Social Security

A year and a half of work that counts toward social security provides monthly benefits only in case the worker reaches 65 or dies before July 1954. A Tweedy manager of the Lexington social security office pointed out today. Tweedy says that some people have been led to believe that a year and a half of covered work are all that anyone needs to get benefit payments under social security. He emphasized that the length of time one must work to become insured is determined by the workers date of birth. "To become insured and stay insured," he declared, the person must continue in work covered by the law at least one out of every two years after 1950 (or after reaching 21) and up to the time of retirement age or death. "Or," as he explained, the person must have social security credit for enough covered employment before 1951 to make up the difference. Social security credit for work before 1951 may be added to credits gained in covered employment or self-employment after 1950 to give the worker the required amount. He explained further that once a person has acquired ten years of coverage he is permanently insured regardless of the date of birth or death. Tweedy says another widespread misunderstanding is the meaning of the average monthly earnings on which social security payments are based. "Some people," he says, believe that their average earnings are determined by using only the years in which they were engaged in work covered by the law. He says this is a mistake and further that periods of nonemployment, or early retirement will cut down the amount of the average monthly earnings, and may cause old-age and survivors benefit payments to be less than the insured worker or his dependent family expected.

Homemakers To Hear About Life in Iran

Three speakers are announced for district meetings of homemakers April 21 to 25. Mrs. J. P. Truitt, Lexington, will tell about life in Iran, where she spent the past year. Mrs. Wade Holt, president of the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers, will have as her subject, "Adventures in Friendship," and Miss Myrtle Weldon state leader of home demonstration work, will review 50 years of agricultural extension work.

District directors will preside and federation chairman will discuss work of committees on citizenship, membership, publicity and reading.

Meetings will be at Harlan April 20, Pikeville, Cynthiaia Morehead April 22th Cynthiaia April 23 Georgetown April 24 and Springfield April 25.

HELP FOR KENTUCKY INCOME TAX PAYERS

A representative of the Kentucky Department of Revenue will be in Mt. Vernon on April 9, to assist taxpayers in preparing their state income tax returns. The representative Mr. Tom Jasper will be in the Court house from 9:30 a. m. to 3 P. M. This service is provided as a convenience to taxpayers and to encourage filing before the April 15 deadline for paying state income tax. In addition, the Department of Revenue, Office of the Auditor, Lexington, will provide assistance to filers. Kentucky law requires income tax returns from single individuals who have a gross income of $1500 or more, or a net income of $1000 or more. Married persons are required to file if their combined gross income amounts to $2500 or if they have a net income of over $2000. Single individuals are entitled to a tax credit of $20. A single person, qualifying as a head of family is entitled to a tax credit of $40. Head of family is defined as a person who maintains in his own household one or more dependents who are closely related to him by blood, adoption or marriage. A married couple is also allowed a tax credit of $40. Any taxpayer who has specific questions about completing his return may call the district office at Lexington. The Kentucky Income Tax is entirely separate from the Federal Income Tax.

Baseball

It has been announced that Berea will be represented in the Blue Grass League during the coming season. This league is the oldest in Kentucky and one of the oldest in the nation and for the season now opening plans the largest participation in its history. Officials stated that it will operate again in its three Kentucky divisions, Eastern, Central and Western. Berea is listed in the Eastern Division, which comprises Mt. Sterling, Owensville, Irvine, Berryville, West Liberty, Jackson and Berea. Officials of the local club announced that they are negotiating with Berea College to use the college diamond as home field. This will be an important benefit to the local association, since the Mountaineers diamond is considered the best in the Commonwealth. This year's club will be set up on an unusual organization plan, in that no one individual will derive any compensation for his efforts: During the past, members had received pay for their participation. The players are all well-known in the vicinity, and officials of the association consider them the best obtainable amateur ballplayers in the vicinity. They can be depended on to give us hustle, colorful play, and winning baseball" an official of the association stated. Coach of the ball team will be Chick Necey of Berea, with the following listed as players: Don Hale, Berea, Bill Huntsman, Berea, Dick LeMasters, Berea, Rudy Bucknell, Panola, Paul Wilson, Berea, Ronald Finley, Eastern State College, Richmond, Don Ricardson, Richmond, B. O. Winkler, Richmond, Be n a r i e Burlison, Berea College, Billy Evans, Berea, Billy Hiatt, Wildie, and Lonnie Durham, Mt. Vernon. The squad will play under the name of Berea Merchants which is about the only way the club can say "thanks" to the various businessmen who have sponsored uniforms.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Potts and children of Hamilton, Ohio visited their mother Mrs. Oma Kexley over the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Morgan were down from Corbin Sunday. Mrs. Casper Owens and sons Paul and Ray and friend Mr. Bill Gladden and Mrs. Bettie

Lou Hodge of Dear Fork, O., visited Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Anderson and Mrs. Rose Purcell over the week-end. Mrs. Bettie Newland has returned home from Paint Lick where she visited her brother Mr. Mack Henderson and family.

Livingston Is Host To School Committee

Members complete questionnaire and will send in findings to Frankfort about Rockcastle Schools.

The Livingston school will serve as a basis for the state legislative when it convenes. The change of the state constitutional committee for their final meeting last week Thursday. Principal James E. Baker, the home economics teacher, the pupils and others were primarily responsible for the excellent dinner served. Many of the wives and husbands of the members of the Educational Committee were the special guests of the evening. Included among the guests was Dr. Luther Ambrose of Berea College, recently returned envoy to Latin America, where he had spent two years in special educational work for the state department.

Mr. James Lambert, chairman of the committee, presided over the session, which attempted to answer a whole lot of important questions relative to the Rockcastle schools. Prof. Wear of Berea was also present. He is making an extended survey of the county. He spoke briefly about the plan of the committee, its purpose and objective. It is simply to get at the facts of the present school situation and to find out what the county wants and is willing to do. This report is to level.

Section 186 must be repealed in order to give the poorer counties a fair chance and a correct distribution of money according to the needs rather than being based on the census. Rockcastle County spent $314,446.20 last year on its educational program or an average of $76.48 per child between the ages of 6-17. The county received from the state for educational purposes $157,928.84 and $43,378.96 from the Equalization fund. The balance of the money came from local sources such as taxes, lunches, etc., or an amount of $103,412.84.

It was learned at the meeting that the total real estate and franchise value of the county is $7,028,994.00.

When the final question was asked as to how the taxes should be raised, to run our school system adequately, several of the answers revealed that it was not to be income tax or extra real estate tax but by a sales tax on the wholesale.

Chairman James Lambert presiding over the local advisory committee at the dinner given by the Livingston High School last Thursday evening. Seated beside him are Mrs. Neureul Miracle, sup. of the Rockcastle County Schools, and her husband, Mr. Otis Miracle. The meeting was attended by approximately fifty persons who participated in the evening's program. It was the last meeting that the committee will have. The result of the committee's findings will be sent to Frankfort where it will be used as a basis for further legislation pertaining to the schools of the state.

TO THE VOTERS OF ROCKCASTLE COUNTY:

I hereby announce that I am a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Rockcastle County, Kentucky, on the Republican party ticket, in the forthcoming primary election to be held August 1, 1953.

I have served in this County as Deputy Sheriff for the last three years and three months, and am well acquainted with the duties of this office. I am appealing to the voters on my record as Deputy Sheriff.

I am a native of Rockcastle County and have lived in the County all my life. Everything I own is located in the County, and I have reared nine children here. As a lifetime citizen of the County, I am interested in the improvement and well being of the County and the people who live here and in making and keeping Rockcastle County a peaceful and law abiding place to live in. In Rockcastle County, the custom has been to name two deputies who will work with and assist the Sheriff in the duties of office. I announce that Mr. Sam Hooper, Brodhead, Kentucky and Mr. T. J. Parsons of Wildie, Kentucky will be appointed deputies by me in the event I am successful candidate.

If my past services in this office have met with your approval, I will appreciate your support and vote in the coming primary and election.

Your servant,
Dewey Ballinger

Magistrate Announces For

Having talked to my many friends, I have decided to be a candidate for the office of the J. E. (Magistrate) of the 3rd Magisterial District which is composed of the following precincts:

Freedom, Quail, East Brodhead, West Brodhead, North Brodhead, Saylor and Gum Sulphur.

I was born and reared in Rockcastle County and have lived here practically all of my life. I am well qualified to serve you in this capacity.

My primary reason for asking for this place is that I am interested in the roads of Rockcastle County, especially the roads in the 3rd Magisterial District. My major reason for running is that I can defeat the Democrats this fall. Therefore I am asking you Republicans one and all to give me your support and nominate me for magistrate.

For a better road system and a republican to represent you in this capacity for the next four years, vote for Lester Helter for Magistrate to represent the 3rd District.

I need not tell you that I earnestly beg of you, your support and hope to see as many of you as possible before August 1, 1953.

Vote for your friend,
Lester Helter, Rt. 2, Brodhead, 25114

Athletic Association Honors Champions

Turkey Hughes of Eastern Teachers College addresses guests at the athletic banquet given at the local high school last Friday night in honor of the Mount Vernon Champions of basketball. Mr. Hughes used as the basis of his talk the letters of the word athletic. Each letter symbolized something. A stands for "Ambition to do something," T for training, good food and plenty of sleep. H stands for honesty; L for longevity; E for eligibility; T for trustworthiness, I for improvement; C for courage and S for "stick-to-the-job."

Death Claims Mrs. Richard King

The funeral services of Mrs. Minnie Sexton King, better known to her many friends as Mama King were held Thursday April 9, at the Chasteen Cemetery, with Rev. Ira Dean officiating.

Mrs. Minnie King passed away Tuesday April 7, 1953 at Berea College Hospital after a very brief illness. She was 73 years old at her death. She spent part of her life in Tennessee, and the remainder in Rockcastle. She was a member of the Clear Creek Baptist Church.

She was preceded in death by her husband Mr. Richard King six years ago. She leaves to mourn her death two children, Mr. Charlie King of Disputant and Mrs. Bertha Rice of Mt. Vernon. Two sisters and one brother all of Morristown, Tennessee and many other relatives and friends.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the many friends and relatives who helped out in the illness and death of our mother and grandmother. We wish to thank Bro. Philbeck and Amos A. Owens and the choir, for conducting the funeral and the Cox Funeral Home for such wonderful service. May Gods love be with every one.

WILLIAM L. BREWITT CLAIMED BY DEATH

William L. Brewitt, son of Steve and Mary Brewitt, passed away at the home of his sister Mrs. Ellen Price Saturday morning, April 11, 1953. He had made his home with her for the past three years. He was born in Mt. Vernon on May 29, 1884, making him 68 years of age at his death.

Mr. Brewitt leaves four brothers and two sisters who survive him, two brothers and one sister preceded him in death. Those he leaves to mourn his passing are Mrs. Ellen Price of Mt. Vernon, Charles Brewitt of Newport, Oscar Brewitt of Cincinnati, Samuel Brewitt of Houston, Texas, Mrs. Nannie Winters of Cincinnati, and Walter Brewitt of Elgin, Ill. He also leaves seven nephews, one niece and several other relatives.

He joined the Christian church at an early age. Services were held at 2:00 P. M. Tuesday, April 14, 1953 at the Cox Funeral Home and interment followed in the Elmwood Cemetery. The Rev. Howard Ray officiated. Arrangements were made by the Cox Funeral Home.

Approximately 400 See Religious Play

On Monday, April 13th a most interesting and soul stirring play was given in the Mt. Vernon High School by students from Johnson Bible College, Kimberlin Heights, Tennessee. The cast consisted of twenty-three young men and women, who are consecrated to the service of the Lord, and plan to serve Him as Ministers, Missionaries, and Full-time Pastors. Each player worked hard to create, in the mind of the audience, a spirit of reverence and awe.

The play was written by Professor Floyd E. Clark, Dean of Johnson Bible College. Professor Paul T. Bligh directed the production. Because of these men are highly devoted to the will of our Master. They are known to many people in this county because of their preaching endeavor in Livingston and Mt. Vernon. Professor Paul Bligh was, for several years, pastor of the Livingston Christian Church.

The play was brought to our county for the purpose of provoking thought by arousing the hearts of the Second Coming of Christ. Each scene inculcated a meaningful lesson to our spiritually lethargic generation. The message was timely and very dramatic. The last scene was, perhaps, the most highly dramatic of all. The scenery was very beautiful.

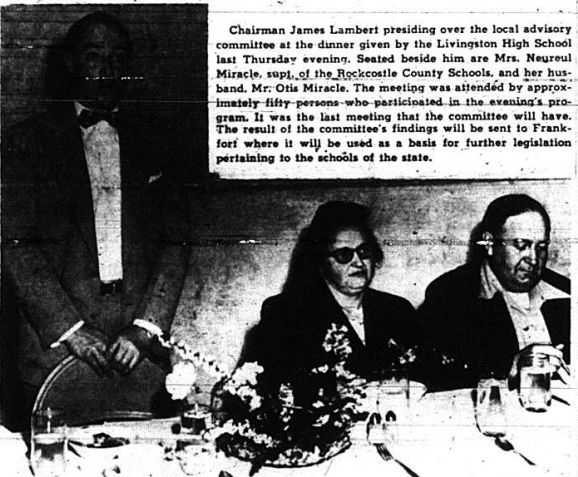

We are confident that this play will not be forgotten soon its real worth will be borne out of the influence it had upon the hearts of our Lord's hungry for such a message in this day. The play lasted two and one-half hours. There was 3 acts.

The play took us into the future to show, in vivid language, and gestures, the conditions prevailing just prior to the return of our Lord. We were brought face to face with "wickedness in high places." This unrighteousness came in the form of doubts, murder, lying, jealousy, false teachers and false prophets. The word of God speaks plainly of such things coming to pass before the end of time.

There was enough levity to make the play move along without undue emotional stress upon the audience. The closing scene depicted the fate of those who were false teachers and prophets, contrasted with the reward for the "redeemed of the Lord." By special lighting effects, superb acting, chemical treatment of stage properties, sound effects and music timing in the closing moments, the audience was lifted to new heights in appreciation of God's solemn warnings to man. The entire production was indeed, a spiritual banquet for our souls.

Before the play returns to college, it will have visited in at least five states. The ladies of the First Christian Church gave a delicious dinner in honor of the cast. It was served in the church basement hall just prior to the presentation of The Everlasting Arms. Most of the cast remained in Mt. Vernon overnight and left at 7:15 Tuesday morning for Palestine, Ohio.

We were happy to have welcomed the members of this cast the Director, and the author, to our city.

QUAIL HOMEMAKERS MET

Quail Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Asbil Brown, Thursday April 9th, 1953. Nine members and three visitors were present. Visitors are always welcome.

The meeting was called to order by our president, Mrs. Roy Brown. Roll call and the minutes were by secretary, Mrs. Maude Gentry. After the business discussion, the meeting was turned over to our project leaders, Mrs. Frankie Brown and Mrs. Allene Davis, who gave an interesting lesson on keeping our kitchen knives and scissors sharp.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, then refreshments given by our leader and very much enjoyed by all with Mrs. Maggie Whitaker carrying away the prize.

Our next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Robert Snodgrass, on May 14th Mrs. Asbil Brown.

4H CLUB NEWS

The advanced cooking class are proud to report that their project was completed last Saturday. This project ended with a demonstration dinner, Saturday April 11, which was a great success. All the food prepared was delicious, each girl knew just what to do and when to do it. Mrs. Hysinger were their guides.

The 4H Club is surely indebted to Mrs. Jack Henderson, who so willingly and efficiently devoted her time in teaching and helping this group of girls

F. H. A. NEWS

The Richmond District of Future Homemakers had their spring meeting, Saturday April 11, 1953 at Paint Lick, Ky. Those attending from the Mt. Vernon Chapter were Sylvia Bullock, Shirley Bullock, Mildred Cromer, Carol Ann Fred, and the local advisor Mrs. Audrey Smith. Our chapter received a rating of superior on our scrap-book. This entitles us to take it to the state meeting which will be held at Murray Ky., June 3rd to 5th.

On Friday, April 24th the Future Homemakers are sponsoring a Hobo Day as a way of making money to attend the state meeting. On that day the girls will do jobs such as ironing, house cleaning, cleaning yards or any other jobs available in the community. Any one interested in getting such jobs done and at the same time helping the Home Ec. girls should contact Mrs. Smith at the Home Ec. Department before that date.

To The Citizens of Rockcastle County:

I wish to announce to the public that I will not seek reelection as county judge nor become a candidate for any other county office.

I have other interests in mind that call for my attention and it would mean a considerable sacrifice on my part to continue in office after the present term has expired.

I have attempted to give the county an honest and fair business administration. The record shows that the finances of the county are in excellent condition. Rockcastle is the only county in the state that has lowered its levy during the year. This was lowered from 70 cents to 50 cents. During the past three years the county has paid $32,000.00 on its bonded indebtedness and has now on deposit the sum of $22,818.00, enough to take care of the road and bridge fund. Rockcastle County now owes only $15,000.00 for non-voted or funding bonds. With proper management this indebtedness can be retired within the next two or three years.

I wish to express my appreciation to all the citizens for their splendid support given me during the incumbency in office as county judge and for the encouragement offered me should I have decided to run again.

So long as I am a citizen of this county I will be interested in every progressive movement that will add something to the betterment and welfare of this county.

LOOKING AHEAD
By GEORGE S. BENSON
President-National Tax Association

Outlook in the Treasury
Washington — Marion B. Folsom, Under Secretary of the Treasury, told me, in an interview in his office just across Executive Avenue from the White House, that the Treasury Department is participating in two study projects of vital importance to the citizen-taxpayers of the nation. "One, he explained, "is to determine what taxes will be needed after the Truman budget for 1953-54 has been reviewed, and the other is a long range study looking toward a possible re-structure and improvement of the government tax structure of the government."

This was another in the series of interviews I've been doing with key people in President Eisenhower's official family. My desire is to present the facts about the tax changes in their plans — in a non-partisan manner. As a result of my talks with Under Secretary Folsom and other key government leaders, including members of the Senate and House, I'm convinced that a resolute and early objective re-administration is the reduction of taxes for all citizens. But to be sound and of real permanence such a reduction in taxes, administration leaders are convinced, must be preceded by a balancing of the budget as well as a careful and thorough study of just where tax changes should be made.

Sound Fiscal Thinking
Folsom, recognized as one of the top fiscal authorities in America, resigned from three important positions in order to be free to give his full time to the Treasury Department. The entire tax history he left over (1) Treasurer and Director of the world-wide Eastman Kodak Company; (2) Chairman of the Committee for Economic Development; and (3) Director of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. It gives me the satisfaction to see a man of such ability willing to make a sacrifice in salary in order to "make whatever contribution I can" to the welfare of the nation. He cited excerpts of President Eisenhower's state of the Union address as the foundation for both the short range and the long range fiscal programs now being studied by the Treasury Department.

The new Under Secretary believes, with President Eisenhower that the first step in sound government is a balanced budget. Throughout March and on into April, Cabinet members and all department and agency heads were making an item-by-item study of each section of the Truman 1953-54 budget, with the advice and help of Budget Director Joseph Dodge, and his staff. They are trimming it, realistically, but the amount of the total cut required may not be known for several weeks.

Then look at Taxes
When the budget revisions are made then the Eisenhower fiscal team will size up the tax sources and draw their estimates. Then and then only, the Under Secretary can any sound appraisal be made of the tax cutting possibilities. Folsom explained that the previous administration had made so many "contracts and commitments extending so far into the future that the present administration is greatly handicapped in making economies this first year. The type of administration efficiency and economy studies of the Eisenhower team has been promising to the public cannot arrive in full measure until 1954, he noted.

The tax revision report, recommendations will require still further time. The Treasury Department, in which the Internal Revenue Bureau functions, is assembling a team of the top tax experts in the nation, and those already on the job have begun studies of various tax revision plans submitted by such organizations as the American Bar Association, the Institute of Accountants, the Committee for Economic Development, the National Association of Manufacturers, and various other taxpayer groups. Similar studies are being conducted by the universally respected Joint Congressional Committee on Taxation. The objective of these studies is to develop a tax system which will, as the President stated, "impose the least possible obstacle to the dynamic growth of the country."

Decentralizing Taxes?
A Presidential Commission has been announced which will direct a long range study of the relationship between federal, state and local taxes. Besides federal officials and top-flight citizen-leaders, representatives will probably be included of the membership. In fact, the most promising feature, is the possibility of relinquishing to local governments some tax sources now monopolized by the federal government as well as some services now rendered. This is a healthy goal and it is encouraging to find it being talked about among the key people in our nation's capital.

Farmers' home administration.
About 7000 families in Kentucky were assisted towards successful farming by the Farmers Home Administration according to the annual report released by Earl Mayhew, State Director of Farmers Administration.

Loans were made to 2735 families, and about 6500 adjustment production and farm ownership borrowings approved. Farming guides are needed. About forty percent of the farmers working with the FIA are veterans of World War II. The FIA services were available only to farm families whose needs could not be met through regular credit channels in the home communities.

In the production loan program, 2087 loans were made totaling $3,085,100 in helping families establish themselves on a sound basis and acquiring adequate livestock and equipment. Greater emphasis was placed on making loans which would bring about adjustments and improvements in inadequate farming systems. The average loan was larger than last year because legislation in 1951 raised the limit on an individual operating loan from $7,000 to $10,000. This made it possible to meet the needs of applicants for establishing a substantial farm business, particularly when they sought to reorganize their farming enterprises or change from one-crop farming to diversification. An analysis of records of 1026 families who repair their loans showed they built their net worth from an average when making final payment.

In the farm ownership loan program, in which long-term credit is extended for farm purchase, enlargement or development, there were 605 active families. FO loans were made to 76 families in 1952 in amount of $775,317. More than $380,000 of this was advanced by banks. Farm Bureau Insurance Company and other private lenders with repayment guaranteed by the FIA. The average net worth of 35 families who paid their farm ownership loan during 1952 was $12,266, more than five times their average net worth when receiving these loans. They had been in the farm ownership program, on the average, of 8.3 years, although most of the loans were set up for 40 years.

In the farm housing program in which long-time credit is extended for new or repair of farm dwelling and other essential buildings, there were 337 families on the program. Loans made to 148 families in the amount of $833,210. Repayment on loans or insured by the Farmers Home Administration and predecessor agencies totaled about $2,275,000 in 1952.

Chevrolet's improved Velvet-Pressure Jumbo-Drum Brakes give maximum stopping power with maximum ease of application

Chevrolet owners have long been convinced that they have the stuffer as well as the largest brakes on any low-priced car. And that is even more true in 1953. This year you will find much smoother, more responsive brake action... up to 23% less pedal pressure... and a softer, more velvety feel of operation. Realize, too, that here is the only low-priced car with sturdy Fisher-Union Construction, Safety Plate Glass in windshield. MORE PEOPLE BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

HOW THEY "Call the Signals"

ON AMERICA'S RAILROADS
American railroad trains run more than 2,000,000 miles every day under the world's most complete, most effective and safest system of traffic control.

Basic in this traffic control is the automatic block signal system by means of which a train in a "block" or section of track reports its presence to all approaching trains. This is done automatically through electrical operation of signals which tells the engineer of the train, whether to stop, to proceed with caution, or to go ahead.

The great improvements in "calling the signals" on America's railroads are typical of the progress from research which benefits not just the railroads, themselves, but all of us in a nation whose production rolls on rails of steel.
