Reduction Expected Here In Rural Teaching Staff

A reduction in the number of teachers employed in the Rockcastle County Schools can be expected next fall as a result of new requirements set up by the Minimum Foundation Program of the Kentucky Public Schools.

The requirements will affect one-teacher and two-teacher schools according to an announcement by County School Superintendent, Nevel M. Under the new requirements an average daily attendance of 10 will be necessary to maintain one-teacher school and an average attendance of 50 for a two-teacher school.

The emergency list of teachers will be the first to be affected as only a few emergency teachers will be employed in the future. These, of course, will be the ones with a lot of hours and experience. Mrs. Miracle explained.

The number of one-room schools, if any, to be cut out of this county will not be known until the averages are figured for this year, but the attendance in some isolated sections of the county can be expected to come under consideration as well as some of the larger schools now staffed by two teachers.

The Cumberland District Future Farmers of America and the Cumberland District Teachers' Association wishes to thank the county Farm Bureaus for their generous support in providing prizes for this year's F. F. A. Field Day.

The Latch String Still Out At Davis Home After 62 Years

For 62 years the latch string has been out at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Davis, one of Mt. Vernon's oldest couples in years of wedded bliss.

The Davis' marked their 62nd anniversary together March 2, a former and stock raiser and with a reception at the Mt. Vernon Christian Church. Friends who are still calling at the Davis home, across from the Signal office on U. S. 150, to wish this couple health and happiness.

The Davis' home has always been open to friends and neighbors both young and old. Mrs. Davis, the former Mary Elizabeth Rickels, has always lived in or near Mt. Vernon and Mr. Davis has called this community home since moving here with his parents while still a boy.

Although Mr. Davis was born in Casey County, both the Davis' have deep rooted memories in Rockcastle County. The couple was married at the bride's home one mile West of Mt. Vernon on the Old Brodhead Road, by the Rev. James H. Hlat, then pastor of the Mt. Vernon Christian Church. Both of the young people had been baptized into the Christian faith at the age of 12 and in the groom at 17.

Mary Elizabeth Rickels was born and reared near the Buckeye Church which she later joined, and both were baptized in Renfro Creek, near the years of wedded bliss.

Mary Elizabeth's father was a farmer and stock raiser and the young lady learned to card wool, spin, make yarn and knit her own stockings and stock-home, across from the Signal office on U. S. 150, to wish this couple health and happiness.

Mr. Davis, christened William Thomas Davis, first lived with the late Jasper and Sarah Ann Proctor Rickels and Mr. Davis is the son of the late Dr. S. C. Amans and Sarah Davis. The couple was married at the bride's home one mile West of Mt. Vernon on the Old Brodhead Road, by the Rev. James H. Hlat, then pastor of the Mt. Vernon Christian Church. Both of the young people had been baptized into the Christian faith at the age of 12 and in the groom at 17.

While learning the druggist's trade, the young Davis also was initiated into the new paper business, working, as he recalls, as often as he could get a chance on the old Mt. Vernon Signal.

Efficiency — a word that describes the meaning of most people's ambitions today. Some people are satisfied just to do their job well and let the many other things that come up just glide by. But that is not enough. We must learn to care. To care that we have ourselves, our homes and families, our community and our jobs. We must learn to care enough to be sure that every day life to work for the better things for our community, our state and nation.

We must not sit back and let the things that are not right for us and our neighbors take command. We must speak up and stand up for our rights as free and loyal citizens of our community.

Are you satisfied by just being efficient in your job? Efficiency is a good beginning but not a proper ending. I have all the faith in the world that you will do great things if a person has good and great ideas in his mind, the ideas become a part of him. He lives them. He lives his. Those who lack them live only with the every day happenings in life, things that have no better value.

As a citizen of the community let's look around and see what there is to be done. Many people have asked where we go.

work with them. We have many support for all business and community projects that are now under way to help the community. If we make something out of what we have then the factory will come.

We could ask this question: Is the community ready to support a factory? We have labor, yes, but there are other things than factory personnel to consider — proper medical care, recreation, transportation, water supply, telephone service.

I leave you with this thought in mind: Do you have any projects now and the greater things will come.

GREYHOUND BUS DEPOT

J. B. Faust, Manager
To the Citizens of Mt. Vernon
This letter is being written in regards to the stopping of traffic through the bus drive. I have been criticized for doing so, but the reason the traffic is being stopped is that the flow of cars going around the station is very dangerous to school children going in and out of side doors in front of cars and to passengers waiting on buses. The program came here January 6, 1954. I have tried to keep a safe and respectable place for school children and passengers to continue to do so with the help and cooperation of the citizens of Mt. Vernon.

Thank you,
J. B. Faust

Wildcat Battleground Proposed As National Military Park

A Battleground in this area visited each summer by hundreds of tourists has been drawn to the attention of the Congress of the United States and endorsed by the U. S. Civil Groups of Rockcastle County. The battleground is located in Laurel County, the battlefield is at the junction of three roads, one of them leading to Mt. Vernon, the other two to London and Richmond.

Now known as Camp Wildcat, the site would be known as Wildcat Mountain National Military Park, should the movement initiated by Congressmen Eugene S. Keene and Mr. Davis be brought to a successful conclusion.

The bill has been endorsed by the U. S. Civil Groups of Rockcastle County, the Mt. Vernon Lions Club, both groups going on record last week as favoring the proposal.

The present battleground is at the Civil War battle fought on October 20, 1861, one of the first skirmishes of the Civil War fought in the area.

According to historical records it was at Camp Wildcat that Confederate General Felix K. Zollicoffer met the first defeat in what he had expected to be a triumphant march into the North. A regiment of Union Cavalry under Col. Theodore T. Garrard, was encamped on a 30-acre flat surrounded by rocky slopes and perpendicular cliffs. Zollicoffer's men charged the Union position and were killed the day, but by the end of the day Union forces totaled 5,000 men. Reinforcements had been sent to the battle from the 17th Ohio Infantry, the Ohio Infantry, the Ohio Infantry with a battery of artillery and seven the First and Second Regiments.

father-in-law and wife on the Signal and Mrs. Davis helped out occasionally on press day. The paper was folded by hand in those days and extra help was always appreciated.

Mr. Davis has known every owner and editor of the Signal since the paper's birth in 1887, remembering all the founders of the Signal, Col. James Maret and Atty. J. W. Brown. He not only recalls the Signal in the days of Jim Barton and John Brown, but also recalls E. B. Smith who not only edited the Signal but later printed a newspaper for the Signal. The publication known as the Kentucky Colonist.

After Ed Smith came Editor W. M. Bill and then Edgar Albert. When Mr. Davis first started editing the Signal, the paper was printed in a room of the present Travlers Hotel, moved to the building now housing the Signal.

Mr. Davis sold the Signal in 1918 to the Signal and John Brown Publishing Company, with his son-in-law serving as foreman while the corporation owned the paper. The next editor was W. L. Simpson, with Mr. Davis still on hand to welcome succeeding editors A. F. F. and J. W. Brown.

And whether it's the history of the Mt. Vernon area or the town in general, Mr. W. T. Davis has always been a dependable source for information concerning the area. The Davis' have always been active in church life and Mr. Davis has been a member of Ashland Lodge 440, F. & A. M. in 1908, also Mt. Vernon Royal Arch Chapter 140 and Landrum Council 69, R. & S. M. in 1909. He was elected a member of the Board of Education of the town in 1914 and was elected Police Judge of Mt. Vernon in 1949. Mr. Davis has held for four years.

General Schoepf reported that the Confederates approached to the Union musketry, but by 2:30 A. M. the next day Zollicoffer's men were moving out.

Confederate forces suffered 30 dead and 100 wounded, the Union forces lost 10 killed and 18 wounded. General Zollicoffer later wrote that the country was so poor his men had to eat the grass on the road for 15 miles back in 24 hours. Under these circumstances, the General stated, he would not have been able to hold the road for 15 miles back in 24 hours. Under these circumstances, the General stated, he would not have been able to hold the road for 15 miles back in 24 hours.

Both sides reported ammunition shortages, with the Union soldiers, too, finding a shortage of ammunition. The sound of artillery fire of the Camp Wildcat battle was heard as far as fifteen miles away.

General Zollicoffer was killed three months later in battle at Mill Springs in Pulaski County. The land enclosing the site of the battleground is owned by the U. S. Government and is a battleground still can be seen at the battleground. To visit the battleground, it is necessary to search for battle relics as well as enjoy the scenic aspects of the site.

DAVIS ANNIVERSARY

Back then a young man interested in the newspaper business worked without compensation to learn the trade. William Thomas Davis served six years in a printer's devil on the Signal, the first step in a long newspaper career.

He worked on the Signal as a hand type setter, ad man and foreman for some twenty years, including 12 years under Editor E. S. Albright, and then bought the Signal, serving as owner and editor for several years.

When Mr. Davis owned the Signal, the paper had grown from a five-column paper to a seven-column paper, but all type was handset. At one time two of the Davis' daughters, Amanda and Cepha worked as typesetters. A third daughter, Lelia, wrote social news.

Mrs. Davis has reared and educated seven children. A daughter, Mrs. Marcus Maggard of Mt. Vernon, Cepha is Mrs. John Kincaid of Covington and Lelia is a member of the Sliver of Willow Run. Michael Daughter Eibel is Mrs. E. W. Greenwood of Washington, Ind. Willie Elizabeth is a member of the Lexington and Emma (Mrs. Emma Thompson) is with her daughter, Mrs. W. E. Davis and family in Karachi, Pakistan.

The Davis' only son, Charles L. Davis, is a pharmacist in Brownville, Tex., but all of their children and grandchildren find time to make frequent visits to Mt. Vernon. All in all there are 17 grandchildren and 18 grand children.

One of Mr. Davis' sons-in-law, John Kincaid, worked with his

PLANTING

The important thing is to never let the roots dry out before the time they are received.

Set Blakemores 4x3. Tennessee Beauties 4x2 1/2 feet. Plants should be set in the ground before due. Time to set is around March 15 to April 1. Before setting plants remove most large old leaves. With scissors or sharp knife, cut roots back to 5 inches long. Spread roots out fan shape and set straight down.

Tools for setting may be a trowel, spade, half of a post hole digger or tobacco set. When using a spade, press the spade about one-half of its length into soil. Move it back and forth slightly to make a V-shape opening. Insert the strawberry plants with the roots fanned out, with the crown at the surface of the ground. Next insert the spade a short distance from the plant and pry the soil against the plant's roots so that it is firmly anchored. Firm the soil around the plant with the foot.

STARTER SOLUTIONS
Some folks like to use starter solutions and some don't. Value has not been determined. To make your own, add 10 lbs. of 5-10-10, or 6-12-12 to 50 gallons of water. Stir thoroughly and let settle for several hours. Throw sediment away. Use 1/2 pint per acre.

PLANTING

All land that is being set in strawberries should be treated with either Chlordane or Aldrin. Perhaps the most practical and effective way of doing this is to mix it in the fertilizer. The amount to use is 2 lbs. of 50% material or 3 pounds of actual Aldrin per acre. Fertilizer can be bought with this material already mixed in.

The important thing is to never let the roots dry out before the time they are received.

Deer Seen At Orlando

Four of the 48 deer released in the county through the Fish and Game Club have been seen at Orlando, and according to a report by Mrs. F. L. Abney of Boone, who was visiting in the community, the deer stayed close to the house of "Aunt" Etha Abney and Annis all day and didn't seem to be the least bit scared. Seeing the deer was a great pleasure, Mrs. Abney writes.
