In the lobby of a large New York office building are two identical candy booths, selling the same candies and managed by two equally pleasant girls. Yet one always has twice as many customers as the other. I asked the more successful girl what her magic formula was. "It's all in the scooping," she said. "An indifferent scoop usually puts too much candy on the scales. That means you have to take some of it away, and the customer feels cheated. I'm always careful to scoop too little the first time and then add a little more. The customer thinks he's getting a bonus. It's amazing how business has increased."

Woman Fatally Injured When Truck Overtakes

Mrs. John Willis of near Boone drowns when trapped beneath truck in small ditch beside road.

Tragedy struck the family of Mrs. John Willis of near Boone when Mrs. Maggie Willis met instant death when trapped beneath the truck that plunged into a small ditch alongside highway 25 just north of Boone. Mrs. Willis was killed when the truck overturned on the opposite side of the highway. Mrs. Willis is believed to have been knocked unconscious and was trapped beneath the bed of the truck when it turned over. Four of the children rode in the rear of the truck and escaped injury except for a few bruises and scratches. Some of the children were thrown into the water but made their escape.

Mrs. Willis was taken to the Berea College Hospital immediately after the accident but was pronounced dead before she arrived there. Some of the other children received any serious injuries, except Treva Sue who was taken to the Good Samaritan Hospital for treatment of a broken arm.

The family lives on a small mountain farm of some fifty odd acres. Mr. Willis is also employed at the Blue Grass Depot. The family consists of six children, Harry-13, Eldon 12, Joyce 11, Carmon 7, Treva 9, and Lerma 2.

Funeral services will be held at the Fairview Baptist Church on Tuesday at 2 P. M. with Rev. Ira Dean, the pastor officiating. Other survivors of the accident victim are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Willis.

Brodhead High School Graduates 58

The Brodhead High School graduates fifty eight last week Friday at the Commencement Exercises held at the auditorium of the school. A very large audience was present to share in the evening's activities. The Reverend Lee Davis Fisher pastor of the First Christian Church of Somerset made the address of the evening to the graduates. He emphasized the importance of everyone's contribution to make such an event possible. He mentioned the parents' share and the teachers and the rest who made it possible for the graduates to complete their high school training. His message was brief, but appropriate, and well received.

Seniors on Trip to New York and Washington

The high school seniors from the three Rockcastle County schools either have been or are now on their tour to Washington and other points east. This is an annual event for the graduates of these schools and an event that has become important with the years. Everyone of the seniors look forward to this trip with a lot of anticipation. For many it is the first time that they see the Nation's Capitol or New York City or the home of the first President. It is one of the most valuable educational trips that these boys and girls can take. The students travel in a specially chartered bus or in cars and are carefully chaperoned by a group of teachers.

Last the Livingston students made the trip to Washington. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. James Baker and Mrs. Ethel Owens. There were 24 in the group. The bus was chartered from Black Bros. On the first long stop they saw the pageant of "The Creation" at Natural Bridge, Va. On Tuesday at 2 P. M. they arrived at Washington where they saw many of the important historical sights as the capitol, White House, Library of Congress, Printing and Engraving Plant, Washington's Monument, Lincoln's Memorial and many other places.

Mr. Vernon and Brodhead graduates are making the trip this week. The Mount Vernon students left at 8 o'clock Sunday morning and spent the first night at Roanoke, Va., and two days at Washington. They will return on Thursday. There are 34 in the party including the chaperons Mrs. Ruth Blazer and Wayne Stewart. The group chartered a greyhound bus driven by Billy Bustle. One car accompanied them. Chaperons of the group are D. A. Robbins, Charles Hurt and Miss Jean Banks. The group arrived in Washington Tuesday and Wednesday they left for New York City. Their itinerary will take them also to Niagara Falls and hence a short trip to Canada and other points. The entire trip will cover approximately 2400 miles and will last ten days.

Berea College will observe its 100th anniversary in 1955 with a centennial celebration slated to last from about June 20 to Sept. 3.

According to Dr. W. E. Weatherford, a Berea trustee, plans are being formulated for a drama festival embracing approximately 60 shows to be presented during the summer of 1955. Paul Green, dramatics professor at the University of North Carolina and Pulitzer prize winner, has been engaged to write the script. Dr. Weatherford stated.

Dr. Weatherford added that a $50,000 amphitheatre is planned to accommodate spectators for the shows. Members of the cast will include Berea residents and college students.

Two Teen-Agers Apprehended For Thievery Saturday

Four places in Mount Vernon and Renfro Valley broken into Friday night. Boys captured and loot is recovered.

Two teen-agers who broke into four business places in Mt. Vernon and Renfro Valley last Friday night were apprehended by Deputy Sheriff Dewey Ballinger, single handed, early Saturday morning in the home of one of the grandparents of the boy, at Wildie, Billy Proctor of Phillips Street, Berea, and Duell Eades of the State Lick Road, Berea, were caught in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Proctor at Wildie. Deputy Sheriff Ballinger knew that the boys had a lot of pennies which they took from David McCaulley's Filling Station here in Mt. Vernon. He had a hunch that the boys would spend the pennies somewhere near here, and when he went to Hummel he learned that two boys had spent a lot of pennies there. He learned the names of the boys and surmised where they could be located. He went to the home of the grand parents of one of the boys and was able to recognize them through the kitchen window. Unbeknown and unseen he entered the backdoor of the kitchen and caught the boys redhanded. Three rifles were leaning against the kitchen wall. Duell had the small pistol in his hands. The boys made no resistance and surrendered. They were taken over to the jail at Mount Vernon and questioned by the sheriff. The boys admitted their thievery and told where the loot could be located. They had hid most of the stolen property in the bushes on the bank of the little creek just north of Renfro Valley. They hid a bicycle from John Meadows and hauled the loot on it.

The boys broke into David McCaulley's filling station on U. S. 150. They made their entrance through a rear window. Here they took all the pennies from the cigar box, perhaps 450 of them. They also took a tire.

At the Rockcastle Farm Service they stole some wrenches and pliers. At Mrs. Clothe's restaurant they took a large amount of merchandise consisting of cigars, cigarettes, billfold and other trinkets, amounting to at least $75.00. At Renfro Valley Store they broke the front window pane and gained entrance. They trapped their muddy feet across the merchandise in the window and other places. Here they took three rifles, one a fine Marlin, and a small pistol. They also took a large amount of shotgun shells and smaller ammunition.

On Tuesday morning the trial was held in Judge Williams' court. County attorney Bowman did the interrogating. Miss Modine Smith, state welfare worker for Lincoln and Rockcastle Co. was there to make a complete check on the two cases and later give her recommendations to the judge. The judge's opinion will not be made until a full report has been received from Miss Smith which will be next Saturday.

During the trial the boys made straight forward answers admitted that they have been guilty of previous break-ins. They told the complete story of why and how and when they broke into the four places of business. Both boys are only 14 years of age. Duell Eades attends the Kingston school and Billy Proctor is not attending any school, in fact has not been in school for many years. He claims that a doctor told him that he would not be able to do so.

The boys will be turned over to the Youth Center at Lydon, Kentucky where they will have to go to school for observation and tests and behavior. After attending there for some time final disposition of the cases will be made. Since January 1st the new law provides that juvenile delinquents be sent to this new center instead of being committed to Greendale.

Miss Smith stated that Rockcastle does not have a single case of juvenile criminals, and these two boys were the first such cases tried here since the new law has gone into effect.

Daniel Boone is recognized, in legend at least, as being the chief figure of early Kentucky frontier days. The Kentucky Historical Society in honoring Boone will sponsor a pilgrimage to Pilot Knob, Powell County, Sunday, June 7, where the long-hauler first viewed the "beautiful level of Kentucky in 1780." A bronze bust of Boone in the Hall of Fame at the National Capitol. These visitors, below, admire the view from Cumberland Gap where Boone first entered Kentucky.

Left, Daniel Boone's grave in Frankfort Cemetery. Boone died in Missouri at the age of 86. In 1845 his remains, together with those of his wife, Rebecca, were brought to Kentucky's Capital. The monument was erected by the state in 1862. Another annual event honoring Boone is the Boone Day Festival held in October in Barboursville. Many reminders of Boone are to be seen throughout Kentucky.

PUTTING THEM DOWN FOR A THIRTY YEAR COUNT!

This power machine tamps stone ballast between and around railroad crossties at the rate of 600 feet an hour.

And the nearly one billion crossties in America's railroad tracks are staying on the job for as long as 30 years—three or four times as long as ties used to last. That's because of better seasoning, better chemical preservative treatment, and better protection from the wear of rails and spikes.

This is just one example of the results of the research that all adds up to better railroading at less cost—and that means something to you. For it is savings like these which have made possible the fact that railroad freight charges have gone up only half as much, relatively, as the wage rates, fuel and supply prices and taxes which railroads must pay.

Indeed, today, railroad freight charges form a smaller percentage of the cost of the things you buy and use than they did before World War II.

RAMBLINGS

The high school graduates who are privileged to make that journey to Washington, the Nation's Capitol and other interesting points will get a fund of knowledge that cannot be obtained in any other manner.

I think that every school boy and girl should make a visit to Mount Vernon, the home of President Washington. On my first visit there I was impressed with the dignity, thrift, magnificence of the estate.

Last Tuesday, May 19, was the sixty-ninth anniversary of the big snow that fell in Kentucky. A few old-timers remember that date and the event was told eight or ten years ago.

It is not without a sense of pride to learn that the snow has not had a single case of youthful criminals to have to be sent to the Youth Center at London.

Those who haven't any crates can get them at Somerset from the Strawberry Association.

The High Cost of Cleaning up our Highways

Dumping grounds such as these are costing Kentucky taxpayers untold thousands of dollars each year and hurting the looks of the state. This trash is on state highways in the Central and Western parts of the Commonwealth.

We liked this article so well that we are giving it special prominence in this issue of the Signal. It is true what Mr. Curlin said that our main highways are becoming the dumping ground for all kinds of trash.

Frankfort, Ky. May—Kentuckians are throwing away hundreds of thousands of dollars of their tax money each year by throwing trash on the highways within their state.

Private Thompson is assigned to the 36th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Battalion stationed at Fort Meade.

The careless are the beer-can throwing type whose aim is to get small articles out of their automobiles and who shower bottles and newspapers from fannies and other items all along their route of travel.

The school children, armed with rakes and shovels, did most of the cleaning and the department of Highways and the county provided trucks, bulldozers and other equipment.

With the highways clean, law enforcement officials in the county are promised that future dumpers will be brought to justice.

As to resorting to a heavy campaign of fining dumping violators, he said, "We will always do our utmost to see that dumpers are properly punished but that is not a solution to the problem."

"Action by those interested can save Kentucky a lot of money now used for maintenance that could go into building better highways."

A large trailer truck loaded with 6,000 pounds of tomatoes and cucumbers as it looked after the crash with a car driven by the Reverend Kelley from Pineville. The accident happened at Pine Hill. The truck came from Florida and was driven by the owner. None of the merchandise was spilled or damaged. The car slipped on the wet pavement into the path of the truck.

 GEORGE B. BENSON

Washington—Senator Robert A. Taft has been drafted onto the Eisenhower governmental team and is rapidly becoming the President's greatest asset in establishing the new administration and getting it over its first big hurdles. This was evident as I visited with Senator Taft in his office in Capitol Hill. What did the Senator consider to be the most important message from Washington that I could carry to the American people through the column, the Hardin College Monthly Letter, the radio program and the other media of our National Education Program?

"An appeal for patience," he said. Then, with hard hitting, he backed the President on the widely debated question of whether tax cuts or a balanced budget should come first. "The important thing," he said, "is to reduce expenses, and I believe the administration is going about this job with enthusiasm and good faith."

Cutting Under Way

"We can expect to learn any day what the administration feels the expenditures will have to be for the fiscal year beginning in July," said the Senator. "Then we can tell whether the budget will be balanced and whether a tax reduction is feasible." After 30 days in Washington, talking to Treasury Department officials, and key men in the Department of Defense, the Post-Office Department, the Agriculture Department, and others, I am convinced that the new official firmly operating the federal government is going to drastically cut expenses.

"Mr. Truman's budget called for the expenditure of $78 billion during the year beginning July, 1953," Senator Taft noted. "Taxes will produce about $70 billion if they are not reduced so there is a deficit of $8 billion. Therefore Mr. Truman's budget will have to be cut $8 billion before we even balance the budget or can justify any reduction in taxes."

Man of Knowledge
 The Senator from Ohio, universally respected for his integrity, intellect, and both practical and theoretical knowledge of government, is assuming the role of friend, confidant and advisor to the new President, the man he fought so sharply for the Republican nomination at Chicago last year. It is characteristic of him to cast off personal feelings and work unselfishly for the nation and his party.

And Senator Taft thinks that for the nation's good President Eisenhower is right in placing the first emphasis on a balanced budget. In fact he himself advocated such a policy during the campaign and his insistence on it undoubtedly was a factor in the President's decision. There could be no permanent gain toward fiscal soundness in launching a program of tax cuts if the taxes were cut and yet the national debt mounted as a result of an unbalanced budget.

States Policy

"The Republicans never promised any reduction in taxes in 1953," he reminded me "after I conferred with General Eisenhower in New York early in the campaign, my statement promised a balanced budget in 1953 and further reductions in expenditures of $10 billion, to a total of a $60-billion budget in the fiscal year 1955. I stated in 1953 that a tax reduction could be given in the beginning of 1954 for the ensuing year, a substantial tax reduction of about 13 per cent. This is still my guess, although I hope there might be a still further reduction of expenditures."

It is my opinion that once the Eisenhower team has learned the ropes in the various agencies and departments, Senator Taft will be one of the most powerful voices in Washington for whittling the federal government down to proper size. But it will take time, he cautions. That's why he feels an appeal to the taxpayers for patience is so important. A year or so from now, he said the people may expect to see the tangible results of our program, and I predict that the administration will make real progress.

Let us hope the promise is fulfilled.

No doubt about it...
Chevrolet trucks
must be the best buy!

This year — for the 12th straight production year — truck users are buying more Chevrolet trucks than any other make. That couldn't be true unless Chevrolet trucks offered more of what you want. Already, 1953's official sales figures tell a remarkable story of clear-cut and decisive preference for Chevrolet trucks. But, this is not surprising, for truck users everywhere are discovering how far ahead of all others Chevrolet trucks really are.

They are discovering things like the tremendous new power in advanced Load-master engines in heavy-duty models... the remarkable gasoline economy... the extra ruggedness and strength of heavier, more rigid frame construction. And, in addition to all these advantages, the Chevrolet line lists for less than any other trucks of comparable size and capacity. So, before you buy any truck, stop in and see us.
