County Agents Notes
Russell Hunt Speaks To
Russell Hunt, Extension Specialist in Tobacco, spoke to several tobacco growers Friday at Mt. Vernon. Mr. Hunt urged all tobacco producers to produce "Flavorable, Thin, Mild, Low Nicotine, Rip Tobacco."
Excessive nitrogen fertilization, low topping, close suckering, and other practices that tend to produce thick, harsh, high-nicotine tobacco can be detrimental to the competitive position of burley, especially if 1957 should be average or low in the amount and distribution of rainfall.
In general, Mr. Hunt made the following recommendations:
1. Choose a "Lower Nicotine Variety."
Of the Kentucky varieties, the wire-resistant Ky 61 seems lowest in nicotine. Ky 41A and Ky 58 are somewhat higher, while Ky 36, Ky 16, Ky 57 and Ky 28 range higher in the order given.
2. Plant on fertile soil.
3. Don't over-fertilize with Nitrogen.
As much as phosphorus and potassium as are shown by soil tests to be needed. Apply only enough nitrogen for good yields.
Where good soil of grass and legumes is turned under for tobacco, only about 50 pounds of nitrogen per acre is needed from commercial fertilizers or manure.
4. Cultivate shallow.
5. Top when three-fourths of plants are in bloom.
6. Hold suckering to a minimum.
7. Prime to save valuable plants.
8. Treat for insects in plant bed and field.
9. Harvest ripe tobacco.
10. Manage the barn for good curing.
Have at least one-third of the small area of the barn burned so that as much as possible of the curing will be air curing.

Have heating equipment on hand for use in poor curing weather.
Plant Spring On
Spring oats, for hay and grain, ought to be planted as soon as possible in March, says Verne Finkner, UK Agricultural Experiment Station agronomist.
Delaying the planting results in lower yields per acre, he says. For instance, every two days delay in March could mean reduction of about a bushel per acre in yield.
Use recommended varieties, he says; certified seed sources are very important, too, as farmers accidentally planting winter oats will get a lower yield.
For instance, DuBois, a winter oat, when tested planted for spring production yielded only 13.2 bushels per acre and had a test weight of only 19.0 pounds per bushel. As a winter oat (it's normal role) it yielded 45.2 bushels per acre and had a test weight of 38.4 pounds per bushel. Atlantic, another winter oat, when spring-planted, yielded only 15.5 bushels per acre and had a test weight of 27.8 pounds per bushel.
Kentucky certified seed of the recommended varieties are available through Kentucky Seed Improvement Association sources. They are MO-0205, and Andrew.
MO-0205 in 1956 yielded (as a spring oat) 30.4 bushels per acre and had a 30.4-pound per bushel test weight. Andrew yielded 21.0 bushels per acre and had a test weight of 27.3 pounds per bushel.
Using Ky. certified seed of these two varieties, Finkner said, assures farmers of certified seed and that they are using true spring variety.

NOTE FOR D. B. (BOONE) SAYLOR FOR COUNTY JUDGE

I wish to announce that I am a candidate for election to the office of County Judge of Rockcastle County subject to the action of the Republican voters at the Primary Election to be held on Tuesday, May 25, 1937.

I have been a Republican, always fighting the battles of the Republican Party in every election, whether it be for Governor, Senator, Vice President or President regardless, when the interest of the Party is at stake, you have always found me fighting the battles in behalf of the Party.

I feel that the Republicans and citizens of Rockcastle County want to nominate and elect a man for County Judge who will always be working for the interest of Rockcastle County, and if nominated and elected, this I will do.

I made the race for County Judge nearly four years ago. I received a tremendous vote, only losing the race by 25 votes.

I want to thank the voters again for this large vote. Since the voters showed so much interest in me for County Judge four years ago, I have decided to make the race again.

I have served you five years as your County Treasurer and one term as your Representative in the House of Representatives. I have also had approximately twenty years of business experience. Therefore I believe my business experience qualifies me for this important office as your County Judge.

If elected, I am making all the people of Rockcastle County one promise and this promise is to one and all alike. "To do the very best I can."

I want the support of all the people of Rockcastle County. Anything you can say or do for me will be appreciated.

I hope to see each and every one of you before Election Day.

Sincerely your Friend, D. B.

IDEALS ARE LIKE STARS. YOU WILL NOT SUCCEED IN TOUCHING THEM WITH YOUR HANDS, BUT LIKE THE SEAFARING MAN ON THE DESERT OF WATERS, YOU CHOOSE THEM AS YOUR GUIDES, AND FOLLOWING THEM, YOU REACH YOUR DESTINY. . . . CARL SCHURZ

Ideals, like stars to the mariner, can be beacons to help us steer a true and steady course through life. Fortunately, ideals can be the property of anyone regardless of race or creed, or station in life, and ownership is restricted only by a basic strength of character that allows one to live up to the demands of his accepted ideals.

Whether the ideals we assume as our own are designed to pattern our business or everyday lives, we will surely discover that to live up to them fully and honorably is a rewarding attainment. We cannot, however, pay lip service to ideals nor can we be successful part-time idealists. This is a full time chore which demands a constant honesty of purpose.

Seventy X Seven

Lesson for March 10, 1957

IS IT a mark of high breeding never to forget an injury? One of the most famous Americans was known also as a duelist. When he left home as a boy, his mother wrote him a letter which contained some Christian advice; but she mixed with it an idea she could not have found in her New Testament; he must never overlook an insult or a slight. It is rather strange how many Christians otherwise, that is, in the same notion. Long after dueling was outlawed in most states, it was still going on in the "Bible Belt." It has gone out there too by now; which may be an indication that people understand the Gospel better than they once did.

The Need for Forgiveness

In a southern town there lives a man who was in a penitentiary in another state for 19 years for a crime he did not commit. He was a stranger and he had a gun, so when the local hoodlums all came up with alibis, this man was a convenient mark, and to the penitentiary he went. And there he stayed every day for the rest of his life. Authorities kept him there, because if he was released, some important reputations and careers would be ruined. Finally, through the efforts of a sister and a friend, he was released. 19 years not guilty, but punished all the same, even years after his innocence was established. Would you be in a forgiving mood after that? Not many people have tremendous, long-lasting grudges, do they? The story illustrates one point about forgiveness: it is not always a matter of forgiving persons directly. One may suffer severely, unjustly, without its being possible to identify the persons who are responsible for things we suffer (such as unfair laws, or customs which harm us in some way); but although we cannot forgive the responsible persons—who may be many—face to face, it is just as un-Christian to harbor bitterness in the heart against "fate" in general as it is to feel bitterly about some one. See, how?

God Has More to Put Up With

When Peter asked his question about forgiveness, he was thinking, it seems, of a kind of rule. Forgive a man once, twice to seven times; but the eighth time is one too much? Jesus' reply—that if a brother repents 70 times seven times, we are to forgive him just as many times—is not a matter of strict arithmetic. It is not intended as a rule. It is a way of saying forgiveness must be without limit. The reason, as he suggests, is his name goes to the heart of things. God has far more to forgive than we have. Even an apostle, Jesus suggests, has sinned against God more than any man has ever sinned against him. What we have to put up with from others, every day, are trifles compared with what God has to put up with from us. If the reader thinks this is an exaggeration, let him consider one point: the way we Christians misrepresent God. His reputation in this world is maintained or blackened by those who profess to be his people. We claim to be his children, and yet we often act as if we had been sired by the devil. Few if any human beings have been so persistently slandered, as God is by his professed friends.

Forgiving From the Heart

Forgiveness has been called a fiction, and in a way it is. It is not the same as ignoring or condoning, but it treats the offender exactly as if no offense had been committed. That may be fiction; but there is no true forgiveness without forgetting. God's forgiveness is complete: he casts forgiven sins "behind his back"—he "remembers them no more." Human forgiveness like all things human is never complete, for in spite of our best efforts the thing will keep coming back to mind. Nevertheless, true Christian forgiveness makes every effort to forget. Forgetting without forgetting leaves things much as they were. Only in complete forgiveness can there be a complete new start. Erasing the whole thing from mind, living as if it never had happened; this may be a fiction but it is a fiction of love.

Lespedeza Variety Good For State Use

The UK Agricultural Experiment Station said last week it was recommending use in Kentucky (the Korean lespedeza variety known as "Rowan."

The variety, made eligible for certification in Kentucky, has been tested three-years in the state. It is moderately resistant to two forms of the root-knot nematode, and has resistance to powdery mildew.

The variety proved superior in yielding ability also to commercial Korean lots, says William Stroube, UK Agricultural Experiment Station forage crop specialist. At Lexington (in 1956) Rowan produced 6,450 pounds of hay per acre compared to 5,180 pounds for commercial strains. The three-year production average in Central Kentucky was 4,348 pounds and 3,750 pounds per acre for Rowan and commercial, respectively.

Stroube noted Rowan "cannot be distinguished from common and other strains of Korean lespedeza by seed or plant characteristics and for that reason it is imperative that seed be produced under state certification . . . so the improved characteristics of the variety can be maintained and farmers assured of variety name truthness."

Extra Profits from Fertilizer Pay for Better Farm Living

EXTRA profits from fertilizer use can help farmers pay for comforts and conveniences that their families desire, the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee points out.

Tests at agricultural colleges and field experience on farms, says the committee, show that fertilizer can return anywhere from $2 to $5 in increased crop production value for every dollar invested in plant food.

The extra dollars can help farmers buy new cars, tractors and equipment, new furniture, rugs and drapes, labor-saving electric kitchens, more plumbing or new refrigerators, the committee declares.

"That makes prosperity for local merchants and for business generally," says the committee, "and it all springs from intelligent use of fertilizer."

"When a farmer invests in crop-boosting items such as fertilizer, he cuts the cost of production for each crop unit and he increases his profit margin."

"Soil building investments usually pay back the very first year in increased crop yields. And after that, the farmer has carry-over profits in future years from bigger crop yields per acre on more fertile soil."

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

by Clay Colson

Farmers are using alfalfa and grass as a source of permanent hay in their conservation farming. Many farmers have questioned the seeding and fertilizer requirements to produce high quality hay.

First, alfalfa should be seeded only on well-drained soil. Where it is seeded on hard pan land it has very little chance of lasting for continued hay production.

Where land has received no lime, a three to four ton application should be sufficient. On medium fertility soils the equivalent of 400 to 500 pounds of 20% phosphate and 100 to 150 pounds of muriate of potash per acre is required at seeding time. A four-ton crop of alfalfa will remove approximately 45 pounds of phosphate (P2O5) and 180 pounds of potash (K2O) each year. Maintenance applications should be made to supply this amount that is taken out of the soil.

Grass seeded with alfalfa will aid in controlling erosion, increase hay production and aid in curing of the alfalfa. Orchard grass, timothy and Brome grass are being used in Rockcastle County with alfalfa.

Buffalo, Ranger and Atlantic varieties of alfalfa are recommended. Atlantic has produced greater yields at the experiment station says County Agent Durham. Fifteen to twenty pounds of alfalfa and five to ten pounds of grass seeded in April or August on a well-prepared seed bed with proper fertilization and maintenance ought to produce three to four tons of hay per acre for six to eight years.

Twenty-six thousand tree seedlings have been received for spring planting, Harold Newton and Dr. J. D. Henderson got the trees. Dr. Henderson has 6,000 more trees coming.

HOME AGENTS NOTES

What Are Table Manners? Mrs. Pearl Haak, University of Kentucky Foods Specialist, told a group of homemakers that "table manners" means serving the meal the easiest and most relaxing way for everyone at the table.

In order to serve a meal easily and in a relaxing manner the housewife must know the accepted forms.

The most effective way to teach good table manners is to practice good table manners.

Mrs. Haak gave a lesson on "Table Arrangements and Serving the Meal" to leaders from homemakers clubs, Feb. 19, in one of the food laboratories of the Berea College Home Economics Building.

Six Homemakers Clubs were represented by the following women:

Mrs. Carl Parsons, Mrs. John Carroll, Mrs. Pat McGray, Mrs. James Sheppard, Mrs. Omer Huff, Mrs. F. B. Dowden, Mrs. W. C. Baker, Mrs. Hugh Hahn, Mrs. Hugh Walker, Mrs. Stanley Powell and Louise Hart, Home Demonstration Agent.

This lesson on "Table Arrangements and Serving the Meal" will be given at the Homemakers Club meeting during March.

Green Cabbage

IT'S DELICIOUS - IT'S NUTRITIOUS - IT'S GOOD

BOB WHITE

Table Syrup

Provides Vitamins

The greener the vegetable the more vitamin A it has, says Extension food specialists at the University of Kentucky, so search out the greenest head of cabbage you can find. This vegetable is also valuable for Vitamin C, and is in a class with citrus fruits and tomatoes when eaten raw.

If it is to be cooked, the secret is to boil the shredded leaves quickly for about 5 minutes. Then drain well, season, and serve with butter, cream and shredded cheese, or a cheese sauce.

For crispness, which is of first importance in a salad, store the dampened head of cabbage in a plastic bag in the refrigerator, or place it in ice water for 15 minutes. Shred just before serving and for variety combine with tomatoes, onions, and green pepper; diced pineapple; apples and carrots; raisins and nuts, or chopped onion, pimento and chopped peanuts.

All persons over fifteen years of age are urged to make sure they do not have tuberculosis by having a chest x-ray. The service is being made available through the cooperation of the Kentucky State Department of health, the Rockcastle County Health Department and the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association.

Nearly three-fourths of all cases of tuberculosis in Kentucky are being discovered through these mass x-ray survey programs. The units tour throughout the state and approximately 300,000 persons get chest x-rays annually under the program.

Persons under fifteen years are x-rayed only if they are known to have been in direct contact with persons who have tuberculosis or upon a physician's referral. The tuberculosis case rate among this younger group is quite low. All teachers and food handlers are required to have an x-ray made.

The Signal Says...

SCHOOL EVALUATION BEGINS

Rockcastle County Schools last Friday began a self-evaluation program designed to find the flaws and weak spots—if there are any—in the county system.

When the self-evaluation has been completed, county school personnel will know better what the system's needs are, and will be ready with information when State officials arrive to evaluate the schools.

The State's evaluation, if it comes during 1937, will rate the school system on what that group finds, such as buildings, dispersment of school population, curriculum and other phases. A report later will probably show the schools to be in excellent, fair, or poor shape, according to the findings, and will point out the needs of the system and suggest remedies.

County school administrators are not forced by the State to self-evaluate the schools; but since the system usually has an inner-system program of some kind each year, teachers and administrators felt this would be a good step in school improvement and time well spent. If nothing more, personnel at least will know the "company" better.

As we said, when the self-evaluation has been completed, a report will be issued; as will another when the State completes its evaluation. We look forward to these reports with much interest, for the condition of our schools deeply affects the future welfare of the county.

Road Improvement Bids Asked For By State Men

State highway officials, hoping to award at least $40,000,000 in road-improvement contracts during the 1937 construction season, will open bids here March 15 on the first group of projects in this year's program.

Highway Commissioner Robert Humphreys announced the first call for bids which cover construction and maintenance on approximately 140 miles of roads, bridge building and repair in 34 counties. The bids will be opened at 10 a. m. CST at the Department of Highways.

State Highway Engineer Dought H. Bray gave the estimate on probable total 1937 construction contracts in an address at the annual meeting of the Kentucky Assn. of Highway Contractors.

He said the total possibly could be increased to $45,000,000 or $50,000,000 if part of the state's $100,000,000 road-bond issue could be sold in July or sooner. Regular road construction contracts let by the state last year totaled about $28,500,000.

Humphreys told the contractors in another address: "I have no doubt of the bond issue's validity." Constitutionality of the proposal now is being tested in a friendly lawsuit. The case will be submitted to the Court of Appeals for a final ruling before sale of any bonds. Humphreys also said it is hoped contracts could be let by April 15 on two sections of the proposed interstate highway through Kentucky. He did not identify them.

The highway engineer said Governor Chandler recently asked the highway department to expedite the construction program in every way possible.

Bray said it is expected the department can advertise for contracts on approximately 15 million dollars worth of work between now and July 1. This, he added, would include about $2,500,000 of rural secondary projects in Rural Highway Commissioner J. B. Wells' plan for $100,000,000 of heavy bituminous resurfacing in the maintenance program. The remaining projects, he said, include drainage, drainage and drainage, bridge and surfacing.

Bray added: "We think that between July 1, 1937, and Oct. 1, 1937, we can be in position to let $25,000,000 in additional contracts, making a total for the period from now to October 1 of this year of approximately $10 million dollars. These figures are predicted upon the assumption that every contract can be let even without the advantage of the State bond issue money."

The Automotive Safety Foundation engineers are now making a restudy of the highway needs in Kentucky for the purpose of bringing their 1935 report up to date and for the more specific purpose of giving our Department their detailed recommendations by April 1 of this year for a new program, to be followed several months later with the program for the following two or three years.

"However, our Department is not waiting on completion of these A. S. F. reports, but is going ahead with our spring letting this year.

None of the road work contracts are for Rockcastle. However, some of interest in the vicinity are as follows:

The Berea-Big Hill Road from US 25 in Berea to the east city limits of Berea, 0.472 mile. Bituminous Concrete Class 1 Surface.

The Richmond-Lexington Road from north city limits of Richmond to south end of Clay's Ferry Bridge, 9.318 miles. Bituminous Concrete Class 1 Surface.

The Richmond-Lexington Road from east side of Second Street to end of concrete section, 0.550 mile. Bituminous Concrete Class 1 Surface.

The Richmond-Mt. Vernon Road (US 28 from Ky. 395, Ky. 21 and US 25 in Berea to near the southwest city limits of Berea, 0.890 mile. Bituminous Concrete Class 1 Surface.

New Leaflet Describes Growing Burley Crops

How to produce the kind of burley tobacco the manufacturer wants has been the theme of a leaflet issued this week by the Kentucky Agricultural Extension Service agronomy department.

The narrow price range among grades of burley tobacco on the 1936 market created the impression there has been a drastic change in the type of tobacco needed by cigarette manufacturers, the leaflet says.

"Although there appears to have been some shift in the kind of tobacco manufacturers can use, the 1935 and 1936 sales still indicate a strong demand for ripe, thin leaf burley."

Nearly ideal weather conditions in both seasons resulted in production of useful tobacco from the bottom to the top of the plant, the leaflet says. The 1934 and 1934 crops were entirely different, producing much less than, mild, highly useful leaf.

The leaflet points out that excessive nitrogen fertilization, low topping, close suckering and other practices "that tend to produce thick, harsh, high nicotine tobacco, can be detrimental to the competitive position of burley, especially if 1937 should be average or better in the amount and distribution of rainfall."

It recommends choosing a "lower-nicotine" variety, planting on fertile sodland, refraining from over-fertilizing with nitrogen, harvesting ripe tobacco, managing the barn for good curing, and building soils for better tobacco.

The six-page leaflet, No. 183 is available at county agents' offices, or at the Experiment Station, Lexington.

Kentucky Stockyards Back Check-Off Plan

The Kentucky Purebred Livestock Association has set the first week in April as the target date for beginning the annual check-off plan at Kentucky livestock markets.

The fees—two cents a head on cattle sold, two-thirds of a cent a head on calves and hogs, and two-fifths of a cent per head on sheep and lambs—are used to promote meat consumption, advertising and promotion.

It is a plan similar to those used by many other sections of the farm industry such as milk producers etc.

Kentucky auction and terminal markets have not had the plan in effect, though for years neighboring states' livestock markets have used it.
