

County Agent Notes

Experiment Station Seeks Johnson Grass Control

Johnson grass, a perennial noxious weed, is becoming widely spread throughout Kentucky. Thousands of acres of fertile bottom land have been virtually abandoned to the weed and each year it is further encroaching on upland soils. Heavily infested fields become practically worthless for the growing of row crops. Even where it is possible to eradicate the weed, the cost ranges from $10 to $75 an acre. Aroused by the situation, the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station has under way research designed to develop practical means of controlling the weed. Johnson grass resembles sudan grass. It usually grows in bunches with several stems growing from each root crown. The weed spreads by the underground root stocks as well as by the seed. Several methods used to control the weed are described in a recent Kentucky Extension Service Leaflet No.

157, "Controlling Johnsons on Grass." A copy of this leaflet may be obtained at the County Agent's office. Corn Hybrids Recommended For Kentucky Yellow - Ky. 102, Ky. 103, Ky. 104 (recommended for grain production in eastern Kentucky only. Auto, Bus Crash Head-On; Seven Persons Hospitalized

Seven persons were injured, none seriously, in a collision of an auto and a Greyhound bus about 2:30 this morning a half-mile north of Pine Hill on Route 25.

In a fair condition at London Hospital are Jesse W. Turner of Cincinnati, Ohio; Mrs. Turner, his wife, and Earl M. Smyzer, Lawton, Okla., a hitch-hiker riding in the Turner's car.

Taken to Berea College Hospital, treated for minor injuries and released were four passengers on the bus: Mrs. Bertha King, Cleveland, Ohio; Billy Parrott, Pineville; Robert Smith, Pineville, and Roosevelt Smith, Pineville.

According to reports, the bus was traveling north and the Turner car was going south. The vehicles collided on a curve during a heavy fog. The right front section of the bus was damaged. The bus careened down the highway before leaving the road, narrowly missing a foot-thick tree. The Turner auto was knocked backward into an embankment.

Passing motorists took the Turners and Smyzer to the London Hospital. Sparks ambulances took the injured bus passengers to Berea.

Polio Immunization Underway In Eighteen Rockcastle Schools

Pupils in 18 Rockcastle County schools are scheduled to receive Salk polio vaccine immunization between April 2 and 12, according to an announcement by Dr. Walker Owens, county health officer.

Immunization of county school children began this week at 18 schools: Mr. Vernon, Red Hill, Cave Ridge, Poplar G. P., Maple Grove and Orlando.

Dr. Owens declared a boy or girl will have the best chance for protection before polio hits again, if vaccine is given now. The Salk vaccine is strikingly safe for paralytic polio among those who received it in 1955 and it will protect many thousands in 1956, if it is used in time.

"To make a real dent in polio in 1956, vaccinations must be stepped up immediately. Success will depend on how many children receive at least two vaccine shots before the next polio season begins," Doctor Owens said.

He also reported three doctors

Court Gives Pete Mason 16 Years

Arthur "Pete" Mason of Mt. Vernon was found guilty of "rape" in Rockcastle County Circuit Court Wednesday and sentenced to 16 years in the penitentiary.

Mason was charged by the court of raping a 12 year old Mt. Vernon girl. According to testimony, he picked the girl up on a Mt. Vernon street, later drove about a mile on Route 46 and assaulted the girl.

The trial was held in one day before Circuit Judge R. C. Tarter. The jury returned its verdict after about an hour of deliberation.

In other recent court action, Mrs. Richard Howard of Mt. Vernon was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary on a charge of child desertion.

Mrs. Howard is the mother of several small children, one of whom perished last fall in a fire at the home of its grandmother, Mrs. Lilly Howard, in north Mt. Vernon.

At the time of the fire Mrs. Howard was not living in Mt. Vernon. The children's father was at work at the time of the fire.

S. U. Choir during his three years at the college. This past year he held a position on the B. S. U. executive council as evangelist chairman.

Cancer Drive Gets Started

The quota for Rockcastle County in the American Cancer Society's 1956 educational and fund-raising crusade, which will run through April, has been set at $1,112, Mrs. Ann Henderson, local campaign chairman, announced today.

In 1955, a total of $244.94 was raised in Rockcastle county. The hospital spent $1,223 for the care of cancer patients in Rockcastle during last year.

The Kentucky goal for this year's campaign is $361,000. The slogan for this year's campaign is "Fight Cancer with a check-up—and a check" with the thought that each person will safeguard his own health and help to safeguard others.

The money collected in the drive will go for research, professional and public education and medical service to patients, Mrs. Henderson said.

The local chapter has not as yet assigned chairmen for the county, nor has the Society made definite plans for solicitation.

TRUCKS STOLEN BY THIEVES

A three-quarter ton truck owned by Southern States Farm Store, Mt. Vernon, was stolen and wrecked Wednesday night by persons still unknown.

Apparently the evildoers began with the thieves trying unsuccessfully to steal an auto owned by Claude L. Hanes. From Chaney's they went to the Farm Store, a few yards away, and stole the truck, drove it to Calloway and wrecked it.

After the wreck the culprits walked across the road to the residence of Oscar Graves and apparently spent the night in his auto. Early this morning he left, taking Mr. Graves' ton-and-a-half truck. The truck has not been reported found, nor the thieves apprehended.

The Signal Says---

—RENFRO HAS ITS BIG CHANCE—

John Lair, director of Renfro Valley Enterprises, has announced April 21 the Renfro Valley Barn dance will go on the Mutual Broadcasting System.

The affiliation with Mutual means that the barn dance could be heard for an hour on all of Mutual's 700 stations. Actually, how many stations is not known, but even with half of Mutual's listening public tuned in on Saturday night, it would be a tremendous audience.

The announcement is cause for jubilation at Renfro Valley. Here is an opportunity for the Valley to become the center of folk music in the nation. The Valley can also look forward to a great increase in visitors, probably surpassing previous years.

To Rockcastle County, obviously, an increase in visitors means an increase in business in the area. This in itself is cause enough for county residents to be jubilant. The importance of business in an area where Renfro Valley operates is illustrated by the desire of Florida Pioneer Village, under construction at Lake Wales, to have the drawing name of Renfro Valley during the winter months.

At the time he announced the new network contract, Mr. Lair announced a new frequency modulation (FM) station is to be constructed at Renfro Valley. The station now emerges as an AM (amplified modulation) which can be heard on any radio set. The new station will have 1,000 watts and its call letters will be WVRK.

The new station is another progressive move at Renfro Valley. We have always wondered why the Valley didn't have its own station.

Now comes the recruiting of talent for the hour-long show: publicity; road shows, and continued operation of business at Renfro. Mr. Lair and associates have an enormous task before them, but their rewards and the rewards to the county are also enormous.

WE WERE OVERLOOKED

We are told by the State Agricultural and Industrial Board that a total of 479 new industrial plants providing 51,603 new jobs were opened in Kentucky between 1948 and 1955.

In addition, the Board reported 135 firms expanded their plants at an investment cost of $267,421,557 and providing even more jobs.

This is good news for Kentucky. It means the state is expanding industrially very rapidly. It means that Northern capital is flowing at an increasing rate into the South. Such growth and expansion increases our economic and cultural standard of living.

We have only one tear to shed over this report. Of the 479 new plants, no company chose Rockcastle County in which to locate, despite the exhaustive efforts in the last two years by the Rockcastle County Development Association.

Why Rockcastle has been overlooked by industry no one can say positively. Speculation centers around several reasons, among which are, lack of skilled labor, lack of building space, size of county towns, transportation handicaps, and so on. But we know of no company official who has ever enumerated the reasons for us.

About all the Rockcastle County Development Association can do is continue in its efforts to woo industry into the county. Even if only one small plant should eventually locate here the Association's efforts have not been in vain. Who knows; maybe tomorrow it will be our turn.

Thy Will Be Done

Lesson for July 31, 1955

They were a sorry lot, the people left behind after the invasion. The puppeting Zedekiah had asked the Egyptians to pull his strings, but the great Babylonians got the wind of it, and that was the end of Zedekiah. Chandler Releases Conservation Program

Outline of a broad conservation program endorsed by the administration of Gov. A. B. Chandler was presented to Kentucky farm news-editors by Conservation Commissioner Lavan P. Jackson at a luncheon here recently.

Addressing members of the Kentucky Farm Press and Radio Association, Jackson emphasized that promotion of small watersheds and forestry will be prominent features of his department's work during the next four years.

Gov. Chandler called for the farm editors to closely inspect the record of the regular session of the legislature, declaring, "I think you'll find that the farmers have fared as well or better than under any other legislature."

"Development of a small watershed program and replanting and conserving Kentucky's forests is a must with this administration," Jackson explained, adding, "Benefits from such a program are endless and incalculable."

Phases of the proposed conservation program which Jackson stressed as integral parts of a small watershed project included damming of primary and secondary streams to hold water for municipalities, industry, flood control, and recreational use.

"Development of a small watershed program will be worked into a watershed plan to be reforestation, construction of diversion ditches and ponds, planting of pastures and contour planting of row crops.

Citing the state's need for a comprehensive forestry program, Jackson said, "This is a problem of great importance. About 11 and half million acres of Kentucky is suited for trees and nothing else—the value of wood that should be growing in Kentucky defies description—there is no part of a plan for progress in our State that deserves more attention and decisive action than this program of reforestation.

One hindrance to a forestry program for Kentucky has been the lack of facilities to furnish the seed for 25 million seedlings a year. The State is now producing only one-half million seedlings a year . . . or about one seedling to every 23 acres that should be in forest or woodland, Jackson indicated.

The Conservation Commissioner said his department is currently rushing establishment of a nursery that will meet demand for seedlings, and is planning to step up operations as the demand for trees increases. Other areas of concentration by the department will include enlargements of the state park system "as far as sound business practices and reasonable judgement allows," and reclamation of strip mines.
