The best Saturday he can remember, was the report of one Mt. Vernon car dealer. A Brodhead grocer sold out of meat and had to go to his wholesaler in Danville for more and grocers in Mt. Vernon and Livingston reported business more brisk than even the usual Saturday rush on grocery stores.

Dresses were sold for half price and less and yard goods went by the bolts, marked at reduced cost.

One service station reported that 16 motorists showed up for oil changes and took advantage of the free wash and grease jobs offered for the day. Other service stations gave away hundreds of quarts of oil and gave grease jobs at half price, to boost their gas and oil sales.

All in all Rockcastle County Day was considered a big success, with most of the merchants and customers alike looking forward to repeat sales.
