds of weather.

Most important, be certain to ask your mail carrier what improvements your box needs. After all, he is the fellow who serves your box 305 days a year in good weather and bad, and he knows what the problem is. There may be an irritating problem about your box that you have never thought about, but that can be corrected in a few minutes.

Be sure to have a good mail box to protect your mail from the weather.

Set the post in an old milk can filled with gravel or concrete so it can be easily moved for road graders. This arrangement also prevents the box being demolished when struck by a car or truck—it will fall over instead of being wrecked.

Place the box where the postman can drive up close to it. An arm gets mighty wet reaching for boxes on rainy days, and there are lots of rainy days in winter.

Top of the box should not be more than 55 inches nor less than 48 inches high. You can judge this by the height of your car window.

But, above all, Ask Your Carrier what improvements your mail box needs before you start.

Adding spice to an already fully-tuned-up rivalry will be the angle that in Kentucky the Vols will be meeting the team that captured the Cotton Bowl championship last New Year's Day in a sharp rebound from a 28-0 licking administered by UT in the final game of the regular season. Tennessee and Kentucky also have long been notorious spoilers of each other's good records and bowl aspirations and this year's contest is gaining a lot of attention for the very reason that the Wildcats would like nothing better than to embarrass the bowl bound Volunteers.

Minus the services of the fabulous Babe Parilli, whose arm carried them to three straight bowl games, Coach Paul Bryant's young Kentuckians have been an inconsistent team this season but appear to be closing strong. The Cats have been impressive in rolling past Cincinnati, Miami and Tulane in its last three games (Clemson Nov. 13 included) and, without the pressure of the hint of a bowl bid hanging over them, are given an outside chance to upset the high-riding charges of General Bob Neyland.

One of the oldest and most hotly contested rivalries in the nation, the Kentucky-Tennessee grid history goes back to the 1893 season. Significantly, the series got off to an auspicious start as old Kentucky 12, walloped the Vols 56 to 0—a margin of victory that has never been equalled in the 46 games played in the 59 years since.

Although he has come dangerously close to swallowing the words at times during the Bryant-era, General Neyland boasts the distinction of never having been defeated by a Kentucky eleven. The Wildcat's last victory came in 1935 (27-0) but the General was on Army duty in Panama that season. Prior to that year, Kentucky was successful last in 1925 the year before the veteran mentor put in his appearance at Tennessee. UK's longest skein in the series was a run of four wins (three of them shutouts) from 1909 through 1912.

Barren county homemakers contributed $270 to the county Health Center the past year, and $295 to the Red Cross. Gilbert Hammonds, 4-H club member in Russell county, primed all of the tobacco on his six-tenths acre farm.

It is estimated that 300 Flemington county farmers this year for the first time began the practice of plowing tobacco plant beds in the fall.

In Rockcastle county, 149 families improved their home grounds the past year through plantings, cleaning, or setting up or removing trees.
