Special Education Projects

Three special education projects expected to cost about $67,000 were included in a $215,000 program approved last week by directors of the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children.

The projects, to be financed by Easter Seal contributions but supervised by the State Department of Education, include grants for:

- 1. Creating a pool of special equipment such as special typewriters, large type books, desks hearing aids and wheel chairs to be lent to school districts not able to purchase such equipment.
2. Hiring of teachers for junior and senior high school students in Kossuth Crippled Children Hospital, Louisville and Cardinal Lelandalecent several years in mission ary work in the mountain region of Virginia.

Rev. Parks has held pastorate in the First Baptist Church, Durham, Va., Deadrick Avenue Baptist Church, Knoxville, Tenn., White Oak Baptist Church, Chattanooga, and the Russellville, Tenn. Baptist Church which he resigned recently to accept the school position.

SAFETY IMPROVES
Improvement in the safety record of Kentucky's coal mines was noted by the State Department of Mines and Minerals as a fatality record of 74 was chalked up for 1952, compared with 106 deaths in 1951.

Named Promotional Director

Rev. James A. Park has been named promotional director of the Clear Creek Preachers Bible School, according to an announcement by L. C. Kelley, president of the school.

PAROLES GRANTED

The State Department of Welfare announced paroles for seventy-nine prisoners during this session, the work of the La Grange Reformatory and seventeen from Eddyville penitentiary.

STATE GETS HOSPITAL

Nichols General Hospital, Veterans Administration, has been turned over to the Surplus Property Division of the State Department for disposition to a private health or public education institution.

SEVERAL THOUSAND TO ATTEND STATE FARM CONVENTION

Arrangements are being made for an attendance of several thousand farmers, farm women and others interested in agriculture at the annual Farm and Home Convention at the University of Kentucky Feb. 3-6. This will be the 41st annual convention.

A general session for both men and women will be held Tuesday, the first day, in Memorial Coliseum. The program will deal with the farm outlook for this season, the work of the University of Kentucky and rural health. Also one speaker, George A. Bowie of the Firestone Rubber Company, will discuss the European situation.

Health will be discussed by Aubrey Gates Little Rock, Ark. field director of the American Medical Association, and Miss Charlotte Rickman, health education consultant of the State Department of Health.

After Tuesday, women will have their own programs and farmers will attend sectional meetings to hear talks about crops, soils, the raising of livestock, dairying, seed production, poultry raising, fruits and vegetables, the use of farm machinery, irrigation of tobacco and other crops, rural community and church, business side of farming and 4-H club work. All farmers will attend a program on tobacco production on Friday.

Civil defense, good government, communism, health fashions and the activities of home-makers clubs will make up the programs for women. Master farm homemakers for 1952 will be recognized.

An engineering exhibit will show farm machinery and irrigation and other equipment. The Kentucky Geological Survey will have a booth where rocks and minerals will be identified for visitors.

to make "light" work

Every housewife spends long hours in her kitchen. The demands on her eyes—from peeling potatoes to reading recipes—are numerous and tiring. In fact, much of that "all in" feeling in the evening can be traced directly to overworked eyes. A well-lighted, shadow-proof kitchen can make light work of kitchen chores and create a whole new atmosphere in the room. There are easy steps to proper kitchen lighting. Choose a ceiling fixture to fit your room—one that will give ample general lighting. Then add local lighting as your needs direct—over the sink, under the cabinets where meal preparation is carried out, over the range. Fixtures now available can be mounted under the cabinets or on the wall. Many can be plugged into the nearest outlet, eliminating additional wiring.

Modern lighting is one of the first steps toward a modern kitchen.

Cancer Mobile to Come to Mt. Vernon Feb. 3-4-5

Free examinations to be given to all persons recommended by their family physician. Clinic to be at County Health Office.

The cancer mobile will be in Mount Vernon on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, Feb. 3, 4 and 5 to give examinations to persons so recommended by their family physician. The clinic will be held in the offices of the County Health Officer, Dr. Walker Owens on Main Street of this city. Any person who has the symptoms of cancer and who has been recommended for the clinic examination is urged to go to the clinic for an X-ray examination.

The American Cancer Society is sponsoring a program of education and clinical help to young communities. The cancer mobile is a well equipped truck that travels from place to place in order to bring clinics right to the place where people live and where it is easily available for anyone who cares to use its services.

Mrs. Beulah Stewart of Wildie is the chairman of the Rockcastle County Cancer chapter, and is responsible for the publicity and program of the cancer clinic. Specialists in cancer will accompany the cancer mobile and help in diagnosing cancer cases. Dr. Robert C. Jones, expert surgeon from Berea will be here to help out with the clinic.

Cancer is one of the worst diseases that plagues mankind. It can strike anyone. No one is immune. No age is free from cancer. It can infect children as well as men and women. The doctors say that there are several danger signals. These signals can be listed as follows: Any sore that does not heal; a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere; unusual bleeding or discharge; any change in a wart or mole; persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing; persistent hoarseness or cough and any change in normal bowel habits. The appearance of a danger signal may not mean cancer, but it should always mean an immediate visit to a physician.

Fortunately most cancers can be cured, but only if treated in time. Too many people rely on cancer quacks. No cancer ever cured itself, and none was ever cured by pills, powders or any other home remedy, not by any "wonder doctor or secret" method, medicine or gadget.

During the coming week Mr. Arch Laceyfield, educational director of the Kentucky Division of the American Cancer Society will be in Rockcastle County to deliver eight lectures on cancer. He will visit Clubs, and schools. His schedule will be from Thursday, Feb. 26, at 7:30 P. M. on Tuesday, Feb. 27 at 7:30 P. M. on Wednesday, Jan. 30, 9 A. M. at Livingston High School. Friday, Jan. 30, 10:30 A. M. at Pine Hill School.

Friday, Jan. 30, 1:30 P. M. at Brodhead High School. Monday, Feb. 2, 7 P. M. at Brodhead High School for Adults. Tuesday, Feb. 3, Mount Vernon High School. Tuesday, Feb. 3, 7 P. M. at Conroy School.

Tuesday, Feb. 3, 7 P. M. at Wildie school.

Tax Payers Rockcastle County

The law requires that all tax payers come to the Tax Commissioners office and give in their tax list. Many have already done this for 1953. We only have to March 1st to finish this. Only about sixty days.

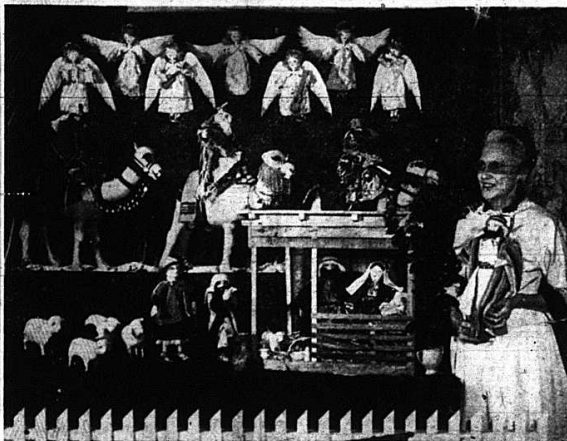

If you have not listed your property drop in when you come to town. By law we are subject to 10 percent penalty if we fail to do this.

Yours very truly,
S. C. Chandler, Tax Commissioner. 1613

NOT A CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

The rumor that Earl Phillips is to be a candidate for sheriff is erroneous and he wishes the public to know that he is not running for that office.

Mrs. Jones Creates Nativity Scene

NATIVITY SCENE—Scenes of the nativity may be a dime a dozen this Christmas and on display at many a Yule pageant and under many a tree. Few, if any, however, are as authentic as this scene, which Miami doll creator Mrs. Roy E. Jones has been working for the past year. Showing of this scene, and other doll creations (hand made from stuffing to jewelry) by Mrs. Jones are currently on display at her home, 2728 SW 54th Ave., through Dec. 22. Visiting hours are 1 to 4 p. m., 7 to 10 p. m. except on Fridays.

And no wonder—for this Christmas project is no haphazard affair; it's as authentic and true-to-the-Bible as months of research and study could make it.

Mrs. Jones, famous for her dolls and for her beautiful gifts of dolls, clothes, toys, fruit and candy, sent each Christmas to JOHN LAIR and his Renfro Valley (Ky.) Christmas party (by special request) for the museum children, decides annually upon a Yule doll project it takes her 12 months to complete the job.

One year she made a wedding scene, another Christmas, carolers. Last year she created (by special request) for the museum at Renfro Valley, a miniature reproduction of that famous radio program, its mountain people and its tree-toppetuate the Renfro Valley Christmas party.

The Renfro Valley Almanac of this year advocates a whole page to this "museum piece" (all dolls look like the real characters they portray) and tells of five previous Christmas projects.

ARRIVES SAFELY IN KOREA
Mrs. Alma Cloud received word this week that her husband, Pvt. James M. Cloud has landed safely in Korea after 35 days at sea. He has been serving in army forces for a year the 16th of January 1953. He is the son of Mrs. Lula Cloud of Pine Hill.

IN HOSPITAL
Mrs. O. V. Hilton is in Ephraim McDowell Hospital, Danville where she underwent surgery last Monday. She is reported doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Farmer and David visited Mr. and Mrs. Grant Banks over the week-end.

Income Tax Forms Mailed To 1953 Filers

State income tax forms have been mailed to all persons who filed tax return last year and Department of Revenue officials urged prompt filing to avoid a run-around after the April 15 deadline.

A new short form for persons whose income came from wages, bonuses and commissions is not more than $100 in dividends and interest will make filing easier, and most taxpayers will be able to file returns without outside help, the officials believe.

Required to file returns are single persons who had a 1952 gross income of at least $1,500 or a net income of $100. Married persons living together must file if they have a combined gross income of $2,500 or a net income of $200.

In special cases help in filing is available here or in Lexington, Ind., but now has his orders for Korea. The marriage will take place in Richmond, Ind., Saturday Feb. 7, at 7:00 P. M.

4H Club County Council

The 4-H County Council met Monday night, January 26, in the county agents office, Mt. Vernon and reviewed the past 4-H years work for the county.

Admade plans for 4-H activities for 1953. The council voted to continue its officers for 1953: Roy Brown, president, Bradley Saylor, Vice President, and Margaret S. McHargue, secretary.

During the beginning of the epidemic the attendance was 100 percent for many of the grades and continued for many grades until the flu epidemic broke out. The school community as the center of the epidemic, but that picture has completely changed by now.

Reports over the radio mentioned that the attendance was 100 percent for many of the grades and continued for many grades until the flu epidemic broke out. The school community as the center of the epidemic, but that picture has completely changed by now.

Events From Brodhead High

Then Senior class went to Somerset last Wednesday and had their annual pictures taken. Then the photographer came over and took pictures of the ball team, cheerleaders, glee club chemistry laboratory, lunch room, rooming room, typing room and library.

Brodhead had an assembly program Tuesday. It was a musical review. The ball team played the game that had been canceled with McKinney Monday night. The score was 10-7. The score being 63-43. The Tigers are now standing with 10 wins and 7 losses. The Ferguson team will play the Tigers on Feb. 3. Come and see these two teams battle for the victory of winning.

VISIT OF INCOME TAX MAN

Director of Internal Revenue Wm. M. Gray, announces that an agent from his office will visit Mt. Vernon Feb. 23 for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in filing their 1953 tax returns and their estimated returns for the year 1953. Their returns should be filed by March 15, 1953.

The Director of Internal Revenue urges that taxpayers desiring the above service list and file their returns to their income totals relating to their income and their deductions, including allowable expenses, so that the information necessary in the preparation of a return be on hand when availing themselves of this service which is absolutely free.

ON STATE COMMITTEE

James Lambert of Mount Vernon was in Frankfort, Kentucky last week as a member of the Governor's educational research and legislative committee. He is a member of the committee including Mr. Lambert, appeared in the Sun-News on the Lexington Herald-Leader. Mr. Lambert represents the legislative branch of the committee.

SPORTS

Mt. Vernon Defeats Crab Orchard

In a top sided score of 82 to 49 the Mt. Vernon Red Devils ran up another victory to their credit over the Crab Orchard team last Tuesday evening on the home floor. The scores were as follows:

Mt. Vernon: M. Shepherd 5, C. Shepherd 22, E. Kelley 4, Baker 6, Speer, 1, Cornelius 19, Taylor 6.

Crab Orchard: Anderson 6, Walker 4, Brown 1, Rogers 14, Hasty 10, Newsom 4, Middleton 6, Penidgrath 4.

Mt. Vernon 15, 33, 56, 82.

Crab Orchard 6, 16, 26, 49.

To Self Employed People

If you are one of the millions of self employed people who file their second annual social security report this year, you now have insurance protection under social security law. This is a new benefit of the Lexington social security office announced today.

These are people who made a social security report of their self employment in 1952. They are now filing similar reports for their earnings for 1952. They will have a social security tax year. Social security reports on self employment earnings are made on special forms and are sent to the Director of Internal Revenue at the time of filing Federal income tax returns.

Twedeys says that self employed persons who have been in work that counts toward social security since 1950 now have insurance protection at least until mid 1955 from that work alone. If they reach 65 and retire before then they will be entitled to monthly old-age benefit payments; in case of death before mid 1955 their families can get monthly survivor's insurance payments.

Twedeys also mentioned the importance of having a social security card, and of copying down the number from that card on the social security report of self employment earnings that will file with their income tax return. Everyone is required to file a social security report and pay the tax if his self employment earnings are $400 or more in a taxable year.

Mrs. David Griffin and Susan and Gail of Louisville spent the week-end with her parents Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Dillingham. Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Anglin spent last week-end in Frankfort visiting Mrs. Anglin's sister Mrs. L. M. Grimes and family.

Mr. Walter Chimes is able to be out after a siege of the flu.

Tonight, January 29, between the hours of six and seven o'clock the Mothers of Mt. Vernon, Brodhead and Livingston will join the women of eighty other Kentucky counties who are "Marching On Polio."

In Mt. Vernon the beginning and the end of the Mothers March will be signified by the sounding of the fire siren.

When you hear it turn on your porch light to show your willingness to give toward the fight against this dread disease. Remember, it COULD be your child you'll be helping. If you have no porch light, tie a cloth on the door knob, and the Marching Mothers will call to receive your donation. Your dimes and dollars will help.

Devotional: Matthew 19

Poor Rich Man

Lesson for February 1, 1953

THE MAN had everything. He was young, he was in an executive position, he was in vigorous health, he was respectable, he was very rich. And still he felt something missing. After all this, what was there for him over and beyond the pleasant and powerful life he was then living? He was spiritually sensitive, he could feel that all he had was still not quite the thing.

Camel and Needle

The man in the famous story (Matthew 19) never did get what he wanted, so far as we know. The reason is, he did not want it enough. The price was too high: nothing less than everything he had, and his health was great. So he "went away sorrowful" and that is the last we see of him. What Jesus said as he watched him go has caused a great deal of discussion, both at the time and ever since. According to Matthew, Jesus said that it is harder for a rich man to enter God's Kingdom (to go to have eternal life, or to be saved) than for a camel to get through a needle's eye.

Dr. Foreman him go has caused

All sorts of efforts have been made to show that Jesus could not possibly have meant this. The words translated "camel" and "needle's eye" in a camel could get through a needle's eye by a miracle; and it is more of a miracle for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of God than for a camel to pass through a needle's eye. He did not say it was impossible; he did say it was possible only by a miracle. This is as shocking in 20th century America as in first century Palestine.

Riches Are Risky

Actually there are many more warnings against wealth in the Bible, than against poverty. The "have-nots" are in a spiritual peril than the "have-nots." Why this is, can be shortly stated. A minister who had had many contacts among the super-rich of one of America's Gold Coasts remarked to the writer that wealth makes the first generation hard, the second generation soft. The man of wealth may easily trust in his possessions and not in God, in short to make a god out of his own property. He may test right and wrong by what the effect is on his holdings.

Because his friends are mostly among other rich people, he is constantly, tempted to habits, diversions, recreations, customs which are not Christian. Further, the possession of wealth tends to make the owner near-sighted, like the rich young ruler who turned his back on Jesus, he can neither see clearly his own best interest nor the needs of men and women in the shadowed ways of life.

Don't Be Ruined by Riches

Now it is not true that Jesus taught that all first-class Christians must be complete paupers. It is not true that Jesus taught that no one with property can be a Christian. It is not true that Jesus laid it down as a rule for all his followers that they must give away everything they have. One of his best-loved disciples was John, who owned a home of his own. We can recall Lydia, a Barnabas among the early Christians; we can all name Christians who have served God and their fellow-men with their money. What the apostle tells a patient he must get rid of his appendix, he is not saying that all healthy persons must do the same. But when an appendix is a danger, out it must come. Now wealth may be a danger, a source of moral infection. The one best way to keep from the dangers of possessions (and these begin as soon as we have as much as one surplus dime) is to learn to think of them, and to use them, as a trust from God.

To be Christian in the earning and acquiring of what we have, to be Christian in the using of it; to spend what we have as if Christ were spending it; to remember that of him to whom much is given, much shall be required; to regard what we own as so much opportunity for doing good; instead of so much insurance against hardships; this calls for the grace of God.

CIVIL DEFENSE

The Department of Military Affairs is an important agency in Kentucky's State government, designed and equipped to carry on functions vital to both the state and nation.

One of the chief services of the department is working with the Federal government in enlisting and training members of the Army and Air Force National Guards who may be called upon to assist the state or defend the country in an emergency.

Heading the department is Major Gen. Jesse C. Lindsay, a native of Gifford, has had experience in the military service dating back to 1922—first as a member of the Guard which he now commands and later in the regular army, both in this country and overseas.

In assisting the work carried on by the Department of Military Affairs in maintaining the Guard the Federal government allots funds to the state and, in addition, provides trained instructors for all units, weapons uniforms and administrative help.

The thoroughness of training that the Guard personnel has received from the regular Army and Air Force instructors has been demonstrated in the present Korean conflict. More than 40 per cent of the Army National Guard in the Common wealth has served on active duty during the last several years and the entire Air Guard composed of the 123rd Fighter Bomber Wing and its allied units, recently returned after a period of active duty in England.

Today there are 2,103 troops in the Army National Guard in Kentucky and 377 in the Air Guard.

As a part of its vital duties, the department is also charged with the responsibility of promoting civil defense in Kentucky.

Prior to the creation of the Division of Civil Defense in 1950, little work has been done in the state to arouse and inform the citizens of the dangers of modern warfare against the civilian population. No organized public education for a protection program had been established nor were any of the city officials in the state aware of their duties and responsibilities to the people.

Under the direction of the new division under the Department of Military Affairs, a central staff for civil defense was organized in Frankfort and training has progressed in all phases of protective work. One of the most important jobs personnel of the department are doing is supervising the storage of approximately $40,000 worth of emergency medical supplies for immediate distribution in case of necessity.

The Ground Observer Corps under the division has enrolled several thousand Kentuckians to help spot aircraft.

Since 1936, the Division of Non-Executive Peace Officers has been administered by the Adjutant General. Under this program, the approximately 230 special police officers serving throughout the state are commissioned to protect the property of municipal employers by whom they are selected. The peace officers are issued commissions for four years by the Governor after certification by the Adjutant General's department.

A spirit of cooperation and mutual interest on the part of all members of the department of Military Affairs, whether the individual is an employee in the service of the state or attached to a National Guard unit in a far corner of the state, has resulted in an organization outstanding in its qualifications and determination to carry out a vital job both for the Commonwealth and the nation.

Mrs. Logan Renner who has been ill is better at this writing.

Then there is the cancer campaign. That is another dreaded disease which takes its toll more than almost any other one. Cancer will strike one in every five Americans. Out of every seven deaths last year one was caused by cancer. It is estimated that at least 225,000 persons in America will die from cancer in 1953.

Then there is the crippled children campaign that annually comes at Easter time. Also a worthy cause, and should have our generous support. After all we have so many worthy causes in comparison to what some people have to pay for hospital and doctor bills.

While we are on the subject of health we should think about helping ourselves against the diseases we can prevent. There are many services of a hospital. It will be well if everyone would take out some kind of hospital insurance. It gives protection to members of the family in case hospital services are required.

It is requested that the attached check be applied to renew my subscription to your paper. Even though the undersigned is unqualified to act as a critic of journalism it is believed that much improvement has been accomplished recently in the quality of your paper.

Farm Outlook For 1953
A Summary of Reports
Prices farmers have been getting for the things they grow have been slipping all through 1952. Prices they have been paying for things they must buy, such as clothing, household goods, farm machinery and supplies, haven't come down nearly as much as have prices on the things they sell.

Mrs. Mary Breckinridge Designated Outstanding Citizen By Newspapers

The Kentucky Press Association will honor Mrs. Mary Breckinridge, founder of Kentucky's famed Frontier Nursing Service, at the annual KPA dinner given at the Brown Hotel in Louisville.

Mrs. Mary Breckinridge, founder of Kentucky's famed Frontier Nursing Service, is being honored by the Kentucky Press Association at the annual KPA dinner given at the Brown Hotel in Louisville.

The headquarters for the Frontier Nursing Service is at Wendover, about two miles from Hyden in the mountainous region of Kentucky. The organization serves a 700-square-mile area in Southwestern Kentucky and has a program of medical, district nursing, mid-wifery, public health, and other services.

Edward S. Dabney, president of the Security Trust Company at Lexington, will present the award on behalf of Kentucky newspaper editors at the annual KPA dinner Jan. 30. Dabney is treasurer and member of the board of the nursing service.

Announcement of Mrs. Breckinridge's selection was made by Russell Dyche, owner of the London Sentinel-Record and chairman of the annual KPA dinner. Mrs. Breckinridge, who now is on an endorsing trip in the East, will interrupt her tour to return to Kentucky to accept the award.

Because of her nursing service's worldwide reputation, it has attracted visitors from all parts of the world. Mrs. Breckinridge has been in the United States for several years, and her experiences during 27 years of service to the mountain residents of Kentucky, was published by Harper and Brothers in the spring of 1925. It was the first book printed in December.

THE GARDEN

It is not sure that the swallows, but the seed catalogues have started coming, a sure sign that spring gardening is just round the corner. And in no time at all, gardeners big and small will have mobilized their forces, putting them in recollection of what 1952's drought did to them. For this is 1953, a brand-new year, with brand-new hopes. There will be gardens, plenty of them, for a host of reasons.

One, of course, is that gardening is sunshine - vitamin-drenching exercise, good for you. Another is that it's exciting watching things grow, knowing all the while that as one goes about his business, in direct partnership with the Almighty in working this miracle. The gardeners part in that partnership is small, 2 percent, as the men of science have determined, and that 2 percent may sometimes seem much bigger, as insects and diseases and weeds need fighting. But, nevertheless, it is a partnership. And no other profession may make that claim.

Then, too, there is this reason that a gardener, swamped with his cares, with homicide in his heart, may commit wholesale murder on bugs and pests and not even arraign them. Rather, he's rewarded with a plenteitude of fine vegetables that reduces his high cost of living.

Now, nobody knows how long food costs are to stay high, but it is certainly so that all this summer the sun will shine and the rains will fall, to do their 98 percent of the gardening, and it would be a shame not to take advantage of so sure a venture. (Besides, this column ventures hopefully to predict, "No drought for '53.")

And from those gardens will come the finest eating, produced at wages (if, in fact, a gardener may stoop to call his efforts wage-earning work) that compares favorably with those of any calling on earth.

That is to say that in 1953 there must a garden, sure.

Steps in furniture refinishing by homemakers in Nicholas county included removing dents and brushes, bleaching, sanding, toning colors in the wood and use of raw linseed oil and turpentine.

More than 100 trees of dogwood, ash and elm have been set in Woodford county school yards as a result of the efforts of the homemaker garden club.

Homemakers in Boyle county dumped 200 tons of manure and manure materials to make good.

Woodrow Pennycoff of Clinton county averaged 7,250 lbs. of milk from seven artificially bred cows in 10 months time.

Owsley county farmers report higher quality tobacco than last year, but slightly less poundage.

Good Pasture Cuts Hog Feeding Costs Increases Farmer's Profit Per Acre

Thick growing pasture speeds hogs' weight gains, cuts feed bills.

W. M. BEESON, Purdue University animal nutrition specialist, reports that good pasture plent, Beeson points out, can save farmers up to 40 per cent of the protein needed to put hogs on the market.

In 50 experiments, hogs on pasture gained more weight and protein to grow and fatten than did hogs on dry lot, Beeson said. Some of the protein needed to put hogs on the market can be supplied in the form of commercial crops make better hog pasture than others. He pointed out that the tests showed ladino clover to be about the best. Hogs on ladino create your profit per acre, the alone grew almost as fast as hogs farmer who builds and maintains an alfalfa pasture with a simple high yielding pastures by the use of fertilizer is in a good position to almost all the protein, saving make money from his livestock and comes after the pigs are 100 pounds dairying operations.

Plant Food Cut Back Poor Economy When Farm Prices Decline

CUTTING down fertilizer use when prices of farm products drop is the worst thing a farmer can make, says P. E. McNeil, University of Wisconsin agricultural economist.

Even though farm prices should drop 50 per cent and prices of fertilizer should rise 50 per cent, McNeil says, the average farmer would get back $1.50 in increased crop value for each $1 he spent for plant food.

Tests at state agricultural colleges and experience on Midwestern farms have shown that at present prices, farmers can expect to get a return of $3 for each $1 invested in fertilizer.

Actually, agronomists at Midwestern agricultural colleges and experiment stations are advising farmers to increase rather than cut down their use of fertilizer. These men report that heavy fertilizer applications are the most profitable a farmer can make.

University of Missouri agronomists report that in one test, 25-bushel corn land produced 124 bushels per acre, when 1,100 pounds of nitrogen, phosphate and potash fertilizer was plowed down before planting and a complete starter fertilizer was added at planting time.

GOOD BREAKFAST MEANS GOOD MORNING!

If you find you are not as efficient around eleven each morning; if you begin to get a "drazzy" feeling at mid-afternoon; if your youngsters don't show the zip and alertness which you expect—maybe it's because the family isn't doing right by itself at breakfast!

That's what a list of learned nutrition experts and doctors and others are saying. They've made extensive tests which show that neglect of the first meal of the day definitely cuts down on efficiency. Some of them go so far as to say that skipping on breakfast is a contributing factor among children in general poor health.

These experts stress the fact that breakfast should provide one-fourth to one-third of the total daily calories as well as a proportionate share of all the essential nutrients. Yet it is the one meal most often slighted by adults and children alike.

A recent survey conducted by the University of Iowa Medical School indicated a neglect of good breakfast in all age groups. Results showed that out of five children, only one goes to school with a good breakfast.

Among the boys and girls, the survey revealed that sixty percent of the teenage girls were in the habit of eating a breakfast entirely inadequate to their physical needs while twice as many older teen-age boys had poorer breakfast habits in comparison with the younger teen-agers.

Women rank as the worst offenders in the older age bracket with only forty percent of them eating what nutritionists term a good breakfast. The men had a somewhat higher average with fifty-five percent of those surveyed saying they had a good breakfast.

The studies showed that those persons eating a good breakfast daily had a greater work output, shorter reaction time and less shakiness after exercising. Those eating a poor breakfast showed a decrease in maximum work output, an increase both in simple and choice reaction time and an increase in tremor magnitude.

A basic breakfast pattern, such as that being eaten by the typical American family pictured above, has been formulated by leading nutritionists and medical authorities. It consists of fruit or fruit juice, cereal (hot or ready to eat), milk, bread and butter or fortified margarine.

This basic breakfast does not, except in a few instances, equal one-fourth to one-third of the total daily calorie needs. It merely provides a nutritional pattern structure to be increased in its portions or augmented with eggs, breakfast meats or other suitable foods to fulfill part of the daily calorie and nutritional requirements.
