EASY DOES IT

SLENDER food budgets can be stretched and meals made interesting by making plentiful use of the following food-saving tips:

Meat and most leftovers should be stored as quickly after their serving as possible to prevent spoiling. When large enough pieces are available, serve sliced or heat in sauce or gravy.

Small chunks and pieces of meat go well in hearty salads, quick stews, hash or spaghetti dishes.

Tag ends of meat and poultry can be utilized in omelets, stuffed peppers of tomatoes, croquettes, etc. Use a food grinder to get them easily into small pieces.

Beans and small pieces of meat can always be simmered with green or yellow vegetables, potatoes, hoodles, beans or rice to make hearty, nourishing soups.

Save your drippings and refrigerate them. They're tasty to use for sautéing white or sweet potatoe.

Recipe of the Week Blue Cheese Dressing (Makes 1 cup)

1 small clove garlic, sliced 1 tablespoon minced onion 1/2 cup salad oil 1/2 cup of tomato juice or vinegar

2 ounces blue cheese 1 teaspoon paprika 1 teaspoon sugar 1/4 teaspoon salt

Add onion and garlic to oil; let stand for an hour. Remove from oil and discard garlic. Cream blue cheese to a paste, adding oil gradually, stirring constantly to keep the mixture as smooth as possible. Add remaining ingredients and beat or shake in a tightly covered jar until well blended. Serve on salad greens or vegetable salad.

What about leftover rolls? Split, butter and toast them under a broiler. If desired, sprinkle them with celery, caraway or poppy seed or grated cheese before broiling for a most delicious treat.

Use a combination of leftover fruits and berries as a topping for a bowl of cereal. Leftover canned cereals are good in this way, too.

HOME AGENT NOTES

Ten 4-H members attended the weeks program for outstanding 4-H members at the University of Kentucky June 9-13.

Programs were held on the campus of University and they occupied student dormitories. More than 1300 4-H members from all over Kentucky were there.

Classes, demonstrations, speeches, dress revue, visitors and assemblies were included in the program.

District winners competed in contests for state awards. Virginia Brown who entered the dress revue of 108 girls was named unit champion of the pajamas and housecoat unit, and received a blue ribbon.

Shirley Hammons was named state champion in the food judging contest. Shirley was given a 4-H windbreaker jacket.

Francis Gabbard, also a dress revue entrant received a blue ribbon. She competed in the state demonstration contest and was awarded a blue ribbon.

Preston Hill assisted in the dress revue by being an escort. Carl Edward Clark and June Lamb attended special classes on record keeping. It was taught by Miss Emmie Nelson, National champion on boys and girls club work.

Those who attended were all blue ribbon winners and champions in the county. They were Virginia Brown, Freda Cameron, Betty Forsythe, Frances Gabbard, Shirley Hammons, June Lamb, Eugene Bowling, Carl Edward Clark, Preston Hill and Billy Strunk.

County Agent Notes

The conferences were held at Lexington, Elizabethtown, Williamstown, Madisonville, Morehead, Mayfield, Jackson, Bowling Green and Somerset. Representatives from this county taking part on the Somerset meeting included Clay Colson, Soil Conservation Service, Wayne Stewart, Bruce Mayhew, Bill Norton, Roy Turner, Robert Thompson, Vocational Agricultural Teachers, Robert Wynn, Farm Home Administrator, and H. Lee Durham, Agriculture Extension Service.

Spraying Control Tomato Diseases Spraying tomatoes with copper fungicides or organic compound will prevent leaf blight and fruit rot, according to the U. K. College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Since spraying is a preventive measure and not a cure, tomato growers should not wait until disease symptoms appear. Ordinarily tomatoes should be sprayed about 30 days after the first bloom appears and then every 7 to 10 days. More frequent spraying may be needed in wet weather.

The material used may be Copper A, Kopper King, Basic copper sulphate, Hydro K, Dithane, to name a few. One of the other of these may be found in every county seat. These materials come in two strengths. One is 4 percent to 52 percent for making spray, and the recipe is: Two level tablespoons per gallon of water. The dusting kind runs from 5 to 7 percent, quite too weak for making spray, as some gardeners have found. To their cost. Read label to make sure.

Spraying is more effective than dusting. In spraying, first wet the outside of the plant until dripping just starts. Then

Farm Agencies of Rockcastle County attend Pasture Meeting

Nine district conferences of state and federal agricultural agencies were held in Kentucky the first week in June to discuss the distribution of information about grass land farming.

Due in part to the high cost of low crops, many farmers are said to be interested in more and better grass and legume for production of meat, milk and eggs.

Nearly half of Kentucky crop land is in pasture, much of which could be improved by better seeding and by fertilizing. It was said at the meetings. Instances were cited where an acre of grass produced milk worth $78.30, where the value of feed replaced by pastures was $67.53 and where an acre of grass was equivalent in feed value to $56.00 worth of corn.

The whole realm of grass and hay production was discussed, including the best varieties, how to seed and fertilize, silos and other storage methods and what results may be had in raising cattle, sheep, hogs and chickens.

The conferences were held at Lexington, Elizabethtown, Williamstown, Madisonville, Morehead, Mayfield, Jackson, Bowling Green and Somerset. Representatives from this county taking part on the Somerset meeting included Clay Colson, Soil Conservation Service, Wayne Stewart, Bruce Mayhew, Bill Norton, Roy Turner, Robert Thompson, Vocational Agricultural Teachers, Robert Wynn, Farm Home Administrator, and H. Spraying is more effective than dusting. In spraying, first wet the outside of the plant until dripping just starts. Then stick the nozzle in the bush and twist it about to make everything wet inside. Any spray that falls on the ground is not wasted, as it kills germs that may be on the soil.

In dusting a good crank duster with the nozzles arranged to straddle the row and facing each other does a fair job about 90 per cent of what spraying does. A pop-gun duster is less effective. For the first three dustings, adjust the gauge that controls the flow of dust one quarter open, for the next three one half, for the next three, 3/4 and for the rest, full open, to throw about 45 pounds to 50 pounds per acre.

Lightning Strikes Two Homes In Brodhead

Homes in Brodhead suffer damage when lightning strikes almost simultaneously during storm last week, Wednesday.

Lightning struck two homes in Brodhead last week a little after the noon hour on Wednesday. It first struck the home of Mrs. Dora Brown, located near the Brodhead schools. The bolt apparently followed an aerial leading to the radio within the rooms occupied by Mrs. Susie Moore, a widow who at the time happened to be on a visit with relatives at Lockland. The bolt of lightning immediately started a fire inside the rooms and gutted the entire living room and kitchen before it could be extinguished. The rooms rented by Mrs. Moore from Dora Brown were situated to the rear of the main building, but a part of the house, only separated from it by a short hallway. The fire department of Brodhead saved the structure but were unable to save any of the furniture. The fire completely destroyed a feather bed, sewing machine, radio, couch, chairs and rockers kitchen utensils and stove and all the clothing and other personal belongings of Mrs. Moore, except what she had taken with her to Lockland.

The main part of the house was not damaged. The second house struck by lightning belonged to Mrs. C. Shafer who lives on U. S. 150 just south of town. She is also a widow, and at the time the lightning struck she was in her store a short distance away. A Mr. Richard Knuckles who happened to be at the store just then, told Mrs. Shafer that he believes there is a fire at her house. They immediately went over to see and found the smoke pouring out from under the roof to the rear of the building. Firemen had to cut a hole through the ceiling in the kitchen to reach the flames. The men were able to extinguish the flames before much damage was done.

Mrs. Susie Moore reached home some time later and last Tuesday she rummaged through the devastated home and attempted to salvage as much as possible out of the ruins. There were however mighty few such items.

Signal Wins Third Place In State Contest

The Mount Vernon Signal won third place in the Kentucky State Newspaper Contest in the news picture section for weekly papers with a circulation below 2500. The awards were made at the mid-summer meeting of the Kentucky Press Association last week at Cumberland Falls. Although there were many different contests in which weekly newspapers of the state were entered, the news picture section is one of the most recent ones in which the Kentucky Press is interested. That the Signal won third place in this contest is in itself an achievement of considerable merit, in view of the fact that managed by this paper is new and somewhat hampered by a considerable amount of old equipment that is to be overhauled and repaired before best work could be done. However a good camera and considerable experience in picture taking brought satisfactory results. Readers of the Signal will no doubt agree that much time and effort is put into making this paper one of the best illustrated ones in the state of Kentucky. Practically all the pictures were taken by the Signal Staff and were of a local nature.

The convention at Cumberland Falls was attended by the largest gathering ever held by this association. Those attending from the Signal staff were Faye Middleton, operator, Mrs. Mary Davis Harty and Mrs. Albert Schumacher. Friday evening was the big banquet when the awards were made.

Candidates File For County Offices

Ten names listed for office of Jailer, and twenty-five names included in the total for Justices of the Peace.

Yesterday was the last day for persons to file their names as candidates for any of the county offices. The County Court Clerk's office has the complete record on file from which this list has been taken. The highest number of candidates for one office is that of Jailer. Ten men have filed their names. Another hotly contested office is that of magistrate or justice of the Peace. Twenty-five persons have filed for this position in the five different precinct districts. This is an exceedingly important office because the major portion of the county's finances are managed by the five magistrates comprising the fiscal court. The court allocates the money for the various projects within the county, such as roads, hospitals, county agents, help, charity and many other matters pertaining to the county.

Other offices that will receive a lot of attention are those for County Judge and Sheriff. There are three candidates for each office. James W. Lambert has filed for state representative and has no opposition. There are only two Democrats listed. All the rest are Republicans.

The primary is to be held on Saturday, August 1, 1953. For the position on the ballot will be held in the Court House square in Mount Vernon and printing of the ballots will follow shortly.

Here follows the list of candidates for office:
For Representative James W. Lambert.
For Judge: D. B. Boone Saylor, Walter Sower, J. H. Wolfe.
For Attorney E. B. Thompson.

For Sheriff Dewey Ballinger, Charles C. Carter, Ivory Anglin, George Hurst.

SCHOOL CUSTODIAN COURSES SCHEDULED
A series of conferences for public school custodial help will be given at State and local vocational schools, during the next few weeks, according to Superintendent of Public Instruction Wendell P. Butler. Objectives of the courses are to provide information in janitorial services, skill in housekeeping and maintenance and better sanitation and safety practices.

My original announcement came out in the March 5th edition of the Mt. Vernon Signal however it was not on the front page. Many citizens and voters did not see this announcement. Later another W. Earl Phillips of the Red Hill section announced his candidacy for Magistrate of the fifth magisterial district. In order to clarify this misunderstanding I wish to make the following explanation.

I am the R. E. (Earl) Phillips who was reared as Willie, Ky., where I spent the first 28 years of my life. Since that time I have lived on Old Circle Hill, Mt. Vernon and Brodhead, the latter being my present home. I am the same Earl Phillips who served you as sheriff from 1938 to 1942.

At this time I also wish to reaffirm my candidacy for Tax Commissioner, our County. As stated in my original announcement I am qualified for the duties of the office and need the proceeds from the County. If nominated and elected I promise to serve you honestly and courteously.

When the necessary qualifications and above promises I am again earnestly soliciting your votes and support and also thanking you for the encouragement already given me and for any future consideration or assistance.
R. E. (Earl) Phillips.

RAMBLINGS

The two fires in Brodhead last week during the electrical storm caused no little excitement for the inhabitants of that little city. Lightning struck just passed the noon hour and almost simultaneous by two homes were hit by two different bolts of lightning, setting fire to both buildings. Fortunately, damage to one building, belonging to Mrs. C. C. Schafer, was rather small, but the other one in which Mrs. Susie Moore resided, was completely gutted by the flames, destroying all its contents. Unfortunately there was no insurance on the property. I am not holding any brief for insurance companies, but I believe that everyone who has some property ought to protect himself against emergencies. No one knows when disaster strikes, and even a little protection will do some good.

Incidentally while I had the opportunity to visit the stricken homes with Mr. J. B. Suttan of Brodhead, he invited me to his home, an invitation I gladly accepted. To my pleasant surprise I found Mr. Suttan an enthusiastic gardener. To the rear of his home he has a very neatly kept garden. I believe there was not a weed in it. The rows of corn and vegetables were luxurious and straight, presenting a very pleasing picture. Cement sidewalks and driveways surround the house and garden and flowers grow in abundance. The house within is commodious and well equipped with all the modern electric appliances, and Mrs. Suttan can well take pride in the manner in which she keeps her home.

The Mount Vernon Signal made a place for itself in the state newspaper contest recently held at Cumberland Falls. Had the papers been gathered in a better form and more neatly put together, it might have made a more favorable impression. It was only at the last minute that we gathered the year's copies together and sent them to the judges. Even at that the Signal got to third place with its news pictures. This was a fairly good achievement, and it was probably the first time that this paper has entered the state contest. We trust that we can do better the next time.

Rumor has it that the Public Service Commission has written a favorable opinion in behalf of the Rural Telephone Co-op for Rockcastle County. Although the formal opinion has as yet not been received here at this writing, we learned through some authentic source that such a report has been put on the books and the local officers will soon receive the official opinion from the Public Service Commission.

Mr. Harold Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Miller and family of Danville visited Mr. and Mrs. Alex Milen and Mrs. Blossom, Fred and families Sunday.

Miss Barbara Jo Bird of London was in Mt. Vernon visiting relatives Monday.

BLADES OF BLUEGRASS

By Jack Wild

Thirty-nine years ago J. F. Corn penned a poem for The Kentuckian, the student yearbook of Kentucky's State University. Called "The Investigation," it is concerned with the report of an imaginary citizen bent on looking into conditions at the school. Here is the way it goes:

"Though I've never been to college and I haven't a degree I'm pretty quizzical fellow and it seems quite plain to me. That our dear old University from assembly hall to 'dorms' Needs a raking and a scraping and a bunch of stern reforms.

Why the 'profs' are drawing salary for just eight hours per day— There are hands on my plan that would work for half that day. And extravagant! They'll break us; they will drain us to the dregs; And the citizens informed me that a grocer said that a dozen 'prof' brought a half a dozen eggs.

In the dormitories also can be seen a shameful waste; In each grand palatial roomlet they have only three boys placed! And the discipline is dreadful, in some rooms I chanced to pass I did verify see students whispering in class.

And the citizens informed me, Oh, it gave me quite a shock That the students would some times stay out as late as ten o'clock.

Now in view of all these evils a suggestion I would make; Let us from the University stop appropriation take. Let us take all its resources at least it use them foolishly. Then we'll make it in the end a model University!"

By some twist of fate, three men who have since done much to make Mr. Corn's alma mater one of the finest universities in the country were listed in the same issue of the annual; as members of the 1914 graduation class. They are H. L. Donovan, president of the University of Kentucky, and Guy A. Huguette and H. D. Palmore, trustees.

STATE TO REGULATE HOME FOR AGED

Homes for the aged and infirm, whether operated for charity or as commercial ventures, come within the regulatory powers of the State Department of Economic Security beginning July 1.

The department, under terms of a 1952 legislative act, will take over regulation of the homes to see that adequate standards of plumbing, safety, ventilation, diet and health facilities are provided.

Assistant Attorney General M. B. Hofffield held that any such home, though private with facilities available to public assistance recipients, is subject to the regulation provided by the law.

Many old people receive a limited grant from the State which is supplemented by relatives, by their church, or by the county; that enables them to obtain admittance into such institutions, Hofffield wrote a Cynthiansburg attorney. However, it is not necessary that institutions actually have Public assistance recipients in them to subject the homes to the law, Hofffield said.

"If an institution has the facilities and opens its doors to the public and agrees to furnish State health regulations over it, he said.

BIDS ASKED

The State Highway Department called for bids to be received June 28 for improvement of

The U. S. Highway 25 just outside the city limits where drillers have been busy drilling holes for blasting away the ledge of rock on the south side of the road. This is to make way for the truck lane to be built up the hill. The wooden pegs used to plug up the drilled holes are hardly visible in the picture.

Free-Then What?

Lesson for June 21, 1953

TWO kinds of people pay little attention to the law. One kind is made of very bad citizens, so bad that sometimes they lose their citizenship. The other kind is made up of those who are the best citizens. Sometimes they even receive medals or other honors from their communities for their citizenship. How can this be?

The answer is that the first kind live far below the law. The second kind live far above it. Criminals and crooks are lawless because they are anti-social, they are enemies of the law.

The law is which govern husbands? Dr. Foreman says that the law is the law. But the other kind of people go far beyond the law. We saw last week. The best husbands probably do not know what the law is. The law is which govern husbands? Dr. Foreman says that the law is the law. But the other kind of people go far beyond the law. We saw last week. The best husbands probably do not know what the law is.

Law In One Word

All that the law of God, too. His laws are not a precise number of statutes and ordinances. Love, in one word, that is: Love. How can we love for a moment deny that we ought to love God supremely. But here be a shopping list of all cases. But love does cover all cases. You cannot always tell what the law says in a case. But the law always has something to say. Love always has an answer.

We Know Love

Even if you do not know what the law is, you always know what love is. You know it naturally, and always, what it is to love ourselves. Loving, yourself means keeping your own interests at the back of your mind.

"The divine law of love is: Be true to the law of love, as you are in yourself. Be willing to take trouble for them, watch out for them, give them the benefit of the doubt, think ahead for them. When St. Paul talks about Christians being free, he does not mean that a Christian was free to do as he pleased. It is to be free from our own desires so as to be free to serve others.

When The Bible Does Not Speak

Some people think of the Bible as a rule-book. Well, there are rules in it, and some of them are applicable to our modern problems. But we have some problems in modern living that the Bible says nothing about. For instance: Shall a Christian use tobacco? Is it a sin for the Christian to bear arms? These and many other questions are not dealt with in the Bible as flatly and sharply as "Thou shalt not kill." For this reason, many Christians think that if the Bible does not mention some problem in so many words, they are free to do as they please about it. By no means. The Christian is free from the law as a curse, as a condition of God's favor, or as a cage; but he is never free from the law of love. And since God is love, and man is made in the image of God, then the Bible always does have something to say about every situation. It has at least this to say: What does love—God's kind of love—suggest?

Freedom And The Spirit

Some Christians have made the mistake of thinking that if a person is spiritual enough, he is free from all human obligations. They have supposed that the law of love, in the sense of love one's neighbor, is on a lower plane somehow than love of God; and that if a man once gets up in the atmosphere of the divine love, then he can stop forgetting the world outright. No one who takes his New Testament seriously can make this mistake. Read in Gal. 5:22-25 Paul's list of the fruits of the Spirit. These are not ripened in altitude, but in company with love and in their growth.
